Atlantic Inks Deal With East-West

LOS ANGELES – East-West Records, a newly-formed label headed by former WEA International C.E.O. Nesuhi Ertegun, will be distributed by Atlantic Records. In all territories outside the U.S., the label will be distributed by WEA International.

Nesuhi Ertegun, brother of Atlantic Chairman Ahmet M. Ertegun, worked as a jazz producer for Atlantic before a 17 year stay as head of WEA International. As a producer Nesuhi was responsible for many influential recordings by artists such as Charles Mingus, John Coltrane, Ornette Coleman and The Modern Jazz Quartet.

The first two releases from the New York based East-West label will be a new studio album by The Modern Jazz Quartet, For Ellington, and a recording of J.S. Bach's Goldberg Variations by synthesist Joel Spiegelman.

The announcement was made by Ahmet M. Ertegun, who commented, "Nesuhi's extraordinary production work during his Atlantic years contributed greatly to making our label a world leader in the jazz field... It is a privilege for all of us at Atlantic to be associated with this new beginning."

East-West founder and President Nesuhi commented, "When I made the decision to bow out of WEA International last year, my intention was to return to my first love; the discovering, nurturing, and producing of artists."

Nesuhi Ertegun will continue as President of the IFPI and President of Special Projects for the WCI Record Group.

Atlantic 40th Anniversary Concert Gets Those Reunion Blues

NEW YORK – In the end – after 12 hours at Madison Square Garden – three-quarters of Led Zeppelin (plus the son of the other, deceased, quarter) held forth at the gala Atlantic Records 40th anniversary concert, May 14, a concert that featured a mini-history of the label and which was broadcast in its entirety in England and in a hefty five-and-a-half-hour chunk on HBO and the Westwood Radio Networks satellite.

The Led Zeppelin reunion was one of many highly-touted reunions that were supposed to occur at the event – a fund-raiser for the new Atlantic Records Foundation – but rumored Rolling Stones, Who and Cream reunions were not to be. No matter, what everybody got was a long, rambling Whitman's Sampler of an extraordinary record label. From the old, rhythm and blues base of the label (LaVern Baker, Ruth Brown, the Coasters, Rufus Thomas, Carla Thomas) to the contemporary offspring of those pioneers (Debbie Gibson, Stacy Q, Rachele Caprini, Levert) to a whole lot of shakin' in-between (Genesis, Foreigner, Iron Butterfly, Herbie Mann, Bobby Short, Yes, Manhattan Transfer, Nu Shooz, Laura Branigan, the Spinners, Miki Howard, Vanilla Fudge, Three, Sam Moore), Atlantic Records artists new and old came and went. HBO will be repeating some of the concert throughout the next few weeks, and there is a possible boiled-down 90-minute network special in the offing.

Arista Black Music Month Sampler To Benefit UNCF

NEW YORK – Arista Records' annual Black Music Month campaign – which last year earned a CEBA (Commercial Excellence in Black Advertising) Award – will include a sampler album, to be sold commercially for the first time, with proceeds to benefit the United Negro College Fund. The album, with liner notes by Martin Luther King III, will contain cuts by Whitney Houston, Dionne Warwick, Jermaine Stewart and other members of Arista's black music roster.

Warwick Foundation To Hold AIDS Benefit Weekend

NEW YORK – Dionne Warwick's newly-formed Warwick Foundation will hold an AIDS Benefit Gala Weekend, June 10-12 in Washington, D.C., to raise money, and awareness, for AIDS educational and health care services. Rosalynn Carter and Betty Ford will be the Honorary Chairpersons for the event, which will feature receptions, workshops, concerts and an auction.

"My hope is that the Warwick Foundation will provide leadership to the philanthropic community on the issue of AIDS," said Dionne Warwick, who is a U.S. Ambassador of Health. "More foundations must become involved in the AIDS fight, and I challenge them to join me in funding programs which educate people about the precautions to be taken to avoid infection and services which provide humane care and comfort to people with AIDS and support and counseling to their families."

For information about the weekend, contact the Warwick Foundation at (202) 628-1800.

Fox To Air All-Star Mandela Concert

NEW YORK – "Freedomfest – Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Concert," a six-hour all-star concert to honor the imprisoned leader of South Africa African National Congress, will be broadcast live in its entirety from London's Wembley Stadium, June 11, by the Fox Broadcasting Company. The show will air from 5:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. eastern time across Fox's entire lineup of affiliates. Ken Ehrlich will produce the program.

The current lineup of performers includes Phil Collins, Whitney Houston, George Michael, Dire Straits, Simple Minds, Whoopi Goldberg, The Eurythmics, Alvin Ailey Dance Co., Ashford and Simpson, Harry Belafonte, Chubby Checker, Joe Cocker, Natalie Cole, Billy Connolly, the Fat Boys, Roberta Flack, Gregory Hines, Chrissie Hynde, Freddie Jackson, Miriam Makeba, Hugh Masakela, Maxi Priest, Salt-N-Pepa, David Sanborn, Sly and Robbie, Stephen van Zandt, UB 40, Denzel Washington and Bill Wyman.

RAPPIN' LOCALLY - For this, Cash Box's first rap issue, Points West scurried and dug up some info on a couple of up-n-coming local rap acts:

First up is Synthicide/Enigma recording act Metal MC. Enigma's ever-quotable Tom Cording called us up and said "A rap issue! A rap issue! A rap issue wouldn't be complete without our Metal MC!" Yeah, sure Tom... Points West received a full-page "rap" bio on this quintet, and we wanted to share some highlights with you. It reads in part: "Some people say rap gotta come from New York/If you think that's true, then your bein' a dork...They were influenced by Spinal Tap and Led Zep/But the people on the streets are gonna give them their rep/'Cause the records that they're making, you will have to agree/Come from L.A.'s deffest - they're the Metal MC" Whew!

Anyway, the band currently have a 12" single, entitled "Sink Or Swim," on the streets and are gearing up to release Born To Party, their first full-length waxing, on June 24. The day of the LP's release, Metal MC will be performing at the Harley Davidson East Coast Rendezvous in Albany, New York for an audience of 20,000 bikers. Whoa...

Next up we have Geffen act 7A3. This trio of relocated east coast rappers are currently enjoying attention via their "Party Time" 12". A majority of the attention for the band is gathering via the single's B-side, a powerful number entitled "Why?"

The lyrics in "Why?" deal with gangs and senseless acts of gang-related violence. Sample: "It's a dead-end road, a suicide ride/Where so many go and only few survive/Through the eye of a gun you live your lives/Influence the young to join in your despise... Why must a brother kill another for the color of a rag?"

Congratulations are in order to both 7A3 and Geffen Records for enforcing, with the release of "Why?," the positive effects that rap music can bestow on today's youth.

7A3 is featured on the current Colors soundtrack LP with "Mad Mad World." Interestingly enough, the band debuted at #1 with "Mad" on England's NME (New Music Express) rap chart - no small accomplishment. A full-length 7A3 LP is due at summer's end, be on the lookout...

PANGAEA - Sting will bow the initial releases from his new I.R.S.-distributed Pangaea label on May 30. The label was formed in association with Christine Reed, former Vice President of A&R for CBS Masterworks, and I.R.S. Records founder Miles Copeland.

"Creative Anarchy" is how Sting describes the philosophy behind Pangaea. "Pangaea is an extension of my feeling that music shouldn't agree with what's imposed on it - the labels, the ghettos," he stated in a press release.

"The three of us have been working to support new trends in music," stated Copeland. "Pangaea will allow us to pool our resources. We plan to be non-discriminatory in our signings, picking up people from pop, rock, jazz, classical and avant-garde worlds - our signings will represent our diverse backgrounds, musical interests and our dedication to new, exciting music."

The first batch of releases will feature: Steve Coleman's Sine Die, Voices Rising by Fareed Haque, Astor Piazzolla's Tango Zero Hour, Vertical's Currency and Days And Nights Of Blue Luck Inverted from Kip Hanrahan, and Conjure: Music For The Texts Of Ishmael Reed which features songs and performances from Taj Mahal, Allen Toussaint, Carla Bley, Lester Bowie and others. On July 11, look for Igor Stravinsky's L'Histoire du Soldat, and albums from Kennedy-Rose and Michael Convertino.

HIGH BIAS - Take a good, long listen to John Kilzer's Memory In The Making (Geffen). Featured tunes include Kilzer's "Green, Yellow And Red" (which was covered by Rosanne Cash on her brilliant King's Record Shop) and the current AOR up-n-comer "Red Blue Jeans." Guests on the LP include Cash and Rodney Crowell. Check it out!

Until next week...

Gregory Abbott

LOS ANGELES - In 1986, Gregory Abbott unveiled his debut album on Columbia Records, Shake You Down, to instant media recognition and public notoriety. The LP became an instant success - achieving platinum status in no time; "Shake You Down," the first single, topped both the pop and B/C singles charts. Gregory Abbott became the artist development story of the year.

Now, two years later, Columbia has issued I'll Prove It To You, Abbott's long-awaited second LP. Abbott wisely chose to take time recording his crucial second album, carefully avoiding the dreaded 'sophomore slump' that commonly plagues performers following up a smash debut. The album, entirely written, arranged and produced by Abbott, draws from a variety of styles and influences: from the hook filled "Runaway" to the bluesy "Prisoner Of Love," from the uptempo ballad "Crazy Over You" to the dreamy, yet powerful title cut. Abbott explained his decision to incorporate the international melting pot of influences that are found on his latest waxing: "I was influenced by the musical styles and techniques I experienced during my travels while promoting Shake You Down, especially Brazilian percussion and the advanced Japanese technology. I decided to expand my sound and take some chance. I wrote the songs for the album in Brazil, Japan, Portugal and New York City, so it definitely reflects a world sound.

"I had a lot of fun on this album, exploring different recording techniques, chord changes and vocal arrangements. As I worked abroad, I picked up many foreign phrases, so I had fun with 'Two Of A Kind' [a track on the LP] and used some Spanish, French and Portuguese on the chorus.

With the release of I'll Prove It To You, Abbott should establish himself as a bonafide S-T-A-R. "The success of Shake You Down certainly changed my life," Abbott explained. "It allowed me to participate on the highest level in the music business and make an impact all over the world. To go to a country where I've never been before and communicate through music to people who often don't speak English - that was an awesome feeling. ...the highlight of the Shake You Down experience was the joy on the fans' faces when they saw me. Music makes me happy, when my music makes someone else happy, it's total fulfillment."

Despite what Abbott's new album title suggests, he has nothing to prove - only goals to surpass.

Irving Berlin's 100th Birthday: Wasn't It A Lovely Day?

By Lee Jeske

NEW YORK - Irving Berlin's 100th birthday, May 11, began with a group of celebrants serenading America's greatest songwriter in front of his Beekman Place town house. Berlin, a recluse for 20 years, didn't appear at a window to wave, but it didn't seem to matter. Irving Berlin - one of the century's very greatest artists - was 100 years old. The achievement of living for a century was far outweighed, however, by the achievements of his pen - the words and music to some of the most enduring songs imaginable: "White Christmas," "There's No Business Like Show Business," "God Bless America," "Oh How I Hate To Get Up in the Morning," "Blue Skies," "What'll I Do," "Always," "Puttin' on The Ritz," "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody," and some 1,500 others.

Irving Berlin's 100th birthday ended with a glittering concert at Carnegie Hall (which is a couple of years younger than Berlin), a concert that will be aired this Friday (27th) on CBS Television. The variety of the entertainers - from Frank Sinatra to Willie Nelson to Marilyn Horne to Ray Charles - was equaled only by the variety of the songs they sang. The highlights are too numerous to mention: Tommy Tune's "Puttin' On The Ritz," Sinatra's "Always" and "When I Lost You," Tony Bennett's "Shakin' the Blues Away" and "Let's Face the Music and Dance," Nelson Carter's "Alexander's Ragtime Band," Rosemary Clooney's "Whit-

Audio Two/MC Lyte

By Joe Levy

NEW YORK – From the planet of Brooklyn in the universe of New York City comes hip hop crew Audio Two and rapper MC Lyte. As MC Milk Dee says in Audio Two's hit single "Top Billing" (the #1 most requested rap on New York urban radio stations WBLS and Kiss-FM), "We're gifted and we're going far."

So far that bit of boasting ain't no joke. Beginning with a string of singles on their father's independent label, the brothers that make up Audio Two, 18-year-old Milk Dee and 19-year-old DJ Gizmo, have landed a distribution deal with Atlantic and turned First Priority Records into a nascent rap empire. Their third signing, MC Lyte, had one of the most critically acclaimed 12-inch singles of 1987, the tough street rap "I Cram To Understand U (Sam)." She has a strong new LP, Lyte As A Rock, and works to break the barriers between new-music and rap with an appearance on the Sinead O'Conner single "I Want Your Hands On Me." Audio Two has their own album, What More Can I Say?, and appear on soca star Arrow's new single "Groove Master." They recently signed five new acts, and hope to mount a First Priority tour within the next year.

The story of Audio Two, MC Lyte, First Priority Records begins some ten years ago, when Milk Dee and Gizmo got their first set of turntables. "My mother bought a set for herself," says Giz. "It was ours but she had to say it was hers so we wouldn't break it up. She bought two turntables, no mixer, and an amplifier. We used to mix from 'auxiliary' to 'phono.' It was a trick."

Christmas," Leonard Bernstein's hilarious version (sung mind you) of "Russian Lullaby" and a "Russian Lullaby" parody, Carrison Keillor standing dead still and reciting the lyrics to "All Alone," things like that. Some things seemed a bit out of joint – a Broadway medley with Bea Arthur, Barry Bostwick and Maryann Plunkett, a jazz-styled medley with Joe Williams, Billy Eckstine and Diane Schuur – and a couple of performances that fit brilliantly into their respective performers' live shows – Willie Nelson's version of "Blues Skies" and Ray Charles' versions of "How Deep is the Ocean" and "What'll I Do" – seemed a bit out of place, a bit clunky.

But there was an amazingly thick aura around the whole affair – which was a joint benefit, with Berlin's blessing, for the ASCAP Foundation and Carnegie Hall (Berlin is the last surviving ASCAP founder; the Association was formed in 1914). I mean, 100 years! Hell, Willard Scott has stacks of Polaroids of 100-year-

Audio Two – Milk Dee (l) and Gizmo

MC Lyte (l) and DJ K-Rock

"That's how he got his name, 'Gizmo,'" explains Milk. "We really didn't have sets and stuff, and whatever we could use or get he would fix it to make it something we could use." The brothers got into deejaying at block parties, and built a solid reputation. "On Staten Island we were the hottest thing before we even had a record," says Giz. From there it was only natural to capitalize on their growing popularity by making a record, so they worked on demos, eventually releasing "A Christmas Rhyme" on a label owned by a friend of their father's.

olds, but the fact that Irving Berlin – a man who has been a legend for longer than Frank Sinatra has been alive – was alive and, reportedly, well, just a short stroll to the east of Carnegie Hall...well, it boggled the mind.

But the mind was more boggled by the songs. One man – he wrote the words, he wrote the music, he held all the publishing rights. "Marie," "Easter Parade," "Say It Isn't So," "Cheek To Cheek," "Anything You Can Do," "This Is The Army, Mr. Jones," "I Love A Piano," "You Keep Coming Back Like A Song," it just doesn't end.

And when the aisles of Carnegie Hall filled with Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, with the U.S. Army Chorus and a troop of soldiers filling the stage, and Marilyn Horne came out and delivered a majestic reading of "God Bless America" – hell, you just had to be there. It was corny and thrilling all at once. It was America. It was Irving Berlin.

Irving Berlin is 100 years old. Wow!

AFRIKA BAMBAATAA – The Godfather of hip hop knows that when you're looking for the perfect beat glasses like these help.

BAM'S FUNK THEOLOGY – Going way back: Afrika Bambaataa was there when it all started, around 1974, before The Sugar Hill Gang's "Rapper's Delight" (said to be the first rap record, 1979), before Grandmaster Flash was working block parties. Bam and a handful of now legendary Bronx disco deejays (Kool Herc, Pete "DJ" Jones) are credited with popularizing the style of record cutting and mixing that led to rap.

Bambaataa has always recognized the social and political implications of hip hop, as a source of pride and power and as a tool for change. New musical structures, dance steps, or graffiti styles demand new ways of thinking, or as George Clinton puts it, "Free your ass and your mind will follow." In 1974 Bambaataa formed the Zulu Nation, an organization that encouraged street gang members to turn their energies to positive community and musical pursuits and provided a focal point for the rappers, breakdancers, and graffiti artists that together formed hip hop culture. He turned his energy to recording in 1982, pioneering electro-funk (and helping to launch the career of producer Arthur Baker) with "Planet Rock." The song's mixture of rap beats and Kraftwerk synths set up the paradigm for Bambaataa's career: barrier breaking cultural fusions. Working at various times with the groups Soulsonic Force, Shango, and Time Zone, and with collaborators like James Brown, Yellowman, and John Lydon (aka Johnny Rotten), he's covered any number of styles, from straight hip hop, to funk, to hip hop/punk.

Bambaataa's newest record, The Light (Capitol), is credited to Afrika Bambaataa And Family. The family includes guest stars UB40, Nona Hendryx, Boy George, Yellowman, Sly & Robbie, and Parliament Funkadelic alumni George Clinton, Bootsy Collins, and Sly "Mudbone" Fox. A collection of uncut funk and world beat reggae-zouk, The Light has the communal, funk-for-all, jammin' for liberation vibe of classic P-Funk. That may surprise a few fans. "A lot of people try to categorize me," Bambaataa said in an interview last week. "Saying, 'You the godfather of hip hop, why you not sticking to strictly to rap?' Or, 'You start electro-funk, why are you not keeping to electro-funk?' Well, I try to show everybody, although you call me Godfather of hip hop, but I got my, you know, my mind has many horizons. That's why I had to form other groups, like Shango, Time Zone, Soulsonic Force, to put my mind through other different paces. And I'm trying to tell people this album here is not really a hip hop album, it's more like a singing funk, all different elements of funk. On the go-go, on to the heavy funk, on to certain soca, reggae-funk. I'm just telling rap groups, if you want to sing, sing. If you want to get with another artist and do something, do it. Bringing two different backgrounds and cultures together, maybe you might open up to new fans."

Asked about the current state of hip hop, Bam focused in on the ganster-street thug ethos that has attached itself to the music (as typified by The New York Post's coverage of rap concerts, Schooly D, and the reported violent incidents that have led Manhattan clubs like The World to stop featuring rap). "There's a lot of problems that are happening in hip hop, the same as happen in heavy metal or other rock type music. The violence and a lot of clubs closing their doors to hip hop. I feel that a lot of the artists are going to have to start speaking either on record or to their audience right out, or they might find themselves having no venues to play for an audience or stuff. And it's also going to take radio stations to get involved with being really more open to the people and talk on matters like this, dealing with violence at a hip hop party or street gang violence, or things like that...It's starting to get real serious. A lot of these artists are going to have talk to their crowds. Either through records, like KRS-One [of Boogie Down Productions] did on "Stop The Violence," [from the new By All Means Necessary], or like Stetsasonic does on their concerts."

Bambaataa saved his highest praise for Public Enemy, the rhythm radicals who mix Black Panther politics with devastating beats and who are, no joke, the greatest rock band in the world. "I feel they're trying to bring back black consciousness, which I feel the black people need again. I feel the 70s has put not just black people to sleep, but all people in America to sleep. With disco everybody said, 'Oh, we're together, we made it through the 60s, the hippies, the civil rights, the Viet Nam war, and let's party, party, party, and get rid of the funk and all that.' And here comes the 80s telling you it's still the 60s. There's violence again, people want nuclear disarmament, demonstrations are happening all over the country, racism is back up like it was, as big as hell, there's a lot of racial violence happening. So I feel the 90s is going to be like crazy. All this stuff is heading right into the 90s. And we got to remember we heading for, supposed to be, the space age, after 2,000. And we sure don't need all this stuff. We need to get down to the real science, about getting rid of diseases and what's really happening on Mars and these other planets and stuff. Time to get down to serious science. Get rid of hunger. There shouldn't be nobody being starving in none of these countries now. Every country should be helping to elevate agriculture, and teach other people from deserts how to make some land, using the water resources for energy. There's a lot of stuff they's just not really talking on." Afrika Bambaataa, though, is spreading the word.

TERENCE TRENT D'ARBY
Sign Your Name (4:35) - Columbia (38-07911) - Virgin-Nymph Music-Young Terence Music/BMI - T.T. Darby - Producer: M. Ware-T.T. Darby

Yes Virginia, there is an heir to Marvin Gaye. Terence Trent D'Arby takes a song and sings from the inside-out. Even a superficial Terence would be better than most; you can't deny his fluid voice. This is a mellow do-wop'n tune that delivers what we expect from this young superstar. Should score heavily across the board.

OUT OF THE BOX

TAYLOR DAYNE
I'll Always Love You (4:18) - Arista (AS1-9700) - Auspitz Music-Lucky-Break Music/ASCAP - J. George - Producer: R. Wake

Here Taylor slows it down and shows us her beefy voice in a tender moment. This is a sincere and simple tune, and she ranges across technical and emotional peaks like few dance/pop stars can. From the album Tell It To My Heart it's a pleasure to know that the success of this dynamic young performer will continue. Hit on CHR, Urban, Adult Contemporary.

FEATURE PICKS

JONI MITCHELL - My Secret Place (3:17) - Geffen (7-27887-A) - Crazy Crow Music/BMI - J. Mitchell - Producer: J. Mitchell-L. Klein

Peter Gabriel lends a hand on this gorgeous song, mimicking Joni perfectly in verse lines. Mitchell's work has emotional impact. Important and vital music.

RONNIE LAWS - Smoke House (3:51) - Columbia (38-07787) - Skeeterman Music/BMI - R. Laws-R. Henderson-J. Nettlesbey - Producer: R. Laws

A mean, lean instrumental groove with about as choppin' and funky a base as we've ever heard. Outstanding track.

AEROSMITH - Rag Doll (2:50) - Geffen (7-27915) - Aero Dynamics Music Pub. Inc.-Calypso Toonz PRO-Irving Music Corp./BMI-The Makiki Pub. Corp.-Knighy Knight Music adm. Arista Music/ASCAP - Tyler-Perry-Val-lance-Knight - Producer: B. Fairbairn

There's a spicy drum effect at the very end of this rockin', hit single. Apparently the boys were in a strip joint and convinced a couple of dancers to let them play their bare bottoms. Slap-ity, slap, it's a rhythm track!

SADE
Stronger Than Pride - Epic (OE 44210) - Producer: Sade - Bar coded

After a three-year absence from the recording studio, Sade returns, as cool as cream. This new album spotlights the percussive Afro lounge-jazz and impeccably controlled vocals that are her trademark. The single, "Paradise," is effortlessly breezy, while other tracks flirt with a mid-tempo dance groove. With its discreet horns, pulsating congas and sly, sinewy bass, the whole record radiates an easy grace that programmers and consumers alike will be unable to resist.

OUT OF THE BOX

BOZ SCAGGS
Other Roads - Columbia (FC 40463) - Producer: Bill Schnee - Bar coded

Boz is back, with a tastefully layered cocktail of blue-eyed soul and hard-edged California rock. Scaggs collaborated with street-pop Jim Carroll on several of these tunes, and they're the most challenging songs on the album. (Scaggs has never been more focused than on the bitterly nostalgic "What's Number One?") The rest is precision pop of a pleasing sort, with a solid foundation in R&B.

FEATURE PICKS

GREGORY ABBOTT - I'll Prove It To You - Columbia (FC 44087) - Producer: Gregory Abbott - Bar coded

The would-be heir to Al Green follows his debut smash with an enjoyable collection that ranges from R&B to funk to soul to blues. Abbott's falsetto, his flashes of humor and the funky looseness of some of the arrangements give this plenty of personality.

JULIO IGLESIAS - Non Stop - Columbia (OC 40995) - Producers: various - Bar coded

The Americanization of Julio is almost complete on this seamlessly lush and romantic platter. The orchestrations and singing are as smooth as molasses, while the lyrics stick to familiar "sensitive playboy" territory. Naturally there's a duet - with Stevie Wonder - and it's a highlight.

GLORIA LORING - Full Moon/No Hesitation - Atlantic (81852-1) - Producer: George Duke - Bar coded

Diversity is the key here, as multi-talented Loring covers jazz, gospel, rock and up-to-the-minute synth-pop, all in a voice that is breathtaking. This album is sure evidence that "adult music" doesn't have to be creaky.

ROD STEWART - Out of Order - Warner Bros. (9 25684-1) - Producers: R. Stewart-A. Taylor-B. Edwards - Bar coded

Stewart's collaboration with Andy Taylor is his best work in years, producing a sound that is reminiscent of early Faces run through a U2/Duran Duran sound processor. It's alternately fierce, bluesy, sweeping and danceable. The single, "Lost In You," is like "Maggie May" reconstituted for the '80s.

The agreement, which will be a tax-free exchange of shares, provides that Lorimar Telepictures shareholders would receive .415 of one common share of WCI for each common share of Lorimar. The companies' preliminary agreement was announced on May 10, and the full pact was announced on May 17, 1988.

Arriving at London Airport last Monday, Bruce was refused entry into Britain, where he was supposed to have opened that night at the Establishment, a private membership club. Bruce appeared at the club last April. The refusal to let Bruce perform was seen as an outgrowth of his arrest in Hollywood recently on two charges of possessing narcotics, both pending against him, rather than his liberal use of four-letter words on the nightclub floor. He is also appealing a conviction in Chicago on obscenity charges, for which he was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000. Back at New York's Idlewild Airport after being barred from England, Bruce said that the British authorities asked him why he hadn't registered as a narcotic user. His reply was that he wasn't a narcotic user and had never been convicted of using narcotics...Editorial: Patterns, trends, rages...as soon as you're convinced that an idea is uncommercial in the record business, you turn around and find that it's the new trend. One such theory that has existed for a number of years is the one that emphatically states: "Girls Just Don't Sell." Yet a glance at the present day charts so thoroughly disproves this "fact" that it's hard to believe it was an industry-wide axiom in the first place.

THE GODFATHER - Since this issue is focusing on rap music I felt it was imperative to do something special on the an industry legend, James Brown. His music, style, showmanship and overall persona has been copied, more than any artist in the history of the entertainment business. Dating back to 1956 when he scored with his first top ten hit, Please, Please Please released in 1956, the man has always been a leader. With 94 top 100 singles, James Brown is the second-biggest chart performer in history, right behind Elvis Presley and far ahead of The Beatles. On the R&B charts, James has placed: 100 singles, 54 in the top ten and 17 have reached number one. He is a charter member of the Rock And Roll Hall Of Fame, two time grammy winner, 1965, best R&B recording, Papa's Got A Brand New Bag, and 1986 best R&B performance, Living In America.

"All you copycats out there, get off my tip! 'Cause I'm James Brown with Full Force I ain't takin' no lip!" Ladies and gentlemen, the haaaardest working man in show business gets busy. James Brown does it to death with the Full Force songwriting/performing/production team on I'M Real. Their collaboration marries one of the most prolific young groups—responsible for hits by Lisa Lisa, Samantha Fox, UTFO, The Weather Girls and themselves—to the man who can rightfully claim to have started it all.

In one master stroke, I'm Real answers all the borrowers of James' classic grooves and beats them at their own game. The title song (the lp's first single); the scratchy-record-party atmosphere of Static; guest star Maceo Parker blowin' as baaaad as ever in Keep Keepin'; the hard go-go funk of Time To Get Busy; James' own production of It's Your Money all serve notice that the Godfather Of Soul is runnin' the joint.

I'm Real is also a labor of love from each member of the Full Force team: Bowlegged Lou, Paul Anthony, B-Fine, Shy-Shy, Baby Gerry and Curt-t-t. The Brooklyn group's sweet a capella Tribute to James opens the album. "James has always been an inspiration to us. We dedicated our second album to him and we play his records all the time, we have always felt that he is the man," say Bowlegged Lou.

James Brown's legendary status made the group somewhat nervous at first. "We were bugging," Lou continues. We knew we had come up with strong enough material to put him right back in the thick of things. But hey, James Brown is a star. He tests you. He played with us a little bit, checked us out. After being with him in the studio for awhile, though, we fell into each other's groove. The biggest compliment we ever got was when he said, 'Wow, y'all did it. Y'all did your homework.' Nothing ever comes close to the feeling we got that day."

His profile has been boosted by his film appearances, (The Blues Brothers, Doctor Detroit and Rocky 4) and the wholesaling of his soul workouts into street repertoire. James' enduring power as a performer came into sharp focus January 23, 1986, the night he was named a charter member of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. He has been making records and influencing popular music for more than 30 years. With his latest LP, I'M Real, it all comes full circle. As James proclaims, "I'm real! I'm Bad! Ain't nobody out there good enough to take the things I have." The Godfather is back and headed for the top again!

TEACHER'S RAP - The following was written by a Los Angeles school teacher who uses the rap methodology in his classes: It's no secret that an educator needs to plan lessons that are geared towards the students' interest. As an elementary school teacher in South Central Los Angeles, that interest is rap music.

We rap with our spelling words. We rap with our times tables. Rapping develops oral language skills. Most of all, rapping generates an interest in school. I have students in my room who are non-readers. I type out the lyrics to their favorite raps, and they listen under headphones and "read" along. By doing this, they are learning to make relationships between the spoken word and the printed word. It's amazing what a little creativity and a turntable can do. Rap music is the heartbeat of the inner city. By incorporating rap in the school curriculum, an educator is tapping into a major artery, and reaching children who have traditionally been thought of as "unreachable."

RAYMOND RAP

I drive the other teachers crazy cause my classroom always rocks, and my kids chew gum as long as they don't bebox. My students think I'm fresh cause I can rap too, I got to tell my homeboy "I rap better than you." I got some Kool Moe Dee glasses and I dig Jazzy Jeff, White Boys, Salt-N-Pepa, L.L.'s pretty fresh. Every since I saw Colors I been spinning Ice T, he's the only one I know who raps better than me. The whole school year I been rapping and I sang, To make my kids smart so they wouldn't join a gang. Now they think school's a blast, even homework's O. K., Most of them know that banging's not the way. Music's what I use, rapping is my tool, The best place for rap music is right in the school. The above was written by Christopher Clarke of Raymond Avenue School.

ON JAZZ

only on this) are Jazz From the USSR, a sampler featuring all sorts of artists, including Igor Butman, the saxophonist who recently emigrated to the U.S. (and the subject of a recent On Jazz); In Swing Time by Oleg Lundstrem & His Orchestra, a big band that has been around for a long time and which sounds a little like the bands of Stan Kenton and Thad Jones/Mel Lewis; and Stairway To Seventh Heaven by the David Azarian Trio, sort of a Bill Evansish unit whose music is pretty and delicate and worthwhile. Glasnost what you do, it's the way how 'cha do it.

BOPPING AROUND - Atlantic has just reissued three items from its catalogue on CD: Chick Corea's Inner Space (originally a double-LP reissue of a Corea Vortex LP and a Hubert Laws Atlantic LP, now a single CD minus two tracks); Sonny Stitt Plays Bird, with two extra tracks; and Bags and Trane, the Milt Jackson/John Coltrane collaboration complete with the three tracks that were later put on something called The Coltrane Legacy... This sounds crazy, I know, but a discography of trombonist Frank Rosolino has been published in Brazil by Roberto L. Machado. It's 107 pages long and available for US$10 by writing to Caixa Postal 1142, 6000 Fortaleza, Brazil... The recent All Japan Jazz Aid Festival - held at Tokyo's Nippon Budokan Hall and featuring such Japanese jazz stars as George Kawaguchi, Terumasa Hino and Eiji Kitamura - raised $160,000 for Nippon Television's "Save the Children" Telethon fund... Dan Ferguson has been named program coordinator at Van Nuys, CA's Grove School of Music. Speaking of Grove, bandleader Rob McConnell, who'll begin teaching there this fall, will make three audition stops this summer: New York (July 8), Chicago (July 15) and Garland, Texas (July 18). Call (818) 940-9400 for the full story... The Paul Winter Consort will team up with the USSR's Dimitri Pokrovsky Singers for a 20-city tour, beginning in late-June at New York's Cathedral of St. John the Divine... Speaking of tours, Chuck Mangione is in the midst of a grueling 50-city tour in support of his new Columbia album, Eyes of the Veiled Temptress... For those who are interested in the roots of avant-punk-jazz-funk, Carthage has just whipped together a compilation of the music of Defunkt, the Joe Bowie-led band that, in the early '80s, got down!!!! The album is called Avoid the Funk/A Defunkt Anthology, and it features a couple of numbers with all three Bowie brothers (Joe, Byron and Lester) tooting their own horns.

PASSING ON - Chet Baker, whose icy trumpet and vocals defined cool jazz in the '50s, died May 13 in Amsterdam after a fall from a hotel window. Baker's face told his story - a once pretty, James Dean-like face that, over the years, became lined and haggard and old before its time. Baker's bouts with heroin and alcohol, his frequent trips to prison, and his ability to make enemies amongst his fellow musicians are well known, but there's no denying the aching heart and soul behind his trumpet-playing and singing. Best known for his work with Gerry Mulligan during the '50s, when Baker was in good musical form - as he was on-and-off throughout his career - his was a singular jazz voice. Chet Baker was 59. Nappy Lamare, the original guitarist in the Bob Crosby band, died in early May at the age of 82.

HELLO CENTRAL... - ...get me Doctor Jazz. Or so said CBS Special Products, which has entered into an agreement with the Teresa Gramophone Company for the purchase of the entire Doctor Jazz catalogue, along with certain masters from Signature and other labels owned and operated over the years by Bob Thiele. As part of the deal, Thiele becomes A&R consultant to the line; John Birge has been appointed product manager. Doctor Jazz has built up a small, sturdy catalogue over the last few years - lots of Teresa Brewer (Mrs. Thiele) records, some exceptional previously-unissued Benny Goodman and Duke Ellington, plenty of other stuff. Twenty-five Doctor Jazz items, in fact, are being readied by CBS Special Products for a "major new push" in the fall.

PLAY A SIMPLE MELODIYA - Mobile Fidelity Sound Labs has sat down and dealt with the Soviet Union. We're not talking arms here, we're talking CDs. Mobile Fidelity has just released three jazz items from the catalogue of Melodiya, the official Soviet record label; the first of what MFSL promises will be "an exclusive and intensive series of the USSR's finest jazz musicians." The first three CDs (we're talking CD-

Rap: A MAJOR Topic

By Joe Levy & Tom De Savia

LOS ANGELES — This week there are 15 rap LPs on the Cash Box album chart: three of them are gold, two are platinum. This alone should indicate that the genre known as rap cannot simply be dismissed as a fad any longer.

In fact, the most prominent news in the growing world of rap music is perhaps the amount of notoriety the genre is gaining from major labels: Jive/RCA's DJ Jazzy Jeff & The Fresh Prince with He's The DJ, I'm The Rapper (#7 bullet B/C, #38 bullet pop), the Warner Bros. soundtrack for Colors (#23 bullet B/C, #46 bullet pop), and Boogie Down Productions' By All Means Necessary (#19 bullet B/C, #60 bullet pop) are the most notable movers at this time.

Since Columbia signed the Def Jam project, other major labels have followed suit recognizing rap's importance. Other recent notable pacts include Warner Bros. with Cold Chillin', Atlantic with First Priority, and Strong City, distributed by MCA's reactivated UNI label.

In signing with Cold Chillin', Warner Bros. acquired a rap empire headed by Marley Marl, whose stars include M.C. Shan, Big Daddy Kane, Roxanne Shante and the already chart proven Biz Markie. The Big Daddy Kane LP, Long Live The King - due in early June, is expected to be a monster release which should cross over the rap market into the mainstream following the success of such artists as LL Cool J and Kool Moe Dee.

Atlantic's deal with First Priority gives them access to the street sounds of such acts as Audio Two, MC Lyte and The Alliance. As an independent, the label - then known as Priority Records - had two major hits with MC Lyte's "I Cram To Understand U (Sam)" and Audio Two's "Top Billin'."

Strong City, which is distributed by MCA's rejuvenated UNI label, boasts a roster which includes Busy Bee, Don Baron and Ice Cream T.

Each of these labels began as small independents in different regions of New York: Cold Chillin' in Queens, First Priority in Brooklyn and Strong City in the Bronx. With the majors clearly eager to join the party - all indications lead one to believe that many more indie labels, based in places like Philadelphia and Miami, are looking ripe for major distribution.

Mantronix

By Joe Levy

NEW YORK — Mantronix is hip hop at its most scientific, a rhythm army for the space age. The duo of elecTronik wizard Mantronik and word meister MC Tee specializes in sonically sophisticated rap jams that suspend a computerized click over a deep, stupid fresh bass bottom.

Their third album and major label debut for Capitol, In Full Effect (the title refers to current street slang for the baddest of the bad, the deffest of the def, that which is "in effect"), was released in early March. Always on the cutting edge in technology and style (In Full Effect is the first album ever mastered from DAT), their single, "Simple Simon (You Gotta Regard)," is a dense guitar, synth, and beat box collage that, quite simply, is the age of mechanical reproduction as the work of art. As of last week it was bulletted at #27 on the Cash Box 12-inch Dance Singles chart.

The group formed in 1985 when Mantronik (Curtis Khaleel) was a deejay in the Manhattan dance music specialty store Downtown Records. Curtis's interest in music and technology naturally led to working on his own tracks. He asked MC Tee, a frequent customer at Downtown Records, to rap on "Fresh Is The Word," and Mantronix - the fusion of Man and elecTronix - was born. Two albums on the New York dance music independent Sleeping Bag, The Album and Music Madness, followed.

Mantronix had major hits in New York, London, and Paris clubs. Mantronik himself became a house producer at Sleeping Bag, turning his growing expertise towards producing and re-mixing club hits for Dhar

Rap: The Executives Speak

by Bob Long and Joe Williams

For this special rap issue, Cash Box sought the opinions of some prominent record company personnel who are shaping the future of the music. The companies range from large to small, from truly independent to corporate subsidiaries. Not surprisingly, all of these executives are convinced of rap's artistic validity and commercial potential. Most were quick to blame radio for any public resistance to rap, and most believe that rap is a badly misunderstood form in much of America. But within the context of general agreement, there were considerable differences over the sociological importance of rap, its ultimate message, and the marketing of that message to the general public. We hope that the diversity of opinions expressed throughout this issue and our continuing coverage of rap will contribute to a better understanding of this vital and rapidly emerging form of music.

RAP CONQUERS THE WORLD

Bill Adler, director of publicity, Def Jam: "Russell Simmons [the founder of Def Jam] once said, 'I don't need radio. I could throw my records in the garbage and the kids would still find them.' We've got tremendous grass roots support. It's not a fad, and that's because it's about more than just music. There's a whole culture attached to it, a lifestyle. It's about the language that they use, the attitude, the clothes that they wear. It's about the hope embodied in the music.

"Two months from now, forty percent of the music on the black charts will be rap."

Greg Peck, vice president of promotions, marketing and A & R, Island Records: "There are certain clubs in this country where people go specifically to hear the new rap records. And then they get excited about it and go tell their friends. You'd be surprised how much money these young kids have to spend on music, and most of it goes to rap.

"An interesting phenomenon is that rap is getting accepted by mainstream America. You'll see rap in McDonalds' commercials, and several others, and white people are appreciating rap now. There's a club here in New York that I went into with a rap group that I was working with, and we were the only black people in the whole place. Look at the success of the Beastie Boys. White people were waiting for a rap group that they could identify with, and that was it.

"Rap, in a way, is getting very much like AOR. People are now going to see rap in large stadiums, 30 or 40 thousand people at a time. And they walk away from this and tell other people and it becomes a tremendous underground."

M.C. Hammer, president, Bustini Records: "Rap music has a drive in it, it has something in it that makes you bob your head. It's almost tribal. And then if the rapper is good and has a sense of rhythm, the combination of the two catches you and you want to hear more of it."

Monica Lynch, president, Tommy Boy Records: "The kids have an insatiable appetite for rap, and they will eat it up and be ready for something new in a very short period of time. It's a very popular form of music, despite the resistance it's had from radio.

"You can see some records that are listed in the top ten of the national charts, and those records haven't sold nearly as much as a rap record

Rap In Film

By Julius Robinson

RAPPING FOR JESSE—The Apollo Theater was the scene of an all star rap benefit for Jesse Jackson on April 18. $25,000 was raised for the Jackson campaign. Among the acts at the sold out show were LL Cool J, Whodini, Eric B & Rakim, Public Enemy and DJ Jazzy Jeff & The Fresh Prince. Jackson is pictured being embraced by John "Ecstasy" Fletcher of Whodini. Second from left is Jalil Hutchins, Whodini. In the center wearing his trademark glasses is Darryl "DMC" McDaniels, Run-DMC.

LOS ANGELES—Recently several films have used rap as the sonic undertow for scenes of urban angst, sexuality, disintegration, as well as comedy. Rap in film has evolved from its initial light applications, such as in the 1984 release of the break-dancin' Beat Street, to the recent brutal commentaries on gang violence in the stunning soundtrack for the film Colors. The emergence of rap as a vital force in music over the last few years has contributed to Hollywood's adoption of the form, in part because it has become a "hot" genre. But equally as critical to rap's increased acceptance in film soundtracks is its rich descriptive language. The form is cinematic in style, and although every word is not always audible behind a scene in a film, there can be an interplay (where used properly by filmmakers) between the brushstrokes of street imagery and the cultural realities portrayed. For example in the upper-class cocaine tragedy Less Than Zero rap is used to illustrate an ironic undercurrent; the human pitfalls of the "street" can be paved across a rich kid's heart.

cuts on the LP include "Let The Rhythm Run" by Salt-N-Pepa, "Butcher Shop" by Kool G. Rap, "Mad Mad World" by 7A3 and "A Mind Is A Terrible Thing To Waste" by M.C. Chan.

Less Than Zero's much acclaimed Def Jam soundtrack features L.L. Cool J's classic "Going Back To Cali," a deft description of alienation in the promised land of Hollywood. The track has odd horn licks and a strangely skewed feel that gives it an ominous flavor. Also outstanding is the rebellious and raucous "Bring The Noise" by Public Enemy. Def Jam co-founder and rap innovator Rick Rubin produced most of the songs on the album.

The Blue Iguana is a PolyGram release that has a couple of outstanding and unusual rap cuts. Kurtis Blow's title track is as exotic and lush a track for a rap tune as you'll hear, "tropical rap" perhaps. The Fat Boys throw their weight around on "Hell No", and The White Boys prove they're for real on "(This Is) Hardcore Is It Not."

The film comedy Disorderlies is notable for its stars, The Fat Boys, and for its Tin Pan Apple/PolyGram soundtrack featuring the track "Baby You're A Rich Man." The Fat Boys here used the Beatles tune as a foundation to construct their own conclusions about the evils of money.

Rounding out our list is Beat Street Volume One on Atlantic Records, notable for the track "Beat Street Breakdown" by Grandmaster Melle Mel and The Furious Five. This a wonderfully visual rap about finding hope on the street... "Don't let the street beat you," they intone. The days of break-dancing may have waned somewhat since this movie was made in 1984, but rap as a genre goes on, and film as a mirror of society will increasingly reflect its influence.

Of course the major benefit of these films to the record buying public are the resulting soundtracks, which often yield excellent rap cuts. Here are a few of our favorites...

Colors, the Warner Bros. soundtrack from Dennis Hopper's film about two cops in the milieu of L.A. gang violence, is one of the richest rap soundtracks around. The opening cut is a powerful rap, Ice-T's "Colors". Using a melange of droning bass tones and pavement-hot synth-licks, he raps from the perspective of a gang member in a poetic tour-de-force that illuminates the mind-set of a gang killer. The last line in "Colors" says it all, "My color's death though we all want peace, our war won't end 'till all wars cease...colors." Other outstanding and the Boyz discovered the rap ballad."

Bill Adler: "Certain songs by Run-DMC have more in common with Aerosmith than they do with LL Cool J. LL might have more in common with New Edition than he does with Eric B. And Eric B. might have more in common with James Brown than he does with Stetsasonic."

Luke Skyywalker, president, Skyywalker/Manhattan Records: "If we were still in the era of Kurtis Blow and Run-DMC and some of those older rappers, if all the rappers were trying to do that same thing, it would be sad. It would be just like disco, when everybody was disco-ing themselves to death and everybody was sounding like everybody else. In rap music, you have some guys like Jazzy Jeff, who are talking like average kids with that 'Parents Just Don't Understand' thing, and then that hasn't done anything at all on the charts. A lot of the charts today reflect airplay, and rap isn't getting played on the radio. But the kids are still buying it."

THE MANY MOODS OF RAP

Monica Lynch: "What many people don't realize is how many genres there are within rap. You have everything from the pop rap being made by an artist like Kool Moe Dee to the socio-political rap being done by Public Enemy. As a musical form, rap is going to continue to evolve, unlike any other form of music today. Six months in rap is like an entire generation. One of the trademarks of rap is that it continually fuses itself with other forms of music. Last year there was a rap/reggae fusion that was going on. Then look at what happened when LL Cool J and Heavy D faster beat, and they speak faster than N.Y. Rap started in N.Y., it's a little like talking to your grandfather, he's gonna tell you where it all started, and you either go the old way or the new way."

Kid Flash himself is on a new track with his positive approach. Recently while in Dallas for the Young Black Programmers Coalition Convention he received rave reviews. "A lot of program directors said they were playing 'Apartheid' in heavy rotation, because the kids were liking it. That made me feel good knowing that I can do a worthwhile theme while still keeping the hip-hop in there."

Musically, Kid Flash allows his creative impulses to take over. When recording "Protection" someone left the radio on in the control room, and Madonna's "Papa Don't Preach" (Continued on page 18)

Kid Flash – A Positive Rap

By Julius Robinson

LOS ANGELES—"What makes me different from any other rapper on this earth is my positive approach to hip-hop," says Sean Collins, a.k.a. Kid Flash. "A lot of people are taking a slow approach to me, because it is positive. If I got as much hype as the negative got hype..."

He's been called "G-Rated" with such tunes as "Protection", about avoiding unwanted pregnancy, and "Children Of The World, where he puts down drugs. He's not afraid to address international issues in his song "Apartheid." In the macho world of rappers where its more common to hear boasting, self-congratulatory statements, Kid Flash might seem too tame to compete. But look again. The 19 year old Brooklynite has developed an innovative and powerful style, using his positive themes to gain a wider audience, yes a "crossover" appeal that no one else in rap has perfected. His Tabu (CBS) LP He's In Effect also contains several more traditional raps such as his single "Hot Like Fire", or "Go Jackson," "I Hate The Bus" and "Love Thing."

Kid Flash cut his teeth in the New York City scene, working with Curtis Khaleel and Mantronix, singing back-up on the hip-hop hit "Fresh Is The Word." He was a frequent performer in N.Y. at The Roxy, Funhouse and Roseland. He's performed with Lisa Lisa & The Cult Jam and U.T.F.O. Now, frequently in L.A., he compares the two scenes.

"I think L.A. rappers are behind N.Y. in that they answer whatever's happening in N.Y., they're behind the time of N.Y. But L.A. rap uses a Braxton, Joyce Simms, and Hanson & Davis, fusing street beats and Hi-NRG hooks into the new "hot dance" style. He also produced hip hop albums for Just Ice and T-La Rock. After a bidding war involving several major labels and Sleeping Bag, Mantronix signed with Capitol last August. Work on In Full Effect began immediately.

In a recent interview Mantronix recalled his education as a studio genius: "I was just basically a nosey kid who wanted to get involved in it [production]. I never went to school for this, I was just real curious...Basically what I've picked up is learning and just sitting there watching, and just understanding the terms, what they ment. And then all of a sudden just saying, 'OK, it's my turn to give the orders.'"

Modest words for a young man whose mere three years of observation and experience have yielded a handful of dance-pop hits, and whose contract with Capitol includes his own production company. Curtis is in effect in the studio and in demand as a producer. His recent credits include work with Amazulu and three tracks on Capitol's upcoming Sequel LP, a record that showcases the finest producers in dance music today. With Stock-Aitken-Waterman (Bananarama, Rick Astley), Little Louie Vega (Noel), and Mantronix on board, this record is sure to be a Latin hip hop smash.

As the first album mastered from DAT In Full Effect typifies the Mantronix philosophy, "To go where no man has gone before," as Curtis says. "Different, as usual," adds MC Tee. Curtis explained why he chose to master the album from DAT. "We took a new approach and did the whole album digital. Because hip hop nowadays, basically, a lot of people sample. You can listen to hip hop records, and aside from the Def Jam stuff, the other stuff is really noisy. We didn't want to take that route...We have a sound, and we want people to hear it, and we want it come across very good. I've had problems. Our first album, some of our stuff is done eight track. It was basically done at my friend's place. It just didn't cut. I wanted something that when you crank up the system you're going to hear the snare standing on its own and the kick standing on its own, having its own place on the record. And all these sounds combining into one great, massive wall of sound."

Gliding across, above, and through that massive wall of sound is the "master at the meter," rapper MC Tee. Tee's style isn't narrative. He doesn't use story rhymes, he uses language as sounds, tossing out syllables as beats and ideas as shadings.

Curtis crafts the songs in much the same way, taking grooves, beats, and sounds from various sources (samples of other records, drum computers) and building these bits into rhythm and melody. "I don't sample other people's melodies," he explains. "What I do is I sample a drum sound, or a piano sound, or a horn sound. I see it like this: for instance, they don't make a certain type of piano anymore and I want that sound. I'll sample it from the record...It's what you do with what you have. Everyone has the chance to get a sampler and use it. It's what you create. People talk about sampling is stealing, stuff like that. It is in a way, but you do it, I mean, someone playing a piano and another person seeing a person play that piano is like stealing their idea. Same thing, same principle, only thing is it's digital. Some people take it too far. They rip of melody lines. Sampling is just like a tape recorder, the only thing you can manipulate the sound much better."

Both MC Tee and Curtis see 1987's hip hop fad of sampling licks, beats, and melodies from classic James Brown records as boring. Says Tee,

"Everybody's starting to notice how weak '87 really was and how much of a change New York has to go through. Because basically the stations and everybody got stuck in this one category of music and nobody wanted to change...But I think it's going to change for the better and I hope we're part of the crest of the wave."

The future for Mantronix? As MC Tee puts it, "Now we just want to move on up and make the next one better than this one."

started to float in. He quickly sampled a snippet of the chorus and used it in the song. He also used a sample of Marvin Gaye singing "What's Going On" in Apartheid.

Collins disdains getting into verbal wars with other rappers. "I'm not with saying what I could do to L.L., cause as far as that goes he can't do nothing to me, and I can't do nothing to him! Not legally anyway. Me and L.L. Cool J are friends. Why would I want to say I'll take L.L. and stomp his hat on the ground? Rap answer records, it's like professional wrestling, it's bull."

"Anyway those kind of records have no longevity. They don't cross over. They say this industry is like a game. Well my game is Monopoly and I'm going to own Boardwalk. You're going to have to pass me before you pass go!"

RAP, THE RADIO, AND CLASS CONFLICT

Bill Adler: "Black radio is failing miserably by ignoring this music. This music is black rock 'n' roll, and obviously rock 'n' roll has never been for everybody. It's got an edge to it, it appeals strongly to adolescents, and it's going to irritate a lot of people. We get the same reaction today that Little Richard had to face in 1956 or that the Rolling Stones did in 1965.

"There's a class conflict in black America right now that rap music crystallizes. You have the b-boys on one side, and the buppies on the other, and never the twain shall meet. That's why Public Enemy did 'Bum Rush The Show.' They got a bum rush at whatever club the song is about because there was some buppie at the door who wouldn't let them in, wouldn't let them wear sneakers. No b-boys allowed. And I think most of black radio is run by buppies who don't want to know anything about this music.

"But I can't take pot shots at black radio without mentioning white radio. I used to work at WBCN in Boston, which is honored for being so progressive; yet they play no black music at all. As far as we're concerned, AOR stands for Apartheid Oriented Rock. It's shameful for rock radio to ignore us in favor of whatever haircut band from England is big this week. Rap is like the British Invasion of the '60s—a whole generation of bands that are changing the industry and can no longer be ignored."

Bill Stephney, vice president of operations, Def Jam: "Obviously there are some awful rap records, and maybe even some records that should be banned. But there are also rap records that every black person in America should hear. The trick is to judge each record on its own merit, rather than judging the whole genre. But we have black people in this industry who are still saying, 'We're not going to play any rap music.' They will play every irrelevant, every ridiculous so-called R&B record, records that don't stand for anything, but they have dismissed a whole genre. And not only rap music. Blues music, gospel music, go-go music—they don't get played on black radio.

"It's a class/caste situation. In trying to gain some sort of acceptance in this country, black programmers have diminished the feel for their own culture. Rap music, in a sense, throws itself in the way of integration. It's almost a nationalist music. At a time when many black people are saying, 'Get out of the neighborhoods, get a good car, get your kids a good education,' rap music and these kids are saying 'We are black people, black Americans. We like to get funky.'

"When you see rappers moving to Los Angeles and buying big houses and living in a way that has nothing to do with their culture, that's when the music will be over."

THE BAD RAP

Bill Stephney: "The elder community, rather than looking at rap as a positive thing, looked at it very superficially. They said, 'These street kids, these hoodlums, they're playing that loud music on their radios, they're destroying the very fabric of the society we're trying to develop.' But they couldn't have been more wrong. While these kids were developing their own music, their own culture, their own witticisms, their elders were saying 'No!' And I think that developed a generation gap and discouraged the music from flourishing outside of New York."

Lynn Godley, vice president of operations, Eclipse Records: "Rap is an art form that we as adults sometimes fail to understand. When we were kids we listened to the Aretha's and the James Brown's and the Hank Ballard's, and we didn't so much relate to the lyrics as to the music. But now, with rap, the kids are listening to the lyrics even more than to the music. Rap is the young people's way of saying, 'This is how you adults get to us.' And we're completely dropping the ball."

Ruth Zitnik, president, Eclipse: "I hardly knew about rap when I got into this business. But I like things there's 2 Live Crew, who are moving into a heavy metal area, while other people are moving into a sex area. So it's all different. It's versatile.

"In rap, every part of the country is different. You have Miami music, which is hard and uptempo, and New York music, which is a slow tempo, and you have California music, which is more uptempo. Every area has a different style of rappers, but they can all relate to each other—except New York; they can't relate to nobody's music but their own. If the whole rest of the country was like New York, rap music would be over. Rap is no longer number one in New York. They've burned out on it, because all the DJs ever play in the clubs is New York music. They don't know about the California groups, and the Philadelphia groups and the Miami groups. To tell you the truth, I don't even promote my music there anymore."

that are natural. Rap is a natural way for kids to express themselves in a way that is non-violent. It brings them pleasure. There's nothing negative about rap in my life.

M.C. Hammer: "Drugs, the lack of education and the lack of parental guidance are destroying our younger kids, not rap music. I do think people could be a little more selective in the things that they say on records, any records, but rap music itself is not the problem. Some raps have come out that weren't good in their lyrical content, but I hear a lot of positive things happening in rap today. Look at all the raps that are anti-drug and anti-violence."

OF MAJORS AND MARKETING

Luke Skyywalker: "The major labels don't know jack about rap music."

"I have real mixed feelings about the major labels picking up rap music and trying to market it to a different generation. I don't want it to get played out like Stevie Wonder or Teddy Pendergrass. To tell you the truth, I don't want to hear too much rap music on the radio. But I do want it to get blended in with everything else, and that's not happening."

"I'm still waiting for some major to pick up a rap group and give it the hype and the money that they're putting into some of these other groups and actually get it played on the radio. MCA did it with Heavy D and the Boyz, and that's a plus for them, but some of these other groups, like the M.C. Shan on Warner Bros, I'm not hearing them on the radio here in Miami. I don't see the major promotion, I don't see the major videos."

Monica Lynch: "The record labels that pioneered the marketing of rap, labels like Sugar Hill and Enjoy, should really be commended. They got the ball rolling when hardly anyone had heard of rap. And then the next generation was Tommy Boy and Profile, and Jive, who've done a spectacular job of promoting the music. And then look at the recent success that Next Plateau has had, and Fourth and Broadway, with artists like Salt-N-Pepa and Eric B and Rakim. And now every major label has recognized the commercial viability of rap. For the most part it's a low investment with a high return. With rap, you're not in a position where you have to hire Narada Michael Walden for half a million dollars, or whatever he charges to produce a record, with no guarantee that the record will sell. We can make music at very reasonable costs and we don't have to sell as many to break even or show a profit."

"The history of independent labels is that they found niches where the major labels weren't involved and they've been able to capitalize on it. As an analogy, look at disco music in the late '70s. When the major labels got involved, they put out disco albums by people like Dolly Parton and George Burns, and suddenly there was this tremendous glut that diluted the form and homogenized what was originally a great style of music. It became a parody of itself."

"Obviously it's getting harder to compete, now that the major labels are involved with rap. But one thing I have to give the major labels credit for is that they've been smarter this time around. For the most part they got involved with rap labels who specialized in the music to begin with and let those people handle the A & R decisions in that area. Now CBS has a deal with Def Jam, Warner Bros. has a relationship with Tommy Boy and Cold Chillin', Atlantic distributes First Priority, and Polygram has a deal with Tin Pan Apple. Just about every major label has gotten involved with rap in some way, which means that the small labels have to do their homework a whole lot better. But I still think that the little guy is going to be there first when a new form is emerging on the street."

You Brought It On Yourself/I'm Def (Jump Back And Kiss Myself) - Jive/Arista (JDL-9711) - Zomba Enterprises, Inc./ASCAP, Willesden Music, Inc, Cosmic Joy Music/BMI - L. Smith, J. Hutchins/K. Atkins, J. Hutchins - Producers: Larry Smith/Sinister, Whodini & Roy Cormier

Glamorous crew checks back in with a tough single that should up their street credibility. "You Brought It On Yourself" finds them still teaching and preaching. Its strong horn and piano hooks and sophisticated pop production ensure radio action. Club DJs should spin the Hank Shocklee remix of "I'm Def," a kitchen-sink jam that sounds like a house party out of bounds.

EPMD

You Gots To Chill - Fresh (FRE-80118X) - Beach House Music/ASCAP - E. Sermon, P. Smith - Producers: EPMD

The hook on this one is an evil sounding electro-bass groan that threads through the track like a funky worm. It's so ear catching you barely notice the drums, and it'll have them grinding it on the dancefloor. The duo's raps are heavy and authoritative. When EPMD tell you to chill, you best not argue.

"It was almost like he was sort of showing us what was happening in the industry," says Milk. "We financed it and he put it on his label. After we saw the procedure and everything we figured, 'Well, if he's doing it, it can't be that hard, so let's try it.' That's when we started Priority." In order to avoid the run around and "wack contracts" other labels were offering them they convinced their father to put up the money to start their own record label. Their first release was a flip-flop mini-album with Audio Two on one side and the label's second signing, The Alliance, on the other.

After that it wasn't long before a member of the Alliance brought MC Lyte to the brothers. She impressed Milk and Giz with the rhyme that became "I Cram To Understand U (Sam)," a tough story of a girl who ditches her boyfriend when she finds he loves crack more than he loves her. "Milk and myself really liked her style because it was different," say Gizmo. "She had like a hardcore style, street like. We just went to the President and said, 'She's dope, she's dope, she's dope!'"

Milk and Giz produced five of the ten tracks on MC Lyte's Lyte As A Rock and handled all the production on What More Can I Say? (with a little help from Daddy-O of Stetsasonic on two tracks). Their style is sparse and street, relying almost exclusively on drum samples and programs. Amidst the current influx of pop production elements on much rap — the use of horns, synths, or guitars to create catchy hooks — Audio Two's pared down production sounds positively innovative.

The brothers picked up their production skills through observation. Gizmo explains, "Our first 12-inch we were in the studio every session they were in the studio. We watched."

"It's sort of like, if you didn't learn, it wouldn't get done the way you wanted it to get done," Milk continues. "Our first record, we weren't involved in the production at all. We had ideas, and we kind of knew what we wanted, and we were trying to express these ideas to the people that were producing it. But maybe they couldn't understand what we were trying to tell them, or maybe they just didn't want to do it, or maybe they couldn't understand why we wanted it that way. And we were like, 'Hey, you know, you want it right, you got to do it yourself.' So by watching and seeing what they did to a song, we decided that we had to do things our way."

Audio Two's What More Can I Say? is youthful and brash, a lot like their audience. Most of the songs are the energized braggadocio rap is known for. "When The 2 Is On The Mic" features live drums, and "Put It 2 Music" is acapella rhyming with occasional musical commentary scratched in. MC Lyte's Lyte As A Rock has enough attitude and fresh rhymes for a ten record box set. Her hard hitting put downs have already

DE LA SOUL

Plug Tunin'/Freedom Of Speak — Tommy Boy (TB 910) — Tee Girl Music/BMI — K. Mercer, D. Jolicoeur — Producer: Prince Paul

At long last, kicking it live in an honest to God new style. "Plug Tunin'" is one of the most inventive tracks in way, way too long. Instead of sampling James Brown drums for a swing track, Prince Paul pulls in baritone sax and vocals from something that sounds like classic New Orleans soul for a very slow, easy pop groove. Lazy, spacious, and cold chilling. A must. "Freedom Of Speak" cuts and splices the standard JB grooves for a hard dance track.

won her the title "Queen of Dis," but she says, simply, "I'm not a mean person."

As for their good fortune and remarkable accomplishments, Milk, Giz, and Lyte are hardly surprised. "Our manager planned everything, believe it or not," cracks Gizmo.

"It was scheduled," adds Milk Dee, "but even if it didn't go on schedule it was going to happen. We weren't going to stop until it did." Their distribution deal with Atlantic and debut albums mark only "Phase One complete." What's Phase Two? "A lot more production, more groups, tours," says Milk. It's all on schedule so far.

TRUE MATHEMATICS

For The Money/K.A.O.S.S. — Select (SEL 21626) — Adra Music, Power Move Music, Inc./BMI — K. Houston, H. Shocklee, E. Sadler, K. Boxley — Producers: Hank Shocklee & Carl Ryder

"For The Money" swings JB drums and rhythm guitar better than average, and True Mathematics raps through a megaphone. "K.A.O.S.S. (Greeks In Effect, Pt. 2)" is the real dope, with producers Hank Shocklee (Public Enemy) and Carl Ryder hyping the beat and then packing it full of horns, rare groove breaks, and scratches. It's information overload, and pure genius.

Tougher Than Vinyl: Profile Records

By Joe Levy

FOCUS ON

RAP

NEW YORK - Profile Records shipped close to 1.3 million copies of the long awaited and long delayed Run-DMC album Tougher Than Leather last week. That's nothing short of amazing for an independent label, and the New York indie's accomplishments are numerous and varied, but Profile president Cory Robbins isn't stopping there. His stated ambition is for Profile to become a major label.

"We'd like to continue to grow and get to be the size of a Chrysalis or an A&M or a Motown next and then continue to grow from there," says Robbins. "We'd like to be a big company. We're not a big company compared to big companies. We're a tiny company compared to them."

Profile is a big company compared to most independents, though. Started in 1981 by Robbins and Steve Plotnicki with $35,000 dollars they borrowed from their parents, Profile has grown to the point where profits for fiscal 1987 were reportedly $13 million. Presently the label issues approximately four or five 12-inch singles and two full albums each month. Though Profile has had its biggest success with rap (Run-DMC's Raising Hell has to date sold well over 3 million and the Run-DMC catalogue was selling 10,000 units a week before the release of Tougher Than Leather), Profile releases pop, rock and hardcore records and is working to develop those markets. The label is expanding to an London office, a separate operation from Profile U.S., which they hope to have open this summer. Additionally, Profile does P&D for a number of independents including GWR, Emergency, and Rooftop. And Landmark, a separate company owned by Robbins, Plotnicki, and Pat Monaco, is one of the biggest distributors in the U.S., handling East Coast distribution for about 60 independent labels.

Robbins has been in the record business since 1975, when he started at Midland Records at 17. He worked for MCA as music publisher for two years and started a small label for them, Panorama Records, distributed by RCA. "It did fair," Robbins recalls. "We charted a few records. We had a Top 5 disco record, which is how I met my partner [Steve Plotnicki]. I produced it, and my partner wrote it. We met from that, became friends, and two years later decided to start Profile."

In 1983 they signed Run-DMC, an act no one else would take a chance on, for a mere $2,000. Robbins says the Profile philosophy, taking those chances, remains the same. "We take a lot of shots. We sign a lot of artists. We probably have forty artists on the label at any given time. And it doesn't have to be any kind of unanimous opinion either. If one person in A&R really likes the act, they can sign them. That's why we have a lot of different things here. We have a lot of releases for an independent label, for a label our size... There was a time when I chose every record on the label, but that stopped about two or three years ago. And I still choose some of them, but I have three other people who do A&R also, Gary Pini, Claudia Cuseta, and Brian Chin. And they all have signed several things as well. If they're the only one who likes something and they feel strongly about it, then they're allowed to sign it."

With rock albums from acts like the Cucumbers (signed by Gary Pini) and the Accelerators (signed by Robbins himself) Profile hopes to solidify its markets outside of rap and dance 12-inches. "Rap is a very quick kind of music. You have a hit overnight, really. You put a record out and if it's right it's immediately a hit, many times. Not always, but it's very quick. And rock is not as quick. We've been doing rock now for about two years, and we've done OK. We've had some pretty good records, but nothing that's gone gold yet."

Most of all, Robbins and Plotnicki are firm in their commitment to remain an independent label. "We don't think that a major label has anything to offer us that we can't do ourselves, and we'd rather do everything ourselves. We think our distribution is very effective. We also own a good portion of it. We are independent people, and we don't want to have to worry about pleasing anybody else. It's never been something that we've entertained. We certainly could have made deals. If somebody came to us with some unbelievable amount of money we'd have to think about it. But we've never even allowed it to get to that point. When people call up and ask us if we're interested we just say no."

SHOP TALK

This week in Shop Talk we take it to the streets to see what retailers are thinking concerning the state of rap music. They'll discuss the genre in relation to the following subjects: how has the state of the art changed in the past few years, how has the increase in popularity changed retailer's "push" of the product, what effect has it had on the twelve inch format, and what do you see in the future for this contemporary sound. We'll also find out which independent (and major label) rap products are moving particularly well this week.

JERRY BASSIN'S - Miami, Fla.

Reporting: Raymond Torre

"I see rap music just getting stronger. Considering the fact that more and more artists are being picked up by majors and that a greater percentage of releases are rap records, I see the genre reaching a steady peak."

"A few years ago it was considered a fly-by-night thing. After the 'Roxanne' era everyone thought it would die. It has been steady for the last two years and now it's starting to peak again. We didn't have half the artists and definitely not the majors."

"Retailers had to either accept rap music or not sell records. A lot of stores still don't want to sell rap records, but they do because they know that they are hot right now. You can't help but miss it."

"It's done nothing but good for the 12" format. You still have your high-energy music helping it along, but volume wise it's the rap record. Over the last six months it has really taken off and it's still going strong."

"Our best moving rap releases lately have been Ice-T, JJ Fad, The Gucci Crew on Hot Productions - that's a big one, the Two Live Crew and La Juan Love (both on Luke Skywalker), and Salt-N-Pepa (Next Plateau). Also MC Cool Rock and Beatmaster Clay D & Magic Mike on Vision Records, Bass Patrol (Joey Boy), and DJ K.J. & Da Fellas on 4-Sight Records are all moving well."

7th HEAVEN - Kansas City, MO.

Reporting: Darrell Housh

"Being a heavily urban market, we sell a tremendous amount of rap music. It's very well represented in our top ten. Concerning longevity, I didn't think it would last this long. The past year it has picked up quite a bit. I don't see how it could get much stronger than it is now - I see it leveling off."

"As far as pushing it, it has always taken care of itself - all we have to do is play it."

"In the past three months alone our twelve inch sales have increased quite a bit - possibly due to rap."

"Our best sellers lately have been the Colors soundtrack and Jazzy Jeff. As of this week the Doug E. Fresh (Reality/Danya) and Run-DMC releases will start to fly out of here."

MUSIC PEOPLE - Oakland, CA

Reporting: Nancy Lewis

"There's a lot more crossover sales than ever before. We're selling the rap records to all our customers - not just the R&B accounts."

"We don't need to push it - it just sells. We're getting our preorders without having to do anything for most of the stuff."

"I think rap music will be around for some time. It's peaking, but it will stay at this level for a while."

"We're selling tons of the new Run-DMC release. Also doing well are the Two Live Crew, MC Hammer (Bustin'), and Kool Moe Dee releases. For the twelve inches: Eric B, LL Cool J, Doug E. Fresh, JJ Fad, and the Run-DMC (our top-seller) disks are leading the pack."

SOUTHWEST WHOLESALE RECORDS & TAPES - Houston, TX

Reporting: Robert Richardson

"We've been selling rap for a long time. About three quarters of our business is R&B - that's what keeps us alive. We owe a lot to the independents - like Profile and Fresh Records."

"It's definitely much bigger than it used to be. I would say the King of Rock album by Run-DMC put rap over the hump. It was after that release that a wider audience of varied demographics took notice to the form. I would say that over the next three years its popularity will go down. Right now it's in the middle of peaking - if not now, then within the next year."

"A lot of people now are taking chances on the smaller labels. If it's rap they figure somebody will buy it. Until about two or three years ago no one would touch the stuff."

"Our top sellers lately have been the Two Live Crew, Doug E. Fresh, the Colors soundtrack, all the Jive artists, Hostile (Ligosa), Run-DMC, and the Ghetto Boys (Rap-A-Lot)."

SALZER'S RECORDS - Ventura, CA

Reporting: David Evans

"Rap will definitely - to some extent - always be around. I see it becoming part of the mainstream. It added a lot more new life to a basically dead R&B soul section. It revitalized it - woke it up. We merchandise it as R&B since it is essentially an urban sound. I consider it trendy music - where it really hasn't found itself completely. Right now it's evolving and borrowing from other facets of music."

"Compared to two years ago, we don't need to push it anymore. Radio, concerts, and word-of-mouth are selling it."

"It still hasn't reached its peak yet. As long as the public is still fascinated by rap music, it will continue to grow. A few years ago you had the same rap albums being played all the time. Today you have so many new artists, and the public seems determined to keep up with them."

Indie Groove

TASTES GREAT - With so many independent record labels surfacing these days, it is refreshing to see one that is truly on the cutting edge. Delicious Vinyl in Los Angeles is one such label. Founded by local DJ's Michael Ross and Matt Dike in August of '87, the label has recorded and released four quality rap disks thus far. When founder/producer Mike Ross says, "We know what time it is," he couldn't be more right. Three of the four releases have charted on local station KDAY, with Young M.C.'s "I Let 'Em Know" climbing to #7 this week. The first release, Tone Loc's "I Got It Goin' On" went all the way to #8 on KDAY's playlist. The company philosophy is that they'll consider any song with an "edge" that is both lyrically and musically intelligent. Look for the upcoming twelve inch release from local find Def Jeff, along with LP's from Mellow Man Ace (a bi-lingual rapper), Tone-Loc, and Young MC (could break nationally). For more information on the label and its product, or to find out how to solicit a demo, call Mike Ross at (213) 658-5048.

the later two will be alternating dates throughout.

In addition, Run-DMC, the National Alliance of Business and the National Association of Broadcasters held a press conference on May 23 in Washington, D.C. to announce their cooperation in a plan to boost the job prospects of teenagers across the nation. At selected Run-DMC concerts, the National Alliance of Business will be handing out job training information. The goal is to inform teens of the facilities available to them, and to motivate them to take advantage of their local job training programs. Run-DMC's participation is a vital part of this undertaking, as the band can help effectively reach youths.

Also, at each concert, the NAACP will operate voter registration booths at each and every performance. For more information, contact Nick Allen or Brian Thompson at (202) 745-0707.

Afrika Bambaataa - Former Tommy Boy recording artist Afrika Bambaataa is pictured circa 1985. Bambaataa recently signed to Capitol, opened doors for many of today's independent acts. In fact, Bambaataa's cousin is Luke Skyywalker recording artist M.C. Shy D.

TOUGHER THAN LEATHER - This week, Profile Records released Run-DMC's long-awaited Tougher Than Leather. The follow-up LP to the band's multi-platinum, crossover smash of 1986, Raising Hell. The new album shipped in excess of 1.2 million units - making it the largest initial shipment on an independent rap release to date.

On May 26, the boys began a lengthy U.S. tour that will continue throughout the summer. Joining them on the road will be DJ Jazzy Jeff & The Fresh Prince, Public Enemy and E.U. and Stetsasonic,

IN PARTING - Best wishes and prayers to The Fresh Kid Ice (Chris Won Wong) of Luke Skyywalker recording artists Two Live Crew. He is currently recuperating from an automobile accident which took place a few weeks ago in Southern Florida. Letters should be addressed c/o Luke Skyywalker Records, 3050 Biscayne Blvd., Suite 307, Miami, FL 33137. Or call: (305) 573-0599.

Until next week...

Run-DMC

LOS ANGELES — Run-DMC has defined and inspired rap music more than any other act of eighties. The trio from Hollis, Queens has become a model for a whole generation, not merely popping off about their own personal glory, but constantly focusing attention on socially conscious is-

...sues such as anti-racisms, anti-gangs, anti-drugs, pro-education, and self-reliance. The group has just released their fourth album, is about to star in their second feature film, and will headline an international concert tour for the fifth year in a row.

The first non-athletes ever to receive an endorsement from Adidas Sportswear, the trio of rappers Run (Joseph Simmons), DMC (Darryl McDaniel), and DJ Jam Master Jay (Jason Mizell), grew up within blocks of each other in Hollis. All three graduated from high school in 1982. It was at this time that Run's older brother Russell agreed to produce their first record for Profile Records, "It's Like That/Sucker MC's." The gold album, Run DMC, was released in 1984, with the platinum King of Rock in 1985. Soon after, the monstrous success of Raising Hell followed, which was the first rap album ever to go platinum and has sold over four million copies to date.

The new album is entitled Tougher Than Leather and is the first effort that Run-DMC will be producing themselves. Following its release will be a summer tour which will include two of the hottest young rap acts, Public Enemy and DJ Jazzy Jeff & Fresh Prince opening the shows. Run-DMC plans to exert their influence to encourage fans to register to vote, with local chapters of the NAACP operating voter registration booths at each of the tour's concert sites.

Dana Dane

At age twenty-two, Dana Dane is one of the bright new sensations of the rap world. His first release, Dana Dane With Fame, sold over 150,000 copies in its first two weeks and has since gone well over the gold mark. Dane has developed a unique style, telling stories to rap grooves which often contain some sort of message. He has also been branded rap's "foremost stand-up comic, "entertaining his fans on several levels simultaneously.

Dane developed his skills at the well renowned School of Music and Art in New York, fictionalized in the movie Fame. He was studying fashion design and advertising while collaborating with a group called the Kangol Crew. The group included Slick Rick, Lance Brown, Omega, and Kool Al-Ski, who helped with background vocals on Dana's LP.

Dane's current partner is DJ Clark Kent who started spinning at age nine in Brooklyn, and who's "the Superman of the wheels of steel" according to Dana. Hurby "Love Bug" Azor, who is well known as "Supa Produca" for his hits with Salt-n-Pepa and Sweet

Dana Dane

Tee & Jazzy Joyce, has been the significant other player in Dane's rise to fame.

When Dane is not working in the studio or on the road, he's busy in the library reading up on medieval history as material for his next whimsical rap. "To be a success, you have to have a different way of expressing yourself and a sound that's distinctive." Dana Dane possesses both of these qualities and has already established himself as one of the foremost talents of rap.

Sweet Tee

At age twenty-three Sweet Tee has already been tabbed the 'Queen of Rap.' Known to her close friends as Toi Jackson, she was first inspired when she heard "Rapper's Delight" by the Sugarhill Gang. Rap itself did not seem like a viable art form, much less a career path in those days. It took a lot of grit and gumption to combat discouraging sentiments from girls who had their attention in other areas and boys who felt rap was exclusively a male dominated craft. Sweet Tee has maintained an unswerving passion for rhyming to rhythm. Carrying a pad with her everywhere, she is always prepared for a spontaneous flow of ideas.

Her first big break came when Davey D took an interest, and took her on the road for two years of dancing and rapping. This gave Sweet Tee a more thorough familiarity with the whole process; the importance of a deejay, dealing with an audience and details like that. Upon returning, she hooked up with producer Hurby "Lovebug" Azor and released a record for Profile Records, which incorporated the skill of DJ Jazzy Joyce. Joyce has since gone her own separate way, but the record caused quite a stir - especially in England, where journalists have come all the way here just to interview the budding star.

The success of singles like "I Got Da Feelin'" and "It's Like That Y'all" have become the real pillars of Sweet Tee's reputation as a rapper who's here to stay. Reluctantly, she cut a single for the Profile X-Mas Rap LP and it ended up being one of the release's major highlights. Her relationship with producer "Lovebug" is very positive and allows her a lot of creative liberty. Look forward to an album release coming out of their collaboration this summer.

Euro-K

Rappers Euro-K hail from Grand Rapids, Michigan - an unusual spawning ground for a rap act. Brothers Vito at age 23, Freeze at 20, and Trent at 18, just released an ingenious reworking of the classic "Wild Thing" on May 23rd for Profile. The tune will be backed by two original cuts, "It's Live" and "Swing It." Euro-K's first gigs were before Amway conventions, fashion shows and the like, learning the ropes from a whole other angle. Their musical influences range from The Smith's and The Clash to Marvin Gaye and Stevie Wonder. As a group they aim to prove that "def lyrics, style, and stage show can come from outside of New York City."

Hip-Hop Heating Up In So. Florida

LOS ANGELES – Yo man, so you think the Big Apple is the only place where the B-boys and girls are chillin' to the def beat? Well I got news for ya'. Down south, I mean way down south, things are heating up in Southern Florida to the point where it's down right cold. So kick up your kicks and take a gander at some of the freshest indie rap labels around today.

Southern Florida's premier rap label is Luke Skywalker Records. Founded in 1986 by rising rap superstar and label head Luther Campbell (aka Luke Skywalker), the company has quickly become a major force in the independent rap scene. The project was funded by revenues obtained from Campbell's Ghetto Style DeeJay's, a record-spinning DJ group that obtained capital from the booking of rap groups in the early 80's.

Byron Davis & The Fresh Krew

The Two Live Crew, the company's top-seller, shocked the rap world with their debut release, Two Live Is What We Are. Combining explicit lyrics with a hard driving bass rhythm, called "Ghetto Bass," they immediately set themselves apart from the rest of the rap community. Their music expressed the language and the mood of street life in Florida's deep south; and, even though the music was too controversial for radio, their underground appeal spread quickly. The album reached gold status at an alarming rate, establishing the Two Live Crew as one of today's top rap acts. Their second effort, Move

Somethin', has just been released and has debuted on the Cash Box Pop Album Chart at #66 bullet (it is currently #13 on the Cash Box Rap LP Chart). To avoid some of the problems they had with the first album, Skywalker has released two versions (with or without explicit lyrics) of the Crew's latest effort.

Another star in the So. Florida rap horizon is M.C. Shy D. The twenty-

two year-old Bronx, N.Y. native is the cousin of rap forefather Africa Bambaataa. His first Skywalker LP, Got To Be Tough, rode the charts for forty weeks and produced four hit singles. The long awaited second LP will be preceded by the twelve-inch, "I Wanna Dance," set for a June 1st release. The album, Coming Correct In '88, is due June 30th. Look for Shy D to tour this summer. For more information concerning product and/or tour itineraries, contact Debbie Bennett at (305) 573-0599.

Another independent record company making noise in Southern Florida is 4-Sight Records. Established in 1982 by William Billy Hines, the label has quickly become home for several budding entertainers. After working in retail for many years, Hines found his niche spearheading what is known as the South Florida Sound (i.e. Pump Up The Bass).

Included on the roster is Gigolo Tony. Gigolo recorded 4-Sight's first hit, "The Parents of Roxanne." In March of '86 Tony followed up with the smash, "Smurf Rock." His latest offering, the LP Ice Cold, has met with very good reviews. It includes the hit singles "M.Y.O.B." and "The Player," which features the classic line: "...I got two waterbeds - fresh and saltwater."

Label founder Billy Hines isn't the only one in his family with a bass line pumping in his veins. His son Adrian, better known as M.C. A.D.E., is one of the companies top acts. Starting off as an assistant in the studio, M.C. A.D.E. quickly established himself in 1985 by writing and recording the hit, "Bass Rock Express." His new album, Just Sumthin To Do, has been recently released and it appears as though Adrian and his 'posse' have another hit on their hands.

Other artists on the roster include California natives Byron Davis and the Fresh Krew, and Michigan homeboy Ice Man JA. For more info, contact Vannis Rucker-Lopez at (305) 564-6862.

Vision Records is still yet another young indie label that has found success in the Florida sunshine. The Miami-based record company's facilities include a state of the art analog digital recording studio called "Audio Vision." The studio, which was designed and built for the company's production needs, has played host to Emilio Estefan & The Jerks, Clarence Clemons, Company B, Noel, The Dazz Band, and Vision recording artist, Betty Wright. The company is run by brothers, Ron and Howard Albert. Making records since 1967, their production and engineering credits include: Aretha Franklin, James Brown, The Rolling Stones, Eric Clapton, John Cougar Mellencamp, and Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young.

Presently, they have a #1 record in Miami with "Boot the Booty," by M.C. Cool Rock & M.C. Chaszy Chess. New York, Atlanta, and Texas are all reporting heavy action as well. Other artists on the label include Broomfield (presently the #1 import in London), and Betty Wright's Mother With an independent smash that has already sold over a quarter of a million copies. For information concerning the label and their artists, contact Ron Albert at (305) 893-9191.

Tommy Boy Comes of Age

By Gary Starr

LOS ANGELES - Tommy Boy Records has always been on the cutting edge of rap music. Based on the strength of the artists from Tommy Boy's early days (Force M.D.'s and Afrika Bambaataa), to the fresh blood of the new artists (Stetsasonic, T. K. A. and recently signed de la Soul), Tommy Boy chairman Tom Silverman and president Monica Lynch have staked out an important claim for themselves in the burgeoning rap scene.

Stetsasonic is part of rap's second generation who learned their craft from the likes of Grandmaster Flash, Kurtis Blow, and Run-DMC. The group consists of vocalists Daddy-O and Delite Fruitkwan, DBC on keyboards, Prince Paul the DJ, and Wire, the "human mix-machine." Deriving their name from the hat-maker Stetson and the printing term "stet" (let stand), they consider themselves to be a hip-hop group as opposed to a rap group, avoiding the raddishness that has inundated much of today's rap. The group feels that through hip-hop they have the chance to advance stylistically and instrumentally. Their album On Fire was written, arranged, performed, and produced by the group, thus the group maintains a self-contained towards itself, its product, and its future. The current single from that album is "Sally/DBC Let the Music Play." Their latest project is a single entitled "A.F.R.I.C.A." with a video collaboration with the Rev. Jesse Jackson.

T.K.A. is at the forefront of the New York Latin hip-hop movement, and along with Nancy Martinez, Lisa Lisa and Cult Jam, and Exposé, they are helping to define this developing offshoot of rap. Consisting of Anthony "Tony" Ortiz, Louis "Kaye!" Sharpe, and Angel Vasquez, T.K.A. has charted with the singles "One Way Love", "Come Get My Love" and "X-

Ray Vision;" and, through extensive airplay, they are building a solid base of fans. Their debut album Scars Of Love has just been released. The group sees its success as a result of the seriousness with which it views itself and its music. They also see themselves as positive role models for Latin teens. Recording since 1985, their music features romantic lyrics set to machine gun edits and sophisticated rhythmic syncopations. Watch for a new single entitled "Tears May Fall" to be released soon.

De La Soul

Tommy Boy's newest addition to its roster is De La Soul. The group comprises three members: vocalists Posdnoos, Trugat the Dove, and DJ Pace Master Mace. They list as their influences Boogie Down Productions, Public Enemy, and Stetsasonic. Their single, entitled "Plug Tunin'," is one of the top three rap records in New York at the moment, and is getting serious attention in the Houston and Cleveland markets. De la Soul will be in the studio in several weeks to record its second single, and, depending on its success, an album will be forthcoming. The group is also planning live performances in New York and Philadelphia in the near future. For more information, contact Laura Hynes at (212) 722-2211.

DOUG E. FRESH & THE GET FRESH CREW

The World's Greatest Entertainer - Reality (F-9658) - Producers: Various

Doug E. Fresh is one of those performers that you recognize as soon as you hear his voice. His ability to rock the house with positive and thoughtful rap has just been reaffirmed with The World's Greatest Entertainer, his latest release on Reality/Danya Records. Now really Doug, the world's GREATEST entertainer? - a rather bold claim for this 21 year old rapper. After sampling Doug E.'s latest offering however, there is no doubt that the Bronx, N.Y.

With references that range from Spider Man and Woody Woodpecker to Marvin Gaye and Duke Ellington, The World's Greatest Entertainer overflows with a live energy and a positive vibe that DEF-inately sets this record apart from the norm. From the opening cut "Guess? Who?" to "Africa (Goin' Back Home)," you feel a sense of realness and truth. Check out "Crazy 'Bout Cars," a hip-hop happy, ebullient sense of rhythm combined with lyrics that tell the story of people who get so obsessed with the automobile, they tend to lose sight of the big picture. "The Plane," a lovesong, is a dreamy tale that paints pictures of infinite love and honesty. All in all, there is no question, Doug E. Fresh & The Get Fresh Crew have done it again. The first single "Keep Rising To The Top," already enjoying chart success, is only the beginning. The album, in stores this week, has already garnered a lot of attention on the retail level. Look for this to be one of the season's biggest selling rap offerings. A tour with rap superstar Kool Moe Dee is tentatively set to kick off June 20th, and run throughout the majority of the summer. For more information contact Dennis Bell at (212) 567-0411.

ALBUM REVIEW

JANIE FRICKIE-Saddle The Wind-Columbia, C44143

Some time-proven songs have found their way into Janie Frickie's heart, and she gives them another run for their money. "Sugar Moon" and "Crazy Dreams" are two of those songs that have stood the test of time. Frickie also has some new material to debut. We found "Heart" to be especially pleasing - a definite choice for single material. The Spanish ballad and title cut "Saddle The Wind" has a moving story to relate. Frickie's voice has never sounded better - there's a new assurance and confidence that can be heard. Other strong cuts are

"Don't Touch Me," and "I'll Walk Before I Crawl."

ALBUM REVIEW

k.d. lang-Shadowland-Sire, 1-25724

k.d. lang is an artist who's time has come. Her spirited vocals are emotional to the core. Her stage persona is a bit left of center, but don't let that throw you. Just listen! Owen Bradley produces this album and brings to it a feel that has been missing in country female vocalists today. The most talked about cut on the album is the "Honky Tonk Angels' Medley," which showcases the talents of not only lang, but Kitty Wells, Brenda Lee and Loretta Lynn as well. "I'm Down To My Last Cigarette" is the first single from the LP. Other highlights include "Busy Being Blue", "Tears Don't Care

OUT OF THE BOX

PATTY LOVELESS (MCA, MCA-53333) A Little Bit In Love (2:24) (Goldline-ASCAP) (S. Earle) (Producers: E. Gordy, Jr., T. Brown)

This honky tonk ditty written by Steve Earle is perfect for Loveless! The swing-time rhythm and jazzy piano move you right along as Loveless queries whether or not one can be "a little bit in love." The up-tempo pace is a welcome one and shows that this artist is a versatile and talented lady. MCA secures Emory Gordy, Jr. and Tony Brown for producing responsibilities and they put the package together so well. Radio folks should be adding this tune in no time!

FEATURE PICKS

MARTY STUART (Columbia, 38-07914) Matches (2:58) (SBK Blackwood-BMI; SBK April, Keith Stegall-ASCAP) (K. Stegall, C. Craig) (Producer: M. Stuart)

Stuart delivers a fiery tune with a vindictive aura in "Matches". The hook is great! Add some fine pickin' and folks will be noddin' their heads from the chorus on through. Stuart produces as well on this product, and perhaps some outside insight would have helped to smooth over some rough spots here and there. But overall, a catchy tune that deserves a listen.

JOHN WESLEY RYLES (Warner Bros., 7-27869-A) Nobody Knows (3:05) (Write Road, Ensign, Little Whitney-BMI; Famous-ASCAP) (J.W. Ryles, D. Goodman, J. Raymond, P. Rakes) (Producer: B. Beckett)

A surprising saxophone solo introduces us to this record from Ryles. The rhythm is mid-tempo and the question: "When love leaves, where does it go?" The answer: "Nobody knows." But Ryles knows enough to get this song moving, and move up the charts it should! His voice is in a high-octave range and how good it sounds.

GEORGE JONES (Epic, 34-07913) The Old Man No One Loves (3:59) (Kenny & Dell, Shylane-BMI) (W. Asbill) (Producer: B. Sherrill)

This is a true country vignette sung George Jones-style. We experience the heartache of loneliness and are reminded of the folks that "no one loves." A surprise ending leaves the listener with the irony that death often brings. Jones' voice is as interpretive as ever.

A MAN CALLED HALSEY SIGNS A MAN CALLED HOSS... The legendary "Outlaw" they call Hoss, Waylon Jennings, has turned himself in for exclusive worldwide representation with The Jim Halsey Company. Jennings made it official by signing an agreement in the company of (l-r) Halsey President Terry Cline, CEO Jim Halsey, manager Bill Carter, Halsey VP George Mallard and wife Jessi Colter at his home in Nashville.

OWEN'S LADIES... Sire artist k.d. lang recently got together with three of her idols to record a cut that became part of her newly-released Shadowland, The Owen Bradley Sessions, album. "Honky Tonk Angels' Medley" features Brenda Lee, Loretta Lynn and Kitty Wells, all of whom have been produced by Bradley. The single has also been made into a music video. Pictured on the set of the video are (l-r) k.d. lang, Brenda Lee, Owen Bradley, Kitty Wells and Loretta Lynn. Photo by Dean Dixon.

NASHVILLE NOTE-ABLES

trinity lane...

"Closer Than You Think"!

Allen Estes, Sharon Anderson and Tom Grant...trinity lane.

Their individual names are Sharon Anderson, Allen Estes and Tom Grant. They call themselves, as a group, trinity lane. When asked why they spell the name with lowercase letters, they explained that "trinity" means three in harmony. With that explanation, I realized what an appropriate name they had chosen.

They met at a "writer's night" performance, at the Hall of Fame motel, in Nashville. Sharon and Allen had casually known each other before. Then, Tom (who many of you will know through his exposure on The Nashville Network's "Nashville Now" show) came in, one night, and heard Allen sing. They were introduced and began a song writing association. Later, Tom and Sharon met under the same circumstances. When the three heard the blend of their voices, they recognized the magic and trinity lane was formed.

The first song they wrote together was "Closer Than You Think". They sang the demo entirely in three part harmony. In fact... Tom Grant put the demo costs on his Mastercard. "My account was over the limit, at the time, but we got it done," grinned Tom. They took the demo to Norro Wilson at Merit Music, and he heard that same harmony magic, at once! In fact, he was so impressed that he called super-producer Jim Malloy out of retirement to produce a session on trinity lane. That session got them signed with Curb Records, and their first trinity lane is filling a long-missing void in music! They are individual soloists, but they have the knowledge to recognize that their harmony is the exceptionally commercial talent. All three are signed with Merit Music, as writers, and they write their own material. They firmly believe that they will have the freedom to create their own destiny. In other words, the comment was made, "Whether we fly or crash, we built the plane!"

The three were so enthusiastic about their future plans that they all began talking in rapid succession. It was hard to keep up, but I shared their enthusiasm. Here are a few of the positive facts they shared: "We have certain things (statements) we write about. We try to say something with our songs. We are proponents of the love themes, but we try to say it in a different way. Our longevity will bring about our main goals. We want people to enjoy our whole album as well as our single releases! We are acoustic, and that is the basic roots of our music..."

The first time I met them, they brought their guitars into the office and sang a few of their songs. Wow! I loved it! trinity lane has a fresh approach to country music. However, it is pleasingly remindful of some long-missing old styles. They "touch" you with their songs and performances. It's this combination that makes trinity lane a new and refreshing music act. Take Allen Estes, from Livermore Falls, Maine; Sharon Anderson, from Calahoo, Alberta and Tom Grant, from Milwaukee,...mix them in Nashville, blend in their harmony, and you have a new recipe for success called...trinity lane!

KENNEDY TO ASCAP... Shelby Kennedy has been appointed ASCAP's Nashville Director of Membership Relations, it was announced by ASCAP Southern Director Connie Bradley. In his new position, Kennedy will be responsible for working with publishers and signing new writers. Kennedy previously was Professional Manager for Al Gallico Music and worked as a songplugger for the Music Mill in Nashville. A graduate of Belmont College with a business administration degree in music, Kennedy has also been a songwriter and background vocalist. His father is Jerry Kennedy, the noted producer. Kennedy is a member of the Nashville Songwriters Association International and the Gospel Music Association. He also serves on the Country Music Association's Membership Committee. Commenting on Kennedy's appointment, Bradley said, "We are delighted to welcome Shelby to our staff. His experience in so many aspects of the music business makes him a very valuable asset."

INDIE SPOTLIGHT

RENO BROTHERS (Step One, SOR-387A) Yonder Comes A Freight Train (2:06) (Tree-BMI) (R. Pennington) (Producer: R. Pennington)

Jim and Jessie recorded this tune back in the mid 60's and it still holds up to the test of time. The Reno Brothers are found tracking around the U.S.A. but home ends up being right here in Nashville. They hit their rolling harmonies every time, laying a fast track to success. Ray Pennington, president of Step One Records, penned this tune and produces it to perfection as well! With so many talented artists on their roster, the Step One family is still growing with acts like the Reno Brothers. So hop aboard radio guys and gals, this train's headed for the charts.

INDIE FEATURE PICKS

MAURA SULLIVAN (Playback, P-1323) Trouble (2:27) (Lovey-BMI) (M. Sullivan) (Producers: J. Gale, J. Pierce)

Maura Sullivan has the most resonant, distinctive female voice out there today. You won't find another singer (or songwriter) like her anywhere. This jazzy tune has crossover potential but country listeners, male and female, will enjoy the amusing lyrics and upbeat melody. Radio programmers, you can't get into any trouble for adding this one!

AVONDALE (Holton, HR 516A) Johnnycake Ridge (2:41) (Dale Davis, Holton-BMI) (D. Davis) (Producer: Delaney)

This tune pleasantly surprised our review panel with its 1960'ish folk feel. The minor key violins play a major part in setting the mood as do the tom tom drums and rhythmic guitar strokes. Not suited to all country formats, Avondale should find solace with the more adventurous radio stations. Worth the risk in our opinion.

BURBANK STATION (Prairie Dust, PD 8841-AA) Divided (3:05) (Alabama Band-ASCAP) (J. Rushing, J. Jarrard) (Producer: L. Morton)

This ballad explores the threat of divorce in these tough times for 'true love.' Burbank Station's lead female vocalist is talented, although we weren't able to find out her name. There are some strings to sadden the heart making it a good song to listen to when the blues are on their way.

RAPPIN' WITH THE WRITERS:

J.B. DETTERLINE, JR.

J.B. Detterline, Jr. started his music career in 1955 in his hometown of Coatesville, Pennsylvania. With the legendary 50's Rock 'n' Roll era in full swing, J.B. learned to play guitar, was fortunate enough to be included as one on the "in" musicians in the Philadelphia area, and his band worked steadily fronting a lot of the major acts during the 50's. In fact, J.B. Detterline's band was the second band, ever, to play the famous Peppermint Lounge in New York City.

J.B. began writing songs as early as 1956. He was one of the few Eastern musicians who performed and wrote in the Nashville/Memphis style. In 1974, with the British influence being dominant, J.B. headed for Memphis. However, Nashville was as far as he got. After hearing a few performances in Nashville, J.B. gave up his singing goals and concentrated on writing.

"I began writing," he says, "and I did the independent starvation bit for several years. I worked at several jobs, but I wouldn't quit. I knew it had to get better someday. Finally, I got a George Gobel cut. It did very well, and I knew I was going to get other artists interested in my songs." Others did show interest. In 1983, J.B. got a phone call informing him that David Allan Coe was releasing "The Ride" as a single on CBS. That song soon after, went to #1!

J.B. has never signed an exclusive writer's contract, which goes to prove that a good writer can get "cuts" on his/her own. Detterline has had artists like Hank Williams, Jr.; Sonny Wright; Narvel Felts; Leon Everette; Tiny Tim; and Gary Gentry cut his songs. J.B. summed it all up with "It's nice to have the cuts, but the thrill is writing the song!" Spoken like a truly dedicated writer.

At The Taito America Distribs Meeting

Taito America staged its first annual distributor meeting and golf outing, April 28 and 29 in grand style at three different sites! The popular Lino's Restaurant in Chicago was the first stop on Thursday evening for the cocktail and dinner party. Distribs enjoyed hors d' oeuvres, cocktails and a positively delicious dinner, composed of three entrees with all the trimmings plus dessert! On Friday morning, there was a breakfast meeting at the Westin O'Hare in suburban Rosemont, Illinois. At this function Taito unveiled "Top Shooter," in its final form, with new artwork, mounted rifle, detailed cabinet graphics, ticket dispenser, et al-fully fashioned for the American marketplace. Also revealed was "Twin Eagle," which is the firm's latest kit. Distribs were enthusiastic in their response and, incidentally, Taito's network was very well represented at the two-day event. Next on the agenda was the golf outing, held at Hilldale Country Club, with tournament play, prizes awarded and a cocktail party immediately following. Here are the results of the tournament: Bob Boales of Betson Enterprise-Moonachie won for "longest drive"; Mike Belmonte of Bally L/S won for "closest to the pin"; and Mike Pavlis of Bally L/S won for "highest score." In "low net," first place went to Paul Russell of Active Amusement (Philly); second place went to Mike McWilliams of General Leisure (Portland); third place to Steve Koeningsburg of State Sales (Baltimore); fourth place to Bob LeBlanc of Rowe-Dedham; and fifth place to Jerry Marcus of Atlas Dist. (Chicago). In "low gross" first place went to Pete Entringer of Audio Visual Amusements; second place to Bob Haim of Belam Southeast; third place to Dave Patterson of Sun Belt Amusement; fourth place to Mike Wilkenson of State Music-Dallas; and fifth place to Ron Malinowski of Aladdin's Castle. A special "best dressed" award was presented to Gabe Novelle of Northwest Amusement in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada who made his appearance "well suited" at this event! The prizes, by the way, were all in cash awards and the proceedings were all recorded on video tape and then played back at the cocktail party for everyone's amusement! This was indeed a fitting climax! The accompanying photos were taken, not on the golf course, but at Lino's Restaurant!

AROUND THE ROUTE

It's true what they say, you don't always realize the value of something until you have to do without it. The telephone, for example. There are times, like when you're in the shower and it starts to ring and you want to tell it to "get lost" as you rush out, dripping wet, only to pick it up and hear a dial tone! What's much worse, however, is when it's sitting, in its usual position on your desk at the office, completely silent for hours at first, and then for days! You look at it, pleadingly, hoping it will ring. You gently remove the receiver from its cradle...you are encouraged by the familiar sound of the dial tone, so you attempt to make your call only to discover, after punching all digits that the repeating dial tone is the only response you're getting. Commencing on Sunday, May 8, and continuing through deadline for this issue, the Chicago office of Cash Box, which is located in suburban Cicero, Illinois, was without telephone service, due to a fire at a major Illinois Bell facility in Hinsdale, Illinois, which affected both the business and residential communities in a number of suburbs. Flights were delayed at O'Hare and Midway airports on Monday morning, due to disconnected phone lines between the radar station and the Chicago communications center. We heard so many horror stories about businesses, large and small, which could not function under these conditions; not to mention the households that were without a means of communication for emergency purposes. While Chicago proper was not directly involved at the onset, over-loading and heavy traffic on the telephone system soon began creating some difficulties in the city as well. Just imagine what would happen if all lanes of a major expressway were closed at one time, causing traffic to spill over into other routes of transportation, making for all sorts of tie-ups! Such was the situation that prevailed as yours truly tried to put together a coin machine section for this week's book. On Tuesday, I found a location in Chicago from which I could at least communicate with the home office in California, since we were wrapping up our "Salute To The Jukebox" special. It worked out beautifully, at first. On Wednesday, I was able to resume communication, briefly; however, by early afternoon the Chicago system experienced some technical problems, leaving me with the recorded message "your call cannot be completed, please try again later!" It was back to square one. According to media reports, what started out as a projected four-day interruption could now continue for weeks! To all of you out there with working telephones—cherish those little gems! It's tough doing business without 'em!...If you wish to contact the Chicago office of Cash Box, or me personally, try the number first (there's always the possibility of a miraculous resumption of service); otherwise, contact our Hollywood office at (213)464-8241 and they will relay your request to me or try to assist you as much as they can. Don't forget the mail, by the way, it's working perfectly, so keep those letters and press releases coming. We need them now more than ever. What was that saying...neither rain nor sleet, nor snow, nor an ailing Ma Bell, can halt the wheels of the Cash Box Coin Machine Section! Thank you for your patience.
