Sony Music restructures Canadian operation

Sony Music International (SMI), continuing the restructuring which began last year, has announced that its Canadian company headed by Paul Burger, President, will report directly to Robert D. Summer, President, Sony Music International, effective immediately.

"This restructuring is designed to further integrate Canada into the mainstream of Sony Music's global creative agenda. Sony Music Canada has expanded its domestic artist and repertoire base both in support of local objectives and the company's broader international strategy," Summer said.

Burger was equally enthusiastic. "I think Sony Music Canada has truly come of age as an important potential source of repertoire on the international music scene. This change gives us the autonomy to develop our roster of Canadian talent both at home and abroad with the rewards of our investment returning to Canada."

Ghosts That Haunt Me now triple platinum

The Crash Test Dummies have crashed the platinum barrier, by three times. Their BMG/Arista debut, The Ghosts That Haunt Me, has been certified as triple platinum (300,000 units shipped) in Canada. The Winnipeg band received their triple platinum trophies after their sold-out performance at Toronto's Massey Hall.

The band is currently on a tour of the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario which began in Halifax (Jan 22) at Misty Moon. They are also scheduled for Memorial University in St. John's (24 & 25), Acadia University in Wolfville (28), Dalhousie University in Halifax (29), Rebecca Cohen Theatre in Halifax (30) and the University of New Brunswick in Fredericton (31) to cap the month of January.

February dates include St. Francis Xavier in Antigonish (1), Kingston's Stages (4), Quebec City's D'Auteuil (6), Montreal's Le Spectrum (7), Ottawa's Congress Centre (8), Hamilton Place (10) and The Pines in Peterborough (11).

The Dummies are currently charting on both the RPM 100 Hits Tracks and AC charts with Androgynous, which was taken from The Ghosts That Haunt Me album.

Sony Music Canada's resurgence as a major repertoire source comes on the heels of its recent global success with Quebec's Celine Dion, whose debut English language album, Unison, has sold 300,000 units in Canada and is approaching one million units worldwide.

"We as a company are confident the ground we have broken in Canada in terms of signing Canadian artists domestically and breaking them internationally will prove to be the norm, rather than the exception, in the years to come," Summer said.

Burger was equally thrilled with the rave reviews Dion received after singing the national anthems at the recent NHL All Star Game and the huge success of her duet with Peabo Bryson on the Beauty and the Beast soundtrack.

"Celine is completing her second English album right now and it could be even bigger than her last. Larry Gowan's new project is also very exciting as I think there are some sure fire hits there too. Our A&R guys are busy right now, but I think this year they'll be even busier. We literally receive tapes in the thousands but what we're looking for is a creative uniqueness. If you've got that, then Sony Canada will definitely be interested in taking the good, long hard look at you."

Sony Music Canada has undertaken a major expansion of its Toronto head office that is expected to be completed in June.

David Gogo signed to Capltoi, seen here with label's Deane Cameron, Jody Mitchell and Tim Trombley and Management Trust's Allan Gregg and Jake Gold.

Celine Dion scheduled for American Music Awards

Celine Dion has been scheduled to perform her chart-topping duet with Peabo Bryson, Beauty And The Beast, on the American Music Awards (Jan. 27). Taken from the Beauty And The Beast Soundtrack, the single is No. 1 this week on R&R's AC chart, and takes command of the No. 1 position on this week's RPM AC chart. As well, the single is bulleting up the RPM 100 Hit Tracks chart.

The popularity of the single has also increased interest in the movie which recently won three Golden Globe Awards including Best Song.

Back home in Canada, it was announced that Dion had been nominated for a Gemini Award for her performance at last year's Juno Awards show.

Alison Armstrong fund honours CBC producer

The staff of CBC-TV's Video Hits was recently saddened by the sudden death of 26 year old Alison Armstrong, a producer of the show.

Ms. Armstrong had devoted her life to caring for others. Three nights of the week for the past several years, Ms. Armstrong visited cancer patients at Toronto's Hospital For Sick Children, and devoted her weekends to serving food at the Scott Mission. As well, she was very dedicated to Camp Oochigeas, a camp for young cancer patients.

Ms. Armstrong was always there to offer comfort to others and to present an aura of happiness about her that was a source of inspiration to her fellow employees.

As a token of their love for Ms. Armstrong, her work partners at CBC Video Hits have made a contribution in her name to Camp Oochigeas. Those wishing to make a donation to the Ms. Alison Armstrong Fund, should make cheques payable to Camp Oochigeas, 6936 Creditview Rd. R.R. #6, Mississauga, Ontario. L3M 2B5. A tax receipt will be issued for any donation.

East Coast Music Awards to be held February 14-15

Sam (The Record Man) Sniderman says he can't wait to get out to Halifax for the East Coast Music Awards Business & Trade Show which will be held at the Halifax Hilton Hotel on Feb. 14 & 15. The ECMA's will be presented at the Rebecca Cohn Auditorium on Feb. 16.

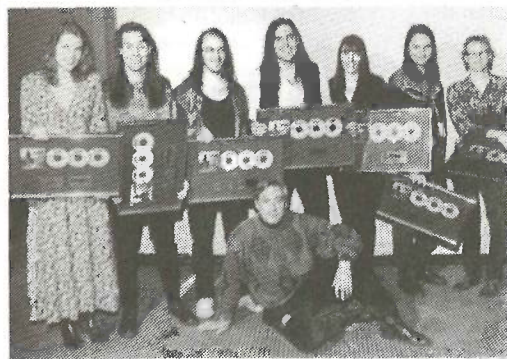

Sniderman, who will be addressing one of the seminars for the second time, says that he looks forward to the ECMA's for two reasons. "I love the show, they've really done a good job out there, it's gotten bigger every year with a lot of A & R guys coming out. And the other reason I go is for the salmon. They've got the best smoked salmon in the world."

Other speakers at the seminars will be producer Eddie Schwartz, Warner Music A&R Manager Greg Torrington, Brian Allan of Attic Music and representatives of SOCAN, FACTOR and CMRRA.

The Awards get an early start on the 13th with the ECMA Blue live showcases which will be held at Halifax's Pub Flamingo until the 15th, with five relatively unknown bands performing 40 minute sets each night.

The EMCA committee has made two changes with regards to this year's Awards. An artist who released product independently one year that was later released on a major label can be nominated for the second year of release, a relaxing of the rules which was based on a precedent set by Sarah McLachlan two years ago.

And the other change is the method of the public deciding the Entertainer of the Year Award. In previous years it was decided by ballots sent throughout the Atlantic provinces. Due to concern that the ballots didn't reach all corners of the provinces, a toll free number (800) 565-3035, has been set up where callers can call in their vote from Jan 10th to Feb. 7th.

Regent cruises feature Cancun recording artists

Carroll Baker, who had never been featured as a performer on a cruise ship, opened the doors in 1989 to what has been an ongoing and highly successful series of showcases for Canada's recording artists. News of the Tembo artist's booking spread like wildfire throughout the industry which led to a full complement of acts for each week's sailing through the Caribbean. The Regent Cancun cruises were so successful, some of the artists have even branched out to other ships which has become an even newer avenue of work for Canadians.

Regent Holidays acquired a new ship this year. The mts Triton, previously known as the NCL Sunward II was purchased by the Greek Epirotika Line which leased the ship to Regent to operate cruises designed specifically for Canadians.

The January 11th cruise featured recording artist Joni Wilson and former Platter

Joni Wilson

Norris Vines in a Motown Magic cruise featuring music from that famous label's R&B era.

During the balance of the season, the ship will feature guest appearances by Larry Mercery, Jack Scott, David Hutchins and Kimberly Richards, Terry Sumsion, Ronnie Hawkins and the Hawks, George Olliver, Carroll Baker, J.K. Gullely, Patti Jannetta, Adam Timoon, Robert E. Lee and Kelita.

The guest recording artists are featured along with the regular entertainers. By popular demand, the McIntosh Quartet returns this year along with the Cruise Brothers band and

CRIA certifications up "significantly" for 1991

There was an increase in the total number of certifications for outstanding sales of sound recordings in Canada in 1991 according to the Canadian Recording Industry Association.

The total number of certifications was 402 compared to 372 in 1990. The number of Canadian Content certifications totalled 74 compared to 85 in 1990.

Brian Robertson, President of CRIA, said that "the 1991 certifications represent an increase of 8% over 1990. It's encouraging that our industry can maintain its momentum in this volatile economic climate."

Canada Rocks Gala impacts at MIDEM '92

The Canada Rocks Cannes Gala, held at the Martinez Hotel in Cannes, France Jan 19, was well orchestrated to attract a large audience of journalists and record affiliated industry people from around the world who were attending this year's MIDEM.

Produced by Steve Thomson, President of Backstage Productions International, the show presented a good cross-section of the talent offered by Canada. From the comments heard around the massive room, the Canadian showcase was an excellent door-opener for future galas.

The Box, who have won numerous awards, were the opening act. They sampled the crowd with an impressive half hour of the song material that became strong chart items across Canada. They were the perfect opener, being as they were able to move in and out of English with much ease.

Rik Emmett's thirty-minute segment gave this former Triumph member the opportunity to add even more to his European status through his releases in Germany. What brought the crowd alive was his classical guitar number. With each of Triumph's releases, it was standard to include an Emmett classical guitar track. It was obvious from the crowd's overall response Emmett's guitar virtuosity that he had sparked a much greater interest in his talent.

Lee Aaron, who is already well known in Europe, teased the audience with a solid half hour of her best offerings. Although her musical signature is heavy rock, she displayed a soft side that indicated her ability to move freely, no matter what music form.

Ronnie Hawkins and The Hawks took the show out. The Hawk romped through everything he had ever offered on record and, although three hours of performances had gone down, the crowd hung in and even attracted many from the Martinez bar next door. "It's Monday morning . . . let's get drunk," Hawkins bellowed to his audience as he poured out more of his rockabilly staples.

Hawkins' daughter Leah performed a show-stopping solo that left no doubt in anyone's mind that she had a talent that should garner her recognition in the months to come. Robin, Hawkins' oldest son, paraded his guitar work which was also crowd pleasing. By this time the crowd had grown significantly and as Hawkins wound the show down, they demanded and got an encore. A fitting caper to the fast-paced gala of Canadian talent.

Regent sponsors a Performance At Sea Scholarship. These scholarships make it possible for young performers to board the ship for a week and become part of the entertainment programme thereby gaining valuable experience in front of the cruising audience. This year's winner, Deanna Overland, made her shipboard debut on the January 11 to 18 cruise.

Regent continues to bring talented Canadians to its cruising passengers and broadens the scope of many recording artists which adds to their experience.

Bruce Matheson joins Armedia Communications

Bruce Matheson, well-known Toronto musician and a Crystal-award winning producer for Country 59 Radio, has joined Armedia Communications as an Associate Producer on selected projects.

The former member of the group Johann Sebastian Bop, Matheson has previously created original music projects for the Toronto-based Armedia Communications. Included were: The Bob Dearborn American Pie 20th Anniversary Special, The Surreal Detective, for Upside Productions and Molson Breweries, for MGA Advertising.

Internationally-acclaimed concert violinist Midori celebrated the Christmas season in Calgary by making a rare in-store appearance at Fidelity Mount Royal Village (Dec. 20/91). She is seen here with Sony Music Calgary personnel (l to r) Jeff Stille, Mark Abson, Gary McLish and D'Arcy McCrea. Midori was in Calgary to make her first ever appearance with the Calgary Philharmonic Orchestra.

December figures register a nine percent increase

The Canadian Recording Industry Association's President, Brian Robertson, was pleased with the nine per cent increase in total sales over last year's December figures, although unit sales were down five per cent.

"Given the chaotic state of the economy, we have to be pleased with our December results and from what we've experienced so far in the new year, it doesn't appear that there will be a lot of returns which is very encouraging."

CRIA statistics continue to show the huge negative sales of LP's, a feature that is almost redundant since virtually no stores stock LP's any more and Robertson said that very likely CRIA will drop the statistic some time this year.

English Canada losing at MIDEM!! While the Canada Rocks showcase was the talk of Cannes, it's interesting to find out that the MIDEM Guide lists 89 participants from the province of Quebec, 47 from Ontario, six from B.C., two from Manitoba and one each from Alberta and New Brunswick. For the past couple of years, the MIDEM event has been losing ground in English Canada. Other than the CIRPA booth, there is little excitement about attending MIDEM. I think part of the problem is that the media is handled out of Paris and, unlike the early years when English Canada was handled out of New York, there isn't the attention paid to English Canada. As a matter of fact, there was no media representation from English Canada at this year's MIDEM, outside the coverage of the Canadian showcase which I attended at my

Canada Booth was busy . . . ! Congratulations are again in order for the CIRPA people. The Canada Booth, although a little smaller than last year, was a hub of excitement, and it looked like there was a lot of business going down. This could be one of our best years at MIDEM, considering the international inroads Canada has made with recording artists. (EC: All we need is a little consideration from the major . . . !)

What a beautiful experience . . . ! How nice it was to return to Cannes and jog La Croisette, dodging the mink set and poodle poop . . . and George Anthony. However, I did miss CBC-TV's royalty. Madame Adrienne was late, having lost a few of her belongings, or left them at home. It's tough to buy a new gown on the Riviera without a credit card, and she just wouldn't be seen in the same gown twice. (EC: What about CBC cutbacks . . . ?)

Now . . . that's Canadian . . . ! Unfortunately I was on the French Riviera over the weekend and missed the Bryan Adams show at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens. But from reading the press and talking to some of the people who were there, Bryan put on a spectacular show. I hope

Changes for FACTOR's New Talent Demo Award

FACTOR's New Talent Demo Award Program funds have been fully committed for their fiscal year ending March 31. As a result FACTOR will no longer be accepting applications to the program for their remaining fiscal year.

The New Talent Demo Award Program offers assistance for the production of high-quality demo tapes which are essential to securing recording or distribution deals. Only new talent may apply to the program. FACTOR defines new talent as artists or performers who have commercially released fewer than 10 songs.

FACTOR's Board of Directors have confirmed the following changes to the program effective April 1, 1992:

- FACTOR will no longer place successful applicants in the studio where the recording is to take place. The choice of the studio will be up to the applicant.
- FACTOR will recognize a maximum of 25 hours studio and will provide a cash award of up to 50% of eligible award production costs to a maximum of $1,500.
- The applicant will be responsible for all costs incurred for the production and will be reimbursed the eligible award amount by FACTOR upon completion of the project.

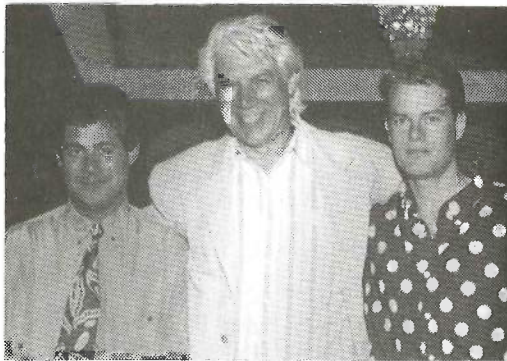

Due to these changes new application forms must be used by those wishing to apply for the program and will be available in early March. Next deadline for submitting applications to the program in all musical categories is May 29, 1992. Last year the New Talent Demo Award Program provided assistance to approximately 129 artists across Canada.

whoever coined the "un-Canadian" tag for him gets to eat his words. I happen to know who it was . . . "all in the game of promotion . . ." he says. He did get his balls caught once for shooting from the lip . . . remember? He had to eat a lot of crow then, not to mention dish out a lot of dough for legal fees etc. etc. etc. (EC: But when you have so much, does it really hurt!)

It only took platinum . . . ! Hey! Those American A&R guys are pretty swift. Now that Loreena McKennitt is closing on platinum on The Visit, her debut album, ZOWIE, she becomes important to the U.S. In fact, 21 countries are scheduled to release Loreena's album. (EC: Better to be careful . . . !)

Marty Herzog's at it again . . . ! Marty Herzog doesn't get along too well with the law, particularly the law that prohibits him from opening his Tunes Music on Sunday. Well, he has a new enemy . . . the plaza management where he has his shop. He proposed a promotion for the plaza's traffic reader board. It read: "Tunes Music - Bare Naked Ladies on sale $5.99! Open Sundays!" He was asked to alter the sign to read: "Tunes Music - Fully Clothed Ladies Uncensored $5.99 sale! Open Sundays!" Well, I see he's still open Sundays. (EC: He'll have to sell a lot of Bare Naked Ladies . . . on the side!!)

Who will be King . . . or Queen?? Well the hats are being thrown in the ring for the job of CARAS President. What a job it's going to be to check out some of these guys. I've got a real winner for the job, but it's only initials at this time. I really think HS would do the job to perfection . . . with no conflicts of interest. (EC: I'm tossing in my hat . . . !)

*Part One of a seriesIndustry fine tuning itself for upcoming year

The consensus of opinion among the leaders in Canada's recording industry would indicate "cautious optimism" for the new year, a much healthier outlook than the "panic" attitude that is threatening many industries. The year 1991 was a bit of a bell-ringer and, although the year did turn around, somewhat, for some, the overall picture was not as many had hoped for.

The saving factor, of course, is that although not recession proof, the record industry did much better than most industries. Record product is still the most reasonably priced and popular form of entertainment on the market.

Over the next few weeks, we will patch into the thoughts of those who guide the record, publishing and radio industries for their views as to how 1991's performance will effect 1992.

Looking forward to the challenges of 1992

*Deane Cameron - President
Capitol Records-EMI Canada*

The Canadian record industry environment in 1991 was a composite of positive events mixed with some unfortunate disappointments. However, even in the face of a lingering recession, CRIA statistics will indicate an increase in sales volume (in dollars) over 1990.

I believe that the year was, once again, highlighted by the accomplishments of our own domestic music! Bryan Adams, Rush, Anne Murray and Gordon Lightfoot continued to succeed both at home and in the international arena, along with others who had new releases in '91. Amongst the many great new Canadian artists to release this year for the first time, it was exciting to have the Crash Test Dummies and Alanis both enjoy tremendous debut success, giving the country two new superstars. It was evident also last year that the U.S. and European record industries were continuing to expect and support our music, as witnessed by the many new signings which took place.

In the music retail community, it was a dramatic year. The beginning of the year witnessed some bleak moments. However, by September/October, things seemed to have stabilized, spurred with the optimism of the many superstar releases which helped make Christmas '91 a reasonable retail success.

The change in FM regulations by the CRTC took place in September and at first this gave rise to a positive feeling that greater exposure for our music might take place. However, during the year, one of the key disappointments for the record industry certainly became the drastic decline in the CHR radio format in favour of more "gold" or AC programming. This will definitely make life difficult in the future for breaking new artists.

Having said all this, Capitol looks very much forward to the challenges of 1992. This is the year that we acquire the Chrysalis label. We also expect a very full year of Canadian artist releases, including Sass Jordan, Slik Toxik, Kim Mitchell, MCJ & Cool G in the first quarter alone. There is much more work still to be done on the Tom Cochrane, Grapes Of Wrath and Chrissy Steele projects all from 1991. In 1992, we will continue to focus on the international exploitation of our domestic roster, which has always been a key objective of Capitol Canada. This year will also see the continuance of our programme to fully utilize our rich catalogue and at all times keeping in mind the adult market.

Capitol Canada is excited about the launch of the digital compact cassette in 1992 from both a manufacturing and selling point of view, amongst its many exciting prospects. Clearly this configuration will help the hastened and unexpected decline of the analog cassette.

It is safe to say that 1992 will be "work"! It is, however, our feeling at Capitol Canada that this business offers one of the best "value for money" entertainment items available on the planet and we look to the future with great optimism.

General economic malaise will effect 1992

*Ross Reynolds - President
MCA Records Canada*

1991 was an excellent year for MCA Records Canada, with a net sales increase of better than 25 percent over last year, our previous best year. Fortunately, our sales increases came from a number of different areas led by the spectacular success of the two Guns N' Roses albums, each of which is well over 400,000 units and growing. It is also exciting to note that three of our top ten best selling albums for the year are Canadian, led by The Tragically Hip at three times platinum as well as Alanis and Robbie Robertson at platinum plus. Nirvana, which also hit our top ten, is an encouraging example of what can happen when the consumer gets excited about music that is unique and not mainstream.

Traffic had a very strong year, led by a platinum plus album from Luc de Larochellier and a soon to be platinum album from Francois Perusse.

The country market continues to grow and MCA's share of it is increasing. We had gold and platinum albums from established stars like Reba McEntire and George Strait as well as relative newcomers like Vince Gill, Mark Chestnutt and Trisha Yearwood. 1992 should be even better for MCA's country roster.

We were very pleased by the retail reaction to our launch of Nintendo software as sales more than doubled our expectations. With the strong sell-through at Christmas, an expanded retail base and Nintendo's launch of their new Super NES, Nintendo software will be another growth area for us in 1992.

The outlook for 1992 is somewhat clouded by the general economic malaise, the continuing decline in cassette sales, and the relative lack of strong new releases in the first quarter. MCA will be countering the first two areas by significantly strengthening the quality of product available at relatively low CD prices and supporting these titles with various retail marketing campaigns. In addition, we are confident that several of our comparatively unknown new releases will develop into the Nirvanas of the future. 1992 will be a difficult but exciting year.

Industry might be pleasantly surprised

*Stan Kulin - President
Warner Music Canada*

I was pleasantly surprised with our results for 1991 which matched our 1990 sales in spite of the fact we lost the rights to the Geffen label. I'm cautiously optimistic about 1992, but I won't pretend it's going to be an easy year.

Compared to most other industries the Canadian music industry did quite well last year, but I feel that the first six months of '92 are going to be very tough on all sectors of the economy and this, coupled with a lack of superstar releases can't help but affect us.

Nevertheless, I look for things to improve in the second half of the year and believe the industry will once again look better than the rest of the economy.

One final thought. All of us are going to have to watch expenses and because of the situation of our public finances at all levels we should not expect or even ask the government (our fellow taxpayers) for financial contributions!!

Sony Music Vice President Operations, Tom Hay, brought the Christmas spirit to the Hospital for Sick Children with gifts of Sony Music cassettes, compact discs and music videos over the holiday season. Hospital media relations officer Judy Irwin accepts.

COVER STORY - by David Pierson

Spirits and hits shaking WEA's Frozen Ghost

Arnold Lanni, the singer/songwriter of the hit making group Frozen Ghost, has a great future as a producer if he ever gets tired of performing and writing, an event that Lanni can't ever see happening.

"Songwriting for me is a process that I can't explain. It manifests itself as a creative energy and I have an insatiable desire to put down my musical thoughts."

Listening to Frozen Ghost's latest release, Shake Your Spirit, one is struck by the crisp, clear production that Lanni came up with for his pop hook laden songs that were recorded at his Arnyard studio.

"There is absolutely no sequencing, no machines on this record. Everything went straight down on tape with real people playing, with real feeling. A lot of times we kept tracks that weren't totally perfect but had a real fribrancy to them. Certainly I take pride in the fact that we're aware of technology, but we're far from a studio band."

Indeed. In the three years between the Ghost's last release, Nice Place To Visit, the band did over 200 gigs a year. In the last year though, Lanni has taken time off to write and produce. Most notably with Tony "Wild T" Springer, a wild guitarist whose debut release, Love Crazy, featured Lanni's production and several co-writing credits.

"I enjoy producing for a lot of reasons. I love taking someone's song, someone's vision and becoming a part of it. It gives me a chance to shed my skin and be part of something else. And working with new acts gives us a chance to put something back into the system and stay fresh."

Lanni's enthusiasm for the music business remains unabated after nearly 20 years of slugging it out. And he has many opinions and theories about what makes a song or band great rock n' roll.

"When I was in my teens I was never into drinking or drugs. Music was my drug. I'd spend hours listening to stuff, getting the latest release that turned me on and swapping records and stories with musician friends or whatever.

"The Beatles were probably the greatest group ever in terms of their songwriting. Just a fantastic creative, competitive tension between Lennon and McCartney that worked. And when they split up, it was never the same. Look at what McCartney's done since, awful, awful stuff.

"Bruce Fairbairn is a great producer for two reasons. One, he was a musician himself once and is sympathetic to a musician's needs. And two, he'll tell a band that a song needs some work, bring in a pro like Jim Vallance and boom, you've got a hit song."

Hit songs are no stranger to Lanni, as he had a number one single in the US with, When I'm With You, in 1989. It was a song that he had written with the now defunct group Sheriff, eight years earlier.

Having a number one hit with a group that no longer existed was a mixed blessing as far as Lanni was concerned. "I was both ecstatic and upset, because it took some of the fizzle out of promoting our second Ghost album. But it afforded me the financial freedom to spend time with my family and build up my studio.

"When we started Sheriff I thought we'd last forever, which in retrospect, was pretty naive. Now with Frozen Ghost I'm very happy but there's no way to predict how long it will last. But one thing for sure I'll always be making music and always be happy doing it."

Five new regional offices to service FACTOR

FACTOR, the Foundation to Assist Canadian Talent on Records, has announced that five music associations from across Canada have agreed to join forces in assisting FACTOR as Regional Affiliates of the music industry organization.

Five regions will become involved with the FACTOR process of evaluating applications as well as distributing program information, application forms and answering questions from the local recording industry about FACTOR. They will also liaise with FACTOR regarding changes and developments to FACTOR programs and policy.

With the establishment of these Regional Affiliates across the country, it was decided that funds previously expended on maintaining a Vancouver office could have a greater, more positive impact on the music industry if these funds were divided among the associations. While FACTOR will provide each affiliate with a small financial contribution to help offset some of their operating costs, each association will still operate autonomously in carrying out its own mandate and goals. The following are the five FACTOR Regional Affiliates and contacts:

Pacific Music Industry Association (Ellie O'Day) #504 - 402 West Pender St.
Vancouver, BC V6B. 1T6 604-684-8841

Alberta Recording Industry Association (Garry McDonall) Suite 102, #10550 - 102 St.

Singer Lorraine Segato wraps first film role

In her debut acting role, singer Lorraine Segato has just completed production on Heartsongs, which was shot in Toronto and is scheduled for U.K. release in early '92. As well as her starring role, Segato sings the title tracks to the film, which were written by Claude Desjardins.

Segato stars with Tom McCamus who is a highly praised theatrical actor currently starring in a Chekov play, The Cherry Orchard, at Toronto's Tarragon Theatre. Heartsongs, is a short 35mm film, produced by Strawberry Vale Productions (London, England) with Artizan Productions (Toronto) serving as the production house. Heartsongs will only be distributed in the U.K. to cinemas and television, but other territories are under consideration.

*Music as it applies to Canadian radioCanadian radio has become more dependent on music

by Ronald T. Robinson

DAY 1: Gee, it's great to be back. After 25 years on a South Pacific island with nothing but wonderful company, tremendous fishing, great food, fresh water, a library of magnificent books and a pair of Foster Grants, I simply felt the need to re-experience the changing of the seasons and get back into radio.

Getting back into radio should be easy. All I have to do is read some stuff that is obviously pre-written on 3x5 cards and play the same music I was playing when I left.

It must have been a horrible tragedy when whatever disease it was took away a whole generation of musicians. Judging from what I hear on the radio since I got back, the species of Musicianus Contemporaneous was essentially annihilated by about 1983-84. I must admit however, that alot of those tunes are groovy tunes and I am delighted to be able to hear them again. I just have this sense that I'm missing something.

DAY 2: What a shock! There was no disease! People are still recording and releasing contemporary music. It's the radio stations! They aren't playing it. I got hold of an old PD of mine who has since gone on to make a fortune selling outdoor advertising and he tells me that this phenomenon called "research" has determined that oldies are where it's at. He also went on to describe that a feeling of revulsion in a Canadian listener! Is that it? Strange. I was told of a Canadian broadcaster who is signing on a new station in Toronto and that part of the POP is to play approximately 50 percent Cancon. Out of sheer ignorance, I'm willing to predict that this organization will find a way to remove these phantom frequencies . . . and prosper. But then, I've been out of town for a while. DAY 5: Horrors! I've just been told that the advertising revenue generated by radio has dropped to eight percent of available budgets. This from a medium that reaches more people, more often, for less money, than any other medium. What happened? When I left for the Island these licenses were gold mines and now many of them are money pits. Surely the industry, like so many other non-related businesses, has invested an appropriate amount of their past vast revenues in R&D and staff training and development.

Surely the art of communication as it applies to broadcast has made enormous leaps in the past 25 years. Surely the research has demonstrated any number of ways to improve and enhance the popularity and effectiveness of such a powerful medium. Surely . . . !

DAY 6: Munchies! Good eating. I heard a lot about pies today . . . the size of pies; the size of pie slices; the inability to make a pie grow; the pie as it applies to an hour of the broadcast day; how this particular pie applies only to even hours during a morning show, for that, a different pie is required. I was told that these pies were actually metaphors for market share in some cases and formatics in others. I was told that since there were so many (too many) radio stations in any given market, the stations would have to live with less pie and, in some cases, go to bed hungry because the music format had a finite reach potential and so another station's audience had to be raided, but that would cost more than it was worth so the music had to be re-researched and made more or less more or less targeted. Now, down on the Island, if we wanted more fish we would just go to where the fish were and instead of using single baited hooks, we'd cast a net . . . and still be back in time for supper.

DAY 7: Yikes! So that's what it's called. Narrowcasting. I guess that implies that there is only so much to go around and that each station is entitled to only a portion of that amount. Since I've been away, I'm curious to know. Who said there is only so much to go around? What is stopping this industry from being appealing to more people today than it ever has in the past? What made commercials bad things?

Howcum stations that play the most music can't win a book? What happened to the performers? Is there something wrong with modern musicians? Can a station really expect loyalty from an audience when the main thrust of what they're doing (playing a lot of tunes) is something I can do better for myself? What would be appealing to a young person to get involved in this business? When I left, we were called broadcasters. Are we now known as narrowcasters? Down on the island, we avoided the places where whirlpools were likely to occur. And we never depended on just one thing to sustain us. We had a saying: "Fruit, nuts, vegetables and water. Try to live on just one and we'll be food for the fishes."

Evening of the 7th DAY: Based on what I've heard these last seven days, there seems to have been a lot of sorrows in radio lately. And it all seems to have been self-generated. I have been hearing a lot about external factors, but no one I've talked to has been able to produce any indictable evidence. We pick the tunes and we say the words and we write the copy, and we also experience the results.

I wondered earlier what happened to the modern musicians. After having gone up and down the dial a few more times, I think I've found some of them. They're playing country. I wonder if that has had any impact generally on radio audiences. Maybe I'll find that out soon enough.

As for me, what with a return ticket back to the Island in my pocket, I could go back to an idyllic lifestyle. But, I think I'll stick around . . . the fishing looks great.

CRTC relaxes rules for some broadcasters

The CRTC has made moves to make FM regulations for those stations in border markets more flexible. According to reports, the CRTC has indicated it will soften up its regulations with regard to the amount of hit records played as well as on the repeat factor and on foreground requirements, which will include news.

There is also a reported break for small market stations, those serving communities with less than 100,000 people. If they have been unprofitable for five years, they will be given a bit more leeway regarding the repeat factor and hit music.

FM stations are required to air 30 percent Canadian content for music and play less than 50 percent hit songs. They are only allowed to repeat non-Canadian hits 18 times a week and are required to devote 15 percent of their air time to spoken-word content. This includes three hours a week of news.

Windsor, Ontario stations have been given special status since 1985. Other border stations, those that have been unprofitable for five years and where there is an indication that 20 percent of their possible listeners are tuned into US stations, are now apparently in line for this special status.

Perhaps there is some evidence that Canadian-produced music has a certain frequency embedded in it that generates a feeling of revulsion in a Canadian listener!

since the music was the only reason people listened to the radio that the best bet was to give them something familiar. That, he also pointed out, was why the jocks had all but disappeared.

DAY 3: Wow! I've been going up and down the dial today and I'm hearing pretty much the same music almost at every station . . . and they're telling me it's the best there is. I may have just got back from the Island, but I thought I was the one to make that distinction. Maybe not. And there sure is a lot of music. I'm hearing thirty minute rock-blocks. I'm hearing commercial-free power hours. I'm hearing forty minutes of uninterrupted lite rock. What? Did running spots become a bad thing?

DAY 4: Far out! Cancon. I want to understand this correctly: to generate and maintain a Canadian music and recording industry, the CRTC has deemed it necessary for every radio station to play 30 percent Canadian content in a broadcast day. And the stations' management are reluctant. Actually, I'm told they hate it. I do not understand. Perhaps there is some evidence that Canadian-produced music has a certain frequency embedded in it that generates

COUNTRY

Debbie Baker, a powerful voice from the Maritimes, is beginning to look good with her latest single, When I Think About Love. The track is included on RDR Countrypak 7. Written by Christine Anderson and Glenn McMullen, the single was produced by Rick Gautreau and recorded at Solar Audio in Halifax. Baker, who makes her home in Herring Cover, Nova Scotia, has also been picking up good press.

Michael Dee is back, with the release of the title track from his Steal Of The Night CD as a single. ATI's Scoot Irwin reports the release was prompted by the popularity of the song with radio programmers and the demand by the listening audience. Dee had much success with his self-penned If The Jukebox Took Teardrops, which was recorded by Billy Joe Royal and made significant chart gains on US trades.

Leonard H. Kohls well-known songwriter from Medicine Hat, Alberta, has one of his songs included on the Tennessee Star Traks CD compilation. The song is titled Without You (track 8) and is performed by Ray St. Germain. Over the years, Kohls has written material for numerous Canadian artists including Shirley Ann (Is She With You?), Kris Gordon (From My Windows With Bars), Billy Stoltz (I Couldn't Sign My Name), Bill Hersh (Our Little Girl), Jack McAfee, Ken Maclachan, Bruce LaBarre, all of whom recorded Life Is Like The Morning, and Orval Prophet (Four Little Faces), to name just a few.

Gary Fjellgaard's date in Hinton should have read January 27 rather than January 28 which appeared in the Fjellgaard Winds Of October ad (RPM - Jan. 18/92). Fjellgaard's tour began on Jan 24th at the Beaver Arts Centre in Holden, Alberta and, after a swing through the prairies, winds down at the Vancouver East Cultural Centre for three dates (Feb. 27 through 29). Fjellgaard's new single, Fire And Lace, a duet with Linda Kidder, has already been shipped to radio. The track is included on the Winds Of October album.

Hal Bruce is off with his latest Bookshop track, a countrified version of the Lennon/McCartney penning of I'll Cry Instead. The track is included on Bookshop's latest CD compilation Gold And New. Bookshop's Gilles Godard is readying Bruce's new CD

CCMA to present top acts at Country Radio Seminar

The Canadian Country Music Association (CCMA) has scheduled a special concert to be staged during the Country Radio Seminar (CRS '92) in Nashville on March 7. This is the third consecutive year for the CCMA sponsored event.

"The Seminar has become a 'must participate' event for us," says CCMA President Tom Tompkins, "it offers exceptional networking, showcasing and educational opportunities."

Performing at the special luncheon will be Michelle Wright and Prairie Oyster, both of whom are US chart recognized acts. Prairie Oyster is now climbing the US country trades with their latest RCA track, One Precious Love, taken from the Everybody Knows album, which has also received US programmer attention. Wright has been firmly established in the US with her Arista releases, all of which have enjoyed impressive US chart action.

"At the Big Country Awards '91, Wright was honoured as Country Artist of the Year and as Top Female Vocalist. That same year the Chatham, Ontario native won the CCMA Female Vocalist of the Year Award as well as the Single of the Year for New Kind Of Love and Album of the Year for her self-titled album.

Toronto's Prairie Oyster have also accumulated a number of awards. They won a Big Country '91 Award as Top Group and Goodbye, So Long, Hello won the award as Best Single. They have also won CCMA Awards as Group of the Year and Lonely You, Lonely Me, won the Song of the Year category. As well they have won numerous Citation Awards from the CCMA and three Juno Awards as Best Country Group and a nomination for the 1991 Academy of Country Music's Best New Group.

In addition to the Saturday luncheon, the CCMA will have a booth in the CRS Exhibit Hall to allow registrants an opportunity to gain further information about Canada's country music industry as well as Canadian Country Music Week '92, which will be held in Calgary from Sept. 15 through 20.

which will include his latest track along with I'm Going Home, his previous release. Bruce and his Hired Hand band are currently playing clubs in his native Maritimes. He heads for Southern Ontario in the spring for a number of dates.

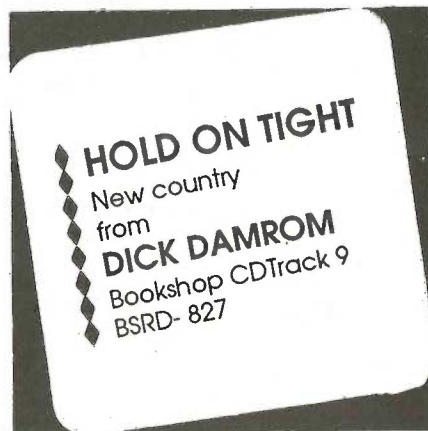

Joe Lonsdale's new album, Cowboys & Pickup Trucks, has just been released by Saddlestone International, based in Surrey, B.C. The album was produced by Rex Howard and Candice James at Bullfrog Studios in Vancouver and Surrey's MagicLab Studios. The title track, written by Saddlestone's Candice James and Matt Audette, has been taken a single, the follow-up to The Face Behind Those Bottles, which is also included on the album.

Mile Zero's new single, Anything To Get My Mind Off You, is now gaining good playlist action across the country. Out of country reaction to the single is also impressive. The track is included on RDR Countrypak 7. The single was written by Bernie Steward and produced by Gerry Dere and Steward at Gerry Dere Factory.

Ruth Cooper's new Cardinal single, Standing In The Shadow Of Love is included on the latest Cardinal CD compilation. Cooper wrote the song along with Stewart Harris. The single was produced in Nashville by Tony Migliore. The new single follows Cooper's three previous releases: True Blue, More Than A Little Love and Pictures Worth A Thousand Memories. Good news for Cooper is the recording of one of her songs by Capitol-Nashville artist Linda Davis.

Cassandra Vasik's new single, Which Face Should I Put On Tonight, has been shipped to radio and is expected to follow the chart success of her debut, It Comes Back To You, which is still charting. It had been reported that Black Book would be the next single (included on Sony CD sampler No. 38), but this is the title of the video now on release.

Veteran Dick Damron is making playlist action once more. This time with his latest release, Hold On Tight, which is included on Bookshop's Gold And New CD compilation. Damron is on his yearly trek to Mexico and is expected to return home to Bentley, Alberta in the spring. It's expected that Damron's latest release will be making good inroads by that time.

CHARTS

by Tim Evans

3 other No. 1s 4 U2 . . . Mysterious Ways bumps Black Or White out of the No. 1 spot on the Hit Tracks chart. It gives U2 their fourth chart-topping song, the same number as Michael Jackson. However, U2 only has seven Top 20 songs while Jackson has 20!

The one and only. U2 is the only band with a two-character name to hit No. 1. As a matter of fact, there are only two other artists using a two-character name to even crack the Top 40. Name either one of them. Hint: think Canadian!

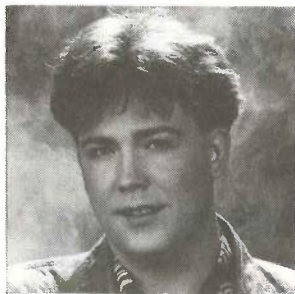

An interesting battle! A tough race for No. 1 is shaping up on the Hit Tracks chart. Mysterious Ways is on top, but there are four other songs gaining quickly and it could be a toss-up as early as next week. Can't Let Go, Don't Let The Sun Go Down On Me, There Will Never Be Another Tonight and No Regrets

Roxette tour dates include Canada for first time

Capitol recording artist, Roxette, kick off their first ever North American tour with a Valentine's Day date, Feb. 14th at the PNE in Vancouver. The band is touring in support of their current quadruple platinum selling album Joyride.

The Swedish duo, comprised of Per Gessle and Marie Fredriksson, also enjoyed huge success with their 1989 album, Look Sharp, which sold well over 600,000 in Canada, as well as over 5 million copies worldwide. They followed that success with the biggest hit of their career, It Must Have Been Love, a worldwide number one hit from the Pretty Woman soundtrack.

are all within reach of hitting the top.

The cream has risen . . . The Top Eight songs this week all come from artists who have reached No. 1 before. The nine artists (U2, Michael Jackson, Mariah Carey, George Michael, Elton John, Bryan Adams, Tom Cochrane, Genesis and Richard Marx) involved in the Top Eight songs have been at the top often in the past five years. They have combined for 22 No. 1 songs for a total of 56 weeks. That works out to almost 25 per cent of the time that one of those nine artists have been at No. 1 in the last five years (and that doesn't include Phil Collins as a solo artist).

LOOKING FOR TALENT - CKRY-FM

CCMA's Country Radio Station of the Year and Calgary's #1 Radio Station, Country 105 (CKRY-FM), is looking for up-and-coming talent, ready to fit into a swing shift. Tapes & resumes, in confidence, to Greg Haraldson, Program Director, CKRY-FM #300-609 14th St.N.W., Calgary, Alberta. T2N 2A1.

LOOKING TO GET BACK IN THE GAME

From August '88 to October '89 I worked overnights and evenings in a Top 25 market. Then a family crisis forced me to quit my job and kept me on the sidelines for a year and a half. Now I want back in the game! Shift unimportant, market size, irrelevant. If you're a Gold, AC, CHR, AOR anywhere in the country with a jock position open, call me now and I'll Fedex a tape and resume faster than it takes to count Dan Quayle's IQ. 306-692-0601 ext. 304 but the publicity seems to be helping. Their five-song cassette has been selling extremely well and has the biggest jump on the Albums chart. It climbs 34 spots to No. 40. They also have the hottest moving song with Lovers In A Dangerous Time. It goes all the way from No. 73 up to No. 21.

Tu one of the two twos! It may sound confusing, but the only two artists with a two-character name (other than U2) to have a Top 40 song are: FM (Just Like You reached No. 38 in 1985) and Tu (Stay With Me went to No. 18 in 1987). I had to disqualify G.Q. (who peaked at No. 8 with Disco Nights (Rock Fever) in 1979 because they used initials which count as characters.

PRIME DRIVE OPENING
