BLACK RADIO'S ACCEPTABLE MUSIC TRENDS

As the hands of time move on, Black radio and its listeners' tastes have also changed. At the most recent New Music Seminar, a panel of radio and record executives, headed by MCA's Ernie Singleton, discussed present programming practices.

The testing of new artists' records surfaced as a key issue because this represents the birth of new artists — the lifeline of the record business. There were many trends of thought on how and when to test a record. But in the final analysis, the most glaring conclusion was that radio stations which test a record outside of a meaningful frequency rotation are probably doing the record more harm than good.

The example used to make the point was the currently chart-topping record, "Rumors." Many programmers admitted to having played the record for the first time six months prior to going on it again for the second time. Most said they played it the first time around at night in very limited rotation.

A well-known radio consultant pointed out: "When you make a decision to test a record, you must believe in it and give the record an honest chance in your rotation."

Another view was offered by many programmers who insisted that all records should be tested because any artist can deliver a stiff.

A very strong point was made by black programmers who find themselves head up with CHR playing Black music. The programmers in attendance made it clear that artists who design product for obvious CHR acceptance may find themselves passed over by their Black base stations.

In a poll taken on various artists who have a good crossover batting average, the consensus was that some artists are beginning to feel the crunch of loss of Black airplay in their quest for crossover airplay.

Two acceptable music trends were the predominant conclusions: 1) giving a new artist's product (if one is going to give it a shot at all), an honest shot in rotation; and 2) transferring support away from obviously CHR-directed product that obviates the Black audience base.

In our view, these trends bode well for the continued survival of the new artist. And Black radio.

PATRICIA M. HUDSON

July 14, 1986

Dear Mr. Miller:

1986 was my first BRE Conference, and I hope 1996 will be my tenth. Thank you for an excellent event. Usually my letters of appreciation are immediate, but when I returned home I had to leave for Washington, D.C. I am lucky enough to manage Grand Staff, the group that won the Budweiser Showdown on June 26. Two years ago in California, I met a man associated with the music industry. We developed instant rapport, and I spent ten days listening to Zay's advice and stories. It was the first time I had been that close to gold records that were stored in cardboard boxes and rooms that had records and tapes wall-to-wall. I feel blessed for that week and the two years of friendship that followed.

I never saw Zay again, although we talked on the phone about once a month. He was to have picked me up at the airport when I arrived in L.A. for the BRE Conference. I should have known it was out of character when he did not show up or call. I must have phoned his home and office three or four times a day each of the five days I was there. I finally decided he had been called away on business or had left for Hawaii early.

I mailed his birthday card from L.A. so it would arrive June 25. Before I could call him to tell him of my band's good fortune in Washington, someone called me with the bad news.

I will miss his silly hats and his funny voice and I will remember "my very personal friend," Hosea Wilson.

Respectfully,

Patricia M. Hudson

SHEARER GROUP SLATED TO BUY KGFJ FROM INNER CITY

Los Angeles: Bill Shearer, GM/KGFJ, is the principal in an investment group — East-West Broadcasting — seeking to purchase the SMN "Heart and Soul"-formatted AM urban outlet from New York-based Inner City Broadcasting.

Reportedly, the group is now involved in negotiations with the corporation headed by Percy Sutton and hopes to conclude the deal by November 1st.

JAZZ PERCUSSIONIST THOMAS 'COKE' ESCOVEDO SUCCUMBS

Los Angeles: BRE has learned that Jazz/Latin Soul percussionist Thomas "Coke" Escovedo, brother of Bay area musician Pete Escovedo and uncle of Sheila E., died of a heart attack July 13th at the Beverly Hospital in Montebello.

The 45-year-old Los Angeles-based musician, formerly of the group Santana, wrote and arranged one of that group's biggest signature hits, "I Ain't Got Nobody (That I Can Depend On)." In 1972, Escovedo left Santana to form his own 18-piece band, Azteca.

His funeral mass was held at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church in Oakland, followed by burial at the Chapel of the Chimes in Hayward. Escovedo is survived by his mother Anita Gardner; father Pete Escovedo, Sr.; brothers Manuel, Pete, Phil and Bobby; sisters Jay Quesada, Alice Cheveres; and daughters Sabrina, Paris and Antonia.

PEPSI-COLA RADIO ADS TO SHOWCASE BLACK PERFORMERS

Purchase, N.Y.: Pepsi-Cola USA has launched a new media program to showcase "the best of a new generation" of musical talent. The campaign includes a series of radio commercials featuring current up-and-coming performers.

The first 60-second radio spots feature eight artists, among them R&B group LeVert and solo artist Johnny Gill. Each entertainer in the series will be introduced by music legend Ray Charles.

"In show business, sometimes talent is not enough. You need one lucky break," said Alan Pottasch, senior vice president of creative services for Pepsi-Cola USA. "By showcasing these artists in our commercials, we hope to help put them over the top to stardom."

The soft drink company discovered these artists through representatives from advertising agencies BBDO and Mingo-Jones.

USA FOR AFRICA ANNOUNCES DOMESTIC TASK FORCE

Los Angeles: Taking the first formal steps toward the distribution of the proceeds from Hands Across America, USA for Africa/Hands Across America has formed a Domestic Task Force to work in conjunction with the foundation.

Hands Across America, which took place on May 25th, raised a total of $41,650,083 in both contributions and pledges as of July 7th.

The Domestic Task Force — comprised of 37 individuals representing local, regional and national organizations and agencies involved in helping the hungry and homeless — will help to refine and finalize the process of domestic grant funding for Hands Across America/USA for Africa.

Donations for Hands Across America are still being accepted by calling toll-free 1-800-USA-9000.

MCA RECORDS SIGNS GLADYS KNIGHT & THE PIPS

Los Angeles: Gladys Knight and the Pips have signed a long-term, worldwide, exclusive contract with MCA Records. Soul/pop music veterans for over 30 years, the group is currently on national tour. Its debut album for MCA is tentatively set for January 1987 release.

"There is a tendency to toss the terms 'legend' and 'great' around too easily," said Irving Azoff, president of the MCA Entertainment Group. "But Gladys and the Pips deserve those accolades and more. They have been a favorite of mine for years, and they are still as vital and relevant as ever. It will be MCA's pleasure to present their next hit records."

Gladys Knight is currently starring in the NBC television sitcom Charlie and Company with Flip Wilson.

ISAAC STEVENSON, "MAGIC NUMBER VIDEO" PRODUCER, HOST: "VIDEO HELPS MAKE RADIO STARS"

There's little doubt that music videos can help promote artists that might otherwise have little chance of breaking into competitive markets. Video can indeed expose black artists to an audience that might not hear them on AOR, CHR and other white pop radio.

But even music video programming has become compartmentalized and music videos by black artists do not have as many outlets for airplay as their white counterparts.

"Magic Number Video" — a live, weekly, two-hour program which airs in the two million strong San Francisco Bay Area market — is one local show that is providing airspace for black videos, supporting the music's efforts on local radio and serving as a springboard to greater things for the show's producer/host, Isaac Stevenson.

The Bay Area native, who comes from background in local radio, and is currently doing a Saturday afternoon show for urban/R&B station KRE, believes that radio is the ultimate hit-maker, but video is a crucial support system.

"Radio still makes the hits," Stevenson told BRE recently, "because radio is 24 hours. You can always just turn the radio on and the music is there."

"There are too few video programs that play often enough to have the same impact as radio."

But Stevenson said that video programs can have a profound impact on the fortunes of an artist's record.

As an example, he recalled how Arista recording artist Jermaine Stewart's "You Don't Have To Take Your Clothes Off" single was languidly received by Bay Area radio when first released.

"The record had died," Stevenson said. "But two months after the single was released, Arista sent out a video on the tune, which we played at 'Magic Number Video' and it rejuvenated the record at radio. It did even better on local sales charts than it did the first time out."

Stevenson said that research for his show, which will be three years old in September, is conducted by review of local playlists of urban radio and local sales reports, but that instincts also play an important role.

Stevenson's own instincts have paid off for him, as three years ago he suspected that a black music video program would do well in the market. He took his idea to San Jose's Channel 48

KSTS and has built a viable video outlet for black music.

Research reveals that "Magic Number Video" is the highest rated show at the station, and that it is the second highest rated music video program in the market, trailing only "Friday Night Videos."

Stevenson estimates that he reaches some 150,000 people each Friday from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m. and that his demographic spread ranges from teens to older adults. He explained that during the early portion of the show, when most adults are watching the late news, most young people are looking for something else to watch.

"At midnight," he said, "most adults are leaving the network news programs and looking for something else. It's about that time that I switch to more adult-oriented music — jazz and sounds like that. Most of our viewers are tuned in about 12:15(a.m.)."

Artists such as George Clinton, The Controllers, Narada Michael Walden, Fizzy Quick, actor Wilbur Pugh ("The Color Purple") and L.L. Cool J have been on-air guests.

"Magic Number Video" has survived despite a low budget and the imposition by some major labels of "pay-for-play" fees.

"There is a great deal of promotional value in the play of videos that record companies can't buy," he said.

Despite the presence of other music video outlets, such as Black Entertainment Television's (BET) shows, "The Beam," and "Hit City," Stevenson believes "there is still a void to be filled."

Stevenson said that he hopes to expand "Magic Number Video" into a national outlet.

LISA LISA JAMMIN' TO STARDOM

Lisa Lisa & Cult Jam's "I Wonder If I Take You Home" was the surprise monster hit of 1985. Innocently delivered by Lisa, a sultry 19-year-old singer of Puerto Rican descent who grew up in New York's Spanish Harlem, it was the tale of a young girl's fear of being "a one-night stand" — set against the backdrop of a captivating dance beat.

"Wonder," written and produced by the Brooklyn sextet Full Force, was released first in England in 1984 on a compilation LP called Breakdancing. It later arrived in the U.S. as an import single, and finally as a domestic Columbia release last year.

Full Force, also responsible for the instruments and backing vocals on Lisa Lisa's mammothly popular debut LP (which has yielded two other hit singles, "Can You Feel the Beat" and the current "All Cried Out") chose Lisa to groom into super-stardom on the strength of both her vocal and visual appeal. Mike Hughes and Alex Moseley were picked to back her up on stage, and it was Hughes who came up with the group's name, Cult Jam. (In radio lingo, the term refers to a non-commercial, underground hit.)

Actually, in light of the group's crossover success, the word "cult" doesn't do justice to describing its broad-based popularity. Ruben Rodriguez, VP Black Promo/Columbia, has even made the bold prediction that Lisa has the looks, voice, and audience-pleasing potential to become "the next Madonna."

And what does Lisa have to say about the path that brought her to her current place in the spotlight — and her hopes for the future? BRE found out in a recent exclusive interview:

BRE: How did your singing career begin?

LL: I started singing when I was eight. My mother, who came over from Puerto Rico, was very religious and I accompanied her to church. It was a Spanish Gospel Church and by the time I was 9, I had sung my first solo in the church's choir.

BRE: Spanish Gospel?

LL: Yes. It's the same music, the same emotion — only the language, of course, is different.

BRE: Did you have other musical outlets?

LL: I was very fortunate in that I attended Julia Richmond High School, which had a performing troupe called "Talent Unlimited." All the kids with various talents — singers, dancers, instrumentalists — got together and put on shows all over New York. We were sponsored by Alexander's and Bloomingdale's and got paid a little money. We even had a TV show with everything from doo-wop groups to dancers and instrumental groups. It was good experience.

BRE: Do you have any other family members in the entertainment business?

LL: My older sister is a singer and has appeared in Off-Broadway shows. And I have a brother who has toured with a Latin band.

BRE: When did the big break occur that led to you heading up Cult Jam?

LL: During my last year of high school, I'd go to work every day after school and when I got off from work, I'd just sing on street corners for a little extra money. Then I heard that Madonna had met "Jellybean" Benitez at the Fun House, so I thought I'd try my luck there, too.

Well, it turned out that I met Mike

"DR. BOULDING" OPENS HIS OM OFFICES AT WBMX

Yes, it's official. "The Doctor," Jerry Boulding, answered his beeper (no, he wasn't on the golf course) and we now find him in Chicago — scrubbing up and donning his surgical gloves for emergency procedures at Sonderling Broadcasting's ailing FM.

Boulding is the new Operations Manager. BMX is falling behind Gannett's "Power 107," WGCI-FM. Spring '86 advances show GCI up from 6.4 to 7.2 — number two overall in the Windy City Market — and BMX is down from 5.6 to 5.3 overall.

GILMORE AND BOOKER EXIT KJLH

Doug Gilmore, PD and Levi Booker (10 p.m. - 2 a.m.) were relieved of their respective duties, effective July 16th. In the wake of the "Power-ful" competition dominating the local urban airwaves, word has it that there may be more changes to come in "Wonderland." Stay tuned...

GRAY "KISSED" BY SUCCESS IN NEW YORK

Tony Gray, PD, WRKS/New York, is all smiles these days, although still in the heat of battle in the "Big Apple" version of "Radio Wars." "Kiss" moved up in the Spring '86 ARBitron advance ratings from 5.6 to 6.2. But the station still trails the Scott Shannon piloted WHTZ (6.1 to 6.9) in the overall market numbers.

Also on the "Apple" scene, WBLS is up from 4.0 to 4.3. Way to go, B.K.!

THE "POWER SURGE" IN LA-LA LAND

Tony Gray's former WUSL/Philadelphia ("Power 99") stationmate, Jeff Wyatt, has come west and engineered a real "Power Surge" in "La La Land" (no, not another earthquake) from Emmis Broadcasting's KPWR. "Power 106" charged up the Spring '86 advances — going from 4.4 to 6.0 (number two overall) — and passing longtime market leader KIIS-FM (7.4 to 5.9).

All of the black/urban stations slipped, with the exception of All-Pro Broadcasting's KACE — up from a .9 to 1.2 with its recently debuted format and slogan "Your Lifestyle, Your Music." Congrats to PD Pam Robinson...

KJLH dipped from 2.0 to 1.4; KDAY, from 12.3 to 1.1; and KUTE's "Quiet Storm" from 1.4 to 1.2.

In view of the latter showing, Golden West moved industry veteran Lawrence Tanter (well-known voice of the L.A. Lakers) back into the PD slot at KUTE.

Down in San Diego, XHRM slipped from 5.7 to 4.9. Gene Harris has been rehired as PD, replacing Duff Lindsey, who recently moved down to WHQT/Miami.

Hughes and told him, "Hey, I can sing." It just so happened that they were looking for a girl to record the lead on "Wonder." All the tracks and everything were laid.

Although seven girls had auditioned before me, I got the job and the demo was completed in two days.

BRE: How has the transition from NY street singer to international star been for you?

LL: Weird! Although singing is my life, I'm actually an introvert — very shy, into books. Stardom literally came out of nowhere for me, but I realized very early on that if you decide to be in this business, you've got to work at it. Do what you have to do to make it.

But I'm still shocked by all the recognition. There are actually groupies at our shows. I was a groupie at heart myself not too long ago.

BRE: Do you agree with the statement that "there can be no show without the business"?

LL: Absolutely! There is so much you have to go through to make things happen in this business. Fortunately, when our demo led to a recording contract with Columbia, we were fortunate enough to have the best people behind us — Ruben Rodriguez and the whole staff. But you've got to get the people to know you. You've got to select the right music and know just what people want to hear, what they like to dance to.

BRE: Judging by the success you've had with your third charting single in a row, you must be in tune with public tastes.

LL: Full Force does all of our writing and producing — and hey, they've got the "magic touch." They've got the music in them and it all comes together in the studio.

BRE: Every period seems to have its "magic touch" producers. Today it's Full Force, Terry Lewis and Jimmy "Jam" Harris...

LL: Oh, we love Terry and Jimmy ... and it seems to be mutual! They came backstage after one of our shows and it was just beautiful.

BRE: What lies ahead for Lisa Lisa?

LL: Singing is my life; it's what I always wanted to do. So this success is like treating myself to a piece of cake and savoring each bite.

BRE: Is there a new LP in the works?

LL: Yes, we're working on some things. And let me say this: What we've put out there is just a taste of what we can do. We're out next time to drop the bomb!

BRE: Any parting thoughts?

LL: Yes. The kind of success we've had doesn't come without a lot of support. I've mentioned the wonderful folks at Columbia, but it could not have happened, too, without the support we've gotten from black radio. I've been calling program directors across the country to thank them for their acceptance of our music and giving it the exposure that led to the wonderful public acceptance. They've been beautiful.

As for words of advice to other young people who want to enter the music industry, I'd say: If you have a dream, go for it. Sure, there'll be lots of slammed doors, but with a little faith, you can make it. Go for it!

REVIEW

By Carolyn Riley

"MAMA, I WANT TO SING" AT THE BEVERLY THEATRE IN LOS ANGELES

"Mama, I Want to Sing" — not unlike the recent "Gospel at Colonus" which preceded it on stages across the country — has proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that the world is hungry for the gospel message.

Playing a limited engagement at the Beverly Theatre, "Mama" has been wowing local audiences — just as it did during its long and highly successful off-Broadway run. Briefly, the play is the story of Doris Troy (who appears as "Mama Winter"), the singer/composer who wrote the 60's classic, "Just One Look."

Co-written by her sister, former New York air personality Vy Higginsen, the story traces Troy's journey as the daughter of a stern Bermuda-born minister (played by Troy and Higginsen's brother) who wants her to remain in the church environment — and follows her as she makes her move from the church to the (pop/R&B) charts.

A stand-out performer was 18-year-old Deitra Hicks in the lead role. She is an attractive young vocalist who sings with dramatic, Whitney Houston-styled gospel undertones.

Veteran performer Doris Troy was wonderful, particularly when she launched into an impassioned version of "Precious Lord" as she attempts dissuade her daughter from leaving home. Handsome Ronald Grant, a Donny Hathaway sound-alike, really moved the audience, too, on "God Will Be."

MTV GETS EXCLUSIVE ON RUN-D.M.C.'S "WALK THIS WAY" VIDCLIP

The music of rap super group Run-D.M.C. has always been drenched in sharp-witted ironies.

But the most ironic piece of news about these rap icons is that their current vidclip, culled from the Profile track "Walk This Way" (a cover of an old Aerosmith tune) is getting exclusive airplay on MTV.

You remember MTV — the rock video channel that black artists, especially rap artists, couldn't get arrested on a few years ago?

But while some local, urban-oriented video outlets have expressed acrimony over the exclusivity deal, Chris Lasalle, video and alternative radio promotion for Profile, said that the pact will end Aug. 1.

"We had an offer to run exclusively on MTV for six months, which is a standard deal," Lasalle told BRE, "but we didn't think that was in our best interest."

Lasalle said that the video was released to the rock channel July 3.

Responding to comments from local video programmers who thought they would not have the clip while it was hot, Lasalle said, "Well, we just began servicing urban stations with the record, so I don't think the record will die before local video shows get the clip."

He added that most stations are still humming with Run D.M.C.'s "My Adidas."

Lasalle further said that MTV was largely responsible in breaking the group's "Rock Box" to a wider audience.

The "Walk This Way" clip would seem to offer the crossover appeal MTV desires, as it features veteran Aerosmith members Steven Tyler and Joe Perry.

Run D.M.C.'s current LP, Raising Hell, is shining platinum.

Release of the report by the U.S. Attorney General's Commission on Pornography had elements of the film, cable TV and home video industries sitting on pins and needles for a long while. But its release has drawn mixed reactions from these various industry segments.

Released last Wednesday (July 9), the report called for a curtailment of the more than $8 billion porn business, but didn't recommend that "any significant action be taken against cable" networks, which generally cablecast watered-down versions of porn programming during late night hours. They also offer locking devices that are designed to prohibit youths from viewing such material when parents are away.

The report, however, did cause some fervor among the home video industry, particularly a portion of the report which urged a system where producers, retailers and distributors of sex movies maintain records containing consent forms and proofs of age.

As some dealers claim that X-rated material accounts for between 15-30% of all sales, there is fear that an attack by community groups would substantially hurt their business.

Most dealers declined comment on how much revenue would be lost if they were to pull porn from their shelves. One Detroit-based black dealer, who asked not to be identified said, "We had just started carrying video in the store, and pornography, not that this made me feel good, was our most consistent seller.

"I really couldn't afford to carry a broad enough inventory, without the sales from X-rated movies," he continued, adding, "But I don't want to confront some group that wants to protest pornography either."

Many dealers are planning to give porno movie titles a lower profile in store. Separate rooms will be designated for the product, much like the arrangement record stores employ in the sale of drug paraphenalia, and merely listing the product in catalogs with brief synopsis are some of the options considered by dealers.

NBMC REPORT

CONGRESSIONAL HEARING ON ADVERTISING BIAS REQUESTED

A hearing to investigate advertising agencies which discriminate against minority-owned radio stations in the placement of advertising was requested by senior Congresswoman Cardiss Collins of the House Telecommunications Subcommittee.

During a Federal Communications

Commission hearing held in February, NBMC — along with the National Association of Black Owned Broadcasters (NABOB) — charged that advertising agencies discriminate against minority media in the placement of advertising. Following the hearing, NBMC submitted a petition to the Federal Trade Commission asking that BLACK ADVERTISING AGENCY PRINCIPALS (STANDING, L-R) CAROLINE JONES, J. MELVIN MUSE AND FRANK MINGO (SEATED) ARE AMONG THOSE WHOSE PARTICIPATION IN GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS WILL BE INVESTIGATED IN THE PROPOSED CONGRESSIONAL HEARING.

More Anti-Minority Employment Rumblings from FCC ... In our last column we reported on why blacks in radio and TV can't look to the FCC for help when they are victims of discrimination. Now we examine some of the new tricks some broadcasters are getting away with at the expense of black employment.

Paper "Upgrades." If you know someone who just got a new title but no new paycheck, the company is playing games with that person to impress the FCC. Broadcasters like to be able to show lots of blacks and women in "officials and management" type jobs. So they make the head secretary the "office manager," or make the head janitor the "maintenance supervisor." The Program Director becomes the "Program Manager" and the Music Director becomes the "Supervisor of Entertainment Programming." The station knows the FCC doesn't care. The FCC probably thinks this is funny.

Segregated Sales Forces. In an AM-FM combo with a joint sales staff, theoretically you'd expect the black salespeople and white salespeople to each have about the same distributions of territory, same types of accounts, same income in relation to effort expended. Not so in many cases where the AM is black and the FM is white (or vice versa). While nominally authorized to sell both the AM and FM stations, the black salespersons are given the ghetto Mom and Pop stores and the white salespersons get McDonalds, American Airlines and the theater company — big spenders all.

It's easy to tell when this is station policy: watch how the former clients of a departing white or black salesperson are distributed among the remaining sales force.

Sometimes salespeople aren't even allowed to try to sell both stations in a combo. Black salespersons sell black radio and white salespersons sell white radio. The black station becomes the "Bantustan" of the airwaves.

Black Removal with Format Change. It's not hard to figure out what's going to happen to the black on-air staff when a station goes from black to country. The FCC allows stations to change formats at will, and lately a surprising number of stations have been dumping black formats.

In one case, the owner changed to (white) religion, saying that God told him to get rid of the black music (and, presumably, eight black staff members). In another case, seven blacks were fired and only one black was hired for the next 110 job openings.

Of course, all of this is patently illegal: there's no reason a qualified black radio announcer can't program any kind of music. After all, white announcers have had no trouble getting accepted in black radio, and nobody says "it's not their music."

There is a legal way to change format and terminate the black staff: do it slowly, allowing black announcers to leave if they wish and stay if they wish, providing them with help in getting new jobs. This is how Viacom tried to proceed when it transformed the old WRVR-FM (New York) from all-jazz to all-country. But that's the rare exception. It's easier to just put the pink slips in the mail slots at the front desk.

How Not to Start a Radio Station ... In our next few columns, we'll be reporting on the tactics of various purported minority ownership hustlers who push new station "opportunities" on usually unsuspecting black radio talent. Much activity aimed at getting blacks into new AM, FM and TV licenses is entirely legitimate and should be encouraged.

But that work is threatened by the abuses of a couple of dozen professional minority-chasers whose real interest is to front the minority, get the license for the supposedly minority-controlled company, and then take control away by starving the usually inexperienced and outgunned minority partner into submission.

Fortunately, blacks don't play the hustler role at the expense of other blacks. This author knows of no blacks (and only one Hispanic) who put together sham or front companies. Usually the hustler is white, has no track record in the black community, and is the lead person for the "money people" (all white) who really want the license but know they probably can't win as easily unless a minority is out front in the FCC hearing.

We could fill ten columns with stories of how blacks were taken in by these kinds of tricks ... but watch about the next three columns as BRE exposes — for the first time — the new non-minority industry in "minority" ownership hustling.

rules be developed that would insure "a free and competitive marketplace in advertising placement" and "declare it to be unlawful for an advertising agency to discriminate in employment practices."

In a letter to Representative Timothy Wirth, Chairman of the House Telecommunication Subcommittee, Congresswoman Collins stated, "As you know, the lack of strong policy and commitment by the Federal Communications Commission to encourage minority ownership of communications properties continues to be a major obstacle. This coupled with the inability of minority stations to compete for a fair share of advertising revenues places a double burden on black and minority businessmen."

Congresswoman Collins is also developing legislation to deal with the lack of advertising on black communication media. As chairperson of a Government Operations Subcommittee (Government Activities and Transportation), she plans to actively examine the procedures by which federal agencies select advertising firms.

At present, she is in the process of focusing on the extent to which minority advertising firms and print media participate in government advertising contracts.

JAZZ IN BRE'F

By Michael Martinez

Jazz to End Hunger, recently announced during a press conference, plans for the release of a single, album, music video, home video clip and TV special to raise funds for the hungry and homeless in America.

Feeling that jazz artists were largely overlooked by Live Aid, Farm Aid and USA For Africa, Jazz To End Hunger organizer Michael McIntosh said during the conference that Jazz to End Hunger is not a bandwagon effort and that the idea was actually born more than four years ago.

Last February, more than 50 jazz artists came together during a recording session to record the Andrew Belling/-Don Grady song, "Keep The Dream Alive," which is the single and the subject of a music video soon to be released.

Among the artists on that landmark recording session were Carmen McRae, Sarah Vaughn, Billy Eckstine, Larry Carlton, Herbie Hancock, Lorez Alexandria, Mark Murphy, Della Reese, Eloise Laws and Maynard Ferguson.

An instrumental version of "Keep The Dream Alive" will be recorded in New York in September during a session with the East Coast's best players.

Comprising the planned LP, unreleased material from various record labels will be donated to the project, now in pre-production as is the television special planned for November. McIntosh said, however, that no deal for airing the special has been set as yet.

Proceeds from the sale of the record and royalties are to go to the fund and will be channeled to America's hungry through existing organizations.

Jazz lost an underrated great recently when Monk Higgins died. Funeral services were held for Higgins July 9 in Inglewood, Ca. The two-time Grammy-nominated musician/composer/arranger/producer died July 3 after an extended illness.

Higgins' family asked that commemorative donations be sent to the newly-formed Monk Higgins Music Foundation, created to provide scholarships for promising music students.

Most recently, Higgins, a respected saxophonist, was musical director at Marla's Memory Lane in Los Angeles. But his career was distinguished with a number of highlights. He arranged, composed and produced music for artists such as Etta James, Muddy Waters, Blood, Sweat & Tears, Stanley Turrentine, Willie Dixon, Gloria Lynn and many others.

Higgins is survived by his wife, Virginia Bland, and three daughters — Joan, June and Janessa Bland.

CONCERT REVIEW

COOL AND THE GANG AT CAESAR'S PALACE

PolyGram recording artists Cool and the Gang created much excitement with the casino and night club set at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas recently. Appearing July 9-14 on a two-shows-her starring role in New World's "Vamp." Hopefully, the picture will have plenty of "bite" at the box office...

Finally, three women claiming to be the widow of FRANKIE LYMON are waiting for a judge in New York to decide which of them will get royalties from his R&B classic, "Why Do Fools Fall In Love?" covered to hitville by Diana Ross.

ELIZABETH WATER LYMON claims that she married the singer in 1964. ZOLA MAE TAYLOR (formerly a singer with THE PLATTERS) maintains that she wed Lymon in 1965. As for EMIRA EAGLE, she swears that the two of them married in 1967. An attorney for wife No. 1 says the problem can be traced to a lack of divorce documents.

On a happier note, we're pleased to report that TEDDY PENDERGRASS appears to be recovering nicely from his most recent automobile accident. By the time this issue hits the stands, he should be resting back at home in his Philadelphia estate. Get well, Teddy!

By June Hayes

daily routine, the group's uptempo, energetic show entertained a decidedly mixed crowd. Everyone from teenagers to grandparents — whites and blacks — could be seen in the Gang's audience. The Gang obviously has a sound and style that know no age, color or creed boundaries.

Choreographed and costumed in typical Vegas fashion, the Gang used every special effects device at its disposal to set the scene for its hits: "Misled," "Celebrate," "Fresh," and the early chart-busters that have kept this band at the top for over a decade.

By the show's conclusion, it was easy to tell from the happy expressions that the Gang had lived up to its reputation as a first-rate, "satisfaction guaranteed" attraction.

Personal Note: Keep up the energy, guys. You're still in step!

An old friend or associate will come back into your life. Let him help you to achieve your goals.

TAURUS

Money matters need attention. Be prepared to be more frugal to get back on track.

GEMINI

Beware of communications foul-ups and outlandish rumors. They'll only hold you back.

CANCER

The social scene has been draining your energies. Pace yourself accordingly.

LEO

Don't rely on luck or blind fate. Only hard work ensures financial improvement.

VIRGO

A career breakthrough is on the agenda. Use your instincts to forge ahead.

LIBRA

You've been bogged down by phone calls, deadlines and bills. Make time for yourself.

SCORPIO

Strengthen your job power base by becoming indispensable. It's time to call your own shots.

SAGITTARIUS

Proceed cautiously. A new offer could require more of a commitment than you're willing to give.

CAPRICORN

Your routine has become stifling. Consider a permanent change on the personal and career front.

AQUARIUS

A transfer, or simply a change of pace, may be all you need to put your life in order.

PISCES

An old relationship may suddenly intensify. Decide if the benefits are worth it.
