Singer Co. Contest For Teen Talent Thru Top 40 Outlets; See Capitol Tie

NEW YORK—A nation-wide search for pop teen talent gets underway next year in a contest sponsored by the Singer Company. Culmination of the program, planned as an annual event over a seven year period, will be an hour-long special on TV next Labor Day. Nine finalists will compete in the categories of male vocalist, female vocalist and group, with the winner in each to be signed by a major recording company.

Major Station Participation

According to Alfred di Scipio, group vp of the Singer Co., Capitol Records has made an offer to sign the final winners and record a number of sides for regular release. Finalization of this arrangement is yet to take place.

A focal point of the contest, under the code name of "Super Teen," to be organized and implemented by Petersen Productions, a Hollywood-based packager of teen-oriented TV shows (e.g. last year's ABC series, "Malibu U") and publisher of teen magazines, will be the selection of ranking Top 40 radio stations in key markets as local franchised (no fee) coordinators of the program. di Scipio said six letters of intent have come from six outlets in the "toughest markets." These outlets will be free to stage local competitions as they see fit. Entrants will be limited to teenagers who are not contracted to any label, although they may or may not be professionals. Stations and/or local Singer Centers will provide entry blanks. Also, each contestant will receive a copy of a recording contract he may eventually sign.

Tapes by 120 semi-finalists will be sent to Hollywood where nine finalists will be chosen for the Singer TV special. Judges will comprise personalities in the world of music and TV, including already-established teen talent. Elimination contests will run from about June 1 to the Fourth of July weekend, di Scipio said.

with the music field via its TV specials, which have starred Tony Bennett and Herb Alpert & the Tijuana Brass (this will be repeated later this month) and its affiliate record company, Project 3, operated by Enoch Light. (di Scipio noted that Project 3 will not be involved in the teen contest.) Singer has also offered special premium LP's to tie-in with each TV'er.

Singer also reaches almost 70,000 youngsters through its Stylemaker Contest. This sewing program will go international next year. There is also a possibility that the teen contest will also take-on global aspects, di Scipio said.

13th Beatles LP Arrives

NEW YORK — LP number 13 from the Beatles is currently in production and should be in mid-December release according to Capitol A&R veep Voyle Gilmore.

Titled "Magical Mystery Tour," the album was named for a soon-to-be-aired English television special starring the Beatles. It is to be shown in England during Christmas week and will be carried by NBC-TV early next year in the United States.

Six songs from the show are to be featured along with five other selections on the set. The "other selections" will include "Hello Goodbye," released last week, and "Penny Lane," "Strawberry Fields Forever," "All You Need Is Love" and "Baby You're A Rich Man" which were available on singles but never included in an LP.

Also featured with the album is a 24-page book containing photographs and art work in full-color from the TV spectacular.

New Pop Lyrics Refer Directly To God

NEW YORK — The word "God" is being invoked in an increasing number of pop song lyrics. It is further evidence of the more realistic and direct nature of contemporary songs.

Unless used in religious or patriotic songs, lyric writers of the past have tended to avoid direct reference to the word "God," usually settling for "Lord," "He," or "Heaven." But, a current crop of hit sides, ballads and otherwise, are shelving the unwritten taboo. In at least one instance, an answer deck to Victor Lunberg's "A Letter To My Teenage Son" (in which the word "God" is used) employs "God" as part of a comical retort to the Lundberg smash. This is Liberty Record's "The Answer," wherein a "son" replies to his "dad" through a "demo" session.

In the ballad area, Frankie Valli's

Bill Cosby Radio Comedy Series For Coke Goes On Top 40 Radio

NEW YORK — Comedy returns to radio with a teen-market slant via a $1 million tie-in between Bill Cosby and the Coca-Cola Co., which will sponsor a daily radio series of five-minute programs. The series, "The Bill Cosby Radio Program," will be aired on leading Top 40 stations in 500 major markets across the country.

Cosby, credited with being the top-rated TV performer (thru his "I Spy" series) next to Red Skelton in the 12 to 17 age bracket, will create 250 individual shows for broadcast five nights a week for one year.

The venture was announced last week by Ira C. Herbert, vp of Coca-Cola, who said the Cosby series marks a new phase in the company's long-term effort to communicate to teenagers "in their own language, reaching them through their favorite stars. Cosby is also a super-star on records, having cut six RIAA-audited gold record albums. His most recent album featured him on vocals, and produced a singles hit, "Little Old Man."

Regular Features

Each five-minute program consists of one major comedy feature in which Cosby is occasionally assisted by Frank Buxton, producer of the radio series. Among the regular features will be: "Animal Interviews," in which Cosby is interviewed as though he were anything from an insect to an elephant; "Oh WOW," in which he answers imaginary letters; "Spooky Stories," a spoof on terror tales.

This will all be new material, not previously used on records or in night clubs.

The program will be carried at different times on different stations, but will always be scheduled between 7:00 and 9:00 pm. local time, in the same Monday-through-Friday slot.

In describing Coca-Cola's decision to pioneer a new form of radio, Herbert said, "The Top Forty stations have built large and loyal audiences, playing the youngsters' favorites according to a format that rarely varied. Now, these stations face a challenge: how to accommodate the new forms and personalities that their audiences have come to want."

The five-minute program is about equal in running time to one musical record, plus introductions and a commercial. By using this time for teen-slanted comedy each night, "the station gains an exciting feature that enhances its identification with youthful tastes," Herbert said.

"During the lifetime of today's teenagers, original comedy has almost disappeared from the radio scene. We are going to bring it back because teenagers have developed a sharp appetite for comedy through records and concert performances."

Teen Communications Sought

Coca-Cola has long believed in the need for special techniques to communicate with those under twenty. Herbert pointed out, "Conventional commercials won't work. We broke the mold, introducing commercials that are really not commercials but an extension of the Top Forty sound, using the teens' own favorites, such as Ray Charles, The Supremes, and others. These have been very effective in increasing our brand awareness and share of market among youth. The time has come to break another mold by introducing the Bill Cosby series."

"We are backing our belief in teen- (Continued on page 38)

Kinney Nat'l Acquiring Ashley-Famous

NEW YORK—Kinney National Service, Inc., the diversified service organization (i.e. car rental), will become the parent company of Ashley-Famous, the giant talent agency. Deal, announced by Steven J. Ross, president of Kinney, and Ted Ashley, president of Ashley-Famous, will involve the issuance of 127,500 shares of Kinney's $4.25 convertible preferred stock, Series B, in exchange for all of the stock of Ashley-Famous.

Based on the expected value of the new Kinney preferred of $100 a share, the Kinney shares to be received by the Ashley-Famous shareholders would approximate $13 million. This is the same security to be issued in connection with the pending merger of National Periodic Publications into Kinney. National Periodical is a leading comics magazine publisher and a major national distributor of magazines and paperbacks.

Both acquisitions, Ross said, stress Kinney's two growth categories: leisure time-communications market (Continued on page 42)

Motown Buys 1st Master

NEW YORK — Motown Records has made the first master purchase in its history. Detroit-based label, which has relied on the development of its own disk personalities (e.g. the Supremes) has acquired "You Haven't Seen My Love" by the Ones. Originally on the Spirit label, located in Michigan, the deck will now appear under the Motown tag.

WB Disk Sales Up 30% For '67

BURBANK, CALIF. — Reflecting its collection of chart singles and albums, Warner Bros.-Seven Arts Records sales for 1967 are running 30% ahead of a comparable period last year.

According to Mike Maitland, president of the company, the label anticipates a continuance of "our steady growth, especially with the roster of new albums and new artists planned for release early next year."

Jan. Regional Meets

With regard to new product, the label will stage its semi-annual distributor sales meeting beginning Jan. 3 for one-week. Newcomers from the Warners, Reprise and Loma labels will be presented to the network of WB-Seven Arts distributors throughout the country.

Maitland said that new album product as well as merchandising and marketing plans will be unveiled via a series of in-person distributor meetings, with a team of home office execs fanning out throughout the country to stage the meetings.

Participating will be Joel Friedman, vice president and director of marketing; Mo Ostin, vice president and general manager of Reprise; Joe Smith, vice president and general manager of Warner Bros.; Dick Sherman, national sales manager; George Lee, vice president and director of Eastern operations; Marvin Deane, national promotion manager; and Don Schmitzerle, publicity and public relations manager.

Maitland also said that Phil Rose, international director for the company will stage a similar meeting at the new Warner Bros.-Seven Arts Canadian base of operations.

Merc Kicks Off Big Boost For Ever-Green

CHICAGO—Following the lines and format of Mercury's first successful major image-building promotion which spotted the Blues Magoos, the label last Friday (17) opened the curtains for the Ever-Green Blues.

Kicking off initial product release from the team, Alan Mink, Mercury's product manager, disclosed a 15-city saturation itinerary for the Ever-Green Blues that will include an entire promotion and publicity program. The seven-man team then took to the air for visits to Milwaukee and Pittsburgh, followed by a Cleveland showing over the weekend. Other spots scheduled for the tour are Akron and Erie (20), Buffalo and Syracuse (21), Boston (22), Hartford (23), a two-day Philadelphia stay (24-25), New York (26-27), Baltimore (28), Washington (29), Detroit (30) and Chicago on Dec. 1. They will return home to Los Angeles the next day.

The EGB will make the entire junket on their own chartered airliner to facilitate travel time and squeeze added promo activity into the two weeks. Timing for the trek was planned by Mink and Merc promo manager Marty Goldrod for mid-to-late-November since they feel that this is the most opportune time to build a recording act to largest possible sales prior to the holidays.

Goldrod, who will accompany the group on their tour, estimates that they will personally visit more than 50 radio stations en route and will appear on at least 18 television shows during the journey. Special emphasis is being placed on meeting privately with teen editors in areas visited. A special 35-minute show for evening deejay hops was also prepared.

Monster Budget

The comprehensive image-building campaign is budgeted at more than $200,000. Two thousand miniature bonsai evergreens are being mailed out with an introductory card reading "The Ever-Green Blues are a growing experience." Iron-on transfers of a contemporary mod logo in two-colors will be mailed out and given personally by the group on the tour. One-hundred thousand miniature bars of pine soap with a special promo wrapper will go out to accounts, radio stations and the press during the campaign; and 20,000 4-color full-size "Fillmore Auditorium" type posters have been printed for national disbursement. Special packages of pine incense are being prepared for a major giveaway campaign as well.

Center of attention during the trip will be the release of a premiere recording from the three-year-old group. First side for single release is "Midnight Confessions," which is now being shipped to teen-oriented stations and television shows across the country. A special color videotape of their performance of the number is also being sent to tv outlets.

Agents are being alerted in major cities to audition the group for possible engagements. Press kits describing the entire group and its individual members will be made available during the tour, and are to be sent to over 4,000 radio stations and record accounts. These folders will stress the logo motif.

Where possible, time allowing, the group will do in-store promotions. Seven have already been set-up.

Cowsills: Family Act That Stays Together And Travels To The Top Of The Top 100

NEW YORK — The family that stays together can arrive together on top of the Top 100 singles chart. This is the happy case for the Cowsills, MGM Records' family act under the managerial reins of Lenny & Myrna Stogel's talent management firm.

The group, a mother-daughter-and-sons team, currently has the number 1 single in the country, "The Rain, the Park & Other Things." And "other things" figure strongly in the rapid-rise of the group since their debut on MGM last Sept.

As "Rain" began to rise, Ed Sullivan signed for a 10-appearance schedule, the first of which has taken place. In addition, a sure-fire index of wide success was the Stogels' retaining of ILAMI, the merchandising division of Screen Gems, to merchandise and license the Cowsill's for varied-and-sundry items. Plans are also in the works for a projected TV series, motion-pictures and an European tour.

"Artie Kornfeld, the producer and writer, brought them to us," Lenny Stogel recalls. "They were about to lose their home [in Newport, Rhode Island] and they just didn't know where to turn. I knew what they sounded like and I believed in them 100%."

MGM was similarly impressed when Stogel gave the label, already sporting the Stogels' Sam the Sham, a crack at the group. The label had them recording their big hit, written and produced by Kornfeld, an LP and sent them on a grueling 1 month trek to 22 cities at a hefty kick-off cost of $250,000.

Doug Morris Takes Over Laurie Reins

NEW YORK — Bob Schwartz is relinquishing operational management of Laurie Records to Doug Morris, who joined the label in 1964.

Schwartz, president of the Laurie Group of Companies, said he would devote his activities to Laurie's growing interests in audio-visual educational aids, radio and TV commercials, recording studios (Allegro Sound) and upcoming TV projects.

Morris, who will operate Laurie and its affiliate labels, Rust and Providence, as executive vice-president and general manager, intends to place new emphasis on talent and indie master acquisitions. Also, heads of sales, promo and A&R will report directly to him.

He is scheduling a national field trip shortly after the New Year to meet with distributors. He will also make a series of trips ament creative forces in the major production centers of the U.S.

Before joining Laurie three years ago, the 28-year-old exec was professional manager of Robert Mellin's music firms.

Kaplan Exiting ABC For Coast Law Firm

NEW YORK — Bill Kaplan is leaving his post as director of legal and business affairs at ABC Records to relocate on the west coast, where he will join the law offices of Mitchell, Silberberg & Knupp. The firm represents the ABC label and A&M. Kaplan is also on the legal committee of the Record Industry Association of America (RIAA).

Carol, Mary & Pearl RCA's Cast 'Dollys'

NEW YORK—RCA Victor Records is cutting its third cast version of "Hello, Dolly!" Label plans a cast album on the new, all-Negro production on Broadway, where the original "Dolly" is still running. Label cut that version, starring Carol Channing, back in 1964. A London version of the show, with Mary Martin as "Dolly," was also recorded by RCA. The third production stars Pearl Bailey as "Dolly" and Cab Calloway.

Big 3 Prof'nal Dept. Takes On New Look With Wally Schuster

NEW YORK — A new pop look is being applied to the Big 3 Music (Robbins-Feist-Miller) professional department in line with the appointment of Wally Schuster as generation professional manager.

Arnold Maxin, exec vp and general manager of the music publishing operation, named Schuster to the post following the recent departure of Jay Lowy from the firm to join Famous Music as gpm.

Schuster, who joined the firm in June as manager of special projects, will now extend his scope to include management of The Big 3's entire pop program. The new set-up is seen as a move away from the traditional professional department staffing of a publishing firm with the future accent on the development of promising young pop talent and coordinated record production deals.

The Big 3 has already organized a coast-to-coast development and production team with Tony Orlando heading eastern activities and Richard Delvy directing West coast operations. The Delvy-Orlando team has been in action for several weeks exploring the young talent scene and signing new

Eliscu Takes Over AGAC; Royalty Collections Hit New High In 1967

NEW YORK—Edward Eliscu has been elected president of the American Guild of Authors & Composers (AGAC), succeeding Burton Lane, who has served as the guild's president for the past 10 years.

Eliscu's election took place at AGAC's 36th annual meeting last week (16) at the Hotel Gotham in New York, where it was also reported that the guild's Collection of Royalty Plan hit a new high of $3 million for 1967.

Eliscu, a vp of the organization for the past several years, is the lyricist co-author of such standards as "Orchids in the Moonlight," "Without A Song" and "The Caprice." He has also written original screen plays for Hollywood and TV and edited several musical revues, including "The Little Show," and "Meet the People."

Complete AGAC Slate
Other officers elected that were announced at the meeting included Leonard Whitcup, executive vice-president; Ervin Drake, vice president; Harry Ruby, vice president; Alex Kramer, treasurer; Gloria Shayne, secretary; and Robert Colby, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Lane has stepped down as president at a time when the strength of AGAC, which protects song writers in the realm of basic contracts, royalty collections, and copyright renewal, is at an all-time high. Its members now number 2,400, a new high for the guild, including such writers as Richard Rodgers, Alan Jay Lerner, Johnny Mercer, Henry Mancini, Hoagy Carmichael, Sheldon Harnick, John Lewis and Bob Dylan. It also represents many of today's young rock writers and country writers, as well as writers of classical music.

Lane, composer of "Finian's Rainbow" and "On A Clear Day You Can See Forever," said that he will continue to work for the good of writers in AGAC. In a statement, he asserted that it was "an honor to have served the Guild," and that he "treasured the fact" that writers trusted him in such an important post for so many years.

Lane Initiated Collection Plan in 1959
As president of the Guild since

ported that the guild's Collection of Royalty Plan hit a new high of $3 million for 1967.

Eliscu, a vp of the organization for the past several years, is the lyricist co-author of such standards as "Orchids in the Moonlight," "Without A Song" and "The Caprice." He has also written original screen plays for Hollywood and TV and edited several musical revues, including "The Little Show," and "Meet the People."

Complete AGAC Slate
Other officers elected that were announced at the meeting included Leonard Whitcup, executive vice-president; Ervin Drake, vice president; Harry Ruby, vice president; Alex Kramer, treasurer; Gloria Shayne, secretary; and Robert Colby, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Lane has stepped down as president at a time when the strength of AGAC, which protects song writers in the realm of basic contracts, royalty collections, and copyright renewal, is at an all-time high. Its members now number 2,400, a new high for the guild, including such writers as Richard Rodgers, Alan Jay Lerner, Johnny Mercer, Henry Mancini, Hoagy Carmichael, Sheldon Harnick, John Lewis and Bob Dylan. It also represents many of today's young rock writers and country writers, as well as writers of classical music.

Lane, composer of "Finian's Rainbow" and "On A Clear Day You Can See Forever," said that he will continue to work for the good of writers in AGAC. In a statement, he asserted that it was "an honor to have served the Guild," and that he "treasured the fact" that writers trusted him in such an important post for so many years.

NEW YORK

Music goes everywhere, even into police vehicles and jails after peace demonstrations such as the one held in mid-town Manhattan last week to protest a dinner at which Dean Rusk was the main speaker. The power of the folk song (either contemporary or traditional) can hardly be more apparent than when it is used to unify and give courage to persons in need of such elements. A more than qualified source on the scene attests that those persons incarcerated after last week's demonstration joined in singing songs by such persons as: Tom Paxton, Phil Ochs, Pete Seeger, Joe Hill, Woody of Beethoven à la Vanilla Fudge. When not in the studio, the boys are busying themselves by spreading the Vanilla Fudge type of enlightenment throughout the east coast. They've recently appeared at Cheetah and at the Music Fair in Westbury. Individually, the members of the Vanilla Fudge are: Carmine Appice, Yinnie Martell, Tim Bogert, and Mark Stein.

Vic Ventura opened Nov. 15th at the Palm Shores in Brooklyn and, according to reports received by this office, is doing very well. He'll be there through Nov. 25th. He is currently in negotiation with a major label for a recording contract. An act well worth a Sinatra-Fitzgerald LP for Reprise is still being planned.

Our "West Coast Girl of the Week" is Danville, Va.'s Andra Willis, a 23 year old doll who has just been pacted as a regular on the Lawrence Welk TV'er. Andra has performed on the Breakfast Club, the Perry Como, Johnny Carson and Gary Moore Shows and was formerly one half of the Willis Sisters who cut for ABC Records. A sure bet for records, she's presently unaffiliated. Hubby is Roy Cohen, currently "coasting" in behalf of Southern Music's Library of Recorded Music.

Bones Howe, exclusive producer for the Fifth Dimension, cutting their lieb, public relations head for the monthly "underground" mag The Oracle, published in L.A. with worldwide circulation of better than 50,000 — "we are dedicated to an ecstatic way of life through meditation . . . joyously paying attention to doing our whole number. Apparently it's working for Washington is already peeking in on us." The Oracle is presently filing for incorporation as a non-profit religious association as "The Oracle Cosmic Joy Fellowship," with services held at the Fiarfax Ave. offices each Wednesday at 1:30 P.M. Jean is credited (on the masthead of the publication) as "the love coordinator."

Guthrie, and even (for at least one brief period) the Beatles.

For the record industry, interest in these demonstrations or more precisely the people directly and indirectly involved in them, should presumably go farther than the socio-economic-political-moral level. It is reasonably safe to state that these people are, for the most part, the buyers of records and the attendees at concerts. Not by any means the entire market, but a big slice . . . perhaps the trend-setting slice.

Arlo Guthrie (Reprise) made his one-man Carnegie Hall debut at the end of the week before last to a packed house. He was delightful from the beginning. For his last encore, Arlo put on an electric guitar, and set the pace for a wailing, stomping treatment of the late Woody Guthrie's "This Train Is Bound For Glory." Maybe this serves as the final answer to those purists who have fervently insisted that Woody Guthrie songs (and folk singers in general for that matter) should only be played with acoustic instruments. It seems, the times have already changed.

Bob Dylan is on the way out of the relative seclusion of his year-long hiatus from public life. He's already cut a couple of sides in Nashville with Bob Johnston (who has been nominated by Bill Gavin for a "Man of the Year" award). Dylan is set to return to Music City soon to complete an LP. This information seems to be in direct conflict with a recent "Variety" article stating that John Simon is cutting Dylan. The information in this column is, however, the latest and most up-to-date that we've been able to get from Columbia's publicity offices both here and in Nashville.

Elektra hosted a special concert at the Garrick Theatre last week for the sole purpose of introducing Tim Buckley to the New York press and music business cognoscenti. The show was particularly good and the presentation was more than effective.

Our East Coast Girl of the Week is MGM's newcomer lark, Bunny Parker. She is represented on wax by, "How Did Love Finally Find Me."

James Nehb of Regalia Records is very enthused over the distributor and deejay reaction to his Italian import Peppino di Capri, whose rendition of "Cry" seems to be getting a lot of attention.

Atco's Vanilla Fudge is busy cutting a second LP, which (from semi-grapevine reports) will feature four centuries of music that includes a chunk catching.

Atlantic's Young Rascals are set to headline Madison Sq. Garden on Dec. 23rd. This concert will most likely be the final musical event at the old Garden. The concert is a joint production of WMCA and Sid Bernstein.

Pete Bennett says to look out for the new Rolling Stones single and LP. It should be a big pair of waxings. . . . Bobby Vinton opens at Detroit's Cobo Hall for a four day gig with the Woody Herman Orchestra on Nov. 22nd.

Danny Fortunato has left Musicor Buckram Productions as a promo man/talent scout/road manager for the Platters.

Metro's Barry Resnick notes that he's getting particularly strong action on "Ordinary Girl" by the Darling Sisters, "Cry Your Eyes Out" by Doty Cambridge, "Show Me" by Mamie Lee, "She's Still A Mystery" by the Spoons, and "Spanish Harlem" by Roosevelt Greer.

HOLLYWOOD

Tucked away on a back page of the L.A. Times last week was a terse three paragraph item. The probable denouement to a story, three years back, fanned by some trade papers into flaming front page headlines coast to coast. It reads (in part) "A 'payola' conspiracy suit against certain record companies, promoters and disc jockeys was dismissed Friday on grounds that the plaintiff did not prosecute diligently. Superior court granted the dismissal on the motion of the 18 remaining defendants . . . suit was filed by Al Huskey (sic), a record promoter, who alleged that his clients were frozen out of the broadcasting industry because they would not pay to have their records on the air." Some months ago Huskey told us that he was holding back on his suit, awaiting a federal government report which he felt might strengthen his case. But as many lawyers and most tailors will tell you—any owner of a three year old suit which never gets pressed must eventually be taken to the cleaners.

How many of us noticed Sinatra's "goof" of the Oscar Hammerstein II "Old Man River" lyrics on his "Frank plus Ella plus Antonio" TV special last week—"You don't plant cotton, you don't plant 'tatoes"—otherwise a flawless hour. Sinatra obviously inspired by the artistry of Fitzgerald and Jobim. Unfortunately the show will not be available on record. Though newest LP "The Magic Garden" this week. Album follows the fivesome's "Paper Cup" blockbuster single also produced by Howe for Johnny River's Soul City label.

Lennon Sisters re-teamed with Jimmy Dean to headline a week's engagement at the Melodyland starting Jan. 16th. . . . Sitarist Ravi Shankar set for UCLA's Royce Hall on Jan. 26th with a repeat show on the 28th, due to demand for ducats. . . . Rod McKuen, opening this week at Basin Street West in San Francisco, has collaborated with Gilbert Beaud to write the theme music for the Princess Grace-Monaco TV special airing in January. Titled "C'est La Rose," first recording of the tune released on RCA Victor with Eddie Fisher. Perez Prado, returning to the U.S. this week, to play a one nighter at the Palladium—it'll be followed by a series of one nighters in N. Calif. Michael H. Goldsen just returned from Hawaii (where he cut four sides for his Palm label) has pacted Kalani Kimimaka to a record contract. Goldsen's Palm label launched Leon Pober's "Tiny Bubbles" copyright with Alex Kaeck; Kui Lee's "Ocean's Away" and more than a dozen LP's for the Hawaiian market. Tim Hudson's new group the Lollipop Shoppe signed by Uni Records. . . . Most impressive new group vocalist in months—Donna Warner, a honey blonde from Edmonton, Canada who's a vital force behind the Dunhill sextet (Three's A Crowd) being produced by Mama Cass and Steve Barri.

L.A. Times reviewer Pete Johnson devoted most of his Sunday column last week to a rave of Nilsson's initial RCA Victor LP "Pandemonium Shadow Show," a three ring circus with six originals by the composer/singer. Our favorite, the ode titled "1941," a partly autobiographical piece spanning 24 years in less than three minutes—most programmed out from the LP.

United Artists Music Co., Inc. and United Artists Records has switched from the Sam Goldwyn Studios lot to new offices at 9229 Sunset—both headed by Norm Weiser, vp and manager of west coast music and record operations. A&M's Procol Harum group set to appear at the Whiskey A Go-Go this week. . . . Julius Wechter and the Baja Marimba Band (same label) appearing at the Riviera No. 22-Dec. 1. . . . Nancy Wilson's newest LP for Capitol features charts by Oliver Nelson and includes title tune from "In the Heat of the Night."

Quote of the week from Jean Gott-

CHICAGO

It's common knowledge that Picasso gifted Chicago with a statue for the new Civic Center—in fact, this particular statue is just about the most publicized work of art in our fair city! So, it is fitting that local songstress Mara Lynn Brown came up with a new single tagged "Pablo, Ya Gotta Be Puttin' Us On," written by her hubby Johnny Frigo. Deck was released on the newly reactivated Universal Recording label and, we understand, it's enjoying quite a bit of success here as a result of exposure on the popular Howard Miller (WIND) and Wally Phillips (WGN) shows! . . . Paul Gallis stopped by with a copy of the new Tony Bennett single "For Once In My Life" (Columbia) which, he tells us, is starting to happen! . . . The Rubin Mitchell Trio begin a two-weeker in London House 12/5 . . . The Kittens, who recently waxed "Ain't No More Room" for Chess, backed The Mauds newest session, which was produced by Bill Traut for release on Mercury. Titles are "He Will Break Your Heart" and "Come And See Me" . . . The Kim Sisters opened in the Empire Room . . . Local group The Faded Blue and their manager Mike deGaetano have parted company . . . The Troils have been added to the M.C. Productions roster (headed by Bobby Monaco and Jim Golden) and will be waxing a session shortly for ABC Paramount . . . Nice talking to London's Sam Cerami who's been making the rounds with the new Tom Jones LP "Live At The Talk Of The Town" (Parrot). Deejays are receiving copies of two cuts from the album, namely "Land Of A Thousand Dances" and "Can't Stop Loving You." Sam tells us the entire package is enjoying hefty reaction across the country! . . . We understand The Flock are getting a big kick out of the yogurt commercial they did for WLS! . . . Here's a reminder from Morty Wax to catch Neil Diamond at The Cheetah here 12/15-16 . . . Enzo Stuarti is currently in at the Edgewater Beach Hotel . . . In the fore over at Garmisa Dist. are B. B. King's "Heartbreaker" (Bluesway), "Don't Start Lying To Me" by Percy Mayfield (Tangerine), "For A Few Dollars More" by LeRoy Holmes (UA) and the Little Anthony version of "Beautiful People" (Veep). Garmisa has just added the Veep label to its distribution roster.

Producer-Writer Trio Becomes ABC Disk Act

NEW YORK—A writing-producing trio has evolved into a record act. Terry Cashman, Gene Pestelli and T. P. West are recording a collection of their songs, including "Sunday Will Never Be the Same," for ABC Records. Title of the set is "Bound to Happen." Trio, which just produced an ABC session featuring Lee Maye, outfielder for the Cleveland Indians, will extend their newly-found career to appearances on national and local TV shows, performing under the tag of Cashman, Pestelli & West.

West, Cashman & Pestelli

Among the team's other writing credits are "Red is Red," cut by Al Martino, and "Richard & Me," a current side by Gene (Pestelli) & Tommy (West).

Arrangements on the LP are being written by Joe Renzetti, whose hit works this year includes "Sunny" and "Apples, Peaches & Pumpkin Pie."

Mastertone Studios Install New 8-Track Tape Equip.

NEW YORK—Mastertone Recording Studios here have completed installation of a 3M model 8-track tape recorder to complement the modern facilities at the studio.

Consistently in the vanguard with new ideas and modern equipment, Mastertone was among the first to advocate the use of compatible stereo mastering at the suggestion of chief engineer Sid Feldman. The studio has been cutting compatible stereo since 1960. Other equipment employed includes the Dolby noise reduction system and Magna-tech noise suppressor.

Nearing its fifteenth anniversary, Mastertone has dealt with recording companies and other recording studios throughout the world.

VMC Label In Coast Debut

HOLLYWOOD — New west coast based label, VMC, has been formed here by Steve Vail, 23 year old manager of the David, five man group formerly on the 20th Century-Fox label. According to Vail there will be three separate corporations including label, publishing arms (BMI affiliate, VSAV, already formed) and V-H Management. Label's first release is scheduled for early January and will include a single and album by the David as well as additional sides currently being cut.

Vail estimates monthly product, at least in the early stages, will not exceed two or three singles and more than one LP. Label is described as an "in depth, all encompassing" disk firm aimed at pop, top 40, jazz, R&B and C&W markets with indie producers and master purchasing incorporated in its future.

Vail is presently negotiating for national sales and promo managers with office personnel already adding up to eight and coast distributors "wrapped up." Hana Cannon, former personal secretary to Sam Cooke and more recently editor of Teen Screen Magazine, has joined as executive secretary with indie rep, Ted Rosenberg, serving as regional representative.

Offices are located at 6922 Hollywood Blvd in Hollywood, Calif.

Liberty Inks Freshman

BEVERLY HILLS, CAL.—Liberty Records has just signed the Four Freshmen to a long-term, exclusive recording contract. The vocal group's first Liberty release is set for January.

The Four Freshmen include Bobby Flanigan (lead singer), Bill Comstock (second voice), Ross Barbour (third voice), and Ken Albers (bass).

The group has been in existence since 1948. Flanigan and Barbour are charter members; Albers joined the Freshmen in 1956; and Comstock became a member in 1960.

Fields Added To Bell Promo Staff

NEW YORK—As part of the expansion of Bell Records, Oscar Fields has been added to the national promotion staff of David Carrico and Gordon Bossin. The announcement was made recently by Larry Uttal, president of the label.

Fields comes to Bell most recently from Sea Way Distributors in Cleveland where he headed their promotion. Prior to that he was regional promotion manager for Epic's Okeh label during which time he covered the entire country. Fields attended and graduated from Kent State University in 1962 and subsequently worked for Columbia Records as a Customer Service Representative and then Cleve Disc Distributors as promotion manager.

His addition to the Bell team reportedly gives Larry Uttal the only three man national team in the business today.

"The IN-FORMer," a copyrighted idea from Morty Wax Promotions which will aid in effectively giving pertinent information to radio people in a more efficient manner than is presently in practice, has been introduced to the trade by Wax. "One of the biggest problems in record promotion," said Wax, "is that by the time a music director or deejay has seen 5 or 6 promotion men, each with 5 or 6 records, it becomes humanly impossible for him to remember which record is doing what." "The IN-FORMer," a 1 1/2 x 7 strip with an adhesive back designed to fit a standard 45 rpm jacket, gives trade paper chart action, "tip sheet" action and radio play in a standard format. Unlike notes, which have a tendency to get lost, "The IN-FORMer" will accompany the record into the music meeting. "The IN-FORMer" is available to all record promotion people, with their own custom logo, through the Morty Wax office.

WHAT'S UP DOC? — It's the gala opening of Sears & Roebucks new million dollar parking lot at the Northeast Boulevard store in Philadelphia. "Doc" Severinsen, music director of the Johnny Carson TV'er made a special guest appearance to help the festivities along, and also present were the WIBG-Philadelphia deejays, the KitKats (Jamie Records), and the Wreck-A-Mended (UA). Above (l. to r.) are: Ron Cichonski, Carl Hausman, and "Big John" Bradley of the KitKats; Larry Cohen, national sales and promotion, Jamie Records; Matty Singer of ABC-Paramount Records; Hy Lit, WIBG; "Doc" Severinsen, Command Records; Carson Kit Stewart of the KitKats; and Joe Niagara, WIBG.

Dick Clark Productions has sold a new series, "Happening '68," a "what's happening" look at the teen scene, to ABC-TV. The half-hour series will debut in color on Saturday, January 6. Executive producer of the program will be Rosalind Ross. "Happening '68" will include weekly performing guest stars, a weekly band contest, blackout comedy sketches, "What's Happening" news flashes from teenage editors throughout the U.S., interviews of persons in the news who are of interest to young people, a segment titled "Cinematique" in which films produced by high school and college students will be presented, and a weekly "Style Fair" featuring "what's happening" fashion news. Although Dick Clark Productions has not finalized all its plans yet, it is likely that after "Happening '68" makes its TV debut, DCP will mount a "Happening '68" tour, in much the same manner that the company produced "Where The Action Is" tours while that program was on the air. During the past year, Clark's tour department, headed by Tim Tormey, promoted a "Happening '67" tour which proved to be highly successful.

A final tally of the prizes sent to winners reveals that WDGY-Minneapolis' latest promotion, the Wee-Gee Wonder Key Contest, was one of the most successful in the outlet's long history. Along with numerous merchandise prizes, WDGY awarded over $3,500 in cash to audience participants. Listeners were invited to call in when, (after hearing the "Wonder Word" mentioned at the beginning of each hour), they caught the correct word slipped in sometime during the hour. At that point, the called received a "Wonder Key" with which the air personality "opened" the "Wonder Box." The box was asked if it had a prize for the caller, and in a rough manner, the box would answer yes or no. Weekly winners, drawn from the hourly winners, were awarded a home bumper pool game, and the grand prize winner, drawn for in the same manner, was given a Seeburg Stereo Juke Box for her recreation room. The winner was Mrs. Kathy Molitor of St. Paul.

The winners of the second annual "Win the Good Guys Contest," held by WMCA-New York and National Shoes, have been announced. They are Bayonne High School, Bayonne, New Jersey; Mineola High School, Mineola, Long Island; and Our Lady of Perpetual Help High School, Brooklyn. Each of the three schools competed against over 600 high schools throughout the tri-state area to win a special musical show, presented at the school by the WMCA Good Guys and featuring top recording artists. Sponsored by National Shoes, the contest required listeners to cast a ballot for their favorite high school at any National Shoe store. In order to give all the schools a fair chance of winning, three categories were established according to enrollment size: small, medium, and large. Bayonne, which also won the contest last year, was in the large category, Mineola in the medium, and Our Lady of Perpetual Help in the small. The six WMCA air personalities presenting the show will be Joe O'Brien, Harry Harrison, Jack Spector, Dan Daniel, Gary Stevens, and Dean Anthony.

TONY'S A TEENAGE TRIUMPH: During his recent successful engagement at Chicago's Empire Room, Columbia Records recording artist Tony Bennett, in conjunction with WLS-Chicago, performed a special afternoon show for teenagers only—reportedly a first in the posh room's history. Bennett was a big hit with the young set as with their elders. In the above backstage shot, Bennett is in earnest conversation with his local representative Paul Gallis and (l. to r.) WLS' Ron Riley, Gene Taylor, and Clark Weber (partly hidden).

SPUTTERS: George Nicholaw, vice president of the CBS Radio Division and general manager of KNX-Hollywood, spoke to the Publicity Club of Los Angeles at their monthly dinner meeting at the Villa Capri in Hollywood on November 13.

VITAL STATISTICS: Nat Wright is now piloting the "Dawn Patrol" on WIP-Philadelphia. Dick Clayton, formerly with WIL-St. Louis, is holding down the 8 to midnight slot on WIP. . . . Tom Dunn has been appointed operations manager of KOB-Albuquerque. . . . Tom Dean is currently hosting WJBK-Detroit's evening music show. . . . Jim Jeffries has been designated music director of WQXI-Atlanta. Stu Collins has joined WQXI 9 to noon from WLAV-Grand Rapids. Gary Granger returns to WQXI from WPDQ-Jacksonville. He will handle a weekend shift and other special assignments. . . . Ron Morgan has been named program director of WLYV-Fort Wayne.

Stone Ponies

The Stone Ponies consist of Linda Maria Ronstadt, guitar; Bob Kimmel, rhythm guitar; and Ken Edwards, lead guitar. Linda, who has long black hair and big brown eyes, was born on July 15, 1946, in Tucson, Arizona. She was once described by a friend as a "Peter Pan still looking for Shadow." Linda comes from a musical family (her father was at one time a professional singer), and the first thing she can remember about herself is that she wanted to sing. Her first professional performance was with her brother and sister, who were known locally as the Ronstadts. It wasn't until after some time in the University of Arizona that Linda's preoccupation with music caught up with her. She realized she was in the wrong place if she wanted to be a singer. Along with fellow Arizonian Bob Kimmel, Linda relocated to Los Angeles. At this point, Ken Edwards joined them and the Stone Ponies were complete. The group has performed at such niteries as the Cafe Au Go Go in New York and Club 47 in Boston. Their current Capitol single, "A Different Drum," is number 76 on the charts this week.

Union Gap

The Union Gap is comprised of General Gary Puckett, vocals, guitar; Sergeant Dwight Bement, tenor sax; Corporal Kerry Chater, bass guitar; Private Gary ("Mutha") Withem, woodwinds, piano; and Private Paul Wheatbread, drums. The group was organized in San Diego, California, in January, 1967, and named after the historic town of Union Gap, Washington. Dressed in Civil War uniforms, the group attracted a large following as they swept down from the "north" into "southern" California, playing clubs and colleges. In addition to being the group's leader, Minnesota-born Puckett is an accomplished songwriter, with over 30 songs to his credit. Bement, a former music major at San Diego State, made his musical debut in a "5th grade assembly where I played the Marine Hymn on the clarinet." Canadian-born Chater admits that he loves "driving my new Corvette around early in the morning" and "would like to be the best composer-arranger around." Gary "Mutha" Withem ("They call me Mutha because I love pickles and ice cream") was a music teacher before joining the group. Adept on the drums and all percussion instruments, Wheatbread loves "motorcycles, sports cars and music with feeling." The Union Gap's current Columbia single, "Woman, Woman," is number 85 on the charts this week.

Merc Drafts 3 Teams From W. Coast League

CHICAGO—In the largest mass signing of San Francisco groups to date, Mercury and its affiliated labels have contracted three teams to exclusive contracts with the company.

The signings came as a result of separate trips to the west coast by Mercury Records president Irving Green, and executive vice president Irwin Steinberg. Acts signed were the Blue Cheer to Philips, the Morning Glory to Fontana and the Savage Resurrection for Mercury.

Each of the groups has been making a name for itself playing at the various ballrooms in San Francisco. S.F. A&R chief Abe Kesh was given much of the credit for the signings in comments by Steinberg and the coastal regional vice president Bob Sarenpa.

Coast Studio Leased

In a related move, Steinberg also noted that Mercury has leased a full recording studio from Leo Kulka's Golden State Recorders, one of the leading studio facilities outside of Hollywood. This was the first time that Kulka has leased permanent space to any recording company.

Kesh, who has been close to the San Francisco music scene, said he hopes to have all three teams recorded by Christmas and included in the labels' January LP release.

He said that "each of these groups has a completely different sound." Blue Cheer is a hard rock outfit; the Savage Resurrection is a five-man blues group; and the Morning Glory consists of four men and a female lead singer. Kesh continued: "They've all been playing for a long time and are completely professional. They're eager to record and just can't wait to get into the studio."

Each of the groups writes its own material, and will be given a full promotion, advertising and merchandising buildup.

MTA Cuts Lotion Jingle

NEW YORK — The MTA label has joined the jingle-to-singles-release bandwagon with the release of "Somewhere in Between" by the DMZ. Tune is part of a big Top 40 radio campaign launched recently by the makers of Bactine Skin Cream. MTA is mailing a sample of the product along with the disk to more than 90 Top 40 radio stations.

1968 Music Show Sets All-Day Opening Meet

CHICAGO—The 1968 Music Show will have an all-day opening session, beginning two hours earlier than previous years' shows. The decision to open the first day (Sunday) Music show displays at 10 a.m., the same time as on other days, was taken unanimously by the advisory committee for the big trade event and convention, which consists of representatives of six manufacturers and wholesalers organizations which cooperate with the National Association of Music Merchants (NAMM) in the sponsorship of the Music Show.

Extension of exhibit hours will provide 4½ days of display time for the exhibitors at the show, pointed out Foster L. Lee, NAMM staff director. "For all intents and purposes, the Music Show has in recent years been in full operation on Sunday, the first day of the show, as the result of the gradual transition of trade activities to Sunday hours. The enthusiastic response of both exhibitors and dealers to previously-curtailed Sunday display hours necessitates that we extend these exhibit hours to a full day on Sunday," noted Lee. "Our new schedule of exhibit hours will provide a maximum of time to everyone in the Music Show to utilize to the utmost the potential of the event for dealer contacts, merchandising campaigns and marketing of their products."

Lee reported to the trade show advisory committee that NAMM has reserved a total of 2750 hotel and motel rooms for the Music Show in and near Chicago's Conrad Hilton, where the event is scheduled June 23 to 27.

More Space

Members of the trade show advisory committee reported their association members were unanimously enthusiastic about the shift of many music instrument displays to open space at the 1967 Music Show and gave their full approval to further expansion of music instrument exhibits at the 1968 show. In addition to the International Ballroom, Continental Room and North Hall, music instrument displays will be assigned to the East and West Halls, reported NAMM executive Foster Lee, who noted that "great interest is being shown by exhibitors in this newly-available open space, based on the excellent traffic achieved by exhibitors in open space at the 1967 show."

Association executives reported on plans to conduct business marketing sessions at the 1968 Music Show, and NAMM executive vice president William R. Gard announced that trumpet star Al Hirt has been booked for the annual banquet and that negotiations were under way to line up another celebrity in the music world for the annual opening luncheon.

Masterwork Triples 'Rover' Production

NEW YORK—In order to meet the burgeoning consumer demand for its recently introduced 45-r.p.m. phonograph, the Rover, Masterwork Audio Products, a department of Columbia Records, has tripled its production rate of the unit.

J. J. Harris, director of Masterwork Audio Products, attributes the sales success of the Rover to the fact that at the suggested price of $24.95, the unit is within the budget of young people, who account for the great percentage of single records sales in this country. Early Christmas shopping may also account for a portion of the increased sales.

Playable in any position, the Rover is operated simply by inserting a 45-r.p.m. record in a slot. A reject button controls changing or stopping the record during play, and the unit shuts off automatically at the end of play. Available in either fire-engine red or bright azure blue, the Rover features a solid state amplifier, operates on eight flashlight batteries and weighs only five pounds. A black leatherette carrying case for the Rover is available for $2.95, suggested retail.

Picks of the Week

BEATLES (Capitol 2056)
Hello Goodbye (3:24) [Maclen, BMI-Lennon, McCartney]

Minimum of words, minimum of melody and practically no subject at all, yet the Beatles have a new side that packs a panchromatic rainbow of sound into the narrow limits that Lennon & McCartney have selected to work with on "Hello Goodbye." As with their last single, the fade is brilliant, and sales will so indicate. Flip: "I Am the Walrus" (4:35) [Same credits] A down and out session with a set of lyrics that will have many scratching their heads.

BUCKINGHAMS (Columbia 44378)
Susan (2:48) [Diogenes, Bag O'Tunes, BMI-Holvay, Beisbeir, Guercio]

Vivid musical line and a smooth group showing make this ballad an item that should catch plenty of attention, continuing the team's hit string. Electronic break shifts gear for the side and adds that extra punch which might pick up added teen attentiveness for the set. Hit team, hot side. Flip: "Foreign Policy" (4:15) [Diogenes, BMI-Guercio]

MARVIN GAYE & TAMMI TERRELL (Tamla 54161)
If I Could Build My Whole World Around You (2:21) [Jobete, BMI-Fuqua, Bristol, Bullock]

Two smash outings from Gaye & Terrell are already history, and this new side from the duo could easily be the biggest of the lot. Vocal performances with enough power to make the side are highlighted by some wonderful lively arrangements and little sidelights to set the side way up in the pop and blues sales charts. Flip: "If This World Were Mine" (2:41) [Jobete, BMI-Gaye]

PETULA CLARK (Warner Brothers 7097)
The Other Man's Grass Is Always Greener (3:02) [Northern, ASCAP-Hatch, Trent]

Optimistic lyrics, magnificent vocal from Pet Clark and a splendidly tailored orchestral arrangement all work together to form a spectacular new side from the hitmaking lark. Bouncing back from "Cat In The Window" this exquisite session will gain tremendous response in the pop and good music spotlight. Should be Pet's biggest seller in quite some time. Flip: "At the Crossroads" (3:05) [Hastings, ASCAP-Bricusse] Very lovely side from the "Dr. Dolittle" score.

AL MARTINO (Capitol 2053)
A Voice in the Choir (2:30) [Case, ASCAP-DiMinno, Tucker]

Pop followers of Al Martino will be joined by larger numbers of good music listeners through this unusual and vibrant ballad. Sentimentality and the sense of pride have seldom been expressed as well as in "A Voice in the Choir," which will be delighting wide audiences, particularly during this holiday season. Coin ops and good music outlets should be swamped with requests for this side. Flip: "The Glory of Love" (2:39) [Schapiro, Bernstein, ASCAP-Hill]

DEAN MARTIN (Reprise 0640)
In the Misty Moonlight (2:44) [4-Star, BMI-Walker]

Prancing melody aided in lightness by a gently floating flute sound serves as the newest vehicle in the Dean Martin hit string. Romantic vocal rendition in the Martin style goes a long way in making even more powerful the strong material. Should invite a bright reaction across the board from pop to soft spinning. Flip: "Wallpaper Roses" (2:06) [E. H. Morris, ASCAP-Spina, Robertson] is another hearty helping of powerful ballad material with a sparkling beat arrangement.

ESQUIRES (Bunky 7752)
And Get Away (2:35) [Hi-Mi/Flomar, BMI-Moorer, Sheppard]

Anyone who liked "Get On Up" should flip over the new Esquires' single "And Get Away." The follow-up session features basically the same song and story, but this sampling has a faster tempo and more polished group sound for wider pop action. All the elements of a breakout item, and an audience looking for a new side from the team add up to big things for the side. Flip: "Everybody's Laughing" (2:45) [Same credits.]

SOLOMON BURKE (Atlantic 2459)
Detroit City (2:54) [Cedarwood, BMI-Dill, Tillis]

Several hit versions of this solid pop-country standard have come out in the last few years, but this is the version. Great rhythm section, basic handling of the message, and tremendous delivery from Solomon Burke put this side up for top of the r&b chart and very big pop reactions. Should take off with jet-stream impetus. Flip: "It's Been a Change" (2:09) [Staples, BMI-Staples] Fantastic gospel blues coupler with magnetic r&b sound.

BILL COSBY (Warner Brothers 7096)
Hooray for the Salvation Army Band (3:04) [Manger, Keymen, BMI-Cosby, Smith]

Very fine blues tune that features mirthful jabs at the Salvation Army and humor with the Bill Cosby brand stamped on it. "Hooray" is a shattering follow up to the comedian's smash premiere on the soundstage in a vocalist vein. Musically grabbing, cutely worded, well sung the deck is sure to hit big with r&b spinners, and will break wide open on pop fronts. Flip: "Ursalena" (2:40) [Same credits.]

Picks of the Week

LEON HAYWOOD (Decca 32230)
Mellow Moonlight (2:30) [Evejim, BMI-Haywood]

Plenty of strength in the rhythmic backing of Leon Haywood's follow up to "It's Got to Be Mellow" should give this funky blues-plus-beat side the extra impact to create breakout reactions in pop and r&b locations. The side is a great dance song with outstanding vocal and production work that puts it over in the hit line. Flip: "Tennessee Waltz" (2:27) [Acuff-Rose, BMI-King, Stewart] is an up-tempo r&b reading of the oldie.

INEZ & CHARLIE FOXX (Dynamo 112)
Count the Days (2:36) [Catalogue, Cee & Eye, BMI-Williams, Foxx, Williams]

Despite a fairly rough job on this side, the performance of Inez and Charlie Foxx coupled with a tremendous blues song should go a long way in setting up the sales breakout this deck deserves. Regularly strong r&b action should serve as a big spring in setting things up on the pop front. Grand session with tremendous prospects. Flip: "A Stranger I Don't Know" (3:36) [Vee Vee, Cee & Eye, BMI-Foxx]

JIMMY ROSELLI (United Artists 50234)
Please Believe me (2:21) [Roncom, ASCAP-Stillman, Tenco]

Rambling ballad material delivered with strength and emotional power from the old school has made Jimmy Roselli a favorite with juke box listeners and good music spinners, not to mention a large part of the pop audience that has turned out for several of his singles in hit proportions. This side is another of the simply done, solidly sung goodies that should keep the fire burning. Flip: "I Don't Want to Walk Without You" (2:30) [Paramount, ASCAP-Loesser, Styne]

JAMES BROWN (King 6133)
The Soul of J.B. (2:42) [Golo, BMI-Brown, Hobgood, Knochelman]

Seldom spotlighted on the singles side, the orchestral face of James Brown carries enough power on its own to drive into the r&b sales picture even without the credentials that will draw initial attention to the side. Funky, but smoother than the offerings which characterize Brown's vocal, the side rumbles along in an organ showcase to watch closely. Flip: "Funky Soul, Part I" (2:03) [Golo, BMI-Brown, Hobgood, Crawford]

PHIL OCHS (A&M 891)
Outside of a Small Circle of Friends (3:37) [Barricade, ASCAP-Ochs]

Through incisive comments on the introversion of today's citizenry, Phil Ochs poses some serious questions to a backdrop of barroom piano in a lively tempo. The side's melodic and lyrical content should set it high in the picture. Pop, good music spinners and city coin-ops could find this a side in great demand. Flip: "Miranda" (3:05) [Same credits.]

Newcomer Picks

FOUNDATIONS (Uni 55038)
Baby, Now that I've Found You (2:36) [January, Welbeck, BMI-Macleod, Macaulay]

Bright blending of happy rhythmic and blues rock sets up a chart blazing future for this hard-hitting session taken from the hit lists of England. Great dance track with some very fine vocals pour on the steam to set the side in motion. Should see a big sales reaction. Flip: "Come On Back to Me" (2:05) [Same credits.]

GOOD & PLENTY (Senate 2105)
Living In a World of Make Believe (2:13) [Pocketful of Tunes, Pamco, BMI-Farrell, Romeo]

An exciting debut that should soon be climbing the hit parade, "Living In a World of Make Believe" shows off an unusual femme lead and well-matched male partner on a shuffling-middle speed blues ballad. The material and its handling is geared to click with pop minded teens, and could show strong action in r&b sales spots as well. Flip: "I Played My Part Well" (2:20) [Pocketful, Pamco, BMI-Romeo] slow, somewhat "Whiter Shade" styled blues with strong qualities that could attract attention.

SPECTRUM (RCA Victor 9382)
Portobello Road (2:22) [Screen Gems, Columbia, BMI-Marsh, Veal]

Same title, but a different song about "Portobello Road" could cause confusion between the outings of the Spectrum and Capitol's Ellie Janov. This side is a solid pop offering with light-hearted shuffle beat and a calmly jocular lyric nicely handled on the side. Anglophiles and teens should snap up the newie with a fervor likely to put the deck in hit contention. Flip: "Comes the Dawn" (2:43) [Dunbar, BMI-Roberts, Kinsella]

WILLIE CHARLES GRAY (SSS Int'l 725)
My Ancestors (2:14) [Vintage, BMI-Tubert]

Pride and power split the bill in Willie Charles Gray's delivery on this otent soul side. The lid has enough strength to carry it well into the pop sales charts, and definitely high on the r&b listings. Sentiment in the lyrics and a very fine orchestration put the finishing touches on an enthralling side.

Newcomer Picks

BRANDON WADE (Philips 40503)

Letter From a Teenage Son (2:49) [Vapac, BRC, BMI-Sweeney]

Dramatically read, intelligently worded, beautifully orchestrated with Ravel's "Pavanne" as a backdrop, Brandon Wade's answer letter to the Victor Lundberg hit presents a mature reply that could well steal the spotlight from other retorts from the younger generation. Stunning recording that demands a listen.

DARLING SISTERS (MGM 13811)

Ordinary Boy (2:39) [Akbetal, BMI-Landan, Landan]

Noted on the tunesmith side as composers of the Cowsills' smash, the Darling Sisters will crack things open as artists via this "Ordinary Boy" single. The deck is a potent bit of mid-tempo doings that accents the vocal work of the duo and gains extra strength from the arrangement end of the session. Flip: "I'm So Proud" (2:39) [Same credits] is another team written offering recently cut by Keith.

EVERGREEN BLUES (Mercury)

Midnight Confessions (2:44) [Little Fugitive, BMI-Josie]

Hard core rock drive put extra impact into this explosive serving of soulful rock-blues from the Evergreen Blues. Side moves in a quick-time just below up-tempo frenzy, but with a controlled rock push from the vocal and brass bursts. Excellent production, and a tremendous group sound should start a skyrocketing sales reception in motion. Flip: "(Yes) That's My Baby" (2:29) [Same credits.]

KING BROTHERS (Dunhill 4114)

My Mother's Eyes (3:00) [Francis Day & Hunter, ASCAP-Gilbert, Baer]

Fine harmony of the soft opening breaks into a hard rock version of the sweet standard "My Mother's Eyes" on this hit probable from the old school. A grand group sound, good dance rhythm and some stunning power in the side should set it on its merry way up the hit listings. Flip: "I'm Old Fashioned" (2:57) [Chappell, ASCAP-Kern, Mercer]

DMZ (MTA 135)

Somewhere In Between (2:27) [Mardette, BMI-Case, Raim]

Intricate production work taking an occasional semblance to a Brian Wilson opus, and a nation-wide tie-in with a teen commercial theme puts "Somewhere In Between" somewhere on top of the new decks that could take the breakout route. Look for the DMZ to take a shot at honors with this shimmery mid-speed effort. Flip: "Part 2"

MEDITATIONS (World Pacific 77876)

Transcendental Meditation (2:34) [Ree, ASCAP-Boniface]

Soft somewhat Polynesian melody, touches of sitar artistry and smooth choral drifting provide exquisite worded philosophy in a good music and pop vein. The side's easy listening value is bolstered in the sales department by lyrics covering the big kick of "Transcendental Meditation" that has been receiving much attention of late. Could wake from a sleeper class. Flip: "Beautiful Experience" (2:47) [Same credits.]

Christmas Picks

PERRY COMO (RCA Victor 9367)

Christmas Bells (2:40) [Ahab, BMI-Stevens]

Beautiful ballad done in the usual superb fashion by Perro Como and geared for good music play, this "Christmas Bells" side is one that could easily carry over into the schedules of any station playing seasonal goodies. The message is common to most Yule softies, but the delivery makes it a standout single for this month's slate. Flip: "Love is a Christmas Rose" (2:01) [Roncom, ASCAP-Shuman, Carr]

RHYS O'BRIEN (MGM 13862)

The Word Called Love (2:35) [Hodi, BMI-O'Brien]

Different wording and this side could have been a breakout pop session; but geared for the Yuletide timing through lyrical content this tune is one that will gain plenty of exposure as much through words as arrangement. Delving into the main aspect of the holiday, and presenting a plea for man, the song is a potent one and exquisitely performed. Flip: "Christmas Morning" (2:01) [Same credits.] Swingy side with good programming prospect.

DANNY THOMAS (RCA Victor 9342)

The First Christmas (2:21) [George Pincus, ASCAP, Laws, Bass]

Pretty song with a lovely melodic line and good handling by Danny Thomas, here is one that should be much in favor at any format stations. Lively enough for popsters, and substantially good-music in its performance, the side is an across the board winner. Peak exposure will be attained by airing on the "Cricket on the Hearth" tv spectacular. Flip: "Christmas Story" (2:30) [Remick, ASCAP-Walsh]

LITTLE KIDS (Tower 298)

Santa Claus is Stuck in the Chimney (1:50) [Bob-Cor, BMI-Mascari, Wenzlaff, Petrie]

Coming up with a Chipmunk's speeded vocal sound, the Little Kids get an extra lift for this novelty side that could turn to cop the spotlight for this year's off-the-wall sessions. Humorous handling of the Santa Claus and narrow chimney joke with a happy beat and appealing children's sound might turn the trick for this lid. Flip: "Tambourine Jingle" (3:15) [Bob-Cor, BMI-Adpt: Mascari, Wenzlaff] Bluesy "Jingle Bells."

Christmas Picks

SOCIETY'S CHILDREN (Atco 6538)

White Christmas (2:30) [Irving Berlin, ASCAP-Berlin]

Flashy rocked up mid-speed version of the biggest seasonal hit of all from Society's Children could steal many pop spotlights in the coming month. Good beat and a pretty workout in the vocal make a happy rendition of the standard. Flip: "I'll Let You Know" (2:04) [Goodness & Truth, BMI-Wadham, Askew]

VOICES OF THE LITTLE FLOWER (Decca 32050)

Christmas All Year 'Round (2:37) [Skidmore, ASCAP-Maxwell, Russell]

Young girls and children are always forgiven their vocal shortcomings on sentimental favorites, and this one is a side that could overcome through poignance any deficiency on the part of the singers. Pretty melody, grand idea for a children's or good music listener's enjoyment, and an item that could just catch fire. Flip: "The Little Pine Tree" (2:35) [Skidmore, ASCAP-Maxwell, DeNoon]

Best Bets

ARTISTICS (Brunswick 55353)

Nothing But Heartaches (2:10) [Jalynne, BRC, BMI-Davis, Bolian, Reed] Already a highly regarded group in the r&b field, the Artistics have a strong shot for pop recognition with this easy-beating mid-speed side. No relation to the Supremes' tune except the possible sales impact. Flip: "You Make Me Happy" (2:27) [Jalynne, BRC, Van McCoy, BMI-McCoy] Another hearty helping of favorable blues sounds.

CLEAR LIGHT (Elektra 45622)

Black Roses (2:08) [Nina, Little Giant, BMI-Dios] Belting rhythmic punctuation make a memorable thing of this up-tempo lament. The team's work on vocal and instrumental ends turns up a deck that could take wing in the sales picture. Flip: "She's Ready to Be Free" (1:55) [Nina, BMI-Clear Light]

JELLY BEAN BANDITS (Mainstream 674)

Country Woman (2:27) [Brent, BMI-Buck, Donald, Dougherty, Raab, Scalfari] Hard rock going on this deck could make it easy traveling with fans of the semi-psyche blues sound. Slow, steady thudding side that could come across. Flip: "Generation" (2:49) [Same credits.]

KEELY SMITH (Atlantic 2457)

Open Your Heart (2:35) [MCA, ASCAP-Hatch, Trent] Fine material and a regularly excellent vocal showing from Keely Smith could make "Open Your Heart" the side that breaks the singer back into the sales ratings. Solid ballad rendering with helpings of a big band. Flip: "All Fall Down" (2:35) [Pomona, BMI-Tucker, Mantz]

LES REED ORCH. (Dream 85022)

Theme to Candice (2:24) [Unart, BMI-Lai] Powerful tingler from the score of "Live for Life," which could share the good music spotlight with the more recorded title theme. Beautiful handling of the tune with a full orchestral impact. Flip: "The Last Waltz" (2:58) [Francis, Day & Hunter, ASCAP-Reed, Mason] Lovely reading of the recent pop hit.

PALLBEARERS (Fontana 1603)

Music With Soul (2:24) [Chantain, MRC, BMI-Smith] Danceable, soul-filled finger-snapper here. Could break out for the Pallbearers. Flip: "Love Is A Many-Splendored Thing" (3:07) [Miller, ASCAP-Fain, Webster]

SHOWMEN ('BB' 4015)

Take It Baby (2:36) [Palmina, Zig Zag, BMI-Johnson] The Showmen could have a winner on their hands with this forceful, medium-paced R&B love rocker. Watch it go. Flip: "In Paradise" (2:29) [Palmina, Zig Zag, BMI-Johnson] "BB" Records, 8th & Fitzwater Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

GENTLE GEORGE (RCA Victor 9380)

Toll the Bell for Henry Holloway! (2:59) [Sunbury, ASCAP-Dee, Deane, Goehring] Avant garde spinners, and deejays with an ear for the unusual will lean heavily on the weird offering here which packs a comment on the common man with production work that accents the lyric content. Fantastic session which could come out of left field. Flip: "Encore" (2:34) [Sunbury, ASCAP-Goering, Marshall] Cutie that might get more than B-side exposure.

CHRIS CROSBY (Atlantic 2455)

Hippie Lullaby (2:56) [Screen Gems, Columbia, BMI-Mann, Weil] Very pretty melody and a highly attractive arrangement make the most of this fairly trite material. Spinners who aren't turned off by the overworked "hip" cliches could enjoy its appeal for pop or good music play. Flip is the Legrand theme from "Umbrellas of Cherbourg."

RANDY SPIGNER (Spigner 5-001)

It's Soul Bebe (3:00) [Camden, BMI-Spigner] Bright little organ workout that travels along in a light mid-speed line toward its crashing finish. Almost a jazz rendering of the "Green Onions" theme at first, but something new as it develops. Could evolve into a sleeper hit. Flip: "The Shadow of Your Smile" (4:00) [Big 3, ASCAP-Webster, Mandell] Spigner Records, 3363 Wilson Ave., Bronx, N.Y.

SYLVIA (All Platinum 2303)

I Can't Help It (2:52) [Gambi, BMI-Bennett, Robinson] Ear catching opening makes for an attention grabber on this slow yet potent blues side from Sylvia (formerly of Mickey &), who could crack wide open from blues to pop with the strong sounding side. Flip info not available. All Platinum Records, 106 W. Palisade Ave., Englewood, N.J.

JOHNNY BARFIELD (SSS Int'l 724)

Mr. Starlight (3:02) [Arc, BMI-Moore] Very slow and highly powerful lover's lament on this terrifically appealing side. Aimed for maximum effect on the r&b market, the emotional workout that sets this side up for big future should also catch attention on the pop front.

OUTSIDERS (Capitol 2055)

Little Bit Of Lovin' (2:18) [Hastings, BMI-Fournier] Energetic, insistent romancer could stir up loads of listening enthusiasm for the Outsiders. Should be heard. Flip: "I Will Love You" (2:51) [Beechwood, BMI-King, Kelley]

SANDY & PEBBLES (Mercury 72745)

He's My Kind Of Fellow (2:20) [Jobete, BMI-Bristol, Fuqua] Sandy & the Pebbles could make national noise with this pulsing, rocking love session. Flip: "My Foolish Little Heart" (2:35) [Long Hair, ASCAP-Perez]

"don't look back"

LEE DORSEY & BETTY HARRIS (Sansu 474)
Love Lots Of Lovin' (2:59) [Marsaint, BMI-Toussaint] Lee Dorsey and Betty Harris could have hot item on their hands with this potent, R&Ber in praise of love. Striking date. Flip: "Take Care Of Our Love" (3:16) [Marsaint, BMI-Toussaint]

Flip: "I'll Never Forget You" (1:53) [Todman, Teeta-Green, BMI-Richards] Emar Records, 9000 Sunset, Suite 702, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

WILDLIFE (Columbia 44369)

Sweeps Introduces 'Holiday Happening'

NEW YORK — Two new "Our Best To You" LP's available at one-dollar each, a sweepstakes offering eight prizes and advertising aimed at nearly 100,000,000 consumers in 34 major markets will highlight Columbia Records' "A Holiday Happening" promotion that begins this week.

Spearheading the drive is an eight-page full-color newspaper supplement that will contain a gift guide to Columbia's assortment of records, tapes and Masterworks audio products. This supplement will be inserted in the Sunday editions of newspaper in 34 major markets on Nov. 26 and in the New York Times on the following week. This publicity printing will reach an estimated 100 million readers.

More than 200 current catalog albums in the pop, classical, Broadway & Hollywood and holiday fields will be cited in the supplement, among them the three new "Legacy" releases: "The Bullfight," "The Russian Revolution" and "The American Musical Theater." The deluxe 14-record set of Mahler's Symphonies conducted by Leonard Bernstein will also be featured. Nearly all the albums highlighted in the insert will be reproduced in full color. A special section will also be devoted to the assortment of phonographs, radios, and tape recorders from the Masterworks audio line.

Also highlighted are two new "Our Best To You" albums being offered at $1.00 each with the purchase of any LP listed in the supplement. One of these is a teen-oriented top-hits set with the Buckingham, Byrds, Aretha Franklin, Moby Grape, Paul Revere & the Raiders, Peaches & Herb, Simon & Garfunkel, Tremeloes, Cryan' Shames and Yardbirds; and the other includes popular music selections from Tony Bennett, Ray Conniff, Robert Goulet, Andy Williams and Barbra Streisand among others.

Sweepstakes Event

Another highlight of "A Holiday Happening" from Columbia is the "Priceless Prizes Sweepstakes," offering eight one-of-a-kind awards with 1,000 additional album prizes. A photograph showing the winnings is to appear on the supplement's back page.

Grand Prize is a limited-production model of the Mercedes-Benz S.S. Roadster of 1927-30, the Excalibur. Others are a stuffed African lion, an 8-foot long polar bear rug, telephone booth complete with phone, seat and fan; pinball machine, 1958 Wurlitzer jukebox, cigar-store Indian and a tandem bicycle.

No purchase is required to enter the sweepstakes and all participating record dealers have been supplied with customer entry blanks.

A special display photograph showing the prizes and customer entry blanks has been prepared and convenient entry blank holders are available for attachment to walls or cash registers.

Teens will be hit through a two-page spread in Go Magazine early next month, and the massive campaign will also be augmented by a merchandising kit for in-store use. Special wall/window streamers and dealers ad mats will support the "Holiday Happening" drive in local markets across the country. Dealers and rack jobbers will also be able to obtain tent-card displays and the header cards along with a streamer/poster advertising the sweepstakes and "Our Best To You" LP's.

Cosby Radio Series

age radio with $1-million, the cost of time and production over one year. For the mid-sixties, for radio, $1-million is a very large sum. We believe this is the largest investment in the history of radio."

The premiere broadcast in each market will take place Monday, January 15, 1968. Production has started. The series will be taped in Hollywood, or wherever Cosby happens to be on location abroad for his I SPY television series or touring the U.S. for concert or night club appearances.

The radio series is produced by Cosby's own company—Campbell, Silver, Cosby Corporation. The radio program has no connection with the producers, network or characterizations involved in "I Spy."

Cosby expressed his enthusiasm for the opportunity to create for radio. "Radio is a wild, unfettered medium that is just right for contemporary humor. The medium is an open invitation to the listener's imagination and a blank check for the writer," he said.

The program is being produced under the supervision of McCann-Erickson, Inc., advertising agency for Coca-Cola. The brand will continue its use of spot announcements and specials in TV, such as "Charlie Brown," NCAA Football, the Beatles' "Hard Day's Night," and sponsorship of the Orange Bowl.

Catena Appointed To New CRDC Post

HOLLYWOOD—Rocco M. Catena has been named to the newly-created post of national rack merchandising manager of Capitol Records Distributing Corp. (CRDC), according to an announcement made last week (15) by Brown Meggs, CRDC vice president and national merchandising manager. In his new post, Catena, former CRDC pop-album sales manager, will be responsible for the creation of promotions and merchandising campaigns specifically tailored to the needs of CRDC's sub-distributor customers. In making the announcement, Meggs stated:

"By creating the post of national rack merchandising manager, we are continuing in our efforts to provide better and more practical selling aids for our subdistributor customers. In particular, the rack-jobber's needs often differ radically from the promotional needs of retailers, and it will be Mr. Catena's aim to assess those differences and provide specialized marketing problems. In Mr. Catena, we are fortunate to have an executive with long experience in both the sales and promotional sides of our business."

Catena joined CRDC in 1958 as a sales representative in Chicago. In 1961, he was promoted to the position of assistant branch manager at Chicago, and in 1963, he was appointed Cleveland branch manager. Since May, 1964, Catena has served CRDC as pop-album sales manager, with headquarters in the Capitol Tower in Hollywood. No replacement for Catena in this latter post has yet been selected.

AGAC

1957, Lane acted as its leading administrative officer. He engaged in contractual relations with music publishers, recruiting of new members, the adding of new services such as low-cost hospitalization and major medical insurance. His most important accomplishment was the establishment of the unique AGAC Collection of Royalty Plan in 1959. Lane conceived the idea of a Guild-run Collection Plan, by which the Guild would collect royalties for writers. The Guild would audit publishers books with the assistance of expert accountants.

Through this program, royalty earnings of those writers belonging to the Guild have steadily increased. In 1959, the Guild collected approximately $400,000 for its members. In 1967, the Guild announced at its annual meeting, its collection of royalty plan will hit a new high—$3,000,000.

Mark Lindsay: Call Me Collect—10,000 Respond

HOLLYWOOD — A chance to speak to Mark Lindsay of Paul Revere & the Raiders wasn't passed-up by at least 10,000 fans of the star last Wed. (15). The flood of calls, reported by the Pacific Telephone Co. to be the largest phone jam-up since the Watts riots of 1965, was prompted by ads placed in two teen magazines (Dig and 15), declaring that Lindsay would speak to anyone who called him collect at his Hollywood offices. The magazines have readership in 87 countries, and calls were made by fans in London, Rome and Australia, in addition to U.S. cities, mostly New York and Chicago.

Lindsay got to speak to 300 before taking leave to make a singing engagement in Dallas. Hollywood radio station KNXT went further than Pacific Telephone in sizing up the phone tie-up: the biggest since World War II.

Lissauer Exits Youmans To Form Own Operation

NEW YORK—Robert Lissauer has resigned as vice president and general manager of the Vincent Youmans Company, Inc., and has formed Lissauer Music Companies, which, under the new set-up will act as managing agent for the Youmans Company. Lissauer has also re-acquired the Mode (ASCAP) and Scope (BMI) music firms which the Vincent Youmans Company purchased when he joined them in 1962. LMC is to be a diversified music complex including production, talent management, music publishing, and music publishing management.

This reorganization finds a new ASCAP firm, Robert Lissauer Publishing Corporation, embracing the Mode catalogue and all of the new material which went into VYC during Lissauer's administration. Ellison Music Corporation (BMI) has been formed and has acquired the Scope catalogue. Approximately 1,000 titles were involved in the transaction. "This move," says Lissauer, "will give more flexibility to our organization and to the writers and artists who are a part of it."

Projected Activities

Among projected activities for LMC are the forthcoming musical "Juliet In Mantua," with book by Robert Nathan, successful novelist and screenwriter ("Portrait of Jenny," "The Clock," "One More Spring," etc.) and score by Michael Valenti (music) and Ed Dulchin (lyrics), exclusive writers with LMC. Producers are Joan Bergstrom and William Major.

Other writers signed with the Lissauer companies include John Clifton and Ben Tarver, best known for their off-Broadway hit "Man With A Load of Mischief," which Bob Lissauer published; Billy Goldenberg and Larry Alexander, who wrote the music and lyrics for Ray Bradbury's "Dandelion Wine," which was performed at Lincoln Center (Goldenberg, incidentally, is also the music director for the forthcoming "Leslie Uggams" TV Special); newcomers Lee Holdridge and Ed Fearon, Kathy Renn, and singer-writer Charlotte Vale. Lissauer is also co-producer and co-manager with Billy Edd Wheeler of recording artist Leroy Pullins, whose current release is "Gypsy Rose and I Don't Give A Curse" on the Kapp label.

Lissauer's Background

Lissauer entered the music publishing world fresh out of the Julliard School when he and then-partner John Jacob Loeb started a publishing firm with immediate success. After a four-year hiatus from the music business because of military obligations, Lissauer sold his catalogue to Leeds Music and went "back to music, studying, teaching, and composing in all media." In 1955, he started the new firms which now combine the base for his new operation. LMC has just moved to larger quarters in 157 West 57th Street.

FOCUS ON JAZZ

MORT FEGA

Several months ago I wrote something about that legendary guitarist, Tal Farlow; it was precipitated by many queries regarding Tal's whereabouts, what he was doing, how he was, etc. Except for rare occasions when he would come out to play a gig locally in New Jersey, where he lives, he was in a virtual state of hibernation. His brief, but meteoric, appearance on the jazz horizon in the early Fifties had left an indelible impression on all who heard him play. It was sufficient to rank him as one of the all-time greats on his instrument, the guitarists' guitarist.

First New York Appearance in a Decade

It never occurred to me that just a few months later I would be writing again about Tal, this time telling that he had returned to the musical arena, making his first New York City appearance in a decade. He has returned, and at the time of this writing he and his trio are in the midst of a most successful appearance at The Frammis, a new East Side music room-restaurant that is dedicated to bringing New Yorkers the best music, the best food, in the best surroundings, and at the best possible prices. Having been witness to the demise of The Composer, then The Embers, each of which featured good music, good food, and in pleasant surroundings, I can only say, "Welcome to The Frammis! It's about time that this big, little city had a place like yours again. We've been too long without."

The last time I heard Tal Farlow play was at The Composer, where he headed up a trio that had the late Eddie Costa on piano and vibes, and Vinnie Burke on bass. That was in 1957 and at that time The Tal Farlow Trio was considered one of the most gratifying groups to be heard. Prior to heading up his own group, Tal had seen service with Red Norvo, Artie Shaw, and Buddy DeFranco. His exploits with those groups were legend, sufficient to make him the new phenomenon of the guitar. I can recall going to The Composer night after night listening to the group, often saying to myself that this was too good to be real. Apparently it was, because soon afterwards Tal retired, not to be heard again in New York until this current engagement at The Frammis. When he put it away in 1957 he was the undisputed champion of his instrument, and what he was play then palls by comparison to what he is playing now.

Once again, Tal has allied himself with a piano and a bass, each handled almost supernaturally by Johnny Knapp and Lyn Christie. Tal has had some great musical affiliations in the past; yet, by his own words, Farlow says that his current group is the most gratifying musical experience he has ever had. Being the modest, self-effacing person that he is, I would say that is a very bold statement for him to make. Seldom in my experience have I heard a group that has so much rapport and empathy. From the very outset of the engagement (I was present opening night and several times since) the interplay and the cohesiveness of the trio bordered on the mysterious. It led me to ask myself what it would sound like after they had been together for a while and settled into their groove. I said to one of my companions at the table that I didn't think I'd be able to take it if it got much better. He, a very respected drummer, countered by saying that this was the first time in ten years that he felt absolutely suspended, as though he were completely detached from everything around him except what was happening onstage. He knew he was there, and he knew it was happening, but he just didn't believe it.

Innovations by Tal Farlow

It's apparent that Tal has been devoting a lot of time to his instrument during semi-retirement. His playing is faster than ever, incredibly so, cleaner than ever, and his use of harmonics makes other guitar players in the audience wince. One night I heard an excellent and highly rated guitarist say that he was going home and slash his wrists. Tal has always had a talent with electronics and he has devised an attachment that acts as a divider, one that splits a note in two, much as a computer would. Actually, Tal says it is a computer and when he uses it as an adjunct it creates another voice, as though another guitarist was playing in unison with him. This attachment has created a consuming interest among Tal's fellow guitarists. From his description, the divider is very touchy to use, demanding just the right touch, otherwise the divider becomes confused and doesn't know what to divide. My limited knowledge makes an adequate description almost impossible. I suggest that you hear it for yourself at The Frammis, where Tal and his fellows will be appearing until December 11.

Besieged by Fans

An indication of Farlow's stature in the music community is given by the fact that between sets it's impossible for him to get away by himself for even five minutes. Every night between every set he is approached by ardent admirers who shower him with questions, superlatives, or just want to tell him how glad they are that he has chosen to come out and play in public again. One admirer wanted to arrange a European tour for The Tal Farlow Trio, and at once.

I would be remiss if I didn't dwell for a moment on the contributions of the other two members of the trio, Johnny Knapp and Lyn Christie. In one moment Knapp is fiery and percussive and in the next his style is lyrical and ethereal. His is a wedding of all the styles that the instrument affords, and always tasteful, always within the framework of what is being performed. From a physical reference his complete involvement heightens, if possible, the enjoyment of what he plays. It's almost as though he is isolated, devoted only to the piano from which he coaxes and urges just a little more than it has to offer. In ensemble playing his ability to weave and create textures is an integral part of the group's magic, much beyond the commonplace. The call and answer passages that develop between Tal and Johnny are almost telepathic. Up to now Johnny Knapp has to be the best kept secret in the music business.

Lyn Christie is completely something else! To begin with he is an Australian physician, here in the States for two and a half years where he has served his residency and passed his boards. Blessed with an impeccable sense of intonation, the Achilles heel for most bassists, he wins audiences over completely with his arco, or bowed, solos. To heighten the excitement of these solos, he sings, actually hums, what he is playing, in the style of Slam Stewart but more so, and the intensity that he develops never fails to win him an enthusiastic ovation from the grateful audiences. Coupled with his talent as a soloist is his rock-ribbed time feeling, something which is very much needed in the absence of a drummer.

So, Tal Farlow has returned, playing more than ever, and as the leader of one of the most tightly knit groups that I've ever heard... and I've heard some. A reminder once again that The Tal Farlow Trio will be in residence at The Frammis until December 11. As enthusiastic as I am about the group and the club I wouldn't want you to overlook either. The wedding of Tal Farlow and The Frammis has to be one of the best things that has happened to New York City. Perhaps the success of his appearance at The Frammis will encourage Tal to make his presence a permanent part of the scene, sharing his and the group's talent with the many who hunger to hear him again all over the country, all over the world.

Good-Humored Performance On Performance Rights:

Senator Harrison A. Williams (center) was the light-hearted luncheon speaker at last week's (15) general meeting of the Record Industry Association of America (RIAA) at the Plaza Hotel. The Washington legislator, a member of the Senate's small business committee, has introduced an amendment to the proposed revision of the Copyright Law that would provide performance royalties for artists and record labels. In support of an artist's ability to interpret songs on different levels, he brought along a tape recording of two versions of the "Mickey Mouse Club" theme, one a straight-forwarded chorus rendition, the other a sultry version by Julie London. Same tape were played earlier this year at Senate hearings on the Bill. Senator Williams said it was unlikely that the Copyright Bill would be taken up at this session of Congress, but he indicated action early next year. Flanking Senator Williams are (left) Dave Kapp, president of the RIAA, and Fred Rosenblatt of Ruder & Finn.

Ampex Extension To Double Manufacturing Facilities

COLORADO SPRINGS—Ampex Corporation has begun construction to expand plant space at its manufacturing facilities in Colorado Springs which is expected to more than double operations at the operation during the next 15 months.

According to operations manager John Beumer, preparation work has begun to add 116,000 square feet of plant space to the 100,000 square feet now occupied by Ampex in the city.

The added space will be an extension of the present building, permitting a fully integrated operation. The manufacturing facility of Ampex' audio/visual communications division presently makes professional recording equipment for broadcasting, master recording, industry and education; scientific magnetic recorders for industrial and medical instrumentation and videotape recorders and components for closed circuit television and professional broadcasting.

"With completion of this phase of our growth," Beumer said, "we plan to introduce a new concept for our industry in the area of storing and transporting supplies, materials and product within the plant itself."

Ampex broke ground for its present Colorado Springs plant in April, 1964 and began production in early '65. Estimated completion date for the expansion is January or February '69.

RCA Readies Massive Xmas Campaign

NEW YORK—RCA Victor Records is currently making final preparations for a massive Christmas advertising and promotion campaign. The campaign will showcase RCA product throughout the nation, reaching an estimated 150,000,000 potential record buyers.

Built around the theme, "The Holidays Glow With the Sounds of Music," the campaign pays honor to the soundtrack album of the motion picture, "The Sound of Music," one of the best selling albums of all time and a sure-fire Christmas gift item.

Spearheading the campaign will be a two-page advertising spread scheduled to run in daily newspapers in 40 of the nation's largest markets. One of the pages will be in full color and will be devoted to the soundtrack, "The Sound of Music." The opposite page will be black and white and will feature 39 other RCA Victor albums suitable for Christmas giving.

There will be additional heavy advertising in the music trade publications. New Christmas point-of-sale materials will be prominently featured in the trade advertising.

These materials will include two display kits. Kit A will contain a four-color, lighted rotating window display featuring 40 album covers, two four-color streamers which are unmounted duplicates of the window display panels, an RCA Stereo 8 streamer, 25 four-color consumer catalogs and five mounted album covers of new Christmas packages by Floyd Cramer, Hank Snow, Ed Ames, John Klein and Julie Andrews/Andre Previn.

Kit B will contain a mounted, easel-backed stationary equivalent of the major window display, two four-color streamers, a mounted Stereo 8 streamer, 10 consumer catalogs and the same five mounted album covers.

Blanket ad mats with album covers in two sizes will be prepared on the 40 albums featured in the national newspaper advertising and on Kit "A" and "B" displays.

Christmas Album Reviews

SOUND OF CHRISTMAS—Al Caiola & Riz Ortolani—United Artists UAL 3617/UAS 6617

The guitar talents of Al Caiola are combined with the splendid arrangements of Riz Ortolani to make this one of the better Christmas packages to come along this year. "Holiday On Skis," "Bossa Nova Noel," "Santo Natale," "Buon Natale," and "Silver Bells" are some of the better efforts. This one's likely to see plenty of spins and sales around holiday time.

IN THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT—Booker T. & the MG's—Stax S 713

Have yourself a soulful Christmas with this powerful holiday package that contains the Booker T. & the MG's treatments of such yuletide romps as: "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town," "Jingle Bells," "Blue Christmas," "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," and "We Three Kings." The package is likely to bring about a spirited Christmas wherever it's played.

MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM THE COMMAND FAMILY OF RECORDING STARS—Various Artists—Command RS 920 SD

Here's a Command Christmas performance by such artists as: the Ray Charles Singers, Doc Severinsen, Robert Maxwell, Bobby Byrne, the Pittsburgh Symphony/Steinberg, Dick Hyman, the Robert De Cormier Singers, Toots Thielemans, and others. "Joy To The World," "Mary's Little Boy Child," "The First Noel," and "Sleigh Ride" are among the more outstanding tracks. A sure-to-please item for the Christmas holiday.

CHRISTMAS WITH HANK SNOW—Hank Snow—RCA Victor LPM/LSP 3826

What could be more in the spirit of the season than Snow for Christmas? Included among the more delightful tracks on this set are such efforts as: "The Reindeer Boogie," "The Christmas Cannonball," "God Is My Santa Claus," "Little Stranger (In A Manger)," and "Christmas Roses." There's likely to be plenty of Snow in the country field around Christmas time if this LP is any indication.

CHRISTMAS IS ALWAYS—Roy Rogers & Dale Evans—Capitol (T) ST 2818

Roy & Dale offer their own type of Christmas music on this delightful holiday LP. Some of the more interesting tracks include: "Let There Be Peace On Earth," "Star Of Hope," "It's The Most Wonderful Time Of The Year," and two medleys. This one is bound to bring joy into the holiday season.

CHRISTMAS ALL YEAR LONG—Ferlin Husky—Capitol T/ST 2793

Here's a Christmas offering that could easily leave enough good holiday spirit to last all year. Among the better tracks are such efforts as: "White Christmas," "Christmas Don't Seem Like Christmas Anymore," "Silent Night," and "Christmas Dream." This might just cause a big stir in the market place.

ALL I WANT FOR CHRISTMAS IS MY TWO FRONT TEETH—Arthur Godfrey—Camden CAL/CAS 1092

Arthur Godfrey becomes sort of a red-haired Santa Claus bringing the spirit of Christmas to the kids through this delightful Christmas LP. Some of the better tracks include: "A Holly Jolly Christmas," "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus," "Up On The House Top," "Suzy Snowflake," and "The Twelve Days Of Christmas." This one should help to make the big day just a little bit brighter for any little tyke.

HAVING BRIGHTENED THE FLAME—Berry Gordy Jr., president of Motown, is presented a special plaque by Robert Semple (right), general chairman of the United Foundation Torch Drive in Detroit. Gordy was cited by the foundation for having made, "outstanding and unique contributions to the 1967 Torch Drive." The award was presented at a gala UF victory dinner attended by some 1,200 persons many of whom had contributed significantly to raising $27.5 million to break all torch drive records in Detroit.

Pop Picks

'CLAMBAKE'—Elvis Presley—RCA Victor LPM/LSP 3893

Containing a full color, autographed photo of Elvis and Priscilla, this offering of efforts from the original soundtrack of the "Clambake" flick should follow the usual rapid Presley route to big LP sales. Some of the better tracks include "Big Boss Man," "The Girl I Never Loved," "Who Needs Money?," "Confidence," and "Just Call Me Lonesome."

HISTORY OF OTIS REDDING—Volt S 418

A history of soul is outlined on this powerhouse LP by Otis Redding, and the disk should rake in plenty of sales and spins. Included on the set are "I've Been Loving You Too Long," "Try A Little Tenderness," "Respect," "Satisfaction," and "I Can't Turn You Loose." All in all, the artist delivers a most winning performance.

UP, UP AND AWAY—Johnny Mathis—Columbia CL 2726/CS 9526

Superb song stylist Johnny Mathis serves up a warm batch of pop melodies calculated to please the most discriminating taste. Featured on the disk are the title song, "Up, Up And Away," "The Morningside Of The Mountain," "Misty Roses," "Drifting," and three tunes from the film, "Doctor Dolittle." The set should develop into a biggie.

THE BEST OF SANDY POSEY—MGM E/SE 4509

"The Best Of Sandy Posey" is just that—a compilation of the lark at the top of her form, which is very good indeed. Included on the package are "Born A Woman," "Are You Never Coming Home," "I Take It Back," and "What A Woman In Love Won't Do." The album should find fast favor with a great number of listeners.

PATA PATA—Miriam Makeba—Reprise R/RS 6274

Miriam Makeba's smash single, "Pata Pata," supplies the title for this powerhouse LP. "Click Song Number One," "Ring Bell, Ring Bell," "Jolinkomo," "West Wind," "Saduva," and (of course) the title song, are among the finer tracks. This one should see plenty of spins and sales throughout the world.

THE VOICE OF SCOTT MCKENZIE—Ode Z12 44001/Z12 44002

Chart hits current and recent are featured on this lyrical disk by Scott McKenzie. "Like An Old Time Movie," now riding the charts, and "San Francisco (Be Sure To Wear Flowers In Your Hair)," recently on the Top 100, are included on the set, along with "Don't Make Promises," "Reason To Believe," and seven others. This one should shortly be climbing the LP charts.

LET IT OUT—Hombres—Verve/Forecast FT/FTS 3036

The Hombres follow up their chart single, "Let It Out (Let It All Hang Out)," with an album of the same title. In addition to the title tune, the LP features "So Sad," "Am I High," "This Little Girl," and "Sorry 'Bout That." Judging from the popularity of their single, the Hombres should hit pay dirt with this disk.

ID MUSIC—Third Rail—Epic LN 24327/BN 26327

The Third Rail renders a selection of ten pop tunes. Included on the disk are the group's recent chart item, "Run, Run, Run," "The Ballad Of General Humpty," the trio's current noisemaker, "Bobba Do Down Down," and "From A Parachute." The Third Rail could very well have a big winner on their hands with this power-packed LP.

LIVE FOR LIFE—Original Soundtrack—United Artists UAL 4165/UAS 5165

Here's the original soundtrack recording of the film, "Live For Life," starring Yves Montand, Candice Bergen, and Annie Girardot. The music was written by Francis Lai, who composed the music for "A Man And A Woman." Lai has written a lovely, evocative set of melodies, and the LP should captivate a great number of listeners.

DOWN TO MIDDLE EARTH—Hobbits—Decca DL 4920/74920

Hobbits are much in fashion these days, and judging from this LP, the Hobbits, a new rock group, should soon be setting musical fashions. The group's sound is wistful and appealing, as are Hobbits. Among the tracks are the title tune, "Down To Middle Earth," "I'm Just A Young Man," "Let Me Run My Fingers Through Your Mind," and "Sunny Day Girl." The disk promises to see lots of sales action.

LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL & (FEEL SO GOOD)—Bunny Sigler—Parkway P/PS 50,000

Bunny Sigler socks out a set of R&B ditties featuring two of his recent chart singles: "Let The Good Times Roll & (Feel So Good)," the title track, and "Lovey Dovey & (You're So Fine)." Other selections include "Girl Don't Make Me Wait" and "True Love Is On Its Way." The artist creates a good deal of excitement on the offering, and the LP should attract a large following.

THE 5000 SPIRITS—Incredible String Band—Elektra (EKL) EKS7 4010

With this delightful package of guitar/vocal revelry, the Incredible String Band (Robin Williamson and Mike Heron) begins its Elektra LP career. The English duo scored major successes at this year's Newport Folk Festival so the album should do very well in the marketplace. Some of the finer tracks include: "Way Back In The 1960's," "Painting Box," "The Eyes Of Fate," and "Blues For The Muse."

CANADIAN FOLK SONGS (A CENTENNIAL COLLECTION)—Various Artists—RCA Victor CS 100

This boxed, 9-record set was prepared by RCA Victor, Ltd. of Montreal and is part of the current RCA Victor international release. It is a representative compilation of the folk songs of Canada containing examples of work songs, riddle songs, traditional ballads, lumber camp songs, songs of courtship, love, and marriage. The set has built in appeal to the collector or student of folk music and/or Canadian history in addition to its being a highly enjoyable listening experience.

THE FIRST EDITION—Reprise R/RS 6276

Here's the first album from the First Edition, and a most edifying introduction to the group it is. Included on the LP are "Just Dropped In (To See What Condition My Condition Was In)," "Shadow In The Corner Of Your Mind," "I Was The Loser," and "Church Without A Name." The group renders its material in a spirited, zestful style, and the set should be a fast-moving sales item.

Pop Best Bets

CRY SOFTLY LONELY ONE—Roy Orbison—MGM E/SE 4514

Roy Orbison chants eleven pop tunes in a lilting, feelingful manner. Included on the album are the title song, "Cry Softly Lonely One," "Just Let Me Make Believe," "Here Comes The Rain Baby," and "That's A No No." The artist has had a hand in the writing of six of the outings, and the LP should please his many followers.

ONLY THE BEGINNING—Joel Grey—Columbia CL 2752/CS 9552

Joel Grey, creator of the role of Master of Ceremonies in the Broadway musical, "Cabaret," here offers an exciting album that could establish him as an extremely popular disk artist. The chanter sings eleven tunes including "You Mustn't Kick It Around," (from "Pal Joey") "You Oughta Be In Pictures," "Wilkommen" (from "Cabaret") and "It Was My Father's Fashion" (from "Shoestring '57"). Keep close tabs on this set. It could go far.

HENRY JEROME PRESENTS HENRY'S TRUMPETS—United Artists UAL 3620/UAS 6620

An exciting effort from beginning to end, this album could easily attract the attention of a wide audience. With the assistance of Hutch Davie, Henry Jerome has worked out arrangements of ten contemporary numbers "to make a contemporary instrumental album featuring trumpets which would have a fresh and different approach and would have both dancing and listening appeal to adults as well as teenagers." "Up Up And Away," "Alfie" and "All You Need Is Love" are a few of the selections.

EASTER EVERYWHERE—13th Floor Elevator—International Artists IALP 5

The 13th Floor Elevator could take off like a shot for the upper reaches of the LP chart with this powerhouse 2nd album offering. The group already has a large underground following and this could be the one to break through. "Slip Inside This House," "She Lives," and "Baby Blue" are among the finer tracks. Well worth listening to, if you go for strong rock.

Jazz Picks

ALBERT AYLER IN GREENWICH VILLAGE—Impulse A/AS 9155

Albert Ayler, playing alto and tenor sax, performs four jazz sessions. The numbers are "For John Coltrane," "Change Has Come," "Truth Is Marching In," and "Our Prayer." The latter piece was written by Donald Ayler, Albert Ayler wrote the other three. The music is highly avant-garde, and the careful listener will be well-rewarded.

MONGO SANTAMARIA EXPLODES AT THE VILLAGE GATE—Columbia CL 2770/CS 9570

Mongo Santamaria, on conga and bongos, leads his troupe through a bristling set of Latin jazz tunes. Included on the package are "Philadelphia," "Afro Blue," "Yes It Do," and "Elephant Pants." Santamaria's sizzling bongo rhythms make this offering a real crowd-pleaser.

Classical Picks

TCHAIKOVSKY: SYMPHONY NO. 5 IN E MINOR, OP. 64—Leopold Stokowski/New Philharmonia Orchestra—Phase 4 SPC 21017

Tchaikovsky's, "Symphony No. 5 In E Minor, Op. 64," is brought to life by the New Philharmonia Orchestra under the masterful leadership of Leopold Stokowski. The originality and wealth of the Symphony's themes and the warmth and deep color of its harmonies are brilliantly set forth, and the LP should be treasured by lovers of classical music.

The Chambers Brothers perform a group of pop ditties with style and verve. Included on the set are "All Strung Out Over You," "In the Midnight Hour," "What The World Needs Now Is Love," and "Time Has Come Today." This one should gain the approbation of a wide listenership.

FILM FAME—Enoch Light & Light Brigade—Project 3 PR 5013 SD

This beautifully arranged and recorded album contains rich orchestral treatments of a bevy of famous movie themes. Included are "To Sir, With Love," "For A Few Dollars More," "When The World Is Ready," "In The Heat Of The Night" and eight others. Should be a chart spot in the cards for this one. Eye it carefully.

BEN-HUR, EL CID, QUO VADIS, KING OF KINGS—Miklos Rozsa—Capitol T/ST 2837

On this dynamic album, famed composer Miklos Rozsa conducts his themes from four motion pictures: "Ben Hur," "El Cid," "Quo Vadis" and "King Of Kings." The splendor and pageantry of Rozsa's music are well known to all those who have seen these films; for those who haven't, an experience awaits. Should be a goodly number of sales on tap for this package. Watch it move.

THE DAY THE FISH CAME OUT—Original Soundtrack—20th Century-Fox (S)4194

This album is the original soundtrack recording of the film, "The Day The Fish Came Out," starring Tom Courtenay, Sam Wanamaker, Colin Blakely, and Candice Bergen. Mikis Theodorakis, who composed the music for "Zorba The Greek," wrote the music for the movie. Movie music buffs should be enchanted by the sparkling sounds on the LP.

THE SORCERER—Gabor Szabo—Impulse—A/AS 9146

Recorded live at the jazz workshop in Boston, "The Sorcerer" is indeed a spellbinding album that should enchant jazz listeners all across the nation. Guitarist Gabor Szabo has never been in better form, and his material is right in line with his performance. Among the numbers on the LP are "The Beat Goes On," "What Is This Thing Called Love?," "Space," and "Mizrab."

FIRST CLASS KLOSS—Eric Kloss—Prestige 7520

One of the finest young jazz saxophonists around, Eric Kloss once more demonstrates his staying power with this brilliant album. The set includes six pieces. Two of them, "The Chasin' Game" and "One For Marianne" are Kloss's own compositions. The others are "Comin' Home Baby," "Chittlins Con Carne," "Walkin'" and "African Cookbook." Jazz buffs should really go for this package. Keep it in sight.

MOZART: CONCERTO NO. 20 & SONATA NO. 17—Daniel Barenboim—Angel (S) 36430

Philips Unveils Radio/Phono—Recorder Display

NEW YORK—The North American Philips Company has just unveiled a new Norelco portable AM radio/phonograph combination and two new display units for Norelco tape recorders.

The compact, cordless, AC-adaptable radio/phono unit is designed to appeal to "the more mobile youth market" and features slim styling and a built-in carrying handle. It weighs just 4½ pounds.

The new unit offers 1000 MW peak power output and operates either from six 1½-volt "D" cell batteries or electric current available through an optional AC adapter accessory. The two-speed phonograph plays at 33½ or 45 RPM and accepts records of all sizes. A 45 RPM adapter disk is furnished with each unit. The player is switched off automatically when a record has been completed. A removable top covers the turntable and tone arm when the phonograph is not in use.

Dimensions of the Norelco AM radio/phono combinations are 11 by 9 by 2¼-inches. The two-color cabinet is blue and white.

Suggested list price is $39.95.

Recorder Display Units

The two new tape recorder display units are a counter demonstrator for the Norelco "Carry-Corder" and a standing floor "home entertainment center," made to show the complete Norelco line.

"Both displays have been designed to occupy a minimum of space while at the same time giving maximum exposure," according to Wybo Semmelink, assistant vice president of North American Philips and manager of the firm's high fidelity products department.

The "Carry-Corder" display measures 11" by 14" by 3½" and is fashioned of heavy-weight molded plastic. It provides for an operating recorder on an angled base and a holder for the microphone. Wires are completely hidden.

An introductory bonus offer is being made for the "Carry-Corder" display, Semmelink said. With each purchase of 12 of the miniature cordless recorders, the dealer receives a free counter display, a pre-recorded demonstration cassette and a Norelco AC adapter, valued at $15, to permit continuous play of the machine. With the purchase of two dozen "Carry-Corder" units, the dealer receives the free display complete with a "Carry-Corder" mounted in place, as well as a microphone, AC adapter and demonstration cassette. Dealers also may order each component of the display separately, Semmelink noted.

The standing floor display is 68" by 36" by 16". The unit is of charcoal laminated vinyl, walnut and glass. It has an illuminated name panel and accommodates the full line of Norelco tape recorders. Completely wired for demonstration, it has sliding glass doors for protection of portable machines and a locked storage cabinet for accessories and literature. The Norelco "home entertainment center" display comes completely assembled except for its four chrome legs which are attached easily. Valued at more than $100, cost to dealers is just $25, Semmelink pointed out. Both displays are available immediately, he added.

Vanguard Unveils November Albums

NEW YORK—Seven classical and seven popular LP's are being released by Vanguard Records for the month of November.

Highlighting the classical release is a 2-record Bach Guild package entitled "The Art Of Ornamentation And Embellishment In The Renaissance And Baroque." The set includes twenty-five selections, from the 15th to the 18th century, performed both plain, as in score, and in ornamented form based on manuscripts and treatises of the period. The album was devised by Denis Stevens, with the collaboration of various solo singers and instrumentalists, conductors, choral groups and instrumental ensembles.

Other new classical albums from

Vanguard are: "In Dulci Jubilo," a Bach Guild release by Leopold Stowkowski and His Orchestra with Igor Kipnis, harpsichordist; "Schubert: Sonata For Piano And Violin," by Peter Serkin (piano) and Alexander Schneider (violin); "A Music Box Of Christmas Carols," a Cardinal series release by the Carolers, Dr. Newell Wright, conductor, featuring the 159-year old music boxes from the Bornand Collection; "Music Of Leroy Anderson," a Cardinal series release spotlighting Maurice Abravanel conducting the Utah Symphony Orchestra in 15 Anderson works including "The Syncopated Clock," "Sleigh Ride," and "Blue Tango"; and, in the low-priced Everyman Classics series, two recordings which showcase solo choral works by the pre-Bach composer, Schuetz, "Schuetz: Christmas Oratorio" and "Schuetz: Musikalische Exequin."

New Pop LP's

Vanguard's popular albums for November include: "I-Feel-Like-I'm-Fixin'-To-Die," Country Joe and the Fish's debut Vanguard LP; "Departures," by Julius Lester; "Kaleidoscopic Variations," by Perrey and Kingsley; "Serpent Power"; "Look Where I Am," by 17-year-old singer/composer Erik; "John Fahey," the guitarist's debut Vanguard set; and "Jan Peerce Sings Songs From Fiddler On The Roof And 10 Classics Of Jewish Folk Songs."

Victor Film Clip

NEW YORK — RCA Victor Records is making use of a film short for the first time in company history to introduce a new single from the Spectrum released last week.

The English group is shown on film performing their "Portobello Road" song on the actual street which inspired the composition. This film will be used to introduce the recording to disk jockeys, dealers and through television use to the public.

Shipment of the three-minute 16mm color "show" was timed to arrive on the release date of the single last week (13).

Vito Blando, manager of single record sales and promotion for RCA Victor, explained that use of such films for promotional purposes is a new innovation in the record business. Since there are now about 70 stations that have television deejay shows suitable for showing this type of film the group can be telecast without having to appear live to lip sync their record.

Pink Floyd On The Move

NEW YORK—Andrew King, co-manager with Peter Jenner of the popular British rock group, the Pink Floyd, was in New York last week visiting the Richmond Organization (TRO), the Floyd's world publisher, and he told Cash Box that the group had just completed a successful series of appearances on the West Coast.

On November 4, the Floyd appeared at the Winterland Auditorium in San Francisco. On November 5 the group performed at the Cheetah in Los Angeles, and they remained in that city to make three television appearances on three successive days. The first of these was a November 6 guest spot on the Pat Boone Show. On the show, the Floyd sang "The Gnome," and "Chapter 24," two numbers from their current Tower album. The following day, the group appeared on Dick Clark's "American Bandstand" and performed their new single, "Apples & Oranges," which is due for release shortly after Christmas. On November 8, the Floyd performed "Apples & Oranges" on "Boss City," a local Los Angeles TV show. The group returned to San Francisco on November 9 to fulfill an engagement at the Fillmore Auditorium, and on November 10 and 11; they appeared again at the Winterland Auditorium.

Currently on a three-week tour in England with the Jimi Hendrix Experience and the Move, the Pink Floyd plan to return to the U.S. next spring.

Vikki To NY Niterie

NEW YORK—Vikki Carr will be coming back to the U.S. to her first major nightclub engagement in New York.

The Liberty artist, who has been repeatedly successful on the LP sales front and has just scored with her first single hit of "It Must Be Him" will open at the Persian Room of the Hotel Plaza on December 6.

Her single, which was a big hit in England, placed her in the British spotlight and led to her being the only female entertainer to appear at the London Palladium's Royal Command Performance for Queen Elizabeth II last week (13). She has also just completed taping her fifth one-woman special for BBC-TV.

Lewis & Clarke Explore Films, TV

NEW YORK — The Lewis and Clarke Expedition, Colgems group, have been signed for various film and television appearances.

Travis Lewis and Boomer Clarke have written two songs which the group sings in the soon to be released Sam Katzman film, "For Singles Only," which stars Milton Berle. The group also sings the title song over the titles of the current Eli Wallach — Anne Jackson comedy, "The Tiger Makes Out."

The Lewis and Clarke Expedition guest stars on the "Auld Lang Syne" segment of Daniel Boone in which they portray five youngsters who run a whiskey still until they are jailed by the British and ultimately rescued by Daniel Boone. The Expedition sings "Freedom Bird," their second singles release, on the show which will be aired on NBC in the early spring.

Again, as songwriters, Travis Lewis and Boomer Clarke also have been signed to compose two songs for Ed Platt, who plays the role of "The Chief" on the popular comedy series, "Get Smart." This will mark Platt's debut as a singer on the show.

To follow up the group's singles hits, Colgems has just released their first album, which is already garnering strong airplay around the country.

Decca Branches Up 2

NEW YORK — Decca Distributing Corp. has promoted several branch personnel, according to Syd Goldberg, vp and general manager of the operation.

Mel Nimon, formerly Decca Seattle branch manager, will run the company's San Francisco branch, one of the largest in the chain, replacing Bob Eggers, who has resigned to devote his full time to teaching. Nimon, a seven year sales vet with the Decca organization, joined the company as a salesman for the Cincinnati branch and soon added the additional duties of assistant branch manager for that outlet. He was transferred to Seattle early in 1966, and has held the position of that city's branch manager until now and the announcement of his new assignment.

Goldberg also announced the promotion of Bob Bianchi as the company's Seattle branch manager to replace Mel Nimon in the post. Like Nimon, Bianchi has also been with Decca as a sales rep for a number of years, most recently covering parts of the states of Washington, Oregon and Montana. Both new appointments, effective immediately, come under the direct supervision of Mario De Filippo, Decca's West Coast District Manager.

'Wonderful' To Be Unique Single From Young Rascals

NEW YORK—This week's new single from the Young Rascals marks an unusual departure from recording norms featuring a two-banded selection on one side of the disk.

The first 2:30 of "It's Wonderful" is subtitled "music" and contains the complete song, while a second band (linked by a spiral) will be called "Sound effects" and contains 50 seconds of psychedelic musical sounds.

The single was divided for the convenience of radio stations with a tight programming schedule whose time elements makes it impossible to play the complete recording.

Atlantic's pressing is the first ever issued with two parts on a single side. "It's Wonderful," written by Felix Cavaliere and Eddie Brigati of the group, will be marketed in a four-color sleeve and is to be given a nation-wide promotion and advertising campaign.

Heroic Age Promo In Expansion Move

H.A.P.I., in accordance with its new policy, is now accepting outside clients. The firm is located at 888 Eighth Ave.

Uni Sings Sonics To Disk Contract

Talent On Stage

DONOVAN

NEW YORK—One look at the crowd could tell a passerby that something strange was happening at Lincoln Center's Philharmonic Hall last Sunday (12), but the show inside put the kaleidoscopic outfits, jingling bells and flower exponents to shame through sheer simplicity.

Donovan shrugged all the effects of hallucinatory light shows for brilliant lighting; all the outlandish costume masquerading for a plain flowing white robe, almost like a priest's cassock with one simple string of beads; and all the noise with its electric gimmickry and overwhelming volume for a soft jazz backdrop or string quartet. The results were astounding.

Understating a philosophy of "love" for the love generation's populace, Donovan appeared as one of the few singers who approaches the subject literally. His lyrics and manner expounded serenity and understanding as the key, rather than the raucous shrieking of love which comes off meaningless.

Philosophical in his garb, cabalistic with burning incense besides him on the stage, priestly through the content of his songs and occasional comments between numbers, the Epic artist conveyed his messages of peace and contentment through a near Oriental approach of logic, statement and telepathic transfer.

The material was sparkling, a mixture of old and new songs that included his first hit "Catch the Wind" as well as the recent "There Is a Mountain." Arrangements were exquisite, usually accompanied by a jazz quintet, also by the Metropolitan String Quartet, and Donovan solo on guitar. In fine voice, the gentle figure posed a bardic image on stage; and the appearance of the artist was enhanced by superb lighting that played with pastel colors (solids, never toyed with, sometimes paired) and a fascinating use of contrast to create shadows, not of black but in a complementary shade.

Though Donovan struck consistently serious notes during his showing, stressing the "mood" of his material and requesting silence and abstinence from using flash bulbs during a song, he did break the somber tone with a lyric change during his closing number, "Mellow Yellow."

As the crowd of youngsters moved into the aisle and toward the stage, he smiled and sang "I'm just mad about 14-year olds." This statement, as many of his others, unfortunately, went almost unnoticed. Unfortunately, the figure of Donovan's appearance, and his mystique have attracted largely an audience that fails to care about many of his thoughts or words, so dazzled are they in having found a "leader."

Though he may have bounded onto the American scene as an altered Dylan, and he may have flourished as a spokesman of the burgeoning flower people, with his two performances last week, and the release of "Wear Your Love Like Heaven," Donovan has stepped into his own realm. Now all that remains is for his flock to realize that his meaning is not what they would like to be told, but what they should realize is the intent of their movement.

Donovan's new train of thought is from the heart, through the mind, and at the center of the real love movement.

ARLO GUTHRIE

NEW YORK—There has been a lot of talk around town just prior to Arlo Guthrie's one-man Carnegie Hall concert debut that the young singer/raconteur might have been booked into such an engagement a little too soon for his own benefit. The reasoning behind all this talk is a simple one, a question really: "Does he have enough good material to carry the concert off?" He does! The doubts were swept right out of the packed confines of Carnegie Hall on Friday, 10 Nov.

Arlo was dressed up for the occasion, so he walked on stage in green pants, sandals, a violet sport coat, a gray & red shirt, and no hat. The absence of the hat may be particularly significant since to the knowledge of this reviewer, he is rarely (if ever) seen without a floppy, wide-brimmed, brown felt hat.

His first song was "The Motorcycle

Song," an enchanting bit of whimsy concerning the artist's misadventures while riding a motorcycle both on and off a mountain road. The material this Reprise artist used was his own, but for a Steve Elliot tune called "Rosalie" and (for the last encore) his father's "This Train Is Bound For Glory." Certainly the high point of the concert was, "The Alice's Restaurant Massacre, Pt. II," which is a humorous, 30-minute rambling venture, using such diverse subjects as Thanksgiving dinner, littering convictions, and draft evasion to deliver its message against catastrophe. An anti-massacre song or, as it might be less delicately phrased, an anti-war song.

Arlo Guthrie proved himself to be his own man, a performer of magnitude in his own right, and proved (although it wasn't necessary to do so) that he is not riding to fame on the reputation of anyone else.

TIM BUCKLEY

NEW YORK—On Monday evening, November 13, Elektra Records presented Tim Buckley in concert at the Garrick Theater. Buckley is a contemporary singer/songwriter whose style is a mixture of folk, blues and rock. Some of his songs, at least in concert, are quite lengthy, but they are substantial enough, both musically and lyrically, to hold the listener's interest.

Buckley dresses casually, but his manner is serious as he sings of love, war and the social scene. His lyrics are poetic and usually pessimistic, but they are quite convincing and certainly more interesting than the "I Love You/Skies of Blue" brand. Here's a sample: "Once I Was A Soldier/And I Fought On Foreign Sands For You/Once I Was A Hunter/And I Brought Home Fresh Meat For You/Once I Was A Lover/And I Searched Behind Your Eyes For You/And Soon There'll Be Another/To Tell You I Was Just A Lie" (published by Third Story Music, BMI).

One of Buckley's most ambitious songs, "Hallucinations," though uncomplicated lyrically, employs some highly inventive and involved polytonal, psychedelic-type instrumental work, revealing yet another facet of the artist's creative personality.

On Tour

Here's an on-stage photo taken during the Seekers' recent tour of the United States and Canada. It was their first U.S. tour and lasted a month, they've since returned to London. Members of the group (from the left): Keith Potger, Bruce Woodley, Judy Durham, and Athol Guy.

ILLUSION

NEW YORK — When a group makes its reputation as a discotheque act and steps into the record field the results are either astoundingly positive or devastatingly negative. With the Illusion, a five-man team that has become established in New York, and across the country as part of the recent Mitch Ryder tour, the upcoming single should be a decided winner.

They have a crowd-pleasing act visually, but also show musical power that will carry them over the transition to wax which cuts out all sight pluses. Performing at the Scene, the quintet ended a brief stay last Sunday (12), which is to be followed by appearances during the next few months at the Action House on Long Island, and in the Connecticut area while they cut their first single and LP. Plans for a cross-country promo and pa tour are in the works for next year.

Eliminating all build-ups to more potent material, the team opened with a shattering up-tempo version of "Hey, Joe," that put the Illusion on the crowd's best side. In spite of the power conveyed by the opener, the team continued to grow in stature with each successive song.

Mingling fast, slow and mid-speed tunes, each member of the team was spotlighted by shifting lead singers, accenting drums or lead guitar, and generally shifting the center of attention from man to man during the performance. None of them let the others down, and the only possible flaw was a slight loss of control as the frenzy grew during the closing set.

Standouts in the show were lead guitarist Ritchie Cerniglia, who was brilliant on the Jimi Hendrix "Foxy Lady" number; and singer John Vinzi, whose eye-staggering activity and fine vocal talent were constantly sustaining interest whether the song being sung was fast or slow.

Vinzi's tamborine antics and inventive playing with the microphone gave the group a showmanship quality seldom found in live acts which rely mainly on a few flashy dance steps, not to say that the dance side was omitted.

Clinging to Hope

The Clingers (recently signed to Terry Melcher's Equinox label) are shown surrounding Bob Hope at the Arizona St. Fair where the sister act joined the vet comedian in performing before 55,000 spectators. ABC is distributing the first Clinger single, which is entitled, "Quick, Close The Door Before They Find Us."

CashBox Country Roundup

Owing to the fact that our country editorial comments were displaced to the opening editorial of this week's magazine (which, as we all know, befits the stature of country music), we will dispense with comment in the Country Roundup temporarily. (No great loss since many people have suggested that the country editor talks too much, anyway.)

Five members of RCA Victor's Nashville setup were named honorary lieutenant colonels—aides de camp—by Georgia's Governor Lester Maddox. The Victor parade of honored guests was headed up by "Mr. Guitar" himself, Chet Atkins, followed by producers Felton Jarvis and Bob Ferguson, promotions director Wally Cochran and the one and only Tandy Rice, who handles the public relations for the label. The honors were received for the contributions of the five toward the growth of Country Music and its importance to the South.

New York's traditional Thanksgiving Day Parade gets an added boost this year when Buck Owens lends his name to the list of participants. A special float will be created for the Buck by Macy's department store, and the whole operation will be seen on all three TV networks . . . Speaking of the Tiger, the audience at New York's Nashville Room got a special bonus treat during Bill Anderson's recent stint there when Buck and Wynn Stewart put in a surprise appearance on Saturday night. The reaction of the crowd prompted a couple of numbers from the pair despite Buck's self-imposed ban on club performing.

The Stoneman gang, who took off with a CMA "Bullet" as the Vocal Group of the Year for 1967, dedicated a recent segment of their TV show co-manager and producer Jack Clement (he also writes a good deal of their material), without whom there might be no Stoneman Family (strictly in a music business sense!). The special tribute was highlighted by a brief appearance from the Cowboy himself.

Paul Tannen reports that he has just signed an agreement with the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company whereby the soft drink outfit has been granted—for a five figure amount—a two-year license to use the tune "Mountain Dew" for the Mountain Dew soft drink commercial. The tune, written by Scott Wiseman and Bascomb Lunsford is one of the oldest and best-known copyrights in Tannen's publishing house, Tannen Music. Considered to be a standard in the country area, the song has been recorded by scores of country artists, most notably Grandpa Jones and Lulu Belle & Scotty. Tannen is currently securing even more record-

RED FOLEY

It would be hard to imagine a time when Red Foley's name was not an integral part of the country music scene, for after 33 years in the business, he has proven himself to be one of the really enduring stars in the history of country music.

Long before he became a name act in the music world, and before his name was even entered on the school rolls of first grade students, Clyde Julian Foley acquired a second-hand guitar, learning to plunk out folk melodies before his seventh birthday. As time wore on, and Red had attained the worldliness of a fourth grade student he also mastered the art of the harmonica. Then came high school in Berea, Kentucky, where, amidst the time spent in winning cups, trophies and ribbons in athletic endeavors, Red sometimes found a few moments to spend with the singing teacher that his mother had engaged for him.

Still in high school, he won the local Atwater-Kent singing contest and went on to Louisville to compete for state honors. He later entered Kentucky's Georgetown College where a talent scout found him and signed him to the then-famous Chicago radio show, "National Barn Dance," in 1930. That show provided a springboard which launched him into the big time. He soon became a member of the Grand Ole Opry, and ABC-TV's "Jubilee, U.S.A." (That same network, incidentally, provided him with his first dramatic acting role, co-starring with Fess Parker in "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington" in the 1962-63 season).

During his formidable career he has devoted a good deal of time to helping the careers of young hopefuls seeking to make their mark in the entertainment world, among these being Brenda Lee, whom he brought to his "Jubilee," a step which had a powerful influence on the youngster's meteoric career.

On his twentieth anniversary with Decca Records, he was signed to a life-time contract with the label, one of the few of such type deals ever made. Among his biggest-selling singles have been "Peace In The Valley," "Just A Closer Walk With Thee" and "Steal Away."

J. L. FRANK

If the origin of the term "Country & Western" could be attributed to any one man, that man would have to be J. L. Frank, promoter, composer and pioneer in the development of country music talent. His were the efforts and ideas which combined cowboy boots and country songs, the visions which gave the world a major entertainment figure—the singing cowboy—whose effects have been felt since the motion picture industry made its first awkward steps from infancy to puberty.

Born in Rossal, Alabama on Apr. 15, 1900, Frank moved as a young man to Chicago, where he became attracted to the talent management and promotion field. Among the names that became attached to his stable during that period were the famed radio personalities of Fibber McGee and Molly, and later Gene Autry and Smiley Burnette when they first got their starts in the entertainment field.

While in Chicago, Frank delved into the radio business on an active scale, being credited with producing a country music show for WLS between the years of 1928-1935. He then shifted his base of operations to Louisville, Kentucky and, in 1939, to Nashville. His personal management stable during his stay there included such luminaries as Pee Wee King, Roy Acuff and Eddy Arnold, among others.

Not only was he a highly successful manager and promoter (his ideas concerning the combining of radio broadcasting and personal appearances are still in use today), but he also composed a good many country songs, notably "Chapel On The Hill," "My Main Trail Is Yet To Come" and "Sundown And Sorrow."

After almost an entire lifetime devoted to country music, Frank died in Chicago in May of 1952, while on a promotional trip. Fifteen years later, in Oct. of 1967, having left an indelible mark on the field of country music, Frank was elected to the Country Hall of Fame.

Chart Lodgings

Former Epic waxer Gordon Terry, who recently signed up with Slim Williamson's Chart label, is caught by photographer as he puts the pen to the new contract. The songster's first session has already been cut and his debut Chart single is set for immediate release. An all-out promo campaign is currently being planned by the RCA and Chart promotion staffs, as well as by personal manager Joe Wright (right), seen advising Terry while Williamson (left) looks on.

Pick of the Week

PORTER WAGONER (RCA Victor 9379)

Woman Hungry (2:26) [Southwind BMI-Chrysler]

Porter Wagoner just had "Julie," but now he finds that he's "Woman Hungry," according to the title on this one. An easy-paced thunker done up in Porter's usually smooth style, the lid is a cinch to win him another blue ribbon. Flip: "Out Of The Silence (Came A Song)" (2:52) [Owepar BMI-Parton]

DOTTIE WEST (RCA Victor 9377)

Childhood Places (3:05) [Jewel ASCAP-Reed, Mason]

Following hot on the heels of her most recent charter, "Like A Fool," Dottie West aims for the Bull's-eye once again with "Childhood Places." With a deckful of pretty sounds and sentimental spicing, the lark takes off on what should be another chart journey for her. Flip: "No One" (2:22) [Tree BMI-B./D. West]

LIZ ANDERSON (RCA Victor 9378)

Thanks A Lot For Tryin' Anyway (2:34) [Glaser BMI-Glaser]

As "Tiny Tears" begins its chart descent, Liz Anderson wastes no time in following through. Her latest outing, tabbed "Thanks A Lot For Tryin' Anyway," is a downhearted ode which looks like another strong sales piece. Flip: "Come Walk In My Shoes" (2:42) [Greenback BMI-Anderson]

Newcomer Picks

JOYCE PAUL (United Artists 50226)

I've Loved Him Much Longer Than You (2:37) [Tree BMI-Miller]

Although she hasn't broken out yet, it looks like Joyce Paul may be right on the verge of doing so in grand style with "I've Loved Him Much Longer Than You." Lark lets loose with a misty, pop-flavored blueser that may be her key to success. Flip: "Mama's Gonna Fix The Baby's Wagon" (2:05) [Pass Key BMI-Chesnut]

JERRY SAVOY (Great 1105)

Make It Hard For Me [Peach SESAC-Helm]

Things could be made easy for Jerry Savoy as a result of this offering called "Make It Hard For Me." Songster does an appealing job of this lament, and can expect to reap some fine rewards for his efforts. Flip: "Where Can A Poor Man Go" [Sugar Hill BMI-Pruitt]

Best Bets

RALPH CARSON (20th-Century-Fox 6696)

The Johnson Family (2:31) [Sporn, Jaspas BMI-Carlson] May be a lot of action in store for both Ralph Carson and "The Johnson Family." The tragic ode should be good for heaps and heaps of spins. Flip: "Transport Blues" (1:44) [Sporn, Jaspas BMI-Carlson]

JAMES SEGREST (ABC 11000)

What I'd Give To Be The Wind (2:42) [Tree BMI-Putnam, Lane] The funky flavor of this rolling ballad gives it a generous helping of appeal and a good shot at gaining big consumer response. Flip: "That's Where You're Wrong" (2:00) [Lowery BMI-Green]

HYLO BROWN (K-Ark 780)

Daddy's Old Guitar (2:42) [Smokey SESAC-Brown] May be a heap of airplay and sales in store for this Hylo Brown offering. The sentimental ditty could pull in excellent reaction. Flip: "Don't Push Me" (1:57) [Smokey SESAC-Brown]

SHIRLEY ANN (20th Century Fox 6695)

(B+) Whirlpool (2:28) [Sporn, Jaspas BMI-Samuels] Pretty, waltz-time woe. Flip: "Look Away" (2:05) [Sporn, Jaspas BMI-Petrak]

DICK RICH (Chestnut 216)

(B+) What Kind of Magic (2:27) [Don White ASCAP-Chianco] Mid-tempo lament. Flip: "Had A Talk With Baby" (2:02) [Don White ASCAP-Rich, Grubb]

RODGER KAUFFMAN (Train 1210)

(B+) Country Boy (2:16) [Caboose BMI-Kauffman] Elvis-like country rocker. Flip: "Don't Leave Me Tomorrow" (2:34) [Caboose BMI-Kauffman]

GENE CRAWFORD (MTA 134)

Blue Over Ice (2:29) [Moss Rose, Vamalco BMI-Crawford, Flannigan, Ashworth] A thumping tale of woe, this Gene Crawford offering could be the beginning of big things for the songster. Flip: "I'll Drink To That" (2:00) [Moss Rose, Vamalco BMI-Crawford, Sowda]

ABE MULKEY (Epic 10250)

Don't You Ever Leave My World (2:05) [Al Gallico BMI-Sutton] Abe Mulkey stands a good chance to stir up plenty of action with this item. The light-hearted stanza may see plenty of consumer reaction. Flip: "Ship Of Misery" (2:10) [Al Gallico BMI-Mulkey, Delaney]

BILLY EDD WHEELER (Kapp 873)

They Can't Put It Back (2:27) [Quartet Bexhill ASCAP-Wheeler] Bemoaning the defiling of nature by man's machines, Billy Edd Wheeler could zoom with this one. An excellent folk-country-rock-blues piece. Flip: "High Flying Bird" (2:30) [Quartet, Bexhill ASCAP-Wheeler]

DICK McCOY (Midwestern 106)

(B+) Everything's Alright (2:39) [Tronic BMI-McCoy] Pleasant romance ode. Flip: "You Always Hurt The One You Love" (2:07) [MCA ASCAP-Fisher, Roberts]

WALTER HAYNES (Jack O'Diamonds 1008)

(B+) Tear Time (2:20) [Forrest Hills BMI-Crutchfield] Pretty instrumental version of the hit. No flip info available.

ROY SNEED (Hala 1050)

(B+) Your Everlasting Love (2:28) [Woodshed BMI-Petty, Ashworth, White] Attractive ballad. Flip: "The Guitar Picker" (2:27) [Moss Rose BMI-Rogers]

Roundup

ings of the ditty . . . On the subject of Tannen and material, the publisher-producer is now in the process of screening material for Johnny's Dec. 4 sessions in Nashville, and, at the same time, is negotiating foreign deals for his latest biggie, "Juanita Jones."

A new country label, Gun Records, has opened its doors at 1 Smith Lane in Shrewsbury, Mass., with Gun Carson as manager. The label will orient its product toward modern country sounds, with national promotion to be handled by Brite Star Promotions out of Newbury, Ohio. Deejays may write to the label to be added to its mailing list. . . . Another new label has made its debut, this one being Dale Records, set up by country songster Danny Dale. The label, based at P.O. Box 67, Mantua, N.J., has just released Danny's single of "Gold, Cold Heart" b/w "Your Cheating Heart."

Buckley's famed record outlet—headquartered in Nashville—has just made another branching out move, opening shop No. 3 at the local Charlotte Square Shopping Center. The folks will host a grand opening celebration for the new outlet on Nov. 25.

Starday marketing vp, Col. Jim Wilson, recently announced the Bay State Record Distributing firm in Boston as winner of the championship flight in the "Swing With Starday-Doug Sanders Golf Sweepstakes." Bay State folks will be awarded special incentive prizes, featuring Doug Sanders golf equipment, for their "sales driving" efforts. The second place prize in the contest went to All-State in Chicago, while New York's Alpha Distributing pulled in the third place money.

RCA Victor's John Hartford was recently named an honorary colonel on the staff of Governor John J. McKeithen of Louisiana during a string of personal appearances in the New Orleans area. Representing Victor at the ceremonies was Jimmy Stretch of RCA in the Crescent City.

Jack Moran, a young writer who earned a contract with Tree Music after only four days in Music City, seems to be headed for stardust with the particular song that won him the Tree pact—that being "Skip A Rope," which was recently released on Monument by Henson Cargill. Seems that the tune, which was co-written by Tree's Glenn Tubb, was turned down by heaps and heaps of people, until Cargill found the tune in the Tree archives, and Don Law found Cargill, and the Monument folks found the master that Law and Cargill cut, and deejays around the country are finding the Monument release, etc. If this one isn't a smash, we'll give up moonshine for a month.

Speaking of tunesmith's, one of Nashville's finest, young Harlan Howard, is a chap who does an odd turnabout in that he writes many of his hits from a woman's point of view. A couple of his latest compositions, "Heaven Help The Working Girl" (Norma Jean) and "To Chicago With Love" (Lois Johnson), reveal some of the empathy he has developed for the feelings and problems of women during his extensive traveling around the country as a youngster. We suspect that Harlan is aware of the fact that women are responsible for 80-90% of record sales.

Young Bobby Goldsboro, who teamed up recently for a gangbusters album with Del Reeves ("Our Way Of Life"), gave evidence that he digs the Nashville way of life when he purchased a new home in Music City as his permanent residence. Bobby and personal manager Lenny Ditson, by the way, jetted to Hollywood recently to discuss motion picture deals through the United Artists film company.

MELBA MONTGOMERY & STONEWALL JACKSON

NEW YORK—An ingratiating smile and a voice that comes up from somewhere down near the toes are the trademarks of Musicor's be-dimpled beauty Melba Montgomery, who opened the main show last week at the Nashville Room in the Taft Hotel. The thoroughly charming smile (which, it's rumored, has been responsible for a Nebraska prison break, a New York City demonstration and the recent Arab-Israeli war) is in evidence even through the teardrops in such lyrics as "Big, Big Heartache," "Lonely Street" and her recent chart single, "What Can I Tell The Folks Back Home," all of which she gives her best on stage. Armed with a pair of sidemen, the lark calls on one of the two musicians (who just happens to be her brother Peanut) for assistance in a pair of vocal duets, "We Must Have Been Out Of Our Minds" and her closer, "Baby, Ain't That Fine."

As Melba leaves the stage, Stonewall Jackson's Minute Men kick off the second part of the show with a smattering of "Cherokee" and a hearty "Jambalaya," after which headliner Stonewall takes over the stage for a brief, but pleasant show. A good part of the reason for the briefness of his scheduled stint was probably due to the fact that he opened with a broken guitar strap, which couldn't be fixed while he was putting on his first show. Still in all, he presented himself admirably, offering some of his biggest recent chart items, including "I Washed My Hands In Muddy Water," "This World Holds Nothing (Since You're Gone)," "That's Why I'm Walkin'" and, of course, the biggest of all, "Waterloo," which closed out the 45-minute show.

Rounding out the Nashville Room bill were the regular house band, the Nashvilleans, and another regular, Barbara Ray.

Wanda Jackson Cuts 16th German Disk

HOLLYWOOD — Capitol C&W star Wanda Jackson recently completed cutting her 16th German language song for release in Germany. Her success with German recordings started over two years ago when she first recorded a tune called, "Santo Domingo," which skyrocketed to the number one position in Germany. She is now one of Capitol's biggest selling artists in Germany.

Wanda's recent session was the first to take place in Capitol's Hollywood studios. The recording was produced by Nils Nobach of Electrola Gesellschaft M.B.H.

After the session, Nobach flew to Germany to finish editing tapes to rush out a single record for Xmas.

NARAS Prexy Visits Nashville Chapter

NASHVILLE—Pete King, the recently elected national president of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS) made a special three day visit November 6-8 to meet with Buddy Killen, the president of the Nashville chapter and the Nashville board of governors.

King, during his visit to Nashville, discussed several national projects including the NARAS network TV show "The Best On Record," a new inter-chapter communications system, and various committee assignments which are being allotted to each chapter.

During King's visit to Nashville he met with several music industry leaders and attended a special meeting of the board of governors. On Wednesday, November 8, the Nashville Chapter hosted a special cocktail party and dinner in the national president's honor.

WHAT LOCKS THE DOOR—Jack Greene—Decca DL 4939/74939

The top of the charts is the place for Jack Greene's latest album, "What Locks The Door." The chanter's reputation has grown phenomenally during the past year, and this package should only fan the flames of his success. Top tracks include "Too Much Of You," "My Elusive Dreams," "I'm Still Not Over You," and of course the title tune, which is also Jack's current single hit.

RAY PRICE'S GREATEST HITS, VOL. II—Columbia CL 2670/CS 9470

Ray Price should have no difficulty securing a foothold on the charts with this stirring package. A powerpacked compilation of some of the chanter's most noted numbers, the set includes such rousing ditties as "Burning Memories," "Make The World Go Away," "Let Me Talk To You," and "Another Bridge To Burn." Give this one your full attention. It should begin its climb up the Top 50 in short order.

STONEWALL JACKSON COUNTRY—Columbia CL 2762/CS 9562

Could be an enviable chart position in the cards for Stonewall Jackson as a result of this forceful album. Leading off with a heart-rending reading of "This World Holds Nothing (Since You're Gone)," the songster goes on to offer "If This House Could Talk," "It's Such A Pretty World Today," "I Threw Away The Rose" and numerous others. Excellent LP. Don't let it out of your sight.

TEAR TIME—Wilma Burgess—Decca DL 4935/74935

Taking the title of her current hit, "Tear Time," for her new album, Wilma Burgess has assembled a powerful collection of tear-tuggers that all her fans should want to own. In addition to the title tune, the set includes "Am I That Easy To Forget," "Yesterday," "I'm Still Not Over You" and eight more. Should be a high chart spot waiting for this one. Don't let it out of your sight.

LONESOME COUNTRY OF CURLEY PUTNAM—ABC/ABCS 618

November 25, 1967

Show business veteran Frankie Vaughan made a welcome return to the British charts recently with "There Must Be a Way" produced by the "in"die of the moment, Norman Newell. This was Frankie's first single for EMI and his first chart entry for three years. His latest single "Sa Tired" is the American oldie written and originally recorded by Russ Morgan in 1948. Having recently topped the bill at London's Talk of the Town, 1967 has been a vintage year for Frankie Vaughan.

An example of the new and keener attention British record companies are paying to the marketing of disks (i.e. making the record a more attractive buy than hitherto) comes from EMI which has ambitious plans for the release of a unique Beatles package. EMI is to issue a six-track waxing from the Beatles TV special "Magical Mystery Tour," but to attract back the custom in a market that is spurning the extended play (45 rpm) disk in favor of low-priced LPs, EMI's promotion staffers came up with the idea of dressing up this release to make an even more attractive product. The record will be jacketed in a 32 page color book and marketed at just over the normal EP price of about $2.50. There can be little doubt that the Beatles platter will be an immediate bestseller and will, trimmings apart, secure the kind of advance sale that is normally associated with Beatles releases.

But EMI is treating each major Beatles release as an occasion; an event calling for a more showmanlike approach. Of course, glossy packaging is not new and, indeed, many diskeries have dabbled in color sleeves for singles—at least for the first few thousand copies. But even as they set the pace in pop music, the Beatles and EMI are front running in the promotion stakes, and together they are bringing a new stature to the wax trade as they cater for more demanding customer needs. Meantime the Beatles latest single is set for simultaneous transatlantic release. Entitled "Hello, Goodbye," Paul McCartney is featured as the lead singer whilst the flip "I Am The Walrus"—one of the numbers featured in "Magical Mystery Tour"—features the voice of John Lennon. Both sides, of course, penned by Lennon and McCartney and published by Northern Songs.

If there is evidence of a broadening in the style of music prevalent in the British Hit Parade, it is due in large measure to Norman Newell. In the past year Newell has turned in his EMI badge to become an independent producer and to concentrate on writing (lyrics) which he was unable to find time for as a staff producer with a major record company. Ironically, since his departure from EMI he has been in the studios more than ever at the expense of his first love, writing. Newell, who had the distinction of becoming the first independent producer to record a major musical here when he cut "Fiddler On The Roof" for CBS, is going from success to success in the singles stakes with family appeal artists who, normally speaking, wouldn't expect high chart action. The enormous Ken Dodd successes were produced by Newell and Dodd, until recently better known as a comedian than a balladeer, has another entry drawing the kind of sales which pre-destines it for a chart position. Song is "Same Mistakes" which Dodd had made for Columbia.

It was Newell, again, who put Frankie Vaughn back in the Top Ten. This well established "straw hat" entertainer, who switched from Philips to EMI when he came under Newell's direction, is also confident his follow-up "So Tired" is going to keep up the pace. Meantime, Newell has put Des O'Connor into the Top 30 with "Careless Hands." In this case, too, Newell has transformed a family entertainer into a meaningful disk artist. And another chart record to come out of Newell's production mill is Shirley Bassey's "Big Spender" from "Sweet Charity" He also waxed the London cast album of this show for CBS.

Suddenly Newell would appear to have found the key to the middle-of-the-road disk buyer. For to click with a half dozen artists—considered square by the pop standards of today—is much more than coincidence. Evidence of the growing importance of this section of the market, commonly believed to be the "mums and dads" though no one is too sure, has been growing for some time. True, the ballad has always been with us and equally accurate is the fact that a good song will break through but, of late, the Val Doonicans, the Englebert Humperdincks, the Vince Hills, the Dubliners, the Seekers and even the Tom Joneses et al. have cornered an increasingly large share of the pop market. Now Newell seems to be putting a new consistency behind it.

The Transatlantic record group, headed up here by Nathan Joseph, has scheduled its first full sales convention for January 18th. Distributors and representatives from all over the country will attend the function which will run through the afternoon and well into the evening. It will be rounded off with dinner and a cabaret. Among the overseas delegates are Bernard C. Solomon, President of Everest Records whose product is handled locally by Joseph, and Dag Haeggqvist of Sweden's Sonet Group. Other overseas visitors are expected to catch the convention on their way to MIDEM 2.

The boom in low-priced albums appears now almost certain to be pushing the British record industry towards its biggest turnover ever. After a dramatic slump in July, total sales in August picked up and leaped to £1,985,000 ($5,558,000) against the previous month's total of £1,661,000 ($4,650,800). Sales total in August a year ago was £1,864,000 ($5,219,200) i.e. some 6½% lower than the figure for August this year. Exports, however, fell from £262,000 ($733,600) to £237,000 ($663,600) when the August, 1967, total is compared with the same month in the previous year. Figure is also down when compared with the £296,000 ($828,800) in exports earned in the immediately preceding month. Production of records levelled out in August, according to the official Board of Trade statistics, and reached a total of 5,761,000 platters compared with 5,944,000 produced in the previous month and 5,787,000 produced in August 1966. Album production suffered its seasonal decline—albeit a slower one than usual—at 2,087,000 LPs compared with 2,237,000 made in the previous month and 2,270,000 in August 1966. Meanwhile, 45 rpm records (singles and extended play) continued to pull back some of the production impetus lost over the previous year. At 3,659,000 the production total, this August, was only marginally down on the previous month's figures but significantly up on the 3,494,000 45s produced in August 1966.

Mr. Marchand was formerly a sales rep for Capitol. The Ontario branch has been set up in Malton, Ont.

Columbia Records have released Canadian Monique Leyrac's first English LP entitled "Monique Leyrac." Two cuts, "Flowers, Perfume, Candy" and "The Roses Blow Away" have been so well received that Columbia has released them as a single.

Dunhill Records, distributed by RCA Victor, have recently signed Canada's Three's A Crowd, although they are now six. The Dunhill execs were so impressed with the group that they rushed them to Hollywood to cut a session, reported to be one of the most expensive sessions by the Dunhill people. Their first release will be a single followed by an LP. Titles to follow.

CTL (Canadian Talent Library) have released a pop-jazz sound introducing the Dick McGlish Quintet spotlighting Dick McGlish a sensational young guitarist from Quebec City. The backing is provided by electric organ, vibes, bass and drums. Two original works by Dick are included in this album entitled "Till You Came" and "Strings In Blue" which introduces him as a composer. RCA Victor releases all CTL records a few months after they have been released through the CTL subscription series to radio stations.

Mel Shaw, manager of the Stampeders, jetted into New York for a round of talks with record execs regarding his music World Creation debut, "Morning Magic" by the Stampeders. The disc has picked up national exposure and is now listed on many of the important charts across the country.

Canada's Groovyart (art firm for the music industry) announces a new division called Groovyart Lighting which will create stage lighting and effects for Canada's top recording groups.

Edmonton's Willie and the Walkers have another outing for Capitol. This time it's "(Alone) In My Room" and should pick up chart action in the west where the group is very popular. Another westerner making a strong bid for Capitol is country artist Bev Monro who has "Let's Have A Blue For The Blues" currently going for him. Bev is also a very popular country personality at CFCW Camrose Alberta.

The Lords Of London's new Apex single "Twenty One Thousand Dreams" is beginning to happen nationally. Although the "A" side was "Popcorn Man," it would appear that DJ's prefer the flip. Their manager Brian Pombiere has arranged a succession of promotions to give added boost to the outing, one being their appearance at Toronto's largest teen night club, The Hawks Nest. Pombiere announced the completion of three colored films of the group which ties in with the record.

The films have already been picked up by five TV stations in the Cleveland area.

MIDEM 68 Continuing Trophy Awards To Best-Selling Global Disk Acts

CANNES—International trophies recognizing sales achievements by record artists will again be a feature of MIDEM 1968, the international record and music publishing market (Cannes, France, Jan. 21-27).

The trophies will be presented to the artists during the Gala which will close MIDEM on Sat., Jan. 27, in the Grand Hall of the Palais des Festivals. Wide-ranging broadcast coverage is expected by foreign radio networks, including telecasting by Eurovision.

Last year, awards went to Barbra Streisand, Frank Sinatra, Herb Alpert, Pet Clark, the Beatles, Adamo, among others.

Trophies Defined

The National Trophy will be presented to the singer (male or female), or group of singers, having recorded in the official language (s) of the country concerned, or to the instrumental group whose records will have been declared by the mechanical copyright society of that country to have sold the most disks.

One Trophy will be awarded for each country whose total annual record sales are less than 25 million: to the singer (male or female), or to the group of singers, or to the instrumental group having sold most records. This applies to all countries, except those eligible to receive 2 or 3 Trophies.

Two Trophies will be awarded for each country whose total annual record sales are more than 25 million:

- to the singer (male)
- to the singer (female)

having sold most records. In the event that a group of singers or an instrumental group will have sold more records than either the male singer or the female singer, then a Third Trophy will be specially awarded. This applies to: Canada, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and West Germany.

Three Trophies will be awarded for each country whose total annual record sales are more than 100 million:

- to the singer (male)
- to the singer (female)
- to the group of singers

having sold most records.

In the event that an instrumental group will have sold more records than either the male singer or the female singer or the group of singers then a Fourth Trophy will be specially awarded. This applies to the USA and the USSR.

The number of trophies to be awarded to each country will be determined by the total sales during July 1, 1966 to June 30, 1967.

MIDEM has obtained the help of an association in each country responsible for the administering of the rights of mechanical reproduction, or of its equivalent, which will verify the sales figures submitted to it by the different record companies.

For those countries where there is no such Association or similar body, MIDEM has enlisted the assistance of a major firm of chartered accountants. For example, for the U. S. and Canada, Prager & Fenton of New York will verify the figures sent to them by record companies.

RIAA Aid

With regard to the U. S., the General Management of The MIDEM has asked the RIAA to supply a list of those artists who had received one or more Gold Record Awards during the period of reference. MIDEM is assuming that any artist who might be eligible for one of the MIDEM trophies will have received at least one gold record Award during the year. Those record companies with one; or more artists having received, one or more gold record Awards will send to Prager & Fenton sales figures covering the period of reference for the male singer, the female singer, the group of singers and the instrumental group. This information will facilitate the determination of those artists to whom the trophies for the U. S. should be awarded. These figures will be given to Prager & Fenton in complete confidence.

The manner in which the calculation to determine the recipient(s) of the trophies in each country is to be done is as follows:

- One point for each 45 rpm record
- Three points for each 10" and 12" 33 1/3 rpm long playing record.

Burlington-Mirwood Subpublishing Pact

NEW YORK—The Burlington-Palace Music Group, publishing subsidiary of British Decca, has taken over sub-publishing rights to the Mirwood Music catalog for Australia, Austria, the Benelux countries, Germany, Switzerland, and New Zealand, and appears to have hit paydirt with one of the first songs included in the new agreement.

The tune, "Beautiful People," is moving in two disk versions, with a third disk just released. A leading contender for the honors is a version by the writer of the song, Kenny O'Dell, on the Vegas label, distributed nationally by White Whale Records and in the U. K. by London, White Whale's overseas representative. Another fast-selling version of the song is by Bobby Vee on Liberty.

The versatile O'Dell, who is a writer for Mirwood Music, also has to his credit "Next Plane To London." A single by The Rose Garden on Atco is making good headway on the national charts. "Next Plane To London" and a new Mirwood title, "P. S. Call Me Lulu," recorded by Primrose Circus on Mira and already picked in several cities, both fall into the Burlington axis in the same overseas territories.

In addition to Mirwood (BMI), Burlington has similar territorial sub-publishing rights for Miraka (ASCAP) and Arima (SESAC). All three publishers are affiliated with Randall Wood's California-based Mira Productions, which includes his Mira label. Mira is also expected to release a version of "Beautiful People" by Gary Le Mel in the world market.

It was hoped that the revisions applicable to the Copyright Act of Australia would have gone before Parliament during their recent session. But this wasn't to be, and the House has now gone into recess for quite a while. This now means that the new Copyright Bill isn't likely to get a hearing until well into the new year.

This delay comes as something of a disappointment to all sections of the industry and allied trades because there are important issues at stake in the Bill that can effect some of the interested parties to a large degree. On the music and recording side of the new Bill, those most concerned at what will become law are the music publishers, broadcasting and television stations, and record manufacturers. There is sure to be great discussion on some vital points of the Bill, especially those in relation to payments to record companies for the right to broadcast and publicity perform records. Cash Box will keep readers informed of developments in these important Copyright amendments as the Bill continues its passage through the House of Representatives in Federal Parliament.

Australia's outstanding pop group The Seekers, will return to this country around the middle of December to spend a little seasonal time with their families. They are scheduled to film another television special which will be called "The Seekers' Scrapbook" . . . they will also give one-week of live performances at the Palais Theatre in Melbourne. The plans for their homecoming were finalized recently by their personal manager Eddie Jarrett during a brief visit to Australia.

The first four records on our national best-seller list this week are the same as last week. Ruling at the top of the scene, and holding off the other three challengers, is "The Last Waltz" by England's Englebert Humperdinck . . . this is the sixth week in a row that it has claimed number one. Publishing in this hot song is held by J. Albert & Son, who also have the rights in the second item, "The Letter" as recorded by The Box Tops. The only Australian-produced record on the list is from Adelaide group The Masters Apprentices with "Living In A Child's Dream." A newcomer to our list this time is "Gimme Little Sign" by Brenton Wood on the Festival label; this one gains entry by virtue of its strong progress in a couple of cities, Sydney in particular where it is especially hot.

On the local front, new singles from the E.M.I. group bring the Twilights with "The Way They Play" c/w "Cathy Come Home"; and Peter Best is featured on a new Columbia label single with "Want You" and "Carousel Of Love." New local product from the Festival group include the Wild Cherries with "Try Me" and "That's Life"; and on the Spin label Marty Rhone with "Lonely Too Long" c/w "Green Mansion." Into their Calendar range of low-priced albums (retailing at (Aust) $2.95), Festival have now added two more local sets. "A Wonderful Feeling" by Normie Rowe; and "Bill Newman Premiere," featuring of course Bill Newman, a well-known Australian television performer.

Belinda Music have acquired the sub-publishing rights to "Neon Rainbow," the new single for the Box Tops. They have also printed the sheet copy of "Ambush" which is starting to grab action for New Zealand recording star Maria Dallas.

Essex Music of Australia are making a big drive on promotion with the many records recently issued which carry an Essex Australian composition. Among them are the Questions with "And Things Unsaid"; the James Taylor Move with "Baby Jane" . . . not to be confused with the current American release of the same title; "Try Me" by the Wild Cherries; and the Laurie Lewis Sextet with their very successful "Theme From This Day Tonight," a popular television news/commentary series.

Among the new Christmas releases from Festival and associated labels are "The Ventures' Christmas Album" (Liberty); "The Little Drummer Boy" by the Harry Simeone Chorale (20th Century-Fox); "Christmas With Jimmie Rodgers" (Calendar); and local production on Festival, "Christmas On The Farm" featuring Reg Lindsay.

Set to concert-tour Australia early in January, the Small Faces, the Who, and Paul Jones. Tour is set to begin on January 20th. Other names will be added to the bill, including some local artists.

Leeds Music could have the next giant on their hands with the duet effort of newlyweds Jackie Trent and Tony Hatch with "The Two Of Us." The Astor single by this pair has been picking up in sales tempo over the past few weeks and now looks set for bigger things. It is already number seven on our list. Jack Argent of Leeds is jumping with joy over the action with "The Two Of Us."

There's trouble ahead as of July, 1968, in the German record business. The reason is that starting in July of the coming year, all duties will be removed from records imported within the European Common Market. Germany's records are expensive with a price increase scheduled for January due to new taxes to be levied on records. The price increase will see the single records selling for $1.25 (DM 5) as an example. Now, Germany's shops are bound to sell at list price but records in England, France and Holland, for example, are not bound to a list price and the records coming from England where at least 1/2 of the present top 10 hits are produced sell at a retail price of about 20% less than here. What's the logical conclusion? Simply that it will be much less expensive for clubs, juke boxes, record collectors, etc., to import the records than to buy them here on the market. This should mean a tremendous reduction of record sales in Germany especially in the singles field. The German record industry feels that it cannot reduce the price of singles and make money. This is proven by the fact that in spite of a 60% reduction in singles sales since the price increased from $1.00 (DM 4) to $1.12 (DM 4.75), the industry has held fast on their prices. Switzerland sells singles for less than a dollar but has no expensive production problems to cope with as most of the records are import items either from Germany or other European countries. It's a problem that the industry here must face up to in the near future with no solution in sight.

Dim news for pop fans TV wise in the German TV program for December which is the top promotion month for Xmas product. The first show with any pop music whatsoever is set for the 11th with a standard good music pop show called "My Melody." The 18th of December calls for the popular Chris Howland show "Music From Studio B" with German pops strongly represented. A good music pop show called "Hit Parade" comes on the 23rd of December, while the Horst Jankowski good music package is set for the 27th. The only real pop program featuring top hits is the "Beat Club" scheduled for the 30th of the month on a Saturday afternoon. Of course, the New Years Eve programs will be heavy laden with pop product, but who is sober enough to really care? A pretty dim picture. How do you sell pop product that nobody sees or hears on radio and TV? Well, that's been a problem here for years and will probably remain one for a long time to come.

Vogue reports sales of over 750,000 copies of the "Song For Europe" contest winner "Puppet On A String" from Sandie Shaw. That means that the English entry sold more records here than at home in merry old England.

Ariola reports that Peter Alexander's German version of the English hit "The Last Waltz" has passed the 100,000 mark in sales which also makes publisher Francis Day & Hunter very happy.

Polydor producer Hans Bertram's wife Lilibert will do the German lyrics for the film "Funny Girl" and the lyrics for the German stage version of "Fiddler On The Roof."

That's it for this week in Germany.

Traditional jazz is currently undergoing a sudden explosion on the market here. In line with this trend, Antoine (Vogue) wrote lyrics to a Sidney Bechet composition, "Madame Becassine," which immediately took off. This recording is the beginning of a concentrated attempt to make Sidney Bechet the star of the new season. A two LP set has been just published by Vogue with 24 unpublished treatments of his great successes. Among them: "Preier Bal," "Les Oignons," "Dan Les rues d'Antibes," featuring Claude Luter, Andre Reweliotti, Kenny Clarke. Alain Boubil, Vogue International manager, is also preparing an album with the most important Bechet compositions sung by top stars as Petula Clark, Pierre Perret and Les Charlots.

Ducretet Thompson is also strongly promoting new French Dixieland orchestra Les Haricots Rouges. An LP has just been released. "Au dessus du genoux," "Mary Mary," "Plus pres de toi mon Dieu" are good original copy rights. Sylvie Vartan is also choosing jazz: "Le Kid," a French song from Jean Max Riviere and Gerard Bourgeois is already off with a really good start.

Claude Luter (who played for a while with Bechet) just released an EP with two Antoine compositions: "Titine Achete Moi Un Camion" and "Lucie A Un Petit Chat," and Francoise Hardy's "Voila."

Christmas being not far off, many childrens records are on release. Philips decided to do a special promotion for them as they represent 8% of Philips' volume. For this occasion Fontana is presenting a new LP collection titled "Le Cercle des Enfants." The price of each album is 19,95FF. Five have already been released.

QUICKIES: CBS just released new EP from excellent author-composer Frederic Botton. Main titles are "Petit Grain de Riz" and "Peggy". . . . New Jerry Lee Lewis single through Philips: "Turn Over Your Love Light." . . . Pathe Marconi just released a new album with old Charles Trenet songs. Among them "Que Reste t'il de nos amours," "L'Heritage Infernal," "Douce France." . . . Petula Clark leaving France this week for Toronto, Canada. . . . Gilbert Beaud is the new Olympia lead. . . . Brigitte Bardot is recording a new EP. She hasn't decided what label will distribute her record.

On its popular Relax label, Iramac has stirred big promotion and sales interest with three new teenage singles. The Outsiders have their seventh successive Dutch hit with "Don't You Worry 'Bout Me." Recent polls again have proven that this group is number one in Holland. The first Relax recording by popular Sandy Coast immediately turned into a hit. ### Product Identification

When the location customer goes up to the bar, he generally asks for a Black Label and water, a bottle of Bud or some other brand of spirits. Then he might look up at the rack of cigar boxes and ask for a Dutch Masters. After a few minutes, he'll slide off the stool and walk over to play the . . . the, eh . . . juke box. Yes, the juke box. What kind of juke box? Who knows . . . he doesn't. Maybe he'll have some fun playing that shuffle alley or spend some time shooting on that, whadayacallit . . . pool table.

The point simply is that the vast majority of location customers have no idea what make of equipment they're dropping their coins into and really don't care. But we should! Books have been written on the subject of product identification and brand preference, delving from the superficial reasons right down to the subconscious motivations which lie at the root of every human being's fondness for this product or that . . . all of which ultimately leads to a cash sale somewhere along the line.

Now, a lot of our manufacturers are going to wonder what in heck we're getting at. They spend money to put their individual logo's (trade marks) on each machine and expect the public to recognize it. And if the public doesn't, does it really make any difference? We think it could mean a great deal of difference in the public's general attitude toward our industry if they all knew they were playing a Rowe, a Rock-Ola, a Seeburg or a Wurlitzer juke box. Same goes for the games and the tables.

Looking at it through the eyes of the manufacturers, it's quite obvious who's firm name is visible over there on the backglass and over here at the bottom of the playfield. It's his name and he recognizes it easier than anyone. Now look at it from the public's viewpoint. There's a pool table. They punch the coin mech, scoop up the balls, chalk up the stick when right in front of their eyes is the manufacturer's two inch high, five inch wide logo. Do you think the customer sees it. He does not! Let any operator out there ask any of his location patrons what kind of juke is playing, without the customer looking at it. Chances are, he'll shrug his shoulders and say he never thought about it.

Be advised that we're only generalizing here. We've been surprised quite a few times to learn someone outside of the trade not only knew most of the factory names but even had a preference for a particular brand in music, in pingames, shuffles, tables etc. But that's the exception. And what really irks you is to hear some clown tell you the juke box is made by the "Black Hand Mfg. Co." which operates out of an "old Capone brewery on the North Side."

There's a real, fine, substantial sound to the factory names in our business. To stand up and shout, here we are, is good public relations. People are suspicious of the unknown but develop an affinity for something they can call by its rightful name. Just like identical twins . . . who can tell the difference between them until you put a name on each one.

Every one of our factories has professional promotion men on the payroll . . . each of which knows dozens of effective ways of getting the name before the public, even if that public isn't especially interested. Larger name plates and logos, number one. Illuminated signs at the location saying, "You are listening to _____ Music," can do the trick. An occasional institutional ad in a consumer magazine or newspaper helps a great deal, even though it probably won't sell a single machine. And let's not worry about encouraging direct sales . . . we ought to know how to handle that by now. When McDonnell Douglas Aircraft advertises in "Time Magazine," nobody rushes out to buy a DC-8.

These techniques could knock out some of these phantom images the public has about our business and provide at least some degree of bridge between coinbiz and the public. And without going into a whole new editorial, let's start thinking more about operating company labels that you can read instead of innocuous service cards hidden on the backs of machines.

CASH BOX PROFILE ON: LOUIS BOASBERG—From College Football To Coin Machines

"I was a Junior at Tulane University during the depression in 1932 and was out job hunting. I began walking down this one street almost ready to give up when I saw some workers unloading boxes from a truck and taking them into a building. I figured where there was activity of this nature there must be a need for workers, so I went into the building and asked Sol and Abe Koalber, who were Gottlieb distributors, for a job. They recognized me because on January 1st of that same year I had played in the Rose Bowl Game with the rest of the Tulane football team against Southern California University. I'll tell you more about that later. Anyway, Sol and Abe didn't have a job to offer me, but they did offer to sell me five Gottlieb Big Broadcast amusement machines. Well, I had no money to pay for them at the time so the Koalbers said to me, 'you have a good reputation, you're well known and liked, so we'll give you credit on five machines.' That's how I got my first taste of the coin machine business."

This was the Cash Box Profile subject for this week, Louis Boasberg talking, founder and owner of New Orleans Novelty Company located in New Orleans, Louisiana. Boasberg, a 35 year veteran of the business, has built New Orleans Novelty into one of the largest Operator-Distributor-Parts & Supplies Outlets in the South.

Lou's personal history is just as exciting and ambitious as his business one. Probably one of his greatest thrills came on January 1, 1932, just before he entered the coin machine business.

While playing for the Tulane University varsity football team, they were invited to play in the Rose Bowl Game against Southern California. It was a sunny afternoon in Pasadena and the Rose Bowl crowd was ready for a good game, which is just what they got. At half-time, the Southern Cal fans were delighted with their 14 to 6 lead while the Tulane rooters were still hoping for a victory. The Tulane players came back on the field determined to grind out a victory, but the Bears of Southern Cal were even more determined to hold on to their sparse lead and continued to beat back the Tulane offense and came up with a 21 to 12 victory.

Boasberg and the rest of the Tulane team were men and took the loss like men, they had reached the pinnacle of College Football . . . a chance to play in the traditional Rose Bowl Game.

Lou went back home and continued building his business and finally went in partnership with his good friend from Loyola University of the South, Raymond Bosworth and later brought in another good friend, his auto mechanic, Joe Isaacson. Lou describes Isaacson today as one of the genius mechanics.

Boasberg's personal history didn't end with his business success, he answered the call for men to serve in our armed service. Lou spent one year at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station learning another challenge . . . how to become a sailor in the U.S. Navy. After basic naval training, Boasberg was assigned to the battleship Intrepid, where he served two years and participated in attacks on Guam, Iwo Jima, Battle of the Philippines and one raid on Tokyo. For his participation, Lou received five Battlestars and his ship, the Intrepid, was awarded a Presidential Citation. The Intrepid was hit by the enemy more times than any other ship in World War Two . . . two torpedos and five kamikazes found their way to the sides of the heroic battleship.

After the war, Lou came back to New Orleans and further continued to build his business. Presently, New Orleans Novelty is the distributor of Bally, Gottlieb, Williams and Chicago Coin. A tone of proudness is detected in Lou's voice when he says, "at one time or another I have lost distribution rights from every factory I've had, but somehow I've always managed to get them back."

When asked what the most lucrative and popular piece of equipment in New Orleans was, Boasberg replied, "Bingo games, without a doubt. Here in New Orleans bingoes are semi-legal, what I mean by that is, the player may be rewarded with merchandise or a prize. There's a possibility that the forces of hypocrisy may eventually eliminate bingoes, but if this ever happens, we're certain that the state legislature will legalize them."

In New Orleans, like other parts of the country, the biggest problem facing operators is that of curbing purchase of equipment by locations. "While direct sales still goes on, we set the price of equipment so high, that the location just cannot afford to buy their own machines. Those who do manage to obtain one, keeps it until the legs rot off."

We have the highest license fee in federal and approximately $165.00 besides the federal. It might be even more before long, if the new license bill is passed, it calls for a yearly rate of $500.00 plus $10.00 for each game operated."

Probably, one of the most effective ways to eliminate this nationwide problem would be to set the license fee so high that it would be virtually impossible for a location to buy one and still make a profit on just one machine, whereas, an operator that has a sufficient number of machines can afford to pay a higher license fee. Would you pay $500.00 a year to operate just one or two machines?"

Five cent play . . . New Orleans is one of the few areas of the country still capitalizing on nickel play. Lou says, "telephones are still a nickel . . . our games are still a nickel . . . three balls for five cents. The game goes quick and we make money . . . why change it? The customer is satisfied, the location is satisfied and we're satisfied. Its called percentaging." We asked Lou for a definition of percentaging and he gave us one, "percentaging . . . any gun, flipper or bingo that gives free play where the customer feels like he is getting his money's worth and the location owner and the operator makes a profit . . . thats called percentaging."

The Loan-Bonus situation, "we operate according to the location, if its a terrific spot . . . we give it a good bonus. If its an average location . . . we give it an average bonus."

Lou feels the image of the coin trade can be enhanced thru public relations, civic mindedness and participating in various community projects.

It was an experience talking with Lou Boasberg, he's a fine gentleman and businessman. Lou has made many friends, both in the coin machine business and the music business, over the years. His neighbor, musician Pete Fountain and New Orleans King of Jazz, Al Hirt are among his close friends. A legend, thats what his friends call Lou Boasberg.

KC To Accept Single Venders as Trade-ins

WISCONSIN — Kimberly-Clark distributors will take in trade old single-vend machines designed for dispensing either sanitary napkins or tampons, for replacement by new dual-vend machines which dispense both Kotex sanitary napkins and Kotex tampons.

Up to one third of the new value of the old machines can be applied toward the cost of the new machines. Surface mounted or recessed models are available.

The trade-in program, first of its kind, is to encourage companies to provide women employes with both sanitary napkins and tampons. Kimberly-Clark research indicates that half of the women between ages 18 and 35 now prefer tampons to napkins, or use both.

"Few companies today provide both," Norman Coan, Kimberly-Clark's manager for commercial markets, said.

For additional information on the trade-in plan and new dual-vend machines, write Commercial Department, Kimberly-Clark Corporation, Neeah, Wis. 54956.

Al Wertheimer, Davis Distrib. Chief, Named Syracuse Letterman of Distinction

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Albert Wertheimer, president of Davis Distributing Corporation, has been elected a "Letterman of Distinction" by Syracuse University's Varsity Club.

The distinctive honor is given each year to six of the University's lettermen graduated at least 25 years ago, and who have since brought honor to themselves, the University, and who have distinguished themselves in their communities and professions. The Syracuse University Varsity Club, made up of men who have earned a varsity letter in athletics during their college careers annually selects its Lettermen of Distinction from a field of highly distinguished alumni.

This year's winners, in addition to Albert Wertheimer, include Duffy Daugherty, famed Michigan State football coach; the late Paul Helms, philanthropist and founder of the Helms Athletic Foundation; Dr. Eric Faigle, Syracuse University vice-president; Christopher Schlacter, a 1915 Syracuse All-American, and Dr. A. Blair Knapp, distinguished educator and president of Denison University, Ohio. Past year's winners have included such prominent alumni as former U.S. Secretary of Commerce, John T. Conner; Lynn Waldorf, football Hall of Famer; Financier Arnold Grant; Syracuse Industrialist Eric Will; Vic Hanson, former Syracuse football coach, and Earl Machold, president of Niagara Mohawk Power Corp.

The five living members were honored at a banquet on October 20, and were introduced by Chancellor William P. Tolley at half-time during the Syracuse-California football game on October 21.

Wertheimer received a B.S. Degree in Engineering from Syracuse in 1933. He was undefeated in his three seasons on the University's boxing teams. He won the NCAA 126-pound crown in 1932, the first year a national boxing championship was held. Wertheimer was amateur Athletic Commissioner (A.A.U.) for 13 counties of central New York State from 1933-42. He is a member of the Advisory Committee for the Joint Legislative Committee on Sports and Physical Fitness.

Since graduation, Wertheimer has given strong backing to Syracuse University sports programs, and has maintained a great interest in community sports activities. He has been a director of the Varsity Club since 1948, and is currently serving as chairman of its executive committee. His many contributions in this field include serving as president of Friends of Boxing (Syracuse Boys' Club), and

N.Y.C. Approves Kaye Counter Game

BROOKLYN, N.Y.—Howard Kaye, national sales director for the Irving Kaye Co., advised last week that the licensing dept. of the City of New York has formally approved the operation of their 'Drinker Tinker' counter game.

The game, which operates on a simple battery, is in full production out at the Kaye plant in anticipation of a heavy order commitment. An impressive quantity of 'Drinker Tinkers' have already been shipped to the firm's distributor network across the country and are currently operating on thousands of locations.

The formal approval of New York's stringent licensing dept. now enables the Kaye Co. to actively promote the games operation in that lucrative area.

Kaye further revealed that, based upon the tremendous success of the 'Tinker', a second version will be released to the coin trade shortly.

JOE ASH, president of the Active Amusement Co. of Philadelphia, was snapped by the Polaroid Photog while visiting out at the Gottlieb factory during the recent MOA Convention.

New Frozen Beverage Venders In Development

HOUSTON—Two prototype models of new vendors that automatically dispense frozen carbonated beverages were introduced last week at the National Soft Drink Association's International Soft Drink Exposition in the Houston Astrohall.

The product development is a joint venture of the Glasco Division of UMC Industries, and the Sweden Freezer Manufacturing Company, Seattle, Wash.

In announcing the new vendors, the two companies said:

"We are pleased to report the successful marriage of Glasco's beverage vendors with Sweden's manually-operated equipment for dispensing frozen carbonated beverages.

"These drinks have become one of the fastest growing segments of the soft drink market, and we believe their automatic vending has an extremely promising future."

SURPRISE, SURPRISE! — That's the standard joke down at Atlantic New York's showrooms each time a new operator lays his peepers on Seeburg's new 'Spectra' phono for the very first time. The new console is so radically different in looks, it usually evokes a double take. Showings at regional distributors have been cooking several weeks now—many still going on—and distributors we've spoken to report marvelous response from operator-customers—the kind of response you can read on an order blank. While talking with Seeburg's promo-chief Frank Lupino last week, he repeated a classic item to us that their Los Angeles distrib Buddy Lurie dropped to him. Seems that one South Cal op came by Buddy's showing two weeks back, listened to the sales pitch, checked over the Spectra for himself and decided to order one. Afterward, he figured he'd enjoy some of the eats and drink, hung around another hour, walked back over and ordered a second phono.

THE BOTTLE BOYS—The 1967 Bottlers Show, which filled the Houston Astro Dome's Astro Hall the 13th thru 16th, brought out the cream of the nation's soft drink firms, cup and bottle vendors and machine manufacturers and the up & comin' can soda contingent. Rowe's Jim Newlander was on hand to demonstrate the factory's wide line of drink units. Rock-Ola's Hugh Gorman came down from Chicago with their line of can machines. Ray Jones held forth for Steelmade. The Jamain Brothers from Santone Sales and Central Sales were on hand for a time to help out Newlander. HERE AND THERE — Southern Music's Wolf Lebovitz info's his cousin Ruben Cherry has relocated his record retail store 'Home of the Blues' from Beale St. to Main St. in Memphis. Wolf attended gala open house Thursday before last with many other prominent members of the city's music business notables. . . . Another AMI distributor, Joe Flynn of J.&J., announced he's purchased the Shaffer Dist. Com.'s Cincinnati branch office and would like to see all loyal Rowe customers drop by and say hello to Bill Watson. . . . Good buddy Howie Kaye took last Wed. off from his two-million duties out at the Irv Kaye factory to supervise the big move from his Forest Hills apartment to brand new home in Roslyn, Long Island. Between the furniture, the books, the kids and the hundred and one items you never notice at home until you move, an exhausted Mr. Kaye said "never again!" . . . Tommy Tarantelli tells us that Sam and Dave's Stax recording of 'Soul Man' is absolutely number one with his Syracuse area operators. This week, Jimmy picks Bobby Vee's Liberty waxing of 'Beautiful People' (and may we add our own pick for that tune—it's a honey!). . . . Any ops shooting out to Vegas between Nov. 28th and Dec. 11th be sure to drop into the Sahara and catch Pat Morita's act. Terrif!

ATTENTION CANDY VENDORS —The candy business manufacturing has a few bugaboos to fight much the same as the music and game biz. One of the main criticisms leveled at the confection industry involves tooth decay. In an attempt to promote better dental hygiene in this respect, especially among children, the Nat'l Confectioners has published a booklet entitled 'How to Protect Dental Health While Enjoying Candy.' Information in the booklet is considered to be in accord with current scientific knowledge, according to the American Dental Assn. Essentially, the booklet promotes the obvious benefits in eating candy, but warns the reader to brush his teeth and naurally, to visit the dentist every six months. The booklet is being mailed direct to more than 85,000 practicing dentists as well as to school teachers, PTA groups, the press and others.

BIG DAY AT BETSON—Last Sunday was the scheduled Gala Open House celebration of Betson Enterprises' 35th year in the business and at press time, a record bunch of ops, their wives and kids were expected by Bert and Hugh Betti. Fete is an annual event and goes from noon till evening, or as Bert says, "till the well runs dry!"

TOURNEY TALK—The pool table tournament concept, promoted so aptly at the recent MOA Show by Arizona's Ben Spaulding, is receiving a lot of favorable comment in the trade. However, in order to really get the program going in each locale, it's principally up to our local association leaders and big operators to start the ball rolling. All you need do is bring the subject up at the next association meeting, get a bunch of names down from interested ops, jot down the names of those billiard locations which you'd like in the contest, set a kickoff date, prepare circulars for each spot and decide on prizes. That's merchandising!

consistent seller. Bob trekking to Chicago for a couple of days.

FROM THE RECORD RACKS. . . . Jerry Barish of California Music reports that the Hollies are coming on very big with their latest single for Epic entitled "Dear Eloise." Dave Clark's newest, also for Epic, "Red and Blue" is showing all the signs of a chart bound item. Looks very good for the American Breed with their newest single for the Acta label, "Bend Me Shake Me." Long time for the Byrds, but they have a new one called "Go On Back" on Columbia.

Houston Happenings

Early in November Dick (Turk) Farrell, better than well known National League baseball pitcher, signed up the Gulf Coast Distributing Co. (Texas Wurlitzer distributors; headquarters, Houston and offices in San Antonio) in phonograph sales department. Farrell is extremely popular with fans over Texas generally and in Houston particularly. He was with Houston Astros until final weeks of 1967 season when he was traded to Philadelphia. Many informed fans and local sports writers believe Dick would have won a lot more games for the Astros than he did had he been given a few runs when most needed. We join a host of Texas coimnen wishing him success in his commercial venture. . . . Dons Bellaire Record Shop, 5008 Bissonnet, a major retail outlet owned and operated continuously since 1955 by Don Janicek and wife Betty, have the latest edition of their "Record Gift Guide" ready for printing. This guide, reportedly a top notch retail sales stimulator, is a mini 24 page tabloid in colors and delivered via two weekly newspaper and a door to door free shopper service in the trade area. Format of the sheet is altered seasonally. Circulation includes city of Bellaire, 22,000 population, together with the Southwest Houston area of approximately 450,000. Recent extensive store remodeling provided walnut panel above peg boards and a front display for Masterwork, Capitol and Mercury phonos, tape players and cassette units. . . . Ralph D. Cragan, Wurlitzer regional sales manager together with L. C. Butler and Dick Farrell, Gulf Coast Dis. Co., were in Corpus Christi for a two day showing (Nov. 7-8) of the new model Wurlitzer phonographs at Sheraton hotel in that city. Cragan reported overflow attendance and grand reception for the new machines. . . . Operator W. L. (Bill) Morrison has moved his Port City Music & Dist. Co. from Harrisburg Blvd. into his own building at 2311 Washington Ave. Bill said being one's own landlord was a right satisfied feeling. His son, Al, is presently working with him in the business. . . . Roy Mayhem reported better than average going for his not too long established phonograph operating concern, M & M Music. His charming wife Viola lends a hand when Roy gets snowed under with work. . . . On Oct. 29 operator Ted Harris and wife Effie observed their 37th wedding anniversary. Since Ted has been plagued with a serious heart ailment his wife has done a capable job handling the business; reduced sharply from former extensive operations. . . . Old timer musician Guy Ellis looking none the worse since major intestinal surgery several months ago. . . . D. W. Lester, well known in local coinmatic circles, signed up with H. A. Franz & Co. (Seeburg) early in November. Few years ago Lester was a medium bracket and game operator and owned the North Main Record Shop, one of the longer established retail record outlets in the Old North Side area. . . . Semi-retired operator Bill Gates and wife living the "life of Riley" in their comfortable home on Galveston Bay.

California Clippings

ANNUAL LUAU HELD IN LONG BEACH. . . . We hear that a good time was had by all who attended the Luau hosted as usual by the Harbor Amusement Association. The event was held at the Edgewater Inn in Long Beach.

CMMA BANQUET COMING UP SOON. . . . Spoke with Leo Simone of Badger Sales and asks us to remind everyone of this affair, which will be taking place on Saturday, December 1st at the Ambassador Hotel. We are told that the very talented comedian, Morey Amsterdam will be on hand to serve as the master of ceremonies for the festivities along with other surprise guests. Any operators that would like to get tickets to this dinner may contact either Leo or Marv Jones of Jones Music in the San Fernando Valley. . . . While talking to Leo he mentioned that they are still awaiting the arrival of the new Fischer pool tables. He also tells that he is very pleased with the way the "Helicopter Trainer" has continued to sell. Leo says, "they are going out as fast as they come in."

NEW PHONOGRAPHS ARRIVE AT WURLITZER. . . . Clayton Ballard informs us that the new model 3200 "Americana 2" was just unloaded at the Wurlitzer office. They recently held a showing in San Diego for this beautiful new phonograph. The affair was held at the Kings Inn with Johnny Morris, Bob Colyer, Leonard Hicks and Clayton, in attendance. Clayton tells us that he received a card from Maxine and Roy Shiffer, who are vacationing at Lake Isabella. George Ryder and his wife just returned from an Acapulco vacation.

ADVANCE AUTOMATIC HAS AN "ACE" UP ITS SLEEVE. . . . Bob Portale of Advance Automatic Sales reports that he just received a shipment of Chicago Coins' new "Ace" machine gun. ## Chicago Chatter

This year's IAPP banquet (28), climaxing the 49th annual International Association of Amusement Parks convention (26-29) in the Sherman House, will feature songstress Anita Bryant (courtesy of Coca Cola Company), comic Mike Caldwell, the Ginny Tiu Show, Chiquita and Johnson dance team, The Varsity Group and Frank York and his orchestra. Festivities will be held in the hotel's Grand Ballroom . . . The new Bally "World Cup" soccer game, which was displayed at the MOA convention, is reportedly proving to be a real winner with tremendous earning power in several test locations around town. Added to this is the good news from Herb Jones that "World Cup" was recently approved for licensing in Chicago! . . . We called the busy premises of H. Z. Vending in Omaha and talked briefly with Hymie Zorinsky. Business is good, sez Hymie, and he and Eddie are workin' like beavers to keep up! . . . Fresh on the heels of the "Orion" 6-player, Williams Electronics Mfg., this past week introduced a new single player called "Touch-down! . . . Hopes are high at Fischer Mfg. in Tipton, Mo. that the new plant will be ready sometime after the first of the year! Firm's current line is doing extremely well, according to Frank Schroeder, with emphasis on the Regent series! . . . Chicago Dynamic Industries is stepping up shipments of Ace Machine Gun. Mort Se-core, for one, is most gratified with the flow of repeat orders pouring in! . . . Well, Pablo Picasso finally admitted (to Look magazine) that the much publicized statue he gifted to Chicago's Civic Center, is actually a "woman's head"! Now there's a revelation for ya! . . . Pete Entringer of Advance Dist. in St. Louis tells us he's enjoying much success with the new Rowe-AMI "Cadette" and Bally "Wiggler" . . . By the way, if you're lookin' for Charlie Kagels, try Las Vegas—Pete sent him packin' last week to participate in the National Seniors Golf Tournament out there . . . Added note: keep an eye on Sob Song, the new filly owned by Pete Entringer. We understand she's running in Latonia, Kentucky! . . . There are a lot of smiling faces over at World Wide Dist. this week—and rightfully so! Howie Freer tells us the recent showing of the Seeburg "Spectra" was one of the distrib's "most successful" ever! . . . Midway Mfg.'s Ross Scheer announced the appointment of Electrophon, based in Milan, to distribute the Midway line throughout Italy. Ross arranged the appointment with firm's principal Roberto Mauro, during his recent European trip . . . All present and accounted for at Atlas Music Co.—and mighty busy at that! . . . Needless to say, the center of excitement at D. Gottlieb & Co. is the recently released "Surf Side" 2-player! . . . Meeting the growing demand for the current Rock-Ola Mfg. Corp. lineup is keeping everyone at the huge plant busier than ever these days. Stars of the show, of course, are the "Centura" (Model 436), "Ultra" (Model 437) and the moderately priced "Concerto" (Model 434)!

Milwaukee Mentions

United, Inc. has set a December 1 target date for the big move to new, more spacious quarters at 5600 W. North Ave. So, it's understandable that Harry Jacobs, Russ Townsend and crew are exceptionally busy preparing for the move and, as Russ points out, trying to meet the demand for Wurlitzer's "Americana II" which is reportedly being very well received throughout the area! . . . All present and accounted for—and "enjoying a very good week"—at Hastings Dist. Co. Sam Hastings added that the recent Milwaukee Coin Machine Assn. meeting was most fruitful! . . . Stu Glassman of Radio Doctors goes one step further in his efforts to accommodate operators. As a follow-up to his "Hit" list for ops, Stu now regularly prepares a "new release" sheet, spotlighting artists with previous hits, for distribution to operators. He tells us reaction has been just great! . . . The annual funfest hosted by WRIT-radio was held at Buddy's Steak Out last week and, from what we hear, it was a real gas! Station brass, personnel, et al, provided food, drink and entertainment for music biz people from in and around the Milwaukee area . . . WOKY followed suit this week (15) with a bash at the Pfister Hotel!

letters as the mechanism searches out a selection, offers a fascinating eye-appeal feature. Translucent, glow-lit, color-coordinated panels of break-resistant glass serve as service access doors at the bottom of the pecan wood cabinet. Spectra also features as "Album Theater" display above the mechanism that rotates a continuing array of little LP jackets at ten second intervals.

The cabinet itself is a major departure in phonograph design. Standing 56" in height, it measures 27" deep and 40½" wide. It begins with a steel frame to which top and side panels are attached, making replacement of a panel an on-location matter. The actual location of the selection panel within the cabinet is designed to offer the location customer "the greatest ease ever in record selection," according to Adair.

Transition Pricing

Perhaps the most notable aspect of the Seeburg Spectra lies in its recommended two-plays-for-a-quarter pricing. Actually, a wide variety of optional coin and pricing combinations are available to the operator, but it is two-for-two that comes first in Seeburg's mind. Among the currency features available is the dollar bill special which operates in conjunction with the bill acceptor and offers a pre-selected set of singles or albums at a reduced pricing structure.

These "special" tunes are keyed by the title strip colors and are also available in sets of three for 25¢. The 25¢ three-tune-special is designed to give those location customers who are "put out" by the two-for-25¢ the opportunity to pay the old fare until they get used to the price hike. "In other words," according to Adair, "the three-for-25¢ pre-selected special gives the bartender some ammunition to answer the location customer whose nose is out of joint at the price hike. He can still buy three for a quarter if he wants, but only through the special."

The pricing structure here is ultimately designed to offer operators a transition machine between three and two plays for a quarter. "It's been a long time in coming, it has to be and this is the machine to get it across," Adair stated.

The Mechanism

The entire Spectra mechanism has been reversed within the cabinet from previous models. All records can now be changed by the route man without moving the mechanism. By opening the lower doors, a serviceman can reach all sides of the mechanism by rolling it forward on special tracks or even removing it entirely. "The amplifier and coin unit are also simply removed thru a simple unplug and a tug," Adair revealed.

Speaker Position

Al Bodoh, Seeburg's engineering vice president, said the ear-level speakers add a new dimension of realism to stereo sound on the Spectra. "Why muffle the sound by having it come out at floor level and bounce around people's feet," Bodoh asked. "Now people can hear exactly what they paid for." Bodoh further stated that the Spectra's amplifiers are all solid state.

CHICAGO—The elegant, new Seeburg "Spectra" was the star supreme of a day-long showing at World Wide Distributors on Tuesday, November 7. Operators from throughout the area attended en masse and voiced their enthusiasm unhesitatingly. Hosting the showing were World Wide executives Nate Feinstein, his wife, Eva, Fred Skor, Harold Schwartz, Irv Ovitz and the entire sales staff.

The World Wide showroom, by the way, was very attractively decked out for the occasion with tastefully selected carpeting and drapes to complement the color scheme of the "Spectra"!

Canteen & Triangle Stock Reports

NEW YORK—As negotiations between the Canteen Corp. and Triangle Conduit and Cable Co. for the acquisition of Canteen's Rowe Mfg. approach final agreement, both firm's issued impressive stock reports to their respective stockholders.

The Board of directors of the Canteen Corp. at a November 15th meeting declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of 20¢ per share payable January 2, 1968 to stockholders of record December 15, 1967, according to Patrick O'Malley, president.

Meanwhile, net income after taxes of Triangle increased to $6,054,000 or $3.01 per share of capital stock, in the nine months ending Sept. 30th., according to its president Carl Menger.

"Despite the fact that the current prolonged copper strike was in effect through all but two weeks of Triangle's third quarter," Menger stated "the further implementation of modernization, cost reduction and efficiency programs, coupled with a better balanced blend of products, enabled us to offset the sales decline and increase profits through the nine months of the year." Triangle, listed on the New York Stock Exchange, is a major fabricator of a diversified line of copper, steel, brass, aluminum and plastic tube, pipe and wire products and pre-insulated pipe.

NRI Intro's Canadian Coin Selector-Will Accept Pure-Nickel And Existing Coins

design of four-in-one rejectors, the unit will fit in the same space now provided for three-in-one (nickel, dime, quarter) rejectors. Each coin path incorporates a full range of adjustments.

With the Simplex IV, all four coins exit in normal nickel, dime, quarter, half-dollar sequence. This sequence conforms with the industry standard for 5¢, 10¢, 25¢ three-in-one installations, which NRI pioneered with its introduction of the first successful three-in-one rejector.

Eric L. Sokol, executive vice president of NRI, said, "The design of the Simplex IV selector is the result of painstaking research and exhaustive testing. The new small size, combined with the normal 5¢, 10¢, 25¢, 50¢ coin-outlet sequences, is a major departure in size from conventional four-in-one rejector designs. This new unit provides vending equipment manufacturers with maximum engineering flexibility."

The Simplex IV is currently in use by all major manufacturers of coin operated phonographs and is ready for immediate delivery. Foreign models are available on request.

Ways You Can Reduce Maintenance Labor Costs

■ Dirt Costs $500.00 Per Lb. To Remove

NEW YORK—Maintenance productivity is an important subject of great concern and interest to every company, regardless of size or kind of business.

There are several practical ways to reduce maintenance labor costs by greater efficiency in the way it is performed. With the increased minimum wage, plus the fact that reliable maintenance workers are scarce to find in sufficient numbers, it has become increasingly important to find ways to cut labor time by more efficient methods, if possible.

First, let's look at some facts; 93¢ of each maintenance dollar goes to labor costs . . . dust and dirt which can get inside a building costs $500 a pound to remove . . . 70% of all interior dirt and dust is tracked into the building.

Here are some ways you might save a few "maintenance" dollars:

1. Use a stop watch to time various jobs—even the smallest, results are often highly informative. 2. Store your supplies in an area where there is a minimum of running around. 3. Workers should not be given too much, nor too little. Work should be scheduled for times when traffic on certain areas is light, if possible. 4. Concentrate on keeping dirt out of plant, or office. You can do this by the extensive use of treated mats at doorways, halls, entrances and heavily-traveled places. This could nearly cut the amount of dust-mopping in half. It's not economical to pay for interior dirt that you can keep outside, especially when it costs $500 per pound to remove. 5. Good human relations increase productivity . . . this is evidence that a happy crew is a productive crew. The emphasis should be placed on leadership rather than the old-fashioned "boss" attitude. 6. Labor time can be saved by combining two steps. An example: broom sweeping and wet mopping can be drastically reduced by using treated mop dust control.

These are just a few ideas that might help you to control maintenance labor costs. Take a good look at your operation and see if any of these ideas can be put to use. Maybe you will see a way to save money or come up with an idea of your own to save money as well as increase the efficiency and quality of your maintenance workers.

CHICAGO—National Rejectors, Inc., has introduced its Canadian produced 81-15 multi-coinage selector, a new selector designed to handle proposed pure-nickel Canadian coins as well as existing Canadian and United States coinage.

NRI exhibited the 81-15 selector at the National Automatic Merchandising Association's 1967 national convention.

The 81-15 has been designed specifically to accept five types of Canadian and U.S. coinage and to reject spurious coins. It will accept pure-nickel Canadian coins (existing 5¢ and proposed 10¢ and 25¢ coins), existing silver and interim partial-silver Canadian coins, U.S. 90 per cent silver coinage, and U.S. clad coins.

Its operation is mechanical, requiring no electricity. Physically, it is completely interchangeable with all in-use eddy/current rejector mechanisms.

The 81-15 selector is manufactured exclusively by NRI of Canada, National Rejectors' new Canadian production facility. The plant is located at 80 Vanley Crescent, Downsview, Ont., a northern suburb of Toronto.

NRI also introduced to the vending industry the Simplex IV compact selector, a new "small-design," four-in-one coin rejector.

The Simplex IV accepts all U. S. nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars and rejects all spurious coins. Representing a major advance in the ST. LOUIS—Coin Acceptors recently presented two Five-Price channels at trade conventions. The FP1100, a select price channel with prices ranging from 5¢ through 25¢; and the FP1110 channel with price selection from 25¢ through 45¢. Both channels have price selection systems similar to Coinco's Five-Price changer and are said to sell at less than 2/3 the changer price.

Both Five-Price channels are presently in production. Coinco maintains that they offer an operator location inter-changeability and are ideal on locations where change is readily available. The price selection system has proven to be effective against unauthorized price meddling, which has recently plagued the industry.
