THE PURPOSE OF THIS DIRECTORY

is to provide facts about newspapers and periodicals, and authoritative information concerning the states, cities, towns and marketing areas in which these publications are issued and circulate.

This volume is the recognized key to every kind of publication issued in the United States and Canada. It is widely used as the basic authority by people in business, industry, education, agriculture, religion, government and advertising.

Please read the pages immediately following to be sure your use of this Directory will be efficient and satisfactory.

A GUIDE TO THE USE OF THE DIRECTORY

For the benefit of new subscribers and for a better understanding by all users of this book, a few paragraphs follow that should clarify the terms that must of necessity be abbreviated, make evident the method used in compiling it, and explain the absence of material that might well be included in its pages if space permitted. For ease in reference the material is grouped under self-explanatory headings.

MAP LOCATIONS Towns and cities are listed alphabetically. Following each name there is, in parentheses, a capital letter and figure. These come immediately before the population figures. They correspond with symbols on the map to indicate locations.

COUNTY SEATS Every town that is a County Seat is marked with a dagger (†) immediately after the name of the town.

CENSUS Population figures for the United States are from the 1960 Census tabulations, unless otherwise specified. In some areas a special census has been taken, in which case the date of the census is given. Whenever the population figure includes the whole township, the figure is followed by (incl. township). Population figures preceded by (x) indicate the figures were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

TOWN HEADINGS Due to the condensation necessary in this work, headings for towns and cities under 25,000 contain reference to banking facilities only when these are not available in the town being described. For the same reason there is also no mention made in these headings of airports.

Much of the statistical data obtained from Government sources is necessarily more than one year old. These figures are the latest ones available.

ALPHABETICAL ARRANGEMENT OF PUBLICATIONS In each city and town newspapers are listed in alphabetical order by their distinctive names. The word "The," if used, appears after the name. "Morning," "Evening," "Weekly," or other words indicating the period of issue, are not given in the title; nor is the name of the city or town in which the paper circulates. Thus, the "Chicago Evening News" is listed under Chicago as "News." When the title pertains to a state or county, however, the name of the section is included, examples being, "Arizona Republic" in Phoenix, Arizona; "Collier County News" in Naples, Florida. Occasionally, too, the name of a city is retained to distinguish a paper from another of similar title. It is our intention to list newspapers in the town in which they circulate chiefly. For this reason the address of the publisher may in a few instances differ from the town in which the paper is listed.

BRACKETS When two or more papers in a town or city are under the same management or regularly sell space in combination, they are bracketed in the DIRECTORY. As examples, see the News and the Post-Herald in Birmingham, Alabama; the News and the Times in Cumberland, Maryland.

NO ADVERTISING Publications which are believed to decline general advertising are indicated in the DIRECTORY by the abbreviated form "No adv."

RAILROADS Abbreviations are used in town and city headings to indicate rail service. Routes are shown on railroad map and each state map. In some cases these may vary due to mergers, etc., since publication of this DIRECTORY.

AIRLINES Routes are shown on airline map. Where airline service is noted in city headings it is indicated by the letters listed below. In some cases these may vary due to mergers, etc., since publication of this DIRECTORY.

SUB-EDITIONS As far as possible, we distinguish between independent publications and those which are simply reprints of some other paper, usually with little or no alteration beyond the name. Papers so issued are entered in the catalog under the name of the leading paper, and under the place of apparent publication the name of the edition is given, with reference to the paper or house issuing it, followed in many instances by the name of the town to which mail should be addressed.

MECHANICAL SPECIFICATIONS Column width is given in nonpareils (6 points) rather than in picas (12 points), example: 24 nonps=2 inches. Column length is given in agate lines (14 lines=1 inch), example: 70 agate lines=5 inches. Publications printed by letterpress are indicated by "+" meaning they accept mats; those printed by offset are so marked; and those using letterpress and offset are indicated by "Let & Off".

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES The many variations in the subscription prices of daily papers in the larger cities make it impossible, in the space available, to give such prices accurately. The subscription rates requested of all papers are those paid by local subscribers. Dailies are requested to give the rate when delivered by carrier. Differences must be expected between these prices and those in zones other than the one in which the paper is published.

In the case of newspapers that are members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, many of the subscription prices listed are computed from the monthly or weekly carrier price given in the respective A.B.C. statements.

CIRCULATIONS All circulation statements obtained from the publishers are for the latest date possible, i.e., they represent an average circulation for six months preceding the compilation of the DIRECTORY in which they appear.

By an average paid circulation is meant, as is clearly expressed on all forms and questionnaires: the average net paid circulation per issue (after deducting all left-over, unsold, returned, file, sample, exchange, or advertisers' copies, and special editions) for six preceding months.

Free and controlled circulations are so indicated. The terms are not synonymous. These also represent a six months' average, exclusive of left-over, unsold, file, sample, exchange and advertisers' copies.

In the list of daily newspapers in the back of the book, it is possible to include circulation figures that arrive too late for incorporation in the catalog pages. Reference to this fact is made in the catalog just preceding each state's list of towns and cities. Variation is also found between the catalog and other of the classified lists because of the later printing of the latter which allows inclusion in them of last-minute changes.

Circulations given in this DIRECTORY are divided into 10 classes: A.B.C. Audits; A.B.C. Statements; P.O. Statements; B.P.A. Audits; C.A.C. Audits; V.A.C. Statements; C.C.A.B. Audits; Sworn Statements; Publishers' Statements; Estimated figures. Under the following headings brief explanations are given.

A.B.C. Statements and Audits Members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations are so designated by symbols preceding their circulation figures. Their Audits are indicated by (●); September 30 Statements by (★★); March 31 and June 30 Statements by (★) These are in bold face type, as that is our method in all cases of indicating sworn statements. Only the total net paid circulation figures are given, except for business publications. If the free distribution exceeds 1,000 it is entered. A few of these statements cover only a three-month period; the majority, however, are for a six-month period ending with the date indicated. Every circulation period covered by the figures shown in each case is in or during the year 1968.

Members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations are sometimes not designated as such in the DIRECTORY. This occurs only when a consolidation has taken place, invalidating the latest available statement, or when no up-to-date statement is made available by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, 123 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill. 60606.

P. O. Statements Circulation figures given in the statement of ownership, management and circulation made by newspapers on October 1 of each year to the Post Office Department of the Federal Government are listed in the DIRECTORY in bold face type. They are called Post Office Statements and are indicated by the symbol (§).

B.P.A. Audits Circulation figures from Controlled and Qualified Paid Audits are preceded by (>) and are given in bold face type, showing that they are sworn statements, made for the Business Publications Audit of Circulation, Inc., 420 Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10017.

V.A.C. Statements and Audits Circulation figures from Verified Audit Circulation Co. are preceded by (×) and are entered in bold face type indicating sworn statements. The figures may be qualified net paid or free and are indicated accordingly. V.A.C. is located at 1801 Ave. of the Stars, Suite 427, Gateway West-Century City, Los Angeles, Calif. 90067.

C.A.C. Audits Circulation figures from Certified Audit of Circulations, Inc. are preceded by (♦) and are entered in bold face type indicating published audit reports. Figures may be qualified (free/non-paid) or net paid and are so indicated. C.A.C. address: 521 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10017.

C.C.A.B. Audits Qualified circulation figures from Canadian Circulations Audit Board, Inc., 165 Bloor St., East, Toronto (5) Ontario, are given in bold face type, preceded by (*).

Sworn and Publishers' Statements; Estimated Circulation Figures Figures furnished us by publishers fall into three classifications. First, those that are supported by affidavit are listed in bold face type as sworn statements. Secondly, those unsupported by affidavit are preceded by a double dagger (‡) and are called publishers' statements. Thirdly, those given to us, but lacking a signature, are listed as estimated. In addition, those publications that have failed to reply are given estimated figures for one year, based on the statement for the preceding year. Estimated figures are accompanied by no symbol and are printed in light face type.

OMISSION OF CIRCULATIONS In some cases it becomes necessary to omit circulation figures. Cases in point are: when the information received is indefinite, contradictory, or otherwise unsatisfactory; when experience or reliable information creates a doubt as to the accuracy of the figures sent us; when more recent information indicates that statements made earlier in the year do not represent conditions at the time the DIRECTORY is issued; and when publishers themselves have requested the omission.

The continued existence of publications failing to answer our queries is checked through other sources. No response direct from the publisher for three years or longer is indicated in the circulation column by the symbol(—).

PUBLICATION FREQUENCY. Certain terms in this category have optional, conflicting definitions. This clarifies their usage in the DIRECTORY. Bi-weekly (published every other week). Bi-monthly (every other month). Tri-weekly (3 times a week).

PUBLICATIONS EXCLUDED In accordance with our usual custom, a number of publications which are not required by the general advertiser or the public have been omitted from the DIRECTORY. Among these are high school, local church papers, papers issued by business houses primarily for the promotion of their own interests (generally known as House Organs), and publications issued by institutions, unless these have influence outside the particular institution by which they are published. A few publications established during the past year are also omitted. Information concerning them may be obtained by writing to the editorial office of the DIRECTORY.

POSTAL ZIP CODE NUMBERS are furnished for publication listings for all United States cities and towns; plus postal zone numbers required in large Canadian cities.

CLASSIFIED LISTS Consult the "Table of Contents" for location of all Special Groupings of publications such as Daily newspapers, Weekly and Semi-weekly newspapers, Daily periodicals, Labor and all other Trade or Technical or Industrial publications.

LATE INFORMATION The last pages in this book, following the Alphabetical Index, contain Supplementary Information that reached the editorial office after the pages on which it would normally appear had gone to press.

FINAL COUNT FOR POPULATION OF CONTINENTAL
UNITED STATES BY REGIONS, DIVISIONS
AND STATES: APRIL 1, 1960
POPULATION ESTIMATE 1968

The population of the United States on April 1, 1960, was 179,323,175, according to final figures from the 1960 Census of Population published by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. From 1950 to 1960 the United States experienced an all-time record population growth between successive censuses of 27,997,377, an 8.8 million increase over the record of the previous decade. The rate of increase was 18.5 per cent.

The West led the four regions in the amount and rate of growth. The population of the West increased 7.9 million, or 38.9 per cent. The South ranked second, and increased 7.8 million. The North Central region increased 7.2 million, and the Northeast 5.2 million.

In 1960 New York continued to be the most populous state, and Alaska the least. Other highest ranking in order were California, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio. California and Florida led in the amount of growth (California as of 6-1-66 became the most populous state) with 5.1 million and 2.2 million respectively. Florida, 78.7 per cent, and Nevada, 78.2 per cent, led in the rate of growth. Three states, West Virginia, Arkansas, Mississippi, and the District of Columbia, lost population.

There were five cities of 1,000,000 inhabitants or more; twenty-one cities of 500,000 or more; one hundred and thirty cities of 100,000 or more.

Since the 1960 Census, population in the United States has continued to increase. The estimated population of all fifty states as of July 1, 1968 was 199,861,000, an increase of 20,537,000, or 11.5%, since April 1, 1960 Census. Five states, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, West Virginia and Wyoming, showed a population decrease since 1960. States with the greatest percentage increase were Nevada, 58.9; Arizona, 28.3; Florida, 24.4; Hawaii, 23.0; Alaska, 22.4. The largest numerical increases were recorded in California, 3,503,000; Texas, 1,393,000; New York, 1,331,000; Florida, 1,208,000.

POPULATION

POPULATION OF THE UNITED STATES

Continental United States 179,323,175

United States, including territories and possessions, 181,834,035
(United States Census, 1960)

Cities, towns and villages of the United States and Canada, arranged by states and provinces in alphabetical order and sub-divided into groups in each state and province according to the number of inhabitants, from 2,500 upward. The Census Bureau classes as urban those places which have a population of 2,500 or more. Places with less than 2,500 are classed as rural.

ALABAMA

(July 1, 1968 estimate, 3,566,000)

State Capital, MONTGOMERY

Alabama is bounded on the north by Tennessee, east by Georgia and Florida, south by Florida and the Gulf of Mexico, and west by Mississippi. Its extreme length, north to south, is 336 miles; its breadth varies from 150 to 200 miles. The total land area is 51,078 square miles.

The Allegheny range enters the state at the northeast and extends toward the center, finally losing itself in mere foothills; then follows a tract of rolling prairies interspersed with pine barren and rich alluvial bottom lands. These bottom lands include the black belt region, one of the greatest cattle producing districts in the world. From this region to the Florida border and the Gulf the land is gently undulating and is covered with forests.

The mountain districts and the valley of the Tennessee are covered with fine forests of hardwood timber. The mineral region occupies the northeastern part, while the northwest is a good agricultural and stock raising country. The climate is temperate and fairly uniform. The Weather Bureau at Montgomery gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 65.8; highest degree on record, 107; lowest, -5. Total annual precipitation is 51.33 inches.

Much of the state's foreign commerce passes through Mobile; in 1966 exports from this customs district were valued at $378,100,000 and imports at $200,800,000. Birmingham, "the Pittsburgh of the South" is in the center of the iron and steel industry. The largest institution of higher education in the State is the University of Alabama, located at University (Tuscaloosa).

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), nineteenth. Urban population in 1960, 54.8%. Of the 3,266,740 total population, 2,283,609 were white; 983,131 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (X) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

ALASKA

Population 226,167 (U. S. Census, 1960)
State Capital, JUNEAU

Alaska is bounded on the north by the Arctic Ocean, east by the Yukon Territory and British Columbia, Canada, south by the Pacific Ocean, and west by Bering Sea and Strait and the Arctic Ocean. Including the Aleutian Islands, it has a total area of 586,400 square miles, rank in area, first. Its greatest length from north to south is 1,200 miles; its breadth over 800 miles.

The northern half is low with great morasses along the streams, and is populated only by a few Indians. The southern half is mountainous and along the southeast coast are some of the highest peaks in North America. Near the center is Mt. McKinley (20,257 feet), loftiest elevation on the entire continent. The southwesterly section comprises the peninsula of Alaska and the Aleutian Islands, the latter the center of the fur seal fisheries. This district is mountainous and actively volcanic. The coast from the mainland are salt water channels navigable for the largest of islands between which and the mainland are salt water channels navigable for the largest steamships. The Yukon River has a length of 2,300 miles, of which 1,765 miles are in Alaska and 1,200 miles are navigable.

In the interior temperatures range from about 60° below zero in winter to 90° in summer; on the coast and the Aleutian Islands they range from zero to 80°. The northerly province bordering the polar sea is the only one in which arctic conditions prevail. The Weather Bureau at Juneau gives the temperatures (annual monthly mean) as 42.4; highest on record 89; lowest on record -17. Total annual precipitation is 84.44 inches.

POPULATION

Rank among the states including District of Columbia (1960), fifty-first. Urban population in 1960, 37.9%. Of the 226,167 total population, 174,546 were white; 51,621 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (x) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

AGRICULTURE

Numbers of farms (1964), 382. Farm acreage, 1,959,440. Average acreage per farm, 5,129.4. Average value per farms, $47,150. Farms selling products over $10,000 in value, 91.

Fairbanks, with Tanana, is the center of a growing agricultural region of a great inland plateau rolling gently north from the barrier of mountain ranges along the south coast. The Matanuska Valley colonization project, established in 1935, has established several thousand permanent residents of the Valley area.

A cooperative plan to coordinate all agricultural research activities in Alaska was adopted early in 1949, to integrate the full technical and physical facilities of both the Federal Department of Agriculture and the University of Alaska. Projects now in operation include animal husbandry, soils, horticulture, agronomy, agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, plant pathology and entomology. Agricultural projects in livestock, crops, and gardening are also conducted by the University.

FISHERIES

The Alaska fisheries engaged 19,412 people in 1966. The commercial catch of fishery products during 1966 totalled 581,670,400 lbs., valued at $80,718,000. The salmon catch totalled 333,325,000 lbs. Canned products as prepared for market amounted to $120,546,688; frozen, $55,901,769; cured, $5,161,033.

One hundred seventy-two wholesale and manufacturing establishments were operated in Alaska in 1966, giving employment to 9,198 people. A strong demand for frozen food products required the freezing of large quantities of salmon which might otherwise have been canned or shipped fresh to market.

FURS

Alaska is famous as a big game country and is protected by game commission laws. In 1967 there were taken 65,672 fur seal skins on Pribilof Islands, valued at $3,580,000 in raw condition. Estimated fur take in Alaska (1966-67): mink, 13,600, value, $310,100; beaver, 12,057, value, $299,000; marten, 6,510, value, $86,000; land otter, 3,280, value, $75,000; lynx, 1,920, value, $67,200. Total fur value, including muskrat, fox, weasel and squirrel, $930,400.

FORESTS

Total lumber production (1968 est.) 88,000,000 feet, b.m. Principal woods: Western hemlock, sitka spruce, western red cedar and Alaska cedar. There is an enormous supply of timber suitable for pulp.

MINERALS

Value of production (1966), $82,683,000. Principal minerals in order of their value: petroleum, sand and gravel, coal.

MISCELLANEOUS

Railroad affairs are conducted under supervision of the Secretary of the Interior and a General Manager in immediate charge with headquarters in Anchorage. Rail operating revenue for 1957 was $15,224,909. Diesel locomotives handled the greater proportion of freight and passenger movement. Frequent ship connections link the south coast towns with Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. River boats are maintained during the season of navigation and many major airlines connect with the United States.

Roads and trails have opened up to development nearly all sections. A highway through Mt. McKinley National Park is open for traffic. Thousands of vacationers visit the Park annually. Motor vehicles registered (Aug., 1968, est.), 114,000. Number of telephones (1-1-68), 74,000. Number of retail stores (1963), 1,607, sales, $284,408,000. Number of post offices (6-30-67), 203.

Purely military consideration provided the motive for the opening, December 1, 1942, of the Alaska Highway for truck traffic, from Dawson Creek, B. C., through Canada and the Yukon Territory to Fairbanks, Alaska. Primarily the road is for defense, because it will give Alaska safe, overland means of communication.

The schools, including the elementary and high schools are under general supervision of the Alaska Department of Education. The office of Indian Affairs has supervision over the education and general social welfare of the natives. The University of Alaska is located at College

ARIZONA

 (July 1, 1968 estimate, 1,670,000)
 State Capital, PHOENIX

Arizona is bounded on the north by Utah and Nevada, south by Mexico, east by New Mexico and west by California and Nevada. Its length, north to south, is 390 miles, its breadth about 300 miles. The total land area is 113,575 square miles, its rank in area, sixth.

The Colorado River flows through the northern part of the state, and forms nearly all the western boundary. Its Grand Canyon is one of the scenic wonders of the world. The state is generally picturesque and in addition to the Grand Canyon has such other outstanding items of interest as the Petrified Forest, Natural Bridge, Indian pueblos, ruins of cliff dwellers, and the great Roosevelt Dam, which supplies irrigating waters for the richest agricultural district, the Salt River Valley. From the latter and from other sources of irrigation, agriculture has received great stimulation. Hoover Dam in the Black Canyon harnesses the Colorado and is the greatest dam in the world.

Extending from Grand Canyon to the Mogollon Mountains are large forests of pine. In the center of the state is a richly mineralized belt. Hot springs are found in the southwest, and the arid, semi-tropical southeast affords relief to sufferers from pulmonary complaints. At Flagstaff is located the Lowell Observatory. The University of Arizona is at Tucson.

The Weather Bureau at Phoenix gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 70.3; highest degree on record, 118; lowest, 16; annual precipitation, 7.85 inches.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), thirty-fifth. Urban population in 1960, 74.5%. Of the 1,302,161 total population, 1,169,517 were white; 132,644 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (X) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

ARKANSAS

(July 1, 1968 estimate, 2,012,000)

State Capital, LITTLE ROCK

Arkansas is bounded on the north by Missouri, east by Missouri, Tennessee and Mississippi, south by Louisiana, southwest by Texas, and west by Oklahoma. Its greatest length, north to south, is 240 miles; its breadth varies from 170 to 250 miles. The total land area is 52,675 square miles.

Nearly the entire state lies in the drainage basin of the lower Mississippi, which stream flows along most of its eastern border. In the eastern and southeastern portion are the cotton and timber belts. Every sort of tree that grows in the temperate zone abounds. The valley of the Arkansas is unsurpassed as a cotton producing region. In the west are the Ozark Mountains and fruit and mineral-bearing lands. Arkansas produces 96% of the bauxite in the country. Near the center of the state are the famous Hot Springs and other mineral spring resorts, attractive to tourists and invalids. In the south are the largest of the state's oil fields.

The summer season is long, the winters usually short and mild. The Weather Bureau at Little Rock gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 62.2; highest temperature recorded as 110; lowest as -12; total annual precipitation as 47.52 inches.

The University of Arkansas is located at Fayetteville.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), thirty-first. Urban population in 1960, 42.8%. Of the 1,786,272 total population, 1,395,703 were white; 390,569 were non-white. CALIFORNIA

(July 1, 1968 estimate, 19,221,000)

State Capital, SACRAMENTO

California is bounded on the north by Oregon, east by Nevada and Arizona, south by Lower California, west by the Pacific Ocean. Its length is approximately 770 miles; its breadth 230 miles; land area, 156,573 square miles; rank, in area, third.

The state has a coast line of 1,000 miles indented by many bays, among them Humboldt, San Francisco, of Golden Gate fame, and San Diego. Crossing these waterways are the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge and the Golden Gate Bridge, both of which have attracted wide attention as feats of engineering. Two mountain ranges traverse it, the Sierra Nevada in the east and the Coast Range in the west. Between them lie the beautiful and fertile Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys. Peaks of the Coast Range rise to 8,000 feet; in the Sierras altitudes exceed 10,000 feet. Mt. Whitney is 14,495 feet above sea level and the highest point in the United States outside Alaska. Only 84 miles from it, in the same county, is the lowest point in the entire Western hemisphere, Death Valley, a depression that is 282 feet below sea level.

The northern part of the state is an elevated mountain region, noted for timber, minerals and fruits. The central and southern portions, except in the mountainous districts, have soils of unexcelled fertility. The southwestern part is valuable for minerals, contains some fertile valleys and also arid, barren deserts.

Like the topography, the climate is extremely varied, ranging from the temperatures of snow-capped mountains to those of the tropics. And its rainfall varies from over 100 inches in the wet season in the north to about two inches in the desert regions. The Weather Bureau at Fresno gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 63.3; highest temperature recorded as 115; lowest as 17; total annual precipitation as 9.50 inches.

There are large forests in the state, especially on the North Coast Range. In several of the national parks, among them celebrated Yosemite, are to be seen the giant Sequoias. The University of California, one of the largest universities in the country, is located at Berkeley with branches in Los Angeles and eight other locations. Two other noted universities are Leland Stanford at Palo Alto and University of Southern California at Los Angeles. Lick Observatory is located at Mt. Hamilton. Near San Diego is the Palomar Mountain Observatory, housing the largest reflecting telescope ever made. Hollywood, a suburb of Los Angeles, is the center of the motion picture industry.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), second. Urban population in 1960, 86.4%. Of the 15,717,204 total population, 14,455,230 were white; 1,261,974 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (x) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

COLORADO

(July 1, 1968 estimate, 2,048,000)
State Capital, DENVER

Colorado is bounded on the north by Nebraska and Wyoming, east by Nebraska and Kansas, south by Oklahoma and New Mexico, and west by Utah. Its breadth from east to west is 380 miles; length, 280 miles. The total land area is 103,922 square miles; rank in area, eighth.

The state, justly famous for its scenery, is intersected near the center by the main range of the Rocky Mountains, known as the "Continental Divide," and includes its highest points. Among them are Mounts Elbert and Massive, the 2nd and 3rd highest peaks in the country, and famed Pike's Peak. The mountains enclose wonderful valleys or basins, known as parks. Many are small but several are nearly 2,000 square miles in area. These parks are well timbered, and abound with beautiful scenery, being diversified with low hills and ridges. All the great rivers which rise in the state have their sources in these hills. The average altitude of this state is over 6,800 feet above sea level, and the lowest altitude, along the Arkansas River, in Prowers county, is 3,350 feet. There are 53 peaks towering to an altitude of 14,000 feet or more. In crossing the mountains the height reached by railroads is 10,856 feet. Timber is found in many places in Colorado at a height of 11,000 feet, and the snow line in summer is nearly 14,000 feet, while in the European Alps but little arboreal growth is found at over 6,000 feet, and the line of perpetual snow is between 9,000 and 10,000 feet. Wheat and oats have attained maturity at 7,000 to 8,000 feet, barley at over 10,000 feet and apples, pears, plums, cherries and small fruits between 7,000 and 8,000 feet. There are many mineral springs, some reputed to have medicinal value. Everywhere is unusual conformation and coloration. The eastern part of Colorado is an immense plain which was for many years devoted to cattle raising, but is now being rapidly developed into one of the finest agricultural districts in the country. The climate is warm in summer and cold in winter, but dry and healthful. It is especially attractive to persons desiring relief from tuberculosis. The Weather Bureau at Denver gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 50.4; highest on record, 105; lowest on record, -29. Total annual precipitation (rain and snowfall) is 14.01 inches.

The state is amply supplied with railway facilities, and freight tonnage and tourist travel are heavy. The Moffat railroad tunnel, 32,150 feet long, under James Peak, completed in 1928, opened up an important territory west of the Continental Divide. The U. S. Air Force Academy is located at Colorado Springs, the University of Colorado at Boulder, and the Colorado School of Mines at Golden.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), thirty-second. Urban population in 1960, 73.7%. Of the 1,753,947 total population, 1,700,700 were white; 53,247 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (x) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

AGRICULTURE

Cash receipts from farm marketings (1967): crops, $195,024,000; livestock and products (including meat animals, dairy products, poultry and eggs), $612,500,000.

Value of sales of chief crops (1967): wheat, $45,238,000; sugar beets (1966 value of production), $30,122,000, rank, second; hay, $23,718,000, rank, fourth; potatoes, $17,104,000, rank, ninth; corn, $16,931,000; dry edible beans, $15,039,000, rank, first; sorghum grain, $10,901,000; barley, $6,120,000, rank, tenth; broomcorn (value of production), $1,435,000; oats, $1,109,000; alfalfa seed, $576,000; rye, $122,000.

Value of sales of fruits (noncitrus) (1967): apples, $1,537,000; peaches, $645,000; cherries, $291,000; pears, $180,000.

CONNECTICUT

State Capital, HARTFORD

Connecticut is bounded on the north by Massachusetts, east by Rhode Island, south by Long Island Sound and west by New York. The average breadth from east to west is 86 miles; average length, 55 miles. The total land area is 4,899 square miles.

The eastern part of the state has many ridges of low hills with fertile valleys. The Connecticut River valley, at a distance from the Sound, is very fertile. In the south the land is broken and the soil sandy, but when well fertilized yields good crops. The valleys of the Connecticut and Housatonic Rivers are immensely productive, the former especially so in cigar leaf tobacco. In the west the surface is rough and the hills are abrupt, rising to an altitude of nearly 2,000 feet. The state has an abundant water supply for industrial uses. The Weather Bureau at Hartford gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 49.7; highest on record, 102; lowest on record, —18. Total annual precipitation, 44.90 inches.

The State of Connecticut is noted for its manufacturing industries. Its capital city, Hartford, is noted for the extent and variety of its insurance interests. There are hundreds of beautiful country homes of New York and other city people in the state, especially in the western part. Per capita personal income in Connecticut in 1966 was $3,678—highest of all the states. The state has many fine educational institutions, including Yale University at New Haven, founded in 1701. The Connecticut River is open to navigation from its mouth to Hartford.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), twenty-fifth. Urban population in 1960, 78.3%. Of the 2,535,234 total population, 2,423,816 were white; 111,418 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (x) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

State Capital, DOVER

Delaware is bounded on the north by Pennsylvania, east by the Delaware River and Bay and the Atlantic Ocean, south by Maryland, and west by Maryland and Pennsylvania. Its length from north to south is 110 miles; its breadth varies from about 9 miles to 36 miles. The total land area is 1,978 square miles; second smallest state in area.

The surface in the north is somewhat hilly, and southward the land is rolling, with fringes of marshes and swamp tracts along the indentations of Delaware Bay. The southern portion is a sandy region, but by skillful farming has been made highly productive. The soil of the interior is light and easily cultivated. The Weather Bureau at Wilmington gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 54.3; highest on record, 107; lowest, -12; total annual precipitation, 43.83 inches.

The manufacturing center of the state is Wilmington, a port on the Delaware River. It is close to the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, a waterway which crosses the state and connects the two bays of the same names, greatly facilitating shipping between Philadelphia and Baltimore and other ports in Maryland and Virginia. Other harbors are Lewes and New Castle. Per capita personal income in Delaware in 1966 was $3,678—third highest in the United States. The University of Delaware is located at Newark.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

(July 1, 1968 estimate, 809,000)

(For map see Maryland)

The District of Columbia, is enclosed by the state of Maryland and is bounded on the west by the Potomac River, which separates it from the state of Virginia. Its land area is 62 square miles.

It is the seat of the Federal Government of the United States and most of its activities center around the departments of the Government. These divisions are housed in spacious and attractive buildings that give the city distinction, invite the inspection of an enormous number of visitors, and add to the beauty of a place which abounds in trees, flowers and natural scenery as well as charm of layout. Across the Potomac there are additional sights that draw the attention of those who visit the District: Arlington, the National Cemetery, and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Mt. Vernon and Alexandria, all rich in national and historical interest. Industrial activity has been primarily for local consumption. The per capita personal income in the District of Columbia in 1966 was $3,969—which exceeded that of any of the states.

The Potomac, which flows into Chesapeake Bay, is navigable and wide and deep enough to accommodate large vessels. Washington is the chief railway stopping point en route between North and South. The Weather Bureau gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) of the city as 55.8; highest on record as 106; lowest, —15; total annual precipitation as 41.11 inches.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), fortieth. In 1960, of the 763,956 total population, 345,263 were white; 418,693 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (X) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

MANUFACTURES

Statistics for 1964: value added by manufacture, $274,000,000. Leading industry groups: printing and publishing, food and kindred products, stone, clay and glass products. Total expenditures for new plant and new equipment, $10,000,000.

Final figures for value added by manufacture in each of the leading industry groups are available through Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

MISCELLANEOUS

Number of telephones (1-1-68), 818,300. Motor vehicles registered (Aug., 1968, est.), 245,000. One post office (1967). Number of retail stores (1963), 5,396; sales, $1,417,703,000.

FLORIDA

State Capital, TALLAHASSEE

Florida is bounded on the north by Alabama and Georgia, on the east by the Atlantic Ocean, on the west by the Gulf of Mexico. A 50-mile stretch of the Perdido River on the northwest edge completes the circuit. These boundaries enclose a land area of 54,861 square miles and 3,805 square miles of water—a total area of 58,666 square miles. The general coastline measures 1,197 miles around the state. The extreme distance from east to west across Florida measures 467 miles, while the extreme length from the 31st parallel to the southernmost keys is about 444 miles.

Of the 34,727,680 acres of land, 66% remains in forests while only about 1/10th of the farmland is planted to crops. In general, Florida vegetation is divided among seven distinct areas: The flatwoods, scrub lands, grassy swamps, savannas, salt marshes, hammocks and high pinelands. While Florida contains more varieties of native trees than any other region in America, only five are the true natives: Oak, pine, cypress, palm and mangrove trees. The pine, from the stunted sand pine to the stately open-crown longleaf variety, is the most common tree in Florida.

Over 30,000 lakes and bays dot the state, headed by mammoth Lake Okeechobee, 730 square miles of shallow fresh water, roughly triangular in shape and 25 to 31 miles across. Okeechobee overflows today through great levees and flood gates into canals and into the sea. For centuries, the lake simply overflowed its banks into the beginning of the Indian-named "River of Grass," the Everglades. Altogether 858,500 acres of land and 370,000 acres of water and swamps compose the Everglades National Park.

There are no high elevations in the state. The area in Walton County near De Funiak Springs in the northwest corner of the state is listed as the highest at 345 feet. Iron Mountain, 325 feet, is the highest point in peninsular Florida.

Climate is semi-tropical, but temperatures do not reach extremes. The weather bureau at Miami lists the average monthly mean temperature at 75.3; the highest 95 in July, of 1942; the lowest 27 in February, 1917.

Florida's economy is based on agriculture, industry and tourism. The citrus growing and processing activities in Florida outrank all other U. S. citrus production.

The tourist industry is a major factor in Florida's economy. In 1967 there were 19,492,508 tourists who spent a total of $4,962,012,000.

The larger educational institutions include the University of Florida (Gainesville); Florida State University (Tallahassee); and University of Miami (Coral Gables).

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), tenth. Urban population in 1960, 73.9%. Of the 4,951,560 total population, 4,063,881 were white; 887,679 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (X) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

GEORGIA

(July 1, 1968 estimate, 4,588,000)

State Capital, ATLANTA

Georgia is bounded on the north by Tennessee and North Carolina, northeast by South Carolina, southeast by the Atlantic Ocean, south by Florida, and west by Alabama. Extreme length from north to south is 315 miles, extreme breadth, 250 miles. Total land area is 58,876 square miles.

The surface is varied. Along the coast it is intersected by numerous rivers and sounds; and the country for miles inland is a succession of ridges of pines and live oaks and swamps of cypress. The great Okefenokee swamp is in the southeast. Back from the coast is a stretch of sandy land, mostly pine barrens yielding quantities of timber and naval stores. A series of terraces bring the region in the middle of the state to about 575 feet above tidewater, from which elevation it rises toward the north more rapidly, until it becomes mountainous, being there crossed by spurs of the Appalachians. Georgia's forest acreage, largest of any state east of the Mississippi, supports an industry that does an annual business in excess of $1 billion. The Weather Bureau at Atlanta gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 61.4; highest on record, 103; lowest on record, -9. The total annual precipitation is 47.14 inches.

Savannah is one of the chief south Atlantic seaports and has an important foreign and domestic commerce. In 1966 the value of exports shipped from Georgia ports amounted to $187,800,000. The State Port at Savannah, opened late in 1952, gave Georgia one of the most modern and efficient docking and cargo-handling facilities in the world. Atlanta is known as one of the progressive cities of the South and nationally rates high in banking strength. There are numerous mineral springs in Georgia, of which the Indian Spring in Butts county and Lithia Spring in Douglas county, are among the best known. At Warm Springs there is a sanitarium for the treatment of sufferers from various types of paralysis. The University of Georgia, located at Athens, the Georgia Institute of Technology, Georgia State College, and Emory University, all in Atlanta, are the largest institutions of higher education in the state.

MAUI & KALAWAO COUNTIES

HAWAII COUNTY

HAWAII

Population 632,772 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, HONOLULU

The Hawaiian Islands are situated in the North Pacific Ocean about 2,100 nautical miles southwest of San Francisco. There are 20 islands. The combined area of the eight principal islands is 6,446 square miles (about the size of Connecticut). The Island of Hawaii is the largest (4,038 square miles), but the concentration of population is on Oahu.

The Islands are mountainous and volcanic in origin. The average medium elevation of all of the islands is about 2,000 feet. Notable exceptions are Mauna Kea, the highest peak (18,796 feet—dormant), Mauna Loa (13,677 feet—active), Haleakala (10,023 feet). Mount Waialeale, Kauai Island, has more rain than any place in the world with a 28-year annual average of 489 inches.

Hawaii, with its abundant rainfall and prevailing northeast trade winds, has a mild, uniform climate with a mean average temperature of 75.1° (the highest on record is 100°, the lowest, 52°). The City of Honolulu has 286 days of sunshine and 79 cloudy days during the average year and less than 24 inches of rainfall.

Honolulu, the capital city located on the Island of Oahu, is the commercial center and seat of government in the island state. Hawaii has excellent schools and colleges which provide modern educational facilities from nursery school through Ph.D. level. In 1967-68 it had 216 public and 125 private schools with an enrollment of 203,742 students. The University of Hawaii, located in Honolulu, has an enrollment of 20,120. Also situated in Honolulu is one of our largest army posts and the nation's largest naval base and shipyard installation (Pearl Harbor). The State's principal source of income is federal expenditures which in 1967 totaled $584,776,000.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), forty-fourth. Urban population in 1960, 76.5%. Of the 632,772 total population, 202,230 were white; 430,542 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (X) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

AGRICULTURE

Luxuriant tropical vegetation clothes these Islands. The soil is very fertile, and all tropical fruits and vegetables are grown. Number of farms (1964), 4,864. Farm acreage, 2,354,464. Average acreage per farm, 484.1. Average value per farm, $100,508. Farms selling products over $10,000 in value, 961.

The chief agricultural products are sugar, pineapples, vegetables, coffee, macadamia nuts and fruits. Sugar production is the third main source of income of the Islands. The crop takes from 18 to 24 months to mature and only a part of it can be harvested each season. In 1967, 239,813 acres were in sugar cane, which provided employment for 12,000 persons on plantations and in mills. Sugar produced in 1967 amounted to 1,181,042 tons valued at $192,000,000.

The fourth largest industry is the growing and canning of pineapples, one of the canneries being the largest fruit preserving plant in the world. Unlike sugar, which is important to each of the major Neighbor Islands, pineapple is not grown at all on Hawaii and very little on Kauai. Outside of Oahu, the main pineapple producing areas are Maui, Lanai, and Molokai. In 1967, about 69,500 acres were in pineapples, providing year-round and seasonal employment for 9,450 persons on plantations and in the canneries. The total pineapple pack for the fiscal year ending 1967-68 amounted to 18,925,929 cases, solid pack fruit: 11,243,614 single strength juice: 1,180,481 cases juice concentrate, for a total value of $133,000,000.

MANUFACTURES

Statistics for 1964: value added by manufacture, $262,000,000. Leading industry groups: food and kindred products. Total expenditures for new plant and new equipment $20,000,000.

Final figures for value added by manufacture in each of the leading industry groups are available through Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

Almost all of the trade of Hawaii is with the Mainland. Commodity imports in 1967 were estimated at $982,000,000, while commodity exports were $373,000,000.

FISHERIES

Total catch (1966), 13,014,000 lbs.; $3,128,000 value. Principal fish: tuna, snapper, marlin.

IDAHO

Population 667,191 (U. S. Census, 1960)

(July 1, 1968 estimate, 705,000)

State Capital, BOISE

Idaho is bounded on the north by British Columbia, Canada, east by Montana and Wyoming, south by Utah and Nevada, and west by Oregon and Washington. Its length from north to south is about 480 miles, its width varies from 44 to 325 miles. The total land area is 82,769 square miles, and includes 47 square miles of Yellowstone Park, rank in area, tenth.

The state's surface is diversified, being mountainous in the northern and central portions and having arid plains in the south. Mt. Borah, 12,655 feet in the Lost River Range, is the highest point in the state. In the southeast there is a volcanic region, abounding in geysers and saline springs. The Snake River, which abounds in falls, forms part of the state's western boundary and flows through the southern part. The Salmon River, a tributary, flows through a lengthy canyon that is filled with game. The state has large mineral resources, partly undeveloped, and most of the plains lands have yet to be reclaimed by irrigation. The climate is dry and healthful, warm in summer and cold in winter. The Weather Bureau at Boise gives temperature (annual monthly mean) as 51.0; highest on record 109; lowest on record —13. Total annual precipitation is 12.66 inches.

The University of Idaho is located at Moscow and Idaho State University in Pocatello. The volcanic field, 130 miles southwest of Yellowstone Park, called "Craters of the Moon," was set aside in 1924 as a national monument.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), forty-third. Urban population in 1960, 48.0%. Of the 667,191 total population, 657,383 were white; 9,808 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (X) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

AGRICULTURE

Number of farms (1964), 29,661. Farm acreage, 15,300,513. Average acreage per farm, 515.8. Average value per farm, $70,215. Farms selling products over $10,000 in value, 11,310.

ILLINOIS

(July 1, 1968 estimate, 10,974,000)

State Capital, SPRINGFIELD

Illinois is bounded on the north by Wisconsin, northeast by Lake Michigan, east by Indiana, southeast and south by Kentucky, and west by Missouri and Iowa. Its extreme length north to south is 385 miles; extreme breadth 218 miles. Its total land area is 66,400 square miles.

The surface is mostly level table-land inclining gently toward the south, with bluffs along the principal rivers. A small tract in the northwest, around Galena, is somewhat broken, and a low mountain ridge extends across the southern end from Grand Tower, on the Mississippi River, to Shawneetown, on the Ohio, about 850 feet above sea level. The prairies are sometimes level, but generally undulating. With the exception of Iowa, no other state has so large a portion of land generally undulating. There are over 275 streams in the state grouped into two river systems, one having the Mississippi as outlet, the other tributary to the Ohio River. The most important river is the Illinois which crosses the north central and western parts of the state draining 24,726 square miles. The Chicago Drainage Canal is an important and unique artificial waterway supplying drainage and transportation. The climate is noted for its extremes of heat and cold. The Weather Bureau at Chicago gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 49.5; highest on record, 105; lowest on record —23. Total annual precipitation is 32.81 inches.

Chicago, the country's second largest city in population, is the leading grain center of the country. Its total receipts of corn, oats, rye and barley are greater than any other city. It is the center of immense business activity in livestock, slaughtering and meat packing, printing and publishing, steel works and rolling-mill products, and a prodigious number of industries, and is the greatest railroad center in the world. Illinois is remarkably well supplied with transportation facilities by rail, river and lake, and is one of the leading states in export trade. Of its many institutions of higher education, the largest are the University of Chicago, the University of Illinois, located at Urbana, and Northwestern University, at Evanston.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), fourth. Urban population in 1960, 80.7%. Of the 10,081,168 total population, 9,010,252 were white; 1,070,906 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (x) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

INDIANA

(July 1, 1968 estimate, 5,067,000)

State Capital, INDIANAPOLIS

Indiana is bounded on the north by Michigan and Lake Michigan, east by Ohio, south by Kentucky, from which it is separated by the Ohio River, and west by Illinois. The extreme length north and south is 276 miles; its average breadth 140 miles. The total land areas is 36,291 square miles.

The greater part of the surface is undulating prairie land, with sand-hills in the north, and picturesque rocky hills, some 500 feet high, in the south along the Ohio River. In the northern part of the state are numerous lakes, and in the limestone regions of the south are many caves. Mineral springs are found throughout the south and south central parts. The Ohio and White Water River valleys are of sandstone and limestone formation. The soil for the greater part of the state is a loose calcareous loam of considerable depth. The Weather Bureau at Indianapolis gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 52.1; highest on record 116; lowest on record —35. Total annual precipitation is 39.25 inches.

Indiana is exceedingly well supplied with transportation facilities. More interstate highways converge upon Indianapolis than upon nearly any other city in the nation. Indiana lies directly in the path of almost all of the great railway trunk lines, which have branches extending into all parts of the state; and fully half of its borders, or about 600 miles, are on navigable waters. Enormous tonnage enters and leaves the Lake Michigan ports. Evansville, on the Ohio River, is a large hardwood market; Indianapolis, the largest city. Indiana University, located at Bloomington; Purdue University, at Lafayette; Notre Dame, at South Bend; De Pauw University at Greencastle, are notable among the state's institutions of higher education.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), eleventh. Urban population in 1960, 62.4%. Of the 4,662,498 total population, 4,388,554 were white; 273,944 were non-white. Please note that population figures for the U. S. are from 1960 Census, unless otherwise specified. Figures preceded by (X) indicate they were obtained from Rand McNally, and are estimated.

IOWA

State Capital, DES MOINES

Iowa is bounded on the north by Minnesota, east by the Mississippi River which separates it from Wisconsin and Illinois, south by Missouri and west by the Missouri and Little Sioux Rivers which separate it from Nebraska and South Dakota. Its extreme length from north to south is 300 miles; its breadth 300 miles; total land area 56,045 square miles.

The distinguishing feature of Iowa is its fertile prairies. Nearly all parts of the state are gently rolling, without mountains or very high hills, but with frequent bluffs along the streams. In richness of soil and in the percentage of land subject to cultivation, it is probably unsurpassed by any other state. The valleys of the Red Cedar, Iowa and Des Moines Rivers are particularly productive. Transportation is highly developed with numerous railways and a large volume of traffic on the Mississippi and Missouri. The climate is one of extremes of heat and cold and of dry winters and wet summers. The Weather Bureau at Des Moines gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 49.5; highest on record 110; lowest —30; total annual precipitation, 32.04 inches.

Along educational lines Iowa is one of the country's leading states. Some of its many colleges are: The State University of Iowa, located at Iowa City; University of Northern Iowa, at Cedar Falls. The College of Agriculture at Ames is noted in its field, being recognized especially for its scientific investigation and original research.
