The Case Against Cut-Outs

If the industry believes it has made gains in the control of "returns" over the past months, a visit to key retailers in major markets should cause fits among music men. Whatever has been done in more realistic allocations of new product, the vinyl shortage pinch and price hikes are surely shots in the dark when one can see a sea of bins, often standing in prime store locations, featuring cut-out material at ultra-bargain prices. To the customer of such establishments it would seem that the list price of recordings had taken a nose-dive to the $1.98 level!

On superficial terms for immediate financial gains, the flow of cut-outs back to the retailer may sound like good business judgment. The manufacturer gets at least some monetary return on less-than-successful merchandise, and the retailer has the ultimate lure in attracting economy-minded record buyers. But, alas, this is really a "bonanza" that fails to take into account the security and prosperity of the industry over the long run. One music man put it this way: "After visiting a number of outlets where cut-out material received greater attention than current best-sellers, I wondered if the industry wasn't hell-bent on self-destruction. When cut-outs represented 15% of cut-out space, I could understand their availability. Now that the figure can easily go over 50%, there's something radically wrong with such a proportion."

We liken this self-defeating approach to industry dollars to an auto dealer who would give more attention to his used car department than he would to the sales of current model year cars. He might sell more cars, but lose potential customers for new autos. We believe that if such attention is given to cut-outs, the same will hold true eventually for the music retailer and, in no small way, the manufacturer, too.

Some labels, too few, take a more courageous approach to "returns." These labels scrap them and take the loss with a philosophy that looks ahead to the release of new product in hopes they will come through in the marketplace. These labels, we have been told by their key execs, have had enough experience in the scrapping of their "returns" to state categorically that they are doing the wise thing, a policy that is born out by the fact that they are among the most successful (profit-wise, too!) labels in the industry.

Certainly, the bargain-hunter has enough regular "economy-priced" product to choose from. This product, of course, is marketed with built-in cost factors that make them profitable to offer. Cut-outs, on the other hand, represent an investment that cannot in any way be fully re-couped. To "dump" them in the marketplace represents a temporary financial gain that can defer the continuing well-being of the business.

'Men Upstairs' Aid Famous In Varied Music Success Pattern

NEW YORK — Famous Music Publishing Companies' turnaround from a traditional film company subsidiary, leaning heavily on its film catalog, to one of the more competitive operations around (Lobo, Jim Stafford, The Hollies), could well become a "classic case of how conglomerate acquisitions in our business can pay off," according to Marvin Cane, chief operating officer for Famous Music Publishing Companies. Cane continued, "immediately following the Paramount Pictures acquisition, Gulf & Western board chairman Charles Bluhdorn and David N. Judelson, president of G&W, breathed life into the film company, and, at the same time, made the commitment to revitalize the music divisions."

"What's so great about these men upstairs is that they made themselves available," Cane states. "We communicated with them, bounced ideas around. We've all heard stories about what happens when big companies acquire smaller operations. Our set-up is different. This 'open-door' attitude and the accessibility of Top Brass makes the adrenalin flow and has boosted morale in the publishing division. The best part is that word got around the industry that the G&W management supported with action the professional commitment made by the music publishing divisions." This resulted in our first big year under Gulf and Western with 'Love Story,' 'Make It Easy On Yourself,' 'Me And You And A Dog Named Boo,' and 'Come Saturday Morning.' You can see from the results that our strategy to balance the pop and film music worked great."

Yablans Role

Cane said the division "got another break when Frank Yablans was named president of Paramount Pictures. Frank

FRONT COVER:

Aretha Franklin is indeed the heir to the legacy of Billie Holiday, and as the reigning 'Queen of Soul' it is only appropriate that she is currently represented on the Cash Box singles chart with "I'm in Love," pulled from her charted Atlantic album, "Let Me In Your Life." She has meant a great deal to music fans since her first hit, "I Never Loved a Man," hit big in 1967.

Aretha's string of successes, which have led her to a dozen gold records, are mirrored by the constant demand for her to appear in concert, something which she does lovingly, if all too sparingly. With each step in her career a triumph, Aretha Franklin has earned the deserved respect of fans and peers alike.

All Music Areas Contribute To CBS/Records Top 1st Qtr

NEW YORK — The CBS/Records Group's first quarter of 1974 was the most successful in the group's history. Goddard Lieberman, president, said that the achievement was a tribute to the efforts of Irwin Segelstein, president of CBS Records, and Walter Yetnikoff, president of CBS International, and their division associates both in A&R and in marketing. All areas of recorded music contributed to the company's sales growth, Lieberman stated.

Columbia

For the Columbia label, the first quarter brought six gold records, including Chicago's single, "Just You 'N Me" and album Chicago VII; David Essex' "Rock On"; Barbra Streisand's "The Way We Were"; Johnny Winter's "Johnny Winter Live" and Jim Nabors' "The Lord's Prayer". In addition to the records which reached gold, there were many other major releases which boosted overall sales for the first quarter. On Columbia, such artists as Paul Simon, Herbie Hancock, Billy Joel, Earth, Wind & Fire, Tanya Tucker, Johnny Winter and Mac Davis have all had new product, either during or just prior to the first three months of 1974. Also, the continuing sales strength of previously released albums by Columbia artists such as Neil Diamond, Loggins & Messina, Lynn Anderson, Garfunkel, Santana, Sonny James, The Mahavishnu Orchestra, Johnny Mathis, Ray Price and Barbara Fairchild helped to bolster the high sales volume.

Epic/Columbia Custom

Epic and Columbia Custom Labels have been a major factor in the successful sales performance in this quarter, with releases by such artists as Rick Derringer (Blue Sky), Redbone, The Staple Singers (Stax), George Jones, David Houston & Barbara Mandrell, Albert Hammond (Mums) and Charlie McCoy (Monument). Steady sales on previously released albums by Epic/Custom artists such as Edgar Winter, Sly & The Family Stone, Tammy Wynette, Isaac Hayes (Stax) and Poco also contributed to the company's enormous first-quarter results. The Philadelphia International Custom Label earned two gold records with The O'Jays' "Ship A'hoy" and MF-SB's "TSOP" as well as steady sales with other artists on their roster including Harold Melvin & The Blue Notes and Billy Paul.

Rich Success

Of all the Epic artists, the greatest success was achieved by Charlie Rich who won the following awards during recent months; NARM's Award for Best Selling

MCA Disco-Vision Demonstration

UNIVERSAL CITY — MCA will demonstrate its "Disco-Vision" home entertainment and high-density storage and retrieval system during the Society of Motion Picture and Television Engineers (SMPTE) meeting at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles this week, according to John W. Findlater, MCA vice president and president of MCA Disco-Vision, Inc.

According to Findlater, MCA has been invited to participate in the SMPTE's 115th Technical Conference, Apr. 21-26. At the Fri. morning, Apr. 26, Videodisc Systems session in the Santa Monica Ballroom, Kent Broadbent, MCA Disco-Vision, Inc. vice president and director of research and development, will deliver a technical paper on Disco-Vision's technology and capabilities, accompanied by a demonstration of the audio-visual disc system. MCA will also exhibit the Disco-Vision system in the Governors Board Room on the South Mezzanine of the hotel several times daily beginning Wed. Apr. 24.

The series of demonstrations, Findlater said, will cover all aspects of the system, including several new technological developments to be shown publicly for the first time. He explained that "The SMPTE conference also gives us an opportunity to present technical descriptions — for the first time publicly — of some of Disco-Vision's innovative techniques which have heretofore been kept confidential, pending filing or granting of necessary patent applications."

The high-density 12-inch Disco-Vision disc is the audio-visual equivalent of an LP record. It revolves at 30 revolutions per second and its microgrooves are scanned by a low-power laser beam — rather than a needle — to relay sound and pictures from the disc to the screen of any standard TV set. Disco-Vision will enable viewers to see the subjects of their choice on home TV screens when the system's relatively inexpensive player or player/changer unit is attached to the VHF input terminals of any standard television receiver, tuned to a channel not used for regular programming.

Rodgers, Harnick To Team On New Broadway Musical

NEW YORK — Composer Richard Rodgers and lyricist Sheldon Harnick will collaborate for the first time on a new musical, "Rex," to be produced next season.

The storyline centers around Henry VIII, according to producer Richard Adler, and will have a book by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee.

In more than 50 years of composing for the professional theatre, Rodgers, who will be 72 this June, has had only four collaborators. They are Larry Hart, Oscar Hammerstein, Stephen Sondheim and Martin Charnin. Harnick's chief collaborator in recent years has been Jerry Bock ("Fiorello!") and "Fiddler on the Roof," among others). After the death of Oscar Hammerstein in 1960, Rodgers began to write his own lyrics, supplying additional songs for the film re-make of "State Fair" and a totally new score for "No Strings." He teamed with Sondheim and Charnin for one musical each, "Do I Hear a Waltz?" and "Two By Two," respectively.

Berlin, Gershwin Join Ent. Hall

NEW YORK — Irving Berlin and George Gershwin are the two musical creators among the 10 major talents selected as the first inductees into the Entertainment Hall of Fame. The 10 were selected in a nation-wide poll of entertainment editors, and will be honored at the first annual awards ceremony scheduled for the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas this week (23).

The other inductees include Charles Chaplin, Judy Garland, D. W. Griffith, Katharine Hepburn, Lord Laurence Olivier, Eugene O'Neill, George Bernard Shaw and Tennessee Williams.

The awards presentation will be televised on May 23rd over ABC-TV's "Wide World of Entertainment." Host of the show will be Gene Kelly, and John Green will produce the special.

"Extend Song Fest Deadline"

HOLLYWOOD — A rising tide of entries and mail delivery delays have prompted a one month extension in the application for entry deadline of the American Song Festival, the first international song-writing competition open to amateurs as well as professionals.

An announcement in Los Angeles by Malcolm C. Klein, president of the $128,000 competition, said the closing date for applying to compete has been extended to May 15.

To speed the entry process, a nationwide toll free telephone number has been established. Requests for application forms may now be made by calling (800) 421-0184. (Applicable only to those calling from outside the state of California.)

Applications for entry may still be obtained by writing to American Song Festival, 5900 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90036.

Helen Reddy, Capitol Records artist and 1973's top female vocalist, is the competition's official spokesperson and the festival is supported by leading executives in the music industry.

There is a total of $128,000 in prizes — a winning song may earn up to $30,500. And the final winning songs will be performed by leading recording artists in a television special.

After all entries are reviewed by select members of the U.S. music industry, final judging will be held Labor Day weekend at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center in Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

20th Inks Sullins

HOLLYWOOD — Russ Regan, president of Twentieth Century Records has announced the signing of singer/songwriter Jim Sullins to the label, and the release of the artist's first album product for the company. Titled "Inside Thunder, Outside Laughing," the LP was produced by Rudy Durand for Koala Music and features Sullins' own compositions.

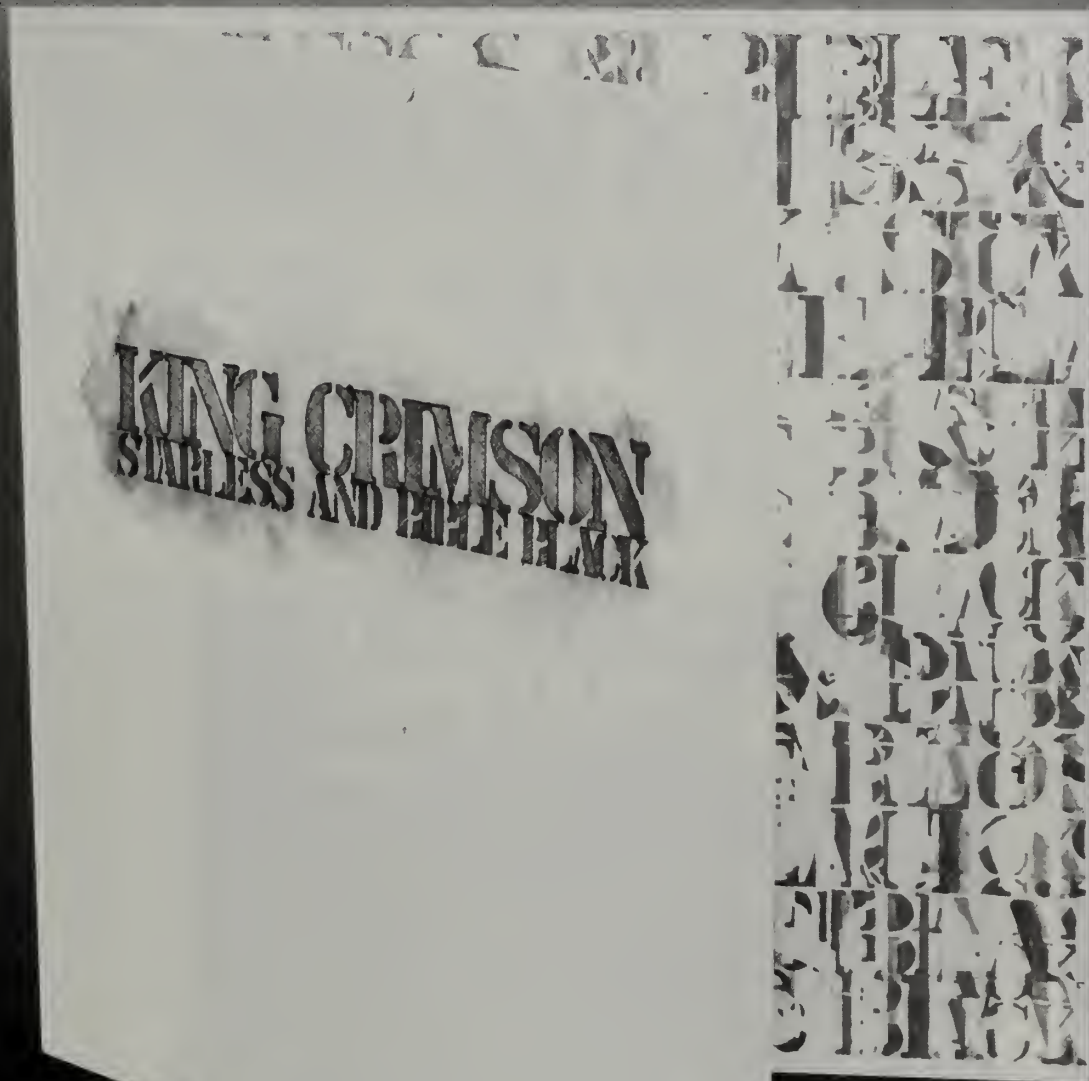

The 24-year old Sullins is a discovery of Durand, and is signed to him for personal management.

HE'S QUITE AN ENTERTAINER!! — Composer Marvin Hamlisch was honored by MCA Records at a special luncheon arranged to salute his winning of three Academy Awards, including one "Oscar" for best scoring of "The Sting," released by the label and currently streaking up the charts to Gold Record status. A single from the LP, "The Entertainer," is also a chart item. The major executive turnout included MCA, Inc. chairman of the board and chief executive officer Lew Wasserman (third from right), himself honored by the Academy this year with its coveted Jean Hersholt Humanitarian Award. From left: Rick Frio, MCA Records vice president-marketing; label president J.K. Country Artist; Three CMA Awards for Album of the Year ("Behind Closed Doors"). Single of the Year ("Behind Closed Doors") and Male Vocalist of the Year; and two Grammy Awards for Best Country Male Vocal Performance — and Best Country Song, the latter of which he shared with Kenny O'Dell, writer of "Behind Closed Doors." Rich's latest single, "A Very Special Love," is currently following in the footsteps of its predecessors and is riding high on all the charts.

New Acts Break

During the past months, Columbia Records has paid special attention to breaking new artists and expanding the sales levels of established performers. Herbie Hancock's "Headhunters" album opened up a new audience for him as well as other jazz/rock artists on the CBS Records roster. David Essex and Billy Joel have also broken into top chart position with their singles, David Essex' "Rock On" reaching No. 1. Barbra Streisand scored with "The Way We Were," and the soundtrack and studio albums of the same name. (Both the single and the studio album reached No. 1 on the charts). Also, through a carefully planned effort, Columbia has begun to expose Tanya Tucker to the contemporary music audience thus adding to her already vast country following.

Epic and Columbia Custom Labels cites several break-throughs with new artists. Epic recording group Redbone rose high on the charts with their single "Come And Get Your Love." Philadelphia International recording group MFSB has topped the charts with their single "TSOP," which the Epic/Custom staff helped to cross over from the soul market into all other musical formats, making it the #1 single and the #1 album. Blue Sky recording artist Rick Derringer was brought out from the shadow of superstars Edgar and Johnny Winter and hit big with his own album, "All American Boy" and his single, "Rock 'N Roll Hoochie Koo."

Classic Success

Responsible for six of the total of 11 Grammy Awards won by CBS Records artists was the Columbia Classical Division. Among these six was another Grammy for Vladimir Horowitz, the 12th of his illustrious career (the largest number by any classical performer).

CBS Int'l

CBS Records International, a division which has grown 400% in the past four years, enjoyed its most successful quarter in the initial months of 1974. High sales volumes in England, Holland, Brazil, Mexico, Australia, Canada and Japan spearheaded this success.

Charlie Rich, Robert Knight, the Three Degrees and Harold Melvin & The Blue Notes were among the U.S. acts which CBS U.K. broke in this first quarter period. England reconfirmed the star status of Andy Williams, whose "Solitaire" single and album remain best sellers there. English television and recording act the Wombles achieved constant success. And CBS U.K. carried over the successes it established in 1973 for Mott the Hoople and David Essex, providing the springboard for Essex's accompanying success in the States.

was vice president of worldwide sales during the great success of 'Love Story' and was highly instrumental in the worldwide acceptance of the music as well as the picture. In addition to having a good set of ears, he (Yablans) is deeply aware of the importance of music in overall productivity. When he teamed up with Robert Evans to deliver 'The Godfather,' we enjoyed one of the music industry's most successful scores. Over 87 versions, and only a technicality away from being the Oscar score that year. We continue to balance our act with non-film hits such as: 'It Sure Took A Long Long Time,' 'How Can I Tell Her,' 'Don't Expect Me To Be Your Friend,' 'I'd Love You To Want Me,' 'Magic Woman Touch,' 'Do It In The Name of Love,' and 'Everything a Man Could Ever Need.' Famous Music Publishing has come full circle, reporting directly to Yablans, president of Paramount Pictures, who heads the leisure time Group for G&W. "Maintaining these close ties can only result in a stronger operation in the future," Cane says. "We are looking forward to such major film scores as Lerner & Loewe's 'The Little Prince,' 'Godfather II,' Burt Reynolds' 'The Longest Yard,' Marvin Hamlisch's score for the Howard Kotch production of Jacqueline Susann's 'Once Is Not Enough,' and the Henry Mancini 'White Dawn' score as well as the score to "Coonskin," a black animation full-length feature, produced by Al Ruddy ('Godfather').

In addition to the above-mentioned film scores, Famous Music is actively publishing the TV scores of such important television programs as 'The Odd Couple,' 'Mission: Impossible,' 'The Magician,' 'Love Story,' 'Mannix,' 'The Brady Bunch,' 'Love American Style,' and 'Star Trek.' Famous placed the Phil Gernhard-Lobo-produced Jim Stafford 'Swamp Witch' with MGM, and wound up with 'Spiders and Snakes,' 'My Girl Bill,' and Stafford's hit LP. "Best of all, Stafford is an exclusive writer with us. Phil Gernhard, one of the all-time successful producers, is associated with Famous Music and produces Lobo, who has been one of our hottest exclusive writers."

Cane adds: "Despite the pride our division takes in this past and current success, we are keenly aware that this is a business we're in — and the bottom line is profits. Continuous chart action is mandatory at Famous; greater sales follow as a matter of course, and our yearly projections are continually increased. With the tremendous strides G&W industries has made, and with Paramount Pictures leading the film industry, it stands to reason that Famous Music Publishing has no choice but to keep pace with the parent companies."

This success parallels the record division's success, headed up by Tony Martell, president of Famous Music Corp. record division of G&W. It has had Focus, Roy Clark, Mecedades, the Pointer Sisters, Melanie, Donna Fargo and the soundtrack for 'The Great Gatsby.'

Varied Spring LP's Via London

NEW YORK — "The fourteen album spring releases by London Records exemplifies the company's diversification into all areas of music," according to Herb Goldfarb, vice president of sales and marketing.

Topping off the list is Savoy Brown's "Boogie Brothers," which marks the debut of the new Savoy Brown band featuring Stan Webb, formerly with Chicken Shack; Miller Anderson, formerly with Keef Hartley Band; and group originator Kim Simmonds. Rounding out the band will be Jimmy Leverton and Eric Dillon.

Other releases include Erroll Garner's second LP for the label, "Magician," Wolf's debut American LP entitled "Wolf," and Thin Lizzy's second LP for London, "Vagabond Of The Western World." The group, which originated from Ireland is currently one of Britain's top selling artists and has been receiving advance FM airplay as a British import, Goldfarb said. Also scheduled for release are new albums by Orphan and Engelbert Humperdinck.

London's Phase Four Stereo releases include Stanley Black's "Spirit Of A

People" and a Stokowski program consisting of six albums by the maestro, highlighted by Bach Transcriptions, Tchaikovsky, Debussy, Mussorgsky, Russian and Ballet Fantasias. Phase Four is also delivering "Larcange Plays Legrand," Larcange on accordion with The London Festival Orchestra and Chorus conducted by Roland Shaw backing him.

Hotlanta LP Debut By Lewis

ATLANTA — Jimmy Lewis, who wrote and recorded a complete album's worth of material with Ray Charles is releasing his solo debut LP on GRC's Hotlanta label. Lewis, a writer/performer who began his career as lead vocalist of the original Drifters, has had his tunes recorded by artists Z.Z. Hill, Johnny Taylor, Rita Coolidge, Leon Haywood, and Ray Charles. His new album, "Totally Involved," features Lewis' new single release, "Is That Any Way To Treat A Lady."

General Recording Corporation (GRC) has readied an extensive marketing campaign backing Lewis' LP. The promotion includes a 150-city tour to major r&b and radio stations in over 30 market areas.

Specially designed promotional items such as "Get The Feeling" T-shirts and four-color poster reprints of the Lewis' album cover will be made available to shops and distributors.

GRC President, Michael Thevis, announced that a four-color pictorial display panel has been constructed to display Lewis' "Totally Involved" LP in retail shows. On Apr. 30, Lewis begins a 12-city promotional visit to radio and TV personalities. Lewis arranged, produced, and wrote "Totally Involved."

New Rivers LP Via Atlantic

NEW YORK — Johnny Rivers' new album, "Road," his first for Atlantic Records and featuring the current Rivers single, "Sittin' in Limbo," has been released by the label.

The LP, produced by Rivers and Bob Montgomery, was recorded in Nashville, Tenn., and Muscle Shoals, Ala. They were the singer's first sessions there.

He's backed by musicians currently accompanying Rivers on his tenth anniversary tour, a cross-country series of concerts scheduled into May.

Among songs on the album is "Artists and Poets," written by Rivers and Michael Georgiades, which is dedicated to Jim Croce, Gram Parsons and Bobby Darin. There's also a Jimmy Webb song, "See You Then," "I Like Your Music" by Sonny Curtis, "Geronimo's Cadillac" by Michael Murphy and Charles John Quarto and "Six Days on the Road" by Carl Montgomery and Earl Greene.

UA Offers May Album Release

LOS ANGELES — United Artists Records May album release, will be highlighted by new albums from Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band and Ferrante and Teicher, as part of Ferrante and Teicher Month at the company.

May has been designated Ferrante and Teicher Month at United Artists, and the company plans a major marketing campaign centering around the forthcoming Ferrante & Teicher album, "In a Soulful Mood," as well as major pushes on the rest of the UA Ferrante and Teicher catalogue.

The company also plans an extensive marketing, advertising and publicity campaign on their Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys album, "For the Last Time." The album of newly recorded material was being recorded when Wills, one of the pioneers of country music, was hospitalized. United Artists plans to treat the album as an historical document, and plans are underway to present the album to the Library of Congress at a special ceremony.

UA's Nitty Gritty Dirt Band will be represented by "Stars and Stripes Forever and Ever and Ever" . . . recorded part live and part in the studio, combined to form a collage of Nitty Gritty Dirt Band performances. An extensive advertising and marketing campaign is being instituted, the first manifestation of which was a recent Nitty Gritty Dirt Band billboard over Los Angeles' Sunset Strip.

Additional albums in UA's May release include Doc and Merle Watson's "Two Days in November," Watson's first album since his Grammy award winning "Then and Now," and the second UA album from singer-songwriter Chris Darrow, "Masquerader."

Para. 'Gatsby' Party

HOLLYWOOD — Famous Music Inc. west coast division played host to a gala Gatsby Party recently with a special screening of the motion picture "The Great Gatsby" and introduction of the Paramount Records soundtrack.

The preview was presented in the studio theater of the Paramount Picture complex in Hollywood. Following the film a champagne and white roses reception was held on a specially decorated sound stage.

Some 400 members of the record retail and wholesale community of southern California were in attendance along with celebrities, Bill Atherton, who sings the title song from the film "What'll I Do", Robert Abernathy, of NBC Television and fashion authority and TV commentator Mr. Blackwell.

Director of west coast operations for Famous Music, Charlie Johnson, wanted to get the record merchants involved in the aura of international exploitation accompanying the release of the film.

"We have a marvelous soundtrack that is so much a part of the picture and we want everyone to be able to have our album. As a result of this extra emphasis on record dealers, we have arranged special displays, windows and promotions to make the public aware of the album and make it easy to find in the stores," said Johnson.

Paramount/Ember Sets Doherty Disk

NEW YORK — Paramount/Ember Records announced a rush release of "You'll Never Know," a new single by Denny Doherty, former lead singer of the Mamas and the Papas. "You'll Never Know," originally sung in a 1942 movie, "Hello Frisco Hello" and winner of the 1943 Oscar for Best Song, marks Paramount/Ember's American debut. It is also Doherty's first single release in the more than three years since the permanent parting of the Mamas and the Papas.

The Blackbyrds are coming!

PASSING REMARKS — Due, as it has been said time and time again, to circumstances beyond my control, "Rock And Roll: The Way We Were" was mysteriously missing from this column last week. Hopefully, with our new format and all, things are now back in high gear again. This week's photo should not be a mystery to fans of this mid and late Sixties supergroup whose hits were numerous. The mention of any of those songs would immediately bring the group's name to mind, so don't expect any from me now. What I will tell you, though, is that the group is still recording and that they are from American shores (although they look rather British in the photo below). Either way, this competition is #7. See if you can guess. Answer here next week

A very special lady, Ellie Greenwich, suffered the passing away of her mother last week. My sincerest, heart felt condolences go out to Ellie and her family . . . Ronnie Spector, now performing with her group as Ronnie Spector and The Ronnettes, and a major factor in the career of Ellie Greenwich, has released a new single on Buddah, "I Wish I Never Saw The Sunshine." The song is an oldie and was penned by that now-classic song writing team of Ms. Greenwich, Jeff Barry and Phil Spector. The track is a good one and is beginning to receive airplay in major markets across the country. The group is also touring with an honest desire to get back into the public spotlight. A recent appearance found them at the Continental Baths, here in New York City (the same club that was a major stepping off point for one Bette Midler). Look for an In-sight & Sound interview with Ronnie Spector, by this reporter, in the next week or so .

How's this for an unusual contract. The New Riders Of The Purple Sage have been signed by New York promoter Howard Stein to headline at the Academy of Music every Thanksgiving and Easter. Long live rock and roll? The group, by the by, will be in the studios of San Francisco throughout June recording material for their next album . . . Alan Price wrote a religious program for Thames Television in London, which was aired on Good Friday. He penned seven tunes for the program. He is also listening to offers from U.S. film makers, following his incredible "O Lucky Man" score . . . Reliable sources tell me that Stevie Wonder will be tapped to create the score for the upcoming "Klansman" flick . . . Expect new albums in May from Marvin Gaye, Stevie Wonder, the Miracles and a Diana Ross "live" collection, all from the Motown group . . . Also in May a three (that's 3) record set from Emerson, Lake & Palmer . . . Other disks of note coming upon us shortly are from Rod Stewart (entitled "Scotland, Scotland", with Paul McCartney and Elton John backing), Van Morrison (a studio job entitled "Veedon Fleece"), a new-old Dylan, on Columbia (taped with the Band "live" in England roundabouts 1966) and another Gregg Allman, unbelievably recorded during this current tour.

Would you believe that Jr. Walker has turned down an offer to join Humble Pie? Yep, he has . . . Strong rumors out of this city have Kenny Gamble, Leon Huff and Thom Bell producing the forthcoming Fifth Dimension album. If so it will be a goodie . . . Curtis Mayfield has been signed to star in the Columbia film "Mimi". Al Green, Melba

ROCK AND ROLL: THE WAY WE WERE

MID-SIXTIES SUPERGROUP AND STILL GUNNING

Moore and Lola Falana will also star. Shooting is to begin in New Orleans in July . . . New LP from Joe Walsh and Barnstorm due shortly and to be entitled "No One Can See You When You're Eyes Are Closed". Rumors that the group is disbanding have been dispelled. They've been signed for a major European tour this Summer . . . Yes will be taking a three month holiday from work before preparing and recording their follow up to "Tales From Topographic Oceans". Manager Brian Lane says the disk will not be available until at least early 1975. A Fall tour of the U.S. is being worked out now and the group is mulling offers to tour South America sometime this year. Busy, busy, busy.

Add this week's rock and rolling birthdays: Nicky Barclay (Fanny)-April 21; Peter Frampton (Humble Pie, Frampton's Camel)-April 22; David Cross (King Crimson)-April 23; Barbra Streisand-April 24; Jerry Lieber (Lieber & Stoller)-April 25; Duane Eddy, Bobby Rydell-both April 26; Pete Ham (Badfinger)-April 27. Happy days to all . . . Sometimes you just can't really understand a generation. About a year ago, it seemed that clubs were a thing of the past. The big stars just wanted to play the big halls and keep away from the 500 seaters. Audiences seemed to feel the same. But the Bottom Line, here in New York City, and the Roxy in L.A. (I guess) have been filled to capacity almost every night now with major talent. Recently here in the city, Alan Price and Billy Cobham (to name just two) packed 'em in for four and five nights respectively. Upcoming at the same club are Buffy Ste. Marie, Brewer & Shipley and NRBQ (who will be recording a "live" LP at the club). It's a nice trend, but you try to figure any of it out. Finally, my comment of the week is a positive one this time. Bravo and double bravo to ABC Entertainment and the promoters of the recent Memorial Day Jam at the Ontario Motor Speedway in California. It's the only festival I can recall where things actually went smoothly and everything was right on schedule with a minimum of hassle. Here's hoping that we in New York can do the same positive public relations job for rock music and the younger generation in the near future. Goodness knows we need it.

Queen

HOLLYWOOD — The initial American tour by Elektra recording artists, Queen, has been confirmed. Although the group, including Freddie Mercury, lead vocals, occasional keyboards; Brian May, guitar, vocals; Roger Meddows Taylor, drums, vocals; and Deacon John, bass guitar, made no personal appearances in the United States and had no "top forty" single, the album soon hit the charts and the band was named as favorites by critics and in readers polls.

picks of the week

JOEL MATHIS (Chart 5217)

Ann (2:00) (16th Ave. Music, BMI—Wes Helm)

Joel has a unique richness and smoothness to his vocal. The record has a strong arrangement with very good instrumentation and fine background voices. Song to a lady, the punch it packs is different because of a fine lyric line. Programmers will get on this one after a first listen. Flip: Glasses Of Beer (3:12) (Wiljex, ASCAP—J. Mathis)

CARLY SIMON (Elektra 45887)

Haven't Got Time For The Pain (3:25) (C'est/Maya Prod, ASCAP—C. Simon, J. Brackman)

Culled from her "Hotcakes" LP, this natural single will have no difficulty reaching Top 5 status in an easy few weeks. Carly's vocals are as bright and sensitive as ever and work this ballad perfectly. Richard Perry's usual incredible production touch adds the necessary depth and makes this one of Carly's most exciting single outings to date. One listen will make future spins well worth the time. Flip: Mind On My Man (2:57) (C'est, ASCAP—C. Simon)

CROSS COUNTRY (Atco 6932)

Rock And Roll Music (3:29) (Arc, BMI—C. Berry)

The magic that this group worked with "In The Midnight Hour" last year is again worked here on this Chuck Berry classic. Soft, acoustic beginning with heavenly harmonies lead easily into later melodic passages that intensify both musically and vocally in making this one of the better arrangements ever heard, anywhere, and a certain bet for the Top 10 should proper exposure be received. This one must be heard to be believed. Call this one "rock and roll magic." Flip: no info. available.

STEELY DAN (ABC 11439)

Rikki Don't Lose That Number (3:58) (American Broadcasting, ASCAP—W. Becker, D. Fagen)

Laid back soft rocker from the group's "Pretzel Logic" LP will be the disk to get them back into the Top 10 again. Strong accent on harmonies with keyboard and percussion dominating the musical end make for a very entertaining track that will easily score in both pop and MOR markets. A number definitely worth watching. Flip: no info. available.

CLINT HOLMES (Atco 6958)

Goodbye Maria (2:55) (Vanlee, ASCAP—P.J. Vance, L. Pockriss)

Maria seems to be one of the more popular names in song and this tune continues that tradition in fine style. In his first for the label, Clint comes through powerfully with a Spanish flavored pop outing certain to give him his first big one since "Playground In My Mind." Musically, the horns add the necessary South of the Border flavor and accent his fine vocals. Hello hitbound! Flip: no info. available.

RON PRICE (Bang 707)

(I Think You Better) Think About Forgetting Me (3:07) (Web IV, BMI—R. Price)

Very talented newcomer debuts with this sensitive ballad that features excellent production and a very strong vocal performance by the artist. In fact, if you listen closely, see if you, too, can hear the strains of, say, Bread when they were still recording. A superior ballad and one that proves that this Price is right and should be around for some time to come. With a good enough label push, this one should have no difficulty landing in the Top 40. Flip: Things You Do (2:38) (Credits Same As Above)

BRIAN HOLLAND (Invictus 1265)

I'm So Glad (Part 1) (Gold Forever, BMI—B. Holland)

As one third of the Holland-Dozier-Holland team that put Detroit on the musical map in the '60's, Brian had it all made before he ever put his own voice on a disk. Well, now that he has, the sounds emanating from him are simply incredible and as funky as can be. This disk is one of the best pop-r&b tunes to come 'round in some time. Perfect arrangement complements Brian's vocals and makes him a definite for superstar-to-be. He's not the only one who'll be happy, either. Flip: no info. available.

TAVARES (Capitol 3882)

Too Late (3:30) (ABC—Dunhill—One Of A Kind, BMI—D. Lambert, B. Potter)

Tavarez get down and funky again and naturally, considering the group's recent successes, chartbound in short order. Production by Lambert and Potter perfectly captures the group's great vocal quality. This r&b pop rocker should be the group's biggest yet and finally establish them across the board, where they should be. Flip: Leave It Up To The Lady (3:29) (Credits Same As Above)

GOLDEN EARRING (MCA/Track 40202)

Radar Love (2:53) (Larry Shayne, ASCAP—G. Kooymans, B. Hay)

European supergroup debuts Stateside with this first single from their super "Moontan" LP, both of which are certain to make loads of noise in the coming weeks. Rock and roll is the order of the day here (with a hook guaranteed to knock out even the subtlest of ears) and the group performs the task perfectly. Lots of guitar and drums have just got to put this one on the charts shortly. Set sights on a long, successful future for Golden Earring. This is only the beginning, too. Flip: no info. available.

PAUL WILLIAMS (A&M 1525)

That's What Friends Are For (3:17) (Almo, ASCAP—P. Williams)

Paul's distinctive vocals along with his own incredible tune make for a strong chart-bound item here that won't miss once the exposure gets going. Pop and MOR markets will flock to this disk after just a spin or two, as will listeners upon the same couple of plays. Great, sensitive arrangement adds to the overall mood. Truly a super disk with a performance to match. Flip: no info. available.

MANDRILL (Polydor 14235)

Positive Thing (3:15) (Intersong/Mandrill, ASCAP—C. Wilson, L. Wilson, R. Wilson, C. Cave)

Funky, feverish outing from Mandrill is sure to become a disco favorite in the coming months. Possessing all of the drive of, say, "Jungle Boogie," there's just no way that this one will miss on the r&b charts with some pop action following right behind. Probably the most positive thing from Mandrill since their inception. Check it out. Flip: no info. available.

MELANIE (Neighborhood 4214)

Love to Lose Again (2:58) (Neighborhood, ASCAP—M. Safka)

Lively up tempo piece from Melanie will again attract that large following that gathered for her previous hits. In a bit of a departure from the lady, the almost Irish melody with fine backing music and a very full chorale makes for one of her more "up" tunes since "Brand New Key". No loser here, and the lovely lady will seemingly be winning for some time to come, especially with the likes of this one. Flip: no info. available.

JIMMY LEWIS (Hotlanta 301)

Is That Any Way To Treat A Lady (4:04) (Act One, BMI—J. Lewis)

Bubbling up from down Atlanta way is this super cooking, r&b tune with super crossover potential that will almost automatically establish this fine new artist in both circles. Every component necessary for a hit recipe is here and one listen will convince any ear, and get the feet up and dancing. May not be the proper way to treat a lady, but this is definitely the right way to go hitbound in an instant. Flip: no info. available.

POP STAPLES (Stax 0213)

Whicha Way Did It Go (3:10) (East/Memphis/Staples, BMI—M. Rice, R. Staples)

Pop's first solo outing is a very funky pop rocker that might just take him to the very top of both pop and r&b charts. The highlight here is Pop's vocals and the great horn section to accent throughout. No disputing the way that this one is going. Pop Staples proves, without doubt, that he is the funkiest daddy of them all. Flip: no info. available.

DENNY DOHERTY (Paramount/Ember 0286)

You'll Never Know (2:50) (Bregman, Vecco & Conn, ASCAP—Gordon, Warren)

Former Papa (from the Mamas & The Papas) Denny has waited some time to fully realize his solo career, but it seems the wait was well worth it. His vocals are excellent and carry this standard easily in true contemporary form. Fine musical arrangement aids in the overall effectiveness. If this disk is any indication, his forthcoming solo LP will be an absolute treat. Discover this disk, and you, too, will know what good really is. Flip: no info. available.

THE NEW YORK DOLLS (Mercury 73478)

Stranded In The Jungle (3:46) (Peer Int'l/Shag, BMI—E. Smith, J. Johanson)

In this day and age of revitalized oldies, this combination of song and artist seems perfect for the times. Updated to capture a truly contemporary feel, the Dolls deliver as never before, guided this time by the able wing of veteran producer Shadow Morton. Should be the group's first big chart winner, and considering the time spent on publicity, it's about time this rocking and rolling organization got off the ground. Flip: Who Are The Mystery Girls? (3:08) (Seldak/Haverstraw, ASCAP—Johansen, Thunders)

LYNYRD SKYNYRD (MCA/Sounds Of The South 40231)

Don't Ask Me No Questions (3:27) (Duchess, BMI—Rossington, Van Zant)

Groups debut last year was incredibly successful, even without the help of a hit single. This first one culled from their latest "Second Helping" LP just might be that first 45 smash. Strong Southern rock and roll is the case and these guys do it right every time. There's even a hint of the Allmans. Check this out. Lynyrd Skynyrd will do it to you, unquestionably. Flip: no info. available.

OHIO PLAYERS (Mercury 73480)

Jive Turkey (Part 1) (3:05) (Ohio Players/Unichappell, BMI—J. Williams, G. Satchell, L. Bonner, M. Jones, R. Middlebrooks, M. Pierce)

For some reason, "turkeys" seem to be "in" in songs this year, and this one captures its title perfectly for it is the "jivest" of all. A true funky delight. Discos will absolutely go all out for this one as will most r&b stations and those pop markets that care about their audiences being completely entertained. No way this one can miss. Flip: no info. available.

BOTTOM & COMPANY (Motown 1291F)

You're My Life (2:59) (Short Bone/Bottom & Co., BMI—J. Boyce)

Bright r&b outing with strong pop crossover potential is this debut disk from Bottom & Co. Strong lead vocals fronting a strong pop arrangement, complete with strings, should establish these artists in the coming months. Bottom & Company may be a misnomer. Call this group the top (or at least about to get there). Flip: no info. available.

MAXINE WELDON (Monument ZS 78606)

Looking For The Answer (3:18) (Senor Music, ASCAP—T. Webster)

PD's "Looking for the Answer" to finding 1974's playlist answer to "Killing Me Softly," can't afford to ignore both the artist and the tune here. Look only to this record. Flip: No info. available.

FANNY'S ON TOP—Fanny, top rock group out of Los Angeles, has signed with Neil Bogart's Casablanca Records in Hollywood, and will have their first single out in April following three weeks in the studio. Record was produced by Vinnie Poncia for Richard Perry Music Productions. Warner Records will distribute.

LOS ANGELES — KFI Los Angeles recently donated a collection of approximately 17,000 78 rpm phonograph records to the John Edwards Memorial Foundation of the University of Southern California.

The collection of recordings dates from the 30's and consists of many of the all-time great records of Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman, Duke Ellington, Count Basie, and many others including many rare collectors' items. It is perhaps the largest collection of old 78's of any radio station in the country.

The John Edwards Memorial Foundation, Inc., is a chartered educational non-profit corporation to further the serious study and preservation of American "folk" music. The organization was originally devoted to "country" music, but has since expanded its interest to encompass all music of American origins.

Part of the work of the foundation is to maintain a library of recordings and related materials of which the KFI collection will be a part. In donating this collection, KFI music director Rudy Maugeri said, "Now these valuable records will be available to many people for listening and studying, yet still be available to KFI for special programming needs."

The hit single "Best Thing That Ever Happened To Me" has now sold in excess of one million copies. It is the third gold single taken from Gladys Knight & The Pips' debut Buddah album, "Imagination." Certified gold several months ago, "Imagination" has now sold in excess of one million units.

Stated Art Kass, president of The Buddah Group, "Four gold records in one year is a remarkable accomplishment in itself, especially in that the gold records are all related to a single album. But their second album, the just-released soundtrack "Claudine," has — in advance of the opening of the film — already sold approximately 400,000 units. The movie will have its world premiere in New York City on April 22nd, with openings all around the country in the following weeks. And, we are confident that even-

LIVE 'N' KICKIN'—West, Bruce & Laing—Columbia Windfall KC 32899

For all fans of hard rock this new West, Bruce & Laing collection is a definitive set, one that features the flexible trio performing four lengthy but substantive tunes ranging from an interesting treatment of Jagger & Richard's "Play With Fire" to the Cream standard, "Politician." The other songs, "The Doctor" and "Powerhouse Sod" are blends of individual brilliance and professional teamwork and both are originals by the group. In each case, the band presents itself with the poise that's the earmark of any successful group. We look for this LP to do very well.

SEVEN—Poco—Epic KE 32895

Pure excitement is as good a way as any to describe Poco's seventh album, one that's been eagerly expected since their last, "Crazy Eyes," was one of the best received LP's of 1973. The typical Poco flavor is here in abundance with only the tunes' new titles to remind you that this is not in fact "Crazy Eyes." Paul Cotton, George Grantham, Tim Schmit, and Rusty Young have distinguished themselves time and again with superlative country rock and once you've heard "Rocky Mountain Breakdown," you'll sense that their hearts are still in the country. An excellent effort.

WHIRLWINDS—Deodato—MCA-410

Since his number 1 million seller, "Also Sprach Zarathustra (2001)," Deodato has come from being a well known session man to one of the biggest names in the performing industry and his debut MCA album gives him the impetus to go even further toward establishing himself as a household name. The six selections on the LP are all wondrous adventures into the realm of moods and textures that only Deodato seems capable of rendering in a captivating way. His own composition, "Havana Strut" is great, but his version of "Moonlight Serenade" is incomparable.

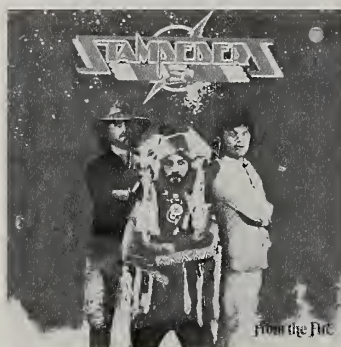

DREAM KID—Sutherland Brothers and Quiver—Island SW-9341

The Sutherlands and Quiver gained instant recognition with their hit single, "You Got Me Anyway" and through the exposure they got opening for Elton John on his 45 city tour last fall, so the timing for this, their second LP, is perfect. There are several potential singles on the album including the knockout title track and "I Hear Thunder," but this is not surprising since the sextet has mastered the elusive but essential qualities of arrangement and dynamics which are the major criteria (talent aside) for hits. We like "Maker" and "You and Me" a great deal.

QUEEN II—Queen—Elektra EKS-75082

Queen's debut LP was excellent and the group's second shows even more promise. Very reminiscent of Yes in spots, Queen nonetheless has established an identity of its own that's entirely captivating. "Procession," "The Loser In The End," "Ogre Battle," "The Seven Seas of Rhye," and "The Fairy Feller's Master Stroke" are incredible departures into a musical world the group has created out of the vast reservoir of talent and imagination that has distinguished Queen's work. With their music improving steadily, Queen definitely has a bright future to look forward to.

FROM THE FIRE—Stampede—Capitol ST-11288

Canadian groups have really developed into something special. With the successes of the likes of Joni Mitchell, Bachman-Turner Overdrive, and the Guess Who, the path to the top has no longer become an impossible goal and it looks like the Stampede are a shoe-in to follow in those illustrious footsteps. The Stampede are exciting, vibrant, and record-wise, qualities which take years to acquire. Listen to "Manitou," "Rocky Mountain Home," "Running Wild," and "Chariots of the Gods" and you'll see that potential is the steppingstone the Stampede will use to go all the way.

ARCHETYPES—Billie Holiday—MGM M3F-4948

Highlighting a five record MGM series which also features the work of the Blues Project, Tim Hardin, Allen Ginzburg, and the Velvet Underground, this album of Billie Holiday's greatest renderings is one of the most touching we've heard this year. Backed by a narration of her life by Gilbert Millstein, the LP traces through story and song one of the most fiery careers in music history. Cuts included on this special package include "Lady Sings The Blues," "I'll Be Seeing You," "My Man," and "I Cover the Waterfront." A poignant and significant album worth getting.

INSIDE THUNDER OUTSIDE LAUGHING—Jim Sullins—20th Century T-438

The title of Jim's 20th Century LP is very appropriate considering the wealth of obvious and subtle talent contained within the singer/songwriter's brilliant original material. There is an attendant sensitivity to Jim's ballads that reflects a deep emotional involvement with life and love and it is this quality which adds a great deal to the overall feel of the album. "Abel McCabe," "Country Mornin' Woman," "You Got Love," "Bengie," and especially "Suzie, Softly I Love You" are exemplary of Jim's inescapably emotive presence, one that will take him far.

newcomer picks

LOVING & FREE—KiKi Dee—Rocket MCA-395

Stepping out in fine fashion, Kiki Dee tosses her Easter bonnet into the music ring with this stunning LP, her MCA debut produced by Elton John and Clive Franks. It must be comforting for Kiki to have the services of Elton and his band on virtually every cut, but it's also a great tribute to her that she shines through their excellent musicianship, thereby inexorably controlling her own musical destiny. Our favorite cuts are "Sugar on the Floor," "Supercool," "Travellin' In Style," and the beautiful title track. Kiki's put it all together here and we wish her well.

KEN LYON & TOMBSTONE—Ken Lyon & Tombstone—Columbia KC 32910

This fine octet has a lot to be optimistic about with the release of the group's Columbia debut LP, one that contains everything from rock'n'roll to smooth ballad. Particularly effective are "Goin' Down (Hallelujah)," "Hold Me Closer," "My Baby's So Evil," "Show Me The Way To Go Home," and "Take a Lesson From The Children." Each song the group gets into takes a different and highly provocative turn, a sign that the band has become adept at dealing with the tricky arrangement and production elements which make or break a record. Looks like the group has its collective feet on the ground.

ROSS—Ross—RSO SO 878

Alan Ross, founder and member after whom this fine group has taken its name, must be extremely pleased with the band's RSO debut LP, one that packs a world of power into just ten tunes. Any group who can master the studio as well as Ross has on this first effort obviously has a bright future ahead of it and this prospectus is underscored by the music itself. Particularly effective are "Alright By Me," "Leave It All Behind You," "Help Me Understand," "I Need Your Love," and "You're Looking Down a Road," all of which show a flair for rock theatrics that make for compulsive listening.

INTO THE SUN—Sunship—Capitol ST-11295

The Sunship has taken off with this debut LP, one that encompasses a variety of textures and moods as it explores the many dimensions of this fine group. Starting with "The Magician" the LP glows like a tracer bullet rocketing off into the night. The comparison to Chicago is not unlikely, but Sunship has an extra helping of unique character that gives one the impression this group is capable of something exciting. Particularly effective are "Ocean Song," "Into The Sun," "I Feel Like I Love Her," and "Whip For a Blues Lick," each of which is distinctive and fresh.

COUNTRY ARTIST OF THE WEEK

MOE BANDY

"He's Just Started —" Moe Bandy has a hit titled "I Just Started Hatin' Cheatin' Songs Today", and Moe Bandy hasn't been recording very long. In 1972 he met Ray Baker of Blue Crest Music who produced a session on him out of which came two records that did well. They were titled "Hangin' On to One (Hangin' Round The Other)" and "Sweet Memory." Then, Moe and Ray did his current hit about Cheatin' Songs.

Moe Bandy was born in Mississippi but has lived in Texas most of his life. His parents own and operate a rodeo arena but Moe has always had a band, the first being known as "Moe Bandy and the Mavericks."

Moe has now signed with GRC (General Recording Corp.) and is booked by Ronnie Spillman of San Antonio.

Granite Promo For Fraser

LOS ANGELES, CA. — ATV Music Group's West Coast-based Granite Records has set a major promotional push for singer-songwriter Ron Fraser concurrent with the release of his second single for the label.

The single, set to be released April 15, is "San Susanna Lullabye" and is written by Fraser. The track is from a forthcoming LP produced by Cliffie Stone at Hollywood's Devonshire Sound.

A performance tour schedule is now being prepared by ATV, according to Corky Mayberry, Granite's general manager.

In conjunction with the promotional push, ATV Music — the publisher of Fraser's songs — continues to place his material through their offices in Los Angeles, New York and Nashville.

Recent song placings for Fraser material include recordings by Olivia Newton-John and Jack Greene.

Levine has written jingles for Coca-Cola, Ford, and Budweiser Beer. He has also been the staff arranger at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, and has arranged for musical television shows on the west coast, including Glen Campbell, Judy Garland, Dean Martin, and Carol Burnett.

CONWAY TWITTY (MCA 40224)

I'm Not Through Loving You Yet (2:36) (Twitty Bird, BMI—Conway Twitty—L.E. White)

A ballad that truly cries from the heart, Conway fills the song with heart-felt emotion that speaks from the reality of experience. His vocal smoothness is great and the instrumentation compliments his vocal. The steel guitar and subtle beat combined with the background voices will see this hitting the top in no time. Flip: Before Your Time (2:37) (Twitty Bird, BMI—Conway Twitty—Tommy Markham)

FREDDY WELLER (Columbia 4-46040)

Sexy Lady (2:15) (Roadmaster, BMI—F. Weller)

A bright sparkling up-tempo delight that's sure fire. Freddy's vocal is expressive and smooth. The segues are par excellence and there is some excellent steel guitar that heightens the entire song. Background vocals augment this fine tune, and programmers should add it upon the initial listening which is infectious. Flip: No info. available.

JEANNIE SEELY (MCA 40225)

I Miss You (2:05) (Tree, BMI—Hank Cochran—Cliff Cochran)

A very simple and easy ballad there is Jeannie's wonderfully warm and appealing vocal complimented by some very lush instrumentation. The title is axiomatic and the song is a restatement of the obvious that moves the listener with Jeannie's sincerity and richness. Flip: No info. available.

DICK CURLESS (Capitol 3879)

A Brand New Bed Of Roses (2:40) (Jack O'Diamonds, BMI—Alex Zanetis)

As easy paced ballad, Dick's richness of the lower register is truly smooth and full bodied. A mellow tune, Dick is looking for a brand new bed of roses which in essence is a metaphor for a love that stands the test of time. Clean arrangement is augmented by background voices that sound choral in nature. Should pick up. Flip: No info. available.

RED SIMPSON (Capitol 3872)

Honky Tonk Lady's Lover Man (2:35) (Criterion, ASCAP—Mitch Johnson)

As the title suggests, Red's new song is a definite novelty tune that is interspersed with narrative and song that paints some very vivid pictures with the lyric. Red's mellow voice and the honky tonk piano and trumpet really make the record something you won't forget, and something the playlists will be picking up on first listening. Flip: No info. available.

JIMMY DEAN (Columbia 4-46039)

I've Been Down Some Roads (2:47) (Tree, BMI—J. Allen)

An easy paced ballad features the inimitable richness of the truly unmistakable Jimmy Dean style. A symbolic and profound lyrical message Jimmy's been down some roads. A very powerful arrangement accompanies Jimmy's voice with superb background harmonies adding to the overall magic of this record. Watch this one, move. Flip: No info. available.

BOBBY G. RICE (GRT 001)

She Sure Laid The Lonelies On Me (2:30) (Uncle Ben's, Americus, ASCAP—Rice—Rice—Fields)

A most sensitive and tender ballad backed by haunting steel guitar, Bobby sings a heart rending lament because his woman dumped him and he can't handle the lonelies she laid on him. Vocal power rich and full, and some fine piano augments the vocal. This record will be a chart topper and programmers will pick it up at once. Flip: Crystal Chandeliers (2:50) (Harbot, SESAC—Ted Harris)

MEL STREET (GRT 002)

You Make Me Feel More Like A Man (3:09) (Prater, ASCAP—John Riggs)

A genuinely heartwarming ballad, Mel's sweet vocal is complimented by some very adept steel guitar. A song to a woman about his love for her, it is he she that makes him feel more like a man than his other woman. Background vocals and excellent instrumentation make this a definite chart item in no time. Flip: Green River (2:50) (Jondora, BMI—John Fogerty)

VICKI FLETCHER (Columbia 4-46043)

Touching Me, Touching You (3:08) (Al Gallico/Algee, BMI—B. Sherrill—G. Richey—C. Taylor)

A hauntingly tender ballad, Vicki's gloriously smooth vocal is finely complimented by the lush string arrangement of Bergen White and the expertise of a Billy Sherrill production. Vicki knows that she'll be coming back again. Back with another hit after this one gets all the responsive excitement that it should. Flip: No info. available.

THE HUMMERS (Capitol 3870)

Julianna (3:00) (Willber/Crokagator, ASCAP—J. Cellura—A. Schwartz)

A really up-tempo beautiful song, the harmony of the Hummers is richly melodious and balances perfectly. A great arrangement incorporates some great steel and the vocal power is just smashing! A song to Julianna is a song to all for once you hear it you'll never want to stop. Some very definite action can be expected from this one. Flip: No info. available.

GARY MEISTER (BASF 15343)

Neon Lady (2:35) (Famous, BMI—S. K. Dobbins)

With an infectious rhymling bounce and Gary's refreshing voice in such a jaded musical world, the record has a wealth of potential. The lyric is excellent and the instrumentation has just enough punch to highlight the lyric and vocal. A great record. Listen and do yourself a favor. Flip: Now I'm Gone (2:59) (Critique, BMI—Gary Meister)

GRANDPA JONES (Monument 8599)

Nashville On My Mind (2:14) (Music City, ASCAP—Arthur Hancock III)

An up-tempo cooker, it has all the punch of a bluegrass mover. The recipe is part banjo, steel and Grandpa's inimitable vocal style and together it makes for some very fine up-tempo music. The record has an instant appeal and programmers should get on this one immediately. Flip: No info. available.

IS IT WRONG—Sonny James—Columbia 32805

A marvelous album, it solely typifies the image of the Southern Gentleman with an excellent selection of material that marks Sonny a vocalist par excellence, who is able to impart a depth and unprecedented sensitivity to his lyrical message that comes across with an instant appeal that so many artists are void of. Whether it be a ballad like the title track or perhaps "Abilene" the essence of Sonny is always there. The material primarily consists of ballads that are brilliant in composition and arrangement and full of Sonny's quality. Included in the LP are: "Just Don't Stop Lovin' Me," "You're Free To Go," "Nobody's Darling But Mine," "She's Almost An Angel," and "Right Or Wrong."

HANG IN THERE GIRL—Freddie Hart—Capitol 11296

Freddie has always been one of the most vital performers on the country scene. A rejuvenating force that always offers a new song with a sparkling freshness that so much of today's music is sorely lacking. The title track is a moving and tender ballad. "Phoenix City" is an up-tempo ditty that will at once captivate you with its infectious rhythm. "Thanks But No Thanks" is a warm ballad that tugs on your heart strings. An interesting adaptation of the Olivia Newton John hit "Let Me Be There," is given new life and brightness. Also included in this great package are "A Little Bit Of Heaven," "Apologize," and "Whatever Turns You On."

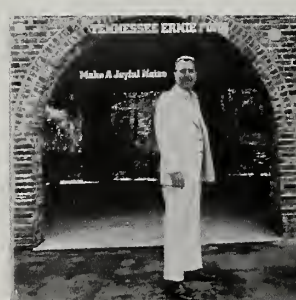

SWEET MEMORIES—Sue Thompson—Hickory 4511

An enchanting songstress, Sue is a bright talent that sparkles brighter with each passing melody that she sings. An innovative stylist Sue's vocal is at once recognizable and clear as it creates the beauty of the songs she so beautifully interprets. Her untold classic sincerity and her ability to carry a lyrical line whether it be the up-tempo ditties or the laid-back lullabye like ballad qualities, Sue's enchanting vocal is something that will knock you off your feet. Included in this stunning package of treats are "How I Love Them Old Songs," "What A Woman In Love Won't Do," "Norman," and "Find Out."

WAKE ME INTO LOVE—Bud Logan & Wilma Burgess—Shannon 1002

One of the brightest of the country duos to come along in a long time, Bud and Wilma offer their music a superb blend of harmonic expression that is sweet and melodious and unparalleled in their particular genre. The album contains an excellent selection of material that starts with the title track and features the Tammy and George "We're Gonna Hold On," and Tom T. Hall's "I Love." The musicians are truly skilled with such fine guitarists as Leo Jackson, Dave Kirby, Leon Rhodes and Jack Eubanks. Other musicians include Bob Dean, Stu Basore, and Bunky Keels with fine strings by Spicher. The LP is a must and will get a strong reaction.

MAKE A JOYFUL NOISE—Tennessee Ernie Ford—Capitol 11290

These are songs of praise and thanksgiving. Interestingly enough songs of this genre at one time only pertained to a particular audience or was relegated to a certain genre. But when Ernie Ford presents this material in his resonant bass voice that fills his music with the beauty of the message it becomes something really special that has completely new life and love for music and humanity. It takes the talents of Ernie to bring such songs as "I Find No Fault In Him," "May I Introduce You To A Friend," "I Wish We'd All Been Ready," "Reach Out To Jesus," "Alleluia," and "It Won't Be Long," to really come alive.

CROSS COUNTRY COWBOY—Buzz Rabin—Elektra 75076

Buzz Rabin is a cross country cowboy and he sings from experience. His music carries with it a freshness and a sparkling approach to a music scene that so often becomes jaded due to over production of poor quality music. But there are always some redeeming assets that crop up to give the scene saving grace. Such is Buzz whose LP is really fine. "Roads And Other Reasons" has a flash beginning that segues into an easy paced ballad and the transition is something special. Recommended cuts on this LP include "There's A Jekyll Under Everybody's Hyde," "I Believe In An Old Fashioned Jesus," "Death Of A Derelict," "The Drifter," and the very excellent "Beaucoups Of Blues."

ABC To Air 'California Jam' Over Four Spring 'In Concert' Specials

NEW YORK — "California Jam," the concert which featured a 12-hour performance by eight rock acts, will be presented in four "In Concert" programs on the ABC television network's "ABC Wide World of Entertainment" series on Friday nights (11:30 p.m.-1:00 a.m., EDT), MAY 10, MAY 24, JUNE 7 and JUNE 21. The announcement was made by Martin Starger, president of ABC Entertainment.

Rare Earth, Earth, Wind & Fire, Eagles, Seals & Crofts, Black Oak Arkansas, Black Sabbath, Deep Purple, and Emerson, Lake & Palmer were the acts assembled by ABC Entertainment in its first venture into live concerts. The event, taped at Ontario, California, on April 6, set new records in live entertainment, attracting an estimated 170,000 to 200,000 people, the largest paying crowd ever recorded; encountering the least trouble for a rock concert, and establishing the greatest financial success.

Special lighting effects, an aerial fireworks show, skywriting, aerial balloonists, sky-divers trailing colored smoke bombs, and a grand finale marked by a fireworks display and the ascent of a seven-story high hot air aerial balloon, were the added effects which set the

Response to NAPRA 'Get Off' Album Has Int'l Flavoring

HOLLYWOOD — Requests for the first "Get Off" LP compiled by the National Association of Progressive Radio Announcers have flooded in from radio stations across the country, and from points as distant as New Zealand, Sweden and Kwajalein, M.I. The LP, featuring radio-tailored spots by rock stars expounding on the pitfalls of hard-drug usage, has drawn praise from senators, congressmen and various local political officials.

In addition to the "Get Off" LP, television spots have been prepared featuring such pop luminaries as Stevie Wonder, Seals and Crofts, Loggins and Messina, Ravi Shankar, Steve Miller, The Staple Singers, Gladys Knight and others. Several have been aired on NBC's "Midnight Special" and ABC's "In Concert" series, with all air-time being donated by the networks. The T.V. spots will also be aired as a part of programming on the "Don Kirschner's Rock Concert" syndicated series.

background for the performers.

Precedent-setting in its acoustics, the concert was performed before four 60-foot towers of sound amplifiers. As with all "In Concert" programs, the four shows will be simulcast by ABC FM stations across the country as well as by other FM and some AM stations, providing the best stereophonic sound technically available.

Bob Shanks, vice president, late-night programs, was in charge of the event for ABC Entertainment, with Sandy Feldman, director of business affairs, ABC Entertainment, supervising talent and site relations.

Jorn Winther produced the taping of the "In Concert" series. Joshua White was the director. Imero Fiorentino Associates were production consultants for the live event.

Ray Charles Subject Of WNEW-AM Contest

NEW YORK — In honor of Ray Charles' first New York appearance in 6 years at the Waldorf-Astoria's Empire Room April 29 through May 11, New York radio stations WNEW-AM, WBLS and 12-B have created contests to be aired beginning April 22. Winners will be the artist's guest for dinner and the show at the world famous Empire Room.

In addition, WNEW will begin airing television spots featuring air personality Ted Brown advertising the station's contest.

Ray Stevens To Emcee Poe's Pop Music Convention

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Bobby Poe of Pop Music Survey reports that Ray Stevens will be the emcee for his upcoming Radio/Record Seminar/Awards banquet on June 6-8, at Reston, Va. Stevens, currently riding a smash with "The Streak" on the Barnaby label, has his own TV show on NBC, produced by Andy Williams.

delivering the anti-hard drug message has been considered particularly effective. According to NAPRA president Jim Ladd, "The largest progressive group is 18-34, and are developing as incredible consumers of everything, including, unfortunately, hard drugs in some cases. They've been raised on television and are highly skeptical of hype and don't trust government a whole lot. The only way to reach them is with truthful ideas presented in an interesting way." NAPRA national secretary Jerry Longden estimated the "progressive" radio audience at thirty million daily.

Approximately 1200 radio stations, including progressives, colleges and other formats, have requested the "Get Off" LP. About 3000 discs have been distributed since the first release in October, 1972. The second pressing was made in early April.

The second "Get Off" LP is now in preparation and should be released sometime this summer.

The Ontario Jam

'Speak Easy' Tapes E,L,P For 1st Show

HOLLYWOOD — Emerson, Lake & Palmer were featured guests for the first taping of the new nationally syndicated TV show, "Speak Easy," hosted by Chip Monck. First show was taped on Sun. Apr. 7th, the day after Emerson, Lake & Palmer earned a half million dollars as headliners for The California Jam held in Ontario, California. Chip Monck, "Speak Easy's" host, has been hailed as lighting and production innovator for such festivals as Woodstock, Monterrey, Newport and the concert for Bangladesh.

Don Mischer, whose TV credits include "The Great American Dream Machine" and upcoming TV Special featuring the Eagles, Linda Ronstadt and Jackson Browne has been signed as director for the show. Michael White is producer and Sandy Gibson is booking all shows for "Speak Easy" and will handle all talent coordination. The show is syndicated by J. Walter Thompson and has been sold in over 100 top markets.

'Your Hit Parade' On CBS Summer TV

HOLLYWOOD — "Your Hit Parade," America's longest-running and most popular show until 1959, will return to network television after a fifteen year hiatus. Producer Chuck Barris ("The Dating Game", "The Newlywed Game", "Treasure Hunt") has sold the show to CBS Television, where it will air on the network as a summer replacement, beginning late July.

"Your Hit Parade", a national favorite on radio and television for 28 years, made stars of Snooky Lanson, Giselle McKenzie and Dorothy Collins — Barris soon begins a talent search to locate a trio of singers, two femme and one male, to be regulars on the weekly show. The producers, who purchased rights for the perennial favorite from American Brands Corp. (parent corp. of American Tobacco Company), plans the major portion of each show to be a nostalgic recreation of the hit songs of one week in the past, with a short nod to today's music, featuring the same song and artist who made current disc hit.

DROPPING IN — Ringo makes a surprise appearance on the "Flo & Eddie Show" Easter Sunday in Los Angeles. Flo (Mark Volman) stands by, open mouthed in disbelief. Ringo, Keith Moon of the Who and Rodney Bingenheimer and the Rodneyettes joined them in the tenth anniversary show.

The Carpenters

WESTBURY MUSIC FAIR, LI — The cozy, low-key appeal of the Carpenters on disk is charmingly translated to the stage. As befits an act with 14 gold record singles and albums, their stage appearance is a virtual rundown of those successes. For the better part of the evening and showing the better vocal part of Karen, she wanders around the rotating Westbury Music Fair stage with a vocal skill that is somewhat lost when she takes to the drums. Aside from the extensive hit medley, there's a oldies-but-goodies turn involving a Top 40 deejay format. Having won greater respect from one viewer for her vocal skill, Karen should be dipping back even further in pop history for some of the great Tin Pan Alley and showtune numbers. Whatever, with Richard Carpenter supplying electric keyboard and vocal expertise and a rhythm section that often displays a keen hard-rock sense, the A&M hitsters are a winning combination. Opening the show is the comedy-music act of Skiles & Henderson, who prove that you don't have to be "blue-ish" to win over an audience these days. Carpenter tour regulars, they are an imaginative delight.

Captain Beefheart

TOWN HALL, NYC — Captain Beefheart rarely visits the big apple, but when he does his die-hard fans come from miles around to participate in the one-time avant garde genius' antics. I say one-time because the Capt. (nee Don Van Vliet) has put together a new band to go with the more commercial image he is seeking in an attempt to reach a wider audience. His new group, put together two days before he opened his tour in L.A. to promote his current Mercury LP, "Unconditionally Guaranteed," did a splendid job keeping pace with Don's brand of mystical music as well as disporting themselves in fine fashion while playing songs off the LP, which they had no part in recording. For Don and band, the evening had to be considered as a triumph. After encountering static from Beefheart fans who didn't have the open minds to listen to his new music, he engaged in a two hour question-answer dialog with fans after the show. We don't know of any performer with that much guts or gentlemanly instinct.

The Modern Jazz Quartet

ROYCE HALL, UCLA — Their choice of material is peculiarly eclectic, but whether they are improvising on a theme by Thelonious Monk or a J.S. Bach invention, The Modern Jazz Quartet transforms each composition into a pianissimo tour-de-force. Twenty-two years after its inception, the Quartet is still as vital and energetic as ever and their performances continue to be marked by inventiveness, technical perfection and a very, very quiet kind of excitement.

The members of the group, Connie Kay (drums), Milt Jackson (vibraharp), Percy Heath (bass) and John Lewis (piano) are its original personnel and by now are so well integrated that its often difficult for the listener to distinguish between their improvisations and their more structured compositions. But through the years, it seems, the group has come to rely more upon the latter, a reliance made necessary by the constantly growing complexity of their work.

"Django," their opening piece, is perhaps Lewis' most famous composition. The UCLA audience, apparently composed of long-time MJQ aficionados, greeted its beginning with a polite cheer and subsequently each arpeggio from Milt Jackson's vibes, each John Lewis piano turn became the source of appreciative smiles among the audience. The room had a reunion-like feeling.

The concert was divided by an intermission and it was during the second half of the evening that the Quartet performed music from their film soundtrack, "No Sun 'In Venice." The piece, "The Golden Striker," is a cut from the album "The Art Of The Modern Jazz Quartet: The Atlantic Years," and demonstrates the groups remarkable film-score potential.

The music of the MJQ must be considered to rank among the artistic landmarks of our time; it can only be hoped that their next twenty-two years will be as fruitful.

Jimmy's, NYC — David Frye has got to be one of the funniest men in the world and the fact that he is always accompanied by a dozen or so of the most prominent political and entertainment figures in the world today, via his incredible vocal impersonations, makes his performances even more unbelievable. In front of a packed house, Frye expertly delivered the voices of such notables as Howard Cossell, Kirk Douglas, Marion Brando (as Godfather Corleone), Henry Kissinger and of course Richard Nixon.

Captain Beefheart

THE BOTTOM LINE, NYC — Alan Price is a genius. No doubt about it. Aside from the truly brilliant soundtrack he created for the Malcolm McDowell starring, Lindsay Anderson directed "O Lucky Man" film, this very special artist has, in his career, been the driving force behind the Animals and the creator of the sorely missed Alan Price Set. If those credits aren't enough for you, just wait until you see the latest incarnation of Alan Price. The intensity of it all may just knock you right out of your seat.

Brian Auger Creation

WHISKY L.A. — Brian Auger, with his "progressive" sound, is one of the true originals of pop music. His virtuoso organ playing is readily identifiable in any material he chooses to perform, whether it be R&B, pop, or self-penned compositions.

Auger and his oblivion express have become ubiquitous figures on the west coast, having played three club engagements and a concert date in southern California since July. And all the while, his popularity with local audiences has grown by leaps and bounds, until even on an off-night, the room where he appears is sure to be sold-out.

Songs like "Compared To What" and the Marvin Gaye tune, "Inner City Blues" (with great guitar work by Jack Mills) were favorites with the Whisky crowd and proved to be excellent vehicles for Auger's organ pyrotechnics. It's somewhat ironic that it took an Englishman to demonstrate that be-bop a la Jimmy Smith could be successfully adapted to a pop format. Brian's current LP, "Closer To It" was the source of much of the material he performed at the Whisky. A new "live" LP was recorded while he was there, and judging by the performance he gave, it should be very good.

Creation, an essentially R&B oriented septet opened the show with some excellent material from their recently released Atlantic LP. Their big, brassy sound was modified somewhat by good keyboard work, and the group demonstrated possible crossover potential with songs like "Joy," their new Atlantic single.

From what I've been told, the best of many of Frye's sets have been recorded and a "live" LP will be forthcoming, as will a TV special in the near future. Both are eagerly anticipated.

Alan Price
Al Stewart

The small stage of the Bottom Line was just big enough to house Alan's ensemble of six violins, four horns, cello, bass, guitar, drums, his center stage keyboards and conductor. The packed house I was a part of met the appearance of Alan with tumultuous praise, even before the first notes filled the air, but it was his music that truly impressed all. In the space of little more than one hour, Alan and the assembled multitude played from his latest LP on Warner Brothers, "Yesterday and Today" as well as material from "O Lucky Man" (the most dynamic of which was the title song, played twice, "Sell, Sell," "Changes" and "Poor People") and a magnificent organ-vocal solo on a truly masterful "House Of The Rising Sun". The standing ovations received were truly deserved tributes.

Having never had the pleasure of seeing an Alan Price performance with the exception of those in the film, I must say that I was totally impressed, but one show was not nearly enough. It is hereby urged that every ear in every city flock to this man's performance. Performers the calibre of Alan Price are rare. Thank you Alan for putting us under your spell and for letting a few of us into your life for a very special evening.

Opening for Alan Price was Chess/Janus recording Artist Al Stewart who, for forty minutes, performed a strong grouping of songs from his repertoire. Highlights were "Soho" and "Roads To Moscow." He is a face and a name worth watching in the future.

Blue Aquarius

CALIFORNIA LUTHERAN COLLEGE — Springboarding their spring tour of the southwest, Blue Aquarius rocked a captivated audience in a benefit concert for the Hopi Indians. This 46 piece international rock group, drawing it's members from such diverse backgrounds as The Bee Gees, Dando Shaft, The Sour Survivors, Cannonball Adderly, Roy Buchanan's group, and the London Philharmonic Orchestra, displayed a truly impressive virtuosity, blending soul, rock, free style jazz and big band sounds to create a unique music with universal appeal. Their set touched on a sundry of styles and directions which managed to produce an inspiring assortment of vocalists and soloists including Polly Bolton, Sylvia St. James, Alan Thomas, and Don Eaton (saxophone). Highlight was the group's performance of their Stax/Truth single "At the Feet of the Master."

HOLLYWOOD — WHERE THERE'S A 'WHEEL'

Joe Egan had come up with a group name of Stealers while Gerry Rafferty had dreamed up an altogether different image for a name that being Wheel, and so they simply put the two together and came up with Stealers Wheel. In fact their amiable natures are such that they'd nearly always find some compromise, some mediating point to avoid any unnecessary professional argument. If Joe had come up with the name of the Carpenters and Gerry had thought of either Nazereth or Tower of Power, their name might have been Nazereth Carpenters or Carpenter's Tower of Power. Or if Rafferty had conceived the name Steeleye Span and Egan the name Steely Dan you'd have . . . well a very difficult time. Since Egan resides in Orbington Town, England, and Gerry in Glasgow (only an hour's plane ride away) perhaps this old English proverb is apropos "Sticks and Rolling Stones will break my Red Bone but names like Stealers Wheel never hurt me," and for this group which started out as a quintet, and had an international hit with "Stuck in the Middle with You," their name has never hurt them. Their group name is actually a "malapropism," a term which Webster explains by "a usually humorous misapplication of a word." It seems that when the two had first agreed on the combination of names, they were inadvertent of the fact that the name spelled Stealers Wheel actually describes a device used to sharpen knives. Coincidentally, Stealers Wheel has since its inception honed and carved away some of its own metal by departing with Paul Pilnick, lead guitarist, Tony Williams on bass, and also Rod Coombes, their drummer. This brings us back to where this 'Once upon a moniker' began namely Egan's prefix of Stealer and Rafferty's suffix, Wheel. Even on their second A & M album "Ferguslie Park," (which features their brand new single "Wheelin'") Stealers Wheel actually represented just two of them backed by studio musicians. Their third LP which they will record this Summer will have them stealing even more of the studio responsibilities by playing most of the instruments themselves. Egan will play drums in addition to piano (and also ukulele) and Rafferty will now assume the musical chore of playing bass and lead guitar. It was learned that their new album will not be produced by Leiber and Stoller as the first two were. Here it becomes name game time again for Stealers Wheel were not quite at liberty yet to mention, in print, who it will be. What can be mentioned is that it's a famous English disc producer who has produced a leading British pop star whose garish countenance is quite the opposite to this sedate, rather reticent pair. The former nameless artist's attire would immediately suspend your attention while the latter act's casual jean suspenders barely draws any attention. Egan and Rafferty also disclosed that they will be making their first US tour in October. Searching for names can be nearly as fun as searching for meanings. Stealers Wheel had recently rebuffed a pop writer for his deduction that "Stuck in the Middle With You," was about Watergate. This CASH BOX interviewer intervened with "That's absurd, anyone can tell it's a love song." Rafferty and Egan, amusingly thought that this statement was just about as funny as the Watergate inference. Stuck for it's meaning? They both cleared up the slight puzzle by explaining that it means being stuck in a group or party of people in which one doesn't feel quite comfortable around. So, in fact, they were singing about the departure of the other three members in their initial act (again quite inadvertently) before the theme became a reality. Apparently Thomas Haliburton knew it all the time when he said, "The most ridiculous names are the most adhesive." Stealers Wheel with its own magical kind of trademark, is a name which seems to be adhesively stuck to the music charts.

NEW YORK — NELSON RIDDLE: MIXING 'GATSBY' MAGIC

Because of the sensational new Paramount picture, "The Great Gatsby", one of the music industry's most respected personalities, Nelson Riddle, is suddenly being thrust into the public eye in a new and challenging light. As the man who scored the film's soundtrack, Riddle is assuming the position of a very influential music innovator, though the music he's adapted and written for "Gatsby" dates back decades in concept. Few people are aware of the fact that Riddle has been a part of records that have sold over 100-million copies through his work as conductor and arranger for many of Frank Sinatra's biggest records.

But unlike the Jordanaires, who grew rich while remaining relative unknowns (they were featured on Elvis Presley's work), Riddle has found a whole generation of young people who are very responsive to his work on "The Great Gatsby". "It's very interesting", mused Riddle over lunch at one of New York's posh restaurants, "that 'Gatsby' has sparked so much interest in the music of the twenties. I've been so close to the project for such a long time, it's hard for me to be objective about critical and public response to it. I had to do a lot of research on the subject because I was just a kid when most of that music was fashionable. Tom Mack, (producer of the film) and I decided we wanted the music to be as authentic as possible, so we went looking for musicians who had actually played during that era. It was harder than we figured, but we did come up with Nick Lucas. Lucas, a seventy-six year old gentleman of considerable talent who signed his first recording contract in 1918, joined pianist Jess Stacy, Shorty Sherock on trumpet, Mahlon Clark on clarinet and Nappy La Mare in giving Nelson's arrangement the veracity so crucial to enhancing the story line of the movie.

NELSON RIDDLE

Nelson Riddle's dedication to professionalism took him to England where he viewed the filming for weeks. "In order to get into the subject", reflected Riddle, concentrating intently, "I not only re-read F. Scott Fitzgerald's book, but I studied the character's carefully. That's how I got the basic ideas for "Jordan's Tango" and "Daisy's Tango". Probably the most interesting story concerning the filming and scoring of "Gatsby" took place when Irving Berlin learned that his song, "What'll I Do", was going to play a prominent part in the movie. He called me and was very enthusiastic. He was looking forward to the revitalization of his song. Imagine with all those hits he can still get excited about one of them."

Riddle wrote twenty-four character related themes in addition to the original compositions which appear in the picture, but to give them life and authenticity he had to look at piano sheet music of the old material, listen to the vintage material ("several hundred miles of taped versions of old records"), and boil down the correct twenties mood, distilling the proper texture and tone for each piece of music, a labor that took months. In rising to the challenge of creating a sound imbued with the spirit of the roaring twenties, Riddle created what appears to be the definitive sound of the period, one that alternately roars and cries, one that captures the true feeling of the times.

Riddle is the film's biggest booster. "After you get close to something", he said, "you begin to see its faults, but, like a beautiful woman you get to appreciate all the fine points too. There's so much happening in "Gatsby" that the audience will never have the trained eye to appreciate, I wouldn't want to begin to get into it. Let's just say that Tom Mack is a pro and he got every detail perfect, from the cars to the costumes to . . . you name it." As for Nelson Riddle, he's a perfectionist and a quiet gentleman, unassuming in a disarmingly cunning way. When the envelope is opened at next year's Oscar night for Conductor of the Best Movie Soundtrack, don't be at all surprised to see the distinguished Nelson Riddle walk to the stage to accept for himself.

During the meeting, Sol Rabinowitz, vp of CBS International, will be introducing a new album by Janis Ian. Ms. Ian, who won worldwide recognition for her hit recording of "Society's Child," has just recorded a new album, "Star," which will be licensed by CBS International.

Montreal's CHOM Boosts French Language Disks

MONTREAL — One radio station in Canada, CHOM-FM Montreal, has taken steps to overcome some of the problems of the country's bi-lingual situation. The station's director of programming, Tim Thomas, formerly of CHUM-FM in Toronto, became increasingly concerned over the lack of recognition by English Canada of Quebec (French) recording artists.

Thomas and his programming crew put together a package of LP's and singles by locally produced artists that could be good programming fare for English language radio stations. They have tagged their effort CHOM gout de Quebec Sampler and have made it available, free, to Canadian radio programmers. This is a first in a hoped-for series of samplers.

Included in this first sampler are: Jean Pierre Ferland, Robert Charlebois, Louise Forestier, Diane Dufresne, Pauline Julien, Gilles Valiquette, the Ville emard Blues Band, Renee Claude, Harmonium, Guy Trepanier, Anne Anderson, Lewis Furey, and the Hotel Orchestra.

King Records Profits Increase

TOKYO — King Record Co., held its branch manager's conference at its head office, Apr. 1-2, to examine sales-results of its 1973 fiscal year (Mar. 21, 1973 to Mar. 20, 1974), and to set a sales-target for its 1974 fiscal year (Mar. 21, 1974 to Mar. 20, 1975).

The company has summer campaigns planned for jazz and pop as well as classical.

GRT, Canada In Lighthouse Row

TORONTO — Ross Reynolds, president of GRT (Canada) has become alarmed over the treatment of Lighthouse albums, deleted and drilled, have apparently been picked up by Canadian importers and are being sold to retailers and rack jobbers at such a price as to enable them to list the albums for $2.99.

Albums involved are: "One Fine Morning," "Thoughts Of Movin' On," "Lighthouse Live" and "Sunny Days." Copyright holders for the selections on these albums are resident in Canada and, without the payment of royalties to the copyright holders, is in violation of the Canadian Copyright Act.

Lighthouse is GRT's top money maker and the label hasn't entertained the thought of deleting any of their product — all of which remains active in the catalogue. Reynolds has made an effort to advise Canadian record retailers, rack jobbers and importers of the Canadian Copyright Act and in particular Subsection four of Section seventeen.

Unlike previous seminars, this year the free form discussion with a large panel was dropped in favor of six, fifty minute sessions with no more than three panel members at any one time.

editorial

Dave Gottlieb died last week, and although the millions of people who know that name from reading it on the playfields of his flipper games won't know about it, his legions of friends in the business do and mourn his passing.

The very name D. Gottlieb is considered in many areas to identify the "Cadillac" of pinball machines, or as we're now getting used to saying, flipper games. It was the very "flipper bat" itself, developed by Dave's people, that turned the original pingame into the great game of skill it is today.

Dave was an unusual man in many respects. Great inventor, marketing genius, philanthropist. While he pursued the unusual in flippers, he ran a tight ship when it came to marketing those games and therefore the Gottlieb machines have traditionally been defined as great in the collection box as well as great at trade-in time.

The loss of Dave, of course, is most acute to the immediate family, including brother Nate, son Alvin and Judd Weinberg. These are the execs who have been running the North Lake factory during Dave's long illness and who will carry on the tradition laid down by the patriarch. But the loss is also borne by many of Gottlieb's distributors . . . old and loyal friends who have handled the line practically since its inception.

In the last analysis, while the man is gone the legacy he created will be immortal. Gottlieb flipper games were, are and always will be a deep source of pride for every man in this industry. Thank you for that, Dave, and may you rest in peace.

AT THE COIN SUMMIT

NAMA voiced strong opposition to the proposed change from the copper penny to an aluminum coin at hearings before a U.S. Congressional Committee on March 27. The testimony of NAMA president Dick Schreiber followed tests of the proposed coin by NAMA's industry experts. The tests were reviewed at a coinage advisory committee meeting called by NAMA in February in Chicago. Shown here with Schreiber, who is seated at left, are John Ellis (also seated), Bell Telephone Laboratories; and standing, from left, Fred Granger, executive vice president of M.O.A. and Ward Gill, executive director of the National Automatic Laundry and Cleaning Council. Experts from coin mechanism and vending machine manufacturing firms, as well as operating company representatives, also attended.

Williams' Stern Urges 3 Ball - 25¢ Play On Flippers; Cites Economic Increase

CHICAGO — In stressing the need for 3 ball quarter play, Sam Stern, President of Williams Electronics, a foremost manufacturer of coin-operated amusement equipment, said "Production costs are steadily on the rise, material costs more daily, labor costs will increase after the freeze and inflation is still with us."

A top economist reports "Starting next month, wages will begin zooming up. The control law ends then — nearly all prices and wages go free. We have told you before that prices will go up about 9% for the full year. And now the outlook for wages and fringes — demands well above 10%."

"Although commodity prices have increased approximately ten times in the past fifteen years," Stern said, "pricing on flipper games has only had an increase from 5¢ to 10¢ and now, finally, in most areas, to 12½¢ per game, which is only an approximate two times increase."

"How long can the operator exist on this pricing," Stern asked. "Operators will pay more for their equipment plus finding it necessary to absorb a steady increase in their cost of doing business."

Stern pointed out that "Field reports indicate that shuffle alleys operated on straight quarter play have increased collections and have rejuvenated the demand in many areas. Flipper games on 3 ball 2/25¢ play have improved earnings, but not enough. The time has come to go to straight 3 ball quarter play, in order for the operator to remain solvent."

In conclusion he urged operators to act now! "The delay in advance pricing," he said, "will lead to diminishing profits, poor service and, eventually, an unscheduled phase-out of business." He urged operators not to "get caught in the profit squeeze" and to "go to 3 ball quarter play now!"

New York Ops Set for Pin Tourney

Herb Gross of Nice Day Productions about to deliver slide demonstration on flipper tournaments. At right are Millie McCarthy and Tommy Greco.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — The New York State Coin Machine Association (NYSCMA) has retained Nice Day Productions to produce their first official New York Pinball Tournament. Decided at a recent special meeting of member NYSCMA operators here in Syracuse, the Nice Day Pdtns. people will not only plan the tournament concept but will produce a location promotion kit to enable association members to coax pinball fans to enroll in the competition. This kit will be available to NYS Assn. members only.

Association members viewed a multimedia presentation on Nice Day's recent Lights Out Tournament for flippers, held at Delphi University. That event, staged in cooperation with trade veteran John Bilotta, raised a sizable sum which is being used to combat the drug problem in the Upstate city of Rochester.

NYSCMA president Millie McCarthy, supervising the planning for this first state flipper bout, said time and place of the competition will be announced shortly. Meantime, Mrs. McCarthy expects that all operators, aided by Nice Day's tournament kit, will not only coax more players toward the flipper games (to practice up) but will also help coax more members into the association.

Williams Bows 'Dealer's Choce' 4 PI.

Wms DEALER'S CHOICE 4 PI

CHICAGO — Williams Electronics has delt games operators a beauty of a four-player flipper with its brand new 'Dealer's Choce', shipping this week. The game, boasting a giant card-queen in the back glass, introduces a variety of stimulating and suspenseful ball action features. They include Ace, King, Queen, Jack and Ten . . . left side targets for extra ball and special score. It also offers 1 thru 9 center rollover buttons for double and triple bonus values and special. There are five ways to advance the bonus in all.

Operators are invited to inspect the new flipper at their nearest Williams distributor.

Air Hockey Japan Style

TOKYO — Kenji Nishimura, an employee of a shushi (raw fish) shop, outlasted 107 opponents in the finals of a gigantic AIR HOCKEY game tournament here recently to claim the championship and win a portable color television set.

The tournament attracted nearly 1,000 entries including 100 women. Eleven women remained when the finals competition began at Tokyo Minami Plaza, a bowling and indoor recreation complex.

The coin-operated game, manufactured by Brunswick, has apparently attracted a large number of devoted followers in Japan. Nishimura began playing the game last October when the Ginza Air-Hockey Center opened in Tokyo. He says he goes to the center four or five times a week to play the game. The manager of the center claims that some enthusiasts play upwards of 30 games a day.

SEGA, Armac Merger Plans On

NEW YORK — David Rosen, chairman/president of SEGA Enterprises Inc. (which recently went "public" OTC here) and Burton Slotky, chairman of Armac Enterprises, jointly announced preliminary arrangements for the combination of the two companies. The transaction is subject to the approval of both boards of directors and shareholders, after a definite merger agreement is hammered out.

Under the terms, Armac shareholders will receive a number of shares of SEGA stock for each Armac share.

Armac, according to the announcement, is the world's largest manufacturer of billboard tables and accessories for home and commercial use (they do not make a coin table). Valued at approximately $27 million, the Chicago-based manufacturer also markets a line of sporting goods, including boats and camping materials.

SEGA itself recently announced that depots on both coasts will be set up this year to distribute their line of coin-amusement games thru regional distributors here in the states. SEGA also revealed plans to eventually erect (or buy) facilities to manufacture coin games in the states. While these plans are still in the planning stages, it's evident that the company, now corporately an American corporation (with the Tokyo factory and operation officially a subsidiary), will eventually become an American games maker physically.

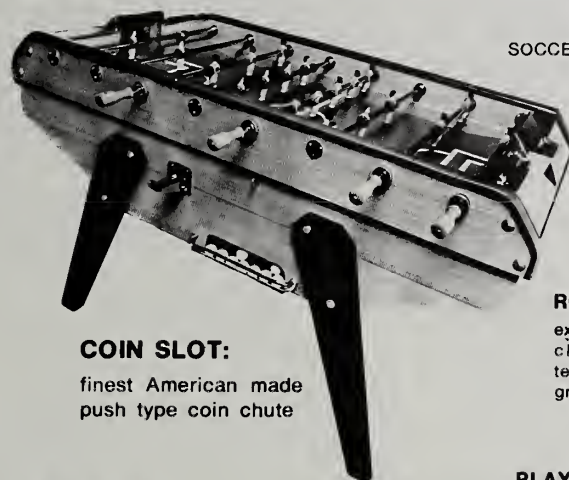

Rosen further revealed plans to enter into joint-ventures with route operators. Through the infusion of capital and equipment, Rosen feels his firm will be beneficial to operators who are presently not in a financial position to secure large equipment installations in the arcade industry.

EASTERN FLASHES

Playmor's Harold Kaufman out to Los Angeles last week to visit his mother (who resides in that fair city), plus some coin buddies like Nate Hockman of U-View Theaters. Harold tells us Nate and the group are getting it all together with U-View and are making good headway on the tavern level. After L.A., Harold jetted up to San Jose for visit with Nolan Bushnell of Atari and a confab on current conditions. . . Amutronics' brand new Bowl-A-Thon amusement game is doing real fine sales-wise, and collection-wise, says prexy Patsy Storino. The unit has been shipped to his distribs from coast to coast and first collection reports are super. The game is an ingenious version of bowling in a button-control, upright cabinet. Sure hitter for the arcade gang, as well as for street stops.

Next regular meeting of the New York State Operators Guild was held April 19th at the Cameo Restaurant in Newburgh. Good crowd attending, reports Shirly Werner, secretary. . . Ben Chicofsky of the New York Music Operators says half the rooms for their mid-May convention weekend in the Catskills are already taken. He urges all parties planning on attending, who have not made reservations through his office, to notify him immediately to secure rooms.

GOLD-MOR DISTRIBUTING has released another in its now-legend sets of nostalgic oldies from days-gone-by. These, from the Columbia treasury, are: Genny Goodman playing 'Why Don't You Do Right' (with Peggy Lee on the vocal), b/w 'Flying Home'; Les Brown with 'I've Got My Love to Keep Me Warm' b/w 'S-Wonderful'; Gene Krupa with 'After You've Gone' b/w 'Let Me Off Uptown' (Anita O'Day doing the vocal) and Bobby Hackett doing 'I Don't Stand a Ghost of a Chance' b/w 'Embraceable You'. All these choice singles are now available for purchase at most key one-stops.

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

The second annual individual pool tournament, sponsored by Wisconsin Novelty Co., will be wrapping up at the end of the week. Finals will be held on Saturday and Sunday, April 27 and 28, at Jefferson Hall. Art Manske, veepee of Wisconsin Novelty, said the turnout this year was exceptional! Tournament was under the direction of the National Pocket Billiards Association of Milwaukee. Prize purse totalled $10,000.00, with a top award of $1,500.00!

THE POST-LENTEN SURGE IN business activity was being pleasantly felt at Pierce Music in Brodhead this past week. Marie Pierce said they're doing well with games and phono equipment on location — and collections are definitely on the increase! . . . Now if only the weather would improve, everything would be just perfect! Marie said they've had absolutely no signs of Spring yet!

ROCK-OLA PHONOGRAPHS AND VALLEY POOL TABLES are among the biggest selling items of the day at Hastings Dist. Inc. At presstime, Jack Hastings was anxiously awaiting a shipment from the Rock-Ola factory.

ON THE SINGLES SCENE: John Jankowski of Radio Doctors tells us area ops are showing interest in the following new releases: "Dance With The Devil" by Cozy Powell (Chrysalis), "When The Morning Comes" by Hoyt Axton (A&M), "Pchip Pchip" by Cash and Carry (Tara), "Searchin' So Long" by Chicago (Columbia) and "I Just Started Hatin' Cheatin' Songs Today" by Moe Bandy (GRC).

CHICAGO CHATTER

Need we say that "Astro Hockey" is currently a top priority item on the production schedule at the Brunswick Corp.'s Muskegon, Michigan factory! In noting the game's wide appeal in the foreign market, Owen Meyer, product manager-coin operated products, said that a large percentage of the present volume of orders are marked for overseas delivery! On the domestic scene, Owen said that numerous new locations are opening up for the game. He said "Astro Hockey" is becoming increasingly popular in bowling alleys and student union halls on college campuses — and — in the past month he's received several inquiries from condominium owners interested in placing units on location in their recreation centers. Considering the number of condo's being built all over the country, and the fact that most do have recreation facilities on the premises, this could provide a windfall of new business for operators!

ON TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 23, a vending school on the Seeburg coffee machine will be held in the showroom of World Wide Dist. Department head Irv Ovitz will host, along with Roger Bergstrom, and service personnel will be on hand to assist the Seeburg engineer. . . And speaking of Seeburg, Howie Freer just couldn't rave enough about the phonograph line and most specifically the Seeburg digital system which, he said, "eliminates the wear and tear that causes most breakdowns" and makes servicing a very quick, simple procedure "requiring a minimum of service calls and down time."

LOCAL BASED ATLAS RECORDS has released a single called "Streakin'" by the Chicago Red Garter Band, the in-residence group at the Red Garter club here in town. Penned by veteran composer Frank LaVere (whose past hits include "Pretend" and "Have You Heard"), the record features a vocal version on one side and an instrumental version (which label head Harvey Levy said is geared for juke box play) on the flip side. Watch for it!

INVITATIONS WILL BE IN THE MAIL very shortly for the upcoming annual distributors meeting, hosted by Chicago Dynamic Industries for its network of distribs in the western hemisphere. Event will take place on Friday, May 3 at the Regency Hyatt O'Hare in Chicago. In addition to cocktails and dinner, distributors will learn of some new programs being instituted by ChiCoin and they'll also get a sneak preview of some exciting new items to be unveiled during the presentation. . . We bid welcome to Ken Anderson, formerly western regional sales manager for Wurlitzer, who recently joined ChiCoin as domestic sales manager. . . Learned from Bob Sherwood that "Speed King" and "Pro Bowler" are doing extremely well and that deliveries are still in progress on the hot "World Series" baseball game!
