EDITORIAL

Cash Box: We Have Big Shoes To Fill - Our Own

In the life of every publication with a history spanning five or so decades, there comes a time when looking back is more tempting than looking forward. When it is easier to admire what one was, then to face the challenge of what one could be. When it is simpler to sit and admire laurels gained, than to chase honors one has yet to achieve.

We have been guilty of all of the above.

That's not to say we've been insensitive to the needs of the industry we have so long served, but rather that we were content with the status quo and did not search out areas where our unique knowledge and influence could be felt for the benefit of all.

We stopped looking for voids to fill, for new pathways to walk down. It was as if we had seen it all and had no need for expanded horizons.

That's how it was.

But that's not how it is.

There's a change in the air at Cash Box. An excitement that has a tangibility... a substance of its own. Ideas are being formulated to guarantee that Cash Box's place in the 21st century will have a validity and importance equal to and surpassing that of the past. There is a fresh policy of aggressiveness... of leadership... of merchandising know-how and industry savvy that carries with it the spirit of entrepreneurship that stands alone in an era of conglomerate buck-passing.

Our year-end issue, always highly anticipated for its value as a reference to the 365 days of music history it chronicles, will be mailed to over 6,000 American retail record outlets. Guaranteed. That's just the first of many innovative marketing concepts we'll be putting into action in the coming year.

Keep your eye on Cash Box. We're moving forward, fast.

Yetnikoff: "It Is Nice To Be Wanted Again"

NEW YORK — In a memo circulated to "everybody at the Columbia Records Group" Thursday (23), Walter Yetnikoff, CRG president, said of the sale of CBS Records to Sony, "It is nice to be wanted again."

Yetnikoff was referring to what he saw as the indifference to the Records operation expressed by Laurence A. Tisch, CBS Inc.'s chief executive. Under Tisch, CBS had been moving in an undisguised direction back towards a strict broadcasting operation. According to Yetnikoff, "I speak from personal experience when I say that Mr. Morita, the chairman, and Mr. Ohga, the president (whom I regard as personal friends) appreciate what we are all about."

The memo, which, it said, was sent to "make a few things clear about our new relationship with Sony," maintained that "we will be the same company that we always have been."

"For example," wrote Yetnikoff, "our 'new' name will be CBS Records, Inc. If anything, we will operate on a more autonomous, stand-alone basis than previously. Also, there are no plans to move our offices or locations."

Sony and CBS, of course, reached an agreement on November 18 by which the CBS Records Group would be sold to the Japanese entertainment giant for approximately $2 billion in cash. The two companies expect the closing of the agreement to occur in early 1988, after receipt of required governmental approvals.

CBS Records is anticipating what Yetnikoff termed "the most successful year in our history," with profits of up to $200 million expected. Sony intends to keep Yetnikoff at the helm of the Records Group, something that is reportedly costing them $20

MULTIPLYING PLATINUMS — Geffen Records' Whitesnake were feted at the home of label president Ed Rosenblatt to commemorate the triple platinum status of the Whitesnake album. BMG Bows Out Of Isgro Promotion Suit

LOS ANGELES — The Bertlesmann Music Group, parent company of the RCA and Arista record labels, announced that they have settled out of court with independent record promoter Joe Isgro in his multi-million dollar lawsuit charging the RIAA and the major labels with conspiring to kill the independent promotion business due to skyrocketing costs.

The two labels became the fourth and fifth to settle with Isgro, joining Capitol, Motown, and PolyGram, the latter of which settled last month. Labels remaining in the lawsuit are Warner Brothers, MCA, Atlantic, Elektra/Asylum/Nonesuch, A&M, Chrysalis, and Geffen. Rumors have been reported that Chrysalis and A&M will be next to drop out.

The terms of the settlement are unknown, and a statement released by BMG said only that the parties have "agreed to terminate the litigation." This includes counterclaims filed by BMG against the promoter. Also dropped were claims and counterclaims filed between BMG and the Las Vegas-based promotion firm BAMA, Inc., which had filed similar claims to Isgro's.

Disctronics Acquires LaserVideo Inc. For $55.5 Million

NEW YORK — Disctronics Inc., the Australian compact disc manufacturer, has acquired LaserVideo Inc., the largest U.S.-owned CD producer, for a total of $55.5 million in cash and stock, making Disctronics the world's third largest manufacturer of compact discs, behind Philips Dupont Optical and Sony. The LaserVideo plants in Huntsville, Alabama and Anaheim, California, along with Distronics plants in Melbourne, Australia and Southwater, England, will produce some 65 million discs annually, some 20% of global production.

Roger Richmond-Smith, Disctronics CEO, said, "There is total compatibility between LaserVideo and Disctronics in terms of client list, technologies, personnel and, most importantly, philosophy...We now have a balanced global capability in the compact disc and optical storage industries that will create greater effectiveness in production, supply and product development for our combined operations."

Jim DeVries, LaserVideo CEO (who continues as a board director of Disctronics Ltd.), said, "Joining the Disctronics worldwide network means new opportunities for us to better serve our established customer base and new scope for applying LaserVideo technologies. It also means we can add global potential to our people's career opportunities."

U2 To End Tour With Two Shows In Arizona

LOS ANGELES — Rock superstars U2 held a press conference last Friday (11/19) to announce the addition of two final dates to the bands current world tour. The shows will be held at the Sun Devil Stadium in Tempe, Arizona on December 19 and 20, with tickets selling for an unprecedented $5.00 each.

The band enforces that they hope that the $5.00 price tag for tickets will help discourage scalping of tickets to the show. Bono, U2's lead vocalist, stated "...were hoping that we can get a lot of people, people from the east coast and the west coast and further up north to come down. Rather than paying $100.00 to a ticket scalper, they can actually get on an airplane and come see us play in the desert." Each of the Arizona show's will be performed before approximately 60,000 fans.

The concerts, dubbed "U2 Live In The Desert," will be the subject of an upcoming concert film documenting the band's recent sold out world tour. Concerts in Denver's McNichols Arena on November 7 and 8 were filmed in their entirety for use in the film. In addition, (U2's label) Island records plans to release a two-record set consisting of live material culled from the bands American tour as well as containing new studio tracks. The LP will be issued to coincide with the film's release.

Paul Simon Announces All-Star Benefit

by Joe Levy

"The problem we're dealing with is the dark side of childhood," said Paul Simon, referring to the 12,000 homeless children of New York City. Three weeks ago Simon announced the formation of the New York Children's Health Project, which uses a mobile medical van to attend to the health needs of some 3,000 children in ten welfare hotels in Manhattan and two in Queens. Now Simon has announced an all-star benefit concert to be held December 13th at Madison Square Garden in New York to raise money to buy a second van. "We have to start planning for dealing with this problem," said Simon at a press conference November 18th to announce the benefit. "It's not going away. It's getting larger."

Scheduled to appear are Paul Simon and the Graceland Band,

Rounder/EMI Sever Exclusive Agreement

NEW YORK – With the upcoming George Thorogood & The Destroyers album, "Born To Be Bad," (due in January), Rounder and EMI will discontinue their policy by which Rounder brought new signings to the EMI. Rounder issued the first three Thorogood albums independently and the past four (including "Born To Be Bad") in a co-venture with the band for EMI America. Rounder and EMI also cooperated in the release of albums by the True Believers and the Neville Brothers. Now free from further commitment, Rounder and EMI Manhattan may pursue future projects together, but are under no obligation to do so. Rounder is free to negotiate with other labels. In fact, Rounder says it's close to making a final agreement with CBS for the release of the next Dirty Dozen Brass Band album, part of Rounder's Modern New Orleans Masters series.

million for a multiyear contract for him and some $30 million for his management team.

According to Masa Namiki, general manager of corporate communications for Sony, "The Records Groups [will] operate independently of the parent corporation. Sony will not try to force the Records Group to end its outspoken opposition to digital audio tape and DAT recorders."

Yetnikoff's memo was seen as an effort to quash rampant rumors about a possible move of CBS Records' main offices to Los Angeles or about possible layoffs and management changes as a result of the sale.

"Sony is a world-class company and they wanted us because we are the number one world-class record company," read the memo. "Sony is also extremely people sensitive and would not have gone into this transaction if they did not believe that CRG has the best people roster as well as the best artist roster. Consequently, there are no plans to change your jobs and any talk about layoffs as a result of this transaction is pure nonsense. The people who have managed and worked for CRG will continue in place. Changes will only be made in response to marketplace changes."

Privately, numerous CBS employees, and several CBS recordings artists, grumbled about what they saw as an increasing de-Americanizing of the record business (CBS joins Capitol/EMI, RCA, and PolyGram as foreign-owned major record companies). Publicly, CBS released statements from Michael Jackson, Julio Iglesias, Isaac Stern, and Cyndi Lauper praising the deal.

Ladysmith Black Mambazo, Lou Reed, James Taylor, Laurie Anderson, Ruben Blades, Dion, Grand Master Flash, Chaka Khan, Nile Rodgers, the Paul Shaffer Band, and New York double-dutch crew The Jazzy Jumpers. "It's all New York people," Simon commented. "It's really just about New York. It's not going to be made into a Home Box Office special or made into a film." Simon hopes to net $300,000 from the benefit, the cost of purchasing and equipping one van. To this end, he has asked a committee of New York business-people, headed by Warner Communications president Steve Ross, to underwrite the cost of the concert.

Also present at the news conference were Laurie Anderson and Lou Reed. "I was very happy to be part of this concert for the homeless, because like most people, I don't know what else to do," said Anderson. "I hope what this project will do is encourage people to ask themselves what they're going to do." Said Reed, "A country that has as much as we have at least could supply medical treatment for children. That's not asking that much."

With a second mobile medical unit the New York Children's Health Project can double the number of children served to 6,000. The second van would serve Queens. Both medical units provide routine preventive care – immunizations and physical examinations – as well as acute illness care, referrals, and health education. Dr. Irwin Redlener, developer of the NYCHP, reported that the first medical van had seen 75 patients in its first four days of operation. "If this model works as efficiently as we hope and think it will, perhaps it can be picked up as a model by other cities," said Simon. "Of course, this part of the homeless problem is just a small part of it. We still have to think about housing and education and the entire question of how a society as wealthy as ours deals with its poor."

Tickets for the show are priced at $30.00, $25.00, and $20.00, and are available through Ticketron outlets. For additional information call (212) 563-8300.

It is further evidence of the more realistic and direct nature of contemporary songs. But a current crop of hit sides, ballads and otherwise are shelving the unwritten taboo...Bob Schwartz is relinquishing operational management of Laurie Records to Doug Morris, who joined the label in 1964...Bob Dylan is on the way out of the relative seclusion of his year-long hiatus from public life. A heartfelt tribute from veteran songstress Ronstadt to both her father and the timeless traditions of the great Mexican vocalists. Her voice has never sounded sweeter or sassier, and the current trend toward Latin influences on the pop charts and airwaves should empty retail bins in a hurry. English lyrics included.

A sparkling return to vinyl for the Queen of Soul, this double LP of gospel glory was recorded over three nights last summer at the Detroit church where her father preached. LEON WARE

Undercover—Slingshot 80017—Producer: Leon Ware—Bar Coded

Ware, veteran of many sessions with Marvin Gaye, Quincy Jones, Michael Jackson and more, puts his distinctive vocal and songwriting styles to good use here, elevating this midnight-blue collection into the Quiet Storm (the title cut and "Blue Velvet") and B/C ranges ("Body Sighns").

NEW AND DEVELOPING

THE DELGADO BROTHERS

The Delgado Brothers—Hightone HT8009—Producers: Bruce Bromberg/Dennis Walker—Bar Coded

With the recent surge in popularity of both light blues (Robert Cray) and L.A. boogie-rock (Los Lobos, Cruzados), comes a trio of brothers guaranteed to tread the same ever-broadening path. Roots from Clapton to Cray ring true here, delivering an urgent set of fine contemporary blues. Joe Delgado's stinging guitar leads snake throughout the melodies, especially on "Fair Warning" and "Her Number," while "Jo Anne" echoes "Smoking Gun."

FEATURE PICKS

DANIEL PONCE—Arawe—Island/New Directions 90631-1—Producers: Verna Gillis/Daniel Ponce—Bar Coded

A compelling musical quilt from Brazilian percussionist Ponce, who has worked in New York with some of the biggest jazz and R&B names. Many textures at work, all tied together into an exhilarating Latin brew.

DAVID MANN—Games—Island/New Directions 90628-1—Producers: D. Mann/N. Mann—Bar Coded

Smooth lines from this young alto sax player from Ann Arbor, MI, should place him in the select company of David Sanborn and Kenny G. Most likely: "Urban Eyes."

HELICIO MILITO—Kilombo—Island/New Directions 90629-1—Producers: H. Milito/J.P. Weiller-Letourneur—Bar Coded

The Brazilian creator of the Tamba has crafted an intoxicating brew here, based on simple layering of his percussion, added guitar, flute, and vocals. Result is eminently listenable - can kill with the beauty of "Aza Branca" or the title cut, and lush vocals add depth.

THE PLEASURES PALE—The Pleasures Pale—Heresy TR002—Producers: The Pleasures Pale

Ohio-based alternative quartet lays down a lacy, headlong guitar rush, over which Jeffrey Bright warbles the dark, sometimes eerie musings on life's daily doses, much like an American Morrissey.

THIN WHITE ROPE—Bottom Feeders—Zippo ZANE 005—Producers: Various—Bar Coded

Six song EP from these twisted guitar heroes continues in their slightly psychotic vein. Yer best bets here are "Valley of the Bones" and the neo-psychedelics of "Atomic Imagery."

KENNY NEAL—Bio On The Bayou—King Snake KS 005—Producers: Bob Greenlee/Kenny Neal

Young blues virtuoso Neal, who toured with Buddy Guy as well as his brothers' band, steps out smartly on his solo debut. The slow blues grit of "Caught Your Back Door Man" works wonders, as does the funky, fiery "Outside 'ookin' In."

CHRIS STANLEY—Excuse Me While I Change My Head—Mountain Sound 101—Producer: Chris Stanley

Stanley's pop-tinged reggae reminds in spots of UB40 ("Cartoon World") and the attentive, aware lyrics speak of social and personal ills.

L.A. DREAM TEAM—Bad To The Bone—MCA MCA-42042—Producers: L.A. Dream Team—Bar Coded

Second album of West Coast rap from the Dream Team, continuing on in their melodic, fresh style. Features the introductory "Rudy And Snake" and the informational "What's A Skeezer?"

WALTER BEASLEY—Walter Beasley—Polydor 833 866-1 Y-1—Producer: Lionel Job—Bar Coded

Beasley's clear, personal vocals and warm, expressive sax lines deliver the goods on this solo effort. Should be radio friendly, especially "I'm So Happy" and the ballad "Call On Me."

THEY STILL HAVEN'T FOUND IT? - That oh-so-serious Irish band sailed into town for a two night stand at the majestic L.A. Coliseum November 17/18. It was, as most of these gargantuan spectacles tend to be, a fascinating sociological exercise in mass behavioral tendencies that overshadowed the musical output of the performers.

With the timely mass acceptance of U2's latest, The Joshua Tree, the band grew overnight from arena headliners to stadium gods.

But what gets forgotten amidst all the hoopla is just how radical and innovative a Top 40 band this is. Simply put, no one else sounds like U2. And although it is easy to tire of their music through the magic of radio saturation, one still must have faith in their constantly changing muse.

U-KNOW-WHO - Pursed lips, knitted brows, ponytails...

And so, we return to the Coliseum, where Bono had all 71,000 in his hip pocket from the start. The amount of repetition from earlier shows, and (equally) the lack of incisive innovation, were disappointing, but I suppose a stadium gig is not the place to attempt to break new ground. "I Will Follow" was lethargic, "Gloria" was note-for-note from October, and "Sunday Bloody Sunday" and "New Year's Day" were the only selections from War.

One big problem was Bono's insistence upon recreating the essence of such rock events, the meaningless "How are you, Los Angeles?" cries and constant references to Southern California that, for some reason, cause 70,000 ding-dongs to instantly raise their fists and go "Yeah." Hoo-ray...

And the singer seemed intent upon letting everyone present know just how much he loves our country. Okay, U2 found some early success in L.A., but enough is enough. It seemed a little self-serving - isn't it obvious that one reason for his adoration of our culture is the fact that Americans buy a rather sizable chunk of the millions of records that U2 sells?

And another thing - does it seem a trifle affected to anyone else to hear a singer, flushed with the sheen of self-righteousness or not, go on about not having found what he's looking for when his band stands to gross over one million dollars in one night? OK, OK, I know, it's not the money. It's the spiritual love for fellow man, it's the continuing search for deeper meaning, I've heard it already. I just don't buy it - they're only human.

Anyway, musically I have nothing to really complain about. They ran through faithful renditions of the new stuff and the old hits, and Edge is an innovative, important guitarist. The best moment for me was an unexpected and touching reading of the somber "October," unfortunately only a two minute song but brilliant nonetheless.

And yes, there was a communal feeling of kindred spirit, of love for a truly inspiring band who have the ability to create music that speaks like no other current act to the unresolved hopes/fears of late 80's youth. I just wished for a less glamorized, less commercialized, less trivialized experience. U2 is too important a band to lump in with other mega-stars' stadium silliness, whose mindless lingerie-dance sequences or giant insect fetishes shall remain nameless. Hopefully, people will internalize the U2 experience and spread it around where needed. Maybe it will do some good...

FETCH THEM BONES - A young, vibrant band of gypsies is in town to play a few dates. They're Fetchin' Bones, they hail from North Carolina, and they're touring behind their latest LP, Galaxy 500 (Capitol). Lead singer Hope Nicholls and bassist Danna Pentes took a break with Points West on the eighth floor of Capitol's Hollywood tower to discuss a new life in the fast lane.

The record is a killer, chock full of the Bones' usual grab bag collection of mixed/matched influences, from punk to funk and back, twice. The band started on the small but well respected Atlanta indie label DB Records, then made the switch to the land of the majors just before their last LP came out. "There's a drawback to being on a major label because people perceive you as more crass, more commercial, a sell-out, or any number of things that are really bullshit," said Nicholls. "It's really in the grooves of the record. You can't blame bands for wanting to be on majors so that they can actually get paid when they do sell records."

The Bones share a common fear of most indie-to-major bands, that of being lost in the major label two-step shuffle. As Pentes pointed out, "Even if there are people in the company that really like your band, it's such a huge network of things that have to get done that you can't rely on that." Added Nicholls, "You have to watch out for yourselves."

Coming out to the West Coast is a kick for the band, as it is such a far cry from Charlotte's rolling hills. As singer Nicholls explains, "It's so different from everything in the Southeast. Not just the landscape but people's attitudes, fashion. It's exciting. The club scene is better out here now than the East Coast. New York's not really happening very much." Full Force

Full Force. It's a family affair. "We're three brothers and three cousins," says co-lead vocalist Bowlegged Lou. "We're family, and we split everything six ways. Not one person gets more than the other in anything. We're happy about that." They should be. With the Full Force Family including Lisa Lisa and Cult Jam and rappers UTFO, this band has co-written, played on, and produced some of the biggest chart toppers of the last three years: UTFO's "Roxanne Roxanne", Lisa Lisa's "I Wonder If I Take You Home," "Head To Toe," and "Lost In Emotion." Now Full Force's third Columbia LP is out. It's called Guess Who's Comin' To The Crib? and the first single, "Love Is For Suckers (Like Me And You)," was #30 with a bullet on last week's Cash Box Black Contemporary singles chart.

When Cash Box talked with Bowlegged Lou recently he called Guess Who's Coming To The Crib the best Full Force album yet: "Whenever we would produce records for Lisa or UTFO we'd sit down and take our time and we'd be really relaxed and just have fun. When it comes time to do Full Force albums we always put ourselves under the microscope, and we'd say, 'Now wait a minute, should we do it like this, or this?' And then we'd get headaches, and then we don't have fun. This time we said, 'We're going to take our time and just have fun.' And that's just what we did."

The album is a showcase for the multi-talented Brooklyn band. A combination hip-hop-funk-band-singing-group, it seems like there's nothing Full Force can't do. "Love Is For Suckers" is a hooky dance tune with a stuttering rhythm track. "Take Care Of Homework" is a sure smash, a swinging shuffle with a jabbing horn line, sitting on a bed of plush harmony vocals. Plus it's got guest vocals by Lisa Lisa. And there are ballads too, like "Your Love Is So Def."

The musical talents that make Crib such a winner have Full Force in demand in the studio. They did three tracks for the next Weather Girls album, are working on the new Latoya Jackson record, and Samantha Fox's new single, "Naughty Girls Need Love Too," is a Full Force production. The newest addition to the Full Force Family of artists is Cheryl "Pepsi" Riley. "She's going to be real big," says Lou. "She's sort of like Whitney Houston, Anita Baker, but we feel she's much more than that also." Other projects include a possible collaboration with none other than Kiss.

But Full Force is most excited about doing James Brown's next record. Says Lou: "They approached us with it, and forget about it, we went crazy. Why? Because James Brown, we learned so much from him. He's the man. His last album was ok, but I think he has to get that black base right back again, like how he used to have...What we're going to do is just turn the tables. All these rappers are scratching James Brown records and sampling his voice and his horn parts for their records. We're going to sample and scratch James with James. That should blow a lot of people away." Blowing people away, and making hit records, is what Full Force is best at.

TALENT ON STAGE

James Taylor

THE UNIVERSAL AMPHITHEATER, LOS ANGELES - Hoards of James Taylor disciples stormed the Universal Amphitheater during the performers recent five-night stand at the venue. "Disciples" is an appropriate term for Taylor fans, their enthusiasm and genuine appreciation of the music is remarkable. In the past few years Taylor has proved to be an amazing concert draw, consistently successful at the box office, often when touring without an album to promote - the power only a handful of artists obtain (i.e. Sinatra and The Stones).

Fans continually come to see Taylor - his music is the staple of a generation, yet is timeless; his dry, on-stage wit and personable attitude instantly endears him to an audience. No elaborate light shows, no dancing girls, no conceptual concert theme - just J.T. and company playing their brand of precise pop and rock. This time around, Taylor is on the road promoting his soon-to-be-released Columbia LP Never Die Young.

Taylor was joined onstage by some longtime travel companions: the exceptional team of Rosemary Butler and Arnold McCuller on backing vocals; Lee Sklar, bass; Dan Dugmore, pedal steel, banjo and guitar; pianist/keyboardist Don Grolnick weaved a dreamy landscape (Note: Grolnick served as producer on the Never Die Young project); Carlos Vega

Tony Terry

By Lee Jeske

NEW YORK — "As far as direction and album concept goes," says Tony Terry, whose debut album, "Forever Yours," and first single, "She's Fly," were recently released by Epic, "I really didn't know which direction to go into, so I just tried to touch bases with a couple of genres, or as many as we could, and tried to give a little bit of something to everybody, to see how that works."

"Forever Yours," however, doesn't come off as "a little of this and a little of that," but rather as a cohesive and interesting blend of styles: gospel music, Prince, hip-hop, and Sly Stone all peacefully coexist. Like so many other contemporary black singers, Tony Terry's roots — musical and otherwise — are in the church.

"I grew up in the church and I listened to all the gospel greats and people that came out of the church, like Donny Hathaway and Stevie Wonder. I just used to close myself up in a room and listen to those guys for hours and hours, learning every riff from the records. And I just started incorporating the riffs — stealing them, basically — into my own thing."

Tony Terry's parents had a gospel group, the Freedom Gospel Singers, around the D.C. area when Tony was growing up, and at an early age Tony became part of the Freedom Gospel Junior Singers.

"I started singing secular music, I guess, at about 14 or 15, and when I was 17, I did a musical in Washington called Don't Bother Me I Can't Cope, at the Ellington School of the Arts. From then on I pretty much decided that I wanted it to be my career. So I moved up to New York after graduating from Ellington to do a gospel musical called Black Nativity. That led to a series of musicals at the Theatre of the Universal Image in Newark, New Jersey and then went on to do Mama, I Want To Sing, an off-Broadway musical. And that brings you up to what I'm doing now."

Well, not quite. How he got his record deal has yet to be discussed.

"I was hanging out with a band at Danceteria after a show and I was singing for the lead singer, Flame, who's also signed to Epic. Ted Currier ["Forever Yours" producer] was standing behind me, and he asked me to do it again. And I did, and he introduced himself and gave me a card. And I pretty much kept in touch with him over the months. One thing led to another and here we are."

But what about paying dues? What about the grind, the sweat, the blood, the tears? Couldn't have been that easy, could it?

"Actually, it was," says Tony Terry. "The hardest part — and it wasn't even so difficult — was the actual recording process. It was a breeze. To tell you the truth, I haven't really paid any dues. I was blessed — I was put in the right situation at the right time with the right people. You know, I moved up here to New York anticipating maybe five or six years to get to the point where I'm at now. I was prepared to do that, because I figured it was going to take that long to make contact and get to meet people. But it all actually happened in, I would say, pretty much less than a year. I wish it was as easy for everyone. Unfortunately, it isn't, but I'm glad it was in my case."

"Sweet Potato Pie" and the title track, "Never Die Young," both receiving unanimous approval from the crowd. Also an obvious crowd pleaser was a splendid rendition of Cubby Checker's "The Twist."

The audience was then treated to a variety of Taylor classics — some old, some new: "Don't Let Me Be Lonely Tonight," "Only A Dream In Rio," "That's Why I'm Here," "Mexico," "Walking Man," "Carolina In My Mind" and, of course, "Fire & Rain." The crowd remained on their feet throughout the fiery, extended treatment of the showstopping "Steamroller," which was easily the musical centerpiece of the evening. Taylor then closed things out with encores of the Carole King composition

THANK YOU FOR TALKING TO ME — "A.F.R.I.C.A." is the name of the new 12 inch by Stetsasonic on Tommy Boy. Shown above are the Brooklyn rap posse and the Reverend Jesse Jackson.

FREE YOUR MIND — The Reverend Jesse Jackson's visit to the black-ruled countries of Southern Africa bordering South Africa serves as inspiration for Stetsasonic's protest-cum-geography-lesson rap, "A.F.R.I.C.A." It features the STET, Jesse Jackson, and Nigerian master drummer Olatunji. Slow and serious, the track thunders along, listing the African countries that oppose the Pretoria government and providing a rallying cry for black unity. A community oriented band, Stetsasonic's purpose is to inform and motivate: the sleeve is crammed with info and suggestions for mobilizaion. As with Artists United Against Apartheid's "Sun City" all royalties will be donated to the Africa Fund. "A.F.R.I.C.A." is the best kind of propaganda: timely, morally sound, and danceable.

WEIRD SCENES INSIDE THE GOLDMINE — Three weeks ago Ritchie Cordell opens up his copy of Cash Box and finds that Billy Idol's cover of "Mony Mony" is #2 to Tiffany's #1 cover of "I Think We're Alone Now." Cordell wrote those songs twenty years ago for Tommy James and the Shondells, and the highest they got then was #3 ("Mony Mony," 5/4/68) and #4 ("I Think We're Alone Now," 3/11/67).

Cordell, who has worked with Tommy James fan Joan Jett and is now shopping around a band called Hide The Babies, is the stuff of which business legends are made. He started writing for James because, "I was going out with this girl who was roommates with Tommy James's girlfriend at the time, and I had this song for him that she liked, so she brought it to Tommy. That was 'It's Only Love,' and Tommy liked it and then Henry Glover produced it." It went top 40, and three months later "I Think We're Alone Now" went top 4. "And then we had another record out after that, which, in our madness we took 'I Think We're Alone Now' and turned it over on the tape recorder and played it backwards and this song came out. Really. It was called 'Mirage.' It wasn't the chorus to 'I Think We're Alone Now,' but the whole verse all the way until you get to the chorus, if you play it backwards you hear 'I Think We're Alone Now' in German. What we were hearing was 'Mirage' in German so we just matched the phonetical words. We were lazy at the time, I guess. Or crazy, I dunno. Both, I guess."

Mad genius is more like it, because say what you will about Tommy James, you got to give it up to him and guys that made his songs. James and the Shondells had 14 gold singles, and four gold and two million-selling LPs. It was called bubblegum because it was nothing more than mass produced disposable pop calculated to sell to kids (and what pop music isn't?), but like Ritchie Cordell says, "I'll always respect a #1 record."

ERRATA — That's Bill Murray pouring and Buster Poindexter holding the glass, pictured in the video for "Hot, Hot, Hot." A few weeks back East Coasting erroneously reported that Buster lives on Staten Island. He doesn't. He lives in Manhattan. Also, Russ Tolman's Totem Poles and Glory Holes is on Down There Records, which is distributed by Restless. Also, Public Enemy were "dissing" (slang for "showing disrespect") the Beastie Boys, not "missing" them, as was reported last week. Gotta get new fact checkers...

ROCKING (AND RAPPING) AROUND N.Y.C. — The new Girlschool record, Nightmare At Maple Cross (GWR/Profile), is as good a hard rocker as I've heard all year, tougher (more fun, too) than Red Kross...Hip-hop wizards Mantronix have moved from Sleeping Bag to Capitol...Dana Dane's funny and funky debut Dana Dane With Fame (Profile) sold a phenomenal 400,000 copies in it's first weeks on the charts and has been climbing ever since...Kool Moo Dee's How You Like Me Now (Jive/RCA) has sold over 200,000 in it's first few weeks out...Sun Ra & His Intergalactic Arkestra are coming to The Bottom Line December 5 to do a tribute to George & Ira Gershwin...

kept the pace with his fanciful drum-work; and sessionman extraordinaire Bob Mann delivered some incredibly driving guitar maneuvers.

Upon opening the first of the evening's two sets with "Something (In The Way She Moves)," Taylor received a more than generous welcome from the crowd. He continued, running through renditions of "Looking For Love On Broadway," Buddy Holly's "Everyday," "Your Smiling Face," "Only One" and the Carole King/Jerry Goffin classic "Up On A Roof."

After a brief intermission, the band returned with baking vocalist Rosemary Butler taking center stage to belt out a superior rendition of the Lavern Baker 1956 chestnut "Jim Dandy." Taylor then ran through two new tunes from the upcoming LP:

QUINTUPLE TALENT-The release of Angela Winbush's solo album, Sharp heralded the very special debut of one of the world's very few quintuple threats. The petite St. Louis native, songwriter, producer, arranger, performer and instrumentalist showcases each of those gifted abilities on her album, a feat which didn't phase her at all.

Angela stated, "I've been engaged in one or more of those musical activities the better part of my life." Angela, formerly one-half of the hit duo Rene & Angela says, "writing, arranging, singing, playing all the instruments and producing it myself, It was all in a day's work." What did concern her was making a distinct mark as a solo creative entity. "Coming from a duo there was a question as to which one of us was the musical force. Sharp answers that!"

This enormously gifted lady has scored chart topping success all over the country with her smash debut single entitled Angel. Sharp is Angela's tour de force. She gives her voice a real workout, exploring not just its highs and lows, but its different textures as well, from high-flying purity to husky whispers.

Album highlights include the title track, performed with a snap crackle and pop. Sensual Lover's languorous beat and romantic vocals are sensational. Angela unbridles her voice with sincere emotion and musicality. Ronald Isley, the album's executive producer and Angela's personal manager, pays back the singer for her work on The Isley Brothers number 1 Smooth Sailing album co-writing and co-production by duetting on Hello My Beloved. The song's mood and inspired performance are spine tingling.

Angela Winbush

Sharp is by far not the only jewel in Angela's career. She brings impressive credentials to her latest project. After graduation from Howard University Angela was invited to Los Angeles to sing with Stevie Wonder and his band Wonderlove. She also performed back-up vocals and piano at sessions for various artist, including Dolly Parton. Angela didn't restrict herself to performing, she branched out, writing songs for Dolly Parton, as well as Lenny Williams and Alton McClain & Destiny for whom she penned I Have Learned To Respect The Power Of Love. That majestic track became a number 1 hit for Stephanie Mills in 1986.

Angela expanded her capabilities by co-writing and co-producing Janet Jackson's first album. In 1980 she partnered with Rene Moore for three albums on Capitol Records before moving to Polygram Records, where the duo broke through in a big way with 5 smash hits from one gold album Street Called Desire

Now solo, Angela is the most sought after producer and songwriter in the business. Even with the release and success of Sharp, she is looking ahead to new projects, i.e. writing songs for such diverse artists as Chaka Khan, Willie Nelson, Barbra Streisand and a Bill Cosby Film vehicle entitled Leonard VI. Angela's diverse talents will continue to make her a major force in the music business for many successful years.

INTERNATIONAL TALENT-Through the years, from one period to the next, the ingredients for greatness among jazz singers have remained fairly constant. Many singers have possessed the requisite tools and raw materials (range, technique, control and unique phrasing) but few have shaped them into durable structures capable of withstanding critical scrutiny, weathering changing public tastes, and most important, upholding the verities of jazz itself, improvisation and swing. To succeed, indeed to survive, the jazz singer must match aptitude (talent, training and experience) with attitude.

Dianne Reeves' aptitude, a contralto voice with a three and a half octave range has been exhibited on two previous albums and on bandstands with Harry Belafonte and Sergio Mendes. Yet just as important, she has the attitude to match. Her reverence for tradition coupled with an openness to contemporary instrumentation and accompaniment, results in an album whose repertoire is personalized by the important people, places and events in her life. On her debut recording for Blue Note Records, Dianne Reeves the singer stakes her claim to inclusion among the jazz-vocal elite.

Dianne Reeves

The album is already drawing accolades from music critics. She has become the first black female jazz singer to travel to Russia. She was among a select group of professionals from the entertainment industry invited by the Center For Soviet-American Dialogue to participate in a special symposium held there recently.

In addition to participating in symposium sessions, Reeves performed, with two Russian Musicians, at the Hall Of Musicians Union for 400 musicians and vocalists. Her duet with Kris Kristofferson on Let It Be Me was hailed as one of the highlights of the series of concerts organized during the trip.

Dianne Reeves' concert performances in Russia are being documented by an American film crew for later television programming. Dianne is a mega talented lady with a lot of class and sophistication.

ON JAZZ

WHAT GIVES? - Let's talk about CDs. Specifically, let's talk about this weird thing happening that reminds me of that gas station business of whether they're charging you a surcharge for paying with a credit card or whether they're giving you a discount on cash.

Example: Steve Lacy's "Momentum" (RCA Novus). In the press release for "Momentum" - a wonderful record, if you ask me - Lacy says, "It was designed for a CD, so we're talking about an hour of music. The extra time allows the band to stretch out more." Good news that - Lacy's got a great sextet and they could stretch out all day as far as I'm concerned. But, rather than put out a short double LP and a single CD (something that, for example, Impulse! has done with the new Henry Butler album), they've hacked two cuts off the LP: "The Gaze" (11:10) and "Utah" (6:58). Seems to me that rather than giving the CD buyer extra cuts, they're selling the LP buyer a condensed version of the album. The CD buyer isn't getting something extra, the LP buyer is getting something less.

Example: Mose Allison's "Ever Since The World Ended" (Blue Note). The CD of this delightful album boasts two extra tracks: the sixth song, "Indian Summer" (3:52), and the last song, "Tumblin' Tumbleweeds" (3:46), bringing the CD length up to a modest 45:43. Now is there a good reason why those two tracks weren't just put on the LP, which, if things haven't taken a serious turn for the worse recently, could have easily accommodated 45 minutes?

Example: Sonny Rollins' "G-Man" (Milestone), another terrific album. The CD has an extra track, "Tenor Madness" (12:10). With a bit of juggling, however, "Tenor Madness" could have been included on the LP, giving the LP a Side A of about 21 minutes and a Side B of about 23 minutes. That would fit, right?

Example: "Big Joe Turner: The Rhythm and Blues Years" (Atlantic), an essential collection, is offered as a double LP or a single CD. Trouble is, the CD is short four tracks, one of those cases of the LP buyer getting more than the CD buyer and the CD collector, who is a completist, being forced to avoid the CD or acquire both the LP and CD.

So people are getting "extra track" crazy. It's okay, in my opinion, to add some extra tracks to a CD, but not okay, in the same opinion, to give the LP buyer a hard time by forcing him to purchase a shoddy product. In other words, truly extra tracks - like alternate takes, like an extra track that doesn't really break up the album's momentum and, no matter what, won't fit on the LP but is too short and too insignificant to support a double LP - are fine, but record producers - and, particularly, artists - should make sure that their buying public is being offered their best possible product. Where possible, I think, LPs and CDs should be kept in sync, even if it means adding a second LP to the package. Anybody disagree?

SONY JAZZ MASTERPIECES - Just kidding, just kidding, that's Columbia Jazz Masterpieces. In any case, that series keeps plowing steadily along, with their fifth release just out, six digitally-remastered albums (and CDs with no extra tracks) that deserve the attention of all and sundry. They are: Miles Davis's classic 1958 "Milestones," Duke Ellington's wonderful 1951-52 "Uptown," "Benny Goodman, Volume II: Clarinet A La King" (1939-41 tracks), "The Essential Count Basie, Volume II" (brilliant 1939-40 sides), and a pair of compilations, "The Bebop Era" and "The 1930s - The Singers."

PRINCESS' LAINE - Princess Anne offers a gloved hand to Cleo Laine and John Dankworth on the occasion of the recent Wavendon AllMusic Awards.

PASSING ON - Harold Vick, a hard-edged post-bop tenor saxophonist with a long list of credits, died November 13 of a heart attack in New York at the age of 59. And Walter Iooss Sr., a veteran jazz bassist who put in time with Dizzy Gillespie, Billie Holiday and others, died November 15 of a heart attack in New York at the age of 73.

CATCH THE WAVENDON - The Wavendon AllMusic Awards (see photo above), the brainchild of Cleo Laine and John Dankworth (an offshoot of their Wavendon All-Music Plan, a non-profit school for up-and-coming musicians), were given out in London recently and, among those cited, were Gil Evans, Tristan Fry, Django Bates and Michael Tilson Thomas. Gil Evans, on the precipice of his 75th birthday, seems to be raking in the honors (and gigs) recently.

THEIR BUDDY - The Buddy Rich Band is about to hit the road for their first gigs since the death of Buddy Rich. Steve Marcus, Buddy's longtime tenorman, is at the helm and Danny DiImperio is in the hot seat. They hit New York's Blue Note, November 27-29, with Anita O'Day.

JAZZ FEATURE PICKS

CHICAGO FIRE - Terry Gibbs/Buddy DeFranco - Contemporary C-14036 - Producer: Richard Bock

These two bebop veterans burn like crazy here, a live date that captures some of the loose ambience of the finer small group sides of the '30s and '40s.

DOUBLE IMAGE - Frank Morgan/George Cables - Contemporary C-14035 - Producer: Richard Bock

An intuitive, intelligent, heartfelt album of alto/piano duets, similar in spirit to Cables' duet albums with the late Art Pepper.

POPBOP - Richie Cole - Milestone M-9152 - Producer: Ben Sidran

Alto madness at its wackiest, as Cole, in his Milestone debut, essays a typically meshugah assortment of material: bop, pop, and schlock.

ROSEMARY CLOONEY SINGS THE LYRICS OF JOHNNY MERCER - Concord Jazz CJ-333 - Producer: Carl E. Jefferson

Another delectable installment of the "Clooney Sings..." series. As usual, a swinging septet of Concordians backs her and, as usual, good taste prevails.

LIVE AT THE ALLEY CAT - The Frank Capp/Nat Pierce Juggernaut featuring Ernestine Anderson - Concord Jazz CJ-336 - Producers: Chris Long, Frank Capp, Nat Pierce

The sleekly swinging West Coast big band - filled with sleekly swinging West Coast big band vets - in a full-bodied session, half of which features the full-bodied vocals of Ernestine Anderson.

LOVE IS A RUSH - Wilton Felder - MCA 42096 - Producers: Joe Sample, Wilton Felder

Crusaders saxman in a revved-up (mainly) instrumental R&B album.

BRAZILIANA - Manfredo Fest - DMP CD 459 - Producers: Manfredo Fest, Tom Jung

Scintillating acoustic fusion with a decidedly (and attractively) Brazilian bent.

Kick, Australian hitmaker's INXS latest offering, continues in the bands proven winning formula of delivering quality pop/rock, and should firmly solidify the band in their growing popularity and quickly elevate them to superstar status. Lead vocalist Michael Hutchence captivates with his inimitable, haunting vocal style - delivering top-notch performances on each track. The presumed full-digital recording is excellent, providing crystal clear entertainment throughout. Best tracks include "Guns In The Sky," "New Sensation," "Mediate," "Mystify," "Kick" and the current single "Need You Tonight." Watch for Kick to garner INXS a new breed of fans to add to their ever-growing list of followers.

FRANK ZAPPA

HOT RATS

FRANK ZAPPA
Hot Rats - Ryko (RCD 10066) -
Producer: Frank Zappa

Ryko has just re-issued another batch of Frank Zappa's classic recordings on compact disc; Freak Out!, Cruising With Ruben & The Jets, Uncle Meat, and, most notably, Hot Rats. Hot Rats, originally released in 1970, was recorded using the analog process and mixed and mastered digitally, resulting in a superb product which will undoubtedly please new and old Zappa fans alike. This edition of Hot Rats has the distinction of containing extended versions of "Willie The Pimp" and "The Gumbo Variations," different than those found on the original LP. Note: Ryko has just issued a 3" CD single featuring Hot Rats' "Peaches En Regalia," "I'm Not Satisfied" from Ruben & The Jets, and "Lucille Has Messed My Mind Up" from Joe's Garage

BANGLES LENSE CLIP – On the set of their newest video, "Hazy Shade of Winter," the Bangles relax with director Jim Shea (Psychedelic Furs, Lisa Lisa, Charlie Sexton). This is the debut single and video from the new Twentieth Century Fox film, "Less Than Zero," which premiered nationwide November 6. The video features the Bangles in performance amid a maze of TV monitors playing back their performance footage as well as scenes from the film. The concept is taken from one of the movie's biggest production numbers, the extravagant Christmas "Think Pink" party.

COMIC RELIEF '87 – HBO's Comic Relief '87, held November 14 at Los Angeles' Universal Amphitheater, proved a successful follow-up to last year's debut benefit comedy extravaganza. A stellar cast featuring some of the top names in comedy banded together and donated their time and talents to help raise money for America's homeless. Among the dozens of performers seen on the four-hour event were Robin Williams, Bob Goldthwait, Arsenio Hall, Billy Crystal, Whoopi Goldberg, Judy Tenuta, Shelly Long, Dudley Moore and Peter Cook.

HBO broadcast the event free to cable households nationwide, providing an 800 phone number for viewers to call in and make donations. In all, over $2 million dollars was raised to aid America's homeless. Funds raised during the evening are headed for health care for the homeless projects in major U.S. cities.

HEY, PIGS! – The lovely Judy Tenuta, the self-proclaimed "giver goddess, fashion plate, saint," is pictured here, backstage at HBO's Comic Relief '87, with her steady... the Pope. Actually it's Eugene Greytak masquerading as his holiness, and no, they're not dating either. Judy's debut album Buy This, Pigs! is out now on Elektra records - buy it! Hubba-hubba!

PAUL REISER: OUT ON A WHIM – On Saturday, December 5, HBO is scheduled to debut On Location: Paul Reiser: Out On A Whim. The HBO exclusive presentation chronicles the journeys of comedian Reiser in his quest for "The Main Thing" (a.k.a. the meaning of life). Cameo appearances by the likes of Teri Garr (ooh, baby!), Carrie Fisher, Elliot Gould and Brooke Adams are featured throughout. Additional playdates for Out On A Whim include: December 9, 15, 18, 27 and 31.

LA BAMBA, BUDDY HOLLY STORY DELAYED – RCA/Columbia Pictures Home Video have announced a change in the release date for the upcoming releases of La Bamba and The Buddy Holly Story. The original release date, as reported here in the 11/14 issue, had been January 28, 1988. The new date is January 21, 1988.

TWO VERSIONS OF LES MISERABLES DUE – Key Video has announced plans to issue two classic versions of the smash musical hit Les Miserables on home video on January 21, 1988.

The first is a 1935 black and white version starring Fredric March and Charles Laughton. This version was directed by Richard Boleslawski and nominated for Best Picture in the 1935 Academy Awards. Available in VHS and Beta formats.

The second is the 1978 color version, directed by Glenn Jordan, which stars Anthony Perkins, Richard Jordan and Sir John Gielgud. Available in VHS HiFi stereo and Beta HiFi stereo.

The two film versions of Victor Hugo's timeless 18th century novel will hold a retail tag of $59.98.

CHRIS ELLIOT'S FDR - A ONE MAN SHOW – Late Night With David Letterman comedian Chris Elliot is set to star in Cinemax Comedy Experiment: Chris Elliot's FDR - A One Man Show, set to debut on the Cinemax network on December 26. The program is a parody of one-man show's, humorously chronicling the life of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Sportscaster Marv Albert and comedian Bob Elliot co-star in the exclusive Cinemax special. Other playdates include: December 29 and 31.

All the news that's fit to print! Until next week...

THE TERM CHARTBREAKER REFERS TO THE HIGHEST DEBUTING LP IN THE TOP 100.

UK BUZZ

DOWN BY THE LEVY - After 14 years of campaigning for a levy on blank tape, the British record industry has had its high hopes dashed by the government. The proposal for a tax on home taping to compensate copyright holders was dismissed because the government said it would be an unfair imposition and would "involve the government in the collection of a new tax."

This contradicts earlier policy statements from the government which favored the idea of a levy. The news was greeted with dismay by BPI director general John Deacon. "The government appears to be continuing to condone institutionalized theft," he said. BPI figures show that an estimated six times as much music is copied as is sold in record shops.

The industry admits it is now unlikely the government will be forced to change its mind. But it is continuing pressure on the government for royalties to be paid on record rentals. This has been a growing market in shops and libraries in the UK since the introduction of the CD.

DAT'S ALL - The industry gloom over the blank tape levy was partially lifted by news that Sony's introduction of Digital Audio Tape players into the UK, originally scheduled for late October, has been postponed.

The delay is believed to be connected with the poor sales of DAT players in the Japanese home market, where the record industry, in keeping with the policy of its western counterparts, has refused to release DAT software. The UK industry is fiercely opposed to the introduction of players until they have a built-in anti-copying device.

Sony's intentions are unclear, but it is still possible that it might launch the system in Britain before Christmas, though it looks increasingly likely it will wait until the spring.

MCA MD - MCA/UK has a new managing director, Tony Powell. This follows the departure of David Ambrose. Powell's message is that many changes have to be made before the company has the potential to be among the UK market leaders.

Powell left Phonogram as marketing director after 19 years with the company. He comments: "My first priority at MCA is to talk to the staff. It would be wrong of me to say that I do not envisage changes in the staff. It is not a matter of a new broom sweeping clean, it is a matter of a new person coming in who has then to assess the company in terms of what it has to do in the marketplace and the staff it has to do that job."

Powell hopes that MCA will follow the phenomenal success of Phonogram. But, at the moment, MCA's success lies in how quickly the US acts can be translated in the UK market.

MCA/UK has no designated head of A&R, and Powell remarks: "The key to any record company's success is the A&R department, and, already, with my new colleagues, we are putting together a formidable team."

10 TIMES - The two Virgin subsidiaries, Siren and 10, are being brought together under one roof, in the wake of the news that managing director Richard Griffiths is to leave 10 to oversee Virgin Publishing's US arm. Both companies are now based in the Siren office, and David Betteridge, the Siren MD, is heading both operations. However, Siren and 10 will retain separate identities and separate A&R teams. Betteridge is responsible for signing chart-topping acts Cutting Crew and T'Pau, who have spearheaded Virgin's assault on the American market.

The Pet Shop Boys

WEST END BOYS - The Pet Shop Boys are making a full-length feature film, as yet untitled. They describe it as a surreal adventure, and it will be directed by Jack Bond, whose credits include TV arts documentaries on Salvador Dali and Catherine Cookson.

The Pet Shop Boys, who always have to insert a certain amount of sleaze, have chosen Barbara Windsor, a star of the Carry On series of smutty British movies, to play the female lead. British TV stars Joss Ackland and Gareth Hunt also make appearances. PMI expects a simultaneous video and cinema release.

BUZZING AROUND - Debbie Gibson made a quick promotional visit to London, where she described herself as a cross between Whitney Houston and Madonna. When the sugary-sweet 17-year-old was asked what her worst vice was, she said, "I cut my hamburgers in half and that seems to really annoy people."

News From Japan

TOKYO - Nippon Columbia's net income for the first six months of this year was down 13% from the same period last year. The net income for the period ending June 30, 1987, was 584,000,000 yen ($4,170,000). The revenue for the period was reported as 41,067,000,000 ($293,000,000), an increase of 2.9% over the comparable months of 1986. The record group revenue showed 16,543,000,000 yen ($116,000,000), an increase of 4% over the previous year. Breaking it down, analogue discs showed 1,109,000,000 yen ($70,900,000), a decrease of 37% from the same period of last year, while CD's reported 5,342,000,000 yen ($38,100,000), a decrease of 12%.

The sales at the four main retailers in Tokyo, Yokohama, Nagoya, and Fukuoka in October in Japan were favorable with an increase of 10-15% over the comparable months of last year. CD's showed constant growth while records showed a slight growth. All retailers surveyed indicated that the main factors behind the high sales figures were the superstar releases of Michael Jackson, Boowy, and Yujiro Ishihara.

ALL OUR LOVE—GLADYS KNIGHT & THE PIPS—MCA—Known industry wide as the Ice Lady because of the coolness of her performances, even on the many uptempo hits during her brilliant career. Gladys Knight & The Pips are back with what this 20 year fan calls vintage Gladys and The Pips. Admittedly it took 30 minutes for me to get past the smooth ballad It's Gonna Take All Our Love which showcases the enormous talents of Gladys at her very best.

Chuck Hill And Kenny Day... Songwriters, For Sure!

The world of songwriting is intensely competitive. To succeed at writing a number one song is more difficult than being elected to the U. S. Senate! Well, the Grand Prize winners of the 1987 Kentucky Fried Chicken Amateur Songwriting Contest have surely thrown their hats into the ring.

Chuck Hill, 46, of Hopkinsville, Kentucky, is a part time employee at the Radio Shack store there. He also plays guitar and performs on weekend dates in the Kentucky-Tennessee area. Chuck has been writing songs for 30 years, and he commented on his winning... "I'd just about given up! That's why I almost didn't enter the contest. I really didn't think I had a chance."

Chuck Hill's composition is titled, "Lonely Lady". It's a song about a young girl who decided to leave home and find out about the world. She was disappointed with what she found out there. Chuck revealed something that every writer should remember, "This is the second time I have entered this song in the contest. It has also been turned down by a few publishers. Last year, Sylvia was the celebrity judge, and my song was a man's song. So, I thought I would resubmit the song this year because Eddie Rabbitt was the celebrity judge who would choose the two final songs."

Kenny Day is a 29 year old youth pastor at the Christian Center in Xenia, Ohio. He began writing songs as a hobby until about five years ago. He says he has had a few gospel songs recorded, so he got serious about a writing career. His wife Jackie, encouraged him to enter the contest and kept reminding him of the submission deadline.

Kenny's song is titled, "Over And Over". It is the story of a man who mistreated his wife, and the memory of his error haunts him. Kenny said that winning the contest was not only satisfying, but very helpful. "It has afforded me a great opportunity to meet people who are important and influential in the music business. That certainly can't hurt my future endeavors!"

Eddie Rabbitt chose the final two songs after the preliminary judging was finished. Eddie will record the two songs for Chuck and Kenny, and they will be distributed to radio stations nationwide. Eddie Rabbitt met with Chuck and Kenny in Nashville and discussed their songs and careers with them. They also appeared with Rabbitt on the popular "Nashville Now" TV show, had a cocktail reception held in their honor at Nashville's Union Station-Radisson Plaza Hotel, and received advice and career counseling from publishing company executives and the Nashville Songwriters Association.

Kentucky Fried Chicken and the Edelman Public Relations firm should be commended on sponsoring and administrating a rewarding contest. Colonel Harland Sanders, founder of Kentucky Fried Chicken, was a self-made man. He admired people with talent and a willingness to work hard. He offered those people opportunities, and his vision is kept alive and reflected in the contest's many past winners, some of whom are now famous songwriters.

ALBUM REVIEW

BILLY JOE SHAVER - Salt Of The Earth - Columbia, C 40903

If you're looking for some raw, uninhibited country and blues, you can find it in this LP by Billy Joe Shaver. In fact, the first cut, "Sweet Mama", will put you right where you want to be. The pickin' on this product will thrill you, too. This is honest and feeling, as only a super songwriter can perform. "Manual Labor" gives an insight to Shaver's humor. It's all here, including tenderness and religion... and, it will make a believer out of you, too!

ALBUM REVIEW

MARGO SMITH - The Best Yet - Playback, PL-13007

The unmistakable voice of Margo Smith sings out some country and cross-over classics! The arrangements are done as they should be, with all the instruments called for, including some super brass sounds. Margo sings 'em like she feels 'em, and she surely is feelin' fine! What a great selection of songs. From "Harbor Lights" to "Wheel Of Fortune", this LP is one fine product for country music memories.

OUT OF THE BOX

JOHNNY RODRIQUEZ (Capitol, B-44071) I Didn't (Every Chance I Had) (3:15) (Tom Collins-BMI; Collins Court-ASCAP) (B. P. Barker, K. Palmer) (Producer: T. Collins)

Johnny still has that vocal presentation which no one can mistake. He is one of the best at country music. This is a good "hook" song with solid country lyrics and a flowing melody. It's a ballad at a gallop, and very pleasing to the listener. Fine production to suit Johnny's style. Capitol has a fine artist, here, who has fan appeal all over the country...including our review panel.

FEATURE PICKS

SHENANDOAH (Columbia, 38-07654) Stop The Rain (3:40) (April, Ides of March, Lion-Hearted-ASCAP) (W. Holyfield, R. Leigh) (Producers: R. Hall, R. Byrne)

"Southern rain" seems to be a popular theme, lately. This one begins with a thunder effect and continues an interesting story with poetic lyrics. The vocals are perfect for the feel of the song. There's a touch of brass, called for by the lyrics. Finger pickin' acoustic runs are well-placed and highlights.

DONNA MEADE (Mercury, 888 993-7) Be Serious (3:22) (Cape May, Tree-BMI) (C. Curry, R. Layne) (Producer: B. Killen)

The clean, clear country vocal of Donna Meade is certainly the dominant force here. Donna sings this one with much more energy than the laid-back arrangement demands (and that's good). The song theme should be appealing to the ladies, and the repeat lyrics leave no doubt about the song's title.

THE MARSHALL TUCKER BAND (Mercury, 870 050-7) Once You Get The Feel Of It (2:46) (Larry Butler, Blackwood-BMI) (L. Butler, D. Dillon) (Producer: L. Butler)

Talk about songs with a "feel"...the Marshall Tucker Band has one here! It is smooth and professional all the way. Super harmonies with quiet background vocal shadows. We were across-the-board impressed with the production by Larry Butler. This one could catch on easily. Keep your eye on the charts!

ASCAP COUNTRY QUEEN AT CARNEGIE HALL. ASCAP member Reba McEntire (right), recently named Country Music Association "Female Singer of the Year" for an unprecedented fourth straight year, made her Carnegie Hall debut before a standing room only crowd last week in New York. On hand to greet Reba was ASCAP director of membership Paul Adler.

HILLBILLY DELUXE! Dwight Yoakam's second album on Reprise Records, has been certified gold by the R.I.A.A., signifying sales in excess of 500,000 units. The album features the hit singles "Little Sister," "Little Ways" and Yoakam's latest release "Please, Please, Baby." Hillbilly Deluxe joins Guitars, Cadillacs, Etc., Etc., in the country artists gold record catalog. Pictured, (l. to r.) NASHVILLE NOTE-ABLES

Minnie Pearl...one Of My All-time Favorite Ladies!

My mind may be thinking them, and my fingers may be typing them, but the words are coming straight from my heart! However, my heart may not have enough words of love and admiration to express my feelings toward Minnie Pearl.

On the evening of November 17, my wife and I were fortunate enough to be invited to the award dinner where Minnie Pearl (Sarah Cannon) was presented The Roy Acuff Community Service Award. The award, created to honor the Grand Ole Opry star in 1981, is sponsored by the Country Music Foundation and the Tennessean daily newspaper. It is given to recognize outstanding service to mankind by country music artists. Previous recipients were Kenny Rogers (1985) and Willie Nelson (1986).

Minnie Pearl was a unanimous choice for the 1987 award because of all her years of active involvement as spokesperson and fundraiser for charitable and humanitarian organizations, both locally and nationally. I could tell you about the nice things her friends said about her during the presentation, but I'm certain those dignitaries would totally agree with me when I say, "November 17 was Minnie's night... and this is Minnie's column!"

I have had the honor of meeting this gracious lady on a couple of occasions, but I've never had the pleasure of visiting with her at length. I'm not shy about saying that is one of my fondest wishes. I want to tell her that my Grandma and Grandpa first introduced her to me, through the radio, when I would spend Saturday nights with them on the farm. Through my love for them, and their love for her, I became one of her biggest fans. I learned a lot from Minnie Pearl long before I ever realized one of my all-time favorite moments...when I shook her hand and personally witnessed that addictive smile.

Minnie taught me humor and happiness. She taught me to be cordial to everyone, and to respect those who laugh with you, not at you. She taught me that humor can be clean and wholesome and still be just as funny. And, when I heard her say, "I'm just so happy to be here!", I felt the very same. I was happy to be in front of that old radio listening to, and joining in, on the laughter that Minnie Pearl drew out of a whole world of country people, like me. She and Roy Acuff made me proud to be a country boy!

I was never "just so proud to be anywhere" as I was to be, there, witnessing a night of country music history. As usual, Minnie Pearl was humorous and brought roars of laughter from the 100 dignitaries and special friends in attendance. She said, "I'm not going to be humble about accepting this award"... but, she was! She gave credit, for her success, to Roy Acuff... "who gave me my start in country music"...and other of her peers in the business, her friends and family, and especially to her devoted husband, Henry Cannon, who was recognized for his importance to Minnie by a standing ovation.

I would say, "God bless you, Minnie Pearl!", but those who know her would also know that to be redundant. God blessed Minnie Pearl long ago!

Joe Henderson

They went thataway, boys! That seems to be the message from Schuyler, Knobloch and Bickhardt's Craig Bickhardt (right), as Fred Knobloch (middle) disagrees with a, "No, I think they went thataway," and Thom Schuyler (left) just grins at all the insanity. The boys were riding the fence recently at Nashville's Harpeth View stables, posing for photos to promote their new MTM album, "No Easy Horses," and the single of the same title.

INDIE SPOTLIGHT

CHARLEY PRIDE (16th Avenue, B-70408) Shouldn't It Be Easier Than This(3:05) (Alabama Band, Wildcountry, Dejamus-ASCAP) (J. Jarrard, R. Giles) (Producer: unlisted)

The Pride of 16th Avenue captured our review panel again. Charley's vocal is come-to-be-expected great, and the song is an excellent choice. It's a mid-tempo product with a memorable solo female background vocal, too. Outstanding handling of production on a song which demands the producer's touch. Early reviews are saying this may be Charley's best yet, and we won't disagree with that. Keep 'em coming, Charley!

INDIE FEATURE PICKS

CALI McCORD(Gazelle, GAZ-011)Bad Day For A Break Up(3:26) (Frebar-BMI) (F. Kelly, R. Barlow) (Producer: F. Kelly)

Hey, this girl can sing country! Good, solid beat on this mid-tempo selection, with some not so ordinary phrasing. Cali gives a controlled, professional performance. Effectively simple production to permit Cali's vocal to dominate.

THE JOHNSTONS(Hidden Valley, H 1087 A)On A Good Night(3:36) (Charlie Monk, Bright Sky, Keith Stegall, April-ASCAP) (J. Weatherly, K. Stegall) (Producers: P. McMakin, K. Johnston, W. Johnston)

The arrangement and lead vocal bring memories of some early Alabama sounds. Instrumentation is full of "diamond" touches. The Johnstons give us some good harmony, and there is some abrupt phrasing, but well done. Interesting "turn around" arrangement.

DICK EDWARDS(Ho-Kus, U-20244M)Those Pretty Eyes(3:09) (Ho, Ho, Ho-Kus-BMI) (O. Hull, R. Jones, L. Voorhees, K. Roberts) (Producer: D. Edwards)

This English production may catch on with American radio. Dick Edwards is an award-winning vocalist in England, and we can hear why. The arrangement is purely classic Jim Reeves style, as is the song. We enjoyed it more than we were concerned with the commercial appeal.

DARK HORSE CONSENSUS

MARCIA LYNN - Don't Start The Fire - Evergreen, EV 1063

Marcia Lynn captured the Darkhorse Consensus, this week, with her fine rendition of "Don't Start The Fire." Well, it seems like Marcia has done just that with a bunch of stations out there. Some of those giving Marcia Lynn their votes for the hottest indie product were: WOFF, WVAR, KIXZ, WGVM, WMUF, KRLW and WQST.

"Battle Of The Heavyweights"...16th Avenue Records recording artist Johnny Russell (right) has challenged label-mate Little David Wilkins (left) to see who can lose the most weight during the 1987 holiday season. 16th Avenue label-president Jerry Bradley (center) is doing his best to keep the heavyweight hams in line.

RAPPIN' WITH THE WRITERS:

BOBBY FISCHER

Bobby Fischer began studying music and formed a band, which toured the country, at age thirteen. The youngest of five children, he was born and raised in Wilton, Iowa. At nineteen, he joined the Navy and began writing songs. He has never stopped. He has written one to three songs each week since 1955. If you figure that up, it amounts to a minimum of 2,000 songs!

Bobby has had over 600 of his songs recorded; more than 40 chart songs as a writer, producer or publisher; and 77 nationally charted songs as a record distributor with Fischer and Lucas Distributors, which he currently operates and owns in Nashville. The list of artists who have recorded Bobby's songs reads like a list of Who's Who in Country Music.

Bobby Fischer loves to co-write, as do many successful scribes, and he keeps a list of his co-writers. Presently, that list is three columns wide on a typed page. I'm very happy to say that my name is included on that list with many of the finest writers in the business. That proves another point about Bobby Fischer... he is not only talented and successful, he is benevolent and humorous.

Fetchin' Bones

CLUB LINGERIE, HOLLYWOOD

- You're driving along a comfortable road, one you've traveled before, perhaps going ten miles an hour too fast but you're not worried. Oh man, tape's over, gotta get a new one from the back seat. You rummage around, barely watching the road. Find the tape, out of the case, into the slot, look back up, and suddenly realize the traffic in front of you is stopped dead - not moving - and you're about to slam into the car in front of you at 50 mph. That split second, that moment of adrenaline cold-rush that fuses all the nerves in your body into a frantic mashing of the brake pedal, your last hope to save your forehead from the windshield, is what Fetchin' Bones' music is all about. In your face...

The Charlotte, N.C., quintet, sporting two new members, hot-footed into town last week for a gig at Hollywood's Club Lingerie, and nearly tore the roof off with a blistering set spotlighting cuts from their latest LP, Galaxy 500 (Capitol).

This band's strongest asset has always been its ability to blend the finest elements from their vast array of influences, as if the grinding, heavy blues of Led Zeppelin and Janis Joplin were accidentally mixed with the flammable core of punk's raw, bleeding energy. The spark of lightning-groove funk was added as catalyst, and Fetchin' Bones became the mutant baby of these unlikely alliances. Consequently, there is something very grab-bag and hard to pin down about their kinetic, jagged style, which translates best in a live environment.

The hot spots of Saturday (11/21) night's show came from Galaxy and the band's first LP (on DB Records), Cabin Flounder. "Sourpuss" set up a deceptively easy groove, then blasted off, while "Kingdom," also from the new album, screamed at a manic pitch on the edge of control. Lead singer Hope Nicholls cooked up her dangerous brew, consisting of equal parts Joplin, David Byrne, and the Wicked Witch of the West, and her strong, sexy, unaffected style is a welcome respite in this, the land of glitter.

Guitarists Aaron Pitkin and Errol Stewart, sharing the same barber as well as guitar licks, kept the focus on Nicholls by hiding behind masses of hair while scratching out the songs' rapid-fire, headlong melodies, and the rhythm section was tighter than tight throughout.

Early material that smoked on this night included the frenetic "Kitchen Of Life" and its partner "So Brilliant," where for four minutes of stunning, intuitive rock acumen, the earth stood still. So much for the death of punk... and so much more.

Rob Yardumian

"You've Got A Friend," as well as his own "How Sweet It Is" and "Secret O Life."

The only true disappointment one can encounter at a James Taylor concert is that of not hearing their favorite songs. During breaks one could hear the audience mumbling about the absence of such Taylor standards as "Sweet Baby James" and "Shower The People," to name a few. Taylor is truly a staple in the history of pop music. His compositions are timeless, modern-day standards if you will. Taylor, himself, put it best in his autobiographical song "That's Why I'm Here," when he sang "Fortune and fame such a curious game/Perfect strangers call you by name/Pay good money to hear 'Fire and Rain'/Again and again and again..."

Tom De Savia

Def Leppard

L.A. SPORTS ARENA - After a four year absence, Def Leppard finally returned to Los Angeles, and none too soon, as the town has been drowning in a sea of spandex and wimped-out glam metal.

Drawing on material from Pyromania and their latest release, Hysteria, Def Leppard rocked the Sports Arena for two hours, giving a balanced, well-paced show replete with lasers, fog, and impressive in-the-round staging and lighting.

But even without all the elaborate production, and forsaking the current trends in rock fashions (jeans and T-shirts were the order of the evening), Def Leppard's material is strong enough to stand on its own. They demonstrated a gift for dynamics on "Hysteria" and "Too Late For Love," and the ability to grab and hold the crowd's attention. There was ample opportunity for audience participation on "You're Bringing On The Heartache" and "Rock Of Ages." Encores included "Photograph" and Mitch Ryder's rave-up "Good Golly Miss Molly."

This is a band that seems to genuinely care about its audience and each other. Singer Joe Elliot took special care to keep drummer Rick Allen and guitarists Phil Collen and Steven Clark in the spotlight.

Opening for Def Leppard was Tesla, a relative newcomer to the metal scene. They gave a competent, but fairly predictable show. Given time and some distinctive material, they may eventually stand out from the crowd.

Gary Starr

Oregon

McCABE'S, SANTA MONICA - Not your typical venue for a show, McCabe's is brimming with the character of an old schoolhouse lined with vintage guitars, and a feeling you've been invited among a select few into someone's living room for an important event. The entire crowd appeared over thirty, and could easily have come on two huge busloads directly from Portland or Eugene, not displaying any trace of L.A. characteristics (flannel shirts and Paul Bunyan look-alikes were out in numbers). The band members had that same native northwest look, and could easily have just come from a week-long camping trip. If that was the case, however, they must have brought instruments with them. Lots of instruments. Collectively the quartet is proficient on over fifty different musical devices, creating a broad amalgamation of sound unlike any band around.

The set opened with "Innocente," a Ralph Towner composition from the newly released album for ECM, Ecotopia. In addition to his work with Oregon, Towner has been a prolific solo artist for the past fifteen years. He seemed equally comfortable on both guitar and keyboards, switching from acoustic six and twelve string guitars, acoustic piano and electric synthesizers. He is perhaps best known for his original compositions and innovative fret-work, giving us a quality dose of both during the show.

Drawing from the jazz tradition, the band is perhaps most regarded for their collective improvisations and commitment to pure acoustic sound. They have been incorporating synthesizers, however, both keyboard and wind driven, since 1983, the use of which seemed very natural, enhancing the sound during Saturday's concert.

"Innocente" had a sweet melody and some solo voyaging with a flavor very much like The Paul Winter Consort, of which the four original band members were a part before forming Oregon in 1970.

Tabla/percussionist Trilok Gurta is the foursome's only new member, replacing the late founder of Oregon, Collin Walcott. Ecotopia is the first recording with Gurta, whose playing was fiery and unusual, continually surprising the listener. His cymbal playing and "jungle scat-singing" on "Twice Around The Sun" was a notable highlight.

Windman Paul McCandless and bassist Glen Moore are the band's other original members. McCandless had about ten varied woodwinds, playing each with dazzling dexterity and melodic richness. Moore played with a fire of his own, stepping out several times and contributing his upbeat co-composition of "Peppy Link" to the set.

The rest of the evening included "Yet To Be," "Waterwheel," and an encore of "Icarus," originally performed with the Paul Winter Consort. A second unplanned encore followed due to the unswerving enthusiasm from the crowd.

The set had taken us into a lot of stimulating and bizarre territory, both old and new. Each player had exhibited virtuoso ability and a creative technical approach to his instrument, although unity is the most noticeable characteristic of Oregon. And while their styles encompass elements of jazz, Brazilian, African, and New Age Music, it's impossible to categorize. Oregon is still strong after eighteen years, a tribute to themselves and the vision of Collin Walcott.

Bally Midway's 'Dungeons & Dragons'

Pinball wizards will have the opportunity to enter the world of the fantastic in the new "Dungeons & Dragons" pinball game recently introduced by Bally Midway Mfg. Co. and featured in the factory's exhibit at AMOA Expo '87.

Fire breathing dragons, dragon's lair and musty dungeons are all part of the fantasy that's designed to bring the game to life; and, in addition, there's the patented high-tech Bally "Ball Blaster" flipper bats, new cabinet design and unique removable back box strobe feature.

"Everything about this new game is designed to attract players," declared Steve Blattspieler, vice president of sales, "from the optimum playfield angle built into a new cabinet design for maximum playability and revenue potential, to side cabinet art which is the finest in the industry."

The players' objective is to extinguish the dragon's flame and collect unlit portions. The flame is extinguished through the use of shield, dust and sword targets when lit. To regain lit targets, players must take the path that restores that weapon or slide down a magical lane that restores all weapons lost during the quest to extinguish the dragon's flame. Flame values are collected by entering the dragon's lair or outhole.

According to Blattspieler, the all new high-tech flipper design provides the player with a highly accurate aiming device for powerful precision shots. "We're also offering a ball 'teleport' mechanism - a new feature which 'captures' the ball in mid-play," he explained. "It provides ultimate player satisfaction as it sets the game up for multi-ball play through the illusion of ball teleportation."

The game abounds in skill shots and scoring action. There's the Dungeon Level Feature, for example, whereby the ball is sent up and around while the top flipper changes dungeon level from two to five time, increasing the playfield values accordingly. Also, Dragon Flame, Bell Tower and Extra Ball, the 1,000,000 Shot and many more.

The new model is available through factory distributors. Further information may be obtained by contacting Bally Midway Mfg. Co. at 10601 W. Belmont Ave., Franklin Park, IL 60131.

In its complaint, Arachnid is seeking an injunction, damages and attorney fees.

Atari's 'Xybots'

"Xybots" is a futuristic first-person maze game designed by Atari Games which, via new breakthrough technology, provides players with a unique 360-degree first-person playfield. The screen is split in half and each player's view is dependent upon his position in the maze. A color-coded panel and game character allows for instant identification by players. This two-player simultaneous configuration inspires both competition and cooperation between players; and the game has a continuous buy-in feature so that players can join in at any time, while add-a-coin encourages them to explore Xybots unlimited number of game play levels.

"Although the game's futuristic cabinet and dynamic screen graphics make it look high-tech, Xybots appeals to a wide variety of players," commented Mary Fujihara, director of marketing for Atari Games.

As for the play theme, Xybots takes

AAMA Charitable Foundation To Honor David Rosen

CHICAGO - American Amusement Machine Charitable Foundation president Joe Robbins announced that the Foundation will stage a major banquet during the upcoming American Coin Machine Exposition (ACME '88) trade show at Bally's in Reno, Nevada on March 9, 1988 to honor David Rosen, chairman of Sega USA. It is the Foundation's practice to periodically honor individuals who have made major contributions to the coin-operated amusement industry.

Robbins describes Rosen as "one of the real pioneers of our industry and one of the most respected individuals in coin-op. He has made a tremendous contribution to this industry over a more than 30 year period," said Robbins, "and we are delighted to be able to honor him. He is known, respected, and admired throughout the world wide coin-op industry."

Previous honorees by the Foundation have been Harry Williams, Michael Kogen and Bill O'Donnell.

Traditionally, the individual being honored selects a favorite charity to which the net proceeds of the banquet are donated. The 1987 banquet yielded a donation of $30,000 to Misericordia/Heart of Mercy in Chicago, a facility which provides opportunities for physically or mentally disadvantaged children and young adults.

Jaguar to be raffled

During the dinner honoring Rosen a 1988 Jaguar automobile will be raffled off. Tickets for the raffle will be priced at $100 each and Robbins advised that a maximum of 1,000 will be sold, with net proceeds being donated to qualified charities.

The American Amusement Machine Charitable Foundation is a non-profit organization headquartered in Alexandria, Virginia and established by AAMA for the purpose of raising and administering funds for scientific, education and charitable purposes.

AT THE WILLIAMS BASH - This year Williams staged its annual pre-convention distributor sales meeting at the posh Ritz Carlton Hotel where models of the new "Big Guns" pingame and "Gold Mine" shuffle alley were presented for all to see and examine in advance - before taking a second or third look on the exhibit floor. In addition, Williams' executives, including Marty Glazman, Larry Thrasher, Joe Gilbert and Leslie Ross, elaborated on the features of the new machines, the company's progress in the marketplace, future plans, and Williams' commitment to continue to produce games that are "built to last...and to enhance any location." The event drew a packed house, representing both the U.S. and overseas markets. Among guests from abroad were Hans Rosenzweig, president of Nova Apparate; and Salmon Didier of France, who brought a contingent of some 90 French operators to Chicago for the convention. Williams capped the evening with a buffet supper which everyone enjoyed and a gift to all who attended. Pictured in the accompanying photos are: (photo 1) a rare shot of Williams board chairman Lou Nicastro (r) with Hans Rosenzweig, president of Nova Apparate; (photo 2, l-r) Williams' sales veepee Marty Glazman, Monroe Dist.'s Norman Goldstein and Williams' general manager Larry Thrasher; and (photo 3, l-r) Python Anghelo, graphic artist/designer for Williams, Salmon Didier, and Mark Ritchie, designer of Big Guns.

place in the distant future on a planet over-run by a hostile civilization of robots called Xybots. The huge underground multi-level city created by the Xybots is composed of mazes with locked doors and transporters to connect different areas of the same level. Players must battle the Xybots and reach the exit elevator to advance to the next level. In the mazes, players find energy pods to restore energy, keys to open doors and coins to buy valuable supplies in the store. At the end of each level, players enter the store where supplies can be purchased. Some supplies are permanent, others are temporary and must be replenished.

On level 15 and every 10 levels thereafter, players must face the master Xybot who stands as sentry. Only by defeating the master Xybot, in a one-on-one duel can players advance to the next level. The penalty for losing is to be sent back a few levels.

Xybots was introduced at the recent AMOA convention and distributor shipments began the week after the show.

MUSIC, MUSIC, MUSIC! – Jukeboxes, in all varieties and configurations, were a dominant force at AMOA Expo '87. They've always been a part of the show, since its inception some 38 years ago. But for the past several years, the jukebox has been a 'take it for granted' product that's on display at Expo, attracting buyers but occupying a more or less secondary position to the multitude of other coin-op amusement machines that were capturing the operator's attention. The scene changed this year – dramatically – as showgoers flocked to the respective phonograph exhibits to view the latest machines and the new compact disc models that were showcased. AT THE EXPO BREAKFAST SESSIONS – On Thursday morning, November 5, prior to the ribbon cutting ceremony that signaled the opening of AMOA Expo '87, a number of manufacturers hosted breakfast meetings for their distributors to preview some of the equipment that would be showcased in the exhibit hall. A highlight of the Loewen America/NSM gathering was the annual presentation of awards for sales excellence, 1986-87, to three prominent members of the firm's distributor network. First place went to Mountain Coin-Phoenix, with Eldon Kingston and Don Waters accepting. George Sammons of Sammons-Pennington received the second place award and Ron Gold of Cleveland Coin accepted the third place award. Messrs. Kingston, Waters, Sammons and Gold are pictured (l-r) in photo 1. You will also see (photo 2) the new NSM Galaxy dedicated compact disc jukebox, (one of three new machines unveiled at the meeting) being demonstrated by engineering chief Rupert Mosinger of NSM Lions in West Germany, where the models will soon be going into production. The Taito America breakfast meeting drew a packed house of distributors – and the star of the show, of course, was the new "Operation Wolf", which went on to completely captivate the AMOA Expo audience in the Hyatt Regency's exhibit hall. Pictured with the game (photo 4, l-r) are Taito execs M. Suzuki (dir. of int'l. sales); A. Nakanishi (corporate advisor) and Yoshi Suzuki (executive veepee). New 'Arachnid Web' Face Plate Debuts At AMOA Expo '87

CHICAGO – "Arachnid Web" is an all new front face plate for all English Mark Darts games, surrounding the target with a dart-catching web. It was introduced by Arachnid, Inc. at AMOA Expo '87 as both an update part (#00-6000-34) for the Super 6 and #00-4500-34 for the 4500, 5000 and all models back to the 1000 for existing on location games as well as an option on new games available after November 5, 1987.

"We are very proud of Arachnid Web," stated company president Paul Beall. "It was the culmination of a lot of hard work on the part of our engineers, our plastic molding company, and our creative staff. We needed a high quality and efficient product. Arachnid Web is the successful result of all our resources working together to meet this goal."

Arachnid Web is durable, with one-piece construction and can be easily mounted to the game via the four dart head assembly bolts and four screws. Dart players will appreciate the Web's function in that it will snare darts that just miss the doubles ring as well as darts that miss by two or three inches. Operators will notice that the time of each individual game play will decrease because players will no longer be picking up darts off the floor or searching for lost darts.

Arachnid has applied for patent on the Arachnid Web. Further information may be obtained by contacting Arachnid, Inc. at 6421 Material Ave., P.O. Box 2901, Rockford, IL 61132-2901.
