CC FILES STERN COUNTERSUIT

Clear Channel Communications filed a $3 million countersuit against Howard Stern's One Twelve and Infinity Broadcasting, who are suing Clear Channel for $10 million. The suit, filed in New York, claims a breach of contract and states that some of Stern's shows were not in compliance with federal law and FCC regulations, as required in the contracts between Stern and Clear Channel. The suit also states that the contracts stipulated Clear Channel could not alter the show, making the radio group powerless to delete unlawful content before it aired. Clear Channel dropped Stern's show from six of its affiliates several months ago.

Wired 96.5 Connects With Philly

WRDW (Wired 96.5) Philadelphia is experiencing a power surge.

The rhythmic top 40 pounced on crosstown mainstream top 40 rival WIOQ (Q102) in the spring Arbitron ratings book, spiking from a 3.5 to a 4.1 share. Q102 dropped from a 4.4 to a 3.8 share with listeners 12-plus, its lowest audience percentage in years.

Wired came in third in the market with its target 18-34 audience; Q102 was fourth. Adult R&B WDAS (Power 99) led the Philadelphia ratings in all demos.

The outlet's victory is particularly sweet for owner Beasley, after Clear Channel—which owns Q102—threatened legal action when Wired 96.5 signed on as Wild 96.5 last November. CC claimed it had rights to the Wild moniker.

Wild then became Wired, raising a local barnstorm of sympathy for the station as an underdog being bullied.

"Philly has always been an underdog town," Wired PD Chuck Tisa says. "People were listening to a station that they liked, and Clear Channel became this big, angry conglomerate trying to push people around. I think the audience took us under their wing; the whole Clear Channel debacle actually helped us, so we can thank them for that."

Programming consultant Guy Zapoleon adds, "Certainly the 'big guy' imaging and bullying over the Wild [name] could have backfired to hurt Q102."

But he adds that Wired came on the air at a time when Q102 was already losing ground with listeners. "Q102 is so rhythmic these days, so when a very focused rhythmic comes on with a relatively new image for doing that vs. Q102's mainstream top 40 image, then they win."

"Also, Q102's mainstream top 40 fans who don't want that much rhythm have no place to go, so they listen less to the station," Zapoleon says. "It looks like [rhythmic top 40] WPHI was hurt as well." The station dipped from a 2.6 to 2.5 in the Arbitron ratings.

Tisa says Q102 does not appear to be in peak form: "They talk a lot, they play a lot of commercials and it seems like they're sort of chasing us instead of being their own radio station."

In response, Q102 PD Todd Shannon, says that Q102 is tailored mainstream top 40 for Philadelphia: "The station has always had a rhythmic lean. Straight, white mainstream music is a component to the music mix, it does not dominate the sound of the station. We continue to play the right, mainstream titles together with the best rhythmic product. With the rich, rhythmic history in Philly, what may look urban or rhythmic on Q102 is accepted as the mainstream in Philadelphia."

Comparing Q102 with Wired, Shannon adds, "The stations couldn't be more different. Now more than ever they are leaning more urban with their currents, recurrences and gold titles. Based on the latest Arbitron ethnic breakouts, they are the second hip hop/crossover station. For months they have been competing against our sister station, Power 99 on the streets for business, not Q102."

The Philadelphia Inquirer reports that Wired's 18-34 ratings are 126% higher than a year ago, when the then-AC station was known as the Point, while Q102's spring-to-spring ratings are down 33% and Power 99's are off 21%. WPHI, which ranked fourth a year ago, sank to ninth, with spring-to-spring ratings off 27%.

Tisa attributes Wired's robust ratings to team spirit and a series of making the right moves.

"Everybody here works their ass off, and that's what has gotten us where we are. We're playing the right music—the biggest records—and not a lot of commercials, and we have a great team."

Consultant Jerry Clifton and Wired GM Dave Donahue identified the opening for rhythmic top 40 in the market. They have imaged the station as a local entity with numerous contests and such liners as "ishloads of music," "nota-lotta-talka" and "reality radio."

The station's average spotload is about eight minutes per hour—far below the national average. It also ensures that promotions are branded as community events to distance itself from larger chains' nationwide giveaways.

Wired just wrapped a six-week contest to identify the elusive Wired 96.5 Fugitive. More than two dozen clues outlining his description and location were given on the air, with the victor winning $10,000. Three women identified the target July 20 in Love Park, splitting the cash reward.

"That's part of our reality radio campaign," Tisa says. "It's a much more creative way of doing radio than just being caller No. 10." It also makes it clear that the station is contesting within the community, not nationally.

Musically, Wired's playlist reflects the nation's rhythmic top 40 trends, led by Juvenile, Usher, D12, Terror Squad, Petey Pablo, Alicia Keys and Nina Sky.

To back the music positioning, the station is sponsoring several summer promotions: an exclusive club concert with Fat Joe, a party bus to New York to see Usher July 30 when he appears on "Good Morning America," concert tickets and access to Usher when he appears in Philadelphia in August and a prize package to see 50 Cent in London next month.

For the future, Tisa says Wired must remain focused and continue to play as if it's an underdog, even though the station hit No. 1 in the market in the June Arbitrends.

"We need to stay wild—oops, I can't say that—I mean, stay wired and continue to work hard," Tisa says. "We would rather be No. 1 for 20 years, not just for one month. We have to remain crazy and wild, having listeners say, 'Oh, my God, did you hear what they're doing now?' That's the way to win."

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first, if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. ☆ Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks across the U.S. and Canada. Songs ranked by number of detections. (★) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. ³ Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks, across the U.S. and Canada. Numerical following symbol indicates multiple level of 100,000 detections.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks, across the U.S. and Canada. Numerical following symbol indicates multiple level of 100,000 detections.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks, across the U.S. and Canada. Numeral following symbol indicates multiple level of 100,000 detections.

Radio Shows Herald New, Unknown Acts

There are few choices on commercial radio for R&B and hip-hop fans looking for something a little left of center. Therefore, many listeners are turning to community radio stations to find what's next in their respective genres.

Such radio shows as WHCR New York's "Sugartreats," KUSF San Francisco's "Friday Night Session" and KCRW Los Angeles' "Chocolate City" give listeners a chance to hear underground or independent music they might otherwise miss.

"If people only listen to commercial radio, they will miss out on a lot of good music, because those stations rarely take real chances," "Sugartreats" co-host DJ Ohsokool says. "We are able to provide that balance."

The New York-based DJ, who hosts the show with Miss Kia Star, launched "Sugartreats" last summer as a platform to introduce up-and-coming and underheralded R&B and hip-hop acts.

"A lot of the artists that I play may not get mainstream recognition," Ohsokool says. "Artists like Dwele, Little Brother, Van Hunt, Amel Larrieux. I also play mainstream artists—but I will play their album cuts as opposed to singles."

DJ OHSOKOOL

EXPERIMENTAL OUTLET

For "Friday Night Session" co-host Tomas Palermo, community radio provides an outlet for experimental fare.

"Unfortunately, commercial radio stations have never been entirely open to promoting music on independent labels and by independent artists. The kind of music that we as DJs play most in clubs and bars is music by independent artists on small labels," Palermo says. "We feel like we're doing our part to give these artists exposure and promote new people's careers."

"An artist like [Skyblaze/Columbia-signed] Goapele may get played on 'Friday Night Session' for months, and then quickly thereafter she may make the jump to more commercial radio," he adds. "We don't mind being a springboard for artists like that. We feel like we're giving community radio listeners a sneak preview or a taste of what's to come."

Palermo, an editor of XLR8R magazine, and co-host Andrew Jervis, an A&R representative at Ubiquity Records, offer a mix of jazz, soul, dance, hip-hop and house on their 8-year-old show.

These shows not only benefit music lovers with eclectic tastes, but many independent labels and artists see community radio as a viable outlet for getting their music heard.

Studio Distribution, which serves as home to such burgeoning labels as BBE, Rapster and Counterflow Recordings, knows the power of community radio.

"This is one of the best ways for us as a smaller distribution company to have our music be heard," Studio Distribution project manager OP says. "It gives music that normally doesn't get the kind of exposure that it would get through commercial radio a means to be hand in hand with the community."

"It provides underground and emerging artists a means to have a direct connection with the community and is a great means of exposure, whereas with commercial radio [the listener] gets bombarded with the same five artists over and over again. There is no way that artists like [BBE Records'] the Foreign Exchange can get that kind of exposure on a commercial radio station."

Shows like "Sugartreats" have been particularly supportive of the Foreign Exchange project, which was created over the Internet by Phonte of rap group Little Brother and Danish producer Nicolay.

"The record has been affected by community radio in the sense that it is a word-of-mouth album," he adds. "Once community radio heard their story and their music, they jumped on it to the point where word spread virally."

According to OP, a successful campaign at community radio can even affect sales of an indie album.

"Granted, you don't get the same results that you do from traditional advertising, [but] this is a very grass-roots way of getting to people," OP says. "People who listen to community radio stations are the types that are trying to support underground and emerging artists, so it does directly impact sales."

MAJOR LABELS MORE RELUCTANT

While indie labels seem to embrace the spirit of community radio, according to Palermo, the majors have been a bit more reluctant.

"It's scary the way the majors focus almost exclusively on the commercial radio market," he says. "That's not to say that they don't do any community radio promotion, but normally one package is serviced to the main music director at the station, and quite often those people have a rock background, so a lot of underground R&B and hip-hop music doesn't make it into the rotation. It's up to shows like us to represent."

It's that representation that makes these shows work.

"Commercial radio as it stands today is not serving even the general population well, because of the formatted playlists and the centralized control that companies like Viacom, Clear Channel and Disney have over radio," Palermo says.

"For example, we don't hear political hip-hop on the radio. We live in such political times, but the last political record I remember hearing was Panjabi MC and Jay-Z's "Beware of the Boys." Before that, the last politically minded record on the air that I can think of was Public Enemy's "Fight the Power." That was 1989.

"The media consolidation of commercial radio has had a huge impact on up-and-coming independent soul, hip-hop and jazz artists getting airplay, because they don't fit the formula," he adds. "That's why it's so great to see artists like Goapele come up, because they disprove that theory."

OLD BECOMES NEW

For Ohsokool, audience interest in community radio is something old becoming new again.

"This is a reintroduction to what has always been here," he says. "In the early '90s, New York had a lot of underground/community radio shows that played hot music—and then something happened. I don't know what that was, but then [WQHT New York] Hot 97 took over."

"People are now seeing that a lot of these stations are playing the same stuff," Ohsokool adds. "So people come to us for new music."

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks, across the U.S. and Canada. H=Heavy (45+ Detections), M=Medium (25-44), L=Light (Under 25). Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. ☆ Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders. ☆ indicates title earned HipPredictor status in research data provided by Promosquad.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ▲ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. † Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks, across the U.S. and Canada. Numeral following symbol indicates multiple level of 100,000 detections.

No Ifs, Ands Or Butts For Country Radio

In the wake of the FCC's crackdown on indecency this year, programmers are on high alert for songs that might cause problems.

In that environment, many of the same programmers who made Toby Keith's "Courtesy of the Red, White and Blue (The Angry American)"—and its "boot in your ass" line—a chart-topping hit have suddenly become fearful of the "A" word. In some cases, they're even a little leery of "hell," which appears in such hits as Montgomery Gentry's "Hell Yeah" and Gretchen Wilson's "Redneck Woman."

That caution has resulted in a tough start at radio for the Notorious Cherry Bombs' memorably titled "It's Hard to Kiss the Lips at Night (That Chew Your Ass Out All Day Long)," even though many of the PDs who are playing it are reporting a favorable reaction from listeners.

In uncertain times, programmers are treading carefully. Some stations that are playing the Cherry Bombs are either not having the jocks intro the song with the full title or are bleeping the word "ass" in the lyric, while some are doing both.

With edgy records, PDs often watch the reactions of their colleagues at other stations. Here's a random sampling of how some stations are dealing with the Cherry Bombs song.

• "I'm not playing the song here," WBEE Rochester, N.Y., PD Billy Kidd says. "Without any clear-cut guidelines from the FCC, why take the chance?"

• KNCI Sacramento, Calif., PD Mark Evans says, "We're not playing it, and I don't foresee us playing it. . . . If we were playing it, it would be bleeped. [It's] not appropriate for our market."

• Brian Jennings, PD at KZKX Lincoln, Neb., is playing the song and not bleeping the word "ass," but he also is not having his jocks use the full title in the intro. For Jennings, however, the issue is not indecency. Rather, he says, "I don't want to give away the entire line until they hear the song."

Jennings says the song—and stations that play it—have nothing to fear from the FCC. "If you're using the word in the context of the title, there's no reason to be concerned at all."

"Ass" is being used in about 10 titles on-air right now, [including] Garth Brooks' extended "Friends in Low Places," he adds. "The draw of country is plain-spoken lyrics. I refuse to censor the very reason people tune in. They want to hear blunt honesty in their music."

• In Little Rock, Ark., KSSN PD Chad Heritage is not playing the song yet, but he says that if he were, "we would probably only say the first half of the title on-air or something along those lines. In the environment that we live in today, I feel that would be the best thing for us to do."

At the same time, Heritage says there are several songs "that use the word 'ass' in the lyrics that we do play on our station."

• "Neither WSSL or WESC is on the song yet," says Scott Johnson, OM of the two Greenville, S.C., stations. "Greenville is one of the more conservative markets I've worked in. . . . [It's a] big religion town. We have been careful to monitor listener feedback on some of the edgier lyrics and titles. 'Hell Yeah,' 'Redneck Woman' [and Big & Rich's] 'Save a Horse (Ride a Cowboy)' have all generated negatives with some female listeners. [We're] waiting to see on the Cherry Bombs."

• KYGO Denver PD Joel Burke says, "As of now, we are not playing the song." But he has a plan for handling it if the station decides to do so. "If you're going to play the song, you're going to have to give the full title and not bleep 'ass' out of the song," he says. "If country radio did that, we would have to delete 'jackass' out of Brad Paisley's 'Celebrity' [and] Toby's 'boot in your ass' out of 'Courtesy of the Red, White and Blue.'"

• WXYC Havre de Grace, Md., PD Dave Hovel isn't on the song yet either, but says, "I do have an eye on it. . . . I guess I tend to be a little conservative and err [on the side of] 'What would my mother think?' before I do anything on the radio."

Thus, Hovel is playing the "boot in your eye" edit of "Courtesy of the Red, White and Blue" in his local programming, even though he has not received any listener complaints about the unedited version that airs during his two syndicated dayparts.

Hovel held off for a long time on playing Aaron Tippin's "Kiss This" when it was a current. He also recalls having "long music discussions about 'Celebrity,' although we did play it."

"I'm just not sure country radio needs to go this route," Hovel says. "We can keep this format safe in the minivan and still have fun."

As for the Cherry Bombs, he says, "If we do play it, it will be an edit in title and song."

'A VERY FUNNY SONG'

While she is not playing the Cherry Bombs, WQDR Raleigh, N.C., PD Lisa McKay says that "if we did, we would not have any trouble playing the song unedited. [We] might intro or outro it with '[a] very funny song from Vince Gill and friends.'"

• "I am not currently playing the song, but when we do, I'll have the full title on the air," WPCCK (Kicks 104.9) Green Bay, Wis., PD Chris O'Kelley says. "With the success of 'Hell Yeah' and 'Redneck Woman,' I don't think a word like 'ass' is that big of a deal. People took the message and feel-good factor of those songs, like I think they would to this one."

"I am also playing the CD version of Toby Keith's 'I Love This Bar' that says, 'We've got a dumb ass and a wise guy,'" O'Kelley adds. "I haven't gotten one negative call on any of those songs, so I don't think the Cherry Bombs would be any different."

Supporting O'Kelley's point, some stations are already spinning the Cherry Bombs' record without any negative feedback from listeners.

• "Our midday and afternoon jocks came to me and asked about some 'chew your ass' song. They are getting tons of requests for it," KRYS Corpus Christi, Texas, PD Big Frank Edwards says. "I decided to play it during our noontime request show and see what kind of reaction we get. So far, nothing but requests for it."

Still, Edwards isn't allowing his jocks to use the full song title. "I don't think there is any need for the jock to emphasize the word 'ass'; the song does that enough," he says. "Anyone that knows me knows that I use that and other adjectives frequently but not on the radio. My mom is listening. We just set it up by saying who the group is, who is in the group and [that] this is a fun song that will hit home with some of our listeners."

• "We've spun it in our test program, the 'Bunkhouse Brawl,' where it won five nights in a row and then was retired," KIM Tucson, Ariz., PD Buzz Jackson says. "This is a conservative station and a conservative market, but we didn't have any issues. But then again, we didn't play it any time other than at night, either."

"If we were to play it during the day, I would let the song stand as is but not let the jocks say the full title," Jackson adds. "That's how we handled 'Hell Yeah.' The jocks would say, 'Here's the latest from Montgomery Gentry.'"

• At WTKV Knoxville, Tenn., OM Mike Hammond reports: "We are inquiring the record using

THE NOTORIOUS CHERRY BOMBS

Q: What is your all-time favorite funny song title?

Lisa McKay, PD, WQDR Raleigh, N.C.: "I chuckle every time I recap or sell [Garth Brooks'] 'Ain't Going Down (Til the Sun Comes Up).' I know this is juvenile, but I keep thinking, 'What a great ad for Viagra it would make.' I really should grow up. Maybe next year."

Brian Jennings, PD, KZKX Lincoln, Neb.: "Charlie Robison's 'You're Not the Best (But You're the Best That I Can Do).' [It's] an album track and funny as hell."

Mark Evans, PD, KNCI Sacramento, Calif.: "It's tough to beat the Dan Hicks classic, 'How Can I Miss You When You Won't Go Away?'"

Joel Burke, PD, KYGO Denver: "[Razzy Bailey's] 'She Left Love All Over Me.'"

Mitch Mahan, PD, WIRK West Palm Beach, Fla.: "Ray Stevens' 'Get Your Tongue Out of My Mouth, I'm Kissing You Goodbye.'"

Chris O'Kelley, brand manager, WPCCK (Kicks 104.9) Green Bay, Wis.: "I still love the Conway Twitty and Loretta Lynn [duet] 'You're the Reason Our Kids Are Ugly.'"

Mark Lindow, PD, WOGI Pittsburgh: "You're the Reason Our Kids Are Ugly" would probably be the choice. [Bobby Bare's] 'Dropkick Me, Jesus' would be a runner-up."

Billy Kidd, PD/p.m. driver, WBEE Rochester, N.Y.: "'Dropkick Me, Jesus.'"

Big Frank Edwards, PD, KRYS (K99) Corpus Christi, Texas: "[David Frizzell's] 'I'm Gonna Hire a Wino to Decorate Our Home.'"

Dave Hovel, PD, WXYC Havre de Grace, Md.: "My favorite song title—and this comes from an area where duckpin bowling is still big—is 'I Don't Know Whether to Kill Myself or Go Bowling.' I don't remember who sings it, but I liked the title."

Scott Johnson, OM, Clear Channel/Greenville, S.C.: "I've always liked 'If the Phone Doesn't Ring, It's Me' by Jimmy Buffett."

Mike Moore, PD, KWJJ (the Wolf) Portland, Ore.: "Here are a few I like: 'Get Your Biscuits in the Oven and Your Buns in the Bed,' 'High Cost of Low Living,' 'How Can a Whiskey That's Six Years Old Whup a Man That's 33?,' 'I Bought the Shoes That Just Walked Out on Me' and 'I Want a Beer as Cold as My Ex-Wife's Heart.'" the [partial] song title, 'It's Hard to Kiss the Lips.' [There's] no mention of the other part with the word 'ass.' We are playing the edited version, and we are getting lots of requests for the song."

BURKE

EDGY LYRICS A CONCERN

Even before the FCC's post-Super Bowl indecency scrutiny and the ensuing "zero tolerance" policies implemented by several broadcast companies, songs with edgy lyrics were a concern for many country programmers.

"It was a concern a year ago and five years ago," WCOL Columbus, Ohio, PD John Crenshaw says. "We are the station you can feel safe listening to with the kids in the car. We cover the word 'ass'

WOGI Pittsburgh PD Mark Lindow isn't playing the Cherry Bombs, but the situation with that record reminds him of one that happened when he first started in country radio in 1977 at WILQ Williamsport, Pa.

"Johnny Paycheck's 'Take This Job and Shove It' was, I believe, in heavy rotation at the time," he recalls. "What I have always remembered was being told in no uncertain terms that we were not to say the title of the song. Management was worried about the fun the jocks would have saying that title and whatever else they added to the breaks when saying it."

ON THE HROW

Jennings Kin Heads South For Debut

Shooter Jennings, the son of Jessi Colter and the late Waylon Jennings, has signed with Universal South Records. His self-produced debut for the label is due in March 2005.

Capitol Records has signed Amber Dotson to its artist roster. Her debut album is being produced by Billy Joe Walker Jr.

Publicist Judy McDonough exits Compendia Music Group in Nashville to reactivate her independent publicity firm, JEMMedia. Compendia is her first client.

An animated TV show has been created for the character of Roy D. Mercer, the brainchild of radio personalities Brent Douglas and Phil

Stone. Capitol Records in Nashville has released a successful series of Mercer comedy albums. "The Roy D. Mercer Show," a partnership among Transparent Creative Management, Flickerlab and Waterworks Pictures, is currently being pitched to networks. It will feature the voices of Billy Bob Thornton, Douglas and Stone.

Brad Paisley performs with William Shatner on a track from Shatner's upcoming album, "Has Been," due Oct. 5 on Shout Factory Records. Paisley wrote the song "Real" specifically for Shatner. The two famously paired up previously in Paisley's "Celebrity" video.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrences and are removed from the chart after 20 weeks. N Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks, across the U.S. and Canada. Music Choice's Next Choice: Broadband

While Music Choice has served as an alternative to radio since its 1991 inception, this fall it will become available in a place that could make it a more formidable threat: outside the living room. The cable music provider will be expanding to broadband later this year, allowing it to be heard on any computer equipped with a cable modem. In addition to its newfound mobility, Music Choice will allow listeners to program their own custom channels.

Music Choice president/CEO David Del Beccaro says the move to broadband will help the service reach a younger audience.

"When we broadcast through digital cable and satellite, that limits us to a couple of rooms," he says. "Generally, we're in the living room, some family-type rooms and usually the parents' bedroom. What this will do is give us access to more kids. The PC is more likely to be in an area like a kid's room."

"The first phase of this is to get our service available through the high-speed services. The second step is that as people set up home networks, they'll be able to wirelessly transmit our signal throughout the home, and that will be done through the PC, not the TV." The service will be available to cable modem subscribers at no charge.

"It makes us the first music television broadcaster to be on two platforms, TVs and PCs," Music Choice public relations director Karen Doler adds. "The PC user is a different demographic. [It's traditionally] a younger audience that we'll be reaching out to. It extends our audience and gives people some more options to choose from."

All of Music Choice's channels—50 of which play nonstop music—will be available on broadband. Users will be able to pick 10 favorites and store them on the player itself. In addition, the company has been ramping up its exclusive material, presenting concerts and interviews with acts ranging from Boyz II Men to Courtney Love to Slipknot. The artist performances and interviews will be available on demand.

MAKE YOUR OWN STATION

Music Choice is also allowing users to create their own stations through a feature called My Music Choice (Airplay Monitor, March 21, 2003). "Right now Music Choice has 50 music channels, but you could mix classical, country and classic rock if you wanted," Doler says. "You pick the genres, then pick the subgenres that we give you a list of; you choose the mix of the channels, name it and store it. Then it's on your TV or computer, and you can combine up to four channels." Each of the four genres available has four to six subgenres.

Launched this past December in Moline, Ill., the service has been met enthusiastically in its first market. Del Beccaro says 58% of customers in Moline with digital cable have created their own custom channel, with 25% of those customers using it at least four times per week.

Music Choice has formed a nonexclusive deal with Napster that will permit listeners to purchase music. While one might wonder why someone listening to a song on a station they've helped program would want to purchase that song, Del Beccaro says that's not a factor.

"Right now, when you build a custom music channel, it's still a broadcast channel," he says. "You don't call up the individual songs. You would buy the track so that you could listen to a specific song at a specific time."

Furthermore, the stations have different degrees of repetition, mirroring the rotations heard on terrestrial radio.

"It depends on what you build," Del Beccaro says. "You're not picking songs, you're picking formats and subgenres. If you built a channel that combined modern rock and rock, then the repeat would be somewhat imperceptible and very similar to one of our own channels. If you build, for example, a power rock channel that has only one subgenre, you might start to hear repeats after six hours or so. On the other hand, if you build a top 40 channel, it's built so that you will hear repeats every three or four hours."

CROWDED PLAYING FIELD

Music Choice's entry into the broadband sector puts it on a crowded playing field. Other media competing for listeners' attention include satellite radio, other broadband services and terrestrial radio. While satcaster Sirius has signed a deal with EchoStar that will put its music channels on the Dish Network, neither Sirius nor XM has as much interactivity as Music Choice.

"XM and Sirius are similar in that they have a lot of channels, but they don't have anything approaching My Music Choice," Del Beccaro says. "They compete with part of our product. There are a number of broadband players like AOL for Broadband and Launch that compete on our broadband product but not on our TV product, and radio competes with us everywhere. They're all competitors."

"Generally, our product is considered superior to radio by most consumers," Del Beccaro adds. "The music is more particular, it's more narrowly defined, there's a lot more choice, it's higher quality and it's commercial-free." As would be expected, Music Choice isn't partnering with radio. The concerts that are available to cable and DirecTV affiliates, though, are sometimes promoted through those companies.

The iPod isn't among the competitive choices Del Beccaro singles out, however. "That's a very different experience," he says. "The iPod is a great way to listen to the music you own, but even people who collect a lot of music have to listen to a lot of broadcast music in order to hear new music. You don't intuitively come to understand what the new 20 songs you need are—you have to hear them."

"Now that we're up to 35 million homes in our television service, when you factor in the fact that roughly 60% of all the households we're in listen to us every week and the amount of listening they do, we're actually the most-listened-to source for music in the United States," he adds. "That comes out really clearly when you're dealing with new music. Not only do we play more new music because we have to play more music period, but virtually any new act is going to be given much more exposure and [will be] broken through us [more] than any other medium."

Some labels agree that Music Choice has been beneficial for artist development.

"It's a great vehicle to showcase your talent," Island Def Jam VP of urban promotions Thomas Lyle says. "Being able to view your favorite artists in concert at your leisure with 5.1 stereo sound is a great opportunity [for exposure]."

"Music Choice is ahead of the curve, and they have great foresight, implementing the technology with the product," adds Lyle, who includes Music Choice's New York headquarters on promotional runs by IDJ's artists. "When you look at the impact that Music Choice has on the market, it's definitely worth using to make people know that your product is available to purchase. And being able to purchase your product directly from Music Choice is an added bonus."

Jive senior director of rock formats Joanne Grand agrees that Music Choice has helped develop the label's artists.

"As radio, specifically Howard Stern, gives mention to other broadcast options like satellite radio, consumers are becoming aware of services like Music Choice," she says. "The public is definitely looking into these options. I've been seeing people that I know outside of the industry in their 30s and 40s that love Music Choice."

"It was one of the earliest supporters of Three Days Grace," Grand says. "A lot of people on e-mails and request lines have specifically said that they heard and saw them on Music Choice first."

Songs ranked by number of detections. (C) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrenents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. N Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks, across the U.S. and Canada. Numeral following symbol indicates multiple level of 100,000 detections.

The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders. ☆ indicates title earned HitPredictor status in research data provided by Promosquad.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks, across the U.S. and Canada. Numeral following symbol indicates multiple level of 100,000 detections.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. Nielsen BDS certification for airplay of 100,000 detections on all monitored stations, including satellite and national networks, across the U.S. and Canada. Numeral following symbol indicates multiple level of 100,000 detections.

IMPACT!

Songs posting gains in detections or with a percentage loss in detections equal to or better than the monitored downtime percentage in the format. Songs listed in order of detections. *Indicates station experienced between 24 and 56 hours of monitored downtime during the chart week.

Songs are blind tested online by Promosquad using multiple listeners and a nationwide sample of carefully profiled music consumers. Songs are rated on a 1-5 scale; final results are based on weighted positives. Songs with a score of 65 or more are judged to have top 10 callout potential, although that benchmark number can fluctuate based on the strength of available music. New Releases are songs that have been recently serviced to or impacted at their respective formats; Recently Tested Songs are the songs tested during the past month with the highest score. For a complete list of current songs with Top 10 Callout Potential, see HitPredictor.com. © 2003, Promosquad is a trademark of Think Fast LLC.

Spin Blast Lifts 'Somebody' To No. 1

With the most total detections the country chart has seen in a single week since mid-October 2003, Reba McEntire's "Somebody" (MCA Nashville) rises 3-1 after a lengthy 30-week trek to the summit.

A number of stations showed steep increases in spins for "Somebody" between midnight and 6:00 a.m. Widespread speculation in the country radio community suggests that label-sponsored, back-announced spin programs at more than one station chain drove the title's rise. A playback from Nielsen Broadcast Data Systems verifies that at least one of those stations—WVCN Columbus, Ga.—participated. There were 39 detections for "Somebody" at the station between midnight and 6:00 a.m., an increase of 19 detections in that daypart from one week ago.

Other stations with significant jumps in overnight detections include WNKT Charleston, S.C. (8-39); KUBL Salt Lake City (10-39); KDRK Spokane, Wash. (8-34); KATM Modesto, Calif. (8-33); KRST Albuquerque, N.M. (12-32); WKDF Nashville (11-33); KWJJ Portland, Ore. (12-32); and KIIM Tucson, Ariz. (9-30).

Universal senior VP of promotion and artist development Scott Borchetta is angry about the accusations making the rounds on Music Row. "We are absolutely being falsely accused of buying a No. 1 record," he says. "Don't you realize if you could buy a No. 1 record we would have a lot more of them? How dare anyone dispute the job that was done by this team."

"This is a legitimate, big hit record," he continues. "Did we identify some opportunities that are totally legal to maximize spins? Yes, we did. But that does not take away from how powerful this artist is and what a big hit record this is."

McEntire's 5,450 detections are the most spins in a one-week frame since Tim McGraw's "Real Good Man" was detected 5,898 times in the Oct. 3, 2003, issue. That was one week before our panel of monitored stations was trimmed from 147 to 129 stations because of a revision in our minimum current-music percentage policy. McEntire's single achieves this bulky total with spins at 121 monitored stations, eight fewer stations than it took McGraw's "Man" to accumulate 4,817 in the Oct. 10, 2003, chart based on the significantly smaller panel. Overall, the overnight airplay for "Somebody" accounted for 32% of its grand total, compared with 26% for the first-week stay at No. 1 for McGraw's "Live Like You Were Dying," which is now No. 2.

While McEntire sits atop the detections chart, McGraw's "Dying" enjoys a fourth week as the most-heard title with an audience tally of 39.9 million listener impressions. At No. 2, McEntire's single gains 4.8 million for a total of 37.1 million impressions.

"Somebody" vaults into the No. 1 box with an increase of 1,150 detections, the biggest increase on the country list for a No. 1 track since Darryl Worley's "Have You Forgotten?" gained 1,038 plays in the March 28, 2003, issue with airplay at 148 stations. McEntire's feat marks only the fourth time since the beginning of 1993 that any No. 1 title has gained more than 1,000 detections. The other three belong to Worley, Mark Wills' "19 Somethin'" in January 2003 and Alan Jackson's "Where Were You (When the World Stopped Turning)" in January 2002. Wills' single gained 1,224 spins, and Jackson's gain was 1,149 plays.

THOUSANDS OF REASONS TO CELEBRATE

"The Reason" by Hoobastank (IDJMG) sets the new one-week spin benchmark at adult top 40 with 4,043 detections as it spends its fourth week at No. 1. The title is only the second song in the history of the chart to bypass 4,000 detections. Maroon5's "This Love," which is now in the runner-up slot, posted 4,001 spins in the June 25 issue.

Meanwhile, JoJo's "Leave (Get Out)" holds at No. 1 on the mainstream top 40 chart with a record 2,197-spin lead on the No. 2 track, Christina Milian's "Dip It Low." Prior to this issue, the largest spin differential between the top two tracks on this chart occurred in the April 1, 2000, issue when 1,989 detections separated the No. 1 "Bye Bye Bye" by 'N Sync from runner-up "Maria Maria" by Santana Featuring the Product G&B.

BAKER BACK ON TOP

Anita Baker earns her first No. 1 on the adult R&B chart since 1995's "I Apologize" as "You Are My Everything" jumps 4-1 in its fifth week on the chart. The last track to speed up the chart as quickly was Erykah Badu's "Tyrone," which also took five weeks to reach the top in December 1997.

"You Are My Everything" has earned Greatest Gainer honors in each of its first five weeks on the chart. No song this decade has earned the Gainer honor for more than four consecutive weeks.
