FEATURES

Idlewild has been "the next big thing" for a while now. But the Scottish group's latest offering, The Remote Part, delivers on all previous promises with raucous guitar licks and blinding melodies, all wrapped in sweet poeticism and a retro pop-sensibility. Now that the band is finally bringing its new record Stateside, frontman Roddy Woomble has never been more sure of what his band represents: "I think we're a rock band with a lot of thought behind it. That, by and large, is kind of rare for a band, especially with the kind of music you can really jump around to.'

KCRW GRABS THAT CASH

Santa Monica's KCRW recently concluded a highly successful 11-day pledge drive that culminated with donations of $2,888,617 from 26,466 subscribers, a new record for the influential station.

The pledge total included donations going toward the station's "Million$Match" campaign, an effort to raise funds in order to update the station's 19-year-old studios and replace its outdated equipment — an undertaking that will cost more than $2 million. "This is a great endorsement of the station's importance to the community," said Ruth Seymour, KCRW's General Manager. "KCRW is in the basement of Santa Monica College, but it has set new audience records for public radio in Southern California. Now it has set new records in listener support as well." The Million$Match campaign will continue through the end of the year.

THE WEEK IN MUSIC NEWS

Compiled and written by Doug Levy • dougl@cmj.com

Feb. 20 concert by '80s pop-metal band Great White turned into a scene of nightmarish devastation after a pyrotechnic display during the group's performance set fire to the Rhode Island venue where it was playing, either killing or injuring nearly everyone in attendance. The death toll climbed throughout the day on Friday, Feb. 21, as firefighters and rescue workers struggled to excavate bodies from the scorched remains of the Station concert club, with the count reaching nearly 100 confirmed dead by the end of the day. The fire spread throughout the building so quickly that people - many of whom originally believed it to be a part of the show - didn't have time to get out before succumbing to smoke inhalation and severe burns. Reports state that many victims attempted to run for the front doors, as opposed to the fire exits, causing some attendees to be trampled in the melee. As rescue work continued, it was confirmed that Great White guitarist Ty Longley was among those who perished in the blaze. The tragedy occurred mere days after 21 people were killed in a Chicago nightclub during a mad rush for the doors, caused by a fight that led security to discharge pepper spray, which some panicked club-goers mistook for a terrorist attack. The Rhode Island incident was the worst nightclub fire in over 25 years, with at least 25 of the survivors being listed in critical condition the following day. Great White was best known for its hit single

"Once Bitten, Twice Shy," which helped the group to go multi-platinum during the '80s and receive a Grammy nomination in 1990. The White Stripes' Jack White appears to have joined the ranks of artists becoming infuriated by the online bootlegging of their material. Following news that the release date of the Stripes' latest album, Elephant, was being pushed forward two weeks due to the record's appearance on the Internet in its entirety, White posted a message on the band's official Web site, www.whitestripes.com, berating (and possibly threatening) those who had illegally downloaded it. "I'm very sad at some of you for peeking at your Christmas presents before Christmas morning. Can't you wait?" he wrote. "We want you to have it when we want you to have it. It's unfair that some get a taste and confuse others before they have the chance to have it for themselves, but the devil is at work here and you will pay for your impatience. This world of have-itnow, millisecond attention span and gross neglect for quality is getting old." Originally slated for an April 15 street date, Elephant will now hit stores on April 1 instead. Meanwhile, White also spoke in a more lighthearted manner about the album itself, for the benefit of those who haven't already heard it, revealing that he personally designed the album art with Headcoats drummer Bruce Brand. The artwork will vary from global region to region and from CD to vinyl format, with six designs in all. "That way, Meg and I know where you got it from," he explained. • For summer music festivals, the U.K. has always reigned supreme, but with the recent appearance of U.S. festivals that mirror the eclectic and forward-thinking lineups and vibes of their European counterparts, it may not be long before we can rival that reputation. The dates and tentative lineups have now been announced for both the 2003 Coachella Valley Music and Arts Festival in Indio, California and the 2003 Bonnaroo Music Festival in Manchester, Tennessee. Taking place on April 26 and 27, this year's Coachella event features the somewhat dodgy choice of the Beastie Boys to headline the first day and the extremely dodgy choice of the Red Hot Chili Peppers for day two, but it more than makes up for it by filling out the rest of the schedule with a stellar collection of artists, including the White Stripes, Blur, Ben Harper And

The Innocent Criminals, the Polyphonic Spree, Ladytron, Queens Of The Stone Age, N.E.R.D., Sonic Youth, Underworld, Primal Scream, Gomez, Hot Hot Heat, Joseph Arthur... and so many more that we could almost fill the whole page just naming them. Check out the full lineup, ticket information and whatever else you need to know at www.coachella.com. Meanwhile, a number of Coachella acts, including Sonic Youth, Tortoise, Ben Harper and Jack Johnson will also be appearing at Bonnaroo, which is happening this year on June 13–15. That three-day music-fest will also see appearances by headliners The Dead (the remaining members of the Grateful Dead, formerly known as the Other Ones) and Widespread Panic, as well as James Brown, Bela Fleck, the Roots, the Allman Brothers Band, and, once again, too many more to name. For full details, just head on over to - you guessed it - www.bonnaroo.com.

To Hold Us Back (Def Jam)
Before The Chronic, the line between "old school" and "new drawn as it was by P.E. circa 1988. Nation Of Millions is easily Hip-Hop's greatest punk rock black noise designed to be recognizable from miles away:

incessant two-note tenor sax

bleats; MLK and Slayer samples;

PUBLIC ENEMYIt Takes A Nation Of Millions

Chuck D's unrelenting baritone, with its layers upon layers of both digestible didacticism and deconstructible metaphor. Antidrug, anti-government, pro-community, pro-Nation Of Islam, anti-anti-nigga machines, these prophets of rage made Minor Threat look like milquetoast, with a soundtrack made of the tiniest fragments of street-consciousness spit back as a penetrating post-modern noise collage. Hear its influence in, oh, everything.

SONGS: OHIA

The Magnolia Electric Co (Secretly Canadian) Where previous Songs: Ohia discs have seen frontman Iason Molina moping around his bedroom seeking solace in acoustic guitar musings, The Magnolia Electric Co. finds him instead with an exceptional full band brimming with neo-southern soul. Recorded live by indie demigod Steve Albini, this album is unarguably more upbeat than anything Molina has produced in the past, but still stops short of being a true rock record. Actually, Magnolia sounds more like a collection of Neil Young ballads, loaded with enough twang to verify Molina's West Virginian roots. Exploring the allure of apathy, "Almost Was Good Enough" eerily floats around opaque organ bursts and Molina's haunting tenor, before transitioning into "The Old Black Hen," a violin-drenched truck stop jukebox joint that would make Hank Williams proud. "John Henry Split My Heart," meanwhile, is an ode to lost love over churning electric guitars and panging piano melodies. So plug in to The Magnolia Electric Co and let Ohia lull your blues away. — Louis Miller

CAVE IN

Antenna (RCA)

The evolution of Cave In from Beantown hardcore troop to interstellar space junkie-bunch has been well documented. Leaving the neurotic guitar riffs, freak-and-shriek vocals and mind-melting timing (see 1999's Until Your Heart Stops) to fellow Bostonians Converge, Cave In sheds its hardcore skin and surprised everyone with 2000's post-hardcore masterpiece, Jupiter. Moving from indie Hydrahead to RCA, Cave In recorded its major-label debut, Antenna, with producer Rich Costey (Jurassic 5, Pavement). The new effort finds Cave In still evolving; while it has toned down the spacey qualities that made Jupiter a mammoth force that engulfed listeners into its warped orbit, the band has focused its message, resulting in an album that relies more on the rock and less on astrophysical inspiration. There's still plenty to discover in this universe, however, as "Joy Opposites," "Inspire," "Anchor," "Seafrost" and "Rubber And Glue" are some of Cave In's strongest tunes to date. This Antenna reaches far and succeeds, but Cave In's greatest work still lies ahead. This is a career band that is slowly unfolding before our very eyes. — Kevin Boyce

VENDETTA RED

Shatterday EP (Epic) This EP is a lot like a free sample from a drug dealer: it's great, but once you've consumed it, you'll be begging for more. Vendetta Red is going to be the next big thing from Seattle and its forthcoming album, Between The Never And The Now, is nothing short of brilliant. The band may get lumped into the genre that is cheekily becoming known as "screamo," but that's not a bad place to be — and its music is representative of much more. We only get five tracks from Shatterday: three selections from the upcoming album and two B-sides that sound unusually playful compared to the harder-edged tones the band is more well-known for. "Ribcage Menagerie" comes off like rocked-out pop-punk, while the bouncy "Lucid Lanquid" is reminiscent at times of Mudhoney. The star of this EP, however, is the anthemic title track; a bit of a slow builder, the song grows around singer Zach Davidson's "cryptic scriptures" before blooming into a full-fledged rock 'n' roll singalong. Get your fix now and you'll have the shakes by the time the album comes.

CORAL

The Coral

(Deltasonic-Columbia) In a perfect world, every band's ultimate goal would be to make timeless music which is exactly what the British lads in the Coral do. Melding multi-part harmonies, reggae-influenced guitar noodling and creatively vibrant melodies, the songs on the Liverpool-based band's self-titled debut album sound as if they could have been recorded in 1968, but, paradoxically, don't sound at all dated. And they don't follow trends. Frontman James Skelly has claimed there hasn't been a group like the Coral for a long time; it would be easy to scoff if he wasn't right. How many other bands out there draw from influences as varied as Captain Beefheart, Bob Marley and ancient sea shanties? The eclecticism goes across the board here, from "Dreaming Of You," with its throbbing bass, sax blasts and simple, yet essential, marimba plunks, making for a masterfully crafted doo-wop ditty, to "Goodbye," which could be a Merseybeat gem from a really cool oldies station if wasn't for the modern production. Whatever you call it, don't call it retro. This is future music. — Brad Filicky

STRATFORD 4

Love And Distortion (Jetset) Stratford 4 frontman Chris Streng was once in a San Francisco band called Wave, along with Black Rebel Motorcycle Club's Rob Turner and Peter Hayes, but in 1999 he united with guitarist Jake Hosek, drummer Andrea Caturegli and bassist Sheetal Singh to form S4. The quartet unleashed its aural aphrodisiac of a debut, The Revolt Against Tired Noises, to rave reviews in 2001, and now its follow-up, Love And Distortion, is here, presenting fuzzy compositions that sit somewhere between Jesus And Mary Chain and The Cure's Bloodflowers. Cozy guitar strums take the listener by the hand on this ride through both crunchy rock numbers like "Kleptophilia" and sweeter offerings such as "Where The Ocean Meets The Eye" and "Tonight Will Be Alright," while the reflective "Telephone" captures the delicacy of a parent-child relationship and the role music can play within it, musing, "You're old enough now/ I can't tell you what to do/ it all depends on what you're listening to." Ah yes, but what you should be listening to is Stratford 4.

LIBERTINES

Up The Bracket (Rough Trade)
To call the Libertines the "English Strokes" is akin to calling the Streets the "British Eminem": they may dwell in the same realm of leather, liquor and lasciviousness as their NYC counterparts, but the London-based rockers in the Libertines go way beyond the one-trick pony show of Julian and friends.

Of course, with two frontmen instead of one, a higher level of diversity is more-or-less a given, as proven by the hedonistic team of Carl Barât and Pete Doherty. The group's debut (produced, no less, by Mick Jones of The Clash) opens with "Vertigo," which will do little to dissuade Strokes comparisons, but the follow-up, "Death On The Stairs," makes it clear that this is a band raised more on The Jam than the Velvet Underground. In fact, the meeting point between the mod-stylings of Weller and co. and the timeless punk of Mick and Joe seems to be exactly where Barât and Doherty collide, birthing everything from the soaring "The Good Old Days" to the ephedrine-driven "I Get Along." The ringing in your ears? That's London calling, once again. You'd best accept the charges. — Doug Levy

KAADA

Thank You For Giving Me Your Valuable Time (Ipecac) Academics suppose the reason sample-based music currently has the zeitgeist by the nuts is because road-tested sounds tap into our shared experiences. The astonishing debut by Norwegian cult artist Kaada sounds like a mélange of dusty vocal lines and rare grooves penetrating the secret highways of the '40s, '50s, '60s and '70s American land-scape, but most of this multi-hued demi-collage blurs the line between sampledelica and in-studio trickery. Without knowing where the samples end and his own impassioned howl begins, Kaada ties multiple genres into knots, from fractured doo-wop to funkdafied Italian cinema scoring. "Care" is like the Coasters breezin' into a spaghetti western, while "Black California" is along the lines of the Trashmen cavorting with the Chemical Brothers. "All Wrong" is all twisted Norwegian cowboy muckafuck and "Burden" is a fervent soul-croon that may convince some that DJ

Shadow couldn't put a tear in your eye with a bag of onions. Kaada is the crossroads where Morricone meets Motown meets Mo' Wax — a samplin' fool that makes Avalanches look like snowflakes. —

VARIOUS ARTISTS

Badd Inc. (Mogul Electro) It's hard to believe, but RuPaul's smash drag anthem "Supermodel" has had much more of an influence on dance music than most of us thought possible. It's a little-known fact that the track was actually penned by Larry Tee, originator of the term "electroclash" and the President/CEO of Mogul Electro Records, whose stable of incredibly eccentric artists makes Badd Inc. the definitive modern soundtrack for an evening of sashaying and chantaying. Everything you need is here, from cross-dressing beauty queen Torbell Von Carter's repeated shrieks of, "I'm Catherine Deneuve," on the flamboyant "Useless," to the Gay Pimp Johnny McGovern professing his love for team sports on "Soccer Practice," to Avenue D's "Do I Look Like A Slut," the hottest piece of bass since 2 Live Crew's "Me So Horny." If you aren't scared yet, check out girlgroup Spalding Rockwell's "White Cotton Panties," Dirty Sanchez's "Replicunt" and current sensation W.I.T.'s "Ooh, I Like It." The electroclash answer to

FWILD BUNCH

With its new album, The Remote Part, Idlewild is returning to America from the remote port of Scotland.

dlewild may finally be getting its due. While its last album, 2001's 100 Broken Windows, saw the Scottish band break free of its punk rock roots by taking a more intense interest in melody and lyricism, The Remote Part, the group's third full-length, finds it testing its furthest boundaries and winding up in a place where big anthems, distorted indie rock, introspection and poetry meet and become one. Released last year in the U.K. and Europe, the disc has already elevated the band to even higher critical acclaim than the usual accolades it receives at home. Now, with the album finally showing up here in the States, a major headlining club tour and a series of dates opening for the stadium rockers in Pearl Jam to support it, Idlewild looks set to repeat the feat.

Not that it's been all sunshine and lollipops for the lads. In fact, just as things were really starting to look up, they suffered a difficult setback. With The Remote Part exceeding everyone's expectations overseas, the band triumphantly hit the road in Europe in advance of an arena tour supporting Coldplay. Within days, amidst a whirlwind of rumors and speculation, bassist Bob Fairfoull suddenly announced his departure from the group.

"It was four dates into a tour, but those first four dates were just so bad that something had to happen sooner or later," remembers frontman Roddy Woomble. "It was going to happen for a long time, put it that way. It was just a case of when it happened."

This was back in October. Now, well into the New Year, with Fairfoull's replacement, Gavin Fox, having established his place in the band and the turbulence in the past, it's easier to reflect. The fact that Idlewild continued on with that tour last year, with bass tech Alan Grant stepping in temporarily, remains as a testament to the group's dedication, both to its music and its fans.

"There's a reason why Bob left," says Woomble. "It was because no one was getting on. He wasn't into it. It was just a really unhealthy atmosphere on tour. And now everyone's so relaxed and happy. And he's happier as well. He's playing in another band now and he's just much happier doing what he's doing. He didn't really like going on tour, and to be honest, he had a lot of problems and being on tour was really the worst place he could possibly be. So he's much happier and more settled now, and we just feel like a new band, almost; certainly a new version of us."

With the domestic release of The Remote Part, this "new" Idlewild (which also includes guitarists Rod Jones and Allan Stewart and drummer Colin Newton) is more excited than ever to be making its return to the States. After all, not only did Woomble grow up "obsessed with American music," but also the last time he and his bandmates were here, supporting 100 Broken Windows, they were more than happy with the reception they got.

"We seemed to be embraced quickly by the College scene — College Radio and the clubs and publications associated with Teenage Fanclub," reveals Woomble.

"Obviously, we like a lot of different styles individually, but that's two bands that we just adore. People that like music love Gang Of Four, but loads of people have no idea who they are. We played a tour last April and we played 'I Found That Essence Rare' every night, and afterwards, without fail, there were people coming up to us and saying, 'I love that new song.' But it's good to play, because we have quite a young fan base in Britain, and they don't really know about those kinds of bands.

"Music's an education of sorts," he continues. "The more you grow up with it and meet people and see bands, the more you begin to know about it. It's kind of a vast world to be discovered, isn't it? I don't think I could see one style of music I'm specifically into. At the moment, my favorite things are Jim O'Rourke — I think he's just got a stroke of genius about him — all his records and all the stuff he works with. And I love that Bright Eyes record, as well. That last Bright Eyes record I think was fantastic."

Does this mean that on top of everything else, we've found an established artist — to basically just get some more background about the written word. So I contacted Edwin and I kind of got friendly with him, just through writing. One thing led to another, and eventually he ended up writing this poem, because we started talking about lyrical themes and ideas. I went and taped him speaking at his flat and it just sounded so good that we had to use it for something. In a kind of accidental way, it just fitted perfectly at the very end of the record."

Considering that Idlewild is a band that was initially known for the chaos of its live shows and the wild exuberance of its young fans, its attention to such intellectual matters stands out in almost stark contrast. But it also provides a look at the very dichotomy that gives the band much of its appeal. "A lot of people like music that's more lyrical," agrees Woomble. "For example, things like Belle And Sebastian. There aren't really many rock bands like that, and I think we maybe are a rock band with a lot of thought behind it. That, by and large, is kind of rare for a band, especially with the kind of music you can really jump around to. I think it's that balance

"We seemed to be embraced quickly by the College scene — College Radio and the clubs and publications associated with College rock. It was something we instantly felt comfortable with." — Idlewild's Roddy Woomble

College rock," says Woomble. "It was something we instantly felt comfortable with — the people that were coming to see us, the people we were meeting, the people we were talking to. It felt really natural. So, my own experience so far of America has been that it's one of my favorite places to travel around and be in, and playing-wise, the people there kind of take to Idlewild really quickly."

Listening to the band's songs, it's not hard to understand why that connection can happen so fast. It's immediately apparent that this is a group that cares not only about its own music, but about music in general. And while the band most commonly draws comparisons to mid-period R.E.M., there are many other elements at play within its modern epics, as well. Its recent cover of Gang Of Four's "I Found That Essence Rare" (a B-side from the "Live In A Hiding Place" U.K. single) serves as further insight into the complex map of musical paths that led Idlewild to where it is today.

"Collectively, as a band, if all five of us could name favorites, our favorite bands would probably be Gang Of Four and who, far from being jaded, still gets excited about new music?

"Oh definitely, yeah," says Woomble, without hesitation. "Going to a record shop is still a major event."

It isn't just music that gets Idlewild worked up, either. As one might guess from paying attention to the lyrics on both The Remote Part and 100 Broken Windows, literature can have a similar effect. "I just really, really like reading books," admits Woomble, who went so far as to reference Gertrude Stein in one of the band's biggest singles, "Roseability." "I just find it something that I never tire of, really."

On the new album's closing track, "The Remote Part/Scottish Fiction," a reading by Scottish poet Edwin Morgan brings a sweepingly cinematic effect to things, ending the proceedings on an extremely high note. "My mother was a big fan and she introduced me to his writing when I was younger," Woomble explains. "I gained enough confidence during 100 Broken Windows to actually consider myself to be a lyricist that wasn't bad at it. And I wanted to just ask someone that people like. Fifty percent of the crowd does come just to jump around, and 50 percent comes to listen to the lyrics and just get into the whole band and the way it's presented and the people we are. I think that's a nice balance to have."

At the end of the day, if there's one thing that's entirely clear, it's that with Idlewild, regardless of what you wish to call it, or how you choose to approach it, the music is undeniably genuine. "One thing about us is we always put ourselves across as we are, mistakes and all," says Woomble. "I don't know if that's distinctly Scottish, but I do recognize that a lot of my friends from Scotland are kind of like that. I also think that if you put yourself across that way, your background, where you grew up, is bound to seep through into it.

"I do think that The Remote Part and 100 Broken Windows have a definite Scottish theme lyrically," he concludes. "But it's not tartan and shortbread and bagpipes. It's not that kind of Scotland. I think you can relate to it if you're from a small town in Wyoming. Or Spain. Or Japan. And in that way, it's really universal."

200 Moves

fter a three-week stint in the pole position, Nick Cave And The Bad Seeds surrender the No. 1 spot on the Radio 200 chart to Postal Service  $(2-1^)$ . Congrats to the whole crew over at Sub Pop for fending off a truckload of heavyweight competition within the Top 10 this week, specifically from Cat Power  $(3-2^)$ , the Go-Betweens (9-6*), Zwan (13-7*), Datsuns (11-9*) and the intensifying new one from Supergrass (26-10*). Outside of the Top 10, there were plenty of noteworthy chart moves this week, including Calexico (53-14*), Dirty Three (28-20*), Juliana Theory (38-27*), Thermals (137-28*!), Erlend Øye (48-31*), Further Seems Forever (56-34*), Aereogramme (173-36*!), Kinski (52-28*), the undeniably brilliant fulllength from Ry Cooder And Manuel Galban (50-42*) and Moving Units (57-43*). As for this week's major debuts, Aislers Set (D-41*), electroclash messiahs Fischerspooner (D-48*) and DJ Krush (D-55*) each made impressive first-round appearances on the chart. Next week, count on the unstoppable AFI (D-80*), Boy Sets Fire, Minus 5 (D-189*) and MCA's Fiction Plane (thanks for the Krispy Kremes, Ellena!) to begin making strides towards the top tier of the Radio 200. Also, if you haven't checked out that Lightning Bolt full-length, Wonderful Rainbow (D-110*), do yourself a favor and get on that shit — you'll be damn happy that you did.

Station Philosophy/ Audience Perception:

An alternative radio programming service for the Central Michigan area — new alternative music is heard here first.

Slogans/Position Statements:

"Modern Rock 91.5 — Where Music Begins"

How does the station differentiate itself from others in the market?

We're the only station in Mt. Pleasant that plays modern alternative rock music. We pride ourselves on being unique in the market. We're a station that people listen to for the best in new indie or alternative rock.

Does your station have a unique morning or afternoon drive show?

We have a unique morning show, called "Six Pack For The Soul," which our Program Director, Ryan Reker, produces and hosts on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. On Tuesday and Thursday mornings, we bring female voices to the station, with Tiff and Sarah in the morning.

News/Sports Programming Commitment:

We currently have strong news and sports departments. We cover every women's basketball game live on-air and will cover the baseball/softball schedules in the spring. There is also a sports talk show every Sunday afternoon, with periodic sports updates throughout the week. News is scheduled with reporters who come in on a regular basis to cover news events of the day on-air; they are scheduled throughout the week and weekend. Currently, we have news people specializing in specific areas so that there's always follow-up on things going on in specific areas. The news department also prepares live reads for DJs about events going on in the community and on campus and produces a community calendar that is updated weekly.

Station Marketing/Fund Raising:

Our business/grants staff solicits donations from local businesses in exchange for on-air announcements. Other than that, we do fundraising on our own. Right now, we're selling personalized modern rock T-shirts. We also had a fundraiser called "Bruise-A-Bronco" during a rival weekend of football with the Western Michigan University Broncos. Students could pay to take a sledgehammer to a Ford Bronco for a set amount of time. Coming up next we will have "Plachtapalooza," a fivehour concert experience that will showcase five local bands.

Regular Special Features:

"News Probe," a talk show format that mixes some music with entertainment news; "Sports Talk," a round-the-mic discussion with sports fanatics; "On The Edge," Christian rock; "Alphabet Soup," multiple genres of music selected by letters of the alphabet, Sesame Street-style; "Dark Nation Radio," gothic/industrial music; "Folks Jammin' In The Garage," a mixture of folk/grunge and some classic rock music; "Eighties Liberation Front," '80s rock; "Looking In The Shadows," music produced/performed by female artists; "Front-To-Back," all-album rock, two-tothree artists, one album each, played front-to-back; "The Garage," a block of early-'90s grunge music; "The Stomping Grounds," Jazz; "Big E's Classic Rock Blocks," classic rock; "The Rush," Top 20 tunes; "The Urban Exchange," Hip-Hop and urban; "The Furnace," heavy metal: "Batteries Not Included," allacoustic music.

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT MELLOWDRONE

ard at work in a Los Angeles "recording studio," Mellowdrone's Jonathan Bates is currently finishing his debut album, the follow-up to his wonderfully crafted, multi-influenced and way-too-short EP, A Demonstration Of Intellectual Property. "Lovingly" recorded in Bates's bedroom, Demonstration showcases the young musician's undeniably growing production talents. In 2000, after dropping out of the prestigious Berklee School Of Music with only two semesters left until graduation, Bates bolted to Los Angeles. "It was a sink or swim kind of thing," he remembers, admitting to spending quite a few months between residences before things in L.A. started to click. However, the gamble paid off. Bates's inventive and improvisational live shows and quirky home recordings began to garner a lot attention for the singer/songwriter/producer. Recording in the bedroom, Bates is Mellowdrone; playing out, he's accompanied by Scott Ellis on drums. If you missed the pair on tour with Johnny Marr And The Healers this winter, make a point of seeing them later this year — as a testament to their live performances, Bates has heard accounts of fans paying upwards of $200 to get into the very sold-out Marr shows, just to see Mellowdrone perform. While working on the new album, tentatively titled Naiveté, Bates told CMJ that he's kept himself busy by flying up to San Francisco every weekend to play, filing his taxes and getting ready to head out again with Marr for some dates in Japan.

How's the new record coming along?

I'd say I'm about 90 percent done, not including mixing, and I'm really psyched about it. It's got everything that I could think of. If I heard a piano then I recorded with a piano; if I heard a baby with gas, I recorded that.

Are you working in a more traditional studio at all?

Well, purposefully, I'm not recording in a studio. I still record mostly at home and my friend Tony's house. He's got a little studio in his backyard and the whole thing has been unofficial, so to speak. It's been very under the radar and it feels more like hanging out than working. It's been a real easy recording process. I've got my studio chops down to where I can pretty much do whatever I need to do at home or whatever hole in the wall I end up in. Being able to record anywhere is definitely very cool.

Did you have a definite vision for the sound of the album?

I did have a definite vision for the sound of this record — if you could imagine a Danny Elfman score meets the White Album meets Depeche Mode. I'll probably offend everybody by saying that, because I'm blending a lot of their favorite music and maybe they're not supposed to be together, but I'm going to try.

What kinds of lyrical themes have you been exploring?

I can't write songs about people I don't know. Paul McCartney can write songs about anybody, just to tell a story. I definitely can't do that. I'm writing songs about people I know and they don't know about it.

Are you working with anyone else as your producer?

Not really. I had someone listen to a few things and they kind of consulted with me a little, sharing some ideas, but as far as having a producer in the room to say, "Let's do that again," that wasn't happening. I wouldn't rule it out in the future to get a different perspective on things, but right now I don't think I need it.

Would you try to work with someone whose style is similar to yours?

As far as being in my own skin, I know that better than anybody else. If I were going to involve somebody else, I would need the complete opposite to kick me in the ass. I would love to work with somebody that had nothing to do with what I was doing. That way, it would force me to think of things that I wouldn't think naturally.

What are your thoughts on being compared to artists like Radiohead and Beck?

If you put yourself out there and people want to make comparisons, that's cool. If I'm ripping off anybody, it's [Radiohead and Beck producer] Nigel Godrich. He's the shit. He's like Missy Elliot, except the white version. If I ever meet that guy I'd buy him a drink and apologize for ripping him off.

"If I'm ripping off anybody, it's Nigel Godrich. He's the shit. He's like Missy Elliot, except the white version."

- Jonathan Bates

How did things go when you were out on the road with Johnny Marr?

It couldn't have gone any smoother. He was so fucking cool to me, to the point where his crew was helping us carry gear and do sound. Johnny and I ended up doing duets on-stage on later dates. We all got along really well. I don't think it could get any better than that.

Can we expect to see any changes in your live show after the album comes out?

With the EP out, it's been just Ellis and me. When the album comes out, because it's going to be a fully recognized thing, there's going to be a band. It won't be a rock show all the way through — it's gonna be me by myself, then joined by other musicians.

So how would you describe the tone of the new disc — happy or cynical?

Not to sound like a fucking hippie, but I've reached a point in my life where I don't blame anybody for anything. So, I would say it's a happier album and not so cynical.

Do you have any favorite tracks so far?

There are a couple, "My Turn" and "Motivation," that don't sound like anything I've ever heard. On the EP, it's obvious that the music was influenced by a lot of things, and I think on this record I don't sound like anybody else.

- Interview by Brad Maybe

he lineup for Ozzfest 2003 has been announced: the main stage will feature Ozzy, Marilyn Manson, Disturbed, KoRn and Chevelle. Second stagers include: Cradle Of Filth (fucking metal), Killswitch Engage, Shadows Fall, Nothingface, TRUST company, Finger Eleven, Grade 8, Hotwire, Sworn Enemy, Twisted Method, Unloco and Memento. Cradle and TRUSTcompany will be second stage headliners, enjoying fixed, late-after noon slots throughout the whole tour, while the rest of the lineup will rotate. With Cradle, the Shads and KSE, that looks to be one helluva metal side stage! Nice work, Sharon. The tour kicks off at the end of June and runs through the end of August. Check www.ozzfest.com for official dates and venues. • We've also got some new info on the New England Metal And Hardcore Fest, to be held May 16-17 at the Palladium in exotic Worcester, Massachusetts. Among the bands slated to perform are (get ready to shit your pants): Opeth, Nora, Lamb Of God, Converge, Eighteen Visions, Mastodon, Shadows Fall, Killswitch Engage, Diecast, Beyond The Sixth Seal, Atreyu, Pig Destroyer, Nevermore, Red Chord, Suffocation, Kataklysm and Haunted. Despite previous reports, Cradle Of Filth will not headline the Fest due to the band's commitment to Ozzfest. It's worth noting that even though KSE and the Shads have the same obligations, the two New England bands will perform. Go figure. • Soilwork has set the title of its forthcoming album as Figure Number Five and it's due out in May. Among the new tracks are "Rejection Role," "Downfall 24," "Brickwaller," "Figure Number Five," "Strangler," "Light The Torch," "The Mindmaker," "Brickwalker," "Distortion Sleep," "Cranking The Sirens," "Depature Plan" and "Overload." Bring it on, you Billy Corgan look-alike! Come on! With the milk white head, you cannot deny that frontman Bjorn Strid is a deadringer for the Zwan/Smashing Pumpkins leader. • At press time, it was reported that Norway's Limbonic Art have officially split up. • Most Precious Blood frontman Tom Sheehan has left the band to return to his full-time day job as a forensic psychologist — like those guys we see on Court TV and A&E true crime news magazines. You might remember that Sheehan left Indecision (two members of MPB were also in Indecision) and was replaced. Sheehan's MPB replacement is Rob Fusco of One King Down fame. Fusco left OKD acrimoniously, and was replaced, and then returned to the fold once again before OKD called it quits for good. What a tangled web hardcore kids weave. • System Of A Down guitarist Shavo Odadjian will show new skills when he directs the forthcoming TapRoot video for the band's next single, "Mine." Odadjian helped lense his own band's vids for "Ariels" and "Toxicity," both of which were rotated on MTV ad nauseum. • A charity auction has been organized to assist Soilent Green/Goatwhore frontman Ben Falgoust in paying down his mounting medical debts. Falgoust sustained two broken legs, among other injuries, when Soilent Green was involved in two (!) separate van accidents in 2001 and 2002. Many items for auction are available on www.ebay.com, including signed In Flames, Krisiun, Arch Enemy and Nevermore photos! Tons of bands from a variety of labels, including Metal Blade, Prosthetic, Sanctuary, Century Media, Nuclear Blast and Earache have generously donated items, so point your browsers and help a brother out. • Philadelphia's This Day Forward, probably our favorite hardcore-style band to come out of the City of Brotherly Love since

Turmoil, has completed work on In Response. The platter is due on Equal Vision in the spring. Track titles are as follows: "In The Past, On The Ground," "White Pickett Defense System," "The Red Room," "Voice," "Abandon The Abbreviated World," "Fragile Version," "The Breath," "One And One," "Euphio Question" and "Nouveau." We've been privileged enough to hear some demos and we believe this will put TDF firmly on the map. • Innovative hardcore band pageninetynine has broken up. • A few weeks back, we announced that Medication was going on hiatus. As it turns out, the band has indeed decided to split up and go its separate ways. We wish the former members — Whit Crane, Blunt, Logan Mader, Kyle Sanders — luck in their future projects. • Guitarist Marcos Curiel has exited or was fired from, depending on whom you ask — P.O.D. to work on a new band with members of San Diego's Sprung Monkey. In an open letter to P.O.D.'s platinum-plus sized fanbase, P.O.D. leader Sonny Sandoval wrote, "Because of your loyalty and respect, it saddens me to say that Marcos is no longer with P.O.D. As some of you may have already heard, Marcos has chosen to pursue his own vision apart from P.O.D. Never have we imagined P.O.D. without him, but we now know this vision is bigger than the four of us. I feel that there are still so many good things in store for those of us who have put our lives on the line for what we believe in." Living Sacrifice's Jason Truby has replaced Curiel. • Marilyn Manson will release The Golden Age Of Grotesque on May 13. What a fitting title. • The band Lifer (formerly on Universal Records) has changed its moniker to myDownfall. Check www.mydownfall.com for more information. • Ex-Dillinger Escape Plan singer Dimitri Minakakis has formed a new band called Tokyo with ex-members of Knives Out. The band is scheduled to perform its first show on April 6 at The First Unitarian Church in Philly. • Zyklon has returned to the studio to record its second album, due out on Sept. 9. • Finally, if you or your significant other are expecting a kid, please go to www.metalbabies.com to attire your baby

INDUSTRY NEWS

There's no confirmation, but several sources have indicated that Glassjaw has split with Freeze Artist Management, which currently handles the careers of hot property such as The Used. No official word has come down, but the streets are abuzz. • Promosexuals looking to get in touch with Vince "Real Rock" Perfetto at WRQC should note his new call hours: Tuesdays, from 12-2 p.m., EST. Dial him up at: 239.479.5592. That is indeed the station's request line, but he has created his hours as a convenience for promotion reps to get in touch with him. If you call outside of the designated hours, you won't get an automated service, but a live DJ who won't be as quick or apt to take messages! So, please get in touch with him within the assigned block of time. He thanks you for your cooperation. • Congrats to KWHL/ Anchorage "In The Pit!" host

FIVE QUESTIONS WITH... SWORN ENEMY'S LORENZO ANTONUCCI

After a listen to Sworn Enemy's As Real As It Gets, you might surmise that this is one tough crew of New York boys you don't want to tango with in a back alley! But after conversing with guitarist Lorenzo Antonucci, we realized that while the band's music will beat you to a bloody, unrecognizable pulp, this crew (discovered by Jamey Hatebreed) is a bunch of pussycats!

What's Sworn Enemy's take on its 9/11 tribute, "Sworn Enemy"?

We wrote that song on tour with Hatebreed last year, three months after the tragedy. We got denied entrance to Canada, so we went into the studio. [Vocalist] Sal [LoCoco] wrote the lyrics and it flowed right into being a 9/11 tribute. We decided to call it "Sworn Enemy," as the anthem song for the band and [as a proclamation of] our dedication to our state and city.

We thought your drummer was called Paulie Walnuts, but it turns out, he's called Paulie No Neck! That's some Sopranos shit right there! How did the name originate? When he was younger, he was in a New York band called Everybody Gets Hurt. He had no neck, like a football player. He had no neck and a big peanut head. He eventually grew a neck, but the name still stuck with him!

Sworn Enemy reminds us of old school thugcore: Madball, Skarhead, Sheer Terror.

"Thug" is definitely not what we are. That is what people think we are. That is the perception. Yes, we sing about fighting people. But we're the nicest dudes. We're always at our merch table talking to kids. When it comes to pounding somebody out, we do what we gotta do. But we also learn from our mistakes.

I meant that the music makes you want to beat the crap out of people! That is definitely true!

If you weren't playing guitar in Sworn Enemy right now, what would you be doing?

Doing construction, making $100,000 a year! I quit a $52 an hour job to do this — to make a $100 a week, but it's what I love. I was working in the Hamptons and hated it. If we constantly tour and pay our bills, I will be happy. We've been paying dues. We used to go on tour, driving three cars in a caravan, and one of them had a bed. We're all big, husky dudes. There's a not a lot of room to be sharing the bed. It sucks. But we did it because we love to play music.

ESSENTIAL LOUD ROCK DOUBLE DISC OF THE MONTH!

VARIOUS ARTISTS Contaminated 5.0 (Relapse)

With schoolwork piling up, not to mention the massive mountain of CDs cluttering your desk, you probably just barely have the time to listen to all of the discs that promoters have sent you and are haggling you to play on the air. Regardless, take our advice and listen to the monstrous two-headed beast that is Contaminated 5.0, the fifth installment of Relapse's genre-defining label sampler. There's no question that 157 minutes of music is excessive, but when it's this damn extreme and of this high quality, 157 minutes simply isn't enough! Relapse brain mashers like Nasum, Exhumed and Benumb share space with Pig Destroyer, Regurgitate, East-West Blast Test, Cryptic Slaughter and Suffocation. Even Release Entertainment (Relapse's sister label, which specializes in ambient and noise) is represented in the form of 27 and Amber Asylum. Man, Relapse is just too good at what it does. Two discs. 45 tracks. Praise Satan.

CAVE IN

Loud rock fans are still talking about Cave In's metamorphosis from people-pleasing metalcore into spacey indie rock. It's understandable, since the Boston band's 1999 outing, Until Your Heart Stops, was a near perfect metalcore album. However, Cave In, after having crafted an ingeniously heavy record, decided to reinvent itself for 2000's Jupiter, a spacey, Pink Floyd-influenced outing that won the band critical acclaim. The quartet's latest, Antenna, is the sum of the band's stylistic choices; it's less interplanetary than Jupiter and more accessible – just give "Inspire" or "Joy Opposites" a whirl, both of which are true rock 'n' roll tunes, yet more exciting than the cookie cutter fodder on your local FM station. There's still plenty of atmospherics on Antenna, as the basic shell of the album consists of subsonic psychedelia, but it's plain to see that the Cave In kids have not forgotten how to rock. "Beautiful Son" and "Seafrost" are angular songs that wholly avoid the pretense of indie rock and the balls out avalanche of true heavy metal, but Cave In is still toeing the line without a net.

VOIVOD

Voivod (Chophouse) The three songs (namely "Gasmask Revival," "Rebel Robot" and "We Carry On") on the Voivod sampler currently at radio really reminded us of Angel Rat and Outer Limits-era Voivod. However, upon listening to the new fulllength, dubbed Voivod, we were instantly reminded of 1988's Dimension Hatross, inarguably Voivod's best work. When we interviewed Voivod neophyte Jason Newsted about Voivod, he promised that it would be his triumphant return to metal and that it would follow in the tradition of Dimension Hatross. Odd rhythms and quirky tunings abound on Voivod, so we're going to thank Mr. Newsted for being truthful and for growing out his hair and returning to the land of true metal. While Voivod might sound "dated" to new school metal fans, diehards would consider the album "classic." Voivod influenced a generation with Dimension, as well as 1989's Nothingface, and this self-titled slab incorporates the band's always forwardthinking vision. Vocalist Snake's gravelly voice fits the puzzle perfectly on "Blame Up," "Real Again?" and "The Multiverse."

STEREOMUD

Every Given Moment

(Columbia) Stereomud's debut, Perfect Self, had a lot going for it. Featuring former members of Life Of Agony and Stuck Mojo (namely Corey Lowery, the younger brother of Sevendust guitarist Clint Lowery, and the intense Joey Z. of L.O.A. fame) and an on-fire single in the form of "Pain," Stereomud seemed on its way to rock radio superstardom. Perfect Self moved 100,000 units and then the momentum went kaput. Every Given Moment builds on the solid attributes of its predecessor, in the form of frat party riffing and singer Eric Rogers's impassioned – and sometimes melodramatic — delivery. Rogers's soulful throat will elicit comparisons to Sevendust's Lajon Witherspoon; in fact, plenty of Every Given Moment calls to mind the hard rockin' hooks of that brother band. "Show Me," "Anything But Jesus" and "Breathing" will, if nothing else, etch a place in your cranium with their catchiness. Every Given Moment also feels less produced than Perfect Self, which practically had three different producers per song. While core fans, especially L.O.A.-heads, will scratch their heads at Joey Z's change of style (from Black Sabbath to Disturbed), Stereomud and Every Given Moment bring enough to the table to win over even stubborn metalheads.

TERROR

Lowest Of The Low

(Bridge 9)

In today's post-9/11 climate, a band with the name Terror might be politically incorrect. Regardless, this Terror doesn't spend a lot of time caught in political traffic. Name aside, Terror is the new band of former Buried Alive/Despair frontman Scott Vogel. Vogel dropped off the face of the earth sometime in 2000, only to resurface at Hellfest 2002 with a demo in hand. Terror hybridizes elements of both Vogel's former bands; "Keep Your Distance" and the title track utilize Vogel's organic, from-the-fiery-pits-of-his-belly growl, which are prevalent in both Buried Alive and Despair. There are also breakdowns galore, but where Terror goes off the beaten path is with the more straightforward, traditional hardcore guitar work. This sound very much symbolizes the "Bridge 9" hardcore sound. Come on kids! This is your last chance to dance!

NORAH JONES SONGWRITER SIGNS DEAL

Norah Jones fans take note: singer/songwriter Jesse Harris has signed with Verve imprint Blue Thumb. Harris is responsible for penning such Jones tunes as the hit "Don't Know Why," "Shoot The Moon," "I've Got To See You Again," "One Flight Down" and the Jones co-written "The Long Day Is Over." Longtime New York fans have seen Harris performing with a pre-stardom Jones on a part-time basis, often hopping on stage to play guitar for the songs he wrote. Word is that Harris, who had several offers on the table, was a fan of the Blue Thumb label and was excited to be part of the same catalog that includes works by Dave Mason, the Crusaders, Robben Ford, Leon Redbone and others.

LIZZ WRIGHT RELEASE ANNOUNCED

After stunning folks with her performance at the 2003 IAJE and grabbing a rave from the LA Times's Don Heckman, Georgia-based singer Lizz Wright will make her muchanticipated debut May 13 on Verve. Produced by label head Tommy LiPuma (Diana Krall, Barbara Streisand), Brian Blade and Jon Cowherd, Salt features five originals by the 23-year-old Wright and a song written by her and Blade, as well as Mongo Santamaria's "Afro Blue," Flora Purim's "Open Your Eyes" and more. Wright also does a convincing job on "When I Get Home," from the musical The Wiz. It may be both a blessing and a curse to say that Salt could be this year's Come Away With Me, but there are similarities: both singers are young, their music isn't easily categorized as Jazz (whereas Jones's is more singer/songwriter and blues-driven, Wright's is more gospel and R&B-based) and both where plucked from relative obscurity. No doubt Verve is hoping for big things.

BLUEBIRD REISSUES FLYING DUTCHMAN TRACKS

Jazz compilations come and go, often with the label looking for a way to squeeze some more juice out of its catalog. So, no one is going to say that the folks over at Bluebird/RCA were being completely altruistic when they assembled the Flying Funk and Flying Groove collections, but both make for fun listening. These two discs collect 30 tracks from the somewhat forgotten Flying Dutchman label, which was founded in 1969 by noted producer Bob Thiele. Now labeled as "rare groove" or "rare funk," these songs captured the bit of the '60s/'70s Afro-centric zeitgeist when Jazz folk were plugging in, turning up, growing their 'fros and getting funky. The music was somewhat forgotten until European DJs and underground Hip-Hop artists starting digging into this stuff — now, tracking down the original vinyl could run into the thousands.

Although some artists appear on both compilations, Flying Funk has a harder edge to it, while Flying Groove takes a space jam approach to matters. Nina Simone's versions of Aretha Franklin's "Save Me" and Ike and Tina Turner's "Funkier Than A Mosquito's Tweeter" will both be surprising to those more familiar her ballad work, while the unheralded Nite-Liters' "Afro-Strut" is unexpectedly groovy. Many know Gato Barbieri, but his live version of "El Pampero" is considerably more out and energetic than the sound commonly associated with the saxophonist. Some of the more popular songs included are Gil Scott-Heron's "The Revolution Will Not Be Televised" and David Axelrod's much celebrated "Messiah (Overture)." Overall, there are plenty of gems here for anyone looking for stuff to sample or to simply get their groove on.

ORRIN KEEPNEWS BIRTHDAY BASH

Moose's Restaurant in San Francisco was the place to be on March 2, when Orrin Keepnews celebrated his 80th birthday. Featuring live music and testimonials from friends, the party celebrated the life of one of Jazz's most celebrated producers and A&R men. In recent years,

> Keepnews has focused on remastering reissues of records he often produced first time around, but he has also helped put together comprehensive boxed sets like the 24-disc Ellington Centennial Edition box in 2000 and, more recently, the Artie Shaw box.

From a historical perspective, it's hard to overestimate Keepnews's impact on Jazz. From a musician's perspective, he ran such labels as Prestige, Riverside, Milestone and Landmark, which collectively released so many important sides that Ken Burns could have done his whole documentary on Keepnews's projects and there wouldn't have been many substantial holes. From a fan's perspective, Keepnews, who is a walking quote, often wrote the liner notes for his records, which often taught many fans out there about the music and therefore helped shape how they thought about Jazz. And the man has yet to retire: watch for new Keepnews-produced albums by saxophonist Dave Ellis, out April 22, and Live-Lee, a live recording from the Jazz Bakery featuring Lee Konitz and Alan Broadbent, out June 3, both on Milestone.

Proceeds from the party will benefit the Education Fund of the San Francisco Recording Academy.

CHRISTIAN MCBRIDE BAND

Vertical Vision (Warner Bros.) After starting out in a straight-forward vein, Philly bass phenom Christian McBride has found his way to a great brand of Jazz fusion. On Vertical Vision, his first album for Warner Bros. and fifth as a leader, McBride is all over the place, multi-tracking his bass parts, solo-ing with mouthwatering chops on electric and upright and even bowing his way through a few solos. McBride and co. come out of the gate with a ferociously funky "Technicolor Nightmare," which rages with a driving groove and massive hook, and close with the also hard and lengthy "Boogie Woogie Waltz." Some of the slower tunes in between the bookends get a bit glossy, but crackling musicianship from keyboardist Geoff Keezer, saxophonist Ron Blake and drummer Terreon Gully give this album a formidable pulse, especially when they're navigating the rhythmic and harmonic complexities of the more upbeat stuff.

DENNIS CHAMBERS

Outbreak (ESC)

After decades of being a first-call drummer, Dennis Chambers makes his debut as a leader on Outbreak. His polyrhythmic big beat is complemented here by such heavy friends as guitarist John Scofield, saxophonist Michael Brecker (who digs in deep) and trumpeter Randy Brecker. With Chambers drumming up rhythmic storms at will and leading the band on a serendipitous ride, Outbreak highlights his versatility and strength as both a bebopper and a funky fusion drummer. It's unfair to call this "old-school groove" (Chambers isn't that old), but Outbreak does illustrate how Jazzmen who came up in the '70s and '80s did, and still do, have something to offer.

SCOTT AMENDOLA BAND

Cry (Cryptogramophone)

Drummer Scott Amendola is known to many for his work with Charlie Hunter in the mid-'90s. On his second effort as a leader, Amendola constructs the kind of challenging Jazz Cryptogramophone is known for, while bringing in a gospel tune and some World beat flavor. The dirge-like version of Dylan's "Masters Of War" (sung by the Geraldine Fibbers's Carla Bozulich) is undoubtedly poignant and timely on its own, but the overall playing of guitarist Nels Cline, violinist Jenny Scheinman and Amendola himself is impressive enough to make this CD an excellent listen from beginning to end.

R.I.Y.L.: Charlie Hunter, Nels Cline, Either/Orchestra

Not only is Ben Harper (pictured above) charming the airwaves with his new single, "With My Own Two Hands," off of his new release, Diamonds On The Inside (due out on March 11), but the singer/songwriter will also charm American audiences when he launches an extensive summer tour of the States beginning in June. Hawaii native Jack Johnson, whose latest full-length, On And On, was produced by longtime Harper producer J.P. Plunier, will serve as the opening act on each of the 40 North American dates.

King Crimson will release its first full-length release in three years, entitled The Power To Believe, on March 4. To celebrate, Robert Fripp, Adrian Belew, Trey Gunn and Pat Mastelotto will take their distinctive progressive rock on the road. These guys are avid believers in working through new compositions on tour before recording them, so King Crimson fans can expect to hear material from the new release, as well as future works yet-to-be recorded.

The 2003 Ozzfest lineup of metal mayhem has been unleashed. KoRn, Marilyn Manson, Disturbed and Chevelle will support everyone's favorite Prince of Darkness on the main stage this year. On the second stage, look for Cradle Of Filth, TRUST company, Shadows Fall, the punishing Killswitch Engage, Nothingface and Grade 8, among others. The festival kicks off on June 28 in San Antonio, Texas.

Love Of Everything's Bobby Burg and Kevin Shea are teaming up with Joan Of Arc for a jaunt that will run from March 15-28. This outing celebrates the release of a new 15-minute EP by the duo, entitled friENDS. Love Of Everything is no stranger to the road; since 1999, the duo has played throughout the country with acts such as Microphones, Owen, Kyle Fischer and Chris Lee.

Les Claypool's Frog Brigade is hopping into the tour pond this May, beginning with a performance on May 4 in New Orleans. Claypool is undoubtedly a multitalented individual; in addition to fronting Primus, the bassist/vocalist also dabbles in producing, video direction and cartooning while running his record label, Prawn Song.

Entertaining exhibitionist Har Mar Superstar recently shook things up at the Noise Pop Festival's opening party in San Francisco on Feb. 25. The show was in preparation for an extensive tour from the portly Superstar, which is scheduled to run through April 7.

HART OF THE MATTER

hen it's done right, it makes you wonder why it can't always be done this way. This weekend, the Nitro-bred and DreamWorks-adopted AFI descended on LINCS stores with its yet-unborn release Sing The Sorrow (DW 50380)—not scheduled for delivery until March 11. The picture: 250 fans camped outside Rhino Records; 200 more outside Sounds Like...Music; 150 hung like a sleeping bag skirt around the front doors of Aron's Records and more—nearly a thousand AFI devotees pitched on LINCS concrete lawns in hopes of a free ticket to an exclusive street-date show and a pre-sale purchase of AFI's soon-to-be released record.

So what stirred the AFI rank-and-file? A thoughtfully planned, fan-focused, retail-directed promotion that looked to independents for what they do best—inspire and cultivate music fan devotion. You don't see these scenes outside Target. DreamWorks/UMVD made up beautifully embossed, red AFI-logo-ed tickets for the giveaway-with-pre-purchase-of-Sorrow promo Saturday. DW ran an ad with LINCS in the LA Weekly and E-blasted AFI's fan list. This helped bring in the legions of AFI fans who might not regularly frequent LINCS locales and gave them a chance to see indie stores as the hub where real fans and the music they love get, well... nurtured. There were also 7" promo-only vinyl copies and lithographs available for those who couldn't get a ticket and which helped continue spurring pre-sales. Within just a couple days, over 750 preorders have rolled in.

AFI have earned their pre-buzz stripes with indie releases on Nitro Records totaling nearly 600k (SoundScan alone—minus the overseas sales, which are substantial), a road and live show ethic that has won over even the most jaded industry junkies, let alone fans. We've been watching them even before we put them on our cover almost two years ago and we were late to game even then in identifying them as a band on the rise. Congrats to the label, the band, management for recognizing who really gave birth to this band's growing success and supported it throughout their career: independent retail.

Some say that "Sil" appearing in the line-up was perhaps unexpected, but you could tell the homage to the Clash that took the Grammy stage Sunday night was truly felt by Costello, Springsteen and Grohl—and we felt it too. The purpose was not to outdo or mainstream the Clash, but to pay respect. And for that, the 45th will be historic.

Owner, Sounds Like...Music Riverside, CA

Oh, what a week! What a tiring but glorious last week! Tuesday evening with 150 or so kids here at the store rocking out to Facedown Records' newest artists and Riverside's own Sinai Beach. Then onto Friday with Reggie And The Full Effect (well, James as "Paco" and his piano). Reggie held a group of 200 in the store and another 300 outside spellbound. Thanks Mirisa, Wayne and the folks at Vagrant for a great night. Special kudos to James, who stayed for everyone who wanted photos and copies of his handwriting or drawings—two hours, and all smiles. And the crowd: people from South Dakota, Arizona, New Mexico, Bakersfield, everywhere.

Then Saturday morning, pulling up to the store at 8:30 a.m., I was greeted by easily 100 good folks already in line for AFI presales and tickets. People were camping out. Mike locked up the store Friday night and there were already people waiting in a line for the morning: two folks came from Vegas to sleep on the sidewalk and they were tenth in line, a guy from New Mexico was twelfth. Thanks to Joe Kara at DreamWorks and Uni's Dave Anderson. It's always nice to start the morning with some action.

Label support is so nice to have. I mean how many CDs do AFI already have [Ed. Note: the upcoming Sing The Sorrow will be the band's sixth, not including at least three EPs] and yet DreamWorks went the extra mile with this promotion. The reward was not just in creating a giant buzz for their band, or providing the stores who have sold AFI through the years with a nice boost in sales, but for fans of the band—truly a win-win-win situation here. How often does this really happen? Reggie's piano bar show was another great example. I think he did eight shows nationally and we were lucky to be included. Here's a band (guy) with three CDs and yet Vagrant was willing to take the time to create that same win-win-win situation too. These things take time and effort and sometimes things don't fall in line, but when they do... you can't download, rip or burn this kind of stuff.

Press/TV	Tag Team media is working it. Early and supportive break from press everywhere: Entertainment Weekly, Blender, CMJ Monthly, Magnet, Rockpile, Sythesis, Rockbites, The Sentimentalist, with cities and weeklies popping up around the country. Watch this go.	CMJ, Outburn, Magnet, AP, NME, Q, Uncut, Stuff: UK's Sunday Times: "reverbed melancholia of Sigur Rós and Radiohead, the swirling psychedelia of Spiritualized, the hoary pop homage of Oasis, the barbed wired misanthropy of the J&MC and the dark, dense pattern-making of the Verve."	Press mailing just went out via Jen Malone at Black And White PR., but early support from RollingStone.com bodes well. It looks like there will be much more coming since line-up includes present Weezer and former Rocket From The Crypt guys.	Coverage appearing from surf/skate press to Seventeen magazine including Surfer Magazine, Transworld Surf, all the San Diego rags and local Fox affiliates, Orange County Register, Austin's ME Magazine, OC's SemiOK Magazine. Tour won't end until 6/20.
Internet	Best sites are www.kaada.no and ipecac.com (which has all the bio, album mini, logos and photos). The Kaada site is really well-done and has tons of info, music, merch, reviews and even a link dedicated to music "competitions."	The band's E-card allows folks to check out three songs and can be found at www.emperornorton.com/flashcards/phas er. Also check out www.phasermusic.com and www.emperornorton.com for news, updates, bios and tour info.	Best site is www.thespecialgoodness.com. Pre-orders at www.cinderblock.com and all pre-orders include a copy of the sin- gle and an autographed poster.	Best site for all things Switchfoot is switchfoot.com.
Notes	Album got signed to Ipecac the old fashioned way—Kaada sent in a demo (of his previous band, Cloroform) to Ipecac's Mike Patton. Mike dug it but had a packed release schedule and so asked (John) Kaada to keep in touch. Next album Kaada sent was Valuable and everyone was blown away. For displays and in-store play copies reach out to rai@ipecac.com (718.858.2717).	Originally self-released by the band, Emperor Norton's release of Sway has two new tracks, has been remastered and repackaged with new artwork. This album gets even better every time you hear it (and its great to begin with). For POP and other retail needs contact Emperor Norton at van@emperornorton.com	Brainchild of Pat Wilson (Weezer's drummer) on vocals/guitar with Atom Willard (Rocket From The Crypt, Moth) on drums. Land Air Sea will be available with three Itd. ed. covers. If pre-ordered, includes all three covers, a single and an autographed poster! For more info contact Scott at parker66@socal.rr.com. NOS Recordings is the invention of Sonic Boom owner Nabil Ayers.	Growing radio story and strong fanbase, born old-fashioned way: touring and indie releases (which total a couple hundred thousand records to date). Touted as "San Diego surfer guys blessed with good looks and pop hooks," their songs dig deeper than that. You'll be hearing a from this band in the months to come.

COUNTER CULTURE: CD CENTRAL Section by Jamie Farkas • jfarkas@cmj.com

oted "Best Place To Buy/Sell Used CDs" (Lexington's ACE Weekly poll, 2002) and "Best Local Record Store" (2000 and 2001 ACE polls), CD Central and its owner Steve Baron are clearly doing something right in Lexington. Early on, Steve was unhappy with L-Town's local stores, especially when it came to used CDs. So when he opened CD Central in March 1995, used CDs became his niche in fact, it was 95 percent of his stock. Over time, that percentage shifted to include more and more new product and eventually he moved CD Central from its indoor minimall home to its current locale on the University of Kentucky campus strip.

"We cater to people who are into music and are serious about exploring new sounds. For Lexington, we are that small island of alternative music culture," says Steve. "In a smaller city like Lexington, where there aren't as many media choices, a lot of folks aren't aware of the alternatives they have. A lot of what we do is try and orient people to what's out there. We see ourselves filling an educational role."

Q&A with Steve Baron, Co-Owner CD Central

What local press affects sales most? The ACE Weekly, our weekly arts and entertainment paper; Lexington Herald-Leader, the daily paper; and the University of Kentucky's paper The Kentucky Kernel.

What radio station affects sales most? WRSL, the University of Kentucky's station [WUKY] and our public AAA station [WRVG].

Do you have in-stores?

We do have in-stores and we have a PA. Some in-store highlights have been Alejandro Escovedo, Wesley Willis, Victoria Williams and Andrew Bird's Bowl of Fire.

The aptly named CD Central

What is your most effective program?

Our listening stations, especially the A.I.M.S. listening stations. Even though the A.I.M.S. posts are just getting started, they're already really effective and we can see a direct correlation between people checking out stuff and buying it.

What other programs do you offer? Are any of them discretionary?

Pretty much everything other than our listening stations is discretionary, and we have some discretionary listening posts too!

What types of non-traditional promotions have worked best?

We have a lot of success with our weekly Email newsletter, which includes new releases for the week, a review or two and whatever promotions we're running in the store. One thing we are really looking forward to doing is being a part of this year's Independence Day festival in Lexington. It's one of the biggest events of the year and there are always different stages with performers of all sorts. This coming year we are going to be able to sponsor a new music stage and it will be the first time alternative, original rock has been included as part of the festival.

What display materials work best for you? Posters and flats. We don't have a lot of counter space, so we generally can't use any countertop display boxes or things like that.

What records are your current and all time favorite records?

My current favorite is actually a reissue, Green On Red's Gas Food Lodging. All-time would be Yo La Tengo's Painful.

What's the first record you bought and where?

I can't remember the first record I bought, but I can remember the first record that was given to me, which happened way before I ever bought an album. It was a Monkees record given to me by my older cousin.

What's the best concert you've attended? I'll have to say Tom Waits at SXSW in 1999 (I think!). It was magical.

NEWSWORTHY

Snow joke! Jack Frost couldn't put the chill on Rochester, New York's Record Archive.

No Business Like Snow Business

On Sunday, February 15 and Monday, February 16, one of the most debilitating snow storms in decades pummeled the east coast, clogging up streets, closing subways, canceling sporting events and killing at least 28 people. The snow doused the eastern states with as much as two feet, and local businesses—including music retailers—were left standing in the cold, with many closing their stores until enough snow melted to open their doors.

No one seemed to be hit harder than Maryland, parts of which were hit with 49 inches. Suffice to say, Baltimore, Maryland's Sound Garden was closed on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Although they had ordered many of their new releases in advance, the snow prevented the Garden from receiving the latest shipment of the new R. Kelly records*. Sound Garden co-manager Alex Ashkenes estimates he had to turn away 20 to 30 people who came in the store searching for new Kelly CD. He was still dealing with the snow nightmare four days later, "There's a lot of shoveling going on," says Ashkenes. "My street still hasn't been plowed, four days later, so there's still people who can't drive."

Washington D.C. experienced the harshest snow storm it's seen in seven years, with two feet dumped before the storm moved north. DCCD owner Bernie Hackett was snowbound in Detroit at the time. After a call from the manager, the store was closed mid-Sunday. "Only one person came in here," Hackett says, "and it was just to get out of the snow. [The electric company] said they were turning off the power for four hours, so we were like, 'We're closed!" Luckily, Monday was President's Day and DCCD got a boost in business, since all of DC's many government employees were off for the holiday.

Hit hard in a different way was Louisville, Kentucky, who experienced a little snow, but mostly ice, freezing rain and sleet. Louisville's ear X-tacy closed Sunday due to the inclement weather: "It wasn't the blizzard, but it was enough to knock us out for the day," says ear X-tacy owner John Timmons. "I just put a note in the door that said 'Stay home.'" Luckily the ear-X crew made up the lost day with an in-store on Tuesday night with local Lava-signed post-grungers Outspoken that pushed almost 300 copies of their latest out the door (and into the rain). "Everybody was tracking snow and slush into the store, but they were rocking out."

Equally hopeful was Rochester, New York's Record Archive, who was hit with a crippling amount of snow... but stayed open anyway! "We live in the Snow Belt, we're used to this," says ever-diligent Alayna Hill-Alderman, vice-prez/co-owner of Record Archive. "We're laughing at the stores on the east coast because they can't handle it... Those wussies! We actually thought about closing early, but what else are you gonna do when it's cold? Go to your favorite record store and hang out. We're tough. Independent retailers are like cockroaches. We'll survive."

*R. Kellv's latest album, as vou know, is titled Chocolate Factory. CMI Retail estimates the title was chosen due to the fact that Kelly apparently enjoys pissing off his own lawyers, who are currently scrambling to free him of 21 counts of child pornography.

AN OPEN LETTER TO CMJ'S AIRPLAY REPORTERS

n an average week, CMJ New Music Report receives well over 1,500 online airplay reports for the compilation of our weekly radio charts, adding a massive amount of artist and album information to our database.

To ensure the validity of our weekly charts, CMJ must confirm the existence of each and every artist and recording that is reported to us; to do so, we search our own internal database, the Internet, check with online music retailers, etc. Though we respect and value every single independent artist that is reported to us after all, they are our lifeblood — it is absolutely essential that CMJ is able to authenticate the artist, album title and the affiliated record label (if any) of each entry on a station's playlist. More often than not, this authentication process is successful; however, there are instances every week in which we are unable to sufficiently verify a reported entry on a playlist. Having inaccurate or erroneous information in our database helps no one; it undermines the consistency and accuracy of the CMJ charts.

Due to a larger technical issue with our online reporting system (this same technical limitation prevents our Radio 200 reporters from submitting anything less than 30 recordings on their playlists) that we have spent numerous months attempting to correct, we are unable to simply delete an item from a station's report and move up the rest of the entries. As such, we were left with two less than optimal options: delete the report entirely or substitute a placeholder for the unverified entry.

In the past, if an item on a station's airplay report was totally unverifiable, the entire playlist was rejected, the report neither printed in the magazine nor factored into the applicable chart. After receiving numerous (and very justified) radio station complaints that their entire report was being rejected due to the presence of one or two unverified albums, it was determined at the end of 2002 that — until our upgraded, more flexible reporting system was online — CMJ would substitute any unverified items on airplay charts with the "placeholder" listing of our CD sampler, Certain Damage.

As to the allegations that there was some sinister motive behind this utilizing Certain Damage as a placeholder let me say — and I cannot be any more emphatic about this — that this was not done to promote, or benefit in any way, Certain Damage. This was a workaround — certainly a less than perfect one to be sure — to enable stations to submit their playlists in full, thus giving proper airplay credit to the remaining verified artists on the chart. This temporary fix was instituted for one reason only: to ensure that each of our airplay reporters, as well as the artists that they were reporting, were represented in our weekly radio charts and that the integrity of our database was intact. Simply put, it was not fair to reject an entire chart - and deny reportable airplay to all of the other verified artists on said chart in the process — because just one item was unverifiable. CMJ elected to do this so that our airplay reporting panel and the artists that they champion were accurately represented in our charts. Period.

Moving forward, to avoid any further confusion or suggestions of worse, if CMJ cannot verify an artist and/or recording on a station's airplay report by using any and all of the aforementioned means to do so, the recording in question will be replaced with the word "UNVERIFIED" in its spot on the airplay report.

Since CMJ receives hundreds of airplay reports each week, representing thousands of releases from eight completely dissimilar music formats — combined with a rigid and tight reporting deadline — it is unfortunately impossible for us to contact each individual station to verify each and every recording in question before we go to press. As such, beginning in this issue, a very small percentage of airplay reports will list an item as "UNVERIFIED."

If you are an airplay reporter who notices that an item on your report has been labeled as such, I highly encourage you to send me an email that gives me detailed information about the entry that was omitted from your printed playlist report, including the correct artist name, album title and affiliated label (or, if it is self-released, that is perfectly acceptable as well — just state that it is "self-released"). If the artist has a Web site, please include the URL as well. I will personally make sure that the item in question is thoroughly investigated and, more than likely, will be entered into our database so that it is reportable and verified for the following week's reports.

Thank you for your continued patience and understanding. We value every single one of our airplay reporters and the countless independent artists that keep this thing that we do alive and exciting. Please know that CMJ is only interested in having our radio airplay charts be 100 percent accurate, every single week. If we all work together, we can achieve this.

Respectfully yours,

— Kevin Boyce
