Founded 1894

This special Billboard survey of recording studio equipment usage was compiled from questionnaires returned by 440 U.S. Studios from June through August 1978. Not necessarily reflecting the exact total situation in U.S. Studios, the calculations for most equipment categories are a weighted figure based on the number of studios using the equipment and the total number of items as reported to us.

The categories Disks—Blank, Audio Tape—Recording and Audio Tape—Duplicating are based on a percentage of brand responses against total category voting response. Since many studios voted for more than one brand per category, the percentages on these add up to more than 100%.

More Than Great Specs, Great Ideas.

For the past three years we've been telling you about the benefits of using graphic equalizers; now we've made it even easier to appreciate them. Introducing the MXR Dual Fifteen and Thirty-One Band Equalizers. Two equalizers designed with the imagination and understanding to solve your toughest equalization problems. Designed for use in either studios or sound reinforcement situations, our new eqs offer features not previously available at any price.

The Dual Fifteen Band Eq features two channels of equalization with the bands set two-thirds of an octave apart. By breaking the frequencies down further than conventional octave equalizers, you now have the flexibility to contour your music with much greater selectivity. As most musical information occurs in the midrange, this is where you need even more definition, and the Dual Fifteen Band Eq gives you six bands of contour in this area rather than the usual four. In addition, each channel has its own level control.

The Thirty-One Band Eq divides the frequency spectrum even further. A single channel unit, the Thirty-One Band features frequency bands set one-third of an octave apart, generally regarded to be the optimum amount of resolution.

When used in conjunction with any PA system, our equalizers can make a bad environment sound good, and a good performance sound great. Unlike parametric equalizers, the frequency response change is immediate and easily visible, so that when you shape a response curve you know what it's going to sound like.

Both units feature a range of -12 to $+12$ decibels on each band, standard 19" rack mount, and the rugged construction you always get with an MXF product. Both units also feature phone plug input/output connections, (the Thirty-One Band also features Cannon type XLRs), high slew rate (7V/microsecond), and incredibly low noise (better than -90 dBM). But not only do we offer great specifications, we produce great ideas... you wouldn't expect any less from us.

Think you've heard everything?

The world thought so, too. Then Thomas Edison invented a little thing called a phonograph.

Suddenly sounds could not only be produced. They could be reproduced. And for 100 years, we've been reproducing sounds just about the way Tom did when his music went round and round.

But not any more.

Sony has perfected a new kind of audio recording system for professional use. It's called PCM, which stands for Pulse Code Modulation. And it's part of the digital audio revolution—such a great improvement over conventional analog recording techniques, it's been called the best thing since night baseball.

It's here right now

We've taken those last important steps toward making digital audio a practical reality. And the 2-track PCM-1600 we're exhibiting at this fall's AES conference isn't just the most advanced professional digital equipment to come to the marketplace. It's an idea whose time has come.

The perfect master

Used as a Studio Master, the Sony PCM-1600 gives you true digital mastery of audio. Substantially better audio quality than is possible through even the best analog technology. It lets you record separate takes and assemble them. Make generation after generation of laquers with no sound degeneration. And distribute any number of digital masters to, say, foreign affiliates... giving France the same quality you gave England.

And you still haven't heard the best about the PCM-1600.

First, it uses a standard videotape recorder. The same kind of recorder already familiar to broadcasters across the nation. To edit, or to perform a digital-to-digital dub, you use a standard Sony video editing console—and do it all electronically.

Second, some very impressive numbers. Dynamic range greater than 90 dB. Harmonic distortion less than 0.05%. Wow and flutter so low it can't be measured. And absolutely no hint of hiss.

Third, we've solved the problem of dropouts. By introducing an error-correcting code technique originally developed for computers, we've given our PCM-1600 fail-safe signal reproduction. The kind computer applications take for granted.

And finally, Sony PCM equipment is ready to live up to the Sony name. It's rugged. Reliable. Designed to take anything professionals dish out. And once producers and artists hear the difference, conventional analog recording systems just don't sound good enough.

Now you've heard everything

Unless, of course, you haven't heard our PCM-1600 in action. In that case, we'll be glad to demonstrate... and even take your order now for fall and winter deliveries.

If you think you can wait, see our PCM exhibit at the 61st AES Convention, Waldorf Astoria, New York, November 3-6. Have a good look around.

Then have a good listen.

STATE OF THE ART, IN THE SUNSHINE STATE

Here's our formula:

Take one well designed control room and fill it with the most modern equipment on the market.

Then add one large (45'x23') studio complemented by a twenty-foot high ceiling with our custom "Pyramid Sound Diffusion System."

Combine these with the tropical climate of Florida, and you'll have the finest sound possible, recorded in the relaxed surroundings of South Florida.

Also available under the same roof is an affiliate company: Artisan Recorders, a plush, 24-track mobile recording unit. Together, we've serviced: Heart, Crosby, Stills & Nash, Linda Ronstadt, Neil Young, Bob Marley, The Outlaws, Betty Wright, Kenny Rankin, Melissa Manchester, Weather Report, The Commodores, Atlanta Rythm Section and many more.

You were so impressed by the RS-1500 you asked for a studio version. Introducing Technics RS-1520.

The RS-1520 has all the performance of the award-winning RS-1500 plus the features you need in a studio deck. Like bias and equalization filter adjustments for each channel to optimize tape format. A 1kHz/10kHz test-tone oscillator for accurate equipment checks. The precision of ASA standard VU meters with a ± 10 dB sensitivity selector. A Cue/Edit switch for quick, safe edits. And balanced, low-impedance, XLR-type output connectors to match other widely used broadcast and studio equipment.

To match the performance of its predecessor, the RS-1520 features the "Isolated Loop" tape transport with a quartz-locked, phase-controlled, direct-drive capstan. By minimizing tape tension, it virtually eliminates all signal dropout. While reducing modulation noise and wow and flutter to a point where they are barely measurable by conventional laboratory equipment.

Electrically too, Technics RS-1520 provides professional control. A separate microphone amplifier.

Record amplifier. Mixing amplifier. An IEC standard playback equalization selector. While IC full logic function permits absolute freedom in switching modes.

Compare studio features. Compare specifications. TRACK SYSTEM: 2-track, 2-channel recording, playback and erase. 4-track, 2-channel playback. FREQ. RESP.: 30-30,000Hz, ± 3 dB (-10 dB rec. ext.) at 15ips. WOW & FLUTTER: 0.018% WRMS at 15ips. S/N RATIO: 60dB (NAB weighted) at 15ips. SEPARATION: 50dB. RISE TIME: 0.7 secs. SPEED DEVIATION: $\pm 0.1\%$ with 1.0 or 1.5 mil tape at 15ips. SPEED FLUCTUATION: 0.05% with 1.0 or 1.5 mil tape at 15ips. PITCH CONTROL: $\pm 6\%$.

Technics RS-1520. A rare combination of audio technology. A new standard of audio excellence.

EVERYBODY'S GETTING BEHIND BGW Even Crown and Yamaha

	POWER* @ 8 OHMS	HEATSINKS/COOLING SYSTEM: TOTAL # OF OUTPUT TRANSISTORS	SPEAKER PROTECTION:	MAINS (AC) PROTECTION:	CONSTRUCTION DESIGN:	TURN-ON DELAY:	CIRCUITRY:	T.I.M.	PRICE	YEAR INTRODUCED

CROWN DC300A	155 Watts/ch.	NO FTC RATING 16	Passive airflow only	None provided	Rear panel fuse only	Hard-wired, non-modular	None	Quasi- complimentary	$ 919	1974
YAMAHA P2200	200 Watts/ch.	NO FTC RATING 12	Passive airflow only	None provided	Rear panel fuse only	Hard-wired, non-modular	None	Full complimentary	$1095	1976

Here they are — The big guns of professional amplification: The respected Crown DC300A, The cosmetically impressive Yamaha P2200, And BGW's new, no-nonsense 750B/C.

Top-of-the-line professional power amplifiers from the industry's most respected manufacturers. All boasting impressive reputations. All costing about $1,000.

The table reveals the specifications.* You decide which one is best.

THE RELIABILITY FACTOR

Above all else, professional musicians and audio engineers want to know two things about their power amplifiers: How dependably they function under extreme conditions, and how well they interface with other components.

BGW's new 750 Series amplifiers have taken the lead in both areas. Twenty (20) output transistors as opposed to Crown's 16 and Yamaha's 12 provide a Safe Operating Area unmatched by either the DC300A or the P2200. While both Crown and Yamaha rely on passive "convection" cooling, the extensive heat sinks on BGW's pro amps are cooled by forced air for reliable, continuous performance even on the hottest outdoor concert stages. Unique new arc-interrupting circuitry protects speakers — not just the amplifiers themselves — from catastrophic DC offset.

Like all BGW amplifiers, the 750B and C feature modular construction and front-panel circuit-breakers rather than hard wiring and cumbersome rear-panel fuses. The result: Maintenance is easier both onstage and in the studio — when time and tempers can be very short.

CLARITY AND PRESENCE

Now that audible Harmonic and Intermodulation Distortion have been all but eliminated from professional power amplifiers, Transient Intermodulation Distortion (TIM) has become important. Neither Crown nor Yamaha specifies TIM levels whereas TIM specs for BGW's 750's Series are published with the greatest of pride. The 750B and C consequently produce clearer, warmer, and more open sound.

Pros will also appreciate another BGW exclusive: A delay circuit that eliminates all transient "thumps" when the 750B and C are activated. Neither Crown nor Yamaha has anything like it.

POWER

This is where BGW really leaves the competition behind. While the Crown DC300A and the Yamaha P2200 are rated at 155 and 200 watts, respectively, BGW's 750B/C delivers a full 225 watts per channel into 8 ohms, leaving the competition behind entirely at 4 ohms, with a whopping 360 watts. Only BGW has FTC rated 4 ohm power specifications.

Both the DC300A and the P2200 are good power amplifiers by conventional standards. But real recording pros don't deal with convention.

They get behind BGW.
Because the competition already is.

*Based on manufacturers' published specifications and prices available 7/1/78.

BGW 750B/C FTC Specification: 225 watts minimum sine wave continuous average power output per channel with both channels driving 8 ohm loads over a power band from 20Hz to 20kHz. The maximum Total Harmonic Distortion at any power level from 250 milliwatts to 225 watts shall be no more than 0.1%.

If you want the condenser microphone sound on stage, Electro-Voice gives you that option.

The PL76 and PL77 condenser cardioid microphones are fast becoming the number one choices of vocalists who want to make the "studio-condenser" sound a part of their act. Both mikes give you condenser performance in a package that competes with dynamic microphone durability. Their gutsy, bass-boosting proximity effect adds presence to any voice. The PL76 is powered by a 4.5 volt battery. The PL77 is similar except that it is also phantom powerable. The "77's" output is 4 dB down from the "76's" to allow for more flexibility at the mixing board, and it has a recessed on/off switch that many sound men prefer.

For those desiring the more traditional dynamic sound, the PL91 and PL95 fit the bill perfectly. The PL91, with its mild bass-boost and clear highs is a joy to work with. The PL95 the "pro's choice" in a dynamic cardioid, offers the best gain-before-feedback of any dynamic mike in the business – a test we invite you to make.

Electro-Voice also offers our superb instrument microphones. The PL5 dynamic omni is the mike to use when high sound pressure levels are encountered, as you would find when miking bass drums or amplified guitars, basses or synthesizers.

The PL11, with its patented Variable-D construction gives you cardioid (directional) performance without up-close bass boost – perfect for miking brass, reeds, percussion or piano. The PL11, even though it's a directional mike, maintains its response curve off axis. "Leaked" sound from off-axis instruments are faithfully reproduced – not colored in any way.

E-V's PL9 dynamic omni has one of the flattest frequency response curves in the business – from 40 to 18,000 Hz. And its small size lets you mike instruments you couldn't get near with other mikes offering this performance.

All E-V Fro-Line microphones come with super-tough Memraflex grille screens that resist denting. Designed to keep your mikes looking like new for a long time. All have a non-reflecting gray finish that won't compete for attention under bright stage lights.

When the time comes to update your current mike setup, we invite you to A-B Electro-Voice Pro-Line mikes against any others, for any application. If you try them, you'll want them in your act.

Our microphones are more often heard than seen.

We really don't have to broadcast the virtues of our equipment. Especially if you've ever broadcast on our equipment.

In fact, go into almost any professional facility and it'll be easy to spot Sony. With one exception:

Our miniature omni-directional electret condenser mike. The ECM-502S is so small, you'd never expect such big performance. Yet this tie-tac microphone offers a wide frequency response, with full coverage from any direction.

On your visit you'll also come across the Sony C-37P. This is a professional condenser mike that at home on stage or in studios. This versatility is enhanced by a selector switch that lets you go from omni to uni-directional. And thanks to FET circuitry the 37P boasts a remarkably wide dynamic range, allowing sound pressures of up to 154 dB.

With the ECM-56F, Sony moves in the direction of a uni-directional condenser microphone. Offering Sony's exclusive Back Electret design, this unit combines a wide frequency response, with uncanny smoothness.

The Back Electret also sets the ECM-53FP ahead. The microphone: a flexible Cardioid for desk or podium.

The Sony C-74 microphone (not pictured), is a gun-type. You'll often see it at news conferences where loaded questions are asked. This uni-directional condenser microphone is acknowledged as the standard in its category.

It's no stranger to theatres, sound stages, large halls and television studios. When you can't get proximity, make sure you're not at a distance from Sony.

Sony's line of microphones is as complete as you'll find anywhere.

But it also has Sony's disciplined quality and on-going perfectionism. Which you won't find anywhere.

The 90-16.
$1000⁰⁰ per track.

Now you can make money while you save money.

Let's face it. What you really want to do is sell your album. And the new affordable TASCAM Series 90-16 can help do just that. But at the same time, you can pick up cash to help you pay for it by recording other musicians' songs for them.

And here's how you save. You don't pay studio time. You don't pay for 2" equipment. And you don't pay the heavy hit of "outboard" DBX which usually cost about $300 per channel. Our suggested retail price of just $16,000* includes integral DBX interface.

If you're an engineer, the 90-16 Function

Select panel will make a lot of sense to you. One button operation simultaneously switches three interrelated functions: tape/source, playback/record, and DBX decode/encode thus eliminating the need for three arms. If you're a musician, this human engineering factor means you won't have to wait for the engineer and lose the spontaneity of your music in the process.

All of which means that if you need 16 tracks, you only have one choice: the new TASCAM Series 90-16. You'll find it exclusively at these TASCAM dealers.

A JBL MONITOR KNOWS ITS PLACE.

A studio monitor is only a tool. It is not supposed to enhance, add to, subtract from, or in any way modify sound.

That's your job.

What a studio monitor is supposed to do is tell you precisely what's on tape. Because you have to know everything that's there. And everything that isn't. Before it's too late.

That's why JBL monitors are in thousands of recording and broadcast studios around the world. In fact, according to a national survey by Billboard Magazine, JBL's are in more recording studios than any other brand.

A JBL monitor plays what it's told. Nothing more. Nothing less. If that sounds good to you, contact your nearest JBL Professional Products Studio Equipment Supplier.

And put a JBL monitor in your place.

The 4301: Our newest 2-way monitor. Compact and efficient, for small broadcast control rooms and home studios.

The 4311: The most popular monitor going. A compact, full-range 3-way.

The 4315: An ultra-shallow 4-way, for maximum sound in minimum space.

JBL studio monitors come in three other models, too. All fully compatible for accurate cross referencing.

GET IT ALL.

fact: you can choose your microphone to enhance your productions.

Shure makes microphones for every imaginable use. Like musical instruments, each different type of Shure microphone has a distinctive "sound," or physical characteristic that optimizes it for particular applications, voices, or effects. Take, for example, the Shure SM58 and SM59 microphones:

SM59

silent...

The SM59 is a relatively new, dynamic cardioid microphone. Yet it is already widely accepted as a standard for distinguished studio productions. In fact, you'll often see it on TV . . . especially on musical shows where perfection of sound quality is a major consideration. This revolutionary cardioid microphone has an exceptionally flat frequency response and neutral sound that reproduces exactly what it hears. It's designed to give good bass response when miking at a distance. Remarkably rugged — it's built to shrug off rough handling. And, it is superb in rejecting mechanical stand noise such as floor and desk vibrations because of a unique, patented built-in shock mount. It also features a special hum-bucking coil for superior noise reduction!

Some like it essentially flat...

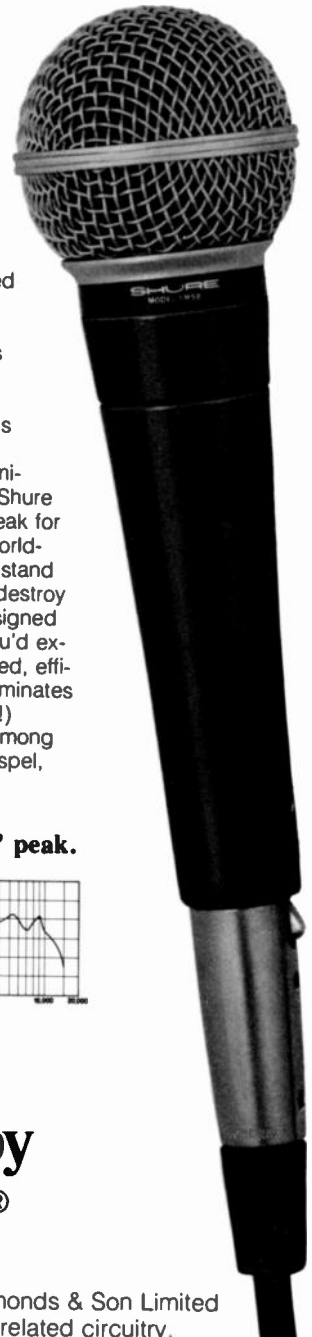

SM58

Crisp, bright
"abuse proof"

Probably the most widely used on-stage, hand-held cardioid dynamic microphone. The SM58 dynamic microphone is preferred for its punch in live vocal applications . . . especially where close-up miking is important. It is THE world-standard professional stage microphone with the distinctive Shure upper mid-range presence peak for an intelligible, lively sound. World-renowned for its ability to withstand the kind of abuse that would destroy many other microphones. Designed to minimize the boominess you'd expect from close miking. Rugged, efficient spherical windscreens eliminates pops. Lightweight (15 ounces!) hand-sized. The first choice among rock, pop, R & B, country, gospel, and jazz vocalists.

...some like a "presence" peak.

HUSH MONEY.

The dbx 208 tape noise reduction system is a new product that will impress both your engineering staff and your accountant. The 208 features 8 channels of simultaneous noise reduction on plug-in modules, plus a spare, all in a compact 5¼" rack mount package.

dbx noise reduction is rapidly becoming the new industry standard because it provides 30 dB noise reduction and 10 dB headroom improvement, from 20 Hz to 20 kHz, without the problems of other systems. The dbx system does not require critical and time-consuming level-match adjustments. Its true RMS detectors are not sensitive to tape recorder phase shift. Its voltage-controlled amplifiers (VCAs) operate over a 100 dB range. Overall the dbx system provides a level of performance and a simplicity of operation that is unsurpassed.

But the 208 is also a great value. It is priced at $3300. That's $6600 for your 15-track and $9900 for your 24-track.* And no matter how complex the future becomes, the 208 system expands simply and economically.

The dbx 208. The easy solution to your noise problems, today and in the future.

Meet the AKG "C-450 Microphone System"

At our place, there is an interesting credo... "When perfection is attained, improve upon it."

Eight years ago, AKG introduced the first modular concept in professional microphone design. It was then, and is now the only true condenser modular system to provide for a myriad of applications through interchangeable components...much the same as cameras with quality interchangeable optics. Since the inception of the system, each component has been continuously upgraded and refined to the ultimate in technical perfection...while new ones have been added to form the broadest in-depth product range suitable for any known application.

Matching the widest possible scope of end-use, the C-450 Condenser System presently offers: four cardioid capsules, four different omni capsules, one figure-eight capsule, two shotgun capsules, five preamplifiers and seven powering options. Added to this is an assortment of swivels, pads, extension tubes, shock mounts and windscreens. These quick-change "screw-on" components provide an almost limitless variety of combinations to extend the flexibility and capabilities of the microphone as changing uses in audio applications require.

Returning to our credo...we are constantly searching, and as applications requirements, materials and techniques are discovered to further improve upon the system components, they will first be found bearing the trademark AKG.

The Mark of Professional Quality... in microphones, headphones, phonocartridges, reverb units.

"OUR GAUSS EQUIPMENT IS BETTER TODAY THAN THE DAY WE BOUGHT IT."

George R. Jones, Vice President
MCA Records Inc

"Thirty years in the recording business is a little like thirty one-year experiences. That's how fast this business changes. And with the requirements of quality in our product, the quality of the consumer's equipment and the technology of our industry, we've continually upgraded our Gauss high speed tape duplicating equipment. We don't exchange the system, we improve the existing system. And Gauss is there to help us. That's important to us. Ten years from today, we'll probably still be using our same Gauss equipment. With modifications."

At Cetec Audio/Gauss, we think we ought to grow with you. Just as we've grown with MCA. That means we offer you our equipment in modules. Not just master, tape bins, and slaves; but, electronic and reproduction modules. That means you can upgrade your equipment as we upgrade the technology. You remain state-of-the-art because we're state-of-the-art.

But don't take our word for it. Ask anyone who owns Gauss equipment why they own Gauss equipment... instead of something else. The answer will probably be that they can't afford to own anything cheaper. Because Gauss delivers.

Where do we go from here? Straight ahead. With better sound reproduction, even greater reliability and state-of-the-art technology. Modularly. Which means you can plan to own your Gauss high speed tape duplicating system for a long, long time. Ask anyone who owns Gauss equipment.

Write for our Tech Sheet. 32:1 or 64:1. Gauss is a better system.

“For years I was hanging around studios and concert halls, I knew what I heard was not as good as it could be.

Then I came across this little honey, the Aphex Aural Exciter. It made the music come alive.

Now I can hear clearly the bowing of a violin, the fullness of a piano, the lyrics and phrasing of vocals, and the crispness of cymbals.

If quality sound is what you want, then the Aural Exciter is what you've been waiting for.”

We offer you Aural Excitement worldwide

The DIGITAL DELAY LINE That Doesn't Sound "DIGITAL"

DeltaLab DIGITAL DELAY -- No compromise, sound quality at a surprisingly modest price.

When we introduced the DeltaLab DL-1 DIGITAL DELAY a few months ago we said that its sonic performance would be as good as the most expensive digital delays, at the price of many lesser units.

But recording studio engineers across the country who have installed and used the DL-1 tell us that it actually sounds better than some of the far more costly units it has replaced!

The DeltaLab DL-1's sonic accuracy and freedom from coloration come as a welcome surprise to engineers who have grown accustomed to accepting sonic compromises -- gritty quantizing noise, frequency-response aberrations, a characteristically "digitized" sound quality -- in order to get the benefits of the delay.

The DL-1 offers:

- Three outputs with independently selectable delays.
- Input and output levels adjustable from 0 to +24dBm (balanced).
- Internal front-panel control by-pass to prevent unauthorized tampering.
- Dynamic range 90dB or better.
- Delay lengths from 5 to 160 milliseconds.
- Frequency response 20-15kHz At All Delay Lengths.
- Suggested retail price: $1200.

The DL-1 has many applications -- unobtrusive speech amplification in church, theater or hall; concert sound reinforcement; dynamic disco installations; and many delay, echo and special effects in the recording or broadcast studio.

Only the finest ingredients go into our pancakes.

It goes practically without saying that the company responsible for the leading reference in cassette tapes should offer the finest available pancake product for cassette dupes. And with TDK 1/8" bulk tape for high speed duplication and industrial A/V use, you get the same high performance tape found in our Dynamic cassette, with its low noise and high output characteristics, plus broad dynamic range and low distortion.

You can also have it ready-loaded into our "Y" series bulk duplicator cassettes, for lifetime warranted jam-proof, dropout-free performance. We're equally particular about our audio/visual, data, endless and leaderless dictation cassettes, as well.

Along with superior performance, TDK 1/4" pancakes offer the added advantage of two separate series: "L," similar to our superb Audia open reel product, and "S," for general purpose applications. Both are supplied on 3600-foot 10 1/2"

NAB bulk hubs. Or, you can buy them on 1200, 1800 and 3600-foot reels.

All TDK products are made with only the finest ingredients, so you can taste their good performance in any industrial and professional application.

So, if you want high quality and reliability in all your professional applications, go TDK all the way. Let us show you how TDK professional products can upgrade the quality of your products—and save you time, too. For further information, write us or call (516) 746-0880.

Some things to think about, if you're thinking about recording your next album someplace new:

1. Bayshore Recording is open to the public. It is not the private, exclusive domain of Bill Szymczyk and Allan Blazek. (Much as we love 'em.)

2. Some of the people who have recorded here recently: Dickey Betts, Elvin Bishop, Jimmy Buffett, Dion, The Eagles, Jay Ferguson, The Outlaws, Mickey Thomas and Joe Walsh. (Which proves that people come to Miami for more than just sun and clean air.)

3. Having recently completed our first year of operation, we're pleased to say that Bayshore Recording now has a fully-automated MCI JH 532 with all available extras.

4. Because we have only one recording studio, you literally "own" the place while you're here. (That goes for the rec room, pool and sundeck, too.)

5. If you know south Florida, we hardly need to tell you about Coconut Grove... peaceful, full of old world charm, unhurried, resistant to change, relaxed and really the way Florida used to be. Our location in the Grove is within walking distance of the Hotel Mutiny, Coconut Grove Hotel, any number of restaurants and clubs, a fabulous marina across the street, even a Vi'a Course (in case you're into that sort of thing).

If you want to know more, call us or come on down.

There's no place like home.

That's why top CBS artists like Bob Dylan, Bruce Springsteen, The Isley Brothers, Johnny Paycheck, Ted Nugent, Bob James, Tammy Wynette, Kenny Loggins, Marty Robbins, Freddie Hubbard, Engelbert, Billy Cobham, George Jones, The Manhattans, Johnny Duncan and Dexter Gordon have worked at Columbia Recording Studios over the past few months.

In fact, our "who's who" list extends way beyond our own CBS family circle, to include Beverly Sills, Neil Young, Ashford & Simpson, Donna Fargo, Tony Orlando, Sonny James, Bill Evans, The Stylistics, The Statler Brothers, Leontyne Price, Margot Smith, Peter, Paul and Mary, Buck Owens and many others. These are artists, like our own, whose standards are as exacting in choosing a studio as they are in the making of music.

We take great pride in our reputation as one of the finest recording complexes in the world. At the same time, we're constantly seeking to improve and expand every facet of our operation — from advanced technical innovation and research to establishing the most comfortable creative atmosphere available anywhere.

Because if we help artists make themselves at home, we've helped artists make themselves a hit. And as long as they keep making hits, we're doing our job.

Everything you'd expect in a Great American Studio is now in Memphis. And it costs you less.

Compare studios and you'll find that Ardent in Memphis has about everything you could ask for—like 24-track machines, automated mixing, disc mastering, and three completely equipped studios.

Best of all, our prices are generally lower than comparable outfits in the major recording centers.

When you cut at Ardent you can concentrate on the sound without worrying about how much money you're spending.

And down here we know sound. Memphis has been shaking the world with its music for years. We're still doing it every day (and night) at Ardent.

For complete rates and information, call Joe Hardy at 901-725-0855. We'll treat you right.
