The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers
575 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10022

1964 marks the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

Organized in 1914 by Victor Herbert and his colleagues, ASCAP has always been an unincorporated, non-profit, membership association which today numbers more than 9,000 outstanding men and women who write and publish our nation's musical works.

Members of ASCAP represent every phase of musical literature: the popular songs of today and yesterday, the music of the Broadway theatre and Hollywood films, the finest symphonic, concert and religious works, jazz and folk music.

The Society serves the American public by encouraging musically creative talent. It also serves the user of copyrighted music by making it possible to obtain, quickly and reasonably, the right to perform publicly for profit the musical works of the entire ASCAP membership, through a single license.

As part of its 50th Anniversary, ASCAP is happy to publish this booklet of hit tunes, written and published by members since the founding of the Society in 1914.

In addition, there are listed works from the period 1892-1913. This is prior to the formation of the Society, but includes the great song hits of that era written by writers who subsequently became members of ASCAP.

Objective criteria were used in selecting these songs to meet the many requests of radio and television program directors, producers, writers, editors and advertising agencies. Various lists and surveys were correlated with ASCAP's own performance records of the works of its members. The songs listed, of course, represent only a small segment of the Society's repertory, which includes every type of musical literature.

ASCAP, quite naturally, is proud of this contribution by its members to musical Americana.
