FEATURES

EELS

Souljacker (DreamWorks)

Eels driving force Mark Everett (a.k.a. "E") began his music career with two solo albums that displayed his ability to craft detailed pop. But even with their sharp hooks, the records didn't catch much more than a few favorable reviews. E really started to hit his stride with the 1998 album Electro-Shock Blues, where he began carving songs that resonated both musically and emotionally. On Souljacker, the fourth Eels release, E shows his fondness for mutating several styles at once, as on "That's Not Really Funny," which is part caustic blues, part cabaret song and a dash of chaos provided by the overdriven vocals. With its chugging bass line and fierce guitar riff, there's something equally unsettling at work in the title track as well. It'd be fitting as a centerpiece for a David Lynch film just before normalcy gets up-ended and things go down a surreal, strobe-lit path to psychosis. Even the quieter songs hold your attention here, like "Fresh Feeling," a Sting-kissed tune that stands out with its sweetness and sincerity. Helping E in his quest to take pop darker and deeper is producer/guitarist John Parish, who has lent his talented hand to albums by PJ Harvey and Sparklehorse.

N.E.R.D.

In Search Of... (Virgin)

Despite the numerous delays of N.E.R.D.'s In Search Of..., one would be hard pressed to find a person who hasn't heard at least one of the 12 tracks on the album ("Lapdance" and "Brain" have been out for months). And with the Neptunes (Pharrell Williams and Chad Hugo, two thirds of the N.E.R.D. crew) becoming the "it" producers of today's pop and hip-hop, the sound of this album will come as no surprise — and that's a great thing. From the darker vibe of harder-edged, guitar-laden tracks like "Rock Star" to the more wholesome, mellow positivity of "Things Are Getting Better," In Search Of... embodies an unbridled passion for music and for the aesthetics of pure sound. "Provider" is a good example of the band's versatility and eagerness to experiment with a wide array of sounds, styles and genres (psychedelica, lonesome Texas guitar, and a dash of samba). These guys aren't afraid of anything, and it shows. There's a bit of musical irony here, when happy, elementary grooves are undercut by a dirty, almost invasive, guitar licks (and that bass!), sometimes within the same song. These guys are pushing the envelope here, folks. Don't miss the boat. — Lisa Hageman

Skyscraper National Park (Badman)

After a three-year absence from the music circuit, Toronto's most unlikely troubadour has re-emerged with a stunning disc that makes the wait worthwhile. Finally being released in the U.S. (the Canadian version popped up late last year), Skyscraper National Park is 11 tracks of hope, heartbreak and melancholic macabre that find the songwriter presenting some of the best work of his career. The low-octave growls that characterized his early work have given way to a Neil Young-influenced falsetto, but the subject matter — this time concerning escapist road trips, the singer's fictional murder and even a soothing lullaby is still pure Hayden. From anxious instrumental "Tea Pad" to rocked-out and uniquely addictive "Dynamite Walls," the singer and his revolving cast of musician friends create a number of melodically gorgeous tracks that only seem to get better with each listen. The rest of the disc focuses on Hayden alone with his acoustic guitar, and as he's proven before, the stripped-down setting allows for his stunning vocals to take precedence and enrapture listeners. Skyscraper National Park is a powerful record, and the fact that it marks a glowing return for such an underrated musician only makes the package that much more rewarding. — Peter D'Angelo

AND YOU WILL KNOW US BY THE TRAIL OF DEAD

Source Tags And Codes (Interscope)

Graduation: sooner or later we all have to bear this rite of passage. For And You Will Know Us By The Trail Of Dead, graduating comes by way of leaping into the major leagues. While inn the minors at Merge, Trail Of Dead's raucous live reputation precipitated a major-label bidding war practically overnight. Expectations are high this time out, and the group wastes no time squashing potential skeptics by assaulting one's senses with a sonic pile-driver of an opening track, "It Was There That I Saw You." But Source Tags And Codes isn't just one relentless skirmish of thundering drums and exasperated guitars; the group strives to show depth and development via moody passages and arty orchestral detours. The nearest semblance of a hit is the reprise of "Relative Ways," but who said Trail Of Dead was ever in the business of creating songs for TRL? The quartet leaves the chart-jockeying to its label, and what the group may lack in purely catchy tunes it makes up for in primal ferocity. Source Tags And Codes might not be the A+ thesis the execs would like, but its sheer force certainly shows the potential to succeed in the big leagues. — Rodrigo Perez

INDUSTRY NEWS

Look for the U.S. Supreme Court to intervene in the Internet/digital library copyright dispute with writers and inventors regarding books, songs and movies available for free on the web. Those challenging the copyright issue want the justices to protect those materials, as they believe they fall into the category of public domain. The high court will be looking at whether or not Congress went too far in 1998 when it enacted the Sonny Bono Copyright Term Extension Act, which, in essence, brought the U.S. rules in line with those of the European Union. Stay tuned! • In other Washington, D.C. news, a federal court on Feb. 19 threw out the FCC regulation that prevents broadcast and cable companies from owning each other and sent back to the commission for reworking the regulation that limits the number of TV stations one company can own. "We conclude that the commission's decision to retain the rules was arbitrary and capricious and contrary to law," wrote the three-judge panel. "We remand the national televisionstation ownership rule to the commission for further consideration, and we vacate the cable/broadcast cross-ownership rule because we think it unlikely the commission will be able on remand to justify retaining it." Obviously, this is a major development for the major networks that have been lobbying for a change in the ownership rules. However, the smaller operators are quite concerned that the bigger networks will severely limit their ability to be competitive in most markets around the country. • Meanwhile, back to the copyright-protected arena for a moment, online music subscription services pressplay and MusicNet are coming under the microscope by artists and their managers, who believe those services aren't handing out a fair percentage of royalties. Currently, pressplay and MusicNet license the music from the major labels, but they do not pay a licensing fee to the artists. Instead, the artists are compensated a standard royalty for each song accessed by a customer of the respective services. According to a recent article in the New York Times, the artists are getting less than 15 percent in royalties as a result of people using the online downloading services. That leaves quite a bit left over for both the labels and the services divide up.

The biggest problem that artists and their managers are having with pressplay and MusicNet right now is that they claim neither service contacted them about licensing their music. Several artists and managers have even gone so far as to serve cease-and-desist orders on the services, demanding that their music be removed from the download sites. • The Recording Academy and America Online have agreed to a multi-year deal whereby AOL Music will be hosting the Grammy Awards' online events via Grammy.com and AOL keyword "Grammy." For the public, with AOL High-Speed

> Broadband service. that means thev'll be able to use Internet to get a look at pre-Grammy parties, plus webcam coverage of events such as the three days of rehearsals leading up to the show, red carpet arrivals and interviews, behind-the-scenes footage and more. • So, what did Nation of Islam leader Louis Farrakhan say in his recent keynote speech at the Hip-Hop Action Network's West Coast summit? Nothing you would be surprised about, but he focused on hip-hop artists becoming teachers of today's youth, saying, "All the children, they can't read 'Dick and Jane,' but can last few years as an unauthorized bootleg, will be officially released on March 19. • Remember the Breeders? Well, the band is ready to release the follow-up to their 1993's Last Splash, which featured the hit "Cannonball." Look for Title TK to be released on Elektra-4AD May 21. The band, out of the limelight since 1994, now consists of original members Kim and Kelley Deal, plus newcomers Jose Medeles, Richard Presley and Mando Lopez.

ALL HANDS ON DECK ... Story By Lisa Hageman Photo By Bob Green

In the wake of a group member's departure and a music industry in shambles, the X-Ecutioners are united by one thing: love of what they do. With Built From Scratch, the group's Loud debut, the (now) trio is bringing the art of turntablism to the masses, from fans of Linkin Park to new hip-hop heads.

he X-Ecutioners are on a mission, despite the current unstable climate in the hip-hop world — recently, several labels have closed and rumor has it that Loud isn't too far behind — and the loss of one of the group's members mere weeks before the album's release. Mista Sinista has left the group to pursue a solo and acting career, but the remaining three are as strong as ever, bringing their art form of turntablism to the masses with Built From Scratch, turning on any and everyone who will listen. Folks, turntables ain't just for hip-hop anymore.

Answering questions about Sinista's departure, Rob Swift, Roc Raida and Total Eclipse say they are up for the challenge they face to fill the void, both in the studio and onstage. "It just came to a point where creatively and personally we were here and Sinister was there," Swift explains. "That's not to judge or criticize; we were just on different pages. And knowing that we had an album about to come out, knowing that we all needed to be on the same page and be focused to meet the challenges of performing and talking to people and introducing the album to the world, we just felt that we needed to do that in a healthy way — and if that meant maybe parting ways, then that's just what we're gonna have to do. But as far as the future's concerned, we're leaving that open."

For a less determined and focused group, the loss of a member moments before an album launch would throw everything into doubt. The X-Ecutioners, however, are determined to view Sinister's departure as a mere bump in the road, as seeing the glass as half-full. "Because he's not around, we're pushing ourselves that much more to execute and be the best DJs that we can be," Swift notes. "I know that since his departure, when we get together and we practice, I try my best to have more input, I try my best to come up with more ideas and push myself to help the group express what we're trying to express on the turntables because you don't have that extra person to bounce ideas off of. It's like when you have adversity, how does that affect you? ... We're letting it make us more powerful."

Ironically enough, the X-Ecutioners' time has come, in part due to a refocusing on the DJ, in both hip-hop and dance music. "Moby and Fatboy Slim, they just did records where they sampled or did scratches, and that's kind of the hook of the record," says Raida. "Whereas before, the hook of the record was the MC saying something. It took these guys to do this type of music that was catchy to people without lyrics, and that's what we're doing. We're taking lyrics that other people made and we're scratching them in."

Hip-hop, conversely, gave the spotlight to the guy with the mic while the DJ took a backseat. "The focus on the DJ should've never went away in the first place," Swift muses. "It did once hip-hop became such a profitable art form and people began focusing on the guy rapping, the guy holding the mic. A lot of people that signed rap groups, their focus was the guy rapping and [they] forgot that there were elements of the music that were just as important, like the DJ, like breakdancing. As DJs, we're trying our part to bring the focus back."

With this in mind, the group set itself on a higher goal: to bring the work of the turntablist to the masses. Built From Scratch features guest appearances from not only hip-hop legends like DJ Premier but rock acts like Linkin Park. "We try to make records that reflect our record collection," Swift explains. "We try to make music that reflects our musical taste. I want Built From Scratch or anything that we do to be heard by the most amount of people as possible, so if we crossover, that's a good thing. If we sell a million records, that's a good thing. The important thing for us is that we don't change who we are." The guys even went on tour with Linkin Park earlier this year and found themselves facing an audience they had never encountered before.

"We had to change our show on the road," notes Raida. "We're used to doing places where everybody knows about us and it's hip-hop — and the Linkin Park crowd was the total opposite. They'd never seen us, they'd never heard of us, they weren't really into hip-hop. It's three guys on stage cutting hip-hop non-stop, scratching for 13 minutes straight. They weren't trying to hear that. Some nights, I didn't even want to go on stage."

Still, they figured out a way to reach the young, tattooed rock masses. "We figured out ways of starting the show out using elements of hip-hop that would probably cater to the crowd better," says Swift. "Like maybe using something with guitars on it, guitar-sounding stuff so they can at least identify with that sound. And then, in the middle of the record, slip in a hip-hop song and do things subliminally here and there. By the fourth [or] fifth show, we started noticing a change. It wasn't as silent in the crowd, and people actually enjoyed themselves and made noise for us. And we were happy and we were OK. It made us stronger because that tour made us understand that it's not enough for the people on stage performing to know what time it is with turntables; the crowd has to know too. Whether you're performing in front of kids that are into Linkin Park or kids that are into Mobb Deep, we have to know how to adapt. Because if we're tying to reach the world, then we have to be able to adapt to different cultures, different people, people that listen to different music. So I think we're ready with what's to come with this album."

Asked if they're concerned about the future of the mid-level hip-hop label, and in particular, Loud, all three admit some trepidation but insist that regardless of their label status, they're committed to the music. "All we can do is just go with the wave," says Eclipse. "It's individually up to us to promote our talents and get it out there and just ride the wave. Wherever the wave may take us, we'll persevere."

Quirky guitar ballads, misty vocals, sampling oddities and syncopated drum loops lay at the essence of the debut fulllength release from +/-. Modest and pensive, the band's mastermind, James Baluyut (guitarist/singer for NYC indie darlings Versus), creates an album of moody acoustic-based synth-pop that marries the mopey guitar stylings of Elliott Smith with stuttered drumbeats, odd time signatures and all the bleeps and dings that a sampler can muster. Never has melancholy been portrayed with such slick production and fresh charisma. Those acquainted with Versus' Drawn And Quartered EP will remember Baluyut's first solo recording, and thus the birth of +/-. Baluyut includes beautifully heartfelt and earnest lullabies like "The Separation Of Church And State" that will tug on your heartstrings ("Don't write me off just yet/ I still could be everything that you said") and the dreamy "Yo Yo Yo (Please Don't Fall In Love)." Every note on this album is a learning experience, and truly, learning has never been so enjoyable.

ANYONE

Anyone (Roadrunner) Early in Anyone's career, before record labels came banging at the band's door like a bunch of over-caffeinated Amway reps, the group was renowned in its home base of Orange County for hosting acid parties in warehouses. "In those days we would get a warehouse and decorate it like an opium den and get some strippers and as much eye candy as possible... it was a strange scene," vocalist/guitarist Riz Story recalls. Yeah, sounds like Fridays at CMJ. The sound that this threepiece creates, self-described as "maximum acid" (are you sensing a trend here?), makes "Lucy In The Sky With Diamonds" sound as if it truly was about some picture Julian Lennon drew. As one could probably surmise by now, Anyone's debut is filled to its druginduced brim with purely psychedelic alt-rock à la Jane's Addiction that was produced by Story (who also directed a porno flick among many other film projects) with Rick Parashar (Pearl Jam, Nickelback) and mixed by

Mudrock (Godsmack, Powerman 2000). For airplay consideration, check out "Whole World's Insane," "Don't Wake Me," "Giving Thrills," "Real," "Fly" and "Running Dry." — Kevin Boyce

Static Delusions and Stone-Still Days

(Sub Pop)

Three years have passed since the Catheters' self-titled 1999 debut, but don't fear that the Seattle-based band has grownup and lost its forceful punk sound. The guys have learned control without diminishing their searing energy, and the result is the feverishly brilliant Static Delusions and Stone-Still Days--a 34-minute romp that's not to be missed. The Catheters draw many comparisons to The Stooges and the MC5, and many may simply ascribe their wild fury to youthful angst. But writing them off as derivative young punks diminishes the fact that Seattle hasn't birthed this kind of tunefully noisy rock since Mudhoney or maybe even Green River. With tracks like "I Fall Easy," "3000 Ways" and "Nothing," there is a hint of melody (and dare we say polish?) underneath the band's speedy roar and Brian Standeford's nihilistic, straight-from-the-garage vocals. In your face, but not quite giving you the finger, The Catheters will easily draw you into their trashy melodic rage.

MAROONS

You're Gonna Ruin Everything

(In Music We Trust) Remember when melody was just the cutest girl in the third grade, instead of a bank account-draining addiction? Oh, but to be with her now, instead of spending every cent on power-pop pacifiers like the Maroons' You're Gonna Ruin Everything. This second release from John Moen's (Spinanes, the Jicks, Fastbacks, and other Pacific Northwest musical alliances) pop-tastic project is some satisfying smack. Each tune is a boiling spoonful of ringing, jangly guitars with keyboards to complement and Moen's wonderfully whiny vocals, conjuring the Beatles ("Skipping the Introduction," which actually bounces along with a neat little Steely Dan lilt) and the Connells (the manic "9 1/2," moody "Shipwrecked," and caustic pop ditty "Dance Floor Flirt"), with just enough indie per ounce to please the sweaterheads. If Moen and his all-star bandmates (Satan's Pilgrims bassist John Cox, Jicks keyboardist Mike Clark, erstwhile Minus 5/Dharma enlist slick producer Lou Giordano (Lemonheads), turn the rock knobs waaaaay up, and make a fourth record really worth listening to. With 13 fast and juicy songs clocking in at 37 minutes, Millencolin's Home From Home crashes melody against a loud brash style which extends beyond mere hardcore or ska influences. From kickstart yeah-yeah-yeah anthem "Man Or Mouse" to Samiam-esque jealousy ode "Black Eye," guitars throb and wreck havoc, drums rightfully ricochet and singer/bassist Nikola throws out blistering seeds of personal truth. "Battery Check," a sage number, laments, "When will I live my life for me/ Where will I do what I want to?" Home From Home is an ambitiously big, bouncy and driven album that rocks from here to Malmus and back.

Road Movies (Universal)

These Londoners have always had stars in their eyes — the sort of stars populating the California desert night sky, the same ones that Gram Parsons fell in love with long ago. A few years back, the band packed up and moved to sunny SoCal, honed its smoky, country-tempered rock, and released the excellent Road Movies in early 2001. The album was largely overlooked, so a promoter persuaded the band to try, try again — and this time, radio is listening. "I think I need a holiday from myself/ I need some time away from me," singer Simon Petty croons on should-be hit "Holiday From Myself," which sets the album's self-deprecating yet good-timey feel. Uncle Tupelo-reminiscent guitar melodies and rich harmonica supplement "I Know Without Asking," and "Lost In The Details" is a lovable, mesquite-flavored ballad that would pair nicely with a bottle of Shiner Bock. The group is currently working on a new record. In the meantime, don't miss the glorious still-life images of late nights, empty pockets and poetic afternoons that make Road Movies such a keeper. — Kristy Martin

BOB MOULD

Modulate (Granary Music) Some middle-aged guys get new cars, new wives or hair weaves, but instead Bob Mould became a WWF scriptwriter, moved to New York City and made an electronic album. Along with about 20 pounds, Mould has shed the crunchy angst-rock that had become stale by 1998's

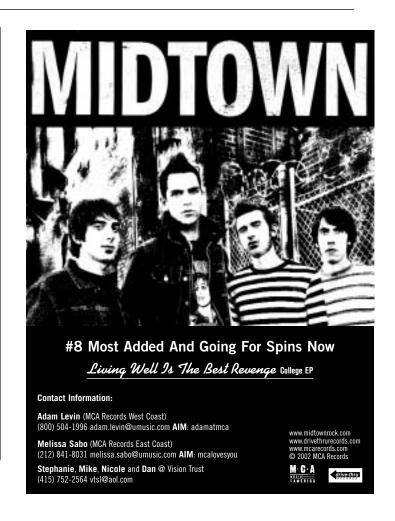

The Last Dog And Pony Show. Erasure is an easy comparison with Modulate's '80s-style synthesizers, elements of house music and an overall, industrialized sci-fi sound. This new approach is exemplified on "Quasar." Bob hasn't gone soft; he retains an edge via biting lyrics and sardonic vocal delivery. Playing and tweaking all the noisemakers, he gives even the most programmed moments a homespun feel. Old and new clash gloriously on "Semper Fi;" the song buries the hook in a mess of cascading digital notes and guitar feedback. Three of the best guitar songs Mould has written in 10 years lay among the blips and swirls of Modulate: "Slay/Sway," "The Receipt" and "Comeonstrong," all of which demonstrate he hasn't abandoned his date to the dance.

REVEREND HORTON HEAT

Lucky 7 (Artemis)
Beer, whiskey, tequila, marijuana, cigarettes, cars, pretty girls, and cocaine... yes (said with enthusiasm please)! Ironically enough, these are some of the most prominent themes in Reverend Horton Heat's music. Now the good Rev has been holdin' down the rockabilly scene for purt' near a decade now, and if you're not familiar with The Rev (as I like to call him) here is the dilly: picture Michael J. Fox in Back To The Future when he gets up on stage and fanatically rocks out to Jerry Lee Lewis. For longtime fans, Lucky 7 is vintage RHH; you've got you car jams in "Like A Rocket," "Galaxy 500" and "Reverend Horton Heat's Big Blue Car," while "Loco Gringos Like A Party" is a 2 a.m. bar song that will definitely cause group singalongs. "You've Got A Friend In Jimbo" is emotional tale of loyalty that shows

The Rev's serious side. FYI, if you are looking for a little more Rev in your diet, check out The Loco Galaxy Party Box EP, which should be spinning now at your local college station.

SUPER-SUCKERS

Must've Been Live (Mid-Fi) There's never been a shortage of outlaw swagger in the Supersuckers' rock 'n' roll, and once in a while they just like to take it out and shake it. Cases in point would be 1997's Steve Earle And The Supersuckers EP, a contribution on 1996's

Twisted Willie, a Willie Nelson tribute, as well as their rare, comparably laid-back country performances. Still, it's something of a surprise the 'Suckers first live recording comprises highlights of three such gigs (Dallas, Austin, San Diego) instead of providing a document of their legendary unbridled rock spectacles. No reason to carp, however, as Must've Been Live is 70 minutes of roadhouse rioting, Supersuckers-style. The band and special guests including Black Crowes guitarist Audley Freed, Adrian Demain (Billy Bacon And The Rhythm Pigs, Lee Rocker) and Amy Nelson, daughter of Willie apply a twangy spin to 'Suckers classics, featuring plenty from their 1997 disc, Must've Been High, and in the process deliver loads of reverent and irreverent covers (all herald "Peace In The Valley!"). Must've been fun.

SUSHIROBO

Drawings And Garbage Structures (Pattern 25) Since electronic music's potential integration with other genres is currently at a sky-level limit, going for a space-age sound without relying on complex programming seems as foolhardy as attempting to drive a Saturn to Jupiter. Ladies and gentlemen, take heed — Sushirobo is floating in space without a single glitch or computerized bleep. The full-length debut from the Seattle foursome (fronted by ex-Posies bassist Rick Roberts) is packed with atmospheric warped guitar sounds that would provide the perfect soundtrack to Logan's jog. Drawings And Garbage Structures, though, is at its heart a rock record, and a rather adroit one at that. Intergalactic noodling aside, the album ultimately works because of its accomplished songwriting. "Young Lions (With Whistle Report)" weaves no less than three insanely catchy hooks together to produce a song that's so punchy and melodically sound, it might as well have been played by a spacesuit-clad Dismemberment Plan. Structures is robotic without sounding sterile, and rolled up tightly without seeming the least bit fishy.

Different Tastes Of Honey (!K7)

Perhaps it's because Huber & Dorfmeister sounds too close to Kruder & Dorfmeister, that Rupert Huber and Richard Dorfmeister chose the name Tosca for their cozy club music. Though lesser-known than Dorfmeister's other duo, Tosca is no less influential, and the arty designs of Different Tastes Of Honey will no doubt be another blueprint for those looking to spin down-tempo deliciousness. Using a track called "Honey" from 1999's Suzuki as a base, Tosca and a handful of guest vocalists manage to melt Latin flavors with dub elements as a perky bass stirs all the ingredients together. Like honey itself, the results range from sticky and sexy to sweet and soothing. Tracks like "Biggabush Dub" show that the BPM doesn't have to be 160 to get the blood pumping. Syncopation is key here as funk bass and guitar are offset by delicate keyboard textures, a slinky digital groove and Glyn Bush's dub-influenced vocals. Bonus: Different Tastes Of Honey is being released with a reissue of another Tosca remix CD, 2001's zen-o-rific Suzuki In Dub. — Steve Ciabattoni ccording to the band's bassist, Fieldy, KoRn's new album, Untouchables, cost $4 million to record. That may be the entire gross national product of Bangladesh, but we'd have to check. It's unconfirmed, but the first single from the multi-million dollar effort — impacting in March — will likely be a track called "Here To Stay." • Quick question: Who do we have to sacrifice (please say Carrot Top) to get that Dillinger Escape Plan/System Of A Down tour that starts in Europe on March 5 to come to the United States? Let's hope those System fellas ask the Dillinger crew to join them on the next leg of the Toxicity tour of the U.S., tentatively happening early this summer before Ozzfest 2002 gets underway. System, as you probably have heard by now, will serve as Main Stage headliner for Ozzy's traveling extravaganza. • Virginia's Alabama Thunderpussy (don't know about you, but we'd really like to find out exactly what defines in May on Relapse. • Belated congrats to Matte Andersson, vocalist for Nuclear Blast Recording artists Godgory, who was married to Elena Pravikova in Karlstad, Sweden on Feb. 2. • Drummer Roy Mayorga has rejoined Soulfly. • Get ready to "Hang The Pope," because it looks like the legendary Nuclear Assault will reunite (for the first time in 10 years) for three reunion shows in April. After a scheduled performance on April 6 at the Metal Meltdown in Asbury Park, NJ, the Nukes will tear it up at L'Amour in Brooklyn (on April 27), and then at Jaxx, in Springfield, VA (on April 28). Anathema will issue a live DVD titled Visions Of A Dying on May 21, featuring material taped during a recent live performance in Greece. Also on tap is a DVD from My Dying Bride, titled For Darkest Eyes, due in stores on June 11. • The guys in Endo had their van, with all of their equipment in it, stolen from the group's home base in Miami sometime during the night of Sunday, Feb. 10. The pilfered vehicle is a maroon 1999 Chevy Van; Florida license plate number T282DT. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the group's ride, or its musical equipment, should call 212.965.8530, or the Miami police at 305.383.6800. • A memorial website has been set up in memory of Exodus vocalist Paul Baloff, who tragically passed away in February. In addition to written comments from Exodus guitarist Gary Holt, Metallica's Kirk Hammet (who, as you know, was Exodus' original six-stringer) and James Hetfield (who, in his remarks on the site, vows to record a song for the late singer), there is plenty of 411 regarding Exodus, The Paul Baloff Memorial Fund, quotes, links, pictures and a section where fans can submit their own thoughts at: www.paulbaloff.com. • Though nothing has been confirmed, Machine Head is reportedly trying to split with its label, Roadrunner. In an interview with Famous, guitarist Ahrue Luster stated that that the band is "unhappy now" and "trying to move on." • Just when we were getting over the shock of seeing Dave Mustaine reporting for MTV at the Democratic National Convention in 1992, the New York Post reported that Twisted Sister frontman Dee Snider is now the official voice of the highly respected cable news network MSNBC. "We'd been looking for a voice for a while - something that would cut through the clutter, and we needed something distinctive so people would know where they are," said Val Nicholas, MSNBC's vice president of advertising, promotion and marketing. While this may surprise some, voiceover work is not new for Missssssster Sisssssster, who can be heard about every 15 minutes doing MSNBC station breaks. In addition to hosting a weekly syndicated radio show, Snider has lent his pipes to spots for the New York Lottery and Sony. • Speaking of vocalists from old-school metal bands doing weird shit, former Skid Row throat Sebastian Bach will appear on an episode of thoroughly unnecessary TV game show The Weakest Link in May. It could not be confirmed if Bach will compete against his estranged band mates on the show, but even if that's the case, we couldn't bring ourselves to watch such drivel (read: crap). Ideally, what NBC should do is disband The Weakest Link altogether and create a new show on which ousted members from various rock bands battle their former musical allies in a 6' x 6' cage armed only with chainsaws and pocket knives. How great would that be? David Lee Roth vs. Van Halen, Fallon Bowman vs. Kittie, Soulfly vs. Sepultura... you get the idea. • After all the hoopla over Curious George Dubya's "axis of evil" remark during the State Of The Union address, it got us here in CMJ's Loud Rock department to thinking (and that doesn't happen much). While we have a similar opinion to Commander Dubya's (and that doesn't happen much) stance that Iran, Iraq and North Korea shouldn't be manufacturing "weapons of mass destruction" (read: big fucking bombs), he was misguided in his choice of the word "evil." First off, if any three entities should top an "axis of evil" list, it should be: Satan, Kerry King and Kathy Lee Gifford. With that in mind, if the President of the United States is going to discuss "evil" with the nation, his speechwriters should contemplate giving Beelzebub some props and not associate the word "evil" with third-world countries that treat women like fucking dogs. That's not an "axis of evil." That's an "axis of assholes." Calling these whacked-out nations who fidget with nuclear and biological weaponry "evil" is an insult to the word. And frankly, it's an insult to metal, which takes great pride in chomping down a heaping fucking bowl of "evil" everyday. Hey...is Slayer a band that one might describe as "evil"? We think so! After all, those guys aren't singin' about getting parties started on God Hates Us All. But is Tom Araya in his basement mixing up a batch of botulism and stuffing it into a warhead? We can safely guess probably not. And, while compared to some of the death metal, hardcore and black metal bands out there, Slayer may be only moderately "evil," they none-the-less fit the "evil" bill. "Angel Of Death," lyrically, is a pretty sinister tune and Kerry King is a pretty fucking "evil" looking guy. But are they "assholes"? Nope! Just a thought...

FIVE QUESTIONS WITH... METAL BLADE'S JEN GRAHAM

At 19, Metal Blade's Jen Graham was spinning records at KFJC/San Francisco and was the Metal Director at KSCU/San Francisco for two years. It was during an internship at Necropolis Records when the Grahamster learned that Metal Blade had an opening in Radio Promotions. Quicker than you could yell "Fates Warning!" she sent her resume to the label and just two days later was interviewing for the job. She landed the gig, with a little help from "the C-Note" that she claims she "slipped them under the table." We recently caught up with Metal Blade's sharpest staff member to discuss a number of issues.

What the hell is a "Metal Blade" anyway?

It all dates back to somewhere around 1720 AD. It was a harsh time when people were plagued by diseases such as Sixus Feetus Underus, Vaderus and Mercifulitis Fateus. Most people who caught such plagues didn't last too long. In fact, the population in a certain part of early Europe, known as LammaGod was decreasing so rapidly that their ruler, King Diamondous, commanded that people, uh, "do the deed" in order to save the human race. It wasn't until a man came along named Brianus Slagelous that the situation of these plagues was rectified. Slagelous was part of a group of people called the Callenishous Circleous, who decided to find out what was causing these plagues. After months of investigations, Slagelous found that it was the chemical Kingous-X that was being placed in the town watering hole by the evil Italian witch, Bolta Throwera. Bolta Throwera was then Immolationed on the stake and Slagelous was honored with an award called the Metalous Bladous, for his bravery and end to the plagues. Basically, a "Metal Blade" is just a blade out of metal, but I thought you would enjoy that story.

What project has been the most fun for you to work since arriving at the label?

The GWAR album [Violence Has Arrived] was probably the most fun to work with. Next to America Must Be Destroyed, it's their best one. Dave Brockie [Oderus Urungus] is the most intriguing, unique, crazy motherfucker I have ever met in my 22 years on this planet.

What Metal Blade artists are you most psyched about for 2002?

The Crown, Crowned In Terror. Its absolutely mind-boggling, great metal. I'm all warm and fuzzy for the new Cannibal Corpse, too. I'm also stoked about Cattle Decapitation, which is a killer death/grind band from San Diego; look out for their debut in July!

Quick... name five albums every Metal Blade fan should have in their collection.

GWAR, America Must Be Destroyed; Immolation, Close To A World Below; Cannibal Corpse, The Bleeding; Six Feet Under, Maximum Violence; Crown, Crowned In Terror.

Is there any way that we can borrow Gor Gor, GWAR's vicious tyrannosaurus rex, for my little brother's birthday party in July?

Gor Gor's is booked with engagements such as a pagan lesbian bachelorette party and some dood's Bar mitzvah, but after that he should be available. He demands an $180,000 guarantee plus 10 percent of the door, but I can always haggle with his manager.

36 CRAZY- FISTS

Bitterness The Star (Roadrunner)

Alaska is home to several noteworthy things: Eskimos, deceptively adorable polar bears, Crucial Spins reporter KWHL, that Artic Wildlife Refuge George Dubya wants to turn into a gas station, and the largest mountain in North America. That's about it. Oh, and the 49th state is also home to Roadrunner's latest Loud Rockers, 36 Crazyfists. Together since 1994, the Anchorage band (its name comes from a Jackie Chan film) — which has since relocated to the lower 48 and set up shop in Portland, Oregon — got the attention of the band Skinlab, which had passed along a demo to Roadrunner's A&R department. With a sound reminiscent of emotional noise-makers like Glassjaw and Amen (and some Quicksand-ish qualities thrown in for good measure) 36 Crazyfists (as opposed to 63 Zanyfingers) should have no difficulty putting the state known as "The Last Frontier" on the Loud Rock map. Produced by Eddie Wohl of Scrap 60 (Dry Kill Logic, Primer 55), the band's 13-track debut, dubbed Bitterness The Star, is home to the killer tracks "One More Word" (featuring NORA frontman Carl Severson), "Turns To Ashes," "Bury Me Where I Fall" (featuring Skinlab vocalist Steev Esquivel), "Chalk White," "All I Am" and "Slit Wrist Theory."

PRO-PAIN

Shreds Of Dignity (Spitfire) Since releasing its debut album, Foul Taste Of Freedom, in 1992, New York's Pro-Pain has confidently evolved through the years as one of hardcore/metal's most influential acts. Loud Rockers have mad respect for these guys for a reason; despite a deficiency in media and press coverage, the Painmeisters have amassed album sales of more than 600,000 worldwide, logged over 2,000 gigs, and released seven studio albums, including its latest metal monster, Shreds Of Dignity. Recorded last year, this long-player finds the band in its most brutal glory and, with some songs lyrically addressing the events of Sept. 11 ("Down For The Cause" for one), it's no wonder why the members of this fearsome foursome sound as if somebody jacked all their eggs on Easter Sunday. The CMJ Loud Rock department is getting docked two weeks' pay for the partitions we kicked over to "Casualties Of War." And, the cut "Gone Fishin," despite its deceptively passive title, is heavy enough to inspire us to body-check our grandmothers into a brick wall. "No Way Out" and the title track round out our favorites. Look for CMJ's "Five Questions" with Pro-Pain founder, frontman and bassist Gary Meskil in the Loud Rock section of next week's issue!

Attak (Metropolis)
Formed in 1984, KMFDM has been around since Metallica was on the Ride The Lightning tour and, despite lineup changes (long-time member En Esch is out), breakups, and that MDFMK thing, the band remains a vital force in industrial dance/metal. Its most recent full-length, Attak (not to be confused with the Boots EP, which is a totally separate release), finds founder Sascha Konietzko (who describes the band's new sound as "better than never ever before") combining his undeniable talents with current bandmates William Rieflin (Ministry), Tim Skold (Marilyn Manson), Raymond "Pig" Watts, Dorona Alberti and Lucia Cifarelli, among others. We recommend "Skurk," "Attak/Reload" and "Dirty."

BRICK BATH

I Won't Live The Lie (Crash Music—Pavement)
If Pantera's Far Beyond Driven makes you want to beat people to death with a tack hammer, you may want to up your daily dosage of Paxil. Hell, throw a little Zanax in there too... that's what we do! Anyway, fans of that ferocious masterpiece are sure to get their panties in a bunch over Brick

Bath's I Won't Live The Lie. Formally known as Epitaph, this So-Cal band was fed up with producers and engineers fucking up its sound in the studio, so the guys produced this album on their own. The results are well worth your airplay consideration and this 14-track effort sounds as heavy as... well, a brick bath. We dig: "Inner Peace," "Bone Dry," "Undone," "Simple Life," "Need" and the title track.

alking through the hallowed halls of a label that shall remain nameless, I noticed a brown, turd-looking thing in the middle of the rug. Upon closer inspection, I realized that it was indeed a turd of indeterminate origin (man or beast?).

scheduled for release sometime in April. • Rodney Jerkins has produced a remix of Britney Spears' "Overprotected" (which is one of my personal faves on her Britney album, and I'm not ashamed to admit it). Don't hate on Britney now, people. The remix of the Neptunes-produced "Slave 4

NEW BREED

Stop The Music (Uprok)

Part of the Tunnel Rats crew, New Breed is a brother and sister duo (a rare find in music — the Carpenters don't count here) originally out of Brooklyn and currently hailing from Boston. Macho (Rosario Ortega) and his sister Elsie's voices blend nicely; there's an obvious unspoken connection between the two. Backed by deep, head-nodding beats, they attack the mic with equal strength — in a world dominated by male braggadocio, Elsie holds her own. From tales of everyday struggle ("Stop The Music"), to lighter, feelgood joints like "Think" and the more spoken-word, jazzy flavor of "Song Speaks," the album flows from the aggressive to the mellow with ease, showcasing the wide range of this duo's talent and its allencompassing musical vibe. "My People" is a nice tribute to the Ortegas' Puerto Rican heritage, both lyrically and musically. An impressive, multi-dimensional debut from a duo to keep an eye on.

R. KELLY AND

"Take You Home With Me (a.k.a. Body)" / "Get This Money" (Roc-A-Fella-IDJMG)

This collaboration is probably the most anticipated in recent hip-hop history. Word is the full-length has already been bootlegged up the ass, prompting the label to push the release date back until March 26.

"Take You Home" is as expected, half Jigga big-booty come-on, half R. Kelly sex jam, and it works (in that magical, make-you-wannabump-'n'-grind kind of way). Musically, the track is understated, allowing Kelly and Jay-Z to do their thing. Jigga's presence is minimal on this track; it's more an R. Kelly track featuring Jay-Z. As a sex jam, it's top-notch. "Get This Money" is more musically interesting, Kelly's syncopated verses sound almost like he's rapping (Jigga's all, "yeah, yeah" in the background) and the Spanish-sounding guitar is a nice touch. Maybe I'm reading into it too much when Kelly sings, "You got what I want/ I got what you need/ Let's put it together/ Get this money" because it kind of sounds like he could be talking about himself and Jay-Z, metaphorically speaking. Can they be that deep? Maybe not. Who cares? These tracks were made for bumpin'.

R.I.Y.L.: L.L. Cool J's "Doin' It," R. Kelly & Fat Joe "We Thuggin'," R. Kelly &

Biggie "I'm Fucking You Tonight"

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

PHARRELL WILLIAMS OF N.E.R.D

Pharrell Williams of N.E.R.D./the Neptunes fame can prove as tricky as finding Osama bin Laden in the mountains of Afghanistan, but we did it. We caught up with the artist — who's also a member of über-producer duo the Neptunes and a new label owner (the Neptunes recently launched their own Star Trak imprint through Arista) — while he was taking a dinner break at a local Fuddruckers. In between several phone calls and fans stopping by to say hi, Williams spoke with CMJ about the power of music and how lonely it can be at the top.

Where are you right now?

Virginia. I just finished working on a new song for Kelis' album. But I can't really talk about that. What do you think of the album?

I really liked it, it's all over the map musically. How important is not being pigeonholed as solely a hip-hop artist to you?

We used to really stress it, but I don't really care anymore. Think what you wanna think and say what you wanna say, but as long as I know that I can touch people with my music then it's all good. Music is music.

You guys are so busy. Do you get tired?

Man, how do you get tired of exploring new worlds? That's like saying you work on the Star Trek Enterprise and all you want to do is go to Mars. It's a lifelong mission.

What do you hope to do with your new label?

We want to be a safehouse, a place where artists can seek refuge from a world that is not ready for things to be different. We don't really care about money. We make money doing other things so this is just done from the heart.

You've been approached by three or four people over the course of this conversation. Does that bother you?

It's cool I don't trip. Without them and people like yourself, I'm nothing. We're blessed to be able to spread the music and spread the love. I don't pay attention to how many people come up to me. I just am touched that they're listening to our stuff because they don't have to.

Which do you like better, producing or performing?

I like producing better. Producing has no boundaries. When I work as an artist, I have limitation as far as my voice and what it is that I can sing. When I produce, I produce for any and everybody and work with their talent and what they can do. Either way, I just want to be respected as a musician.

What is the process when people ask you to produce a track?

We think about who that person is, and what we would like to hear with them. It's kinda like what a stylist does, we just do that with sounds. We dress things around your voice, dress things around your mentality.

What is the most difficult thing about what you do?

Missing your family. Not having a girlfriend. Chad is happily married. He has two beautiful kids. He's very, very fortunate. Most producers live the lives of fucking 100 million girls. That's cool if that's what you wanna do, but that shit just gets old, and honestly, at the end of the day, it's hard to keep up with all them girls. I'd rather just have one.

What do you think your legacy is going to be?

Hopefully, my legacy will be my children. At the end of the day, man, we're just people, we're regular people... we don't trip.

ELBE D'OLIVEIRA III

Music Director, WVCW 640 AM/90.5 FM, Virginia Commonwealth University • Richmond, VA

Bad Religion Process of Belief • Keepers of the Carpet Self-titled • Billy Bragg England, Half-English • Brand New Your Favorite Weapon • Dashboard Confessional So Impossible EP

How many watts is your station? How many people do you reach?

Watts? What is a watt? We are a 21st century digital radio station! Webcasting all day and all night! We also operate on a groundbreaking technology called carrier-current. Everyone will be using it soon!

What's the station motto/your personal programming philosophy?

The station motto is, "WVCW, It's like Richmond Radio... Only good!" My philosophy is if it is good, play it. I can just tell. The good stuff always gives me a boner.

How long have you been and will you be MD? How do you abuse your power?

I have been MD for going on two years now and I will be MD until I finally graduate, which is estimated to be 2009. I abuse my power by playing the Moss Brothers whenever I can. I love those kids but for some reason no one else at the station does. I have also kept the Zambonis' "Away Game" in rotation since I started and it shall stay in rotation until I am gone.

What do you do to build your station's audience?

We have bi-weekly remotes at our cafeteria. How cool is that? I am in the process of trying to establish better relationships with the few cool venues in town. We try to get whatever artists are in town to talk to us. Richmond isn't really a hotbed of activity when it comes to touring.

What was your most successful fundraiser? How much money do you raise on average?

We have done 24 Rock-A-Thons. I don't know any exact figures though; I'm too busy listening to the rock.

Who are you most proud of bringing either to your campus to perform and

We just had one of the guys from Carbon Leaf come by. I guess since they won that contest they are fairly well known now. We had Rocket From The Crypt a few years ago. They were supposedly recording for a "live album." How many times have you heard that?

Are you on the air? What kind of show do you do?

Yes, Hot Carl, my partner Dirty Sanchez and I do a show called "Hot and Dirty" once a week. It's a linear-train-of-thought talk show. Translation: we have no idea what we are going to talk about that day. Turns out to be mostly porn, masturbation, video games and music. We are also trying to put together a "Best Boobs" contest.

What's the most fucked-up thing that ever happened to you while you were

I guess I need to spend more time on the air because nothing ever happens. Although during my last show one of the girls in the office informed us that she had just had her hood pierced 15 minutes earlier. I couldn't believe she was walking!

Have you ever had sex (or done something equally as naughty) in the booth?

I haven't but there is a couch in the studio that has seen more than its fair share of action. I'm a little jealous.

What's the best line a promoter ever used on you to get you to play a record?

Doug from Planetary offered me a tossed salad when I came to CMJ if I would chart some of his stuff. I told him I didn't like vegetables but he could buy me a beer.

What's the best promo item you've ever received?

I get so much cool stuff that I can't really pick one thing, although Thatcher at The Syndicate sent me an issue of Penthouse (cool enough in its own right) signed by the chick from Lords Of Acid. I have yet to put it on EBay. I seem to get lots of porn.

Breaking! We have CD-smashing parties! It's loads of fun but a bitch to clean up.

Does your station still play vinyl?

We try to, except our turntables (or the 1s and 2s as the kids call them) are all jacked up. They are currently in the shop.

Every station has that one old dude from the local town that's been doing a show since anyone can remember. Who is it at your station, what kind of show do they do, and what's their deal?

We have Tom. He's our country guy. I don't even want to wager his age. Tom's cool though, he is more connected than I could ever hope to be.

Name one CD you're embarrassed to say you own.

Go West — Indian Summer. But c'mon, "King Of Wishful Thinking" is awesome!

When will you be graduating?

It seems to be just after never.

If you could see anyone live (dead or living), who would it be and why?

I would have to say the Beatles or Zeppelin, just because they are legendary and you have to appreciate that.

Are you interested in going into the music industry? Doing what?

I will do whatever pays the bills! You hear that all you industry professionals?! Hire me! I am not afraid to sell my soul for a buck!

What's your favorite Behind The Music episode?

Vanilla Ice. I actually ran home from a nearby restaurant to catch the first airing. I got my meal boxed up and trucked home. True story.

Any shoutouts?

Nope, I hate people.

SHUT EYE

COPE WITH IT

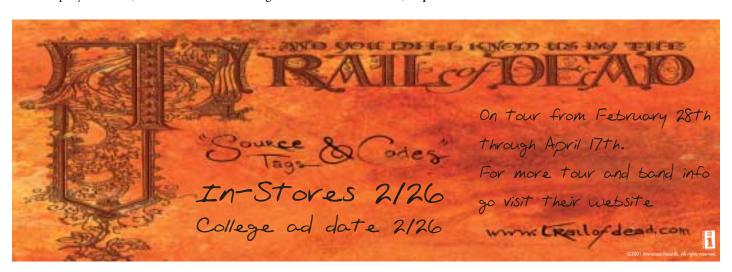

o I was on the phone with an independent store buyer the other day—doesn't matter which since I believe you could insert any like-account into this story—and he asked me point blank: "What is going on between (insert majorlabel distribution company here) and (insert major chain here)?" (Note: You know I have to be careful here, I don't want to offend any of those not mentioned above). He then proceeded to tell me how he recently walked across the street to the competition and found a previously deleted special edition double disc from a rising new star available for sale and sale priced. Like any smart buyer he knew his way around the distribution company order desk and found they had about 2600 copies of the limited edition sitting on their floor. He thought "great," went back to the order desk and ordered a box. But the order-taker stopped him and said he couldn't order the title because they were all being held for the major chain. After speaking to a supervisor it was clear he was not going to get his order. It was not the first time this had happened with this distributor either, or with this well-supplied major chain.

Undaunted, he made another run a few days later to the competition again and low and behold he found a limited edition title from another major artist. Although this was from a different distribution company and label, he was told the same thing at their order desk: "yes there is stock and no you can't order it." The funny thing is a few days later he did get an order and guess what: all of the limited/special edition discs sent him came stickered with the competition's name and price.

This is interesting in a day when we have become such a "clean" (oops, watch that word) business and when there is supposedly a level playing field at retail—sorry to break the news kids but the playing field is bumpier than ever. Today the deals being cut are much more subversive and dangerous to our business than they ever were in the past. If the trend continues it will fuel a downward trend for the independent retailer. Without these independent stores artists like White Stripes, Jack Johnson, Thursday, Dashboard Confessional, Starsailor, Kasey Chambers and the like won't have a chance to break. The responsibility is in OUR collective hands; we need to start the changes at NARM and continue this dialoge beyond it or record companies will be selling Now 11 and then run out of artists because they haven't broken anyone new.

Things to listen to include: Ed Harcourt, David Bridie, Norah Jones, and The Vines (these guys rock).

Peace, Cope.

SPEAK OUT

SCOTT PERRY

Sperry Media Los Angeles, CA scott@sperrymedia.com 323.822.9412

How's business? Between putting out all the fires associated with running a record store in the 21st century, I'm sure your plate is more full than ever. And as if running a store weren't enough, how's your website? Are you sending out emails to your customers? I know I sound like a broken record, but I cannot stress the importance of using emails and your website to maintain a relationship with your customer. The responsibilities placed on the indie record store owner have never been greater than they are now and the opportunity to communicate directly with your customer has never been better.

Recently, a major label went to great efforts to offer promo materials for one of their bigname artists. Not only did they create banners, images, and audio/video streams for stores to place on their sites, they even created an entire assets page stores could link directly to. The result? not many retailers used these materials.

Big mistake. Imagine being able to offer your customers early word and advance listens of their favorite artists; this is the kind of stuff MTV and Amazon pummel labels to get. Labels create digital promo materials for ALL their new releases—USE `EM. Don't have time to chase it all down yourself? Don't know how to use your website and emails to boost traffic and sales? Understandable, but the fact remains that you are not operating at 100 percent if you're not emailing your customers each week.

I've helped over two-dozen stores offer online promo materials for artists like Thursday, Gorillaz, Jack Johnson, Norah Jones and tons of others. If you want to offer such content to your customers at NO cost to you (no lie, no strings – NO cost to you), feel free to contact me at the above address. I know you're carrying a lot on your shoulders and I would like to help out however I can.

UNDER THE RADAR Column by Gerry Hart • ghart@cmj.com

This week in Under the Radar we want to draw special attention to those albums that are either making important moves on CMJ Retail charts, or are just about to. We'll also throw in a few reasons on the what, why, and how things are beginning to pop.

THURSDAY

Full Collapse
Victory Records
Catalog No. VR145
Collapse is moving up the charts again with a high jump up to 74 (it's highest position on the charts to date). New top 10s this week at Vintage Vinyl (Fords), Music Shack, Switched On, Go Boy, Desireable Discs and Bionics (Huntington). In-store play came in under the radar at No. 29.

Current Top 100 chart position: 74

Everybody Hertz
Astralwerks
Catalog No. 11833
Strong top 10 debuts at Hoodlums, Aron's Records, Face The Music and Reckless Records. Hertz also debuted strong all around the country from West Coast Amoebas to Northwest Sonic Booms and Music Millenniums to Midwest's E. Fetus, Let It Be, Reckless, to the East Coast Newbury's and Southern Plan 9s and TREX's.

Current Top 100 chart position: 77

Concrete Dunes Lakeshore Catalog No. 33690 Grandaddy debuts this week at No. 86 with Top 10's from Amoebas SF and Hollywood, Fingerprints, Aron's, DCCDs, Face The Music (Eugene) and the new Sonic Boom. In-store play came in just under the radar for Dunes at No. 27. Heavy indie retail support on this one.

Current Top 100 chart position: 86

Is A Woman Merge Catalog No. 204 Lambchop makes a debut

that's worth noting (because we love this band) at No. 96. Top 10 debuts this week at Mod Lang (Berkeley), Aron's Records (LA), DCCDs (DC), Criminal Records (Atlanta), Reckless (Chicago). Debuted strong in the NW at Orpheum, Sonic Boom, Music Millenium, and in the Midwest at Luna, EF, Reckless and more.

SOUTH

From Here On In Kinetic
Catalog No. (54702)
South also debut's this week at No. 100 with Top 10 debuts from what is becoming a Usual Suspects list of retailers supporting and doing what they can to help break new records and artists—Mod Lang, Let It be, Bow Wow, both Sonic Booms, Luna, Amoebas. This is a great record—spin this in-store. Here hit No. 28 this week for In-store Play.

Current Top 100 chart position: 100

Bold numbers signify upward movement.

RADAR BLIPS

3 albums did amazingly noteworthy things at 3 stores this week. First, Go Back Snowball (GBV's Pollard and Superchunk's Mac) debuts with unprecedented No.1 triple digit sales from Indianapolis' Luna alone. Texas' own Cory Morrow sold almost 300 from Cactus after a 30 min high school show. And Roger Clyne sold nearly 800 copies of Sonora Hope in Zias after playing a standing room (2600 fans) at the Celebrity Theater (AZ). Hey A&R peeps, you paying attention?

Current Top 100 chart position: Who cares?

5-song sampler went to Triple A and NPR already. Top 10 Most Added at college first week and Top 40 CMJ 200 Radio last week. Album shipping to Modern Rock on street date. No single being chosen yet—waiting to see response. MBE performance during street week.

No. 4 Most Added college radio. EP that preceded Lucky 7 hit 125 on CMJ Top 200. Single is "Galaxy 500," used as theme song for the Daytona 500. Going for adds mid-March. Specialty will be serviced around street date. NYC dates (March 13-14) sponsored by WSOU.

First single is "Party Hard." CMJ No. 1 Most added last week. "Party Hard" single (which included video) serviced to college early Jan. No.1 R&R most added at Modern Rock. Early support from KNRK, KRXQ, KWOD, KNDD, KITS, WHFS, WQXA, WAXQ and WDHA.

Single is "She Fell Into My Arms." Already getting big support at WXPN and WBCN in Boston who have had success with "God Protect Your Soul." Triple AAA add date is March 26—same for college. KCRW playing album for a month now. A recent Ed H. MBE performance up at KCRW.com now.

Video for "Souljacker Part 1" is completed and being serviced to local and regional video outlets and programs. Not yet.

MTV2 has been spinning "Party Hard" since Dec. Just added to MTV and will start getting spins this week. Second video for "She Is Beautiful" has already

"She Fell Into My Arms" serviced to MTV2 after radio add dates.

Souljacker has gotten over 50 four star reviews in the European press and has sold over 100,000 copies there. Can it translate? Reviews and features pouring in everywhere from Amplifier, MTV Magazine and the Hollywood Reporter to Rolling Stone, Spin, Teen and GQ.

Support coming in with reviews and features in Magnet, Amplifier, Mean Street, CMJ, Guitar Player, and more. Lots of love follows the Reverend whenever he tours—expect much support from dailies and weeklies along his route. Will appear on Conan March 15.

Press pouring in from around the world with raves from Rolling Stone: "Twisted Sister meets the Go-Go's on amphetamines;" Vanity Fair: "An '80s-metal-meets-Abba anthem;" Spin: "An industrial-pop-metal-disco-freak-out (Def Lep meets NIN, Daft Punk and Ron Jeremy).

Press is just starting to roll in. Mojo says, "Harcourt's story telling lyrics reveal both a surreal sense of humor and unfathomable sadness. Superb." Another from Q. "An extraordinary record that allies the sonic wonderland of Mercury Rev with the nightmarish imagination of Tim Burton."

Eels at SXSW March 16 at La Zona Rosa. Headline will kick off from SXSW and continue through mid April. Tour will take the band from New Orleans to Atlanta, NC, DC, NYC, Boston, Philly, Toronto, Boulder, Seattle, LA and SF. The Reverend is relentless: On tour nearly every day from Feb. 16 through May 5. He will hit just about every corner of the country on this one. All dates will be fronted by Nashville Pussy.

Two-week pre-street date tour from SF (3/12) to LA (3/13), Chicago (3/16), hometown Detroit (3/18), Toronto (3/19), DC (3/21), Boston (3/22), Philly (3/23) NYC (3/26). AWK part of MTV2's Campus Invasion Tour 6 weeks this summer.

Several showcases at SXSW which will kick off a subsequent 8 date U.S. leading up to Monsters release: Seattle (3/18), LA (3/19-20), SF (3/22), Toronto (3/25), Chicago (3/26), Bryn Mawr (3/27), NYC (3/28). Back in May.

Band is doing e-coustic performance on GetMusic.com this month. Eelstheband. com heavily trafficked. Perry Media stepping in with retailer's online support for Souljacker. Player on musicmatch.com with email blast to 10 million. Ifilm.com features video and EPKs. Best site is thereverendhortonheat.com. Amazon running programs Feb. 19 – March 12. Downloads available at Amazon for all old RHH online buyers, plus sound samples and New/Future release listings. Artemis hitting webzine and fan sites which are many.

FilterMMM are hitting all second tier websites and getting a lot of support. MTV.com will host AWK listening station. AOL and WindowsMedia have current video. MP3.com campaigns and email blasts underway. Best sites are AndrewWK.com and AWKWorld.com.

PerryMedia supplying independent retail with content on their store websites and with indie online email blasts to customers with pop-up videos and audio. Edharcourt.com & hollywoodandvine.com.

The bonus EP (extra 4 tracks) included on Souljacker will be part of every copy of domestic release—very cool. Nice to see an exclusive that's exclusive to everyone. Eels on Café samplers (thousands of coffee houses). Tracks also featured on Landmark Theater samplers. Definitely in-store play this record—it's amazing.

This is RHH's debut on Artemis. Ed Stasium (Ramones, Talking Heads, Motorhead) produced this album. This has got to be one of the Reverend's most diverse records to date—it rocks. For sales questions get in touch with Artemis' Nick Tieder at ntieder@artemisrecords.com.

File this under "Andrew" and not "W" or "K." AWK says, "This music is the sound of being alive!" INSTORE PLAY this album and you will get big response. Album has shipped over 100k in UK. Will success translate here? This could blow up here. POPs, 3 different stickers, 2x1s, snipes, 3x3 art boards and major planners available.

How does Ed Harcourt feel about his album? "The title's about how I see my songs, they're like little monsters that I hoard, but eventually I have to let them go and you hope they take flight and reach other people." Fly Little Monsters Fly. Bug Mel and the Capitol retail den for displays and other little Ed monsters.

xile's Al Lotto and Paula Kretkiewcz have been in business together now nearly ten years. In 1992 they opened the Branford location followed by another in Hamden in 1995. Al got started working part-time at a big indie-owned store in Connecticut while still in high school. Paula also worked there as the Single's buyer and department manager. Today, Exile is basically run by Al, Paula and Dean Falcone (who also worked with them at the former store as a buyer). The Branford location was started with a $20,000 loan and Al's own CD collection (which jump-started their Used section). Exile's success grew from there as they built stock based on customer demand—they very shortly started getting tons of special orders (and that's even with two chain stores in town). Today, Exile's clientele has grown older, more "buyers" than "burners" as Al puts it - younger kids opting to just burn and bootleg rather than come into the store to buy.

Exile has started carrying much more urban product and selling it to mostly white customers—a trend Al's been noticing with many stores in the area for years. Exile distinguishes itself from the chains, though, by carrying more indie label titles. Dashboard Confessional is an example of a recent title that if people wanted it they could only find it at Exile. Music DVDs are also bringing customers into Exile. Last year Al took a look around at his chain competitors and noticed a music DVD void, so he started quietly carrying them and it has turned out to be a great thing.

The difference between the stores? Branford is geared more to Grateful Dead, Bob Marley and classic rock customers, while Hamden (sitting closer to Quinnipiac College) sells much more rap, radio and video hit products. In general, Exile stocks new and used CDs, posters, t-shirts, incense, artist logo patches and stickers and... groceries? Sure Al, we'll take the new Blinky CD and how about a gallon of milk! Available programs include listening posts, P&P, ROP, radio, and value-adds when they can get them.

CMJ Q&A with Al Lotto

Current fave?

Joey Ramone's Don't Worry About Me.

All-time favorite album?

Patti Smith's Easter.

All-time favorite B-side?

U2's Dancin' Barefoot.

First record bought? Where?

Its really hard for me to say because my older sister used to share her 45s with me back in the '60s, so I can't really pinpoint the first one I bought myself. It may have to be George Harrison's All Things Must Pass.

Favorite Weekend Party Disc?

Patti Smith's Teenage Perversity bootleg from the Roxy, 1975.

Favorite Sunday morning disc?

World Party's Dumbing Up and the Bacharach box set.

First Concert? Where? When?

The Carpenters at New Haven Coliseum, 1973. The next one was Alice Cooper!

Best concert ever attended?

The Stones at Madison Square Garden, 1975.

What artist (past or present) would you like to see live?

The Beatles.

Currently reading?

Gorman Bechard's Ninth Square.

What do you collect?

B-sides, live shows, U2, Patti Smith, Travis, Oasis, Brill Building demos, Jimmy Webb—actually the list is endless.

NEWS AND UPDATES

EELS ON THE ROAD AND HAVING BABIES

When Eels head out next month for the Souljacker tour, they'll do it minus the help of touring guitarist John Parish (who lent considerable production and co-writing moxy to the album). No big shake-ups, no band feuds—just a new baby that's arrived. Joe Gore, who's worked with Tom Waits and PJ Harvey will join E, Butch Norton and Koool G Murder will take the new father's place.

BIRTHDAYS FOR JOHNNY AND GEORGE

Johnny Cash turned 70—Wow! —and is celebrating with the continued climb of his The Essential up the sales charts. In celebration of George Harrison's 59th birthday a tree was planted in Griffith Park in L.A.—a place George use to like to spend time when he was in L.A.

VIRGIN'S BOSTON TEA

Okay, so they didn't throw tea but there was a wake of champagne and six foot lobsters swimming around the festivities. On Valentines night, Richard Branson hosted an inviteonly VIP party with local celebs, V2's Heather Nova performing, and Virgin Atlantic stewardesses giving the 500 plus crowd roaming massages. He outdid himself for the public grand opening the next day. Picture this: Branson rolling down Newbury on a float flanked by New England Patriot cheerleaders, 6-foot lobsters, drag queens, and shooting bottles of champagne like ship cannons from the bow. Add Pink's "Get The Party Started" a red ribbon and you have yourself a GRAND opening. Congrats to Virgin. Performers included Alien Ant Farm, Howie Day and Shannon McNally.

Richard Branson with Virgin Ent. Group America CEO, Glen Ward.

Branson, Baloons, Champagne and Lobsters--what else is there to say!
