

Diary
of a Stop
Non-Girl

On the run—around the house, around the job, around the town? How do you keep up with your world—and with your man's? Wherever you go, take along WTOP Non-stop Radio News.

Delivered by Washington's top team of newsmen—when you want it. Know what's "in" . . . what Ted Williams said today, what bright little jewel Dear Abby dropped, who's on the current concert tour, what Davey Marlin-Jones thinks of "Hello Dolly." Besides the meat market, there's the fascinating stock market, made understandable by Bob Dalton's business news.

And the whimsical comments of Doug Llewelyn that spice your day. Keep up with your world . . . and your man's world, too.

Non-stop girls need non-stop radio news.

Friday

Dear Diary,

Whew, what a day! It was non-stop from the minute I got up. For once, Jimmy ate his breakfast! Maybe Warner Wolf had something to do with it. Jim was so interested in the sports news on WTOP Radio, he didn't even realize he was eating. I'll have to try that again tomorrow.

Good sport, Warner Wolf.

Maybe he's just what you need.

Get out of the "dull-drums."
Tune in WTOP Non-Stop News and widen your world. Listen for Warner Wolf's spirited sports reports. He can tell you the score every time you turn him on. Or spend some time with one of the other fascinating men on the WTOP

news team. They'll keep you informed about your world—
and his! Tune us in today.
An interesting man can do wonders for a girl.

Did a quick clean-up job and headed for the League of Women's Voters meeting. While driving there, heard the WTOP report on McKinley High and their new approach to education in the inner-city. That same subject came up at the meeting. Guess everybody was listening to WTOP.

Fascinating man, Bob Dalton.

Maybe he's just what you need.

Bored with everyday chores?
Feeling a little out of it?
Get tuned in with WTOP Radio.
Listen for Bob Dalton's business reports. Learn about another market besides the supermarket. Broaden your world . . . Tune in on all the fascinating men on the WTOP news team. You'll be more interesting, and your man will be fascinated.

Grabbed a quick lunch with the girls and ran to the grocery store. Those prices are shattering my food budget. But from what WTOP's Bob Dalton said in his business report today, some farm prices are going down. Hope that brings some relief!

Try it! Drop a few words about Ted Williams, the way you heard them from Warner Wolf. Hint at a merger—the one Bob Dalton discussed in his business report.

Quote from the Davey Marlin-Jones review of "Hello Dolly." Pick up a pearl from Dear Abby. Come on like a non-stop girl. He'll hang on every word.

Keep up with your world and his, too. You just might be... irresistible.

Can a girl who listens to WTOP Radio's non-stop news today be more provocative tonight?

Took time before the kids came home to drop the hem on the dress I wore to the party tonight. Every woman there was on a midi kick. The party broke up about 12:30 am. But even so, we got to catch the late news on WTOP Radio. That's the great part. No matter when we want to hear the news, all we do is tune in WTOP. Only one problem, though... we started to discuss the Davey Harlin-Jones review of the play we'd seen last night... it's now 3 am! Got to say Good Night, diary. More of the same tomorrow... a non-stop day for this non-stop girl!

Interesting man,

No wonder they're tuned in on her wave-length. She knows what's going on in her world. She can quote Frank Howard's batting average or the Dow-Jones average. Discuss tensions in Laos, or de-escalating hemlines.

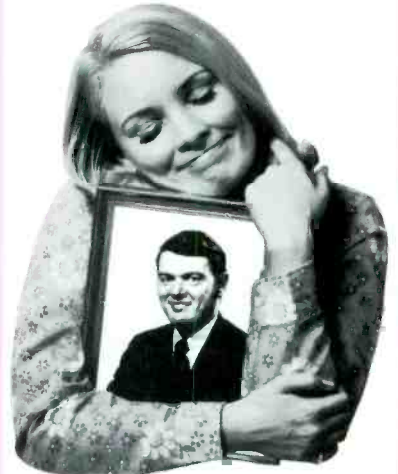

She's with it. She listens to WTOP Radio non-stop news to keep up with her world. Fascinating.
