by Dave Sholin

So far 1988 has been good to familiar names we haven't seen on the chart for awhile...AEROSMITH, CHEAP TRICK, BOZ SCAGGS, CHER, and ROD STEWART are among the bigger names to receive a hero's welcome by both programmers and the audience. It's been several years since DARYL HALL and JOHN OATES have been a team and that powerful combination enters top ten territory this week. HIT FACTOR nearly doubles from 35% to 66%. Moves into the top twenty at KIXY 21-16, KZOU 28-17, KYYY 27-19, 92X 24-18, WQUT 21-13, WJET 22-15, 106X 22-11, WXKS 24-15, WSPK 23-15, KC101 25-18, WKNE 23-16, KISN 28-18, KMON 24-15, KYNO 25-18, KWIN 27-19, KPLZ 21-16, KZZU 22-17, etc.

CHEAP TRICK is fired up and adding more fuel all the time. Hot debuts at KBQ St. Louis #24, KMOK Lewiston #30, #28 Z94 Boston, WMMY Melbourne #27, WKRM Columbia #29, Q102 Cincinnati #25, KDWZ Des Moines #28, etc. In order of airplay only they now rank fifteenth with adds at KC101, Z100 Portland, FM104, KS104, WIBW, KIIS, KCLD, WIZM, BAM99, WKLQ, KKYK, etc.

A long list of excellent moves show THE JETS are definitely for real. Brian Phillips and Don Michaels take them 28-12 at KDWB Minneapolis and at B97 New Orleans Shadow Stevens and Joey Giovingo already list it top ten with a 14-8 gain. Also top ten at WAVA Washington D.C. 14-9 and doing very well out West at Y97 Santa Barbara 30-17, Q106 San Diego 30-25, KATD Los Gatos/San Jose 18-15 and KIIS Los Angeles 32-28.

Instant airplay is turning into strong chart action for BRUCE HORNSBY & THE RANGE. Twenty three adds put it close to 300 reports, with top thirty debuts at POWER 92, LG73, WWHB, G105, WDDJ, WLKI, KFMW, KEYJ, KYMO, KYYA, KGOT, B94, WKZQ, WCGQ, etc. Jumps five places or more at WJLK/K94 29-19, KPHR 29-21, KGLI 31-22, POWER 105 28-20, KUUB 29-16, KSWB 27-19, KWSD 28-20, etc.

PRINCE is also a quick reaction record in many areas. Steve Kennis at WXTQ Athens OH says it's his number one request item, receiving the "biggest phone response of any record in the past year, with calls from all demos" and moves 27-13. Other big jumps at KIHK 24-14, Z93 29-12, KSTN 29-21, KGGI 23-12, POWER 104 23-14, KITY 29-24, Z104 22-14, Y104 29-20, WZLS 20-14, etc.

Eighteen adds give THE CHURCH an even 200 reports as they continue to make their way up the Top 40. Looking good in Boston where WXKS moves it 23-18 and Z94 debuts it at 24. New on WPST Trenton, WIBW Topeka, WZOK Rockford, KIXY San Angelo, Q101 Meridian, WYKS Gainesville, WKQB Charleston, KIXR Ponca City, KYNO Fresno, etc.

Early MIDNIGHT OIL believer Guy Brouillard at CKOI Montreal takes them 3-1 this week. Also top five at AM106 Calgary, KATD Los Gatos/San Jose and top ten at Y94 Fargo 13-10, WKLQ Grand Rapids 18-9, CKXY Vancouver 20-10, POWER 92 Honolulu 16-8, etc. Added at Q105 Tampa, WCIL Carbondale, WHHY Montgomery, KYYA Billings, KIIS Los Angeles, KFIV and FM104 Modesto, etc.

Tremendous phone response coming in on DEF LEPPARD at FM96 Valdosta, WQUT Johnson City and Y104 Hattiesburg among others. HIT FACTOR up to 11% already with more than 150 reports moving it into CHARTBOUND position. Top Twenty at K104, KRRG, Y95, WPXR, WQID, 106RTB, etc. New on KROC, 93Q, KOZE, K-STAR, B97, KBIU, KGGG, WROQ, 102QQ, WNYZ, Z103, KWES, etc.

ROBERT PLANT is rockin' his way up towards CHARTBOUND status. Biggest gains at WSPT 20-15, WLLI 11-6, KYYY 22-17, KRRG 18-13, KIXY 11-4, KFMI 28-22, KOZE 22-17, WBNQ 23-15, KBAU 21-14, WVKZ 30-21, KHSS 25-14, etc. Adds include WANS Greenville, Y95 Dallas, KDON Monterey/Salinas, Z95 Chicago, WLXR La Crosse, WKOR Starkville, LG73 Vancouver, WRCK Utica, etc.

It's been over a month since BREATHE became RECORD TO WATCH registering big adult response everywhere it's played. Mike Preston at KWSS San Jose notes it's his number one requested track with adults. HIT FACTOR is 27% with key gains at KMEL 17-12, KSND 27-20, PRO/FM 24-17, Z104 28-19, FM102 24-20, KWSS 28-24, etc. 15 impressive adds including Y108, KUBE, KPLZ, Z100 Portland, WXKS, WROQ, WBNQ, KCPW, WCGQ, KZZU, etc. Number one at KCPX, KDON, KUUB, and WCIL.

Reports double on ZIGGY MARLEY capturing new airplay on WJET, WSBG, WTIC, KZHR, Y97, KMEL, KFTZ, POWER 104, WIFC, KIXY, Q96/76, 94Q, WOVO, KZEV, 102QQ, etc. LIVE 105 San Francisco logs a giant 21-9 move.

Number one listings for J.J.FAD at POWER 96 Miami, KZZP, and KKFR Phoenix and KSTN Stockton. Debuts #20 at KKYK Little Rock, #26 B93/FM Austin, #29 EAGLE 106 Philadelphia, #30 KQID Alexandria, etc. New on WNVZ, WBBQ, WHYT, KRNQ, WNCI, KOY, KKSS, WGGZ, WKQB, etc.

10,000 MANIACS are staging what could be one of the year's strongest comebacks. Helped by an appearance on Saturday Night Live and video exposure on VH1 sales and requests are hitting radio. Added at PRO/FM, 100KHI, Z104, KZOU, 95XXX, WBBQ, KZZU, and POWER 92.

Video rentals of "Dirty Dancing" are partly responsible for the success of THE CONTOURS at KRQ Tucson. PD Clarke Ingram put it on and noticed staffers turning up radios in the office. After testing well in call-out and coming in #3 in requests after one week, he increased rotation. This week it moves 7-2 and gets added at sister station KZZP Phoenix, in addition to CKOC Hamilton.

INSIDE A/C

Johnny Hates Jazz and Brenda Russell are locked in a mortal coil with top spins as they both seek the next number one.

Then come Columbia's three muskateers: Art, Dan and George, averaging a 91% HIT FACTOR and 200 stations. Artie has HIT FACTOR and HEAVY rotation reports in his favor, with George and Dan having the mighty momentum on their side.

Hall & Oates are in the midst of a spectacular run, with 194 stations in just four weeks. The soul brothers of pop music are smokin' in three formats. And now, the album...

Bruce Hornsby & The Range cleared nearly 200 stations in their first three weeks and if you don't count this week's 43 ADDs, their HIT FACTOR would be 85%.

Gentleman Boz Scaggs is setting up the anxiously-awaited release of his new album with a 30-19 chart move on "Heart Of Mine". How many of you took last week's hearing test?

At this moment, Billy Vera is already halfway up the chart with "Between Like And Love". His two-week, 15 point jump shouldn't be lost in the wake of Scaggs and Hornsby. New this week for: WGOW, WQTU, KLSS, KS95, WMBD, KBOL and KRNO, etc.

Belinda Carlisle's "Circle In The Sand" is proving to be her most appropriate A/C single to date. In four short weeks she's reached a 70% HIT FACTOR from among her 133 players including KYJC, WHTX, WLTY, B100, WJON, KKHT, WGOL/FM, WZNY and KVIC, etc.

George Harrison, complete with electric-lite orchestration, debuts at 30 with a 52% HIT FACTOR and 126 stations including, KEFM, WELI, WMT/FM, KLZS and WEBE/FM.

Devonsquare, the New England trio, from outta nowhere debuts at 33 with only 79 stations, but where played, including WSKY, KBOL, KYLT, WKST, KKRB, KNOX and KLWN, the HIT FACTOR is 55%.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, "My Love" by Julio Iglesias w/Stevie Wonder is this week's MOST ADDED with 63 new stations, among them are WRMF, KFMB, KQIP, WWMJ, KFQD, WTMJ, WBLV, KGLO, WTWR, KKJO, KKHT and WHAI.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, "Love Changes (Everything)" by Climie Fisher is climin' the UP & COMING ladder with 23 adds this week including WAFL, KYJC, WJXL, WMMG and WTWR.

REVIEWS by Ron Fell & Diane Rufer

SADE
Paradise (Epic)

This is exactly why they put grooves in records. The grooves in this case are chisled by musicians in a swirl of subtlety wrapping a breathy voice in a smokey haze, mixed metaphors and all.

TONY TERRY
Forever Yours (Epic)

Young Tony is able to make a brand new song sound like an early sixties classic ballad. A dab of doo-wop in drop-dead digital sound. Heaven!

ERIC CARMEN
Make Me Lose Control (Arista)

A career re-vitalized by one song in the hit movie, "Dirty Dancing" and EC is back with a powerful ballad co-written with Dean Pitchford, who co-incidentally, usually writes for film. In this case the song will create its own visuals and sell itself.

POINTER SISTERS
I'm In Love (RCA)

This Jonathan Butler song gets a few Pointers in a slow-handed love song. Class dismissed. Now, about your homework...

NAMED SENIOR VP/GM GLEW'S E/P/A ADVENTURE

David Glew has been named Senior Vice President and General Manager of Epic/Portrait/CBS Associated Labels. He will oversee A&R, promotion, product development, and marketing, press and publicity. A 19-year veteran of Atlantic Records, Glew left his position as Executive Vice President and General Manager of the label last month.

"Dave brings to this company a long track record of success in managing every aspect of a first-rate record operation," said new CBS Records President Tommy Mottola. "We will all benefit from having Dave's industry expertise available."

Still at large is momentary Atco Records chieftain Jerry Greenberg, who is saying that he will announce plans within two weeks. Those plans could also be within the CBS fold.

ATLANTIC'S KOMISAR NAMED DIRECTOR OF DANCE MUSIC

Kenny Komisar has been appointed National Director of Dance Music for Atlantic Records, based in New York. "I am delighted to be appointing Kenny to this important position," said Atlantic President Doug Morris. Kenny brings to his new post substantial experience in the fields of A&R and promotion." Since 1986, Komisar has been A&R rep for Atlantic, working out of Los Angeles.

GETS OFF A/C FENCE NBC'S KYUU GOES TOP FORTY

"There was a great big hole in the market," says KYUU PD Joe Alfenito, explaining why NBC's San Francisco outlet dropped A/C for "mainstream" Top 40—in the midst of a sale to Emmis Broadcasting.

"We told Emmis about the plans, and they had no objection," said Alfenito, adding that the switch had been contemplated since last Fall. "KYUU had been sitting on the fence between A/C and Top 40," he explained. "We looked at our cume base and found it was fractured—a good deal of the audience thought we were Top 40." The changeover meant dropping most jock talk, except for the irrepressible Don Bleu in mornings. "There was a definite need to become more music-intensive," noted Alfenito, who arrived at the station from Urban WKYS-Washington, DC, in January of '87. Once the sale is completed this summer, Alfenito believes the new KYUU will be a good fit with other straight-ahead Top 40s in the Emmis stable, like Washington's WAVA and WLOL in Minneapolis. As for his own future, he said, "I'd like to work for Emmis. I've got a great deal of respect for them"

ON MANAGEMENT

KEEP ON TRYIN'!

by Dr. Oren Harari

People who read this column sometimes get discouraged. They say: "It's almost impossible to do all the things you suggest. I can't be Super-manager!" In the same vein, a colleague who read my last article ("Leadership Checklist" April 22) commented that he didn't know of any managers who would score 100 percent on those criteria.

Those reactions are perfectly legitimate. I don't know anyone who's a perfect manager, either! The ideas and standards I write about every other week are meant to offer you--the current or aspiring manager--some goals to shoot for, and some behaviors to emulate. You may never reach those goals, but each step you take will make you that much more effective in your management position.

Effective managers, in fact, have at least one characteristic in common: They are constantly trying to improve, constantly challenging themselves to learn new things and constantly pushing themselves to take on new habits and skills.

Researcher Richard Boyatzis studied a nationwide sample of effective and mediocre managers. One attribute that separated the two groups, he found, was what he called "accurate self-assessment."

Specifically, what makes competent managers competent is that...

1. They constantly evaluate their performance, habits and work behaviors. They ask themselves questions such as: "What am I doing well? What can I do better? What do I need more practice in? What do I need to learn?"

2. They identify and acknowledge-- even publicly--their strengths and weaknesses. No false humility here--they admit their strengths and are proud of them. But no defensiveness either--they admit their current limitations or weakness and express a keen desire to improve.

3. They seek help or take other action to remove a personal limitation or weakness. They set goals--often publicly. They read, take courses, sign up for training sessions, volunteer for challenging projects, locate mentors, pick the brains of experts, and they practice, practice, practice!

4. They recognize that self-improvement is an ongoing process. They are invigorated by the need and challenge of constantly learning new things. Indeed, psychologists have found that the healthiest, best adjusted individuals are those who see learning as a lifelong commitment Boyatzis' research is interesting because it also reveals something about the non-competent managers. The less competent managers apparently did not possess the characteristics detailed above. This suggests that less competent managers do not admit their limitations and weaknesses. They tend to believe that they don't need to improve. They're complaisant--that is, they don't feel a sense of urgency to learn new skills. Perhaps they've resigned themselves to believing that there's not much they can do to improve themselves. Perhaps they have become so focused on carrying out their daily work routines that they fail to step back and consider the importance of "self-assessment." Perhaps they're defensive, blaming others and making excuses for their poor performance, rather than confronting the fact that their own limitations be contributing to the problems.

It's ironic, but I suspect that it's the better managers who read this column carefully and take it seriously. I say this not to pat myself on the shoulder, but rather to acknowledge that less effective managers probably don't seriously read this column or any other business publication because they don't feel the self-imposed pressure to improve that the good managers do.

So to all of you readers who wonder if you'll ever be "perfect," stop worrying. None of us will--but, as Boyatzis' research indicates, it sure is a lot more interesting (and more profitable) to try. I think Bob Dylan put it well when he said: "He who is not busy being born is busy dying." So keep on challenging yourself with this column and with any other possible source of help you can get. Learning to manage well is a never-ending process, but as Apple co-founder Steve Jobs declared: "The journey is the reward."●

#1 GAVIN ALBUM CHART

#9 GAVIN ALTERNATIVE CHART

GAVIN TOP 40: 34* - 200 STATIONS STRONG!

Under The Milky Way

J.D. RYAN, KEGL - "In-house research shows incredible acceptance across the board. Teens to 35 year olds are the reason we moved it 35-27 with a hot report. Very impressive!"

GREGG SWEDBERG, WL0L - "The Church is not a ballad and not a dance record. Those are two great reasons to play it. The third reason is it tests extremely well with 18-34 men and women. It is doing exactly what we wanted it to do."

BUZZ BENNETT, Y95 - "Top 20 requests and tests well with 18-34 male and female."

KID LEO, JEFF McCARTNEY, WMMS - "One of the best sounding records that WMMS is playing. Nothing else sounds like The Church. Perfect demographical appeal and it's reacting."

BOB HARLOW, KATD - "Good sales and strong adult response. It stands out in a unique and refreshing way."

MATT HUDSON, Z104 - "There's been a huge cult following for The Church for some time. This may be the hit they need to broaden their demographic appeal. Building nicely in Madison."

TOM JEFFRIES, Z94 - "A very big record here at Z94. Amazing phones from the first play."

FORCE M.D.'S

By Betty Hollars

Rarely does a rappin', doo-woppin' group of youngsters make it to the top of the Urban Contemporary, A/C and Top 40 charts. The Force M.D.'s did just that with a slow, sweet, melodic ballad called "Tender Love."

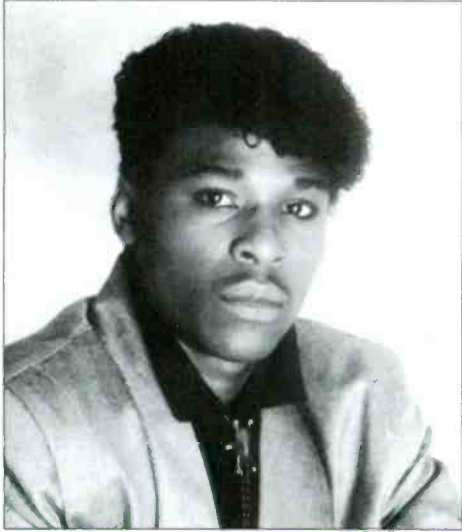

The Force M.D.'s include two brothers, T.C.D. (Antoine Maurice Lundy) and Stevie D., who have been singing together since childhood. Trisco (Pearson) joined them after his start in a gospel choir. Mercury, the final member of this modern version of barbershop quartet, had his introduction to the stage as an emcee.

Their professional history sounds like something out of Mother Goose. A New York streetcorner group specializing in savvy, soul harmonies, they often stopped traffic as crowds of people stood on hoods of cars and climbed telephone poles to see and hear them. Their antics caught the attention of an NBC camera crew, and a videotape of them performing on the Staten Island ferry ended up on a segment of the David Letterman show.

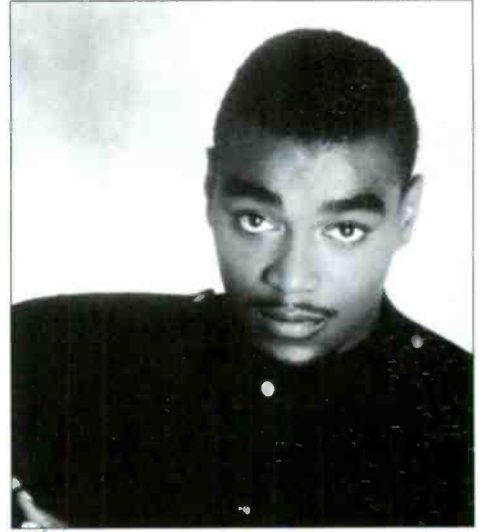

The chain of events that led to their being chosen to open for Madonna's European tour surprised even this group of four balladeers. We spoke to Trisco and T.C.D after their return from Europe, and just before they were to embark on their first concert tour of Japan. They plan to return at the end of May to entertain graduating high school seniors at--fittingly enough--Disneyland and Disney World.

TRISCO

T. C. D.

We use the word "force" to represent the struggle we went through to make it from the streets of New York to a professional career.

FROM RAPS TO RICHES

BETTY: What is this I hear about the four of you being discovered singing for commuters aboard the Staten Island ferry?

TRISCO: We saw this man on the ferry playing guitar with his open case sitting on the floor. After he performed, people started clapping a little bit and throwing change in his guitar case. We were always singing for talent shows and like that, so we figured if we started doing a little performing on the boat, we could make some money too. We got out there and did our little routines, doing our steps, doing our Jackson 5--we did lots of people, Sam Cooke, Elvis Presley-- we used to sing doo-wop and a little rap, pretty soon we'd be break dancing for variety. Then we'd put the hat down. People started applauding, then they were throwing dollars, five dollars sometimes. We'd ride that boat back and forth to Manhattan and the working people would pay. Sometimes we'd make $400 on the good days. Holidays and weekends were the days you'd really make out.

BH: How did you get from there to your first hit?

TP: We'd do parties in the city-- shows, hip-hop parties. Stevie D. and Mercury were really into rapping at that time. They'd go uptown to MC a little bit at clubs. That's where they met Mr. Magic. He used to come and check us out at our shows during his 'BLS days. One day he brought this guy who took us to a studio to make a little demo tape. He presented it to Tom Silverman at Tommy Boy Records. We went to his house, ate a little dinner, sang for him, talked, then he came around with the contracts. We took them home to our parents and then signed.

BH: How old were you at the time?

TP: Twenty-one.

BH: What kind of musical training did you have?

TP: Through our parents, mostly. My mother sings a lot, and T.C. & Stevie D.'s mom sings in choirs and in church. So we've always been involved with singing.

BH: What about school choirs-- did you sing in high school?

TP: Oh, yes--at the assemblies, every Friday, and in grade school, too.

BH: Did all four of you go to the same grade school?

TP: Yep. P.S. 44 in Staten Island, kindergarten all the way through the sixth grade, and from there to junior high school. Then Steve and Merc went to Curtiss. TC and I went to Susan B. Wagner High.

BH: Where did the name "Force M.D.'s" come from?

TP: Mercury and Steve were rapping and it was called Force MCs, just like all the rap groups. Then we changed it to Force M.D.'s, with the M.D. standing for "musical diversity," because of the change in our style. We use the word "force" to represent the struggle we went through to make it from the streets of New York to a professional career. If you catch the show, you'll see we try to interact with the crowd, and try ways that make us diverse in our presentation. We do ballads with four-part harmony, then we break down and do rap for the younger audiences.

BH: You sang with an older doo-wop group, didn't you?

TP: Yes. I was sixteen at the time, and they were called the Cook Corporation. One of the guys in the group's father taught us about making good doo-wop and structured harmony--chords and like that.

BH: Are the Force M.D.'s the same now, as far as personnel, as the original four?

TP: Jessie D. was on the Chillin' album. Right now he's embarking on a solo career. That was our second album. Love Letters was our first album. The current album, Touch And Go is the first one with the four of us.

BH: You do four-part harmony in all your songs. Did you have a singing coach who taught you the four parts?

TP: No, I structure that myself. We all collaborate on the songs, who's going to do what notes, and we're basically on our own.

BH: That's pretty impressive for guys your age.

TP: Sometimes in the studio we do five-part harmony. We over-dub and some of us will sing two parts.

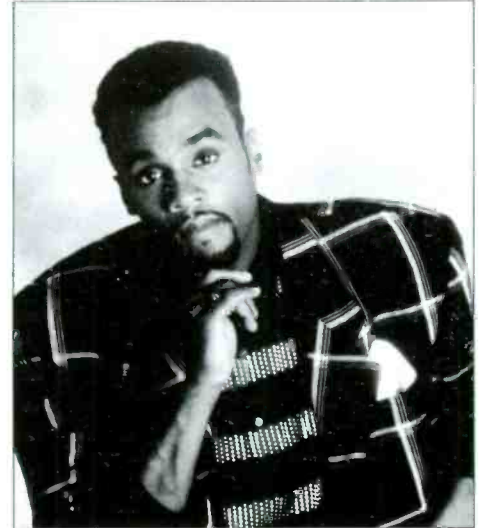

(At this point, Trisco hands over the phone to T.C.D.)

BH: How did the hook-up with Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis come about?

TP: We were asked to do a song for the movie, "Krush Groove." The song was "Tender Love," and the producers were Terry Lewis and Jimmy

by Tony Richland

Nobody
Asked Me,

BUT...

As we write this, our beloved Baltimore Orioles have finally managed to win one baseball game. At Mrs. Hollywood's suggestion, we dusted off our old Oriole jacket and proudly wore it down to the Safeway, exhibiting our support for an underdog. Ben, the liquor department checker, hadn't guffawed so hard since we appeared in our L.A. Clippers sweatshirt. Now we know how Al Gore must have felt when he asked an aide at a New York campaign appearance, "Which is the bagel and which is the lox?"

Taking some weird pleasure in living on the edge, we haven't cancelled any of our Eastern "It's Your Gamble" Airlines flight reservations. Maybe we need help, but we get kind of a rush from wondering just what the odds are that we'll actually land. Besides, we're addicted to the Spam entrees they serve in coach.

If anything in this column seems unusually intelligent in the next few months, it's because we've hired Larry Speakes as our ghostwriter. Larry has promised to obfuscate in a summary and cavalier fashion.

Can someone—anyone!—tell us why people are fans of horse racing, golf and the Indy 500? We feel that all horses, cars and golfers look alike. There's no one or nothing to identify with. This doesn't happen in baseball or hoops. Nolan Ryan and Darryl Strawberry do not look alike, nor do Magic Johnson and Larry Bird—well, those two, just a bit.

On April Fool's Day, Dallas deejay Ron Chapman asked listeners to send him checks for twenty dollars. No explanation—just send the checks. He collected a small fortune and, because he promised nothing in return, it was all legal! We'd like YOU to send US a check for twenty dollars, and we DO promise you something. We promise you we'll put it to really good use. NBA Playoff seats cost an arm and a leg these days.

What does this tell you about ratings (and about consultants)? A recent report showed Tom Brokaw's NBC Nightly News came in third in the three-network battle, yet a separate poll determined Tom to be the public's favorite news guy. Huh? Was it the lighting on CBS and ABC that gave them the numbers? And you guys PAY Arbitron and Birch!

The next time our buddy Kevin McDonald makes fun of us for being thirtysomething and plus, we'll refer him to one Kareem Abdul Jabbar, once babysat by McD, and still taking elbows to the throat while sinking the skyhook ...at 41!

Personal peeves: Two groups of people we think should receive no less than the gas chamber are baseball players who spit into buckets on national TV and supermarket customers who write checks. We recommend preliminary torture for those in the latter group who also stand there and enter the figures in their checkbooks while we wait to get the hell out with our onion.

At this writing, the Hollywood writers' strike was still on, so you should be informed that this column was really written by Bob "Mr. Scab" Harlow of KATD (with assistance from Larry Speakes and Joe Biden).

Walter Cronkite told the press, "Women will never vote for Bush because he reminds all of them of their first husbands." Walter, like Nixon, is getting cute in his seventysomethingth year.

If Bush isn't boring enough, what about Mike "Show The Bore The Door" Dukakis? This guy needs A) A charisma implant. B) Some shoulder pads for his toy suits. C) An eyebrow trim, and D) The smarts to dump his pushy Oscar-winning cousin Olympia, who upstages poor beaten-down Mrs. Dukakis at every rally. Gorbachev must be chortling (that's Milt Gorbachev, new Asst. MD to WKYE's Jack Michaels).

AT SOME point, both Bush and Dukakis must have been in PR, sales or promotion, because in recent days they have told us they have a "vision" for the future. Thanks, guys. We're just Joe Sixpack here looking for new business, and your "vision" is a smidge too abstract for us. The first candidate who tells Mr. Hollywood that he has a confirmed vision of new clients is the one for whom we ring doorbells.

At this writing (on our new incomprehensible electronic typewriter/moon rocket), it appears they've cancelled Slap Maxwell, the only sitcom worth two shakes of a lamb's tail. They've cancelled it because the likes of you keep giving the ratings to swill like Alf, Growing Pains, Who's The Boss and Geraldo Rivera. Thanks a lot! May a diseased elk do unnatural things to your sister! ■

UP YOUR ALLEY-JOAN JETT & THE BLACKHEARTS (BLACKHEART/CBS)

Although it's a big black heart, it's a heart nonetheless. And Up Your Alley tells a lot about what's beating beneath all that black leather. After the spectacular "Light Of Day," Joan Jett records her strongest, most consistent album yet. As usual, the message is unpretentious, sincere and bottomline oriented. I admire Joan for not re-writing "I Love Rock N Roll," choosing to embellish her music with guts rather than gimmick. That's Utopia's Kasim Sulton holding down the basslines. I love the single, "Ridin' With James Dean," "I Wanna Be Your Dog," the flatout "You Want In, I Want Out" and Chuck Berry's "Tulane" (off his overlooked Chess homecoming LP, Home Again). The Gavin Joan Jett fan club is still in full force after this one.

SHADOW PROPHETS-KEVIN EUBANKS (GRP)

Y KANT TORI READ

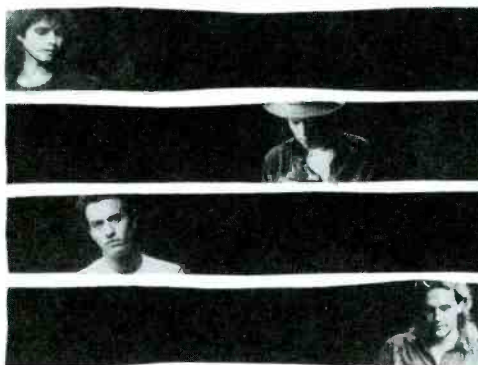

Y KANT TORI READ (ATLANTIC)

Last week we asked for more. This week the overnight deliveryman came through and I feel like a major new artist has just arrived. Artists like Tiffany and Debbie Gibson may have their place topping Top Forty charts, but I feel Album Radio has the advantage of utilizing talent with that added dimension. I found lots to hoot about on the "left side" of the record. Tori shows herself fully capable on slow songs like "Cool On Your Island" and "Fire On The Side." While I hate to draw needless comparisons, it might help to perceive Tori more in the style of a Kate Bush or Sinead O'Connor than Pat Benatar. This is an exciting and ambitious debut with an expansive sound. Turn it up.

NEW The Rave-Ups

THE BOOK OF YOUR REGRETS-THE RAVE-UPS (EPIC)

Already Gavin-acclaimed from their previous work on the Fun Stuff label, The Rave-Ups release a fine rock n roll guitar album (rooted with plenty of acoustic 12-string) with energy and competitive spirit. With 12 to choose from (just like the old daze), The Rave-Ups show that they are prolific in addition to being deft American rockers. As they tow the line between honest Album Radio and Alternative, the band combines a fiddle lick here, a slide sound there, an accordion squeeze over yonder. But ultimately rock n roll guitar prevails. A fine effort! Trax: "Sue & Sonny," "When The End Comes Before" and "Freedom Bound."

HALLELUJAH ANYWAY-DANCING HOOPS (RELATIVITY)

A good week for fledging American quartets. Like the Rave-Ups, Dancing Hoops are honing their art with honest results. The Hoops exploded on our Alternative chart, jumping from 45-20! Album Radio's best shot is still track #2, "Baby's Got Rockets." Singer Bob Bortnick and guitarist Mark Linkous prove themselves to be able writing partners. Other trax: "Torn Away" and a cover of John Prine's "Angel From Montgomery."

LIVE NUDE GUITARS-BRIAN SETZER (EMI-MANHATTAN)

I'm still mad at the world for letting "The Knife Feels Like Justice" slip by unheralded. Live Nude Guitars is a rowdy comeback. Brian Setzer brought his La Bamba role as Eddie Cochran back to the studio for a sharp cover of "Nervous Breakdown." He takes the song and wrings it dry with a fury.

DOUG-THE COOLIES (DB RECS)

Doug is the story of a skinhead street urchin who becomes a culinary guru chef. It's a rock opera take-off on Tommy. Not only are the lyrics clever, but I defy you to find a better Who impression than "Cook Book," right down to the Keith Moon drumming. Expertly recorded, Tommy has found itself an updated soul twin. A must for Who fans with a sense of humor. Didn't the Coolies cut an album of Paul Simon songs done in hardcore style?

ONE BIG DAY-FACE TO FACE (MERCURY)

If you liked Anton Fier's production of Drivin' & Cryin', Boston's Face To Face will please you no end. After recording on the Epic label, Face To Face spent three years cooling out, redefining their direction. By combining their love for American rock and folk, the band has achieved a forceful but restrained groove flavored with acoustic instruments and piano/organ work. Check out "As Forever As You," "A Place Called Home" (with its "Morning Dew" intro) and "She's A Contradiction." This is music with integrity. The extra thought put in shows. KZ

- Ralph Traitor SOUNDS

"Thin White Rope takes something that sounds vaguely familiar turns it inside out, sucks out its sense and sanity and leaves it bleeding by the side of the road. This is very weird shit indeed."

INSIDE ALTERNATIVE RADIO

A-Koo-De-A! - THE BONEDADDYS
(Chameleon) This eight member L.A. band has been in existence for three years. A-Koo-De-A, their debut LP, is loaded with some foot-stomping dance grooves. "Push Am Forward," the opening track, has some incredible guitar lines and does not let up from the moment the music starts. "She's The Lion," is in the Zulu-style and contains saxophone riffs guaranteed to make you shake. There's also Afro disco, Caribbean romp and Zouk all on one album. I dare you to put this record on and sit still - you can't!

Donut Comes Alive - ALICE DONUT
(Alternative Tentacles) This quintet from New York defies categorization, but their sound conjures up the Throwing Muses meet PIL. Lead vocalist, Tomas Antona's Lydon sound is evidenced on every track, but in particular on Donut's cover version of Donovan's "Sunshine Superman." "On World Profit" they vary their tempo from hard punk to slow ballad with a touch of country twang, all while dealing with the topic of the business world. This is an excellently crafted record - vocally and musically. I suggest you listen before you air. Certain lyrics might be objectionable to some. Other great trax are: "Joan of Arc," " and "American Lips." The only hole I found in this donut is in the center.

As evidenced in the chart, the Marley beat continues while The Smithereens and Peter Murphy edge closer to number one. The Mission UK makes an interesting rebound, while Tracy Chapman and Pixies inch closer to the top of the chart. Billy Bragg continues to bound up the chart and Faith Henschel of KCMU tells me that Billy let her station tape his show "in case there were people who could not afford to actually see the show." Thank goodness for artists like Billy! Eric of KDVS thinks that everyone should be aware of Bragg. The consensus around the States is that it's spring and finals time. I can always depend on Doris Duwe of WTSR for something profound: "We recently finished our fund raiser. We're exhausted. So we sat here and pitched Barry Manilow records into the trees - it has such a cleansing effect." Welcome to WUSM of North Dartmouth and their Music Director Marcia Woytaszek. Welcome to spring and good luck on your finals. Rock n' roll! Robert Barone

LOGISTICS

Some time ago, I published a request from Steven Bise of KUIC in Vacaville, California, for feedback on some logistical matters. Garry Osborn, Program Director of WKLI in Angola, Indiana, sent in an excellent response explaining how he handles some of the topics:

"Communicating with the air staff.

Memos are good when you need to let everyone know about an upcoming promotion or a change in your programming. They are also useful to let the sales department know about these changes a couple of weeks in advance so they can tell clients about the many things the station is going through when they are out making street calls. They are prepared when clients ask about something they heard on the air.

"Jocks should receive memos only when there is not enough time to call a meeting and go over a subject in person. Another time to use memos is when there is something small that you want to bring to their attention.

"A jock meeting is much better for going over promotions and contests, and changes in format or format. Everyone hears the information at the same time, and there is less room for error or misunderstanding. You also get the air people's ideas on the subject. It may be as simple as the way you are using a jingle, or the amount of gold you are playing. Remember, when brainstorming, there are no bad ideas.

"Controlling on-air promotional efforts comes under 'regular critiquing.' I try to hold a jock meeting once a month, just to make sure that we are on course, and more often than that when I feel there is a problem. When it comes to instructions to the air staff: They are getting paid to follow a game plan. It's the PD's responsibility to make sure they understand what is to be accomplished. I write down all the details or the methodology of the contest or promotion, and the actual announcer script to be used. They can deviate from the script as long as they don't change its meaning.

"What works in the area of instructions is a detailed plan that achieves a positive end result. When you tell an announcer that he or she must 'do this,' you likely will get a negative response and a job half-done. Explain why it has to be done, and offer different ways to do it. Think the way they think. Each person has to be dealt with fairly but differently.

"Area mentions. Area mentions keep listeners in touch with the radio station. When you mention their town or area, they know you are thinking about them. I don't think you can ever do enough in the area of localization.

"Lost pets. I don't think it's good to do lost pets announcements on the air. They are important to the person who lost the pet, but the rest of the audience isn't concerned. What we do is take the information on the phone and tell the callers we will give out their number if anyone should call us about a lost or found pet. We let them know that the station is concerned and cooperative.

"Liner cards. Liner cards are very important and should be used regularly by announcers. They can be used to promote contests and special programming (countdowns, oldies features, 'Top Five at Five,' etc.) as well as PSAs, other jocks, sporting events—the ideas are limitless. Liner cards should be changed regularly to keep them fresh. I like to write them in a WHO, WHAT, WHERE, WHEN and HOW fashion. Start with the HOW information one time, and the next time with the WHAT.

"Balancing creativity with control. Encourage creativity as much as possible. It's what makes your station different from the others in the market. Listeners like that. But creativity has to be monitored at all times through airchecks. That is what gives you control and allows you to step in when the creativity is no longer going in the same direction as the station.

"Make sure you put together an operations manual that explains the exact direction the station is to go. The first thing a new announcer should read is that manual.

"Training new people. In smaller markets, we are always going to be training new people. Start with the basics. Keep going over and over these basics until the announcer is ready to be developed into a personality. Not everyone is ready for this. Go as far as you can with each person; let that person's personality come out within the guidelines you have set. Make sure the jock keeps a skimmer tape, and that you listen to it often. Make the jock listen to it, both with you and by himself or herself.

"I could go on for another several pages, but this is a good start. I recommend a couple of good books: 'The Programming Operations Manual' by Steve Warren is excellent. It's expensive, but worth it. Also, to help with announcer development, read 'Building with the Basics' by Michael May."

My warmest thanks to Garry Osborne for taking the time to craft a very useful and thought-provoking reply. How do you feel about these ideas? Why not write down your ideas and send them to me, either c/o the Gavin Report or directly, at the Adult Contemporary Music Research Letter, 1837 SE Harold Street, Portland, OR 97202-4932. ●

MOONLIGHTING by Moon Mullins

FACTORS

THE SAINTS AND SINNERS FACTOR

WDAF-Kansas City Music Director Dave Bryan has an interesting theory about artists achieving superstar status in Country music. As Dave explains it, Country superstars fall into two separate and distinct personality categories. There are those who say, "Gosh, I'm so glad to have made it, and thank you very much, ladies and gentlemen." And there are those who say, "I've made it and don't give a good g---n!"

John Parikh of Joint Communications Corporation calls it "Saints and Sinners." When you analyze it, you realize it's true: All Country music superstars are either Saints or Sinners, and always have been.

Now, we must clarify this Saint or Sinner role by saying that it's not necessarily the way the artist is in real life, but it is his or her professional persona. Let's look at a few:

SAINTS	SINNERS
Alabama	Hank Williams, Jr.
Randy Travis	Dwight Yoakam
George Strait	Willie Nelson
Reba McEntire	Waylon Jennings
The Judds	Merle Haggard

If you examine the personas of Country superstars over the years, you see this consistency. In the early fifties, it was Eddy Arnold on the Saint side and Hank Williams, Sr., on the Sinner squad.

All potential superstars need to clearly define which of the two images they wish to convey, and then always act the role. Otherwise, it appears they will continue to remain in the secondary tier of artists who may be successful, but never enter the superstar sphere.

Before we leave this topic, let me point out that the biggest superstar of all time was the only Country-oriented act ever to impart both images simultaneously: Elvis Presley. He was a Saint offstage and a Sinner on.

THE COLA FACTOR

Are you entertaining an offer from another market? Be sure you get the right bread. One of the biggest mistakes we make is taking a job for a salary bump that doesn't match the cost-of-living differential from market to market. Of course, the reverse is true as well. Sometimes we can take a pay cut if we really have to.

Here are a few examples of how much money you'd have to have to move from market to market to maintain the same quality of life:

FORT WAYNE, IN: $25,000
WASHINGTON, DC: $50,250
KANSAS CITY, MO: $25,000
TUCSON, AZ: $24,750
OMAHA, NE: $25,000
NEW YORK CITY: $81,250

Of course, many other factors enter a decision about moving, including a chance for betterment in the future and sometimes, a chance to pick up extra bucks. However, speaking with the voice of experience, trading quality life for the glamor of the bigger market wanes if you can't adjust.

THE ALEX KEATON FACTOR

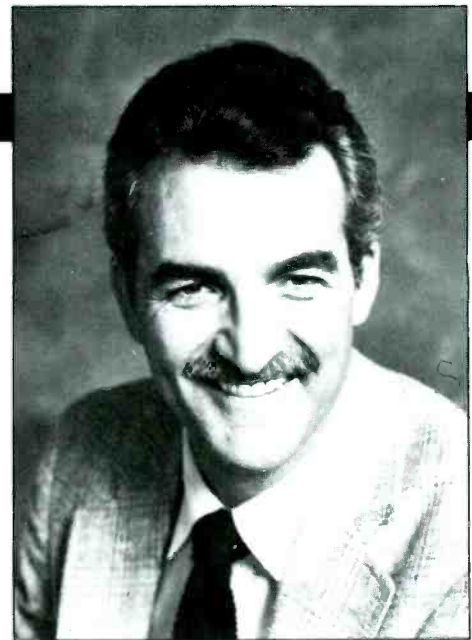

Laura Long, formerly a writer for Carl P. Mayfield of WKDF-Nashville, and Rick Reichman, film teacher at Tennessee State University, recently entered a scriptwriting contest sponsored by the Houston International Film Festival. They placed in the top five for a script they wrote for the sitcom "Family Ties." For their project, they taped five episodes to track the "laughs." Since many of you are into comedy, I thought you'd enjoy the results.

They discovered "Family Ties" has several scenes of approximately four minutes each. Each scene contained about 14 jokes, both situational and visual. Some of the jokes were of the running-commentary variety (Michael J. Fox's penchant for money, Mom and Dad as old hippies gone straight, and so forth).

Imagine transferring that formula to your show and you see the immense challenge TV writers face each week. It also shows why some critics think the writers fail so often.

THE DUKAKIS FACTOR

Unless he gets into terminal trouble, Michael Dukakis will be the Democratic candidate for president this fall. Dukakis can attribute some of his success from the research of his staff on the so-called "super delegates." According to Susan Brophy, Dukakis' chief tracker, she and her staff know as much about these delegates as they do themselves. They know their names, what they do for a living, where they live, what their lifestyles are like, their preferences... even the names of their dogs and cats. They have Dukakis call at least ten of these "super delegates" every day.

Again, we can take lessons from politicians, for they're looking for the same thing we are: voters. Only we want their "vote" by listening and voting in either Arbitron or Birch. So know as much as you can about your audiences and talk with them regularly.

THE MYLANTA FACTOR

I saw a study showing 30 percent of a radio stations's audience were heavy users of drug stores. You and your air staff need to know that the number-one selling item in retail drug stores is Mylanta liquid. Next comes Fleet disposable enema (watch it!), Anacin, Bayer, Colgate toothpaste, Visine eye drops and the Colgate toothpaste in the pump mode.

However, in terms of money taken in on items, the leader is Huggies diapers, then Anacin, Tylenol Extra Strength, Advil, Ultra Pampers Large, Theragram M and Mylanta. What does it mean? Three out of ten of your listeners are suffering from heartburn, headaches, constipation or diarrhea, or having babies—all the while brushing their teeth!

Seriously, when rapping on the air about subjects that contain references to these brand names, why not use them? (You might skip the Fleet!)

REVIEWS

By Lisa Smith & Cyndi Hoeltzle

RESTLESS HEART - The Bluest Eyes In Texas (RCA)

This is the first single from their upcoming Big Dreams In A Small Town album, and if it's any indication of what the album sounds like, we can't wait to hear it. Restless Heart is one of the hottest groups in Country music, and one of the reasons is the bands great five-part harmonies. "The Bluest Eyes In Texas" is the perfect showcase for those harmonies.

DARDEN SMITH - Day After Tomorrow (Epic)

Singer songwriter Smith's second single is a driving Country/Zydeco song complete with smokin' fiddle solo. Ray Benson of Asleep

At The Wheel produced this effort, and contributes on guitar.

EDDIE RABBITT - The Wanderer (RCA)

Your listeners who grew up listening to Dion's "Wanderer" will appreciate Rabbitt's faithful reproduction of the song. It's already the most requested cut from his new I Wanna Dance With You LP.

THE BURCH SISTERS - Everytime You Go Outside, I Hope It Rains (Mercury)

These vindictive vixen are Cathy, Charlene and Cindy Burch, hailing from Jacksonville, Florida. The melody and refrain of this humorous song are contagious. We can all relate to this tale of romantic revenge.

The following stations were not included in this week's research:

WBTU KUSA

Jam, who lived in Minneapolis at the time. They wouldn't fly to New York to do the song, so we had to fly there.

BH: Had you ever been there before?

TCD: No, never--and the way we met them was kind of funny. We were standing out in front of this hotel and didn't know what they looked like. This little car comes up and this guy gets out wearing an "I Spy" hat and says, "Get in the car." They drove us to the studio, and we did the song in one day because that's all we had. We practiced it over and over again--no rehearsals--and we did it for about eight hours, non-stop.

BH: Do you guys consider that your biggest hit to date?

TCD: Definitely. It's our classic. Everybody at the record company says that. The song contains no drums at all--it's a strict ballad, but they said it would work, and they were right.

BH: Where did the name T.C.D. come from?

TCD: When I was a very small child, my family wanted me to have a nickname. There was this cartoon on TV called "Top Cat" and the characters used to yell, "Hey, T.C.!" My dad's eyes lit up and he said, "That's it, we'll call him T.C." The "D" is a tag that people used to put at the back of their names, back in 1978, when rap was first born, like Mikey D, and Jerry D. Stevie D is my brother, and he did the same thing. Stevie is his real name.

BH: How did Mercury get his name?

TCD: It was a nickname given to him by his track coach. Mercury is a big guy and he's always been kind of heavy, but he's very light on his feet. He led the track team to a bunch of victories in high school.

BH: I heard he's had to use his track talents since joining the group. Is that true?

TCD: (laughs) He does a lot of running! It's amazing to see him, as heavy as he is, being so light on his feet and keeping up with us little guys. He's all over the stage. When we were doing street shows with the hat on the ground, we always had to depend on him to get the person who tried to get our money. We would keep the show going and he was chasing the guy. He always came back with the money!

BH: How did you beat out the long list of groups that were bidding to open for the Madonna tour in Europe?

TCD: That's a funny story. We went to the premiere of her movie, "Who's That Girl?" in New York and the after-party at the Cadillac Bar. We heard she was up on the top level when we sat down to eat. Our PR lady, Laura Hines, suggested that we go up there and say, "Hi." On our way up, we were thinking something different. We decided to serenade her with a variation of her own song, "Who's That Girl Without A Doubt." She was sitting there with her manager and we said "Hi, how you doing? We've got a little something for you." We started singing, "Who's That Girl? Her name's Madonna." We did our own lyrics and she was knocked out! She said she liked our first album and asked what we were doing. We said we were basically hanging out and thinking about what to put on the next album. She asked if we could come and open for her in Europe. It was one of the biggest moves in our career.

BH: Was that the first time the four of you had gone to Europe?

TCD: We were there in '85 when our first album was out. We had just been to London and France. We did a lot of TV when we were there, a lot of paper and magazine articles and one radio station. With Madonna, we were there almost a month.

BH: What kind of an experience was her Paris show? I understand you performed in front of 120,000 people.

TCD: That was very scary for us. It took the breath out of us when we walked up on stage. We got up there and we just went crazy. We did the best we could ever do, and people were waving their hands and swaying back and forth and they were outta control.

BH: Do you have fun doing videos?

TCD: We have a lot of fun. It gets you used to being in front of the camera, and we're thinking of doing a movie this year. We've done three soundtracks. The first one was a movie called "Rappin," and we had a minor bit part. The second one was "Krush Groove," and the third one is supposed to be called "Temptation." We're also on those Miller Lite radio spots, subway posters and billboards in a lot of major markets.

BH: Do you have anything to say to radio?

TCD: They can always count on the Force M.D.'s. We will do songs that are nice and strong and direct and won't let them down.

BH: When you were growing up in New York, what music did you listen to?

TCD: We listened to WBLS and then 98KISS and Z100. We bought all the Jackson Five albums.

BH: I hear you do a pretty proud imitation of the Jackson Five.

TCD: We did, but we're getting older now. We still sound close to them but they were our inspiration when we were kids. All our dreams used to be to go to California and be close enough to them. We do a fair imitation of James Brown, Marvin Gaye, Smokey Robinson--all the groups we liked back then. It's like their souls have reached us and said, "You want to sound like me? Here you go." You can close your eyes and you start singing.

BH: Where are you going after this interview?

TCD: We're going to Japan. We've got five shows on our own, and it's our first time in Japan. We first heard Japan was into our music when Love Letters, our first album, was a big hit there. So our guy went down there and got us the best shows he could.

BH: Your image seems to be changing. On the first LP, Love Letters, you're all wearing high school letterman sweaters. On the Chillin' LP, you're all wearing fur coats, and on this third album you're all dressed in contemporary threads.

TCD: Right now we're still kind of searching for identities, but I guess now we want to be relaxed--not too hyped up. We want to be known as a group that sings songs with some substance, doing a little rap on the side. That was our origin, but the ballad thing made us, you know. The doo-wop stuff is still in the background, we still arrange songs in a doo-wop fashion.

BH: You're performing at Florida's Disney World Grad Night Parties as well as Disneyland's Senior All Night Parties the next two months. What are you planning for those performances?

TCD: We're doing a lot of things in varied styles. We want to get the message across to stay in school, stay off drugs. We already have that in our show, but we want them to catch the message so we really push that to them. That's what our show's about. We do gymnastics and dance as well, and have a really visual presentation at a fever pitch. Similar to the "Touch And Go" video, which is a glimpse of what the whole show's like. Everything that's new to us, we're trying to incorporate into our show, like doing some of the steps from the latest dances. We keep it new, especially the dance steps--we love to keep that fresh. ●

INSIDE URBAN RADIO

Twenty-three years ago, when SUAVE was a one-year-old, The Temptations took "My Girl" to the top of the charts. Now SUAVE has taken it to number one on this week's chart. With PEBBLES, KEITH SWEAT and JESSE JOHNSON moving into the number 2, 3, and 4 positions, it's anybody's guess who will move SUAVE out of the top slot. Now that AL B. SURE! has moved out of the number one spot, Thomas Lytle, K94-Norfolk, is playing the cut, "Off On Your Own (Girl)", and the phones were instant and haven't stopped.

PRINCE made major gains, moving to 14 from 22, and MICHAEL JACKSON debuts at a high #18. These two gentlemen are hot - but will they be like JAMES BROWN, who turned 55 years old yesterday (May 3rd), and who, for the second week in a row, has a listing in our Most Added with "I'm Real" - 20 adds last week and 27 more this week? What do you think Michael and Prince will be doing when they celebrate their 55th birthdays? GARY TAYLOR is the other Certified, getting to number 30 with ease. RUN DMC charts and it's getting many calls from teens, according to Mikki Spencer, WKIE-Richmond, who says that if she gets anymore calls asking for it than she gets now, she'll scream!

MICHAEL COOPER is getting 18-34 female demos on calls for Tony Brown, WBLX-Mobile. Mike Archie, WHUR-Washington, reports he likes the PAULA ABDUL this week and says to watch the WORLD CLASS "Turn Out The Lights" - it looks like it's turning the corner and happening. Cy Young, WQQK/FM-Nashville, is tipping us on the DIANNE REEVES "Better Days," saying the adult 18+ demos are astounding. Andrew Bailey, WYNN-Florence, says the heavy requests for GEORGE MICHAEL are coming in from both adults and teens now. When Melvin Jones, KRNB-Memphis, checked in, he reported on the CLUB NOUVEAU: "Lotsa phones 18-34 for this great song that blends contemporary groove with a message for us all." Mickey Arnold, WRDW-Augusta, had to comment on JAMES BROWN: "This cut James does with Full Force is getting top requests all across-the-board." Bob Brown, WLGJ-Hemingway, makes it his record to watch and says he's getting number one phones on MARVIN SEASE's new single, "Love Is A Game."

GUY is this week's record to watch because that was the answer from most of you when we asked what looks good. J.J. Jefferies, KXZZ-Lake Charles, says "Watch out for this one - it may sneak in the back door and become number one!" Earl Boston, WFXM-Macon, had this to say: "This is a song that gives you a good feeling when you hear it. It's amazing how good the staying power is on some of these new songs from fresh new artists." Greg Beasley, KMJM-St.Louis, called it "Another great Teddy Riley production for our station." Steve Crumbley, WOWI-Norfolk and WPDQ-Jacksonville, says it's "A killer jam!" It's duet time again: MELBA MOORE & FREDDIE JACKSON have released another great one, and Costee McNair, WBIL-Tuskegee, says "It's a nice mid-tempo that should do well here," and Ron Davis, WQIS-Laurel/Hattiesburg, makes it his RTW, while KOOL MOE DEE is his most requested. GREGORY ABBOTT, another one to make the Most Added listing, is Alton Palmore, WQIC-Meridian's RTW: "Just added it and the ladies already can't get enough of it."

Ciao for now, Betty.

REVIEWS

By Betty Hollars and John Martinucci

TEENA MARIE - Work It (Epic) Teena not only shows maturity on this album with the "Ooo La La" single, she's now entering into a fusion mode with "Work It." Vocal style is similar to Janis Siegel of the Manhattan Transfer.

MARVIN SEASE - Love Is A Game (London/PolyGram) The ultimate record that will teach teens how to spell l-o-v-e. Unfortunately, spelling it is the easy part. Marvin Sease teases us with lots of hit record repetition.

SADE - Promise (Epic) Sade has a voice and a following that even a banker can immediately recognize. In fact, last week when our banker was here, he immediately blurted, "Sade!" An easy call.

MAC BAND featuring The McCambell Brothers - Roses Are Red (MCA) The minute you put this on your turntable, you can tell the Babyface and L.A. influence are upon us again. These two guys can't miss - they're a natural pair who turn out tune after tune in a superior professional style.

MELBA MOORE duet with FREDDIE JACKSON - I Can't Complain (Capitol) Melba and Freddie are at it again with another fine single - but who can complain - their last duet in 1986 charted at #33 on our year-end Top 100's.

TONY TERRY - Forever Yours (Epic) When you hear this the first time (and if you're over 40 years old) tell us if it doesn't make you want to get up, form two lines, and do "The Stroll." When his background vocals go "Shoo-wop-doo-bop", dash down the hall, grab a partner, form those lines, and stroll, baby, stroll.

VICTORY AT SEA!

DAVE SHOLIN'S PERSONAL PICKS — SINGLES

ERIC CARMEN - Make Me Lose Control (Arista) A few times each year a song comes along that deserves to go on the air immediately. Here's one that's got green light written all over it. Acapella break is the icing on a production bound for summer stardom.

RICHARD MARX - Hold On To The Nights (EMI-Manhattan) Mesmerizing both musically and lyrically, this effort is a stark contrast to his three previous singles. A lovers' anthem if there ever was one, and Richard sings it from the heart.

SADE - Paradise (Epic) No one should have any trouble identifying this artist within a split second of hearing her utter the tune's opening line. As with her earlier hits, Sade keeps to her trademarked sound which underscores classiness and sensuality. "So Fine"... indeed.

WET WET WET - Wishing I Was Lucky (UNI) Debut release from this reincarnated label is polished pop through and through. Easy going melody is reinforced with a chorus that sneaks up and makes a lasting impression.

RON FELL'S PERSONAL PICKS — ALBUMS

DARYL HALL & JOHN OATES - Ooh Yeah! (Arista)

The two and only are together again. It's too easy to miss their streetcorner soul in today's urban mix of mechanically manufactured one-hit-wonders. Daryl and John's triumphant return has come with the spectacular triple format winner, EVERYTHING YOUR HEART DESIRES, which is as tame a track as any on the album. Ooh Yeah! is an album of pleading/bleeding heartsongs. From the opener, DOWNTOWN LIFE, a street scene dominion for the king of clubs and the queen of hearts, to the closing morality play of abusers and the abused, KEEP ON PUSHING LOVE, Ooh Yeah! reaches deep and comes up with a hefty handful. I'M IN PIECES is a first person account of a Humpty Dumpty on Love Street. MISSED OPPORTUNITY hits its intended mark as does their tribute to an amazing Amazon on ROCKABILITY. During their prideful strut down hometown avenues and up their alleys they're accompanied by a menacing bass played from the hip by longtime associate Tom T-Bone Wolk. Wolk's signature to H&O's music is an integral, indelible part of the group's special sound.

Uni-50000

"Wishing I Was Lucky," the American debut single from WET WET WET is already putting the "Oh" back in radio and it's just the first of three top ten singles (UK) from their million selling #1 LP "Popped In Souled Out."

Cut for cut, the classic sound of WET WET WET is re-writing the role of blue-eyed soul with the tough new attitude that ran away with the B.P.I.

Award for Best Newcomers of the Year.

America better get ready for the next level of cool, because radio's already getting WET WET WET.

WET WET WET "Popped In Souled Out" the album—in store June 14th—featuring the single "Wishing I Was Lucky"...already making a splash at radio now!

There's only one label we'll admit to. UNI RECORDS. The kind of commitment artists will kill for.
